\section*{DERBYSHIRE ASSOCIATION}

\section*{A Record Year for Peals}

The annual general meeting of the Derbyshire Association was held at Derby on April 16th. Approximately 50 ringers were present from all districts of Derbyshire, and ringing took place during the afternoon at the Cathedral, St. Andrew's and St. Peter's.

A short service in the Cathedral was conducted by the Association President, the Very Rev. R. A. Beddoes, Provost of Derby. In his address the Provost paid tribute to the important duties carried out by the ringers at their various churches and contended that whilst ever the bells were rung the presence of the Church and all it stood for would be proclaimed to those who appeared to show little or no interest in religion.

Tea was provided in the Diocesan House by the wives and friends of the Cathedral ringers, The president was chairman for the business meeting which followed, and reports on the activities of the Association during the year were presented by the general secretary (Mr. A. B. Cooper, Chesterfield), the peal secretary (Mr. D. Carlisle, Risley) and the treasurer (Mr, J. B. Stennitt, Derby).

The general secretary and one trustee (Mr. F. Lowe) were re-elected for a period of two years, and thanks were accorded to all who had assisted with arrangements for Association meetings during the previous year. It was reported that the total of peals ( 61 ) rung by members during 1954 was the greatest number recorded since the Association was formed in 1946. The peals were conducted by 22 separate members, which indicated much progress in that direction.
The financial statement revealed a satisfactory position. It was, however, stressed that every effort would be necessary to maintain the position.

\section*{BATH AND WELLS ASSOCIATION}

The quarterly meeting of the Chew Deanery Branch was held at Backwell on April 16th, when 34 ringers representing 19 different towers put the fine ring of eight (tenor 17 cwt .3 qr . 9 lb .) to good use until \(4.30 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}\)., when the service was held, conducted by the Rector (the Rev. R. B. H. Kay). Mr. D. Yeo was at the organ.

\section*{At the business meeting, which followed a} fine tea in the Women's Institute Hall, new members were elected from Backwell, Nailsea and Ubley.
The Rector thanked the ladies who helped with tea, and the organist, and Mr. H. Knight thanked the Rector for the use of the bells and conducting the service. Next quarterk meeting, Tickenham.

\section*{OBITUARY}

\section*{MRS. C. J. MATTHEWS}

With deep regret we report the death of Mrs. C. J. Matthews, the former secretary of the Society of Royal Cumberland Youths. Mrs. Matthews died in the Middlesex Hospital on Friday, April 29th, after a short illness.

MRS. L. EAST
Many ringers in the Southwell Diocesan Guild, and ringing bands who have visited North Collingham, will be sorry to hear of the death of Mrs. L. East, in Lincoln County Hospital on Wednesday, April 20th, at the age of 63. She was a member of the old North Notts Association and a founder member of the Southwel! Diocesan Guild, but had had to give up ringing lately owing to acute ill-health.

The Vicar, the Rev. O. G. O. Larr, officiated at the funeral service on Monday, when members of the church choir were present.

A quarter peal was rung by the members of the Southwell Diocesan Guild after observing one minute's silence and a short service, in which the Vicar dedicated the ringing to the memory of Mrs. East.

\section*{GUILD of DEVONSHIRE RINGERS}

At the annual meeting of the East Devon Branch held at Ottery St. Mary on Easter Monday, which was attended by the Guild president, Preb. E. V. Cox, it was reported that the financial position of the Branch was stronger than at any time in its history with a credit balance of \(£ 39,15 \mathrm{~s}\). It was decided to devote some of the balance to encourage monthly practices at towers in outlying parishes. Officers elected were: Chairman, Mr. G. C. Woodley (Sidmouth); hon. secretary and treasurer. Mr. Webb (Honiton): vice-chairman, Mr. F. Parr (Buckerell); Ringing Master, Mr. P. Davis (Sidmouth).

Six members received proficiency certificates and two new members were elected. The service was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. D. R. Pricc).

\section*{BILL'S PROBATION}

\section*{By WILLIAM SHEPHERD}

IT was in September, 1902, that Bill decided to reside in Surrey and travel to London day by day instead of living near the office, a scheme which meant some 46 miles of travel each day. Bill had been ringing at many towers in London and could ring Cinques and Maximus, so when the Rector of a Surrey church called to see him Bill revealed the fact that he was a ringer, and this news delighted the Rector. He told Bill to call at the Rectory the following evening and together they mounted the steps to the ringing chamber where eight men were getting ready to ring the octave for weekly practice. The Rector told his ringers about Bill and said he was sure they would find him a real asset because he was experienced in town ringing and could help them in many ways.

After the Rector had departed the ringers held a meeting in a corner, but their conversation was inaudible and shortly afterwards Mr. F., the conductor, called Bill over to join the group. The next proceeding consisted of a series of questions which were fired at the newcomer from all angles, the most important being, could he ring scientific and could he conduct? After answering 'Yes' to both these queries another short meeting was held, the result being a decision to give Bill a trial on the 6th for scientific ringing and conducting. The conductor took away all the 'music cards' on the stands and then intimated to Bill that no rough ringing would be tolerated, after which he tendered some advice on how to handle the 6th bell.

Bill called a bob at 1, but soon found he was the only one who was prepared to make the call, so he tried again the next lead with the same result, after which he decided not to make any further calls. His surprise was great when bobs were made at the 4 th, 8 th and 12 th leads without being called! Mr. F. called another meeting, for he was clearly annoyed about Bill's performance and it did not take long to decide that Bill was not much of a ringer, did not know anything about conducting, seeing he made calls in the wrong places. He would be taken on as a probationer for three months! Bill pondered for a few seconds and then said that the kind offer was not accepted, after which he wished the company good night.

Outside in the cool air Bill saw two strangers listening to the call changes, and they immediately made themselves known by saying they were ringers from a neighbouring village, two miles away, who had secured Bill's address and had walked over to extend a welcome not only to Surrey but on behalf of a learning band who would be glad of some help in method ringing. What a contrast in a short space of time, and within a radius of two miles! Bill gladly accepted the chance of adding a few more to the ranks of method ringing, additions which resulted in a strong, progressive band being maintained in spite of two world wars.

Some weeks after Bill had thrown in his lot with the young, keen band in the next village he happened to see Mr. F., the local captain, who promptly told young Bill that he had not attended the tower for practice, it was his first duty to be regular and punctual, and that three months \({ }^{\text { }}\) probation would do a lot of good, etc. The short lecture concluded with the words, 'If you don't attend I shall have to see the Rector about you.'

Bill smiled, for he had found out quite a lot about this call-change band, who boasted they could also ring scientific changes, who sometimes used cards and who received payment for their ringing. He also knew that method ringing offered many interesting channels for the keen ringer and, as he had found plenty of scope for voluntary ringing in a nearby tower, he was not long in answering the local captain with 'I have already acquainted the Rector with the facts, and you will be seeing him soon.'

From 1902 to 1955 is quite a while, but when ringers of to-day want to visit these two towers, what do they find? The local call-change band no longer exists, the bells are not rung regularly for Sunday services and there is no regular practice night. In the method ringing tower there is a keen band, Sunday service ringing is maintained, practices are regular and visitors are welcome. Both towers have had various problems during the period of years, but in one case only have difficulties been overcome.

\section*{100 YEARS WITHOUT BELL FOUNDERS' ATTENTION}

The peal at Dunham Massey, Cheshire, in honour of the enthronement of the new Bishop of Chester, was the second peal on the bells, which were hung in the tower by John Taylor and Co. in 1854. Since that date no work has been done on them by the bell founders, but the bells were only chimed for a period of about 50 years.
It is a tribute to the workmanship of the original hangers and the unknown person who carefully greased and protected the bearings when the bells were stopped ringing, that with the exception of two new wheels fitted by and various repairs carried out by local ringers and those of Bowdon, the bells are as they were first hung, and go sufficiently well for a good peal to be rung.
The first peal on the bells was 5,040 Kent Treble Bob Royal, rung by a band from Ash-ton-under-Lyne on February 20th, 1875, and conducted by John Thorp.

\section*{24 TOWERS IN A DAY}

A party of 24 ringers and friends from Hampshire, Essex, Kent, Middlesex, Sussex and Staffordshire established a record by ringing at 24 towers in a day on Easter Monday!
The start was with Grandsire Caters and Bob Royal on the bells of All Hallows', Twickenham. The following towers were afterwards visited: St. Mary's, Twickenham (8), Hampton (8), Thames Ditton (6), Esher (8), Hersham (8), Walton (8), Sunbury (8), Shepperton (5), Oatlands Park (8), Weybridge (8), Chertsey (8), Staines (both towers), Egham (8), Old Windsor (8), Clewer (6), Horton (6), Stanwell (6), Bedfont (6), Feltham (8), Heston (8), Isleworth (10), Brentford (8). It was planned to ring at Wraysbury, but the belfry door was locked and neither the Vicar nor the local captain could help. A collection to cover expenses enabled a surplus of 7 s . 6 d . to be sent to 'The Ringing World.'

\section*{BIRMINGHAM UNIVERSITY RINGING SOCIETY}

Honourable mention should be made of Mr. Donald H. Niblett's extremely capable and creditable performance when he joined the select band of conductors who have called Holt's Original. The younger generation in Oxford felt it intolerable to let Mr. G. E. Symonds' week-old challenge lie longer unanswered.

Congratulations to Mr. R. W. Rex, who has recovered from the recent amputation of his arm and was able to ring a peal at Beenham, Berks.

An inscribed beer mat from Holland has been received by Mr. W. A. Theobald. He assures the sender that it has been suitably framed in a room of his lodgings.

Mr. J. C. Macbeth, the newly-appointed tower captain of Nayland Parish Church, Suffolk, asks for information regarding the last peal rung on these bells, as no local records are kept.
Somerton, Somerset, bells rang merrily on April 28th for the wedding of Miss Jill Williams. The bride's mother was largely instrumental in getting a band together in 1951, after ringing had lapsed for some time. To encourage others she learned to ring herself.
With reference to Mr. G. Symonds calling his first pcal of Holt's Original at St. Margaret's, Barking, on February 5th, 1898. Mr. Caleb Fenn states the footnote reads that it was rung by all bachelors. He adds: 'I don't think any of them are bachelors now.;

Mr. Frank C. Price, youngest son of Mr. Tony Price, rang two bells and conducted a quarter peal of Plain Bob Royal at Hillingdon on May 1st. Is this the first time in a quarter peal of Royal on tower bells that double-handed has been introduced?

\section*{BELFRY GOSSIP} eight for 60 years, but the first peal was not rung on the bells until April 16th. This was the only eight-bell tower in Lincolnshire that the late Mr. Rupert Richardson had not rung a peal at.

Mr. E. J. Chivers, who has rung no peals for a year owing to a long indisposition, is welcomed back into our peal columns.

Errata.-The quarter peal at Huish Episcopi on April 14th was the first of Minor for Miss B. J. Stevens and Miss P. M. Stevens, and not the first of Minor for C. J. Stevens.

Publow, Somerset, band have lost a member of long standing by the sudden death of Mr. Harry Baber, aged 70. He was on his way io work when he dropped dead in the road.

At Duxford, Cambs, there is an interesting list of belfry rules, one of which limits the number of Nonconformist ringers to one-third of the band, and insists that they attend their own church for service!

Six of the ringers in the peal of Yorkshire at Caldicot, Mon, are resident members of the Association. The only peals of Yorkshire previously rung for the Association have been on ringing tours.
The peal of Yorkshire Surprise Major at Portsea on April 23rd was Marion J. Parker's first Surprise peal (on the treble) and first of Surprise Major 'inside' for her father, Mr. R. H. R. Parker.

The band which rang the peal at Thornbury, Glos, on Easter Monday, would like to express their thanks to Mrs. W. J. Cook for entertaining them to a wonderful meal after the performance.

MEARS & STAINBANK, BISHOPSGATE 2599.

\section*{THE WORCESTERSHIRE ASSOCIATION}

\section*{29 Members Rang Their First Peal HE 72nd annual meeting was held at Wor-}

Tcester on Easter Monday, and a good congregation assembled for the special service at All Saints' Church at 11 a.m., at which the Assistant Bishop of Worcester (the Rt. Rev. C. E. Stuart) and the chaplain (the Rev. L. J. Birch) officiated.

The president, the Very Rev. W. E. Beck, Dean of Worcester presided at the general business meeting held in College Hall, and it was a great satisfaction to the members to have him present, as he had only a few days previously left hospital after a serious illness. Letters of thanks were read from the incumbents of Mickleton and Bidford-on-Avon for a grant of \(£ 10\) to their restoration schemes, and from the County Playing Fields Association for the arrangements made for demonstrations of a model bell and handbell ringing at a county fair at Madresfield Court last summer.

\section*{MEMBERSHIP DROP}

The annual report stated that all branches showed a falling off in paid up performing members, the net result being a drop of 55 to a total of 480 . This could look serious, but Branch secretaries seemed to have a happy faculty of collecting back subscriptions and they trusted this would be the case in 1955. Tine Belfry Repair Fund had increased to a total of £210 2s. 11 d.

Fifty-six peals were rung during the year, of which five were rung on handbells, and probably the outstanding feature of these was that no less than 29 members rang their first peal. A combination of Brierley Hill and Kingswinford bands under the conductorship of the Master. Mr. C. Skidmore, continued their advance in Spliced Triples by ringing the first ever in 11 methods.

Tune ringing may not perhaps, strictly' speaking, be within the scope and aims of the Association, but there seems to be an increasing public demand for this, and all Eranches are constantly being asked for their services at charity concerts, and they are always well received. Compared with more industrial areas we do not meet with any undue amount of opposition or complaints to the ringing of our church bells, and anything we can do to reach the general public must ultimately enhance the prestige of our Association.'

The secretary reported that the Guildhall had been booked and the annual dinner would be held on Saturday, October 22nd, while the report of the librarian stated that Morris' 'Towers and Bells of Britain' had been added to the library.

Worcester was selected for the next annuzl meeting and arrangements for the annual peal were left to the committec.

It was decided to make a grant of \(£ 15\) to the restoration of the bells at Great Comberton. Arising from a discussion on restoration schemes and facultics, it was resolved to approach the Bishop's Advisory Committee and ask if all matters relating to bells could be referred to the Association.

The secretary pointed out that a panel within the Association had already been appointed to give advice, and that one of their honorary members, the Rev. F. C. Champion, was a member of the Bishop's Advisory Committee. In any case of a contentious nature he invariably referred the specifications to the Association before a faculty was granted.

The Dean of Worcester was unanimously re-elected president, whilc as a gesture of thanks to Bishop C. E. Stuart for welcoming the members for the annual service at All Saints', of which church he is Rector, he was added to the list of clerical vice-presidents. \(\mathrm{Mr} . \mathrm{C}\). Skidmore was re-elected Master, the Rev. L. J. Birch chaplain, and Mr. J. D. Johnson generai secretary and treasurer.

In proposing a comprehensive vote of thanks the Rev. L. J. Birch said how grateful they were to the Dean for presiding, and included in his thanks Bishop Stuart, Dean and Chapter, headmaster of King's School and incumbents whose bells were used that day-Cathedral, All Saints', Claines, St. John's and Kempsey.

Congratulations to the young band at Badscy who rang their first peal at Cleeve Prior (reported in our last issue). The band were afterwards entertained to tea by the Vicar of Cleeve Prior (the Rev. A. Webb); who is a ringer. His kindness was much appreciated.

Mr. S. H. Hoare inquires whether Aldridge and Umberslade Surprise were rung with 2nds or 8 ths place at lead end.

The peal at Bishampton, Worcs, on May 8 th, 1954. was a non-Association peal, and not rung for the Worcestershire Association.

The band who rang the peal of Cambridge Surprise Royal at Wimborne Minster had an average age of 22 years seven months. They are anxious to learn of a younger band who have rung a peal of Surprise Royal.

Mr. John A. Hilton, Tunbridge Wells, requires information regarding the small bell placed just above the main entrance to Queen Elizabeth Castle. Jersey. The bell bears an inscription 'G. R. (crown) 1797.'
The Narthern District of the London County Society had special ringing on St. George's Day at St. George's, Barkingside, which was attended by Mr. T. H. Taffender (Master) and Mr. J. H. Crampion (Ringing Master, S.W. Essex District). The ringing was for a Scout service attended by the Mayor of Ilford. The ringers would also like to couple with it 87th birthday greetings to Mr. W. Nelder, of Ilford.

The peal of Stedman Triples rung at Sible Hedingham on April 28 th was the first rung in the Northern District of the Essex Association for nearly 21 years. The peal included tion for nearly 21 years. The peal included five 'first,' and particular congratulations to Hilda on a 'first.'

The band that rang the peal at Bassingbourn regard it as the toughest peal they have yet undertaken. This was the first peal on the bells, and unless the bells receive attention it will probably be the last.

Within four days of work starting on the restoration of Dallington, Northampton, bells, two quarter peals have been rung in which seven members scored their first "inside" in more than one method, and one a first of Minor on the treble.

His many friends and acquaintances in the S.W. District of the Esscx Association will join with the local band in wishing bon voyage and Godspeed to Dr. C. E. Wright, of Hornchurch, who is embarking shortly for a two-year spell of military duty in Hong Kong. It was specially pleasant for the local band to have the Doctor conduct his own swan song, with his wife also taking part, when 1,260 Stedman Triples was rung for Matins on April 24th by: Mrs. D. M. Wright 1, Miss J. Peacock 2, J. Carrott 3. J. Fowler 4, A. J. Salisbury 5, T. East 6. Dr. C. E. Wright (conductor) 7, D. M. Salis-

COVENTRY DIOCESAN GUILD 'A Great Swing Back to Ringing' - Bishop

\section*{rTWE annual meeting of the Coventry Dio-} cesan Guild took place at Chilvers Coton on April 16th. The ten bells were rung to various methods with rounds and call changes for the learners during the afternoon until 4.30, when a short service was held and an address on "Churchmanship, given by the Vicar, the Rev. R. R. P. Rigby.

After tea in the Parish Hall the business meeting was presided over by the Vicar, and apologies read from the Bishop of Coventry, the Assistant Bishop, the Rev. W. C. Maggs, the Rev. J. H. Dingley and also honorary member Mrs. Sibley. The Bishop, in his letter, assured the ringers that whenever the bells are rung they proclaim the Gospel and assist in the evangelism of the work of Christ. The Bishop continued: "I would also say to the bellringers, take courage because all over the country there is going on a great swing back to the ringing of church bells.?

The balance sheet showed a balance of £32 3 s .7 d ., and the Bell Repair Fund \(£ 2213 \mathrm{~s}\). 3d,

The hon. general secretary's report stated that the total resident membership for 1954 was 210,19 life, 7 honorary and 184 ringing. Sixteen new resident and 20 non-resident members were elected. Twenty-four peals were rung. Mr. Adolphus Roberts had taken a rope in a peal of Yorkshire Major at Allesley on the occasion of his 84th birthday on July 8 th, ringing it faultlessly. Allesley, again, was the tower where a half-muffled peal was rung on February 13th in memory of Joseph H. W. White, who had been a most active member of the Guild and of the Allesley kand for many years, and also a Central Council representative. Towards the end of the year Mr. Sam Carter had passed on. much missed by his fellow ringers at Bulkington.

The two district secretaries, Messrs. J. L. Garner-Hayward and H. Windsor, reported good attendances at meetings and interest created in isolated towers.

The officers were elected en bloc, namely:President, the Rev. W. C. Maggs; vice-presidents, the Right Rev. N. W. Newnham Davis, Canon N. Prentice, Canon F. S. Herbert, the Rev. F. W. Moyle, the Rev. J. H. Dingley, Councillor H. Weston and the five former Niasters of the Guild (Messrs. E. H. Adams, A. Roberts, F. E. Pervin, F. W. Perrens and A. H. Beamish) ; Master, Mr. R. J. Edden; hon. general secretary, Mrs. D. E. Beamish; Northern District secretary, Mr. J. L. GarnerHayward; Southern District secretary, Mr. H. Windsor; hon. auditor, Mr. F. E. Pervin.

Rugby was proposed as the meeting place for July, as by that time the octave in the N.E. tower at St. Andrew's would be rehung in its new position.

New members elected were:-Messrs, R. A. Oram and F. S. Farmer (Leamington): R. Stott (Dunchurch); M. Tuffin (Keresley) and Miss E. Hardwick (Bilion). The election of Mr. C. E. Jefferies (Bedford), prior to a peal, was ratified.

The successful dinner held in Coventry in October was commented upon and a proposal. which was carricd unanimously, was made to make it an annual event on the third Saturday in October.

The rule made when the Bell Repair Fund was inaugurated that application for a donation be made after the order was placed in the hands of a bellfounder, was rescinded, and it was resolved that the District secretaries make recommendations to the committee, who would report at the next general meeting. A collection made resulted in \(£ 17 \mathrm{~s}\). 9d. for the Fund.

A few minutes silence was observed in memory of Mr. J. B. Fenton, of Rugby, who had recently passed on after a life of devoted service to ringing.

OXFORD UNIVERSITY'S EASTER TOUR, 1955

\(\mathbf{T}^{\mathrm{H}}\)IE Society was again favoured by fine weather when it visited Chesterfield for ats annual tour. About twelve resident and seven former members arrived at the Clifton Hotel during the evening of Easter Saturday and on Sunday afternoon.
We were welcomed to the Parish Church at 7.30 a.m. on Sunday by Mr. Sam Scattergood and the local ringers and later during the day for other services, when our failings at raising and lowering ten were apparent. During the afternoon a handbell peal of Bob Minor was rung, conducted by Peter Border.
On Monday morning we set out by motor coach in the direction of Derby, our first stop being Clay Cross, where the beils were so good that we immediately asked the Vicar, who met us, for permission for a peal attempt on the Friday. On our return to the coach we learned Duffield Royal in readiness for Sir Arthur Heywood's fine tower. Some of us had our first opportunity to ring Yorkshire Royal here and again at Derby Cathedral in the afternoon.

Tuesday's ringing began at Bakewell, where we were met by the Rev. G. Gordon Graham, who joined us for a well-struck course of London. Youlgreave, our next tower, was deeply impressed on the minds of several of our members because of the low staircase. Due members because of the low staircase. Due to a long delay over lunch we had insufficient time to ring Ashbourne College Bob Major at Ashbourne, where the long draught proved troublesome. A peal of Plain Bob Major was rung at Winksworth in the evening, conducted by Peter Border. The remainder 'snatched this tower before proceeding to Matlock and Darley Dale, where Spliced Surprise was rung.
Spliced was again rung at Dronficld on Wednesday morning, but without any outside aid. We began our tour of Sheffield at Ranmoor, where we were met by Mr. Ditcher. We failed to do justice to this fine ten. After lunch we visited Sheffield Cathedral, which proved to be a little heavy for a band that was attempting a peal later in the day. Having described our activities to the local Press, we moved on to St. Marie's. After a short ring here the peal band left to return to Chesterfield by train. The Society's first peal of Yorkshire Royal, conducted by Wilfrid F . Moreton, was rung on this excellent ten, and it was the first peal of Yorkshire Royal for six of the band. The remainder visited Eckington and Staveley.
The last day was spent amongst the picturesque Derbyshire Dales and the Peak District. Wormhill, whose church has the lightest ring of bells in the world, was our first stop and provided the highlight of the day. The treble was the most difficult bell to ring as it was the only bell with a slay! Moving on to the finc eight at Tideswell we demonstrated the art of change ringing to an American clergyman with a course of Lincolnshire. The start of the ringing at Faiffield was delayed by a funeral. Many extents of Stedman Doubles were rung on the Rudhall six at Chapelen-leFrith, whilst the majority of our party were sightsecing from the top of the tower. Later we were assisted in a course of Primrose by Mr. Peter Lafin. We spent a long time over tea at Castleton and had only a short ring on the eight, where the long ropes and ragged salilies tested our bell control.
Those who remained on the Friday rang a peal in the four Oxford Minor methods at Clay Cross, our fourth peal success in four attempts.
We should like to take this opportunity of thanking Miss Phyllis Holborn for her excellent organisation.

\section*{SURREY ASSOCIATION}

The feature of the quarterly meeting at Redhill on April 23 rd was the talk by the District Ringing Master, Mr. A. P. Cannon, on 'How to learn methods.' This was intended primarily for those who had learned to handle a bell but were finding difficulty in progressing beyond that stage; it was of value, however, to all who heard it.

Mr. Cannon prefaced the main part of his talk by stressing the primary importance ot handling the bell correctly, of counting one's place and of cultivating a sense of rnythm; without these essential preliminary qualitications no real progress could be made. He went on to explain the principles of hunting and, from that, how to learn the easiest of methods, Plain Bob. He emphasised the importance of study outside the belfry, of writing out courses of methods being learned and tracing from them the 'blue line' of an individual bell's work, and of using the treble as a 'signpost.' After Mr. Cannon had answered numerous questions, a hearty round of applause expressed the appreciation of all present for his most lucid exposition.
At the business meeting which preceded the talk, three new ringing members were elected, viz., Mr. and Mrs. Cracknell (unattached) and Miss R. Naylor (Coulsdon). The service was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. S. G. C. Dyer).

\section*{GUILD of DEVONSHIRE RINGERS}

\section*{Relations With Call Change Ringers}

When the Mid-Devon Branch held their meeting at Tounstal, Dartmouth, presided over by Mr. J. E. Lilley, a letter was received from the South Devon Ringers' Association asking the Branch to collect a team to ring for their service at Dean Prior on June 25th in connection with their ringing festival. The meeting decided to accept the invitation. A considerable discussion followed on the question of closer relationship between the Guild and call change ringers. The chairman (the Rev. J. G. M. Scott), Mr. E. J. Taylor and Mr. Middieton all advocated a closer link.
Three certificates of full membership were presented, whilst six ringers from Babbacombe, six from Tounstal and two from East Teignmouth were elected members. The election of three non-resident members prior to starting a peal was also confirmed. Subject to permission, a joint meeting with the South West Branch will be held at Wolborough on June 18th.
The service was conducted by the Rev. N. F. D. Coleridge, assisted by the Vicar (the Rev. F. G. D. Wakins), and the Rev. J. G. M. Scoti gave an eloquent address. A sumptuous tea was provided for a company of 40 .

\section*{THE LADIES' GUILD}

At a quarterly meeting of the Central District at Stanford-le-Hope, Essex, on April 30th, thirty ringers and friends attended, 17 bsing members. The bells were soon found to be a real ladies' ring, and altogether eight different methods were rung.
An excellent tea was provided by Mrs. Chinnery and her helpers, and the gentlemen in particular seemed reluctant to leave the table.

At the business meeting. members were told of the death of Mrs. Kitty Matthews, a wellknown and much-liked member of the Guild. The customary short silence was observed, and Mrs. Lock, president, gave a brief appreciation of Mrs. Matthews' loyalty to the Guild.

The Central District would like to thank the Rector of St. Margaret's for conducting the service, and also the organist for his help.

\section*{EAST GRINSTEAD GUILD}

\section*{A New President}

SEVENTEEN towers were represented at the 128th annual meeting of the Guild held at East Grinstead on April 16th, and the new Vicar (the Rev. H. C. F. Copsey) conducted the service and afterwards joined the company at tea He was voted to the chair for the business meeting.
Three new members were elected-Miss French (Shipbourne), Mr. Colin Tester (Brenchley) and Mr. E. Brunger (Tunbridge Wells).
The annual report told members that the past year had been most successful, both in attendances and finances, the only pessimistic note being the falling off of vice-presidents' subscriptions, and members were asked to do what they could in their own towers to arouse interest and support.
The main interest in the election of officers was the election of a new president to succeed Dr. Golding-Bird, who had retired and left East Grinstead. Mr. E. J. Ladd proposed the Rev. H. C. F. Copsey, as he thought that the Vicar of East Grinstead should hold this office, and in seconding this proposal, Mr. Wellington said that he was sure Mr. Copsey would make a worthy successor to Dr. Golding-Bird. He said that everyone woukd miss the retiring president, especially at the annual meetings, where for 17 years he had entertained the Guild to tea and had conducted the business in his own humorous way.
In reply, Mr. Copsey said that he would accept the office, and while he was no comedian, he would do his best for the Guild. From the chair, he proposed that a letter be sent to Dr. Golding-Bird saying how much he was missed and wishing him a happy retirement.
Mr. E. J. Ladd tried once more to swap jobs with Mr. A. Relfe, the vice-chairman, who declined to do so. In seconding the proposal of Mr. B. Collison that Mr. Ladd be re-elected, Mr. Wellington said that Mr. Ladd's personality made him a worthy chairman, and his patience with learners, and others who were getuing old and unreliable, was outstanding.
All the other officers were re-elected except Mr. A. Lewry, who is now living in London. His place on the committee was filled by Mr. K. Hohl.

The date of the outing was fixed for September 10th, and for the dinner December 12th.
Mr. E. J. Ladd said that the E. J. Oliver Memoriai Fund was now in a position to make a grant, and proposed that \(£ 5\) be given to East Grinstead tower towards new ropes. This was carried.

In reply to the votes of thanks, the Rev. H. C. F. Copsey said that he would like to carry on the tradition of his predecessor and entertain the company to tea.
C. A. B.

\section*{ARMY EXERCISE II.}

The exigencies of the Service and the fact that Pirbright bells were not available caused frantic rearrangements by Army ringers for their attempt for a peal in eight Doubles methods on April 26th.

Farnborough bells were secured and after 25 minutes the peal attempt was abandoned by the conductor. A quarter peal of 480 Winchendon Place, 480 St. Simon's and 300 Grandsire was then rung by Pie. John E. Clark, R.A.S.C. 1, Cpl. Peter Beresford, R.A.P.C. 2, Pte. George N. Orman, R.A.S.C. 3, Dvr. Alan E. Hartley, R.A.S.C. 4, L.-Cpl. J. Alan Ainsworth,
R.A.S.C. (conductor) 5 , Pte. Roy H. Jones, R.A.M.C. 6.

Undaunted, the Army hope to attempt a peal again in the next few weeks before certain members of the band are posted or 'demobbed.'

\section*{LETTERS TO THE EDITOR}

HOLT'S ORIGINAL
Dear Sir,-I was interested in Mr. Symonds' letter and share his regret that Holt's Original is not often rung nowadays. I do not, however, agree with him that it is because our present-day conductors are incapable. To memorise the calling is a simple matter, but the difficulty lies in having to spread it out over approximately three hours, and with Parker's 12 -part at their disposal, it is not surprising that they think the concentration required in calling the Original is not worth the effort.

Mr. Symonds is older in years than myself, but our ringing lives are about equal. I think he will agree that in our young days compositions of Grandsire Triples were almost re stricted to Holt's Original, Holt's six- and tenparts, Penning's one-part, and the Bob and Single peals. (It is true that the Revs. C. D. P. Davies and E. Bankes-James had begun to produce some new compositions, but with the exception of Charles Jackson, of Hull, these were seldom rung.)

The six- and ten-parts were frequently rung and accepted, but there was always an uncomfortable feeling about the Singles. The Bob and Single peals were never very popular, partly because of their monotony to ring, but chiefly because of the ease with which an unscrupulous conductor (and they were not unknown) could cook' a peal (hence the term 'Bob and Swindle '). This, therefore, only left the Original of Penning's one-part if a conductor wanted to ring a peal which really satisfied him and his band.

It was, if I remember rightly, about the end of the last, or the beginning of the present century, that Parker's 12 -part first made its appearance, but it was not until after the 1914-18 war, when conducting ceased to be the prerogative of the few that it received the popularity and appreciation it deserves.-Yours sincerely,
E. BARNETT.

\section*{LAMBERT'S VARIATION}

Dear Sir,-The peal of Bob Major in 'The Ringing World ' (Lambert's Variation) was given to me at the annual meeting of the Essex Association, Whit Monday, 1897, by H. J. Tucker, of Bishop's Stortford, as his peal; he told me he had called it twice.

I called the same peal at Harwich, Essex, on September 8 th. 1900, in 2 hours 58 minutes. and the Harwich ringers have, I believe, placed a board in their belfry recording the peal, with H. J. Tucker as composer. It was my first peal as conductor.

The quarter peal by R. Overy was rung at Barking over 50 years ago, conducted by A. J. Perkins, of Romford.-Yours, etc.,

CALEB FENN
Barking, Essex.
Dear Sir,-The figures given on page 268 as 'Lambert's Variation' are well known as the composition of J. R. Pritchard, a peal which gives the conductor a choice of starting at three different points. Mr. Pritchard himself was the first to call the peal, which was at Ormskirk on December 10th, 1887.

In the Central Council collection, page 196, the original composition is given, and a footnote indicates two other starting points of the peal, which clearly shows Mr. Pritchard as the author of the peal, including the optional starting point.-Yours sincerely,

WILLIAM SHEPHERD.
Addlestone, Surrey.

\section*{A POINT FOR COMPOSERS}

Dear Sir,-On page 238 of 'The Ringing World' for April 15 th is published a 5,056 for the 8ths place variation of Evington Surprise Major. I would like to point out that this is a transposition of a peal of Superlative published by Gabriel Lindoff before the turn of the century.
It may not be generally realised that the calling for any composition for a 2nds place method with 4 ths place bobs can always be transposed so as to be suitable for an 8ths place method with 6ths place bobs and the appropriate sequence of lead ends, the operation is simple; substitute \(\mathbf{O}\) for \(\mathbf{R}\), I for \(W\), \({ }_{\mathrm{F}}\) for M and H for B , then start the calling from the end and work backwards. For example, here is a little-known peal by \(\operatorname{Sir} \mathbf{A}\). \(\mathbf{P}\). Heywood which is suitable for Superlative or Yorkshire :-

Repeat twice.
When transposed for an 8ths place method this gives:-
\begin{tabular}{lllll}
23456 & O & H & I & F \\
\hline 34256 & - & & & \\
34625 & - & X & & \\
62345 & - & & - & - \\
54326 & - & & & - \\
43526 & - & & - & \\
52436 & - & & - & - \\
24235 & - & & - & - \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

Repeat twice.
This composition is true for any 8ths place method with lead end 6482735 and f.c.e.'s 24365, 43265, 32465.

In a similar fashion peals in 8ths place methods using a 4ths place bob can be transposed to give peals in 2nds place methods using a 6ths place bob. For example, peals of Kent or Bristol will, if suitably treated and doubled with singles, give peals of Plain Bob with 6ths place bobs; it would be interesting to see if the peal of Plain Bob rung on this plan a year or two ago is actually a well-known peal of Bristol. Unfortunately \(I\) have not the figures available.-Yours sincerely,

RICHARD F. B. SPEED.

\section*{BRISTOL SURPRISE MAJOR}

Dear Sir,-The appearance in recent issues of several peals of Bristol with various extent qualities prompts me to send the following composition which I put together about twenty years ago. The length is rather a drawback, but I have never been able to retain the same features in a reduced number of changes; however, the peal remains, so far as I know, the only one with double Wrongs and Homes throughout.-Yours faithfully,
E. A. BARNETT.

PEALS AND 'THE RINGING WORLD'
Dear Sir,-With reference to the letter of your correspondent, David M. Lees, on page 267, the temporary shortage of peal reports for the issue of April 15th obviously gave you an opportunity of getting quarter peal reports up to date. while the inclusion of more compositions than usual, also more letters and other items, made up an issue of very general interest, a fact which was remarked upon by more than one ringer with whom I was in contact during that week-end.
The aim of our paper is to make the greatest appeal to the greatest number. The question of paying for publication of peals was an ex pression of individual opinion (to which the individuals were perfectly entitled), but never the view of the Central Council, and it is difficult to detect any good purpose which may have been served by your correspondent's letter. - Yours faithfully,

\section*{Stourbridge, WERN}

Dear Sir,-It scems that from time to time someone must, through your correspondence columns, give us a reason why ringers should not pay for the publication of their peals, the last letter on this subject being that from Mr. D. M. Lees.

Is it not time we all faced up to the fact that a high percentage of peal ringers do so for their own pleasure and self-gratification only? They should bear in mind that the bells are not there for their amusement, and that in most cases the ringers have not subscribed a penny towards the maintenance and care of the bells.

Though they cheerfully pay to go to football or cinemas, when it comes to paying for the two or three hours' enjoyment they have had from the bells, that is quite another story.
I enjoy ringing in a peal as well as any ringer, and I have my own opinion of those who show a reluctance to pay for the privilege. Indeed, if I were an incumbent, I should make a charge of at least 6 d . a rope towards maintenance, and the conductor or organiser should collect at least another 6 d . a rope towards publication. If, as Mr. Lees suggests, this decreases the number of peals, it will just go to show how much our hearts are really in our craft.-Yours faithfully,

MONTAGUE G. SOPER.

\section*{'RINGING WORLD' SPACE}

Dear Sir,-I cannot let David M. Lees' statement that "the publication of peals, is the backbone of "The Ringing World" " pass without comment. He is implying that without three or four pages of peals you would not normally be able to get enough suitable material to fill 'The Ringing World.' I cannot believe this, and would be glad if you would tell us what the true position is.

As for his other statement that payment for peal publication would discourage peal ringing, the sooner this type of peal ringer goes out of existence the better. Just fancy a man ringing a bell for three hours in order to get his name in print. Some peals, no doubt, would not be published, which would be a pity. I think they should all go in 'The Ringing World,' but not take up quite so much space as they now do, then we should have room for a few more of those interesting articles which I am sure you have tucked away in your bottom drawer.Yours sincerely, E, F. FOSBERRY.

Horsham.
[Note.-For the ten weeks following Easter there is material for another eight pages of 'The Ringing World.' Except for about eight weeks in the year, another four pages could be provided: at holiday weeks it is at times difficult to fill 16 pages. To create a larger 'Ringing World' would require a full-time Editor. Peals are news, and by some of our readers are read with the same avidity as cricket or football results.-Ed.]

\section*{' ALDRIDGE,' 'UMBERSLADE,'} - KIRKLINGTON' AND 'IMBERHORNE'

Dear Sir,-In the issue of April 22nd you published two new methods under the names of Aldridge and Umberslade. It was not, however, stated what place was made at the whole pull of the treble. I should be glad if this information could be given. It would also help those who, like myself, keep a record of new methods, if the type of bob used was stated. The position is the same for the method published as Kirklington, although as Middleton's was rung to this, it seems almost certain that 2nds place was used. Could someone confirm this?

It is of great importance to the Exercise that new methods which are rung are published in these columns and, furthermore, that they are stated fully. Unless we take care to see that this is done, the situation will be quite chaotic in years to come.

I think it is also desirable that these methods should be published as soon as possible after they are rung. I hope the recent publication of a number of methods, in place notation, in the same issue as the peal itself, will be continued. If the publication of a method is long delayed there is a chance, admittedly small, that it will be rung again under a different name; alternatively, it is possible that it has been rung previously, and when it is finally published the correspondence pointing out cither of these errors will appear many issues later than the original peal, which unfortunately still bears the incorrect name. In such circumstances future mistakes are made much more likely. The method I have in mind which prompts these remarks is Imberhorne. It is now over a year since this method was rung, and the figures were asked for about two months ago. Could we have them without delay? - Yours faithfully,

\section*{SILENT TOWERS IN MIDDLESEX}

Dear Sir,-With reference to peal ringing in Middlesex, under long silences, Christ Church, Poplar (8), from what I can gather, is being pulled down or has already been pulled down. St. Andrew Undershaft (6) has just recently had a ring of six installed, but these bells are rung dead, the reason stated being that the tower is unsafe for a ringing peal.

St. Katherine Cree (6) is at the moment out of action owing to war damage and deathwaich beetle in the roof. It is hoped to restore this church in the future.-Yours faithfully,
J. W. BULLOCK.

\section*{CHESHIRE BELLS}

Dear Sir,-Your correspondent, Mr. Glenn. asks for information concerning the word - Northern' in the jingle quoted by the Rev. G. S. Tyack in 'A Book About Bells.' it should, of course, be Northenden, but village names often were and sometimes still are, shortened in the speech of the neighbourhood. In this case. too, the rhythm is improved by the shorter form.

Mr. Tyack was misled by this contraction and wrote, Some genius of Northern in Cheshire... whereas no such place exists. There are a number of similar ingles about Cheshire bells, although most of them concern this part of the county. - Yours sincerely, Mollington, Chester.

\section*{THE HERTFORD COUNTY ASSOCIATION}

\section*{A Financial Recovery}

WELL over 100 members attended the annual meeting held at Watford on April 16 th and the towers opened for ringing during the day were filled to capacity by cycling, car and coach parties.
The service at Watford Parish Church was conducted by the Vicar, Rev. A. St. John Thorpe, who gave the address. A special feature of the service was the touch of Stedman Triples on handbells by H. Hodgetts, C. W. Woolley, H. G. Cashmore (conductor) and F. W. Brinklow. Tea at the Parish Hall was presided over by the Vicar who was warmly thanked on behalf of the members by Mr. E. H. Lewis.

The President of the Association (Mr. J. Hobbs) welcomed the members and visitors and opened the business meeting. He referred to the passing of Messrs. C. P. Chalk (Much Hadham), G. H. Griggs (Northaw), J. E. Jones (Rickmansworth), H. Tharby (Hatfield), John Foster (Hitchin), E. J. Gale (St. Albans), R. P. Crump (Hornsey), F. White (ex-Oxhey), F/O A. Hunt (Sandridge), B. Patmore (Gt. Munden), and Mr. Radley (Broxbourne), and the meeting stood in silence as a mark of respect.

New members elected included 12 probationers from St. Albans Cathedral, A. Boyd (Northaw), A. M. Warris and R. G. Ouston (Edgware).

\section*{SUPPORT FOR 'RINGING WORLD}

The annual report, read by the hon. general secretary (Mr. H. V. Frost), stated that the year had been one of steady progress, and there was evidence of new recruits to the art of church bell ringing all over the county.

Messrs. B. Barker, E. G. Buck, G. Dodds and K. Dunstan had been appointed : Ringing World ; representatives for their districts and the Association had headed the list, so far, in getting the highest number of members to become postal subscribers to that paper.

There had been more bell restorations again this year at some of the six-bell towers. Essendon bells had been rehung, Great Amwell's new ring of five was augmented to six, while Elstree bells were to be recast and Kimpton bells were to be rehung.

A total of 54 peals had been rung during the year, but for the first time since 1928 none were recorded on handbells. The calling of the peals was divided between sixteen conductors, of whom Mr. Derek P. Jones took the lead with a total of eleven peals; 13 members had rung their first peal and one his first as conductor.

Painswick Surprise, Loughborough Bob and Beretun Bob Major have been new methods for our records, while Double Oxford Bob Major has not been rung in this county except on handbells. Several Minor methods were rung to peals for the first time through the enthusiasm of Mr. D. P. Jones and his young band.
' On the financial side, all but \(£ 25\) of the very generous loan of \(£ 150\) made three years ago has been repaid. We are now in a position to completely repay this loan, but we shall have to concentrate on raising our Reserve Fund to at least \(£ 100\) in order to cope with future emergencies. We must never again allow this association to get into such a low financial position.'

The report was adopted.
The financial statements were presented by the hon. treasurer (Mr. G. W. Debenham). The Benevolent Fund had a balance of \(£ 22\) 1s. 1d. with \(£ 638 \mathrm{~s}\). 7d. on deposit. The Voluntary Bell Fund after a grant of five guineas to Great Amwell showed a balance of \(£ 41\) 19s. 2d. The General Accounts showed an excess over expenditure of \(£ 187 \mathrm{~s}\). 4 d . on the year.

On the recommendation of the committec, the President proposed that the balance of \(£ 25\) on the loan of \(£ 150\) be repaid. This was agreed upon and the thanks of the Association were expressed by Mr. E. G. Buck to the generous person who had made it possible for the association to carry on over a most difficult period.

A grant of five guineas to the Elstree Bell Fund was agreed upon.

Mr. B. Barker's propositions, relating to various aspects of Association work, were put to the meeting and after much discussion Mr. Barker withdrew certain propositions entailing demands on the funds; the remaining items were put to the vote and defeated.
Mr. c. W. Woolley new president
Mr. C. W. Woolley was eleceted President with acclimation and thanked the members for his slection. He alto congratulated Mr. J. Hobbs on his sucecesfal year of office.
The remaining officers were reelected: Hon. General secrecary, Mr. H. V. Frost; Hon. Treasurce, Mr. G. W. Dobbenham; Assistant Secertaty, Mr. T. J. Southam ; Hon. Libiaraian, Mr. C. F. Sayer; Hon. Auditor, Mr. H. H. Hole, \(\mathrm{C}, \mathrm{A}\).
The next item on the agenda concermed peals of Bob Tripes and as the Association had rung such peals since 1887, incluting sceveral in receent years, the hon. seccreary explained that this item was included in order to give members the opportunity of expressing their views on the matter for the guidance of the Central Council representatives.

After considerable discussion it was resolved "that this meeting is in favour of peals of Bob Triples being included in the Central Council's "Peals Analysis." The hon. general secretary was further instructed to forward the resolution to the hon. secretary of the Central Council.

Mr. J. M. Page gave notice that arrangements had been made with the Diocesan Authorities for ringing to be included on the Church stand at the Hertfordshire Show at Willian on May 25 th and invited further support.

The proposed Festival at Benington on May 28 th would have to be postponed as the bells were likely to be undergoing restoration.

An omnibus vote of thanks was proposed by Mr. W. Ayre to all who had shared in the work of the meeting arrangements. The meeting then closed. several members taking the opportunity of inspecting the work of Mrs. G. Dodds in the new peal book.

\section*{DEDICATION}

\section*{A NEW IRISH TEN}

A new ring of ten bells was dedicated at St. Mark's Church, Dundela, Belfast, on Apri 23 rd , by the Lord Bishop of Down and Dromore. The new ring is a light ten with a \(12 \frac{3}{4} \mathrm{cw}\). tenor, the contract having been placed with Messrs. John Taylor and Co. This is the first parish church in Ireland to have a ring of ten.

At the conclusion of the service the following picked band rang a touch of Grandsire Caters: Messrs. P. L. Taylor (Loughborough), F. E. Dukes (Drogheda), W. Pratt, R. Stringer, T. E. Smelizer, J. T. Dunwoody, H. Brown, J. Savage (Holywood), W. Hall and Miss Jean Stewart (St. Donard's).

About 150 visitors were entertained to tea by the local band, after which Mr. J. M. Benn (chairman of the local socicty) thanked Messrs. Taylor and Co., Mr. Dukes, the St. Donard Society and the Holywood ringers, particularly Messrs. Dunwoody and Brown for their valuable advice and assistance in the training of the ringers. He presented the Holywood Society with a framed illuminated bell-ringers' prayer as a token of his Society's thanks for the use of Holywood bells and the training of their ringers.

Afterwards visiting ringers put this very nice ring to good use and various methods were rung.

\section*{OBITUARY \\ MRS. C. J. MATTHEWS}

With the death of Mrs. Kitty Matthews at the Middlesex Hospital on April 29th following a short illness, the Society of Royal Cumberland Youths and the ringers of St. Martin-in-the-Fields have lost one of their most loyal and respected members.

The funeral service was at Putney Vale Crematorium on May 3rd, when ringers of the London area were well represented by members of the Society of Royal Cumberland Youths, the Ladies' Guild, the Ancient Society of College Youths, the London County, Middlesex and Surrey Associations.

Among the many beautiful floral tributes were those from the Society of Royal Cumberland Youths, the ringers of St. Martin-in-theFields, the Ladies' Guild, the ringers of St. Margaret's, Westminster, and Isleworth and other ringing friends.

Learning to ring at St. Anne's, Highgate, during the first world war under the tuition of her father, Frank Smith, and other well-known Cumberlands. Kitty Matthews rang her first peal, one of Bob Major, in October, 1920. Prior to her marriage, in 1923, she rang only five peals, and it was not until 1936 that she again began to take an active interest in peal ringing. In that year she rang her first peal of Stedman Cinques at St. Leonard's, Shoreditch, and it was at about that time that she became a member of the band at St. Martin's.

Of recent years she had been looking forward to, and had almost realised, a modest ambition to ring her 100th peal. Her closest friends will remember how she approached that landmark with an eagerness typical of her youthful enthusiasm.

The peal of Erin Cinques at St. Martin's, in February of this year, was her 97 th, and her 56 th for the Cumberlands. In her total she numbered the married couples' peal of Stedman Cinques at Leicester in 1948, and the mothers' and sons' peal of Bob Major at Feltham in 1951.

She was for two years secretary of the Cumberlands; that Society will be the poorer for the passing of a devoted servant.

Kitty Matthews was greatly loved at St. Martin's. Her cheery smile and infectious enthusiasm will be sadly missed. May she rest in peace.

\section*{MR. GEORGE HUGHES}

Mr. Gcorge Hughes, of Stanmore, passed away at the age of 80 in Harrow Hospital on April 29th. He had been a chorister and ringer at Stanmore Church for more than 50 years and was tower master from 1922 until his health kegan to fail in 1946.
Not a great peal ringer, he was one of those who form the backbone of our Excrcise, a most faithful Sunday service ringer. At one time a register of attendance was kept at the tower; from this it was found that out of 1,764 possible occasions he had only been absent 29 times, always owing to illness or absence from Stanmore on holiday. Truly a remarkable record.
He was elected a member of the Middiesex County Association in 1899, having just missed being a founder member, and was made an honorary life member after 50 years' membership, a fact of which he was very proud.
He was cremated at Golders Green on Wednesday, May 4th, after a short service at Stanmore Church, at which the local band was represented by the wife of the tower master.

A peal of Stedman Triples in his memory was rung at Stanmore last Saturday, the bells being left unmuffled, as was his wish. E. J. L.

FORMED in 1889, the Leeds and District Amalgamated Society of Change Ringers has 25 affiliated church towers in membership, all of which are within a 12 mile radius of the city. The meeting of the Society recently at Christ Church, Armley, was the subject of a special article in ' The Yorkshire Evening Post' by Alfred Taylor in the series, 'Treasure in Leisure,' and it was an article which gave an admirable insight into our craft.

The author describes what to most of our readers is a familiar scene: 'Inside the whitewashed ringing chamber six men and two girls stood at the ropes. Behind them stood a dozen men, and seated round the walls another 12. A notice said, "No Talking," so I stood and watched. The ringers' eyes were on each other and the circle round the wall sat silently engrossed, listening to the ringers from St. Peter's and St. Michael's, Holy Trinity and St. Paul's.
' The bell ropes, \(£ 4\) apiece when new, flashed smoothly up and down. Now and then the leader (they call him the conductor) cried ' Bob' and changed the sequence, starting to weave a new pattern of sound. The ropes have long woollen hand grips and end knobs in red, white and blue. The end knob, peculiar to Yorkshire, is known as Billy, or Yorkshire End. The hand grip is known as the sally.
- The life in the bell runs down the rope to the hands of the ringer and each bell has its individual character. Experts from one church have to get acquainted with the bells when they ring in another. It is like making new friends.
- The ringers come from all sections of society-schoolmasters, miners, housewives, schoolgirls, engineers, clerks. They range from teenagers to men like Mr. Harry Lofthouse, of Christ Church, Armley, who served 30 years as secretary to the Society before he handed over to Mr. I. Slack. The physical part is not strenuous. Miss Sheila Schofield, a Leeds High School girl, rings at Leeds Parish Church and can handle the 17 cwt . tenor bell of the light eight.
'The mathematical part is difficult. You take a year to get the hang of it, after which you are learning all your life. It is not a case of counting numbers and memorising things, but more of watching all your partners and understanding the pattern you are tracing in sound.
- For centuries church bells have been linked with national and local events, and the books in some towers are historic documents. Leeds Parish Church record book, for instance, tells of ringing for Queen Victoria's visit to the Town Hall, for Parliamentary elections, and for the opening of the first Assize held in Leeds. It also records the hanging of two men at Armley Jail in front of a crowd of 10,000 .

The Leeds Society should certainly get some inquiries about ringing from such an entertaining article. "Bellringing is not a dying art,' Mr. Slack told Mr. Taylor. 'There is a lot of young blood in it and women are taking it up in increasing numbers.' This is perfectly true. The difficulty, however, is of retaining all but the very enthusiastic. At Liverpool Mr. Ernest L. Humphriss in a letter this week states that for his next bunch of learners he is thinking of calling for half a dozen over fifties and adds that the youngsters have too many attractions. There are, fortunately, towers famed for their young ringers, and Mr. Harry Sanger tells of the youngsters of Evercreech. Here a band of an average age of 15 rang the service touch of Grandsire Caters. The secret is to make the young ringer enthusiastic. Judging from reports received from many parts of the country, the youth of Britain are interested in our art, and many of our leading ringers of to-day look to the future of change ringing with confidence.

\section*{LINES BY AN OLD RINGER}

By James Young, a member of the Boreham band in the last century.
My old mate Joe and I were ringers you'll hear
We rang in Boreham tower over fifty long years,
When ringing was due we strove to be there
And tried to ring with hand and ear.
Change ringing was our hobby from the time we were young
And we liked to be where change ringing was done,
We travelled these Dioceses far around,
To country villages and large towns.
We rang at Colchester, West Ham and Leigh, Chelmsford, Harwich, Halstead and Braintree, Maldon, Baddow, Bentley and Barking, Coggeshall, Kelvedon, Stanford and Bocking.
Our Company all went to Hornchurch one day
And rang a good peal I am happy to say,
We were well received by the people there,
From the Brewery they sent us a bushel of beer.
To drink it all we were not able, for at dinner
Another half bushel was placed on the table,
So we shared it round with jokes and fun
Then showed them how good ringing was done.
It was on my 81st birthday
I attained the desire of my heart,
In our tower was rang a three hour peal,
In which I took a part.
My mates have all been called to rest,
And I am now the last one left,
In the old churchyard neath the bright green sod
They sleep till awaked by the Angels of God.

No matter in which corner of the country, you happen to be, as likely as not you will come across Gillett \(\mathcal{E}\) Johnston bells or tower clocks. Gillett & Johnston craftsmanship is embodied in an all-embracing service - as much in the preservation and restoration of old rings of antiquarian interest as in the installation of new.

\section*{Buckingham Ringers Visit the Cotswolds}

For their tenth outing Buckingham ringers spent Easter Monday in the grey-stoned villages of the Cotswold country.

Ringing took place at Burford, Fairford, Leckhampton, Prestbury, Charlton Kings and Stow-on-the-Wold. It was the recently-rehung befls of Stow that the visitors pronounced were the best of the day. Miss Dorothy Palmer, of Southam, was the first feminine ringer to ring the tenor since rehanging.

All regretted the absence of Maids Moreton's veteran captain, 84 -year-old Mr. Benny Jones. There were 34 in the party, including visitors from Maids Moreton, Helmdon, Wicken, Cosgrove and Southam. The methods rung included Grandsire, and Stedman Triples, Bob Major, Cambridge Surprise and London Surprise. The admirable arrangements were made by Mr. W. A. Yates, assisted by Mr. W. Townsend.

\section*{BATH AND WELLS ASSOCIATION}

The Chew Deanery Branch Corporate Communion was held at Long Ashton on April 24th, towers represented being Clutton, Long Ashton, Marksbury, Nailsea, Wrington and Yatton.

Grandsire and Stedman Triples were rung before the service, when the celebrant was the Vicar (the Rev. H. Knapman). An excellent breakfast, ably arranged by Mrs. Knight and Mr. Pullin, was afterwards enjoyed in the Parish Hall.

There was further ringing for morning service by those members who did not have to return to their own towers.

\section*{Presentation to Mr. W. Poston}

Mr. W Poston, until recently Ringing Master of the Ross District, was the recipient of a handsome presentation of an oak clock, suitably engraved, in recognition of his leadership of the District. The presentation took place at the quarterly meeting of the District at Upton Bishop on April 23 rd.
In making the presentation Mr. J. J. Webb spoke of the great work Mr. Poston had done for the Guild, and said that under his leadership the Ross District had led the way in the ringing of difficult methods not previously rung in the diocese.

Other tributes to Mr. Poston were paid by Mr. A. T. Poulton (Much Marcle), who had rung more than 100 peals with him; Mr. H. Powell (Weston), who expressed his gratitude for the training he had received at Bridstow; and Mr. A. E. Gwynne.

Mr. Poston thanked Mr. Webb for arranging the presentation, and the ringing members for their generosity,

The Rev. W. N. Tavernor (Vicar), who presided at the meeting which followed tea, had previously conducted the service.
Subject to permission, the next meeting will be held at Much Marcle.

\section*{SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD}

Thirty-two ringers and friends attended the Devizes Branch meeting at Bromham on May 7th, including visitors from Bristol, Swindon, Nailsea and Chippenham. Apologies were received from the chairman (Mr. Weeks).
Thanks were expressed to the Rector for the use of the bells and for taking the service, and to Mr. Minty for making the arrangements. Ringing ranged from rounds to Cambridge.

\section*{OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD}

Welcome visitors to the annual meeting of the South Oxon Branch at Benson on May 7th were the Master of the Guild (the Rev. C. E. Wigg), the Deputy Master (Mr. F. Sharpe), the librarian (Miss Cross), Mr. A. E. Lock (secretary of North Berks Branch) and Mr. C. Kinch (secretary of Bicester Branch). Eleven new members were elected.

Officers for next year are :-Chairman, the Rev. J. E. Lewis (Vicar of Watlington); Ringing Master, Mr. F. Absalom; secretary, Mr. H. Badger.

At the service the Vicar of Watlington gave the address and the lessons were read by the Master and Deputy Master of the Guild. Members of the Branch formed the choir.

\section*{JOINT MEETING AT APPLETON}

A joint meeting of the Oxford City and North Berks Branch of the Oxford Diocesan Guild was held at Appleton on April 23 rd. Between 40 and 50 members and visitors were there, and those who were unable to squeeze into the ringing chamber were able to sun themselves outside the tower and listen to the well-struck and not-so-well-struck Caters.
The Rector (the Rev. A. C. Joyce) conducted a shortened form of Evensong in the charming little church and afterwards the party made their way to the barn at the Plough, where a most enjoyable tea was laid out. Even here the evidence of the Whites was not missing, as lettuces had been provided by the market gardening member of the well-known family.

Several ringers took the opportunity of inspecfing the Warborough bell frame that was being completed in Dick White's workshop, and afterwards the ringing was continued until well into the evening.

The Rev. Gilbert Thurlow will be instituted as Vicar of St. Peter's, Great Yarmouth, on June 21st at 7 p.m. This is a parish of 50,000 people with seven churches, one of which is roofless. The prayers and best wishes of the Exercise will be extended to him in this call to great service.
The number of bookings received indicates a bumper metting of the Central Council at Bristol this Whitsuntide.

Ten young ringers, average age exactly 15 years, rang a very good course of Grandsire Caters at Evercreech for Sunday service.
To-day is the 90th birthday of Mr. E. Alexander Young, a former secretary of the Central Council. Our warmest congratulations.
The peal of Cambridge Royal at Birmingham Cathedral on April 11th (page 274) was rung for the Coventry Diocesan Guild and not St. Martin's Guild.
There are still vacant seats in the coach tours for those attending the Central Council at Bristol. Immediate contact should be made by those interested with Mr. A. M. Tyler, 32, Hengrove Lane, Knowle, Bristol 4.

Many, we feel sure, would like to join in Birmingham's congratulations to Mr. Albert Walker on his 79th birthday, and note with pleasure his performance in a peal of Cambridge Surprise Maximus for the occasion. For fitness in middle-age, peal ringing is to be commended.
When doubt was expressed at the Middlesex Association annual meeting of having ten ringers regularly at Feltham, where an augmentation to this effect is proposed, Mr. Tony Price commented: ' You must look at it like a piano. You don't always play every note when you play "Home, Sweet Home."

Congratulations to the members of the West Midland District of the Ladies' Guild who rang a quarter of Stedman Triples at St. Edburgha's, Yardley.
Mr. Reginald W. Rex took part on May 7th in the first peal of London Surprise on the bells of Highclere, Hants, the tower where he learned to ring.
A correspondent writes: 'Perhaps those who think that seven 720 's cannot be rung at Monk's Eleigh in three hours will now bury the axe, as the peal on May 7th was rung by a band who have all conducted peals of Minor.'
Maidstone Grammar Schools' Society enjoyed their tea so much at their mecting at Harrietsham on May 7th that they were described by the Rev. F. W. Phillips as 'human incinerators.' Ringing is hungry business, judging from our observations at meetings.
- Ringing Towers ' understands that the Dean and the Chapter of St . Andrew's Cathedral, Sydney, are giving consideration to the installation of a ring of bells. A legacy has been left for the purpose. Sydney ringers hope for a light or medium weight ten.
Many unusual things have happened in a punt on the Cherwell at Oxford. Miss P. J. Holborn will remember her experiences on May 8th when, with two other members of the Oxford University Society, she rang her first quarter. The band was: Miss Holborn 1-2, D. H. Niblett 3-4, D. Hodgson (conductor) 5-6, and they rang 1,440 Plain Bob Minor.

NORWICH DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION

\section*{New Officers Elected}

TUHE main feature of the Norwich Diocesan Association annual general meeting, held in Norwich on May 7th, was the election of a completely new team of Diocesan officers.

All towers with ringable bells in Norwich were open, including Mancroft, St. George Colegate, St. Giles', St. Miles', and St. John-de-Sepulchre.
The service was held at St. Andrew's. The Rev. Gilbert Thurlow, the Vicar, preached, and told us that 'standing three hours pulling a rope,' in however pitying a tone of voice it is said by the non-ringer, is a quite true description of our art, from his point of view; in fact our description of any aspect of ringing, and of all things in life, is true to us, according to whatever level of perception we have achieved. We never know 'all about it,' there is always more to learn and a higher level of perception to reach; this is most deeply true of God, and anyone who thinks he has learnt all he need know about God, does injustice to Him Who is always beyond us, however clever we become, even though paradoxically He is able to become friends with the smallest child.

Mr. Thurlow spoke of the disgracefully unringable state of St. Andrew's ten bells, and paid tribute to those who rang there in the past, including the herocs who rang the first peal of London, when the ropes did not even fall in a true sequence.

The tea and meeting were held in St. Andrew's Parish Hall. Because of the regretted death of the president, the Rev. A. St. J. Heard. Mr. Arthur Bason, chairman of the North Norfolk Branch, was elected chairman. He was supported by the secretaries of the four branches, chairmen of the E. and S. Norfolk branches. the Association ringing master and general secretary.

The general secretary led the meeting in prayer, after which Mr. Nolan Golden spoke about our late beloved president, in whose honour members stood in silence.

Arising out of the minutes it was agreed that the \(£ 20\) honorarium due to the general secretary, never taken by him and proposed to be added to the bell restoration funds of St. George Colegate and St. Andrew's, Norwich, in turn, be now added to St. Nicholas', Great Yarmouth, bell restoration fund. It was also agreed that the \(£ 22 \mathrm{~s}\). before voted to St. Nicholas' bell restoration fund be added to this. Mr. Golden said the Association badges would be ready by the end of May at 3s. 9 d . each.

\section*{ELECTION OF OFFICERS}

The Rev. H. G. Lillingston, Rector of Marsham, and the Rev. A. G. G. Thurlow were proposed and seconded for the office of president. Mr. Thurlow said that though he greatly appreciated the honour, and though his interest in ringing and in the Association was as great as ever, he felt the Vicarage of Great Yarmouth, with seven churches (one roofless) and 50,000 people, would take up too much time for him to fulfil the duties of president as he would like, and that therefore he would stand down. The chairman thereupon declared Mr. Lillingston president, and he took the chair amidst applause. He promised to do his best for the Association. and said that ringers ought to show more initiative in encouraging clergy to take up ringing.

It was unanimously agreed that the Rev. A. G. G. Thurlow and Mr. George Fletcher be added to the list of vice-presidents. The other wice-presidents were re-elected en bloc.

The Rev. Gilbert Thurlow said that with great regret he must not seek re-election as general secretary and treasurer. He would be instituted Vicar of St. Peter's, Great Yarmouth, on June 21st, at 7 p.m., and would be delighted to see any ringers at the service. Mr. Bason proposed and Mr. Golden seconded that the new general secretary and treasurer be Mr. W. Love, 52, Spencer Street, Norwich. Mr. Thurlow said he knew the Association would continue to prosper under such a president and general secretary.

Mr. Nolan Golden announced that he must retire from the office of ringing master, although his interest in ringing was as great as evergreater if possible. Loud applause followed Mr. Goate's expression of the Association's appreciation of all Nolan Golden had done for it. Mr. H. W. Barrett, of Loddon, was elected the new ringing master.

Another resignation was that of Mr. Gcorge Fletcher as hon. auditor. Mr. Arthur Bason was elected his successor, and the Association's gratitude to Mr. Fletcher was expressed in glowing terms.

The retiring general secretary and treasurer presented the accounts as audited by Mr. Fletcher. These showed for 1954: Income, \(£ 106 \mathrm{18s}\) s. 9 d. ; expenditure, \(£ 87 \mathrm{6s} .2 \mathrm{~d}\). ; cash at bank, \(£ 1444^{\prime} 4 \mathrm{~s}\). 10 d . ; cash in Belfry Repair Fund, \(£ 7816 \mathrm{~s}\). 6d. Discussion followed on the cost and method of printing the annual report. This was agreed to be referred to the Standing Committee, and the accounts were adopted.

Votes of thanks were passed to the clergy for the use of the bells, Gilbert Thurlow for the service at St. Andrew's and use of the Parish Hall, Reginald Bolton, the organist, for playing. and kind folk from St. Andrew's parish and from ringers' families, who had arranged such a splendid tea at such a popular price. Ringing continued till 9 p.m. Altogether a highly satisfactory meeting, auguring well for the Association's future with its new officers.

\section*{DURHAM & NEWCASTLE ASSOCIATION}

Gainford, which has its roots in Saxon England, was the venue of the April ringing meeting of the Southern District. The new Vicar, the Rev. 1. Samuel, had the pleasure of hearing his bells rung to changes for the first time since his arrival. He conducted the service and also joined the ringers at tea. Visitors from North Yorkshire were very welcome. Although a very noisy belfry, the ringing was enjoyed from Grandsire Doubles to Cambridge Surprise Minor.

\section*{OLD SHEFFIELD CUSTOM \\ REVIVED}

An old tradition was observed in Sheffield, on April 20th, when the Cathedral bells were rung prior to the annual Feast of the Cutlers Company. The Company has an unbroken existence since 1624 , and originally consisted of master cutlers only, but now many of the allied trades are represented, and they also maintain standards of quality. As in the past the Cutlers Company plays a big part in the City's business and social life.

Each year a new Master is elected, and a part of the ceremony of his installation is a service in the Cathedral, the members being attired in their traditional dress of morning coats and tall hats.

The Cathedral bells are always rung before and after the scrvice.

The Cutlers Company gave the Parish Church a bell which was recast in 1745, and bore the inscription of its predecessor, viz.: - Donum Sociatates Cutlariorum. Anno Domini 1688 John Spooner Master Cutler 1745.'

The present Master Cutler, Mr. W. G. Ibberon, whose family have been cutlers since the early 1700 , has taken an unusual interest in the bells, and along with his Senior Warden. spent a whole evening viewing the tower and bells, watching the ringers, and reading to them notes relating to the bells and ringers, extracted from the records of the Company. One item taken from the 'Sheffield Courant,' 1771, reads

The Cutlers Feast was observed as a great holiday. Bells were kept constantly ringing during three days: booths were erected in the Churchyard, High St. and Church St., and all business was generally suspended.'
He was unable to see the original bell, the gift of the Company, as in later recasting the inscription was omitted, but he asked for and has received a list of the present inscriptions of the twelve, also of 'Tom Tinker,' cast in 1598 by Godfrey Heathcote, of Chesterfield.

The Master Cutler remarked how the sound of the bells, as he was preparing for his installation, had impressed him, and asked that the old custom of ringing as the guests arrived at the Cutlers Hall across the roadway, for the 319th annual Feast be revived. This, the ringers promised, and duly carried out. The Master Cutler sent a letter of appreciation together with a beautiful menu booklet, signed by himself and his wife. Thus the ancient custom suspended during the period of trade depression was again revived.

\section*{A North Devon male ringer successfully controlled his} mass of curls in a recent successful peal attempt by the use of hair clips. cessful peal attempt by the use of hair clips.
Other members of the band wonder what remedy awaits him when he joins H.M. Forces shortly.
The peal of Plain Bob Doubles at Coulsdon conducted by Mr. A. Patrick Cannon was specially arranged to enable four members of the local band to ring a peal in their own tower.
It is 87 years since a baby has been born in Asfordby new Rectory, Leicestershire. A wellstruck peal of Minor in seven methods on the Parish Church bells conveyed the congratulations of the village to the Rev. S. A. and Mrs. Jackson.

Members of the band of St. Margaret's Church, Rainham, extend a very warm welcome to both Mr. and Mrs. Carey, who have joined the company. They were married at Melksham, Wilts, on April 23rd. Jean has induced her husband to kearn our art

On April 27th, as the liner end, the bells of St. George's Chapel of Unity rang out in farewell to the Rev. Robert W. Constant, who was sailing in her to take up an appointment in Australia. Before his ordination he was a keen ringer and the steeple-keeper at St. George's for some years. Old friends from Milton, Northfleet and Gravesend towers were there to wish him Godspeed with the music of the bells.

Three of the ringers who rang in the peal at Andover as a farewell to the Rev. Michael Simcock live in the borough of Eastleigh, where he has accepted an appointment. They are Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Reed and Mr. Norman Hayes.

The peal of Kent Treble Bob Minor was rung at Netherseale. Derbyshire, aiter the attempt for a peal of Major had failed. Messrs. J. W. Cotton and E. Morris were in the Major attempt, but as Ernest had a bus to catch it was too late to start an eight-bell attempt.

\section*{THE GEORGE WILLIAMS DINNER}

\section*{Bournemouth Gathering Gains Popularity}

The Vicar and Rural Dean of Bournemouth, Canon A. L. E. Williams, presided over a comnany of 90 ringers and friends at the ninth George Williams Commemoration Dinner at Bournemouth on May 7th.

He was supported by the Deputy Mayor of Bournemouth (Cclr. H. P. E. Mears) and Mrs. Mears. Mrs. A. L. E. Williams, the Vicar of Christchurch (Canon R. P. Price) and Mr. Gcorge Pullinger (Master of the Winchester and Portsmouth Guild) and Mrs. Pullinger.

The loyal toast having been honoured, the company settled down to an evening's entertainment and speeches. Canon Williams read a letter of apology for absence from the Mayor owing to a prior engagement that evening. However, they were all very delighted to have the Deputy Mayor and Mrs. Mears with them. Councillor Mears attended the dinner in 1953 when the Central Council met in Bournemouth, it being his first official duty as Mayor.

The Deputy Mayor recalled the occasion and remarked that his attendance that evening would probably be his last official duty as Deputy Mayor but he hoped it would not be the last occasion upon which the bellringers would invite him and Mrs. Mears to join them at dinner.

\section*{RINGING THE SPIRIT OF ENGLAND}

The Vicar of Christchurch. in proposing the toast 'The Bells and Bellringers,' paid a warm tribute to the work of the bellringers of England. He felt that the bells stood for England and for the churches of England. 'I am sure," he said. that church bellringing is very much a part of the spirit of England and that a spirit of pride and achievement amongst a group in any activity is a real and vital part of the tradition of England.' After a tribute to the work of the ladies in the belfries and reference to the long service still being given by Mr. George Preston at Christchurch, Canon Price said, - The sound of the bells reaches further to remind people of the Lord's Day and His Resurrection than any sermons. I do hope you will continue to be as unperturbed by criticism of the bells as we parsons are of our sermons."

Mr. Gcorge Pullinger, Master of the Winchester and Portsmouth Guild, responded and expressed the gratitude all ringers felt for the co-operation of the clergy and thanked Canon Price for his glowing tributc.

The Guild, formed in 1879. he said, had three objects: (1) united co-operation and fellowship; (2) furtherance of church bellringing as church work and the recognition of bellringers as churchworkers; and (3) the encouragement of the English art of changeringing. Mr. Pullinger claimed some success on the part of ringing guilds in attaining these objectives and urged the instructors to continue to recruit and teach young people. As long as interest in bellringing amongst the young is sustained the future of our Exercise is secure.'

\section*{GREAT PIONEERS}
-The Memory of Mr. George Williams " was proposed by Mr. Arthur Davis, who felt that the guests present that evening, upon reading the toast list, would probably fall into three groups: those who knew the late Mr. George Williams well; those who knew of him and those who had never met him at any time. All would, perhaps, ask why they commemorated him . There were in that room that evening several ringers who were possibly more advanced in the art than George Williams. In the north they held the Snowdon Dinner. although they could splice scores of methods into a peal of Minor. In the Midlands, where they rang a peal in a new method every weck they still honoured the memory of Henry Johnson. Why did they honour those men? Surely it was because they recognised their work, their laborious work, and the work of their contemporaries. That changeringing had advanced so rapidly during the past 50 years was due to the pioneer work of such men as the late George Williams.
The chairman concluded the proceedings by proposing the toast of 'The Visitors' and Mr. William B. Cartwright responded. Mr. Cartwright said he was somewhat disappointed at being asked to respond as a visitor. As he came so frequently to Bournemouth he was beginning to hope he had got his foot in and was on the way to being considered a resident. On behalf of the visitors he would like to say that they had had a most enjoyable evening in a very delightful room. He had always held the view that if the committee would persevere with it the Bournemouth dinner would be one of the most successful functions held in the country.
During the evening the company were entertained by Mr. Charles Beresford (baritone) and Mr. Brian Taylor (pianist), of Canford School, Dorset.
The Bournemouth handbell band rang a course of Grandsire Caters and the St. Peter's handbell ringers gave a selection of tunes under the direction of Mr. Arthur Davis.

\section*{ST. JOHN-THE-EVANGELIST, YORK}

\section*{The Treatment of Mediæval Bells}
'The Ringing World ' for April 23rd, 1954 carried an article, 'The Silent Bells of York this described a ring of eight and three rings of six in the city which had been s:lent for some years. Since then one of the sixes has been transferred to a 'live' church and is silent no longer. Now, 12 months afterwards, steps are being taken to restore another 'silent six.
The church concerned is that of St. John-the-Evangelist, Micklegate, which after many years of disuse has been saved from destruction by the York Civic Trust. It is now teing restored and converted into the York Institute of Architectural Study.
Work is being carricd out under the supervision of Dr. W. A. Singleton, architect, and director of the Institute. Several interesting discoveries have been made including a Norman window in the west wall of the tower, which had been covered by plaster; this is the only Norman window still existing in any church within the city walls.
The base of the tower is Norman. A previous tower fell in the 16th century, and that part which now houses the six bells is a timber framed and brick structure built in the time of the Commonwealth.

Four of the bells are pre-Reformation, one bding dated in Roman numerals-1408, it being one of the few dated medizval bells.

Mr. Frederick Sharpe, Convener of the Towers and Belfries Committee of the Central Counc:l of Church Bell Ringers, has been consulted with regard to the restoration of the bells. Messrs. John Taylor and Co., of Loughborough, have been appointed to take down the bells and to restore them in such a way that, among other things, they can be used to show students how mediaval bells should be treated. This is in connection with the Institute's special course on the care of churches. Mr. Sharpe has previously lectured in York on the subject of church bell restorations at special summer schools for architectural students.
It is good to know that in future another organised body is to take an interest in the correct method of bell restoration.

An appeal to the public has been made to raise \(£ 12,000\) so that the work of restoration and alteration may be completed and the Institute formally opened at Easter, 1956. Subscriptions may be sent to the Secretary, St. Anthony's Hall, York

HAROLD WALKER.

\section*{NAILSEA WEEK-END}

Members of the N.S.T.G. with friends, notably from the Langport district, and one from Leicester, held a successful week-end on April 16th-17th. On the Saturday the party rang at Churchill, Clevedon St. John, Weston-in-Gordano, Clapton-in-Gordano, Tickenham, Backwell and Long Ashton.

Sunday ringing was at Wrington for the Communion service, and at Nailsea for Matins. A most enjoyable week-end was organised with customary cfficiency by Michael Horseman.

\section*{ST. ANDREW'S, KINGSBURY}

An enjoyable tour of Bedfordshire was arranged on April 16 th by members of St. Andrew's, Kingsbury, joined by ringers of St. Mary's, Hendon, and St. Mary's, Harrow-on-the Hill.

All the towers were well chosen and included Cardington, Bromham. Kempston, Northill and Henlow. A hearty lunch was taken at Bedford, and tea at Northill. The help of Mr. J. B. Long, at Cardington, and Mr. Wagstaffe, at Northill, was much appreciated.

\section*{LETTERS TO THE EDITOR}

\section*{ST. BARNABAS', PIMLICO}

Dear Sir,-Following Mr. Rowe's letter re ringing in Middlesgex, some further information on two of these towers might not be out of place.

At St. Barnabas'. Pimlico, the clergy take litte or no interest in the bells. The frame at this tower is quite sound and little is wrong with the bells apart from a few missing latchet sliders and the birds' dung caked thick on everything. The excuse is given that the tower is unfit for ringing, despite the fact that it has recently been restored, as anyone can see from the appearance of the spire. A chiming apparatus (apparently unused) has been installed, with the cords attached to the clappers; and, to be quite sure that no one tries to raise the bells, a new clock-chamber ceiling without rope-holes has been fitted.

As regards St. Luke's, Nutford Place, all that remains is the tower, standing detached and crumbling in front of a bomb-site.-Yours sincerely, London. W. 3.

Note.-The chiming apparatus was used quite recently for a wedding.-Ed.

\section*{PEAL RINGING IN THE COUNTIES}

Dear Sir, I am sorry I made the mistake of saying that South Wigston was a six-bell tower last century. I think I must have been temporarily mixing it up with Wigston Magna, for that was a six-bell tower originally and I had been recently asked whether I had come across any peals on the six bells (there was one in 1894).

I shall be very pleased to compare notes with Mr. Gobey re Ilkeston. I still make the total 99. If he would care to write to me at St. Michael's Vicarage, Southampton. we can soon settle the matter.-Yours faithfully.

\section*{RINGING IN WEYMOUTH}

Dear Sir,-I was interested to read in Dr. Slade's letter that the four bells at Preston are now augmented to six. I well remember a very pleasant holiday spent at Weymouth four years ago, made the more pleasant by the hearty welcome extended to me by the Preston ringers. I thoroughly enjoyed the four-bell ringing which \(I\) experienced there, and the visit, later in my holiday, to Wyke Regis, Where the methods were more complicated and the welcome no less hearty. I hope that the bands in both these towers are prospering as they deserve. I know that Wyke Regis is, for I visited it during the latter part of last year again. Lut had no opportunity to go to Preston. - Yours sincerely,

DAPHNE R. CASTELL.
Oxford.

\section*{IN PRAISE OF YOUTH}

Dear Sir,-I should like to use "The Ringing World ' to express my admiration and thanks to the young ringers of both sexes of our tower on completing five years' Sunday service ringing without a break.
Just over five ycars ago my brother and I started a young band, aged between 10 and 17 years, and they have now all rung peals, and we have two peal conductors. In these days it is good to know that the younger generation when started on a job that is shown to them to be worth while can stick to it and even be an example to some of the older members. Yours truly,
E. W. ROAST.

\section*{COMPOSITION OF HUNT-CONTROLLED} METHODS
Dear Sir,-Mr. York-Bramble questions how many of the 200,000 I examined and the time taken to test them for falseness. I made out and examined not more than 278 methods, and anyone with the slightest knowledge of Treble Bob Major would know that it is but a few seconds' work to determine whether or not a method is c.p.s.

If he will refer to my previous letter he will see that I did not refer to method extension and that I acknowledged that peals and principles (omni-working) are composed. What I was challenging was the right of certain persons claiming to have composed individuil hunt-controlled methods, when all such methods can be written down. Peals and principles have to be checked for internal falseness, but huntcontrolled methods do not. Therefore peals and principles are composed, but hunt-controlled methods are just written down. The list of c.p.s. Surprise was submitted to show that methods conforming to specifications can also be churned out.

As for Regina Major the fact is that his specification did not provide a new method in this class (Plain Major) because although Driver did not work out those with double changes. I find that I have the method in my own collection, written down in 1950. Also, I await with interest for his reply to the letter on page 613, 'Ringing World' of 1953 , that his extensions to Royal and Maximus are not extensions of the Major.

Although his challenge bears no relation to the question, in view of the fact that principles (omni-working) are composed, it does fetch out some interesting points, viz., double triples principles must have an odd number of changes in the half-lead (hence there is no such thing as Double Stedman Triples), doubles triples principles cannot have the bells in natural coursing order at the division end, except for Original, and also, a question for the Methods Committee, must a double principle extend into a double principle?

The simplest answer that I can find to his problem, assuming the answer to the above to be 'yes,' is as follows, where I give the places of the whole division.

Stanwell (a double principle for odd numbers).
Triples. \(-7,5,7,5,3,1,3,1,7\),
1, \(3,1,3,5,7,5,7,1.1,3,1,9\),

The bob is, like that of Stedman, viz., move the middle 7ths, 9 ths or 11 ths to 5 ths, 7 ths or 9ths respectively.

I doubt whether any band could ring it to a peal at the first attempt. - Yours sincerely,
W. Bedfont.
F. T. BLAGROVE

\section*{RINGING IN MIDDLESEX}

Dear Sir,-Mr. E. J. Rowe is doubtless correct in saying that the bells of St. Luke's, Nutford Place, are hung dead, but this has not always been the case, as the following extract from the 'Bell News.' which I came across some years ago, will show. I remember noting this at the time (it was before 'Dove' was published) as it was the first mention of the church I had seen, and I do not recall any other account of ringing there.-Yours faithfully, \(E\). A. BARNETT.
Crayford, Kent.

\section*{METHODS OF TEACHING}

Dear Sir -While it is always a pleasure to read a letter, or a leader, from the pen of \(\mathbf{J}\). T. Dyke, the circumstances he quotes in his comments are not those which I interpret the topic of the month article as being intended to cover, and certainly not those which a standard procedure manual should cover. In thanking Mr. Dyke for the care and courtesy with which he comments on my original letter an all too infrequent complimentary of Press letter writers in general-I regret I cannot agree with many of his comments.

It has been my experience that the striking of rounds is most difficult, and only after considerable plain hunting-on which Mr. Dyke does not comment-with the bells silent in the early stages, can a young band ring rounds. I also maintain that handbell ringing fer the purpose of introducing rhythm, with, of course, an open hand-stroke 12 's or 16 's, is an improvement on rounds-open presumably-on tower bells, and can be taught in the rest periods during initial instruction. May I also maintain my preference for plain hunting rather than call-changes, to cause the learner from the start of his ringing life to think ahead,

Mr. Dyke does not comment on a main issue -the instruction of the lcarner in the order of bells to follow while counting the place he is in. Where difficulty still exists, a competent ringer standing behind pointing to the bell to follow while counting the place the bell is in, is a great help.

Plain hunting leads to Plain Bob, which is easier to manage than Grandsire. The Grandsire down dodge requires a check into 4 ths and 6ths when the treble and hunt bell are checking their backstroke lead. The checking stroke in Plain Bob, 3rds and 5ths crmes on the open hand-stroke lead. Because the check strokes are more severe in Grandsire than in Plain Bob, I teach Plain Bob first. I do not think Grandsire is easy to strike, anyway; true if an individual pupil is of the true University type, it doesn't matter, but with a mixed group of five or six learners and only occasional help, it matters very much when progress without heartbrcaks must be uniform.

Standing behind was not introduced by me, but in reply the learner should stand behind the expert as often as possible, not vice versa. It requires a quickness and knowledge which few people have to anticipate the conductor's calls.

Many years ago the late George R. Newton whispered to me, a youthful learner, 'I'll lend you a book.' It was, if my memory serves me well, written by J. T. Dyke for beginners. I digested it and returned it and can only remember the excellent illustrations. If still in circulation I would purchase half a dozen copies and do with them what my old friend used to do. Could this plan grow? Apart from individuals, Associations have' hundreds of \(£\) 's lying like buried talents. I feel that a supplement might be added: we must move faster to-day.

The teaching of inside rather than treble depends, with me, on the learner. If a youngster, then the treble first; but if an older person, then it is better to concentrate on one bell. So much ringing is spoilt by ringers swapping around. though a conductor should be able to spot a fault and give positive direction to "close in ' or 'open out ' or 'you're too near the heavy bells, without giving offence to the individual.

For my next bunch of learners I'm thinking of calling for half-a-dozen over 50's. The youngsters have too many outside attractions.Yours very faithfully,

\section*{CLERICAL RINGING WEEK}

Five Days in North Devon

TwIIS year's clerical ringing week was held from Monday, April 18th, to Friday, April 22nd, in North Devon, with headquarters at the North Cliff Private Hotel, Lynton, where the society was most cordially welcomed by the resident host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Wood.
Ringing started on the Monday afternoon, the rendezvous being Bishopsnympton, a tower with a handy six bells. Afterwards North Molton ( 6 , tenor 19 cwt ), South Molton ( 8 , tenor 24 cwt.) where Double Norwich Court Bob Major was rung, and finally after dinner the ground floor ring at St. Mary's, Lynton.

Tuesday commenced with a corporate communion service in Lynton Church at which the President, Canon C. C. Cox, officiated. assisted by Preb. E. V. Cox. Following breakfast the party proceeded to St. Peter's, Tavistock (8. tenor 16 cwt .), where the narrow staircase from the north transept to the central tower caused anxiety to certain members of the party, who expected to get stuck half-way. However, all was well in the end and the coach set off for Bideford (8, tenor 17 cwt .) where Stedman and Yorkshire (the first for the Guild) were accomplished. One member of the party on leaving the tower was rather surprised when a number of visitors approached and asked if they could go in the church, as they understood that the ringing was for a funeral!

After a pienic lunch half-an-hour's ringing was enjoyed at St. Michael's, Torrington (8, tenar 15 cwt .), and later at High Bickington (8. tenor 9 cwt .), where ringing suffered from a set of new ropes. Onc local was mystified at the tenor being turned in and said it would be very difficult to tell when one went wrong. In the Parish Hall we were hospitably entertained to tea by a party of ladies, in charge of the Vicar's wife. St. Mary's, Atherington ( 6 , tenor 11 cwt.), has a lofty carved oak screen with rood loft, the only one in Devon, and here April Day was one of the methods rung.

The final tower of the day, the lofty St. Hieritha's, Chittlehampton ( 8, tenor 13 cwt .), is in charge of the Guild secretary, the Rev. J. H. B. Andrews. After ringing, the Guild was privileged to sing Evensong in this beautiful church The Vicar was assisted in the service by the President, Canon C. C. Cox, and Canon R. F. Wilkinson. Later, in the Vicarage, we were most generously entertained to dinner by the Rev. J. H. B. Andrews and Mrs. Andrews, and were joined by the Rev. N. F. D. Coleridge (Dartmouth) and the Rev. and Mrs. J. G. M. Scott (Wolborough). It was noticed on the homeward journcy that at least five members were askep in the coach, a testimony to the hospitality received.

Wednesday was probably one of the best days from the point of view of scenery, with the steep climb of Countisbury Hill and the descent of the famous Porlock Hill. Towers visited before lunch were St. Dubricius', Porlock ( 6, tenor 12 cwt .). Schoorthy ( 6 , tenor 16 cwt .). where the south aisle is described as one of the great treasures of English architecture, and St Michael's, Minchead ( 10 , tenor 21 cwt.). the ringing here including Grandsire and Stedman Caters, Plain Bob and Kent Treble Bob Royal. The luncheon interval provided an opportunity of a stroll round this famous scaside resort.

At St. George's, Dunster (8, tenor 22 cwt .), the first length of Oxford Bob Triples was rung by the Clerical Guild. Some good practice at Siedman was had at Timberscombe ( 8 , tenor 12 cwt .) , before moving to Exford ( 6 , tenor 13 cwt.). Exford is the home of one of our members, the Rev. H. F. Warren, who generously entertained the Guild in his fine new vicarage to a substantial tea. A wonderful ride over Exmoor brought the party back to headquarters. The annual business meeting was held in the everung when it was decided to hold next year's week in the Peak District with Matlock as the centre.
On Thursday, a peal of Stedman Triples was attempted at Combe Martin (8, tenor \(10 \frac{1}{\mathrm{cwt}}\).). Unfortunately it was lost after an hour and a half's good ringing. Non-peal ringers visited the two Ilfracombe churches where they met Miss Boyle and two Combe Martin ringers and also Mrs. E. S. Powell and Miss Hartley. The afternoon's programme included visits to Gcorgcham ( 8 , tenor 12 cwt.) and Braunton (8, tenor 16 cwt.), where we were also hospitably entertained by the Vicar's wife, Mrs. Owen, and her family. St. Mary's, Pilton (8, tenor 25 cwt .), was visited on the return journey. An evening of relaxation with darts. table tennis or skittles and television followed.
Fridiay, the last day, saw us proceed by members' cars to Taunton, ringing en route at Withypool ( 6, tenor 12 cwt), Dulverton ( 8 , tenor 17 cwt .), and Brushford ( 6, tenor 91 cwt .).

Grateful thanks are expressed to the clergy for the use of the towers (we regret that the holding of a Diocesan Synod at Excter prevented us meeting them), to the incumbents and wives who provided hospitality and, last but not least, our secretary, the Rev. J. W. B.
Andrews, for his efficient organisation of a memorable week favoured with beautiful weather.

\section*{Marple Church to be Demolished, But Tower to Remain}

A meeting of the Bowdon, Stockport and Mottram Branch was held at Marple on May 7 th, when the six old bells, which originally hung in the tower of Stockport Parish Church from 1731 to 1815, were in use from carly in the afternoon until the usual service in church, conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. A. T' Carver). Some members were very interested in the old church in which the bells are hung and which it is expected will have been demolished to within five feet or so of the ground before the Branch pays its next visit. It is understood that provision will be made to maintain the stability of the tower, for the new church. which stands in the same churchyard, has no tower.

Tea was served in the Parish Hall by the local ringers' wives and mothers, for there is a preponderance of youngsters at the tower who are very enthusiastic, and at the business meeting which followed the Branch complimented Mr. M. J. Pryor on the efforts he is making to re-establish a band there. Arrangements for the Guild festival at Frodsham on Junc 7th were announced and there was some discussion of the items which will then appear on the agenda.
At the conclusion of the business meeting further ringing was enjoyed on the bells until a late hout, ranging from rounds to London Surprise Minor.
A petition in the village arranged by a newcomer with a view to stopping the ringing of the bells was completely routed by the firm attitude adopted by the Vicar and the local band. The organiser now goes about saying that it has had the effect of improving the standard of ringing. We now know what to do when the standard of striking at a tower is not up to standard, or should we say it is an example of how to turn defeat into victory ! \(\quad\) C. K. L.

\section*{NEWS FROM AUSTRALIA}

Tom Howell, who celebrated his 73rd birthday recently, is the 'grand old man' of All Saints', Parramatta, where he learned to ring. Tom is solely a tenor ringer; he never watches the ropes, but turns his back on the rest of the band and sets a beat of unfailing evenness.
St. Mary's Basilica rang 360 Ipswich Surprise Minor for service on February 13th.
Christchurch St. Lawrence ringers have seven beginners 'in harness, and for the first time in living memory look like being able to sport their own band. Anyone who has visited Sydney and can remember the "go' of Christchurch bells will take off his hat to these young ringers. There has also been a spring cleaning session in the tower; this is a notoriously grubby one, being situated just across the road from Central Station, and all concerned were surprised to find that (under a generation's accumulation of dirt) the walls were a pale pink!
Catherine Hodge (nee Lamphee), of St. Andrew's, Walkerville, now has a son-Andrew Giffen. Cathic rang in the first peal on the bells at Walkerville, where her brother Richard also rings.
Ringing and scholastic attainments seem to go together when you look at Sydney's current pass list :-
Geoff Logan (St. Mary's) and Richard Bailey (All Saints') Pass, 5th year Medicine; Betty Herron (Christchurch), Pass, Arts 3, qualifie for Bachelor of Arts degree; Barry Rainsford (St. James'), Pass, Bachelor of Engineering examinations: Jann Edwards (Christchurch), Pass in Arts examination, including Pass with merit in Psychology I.; Walter Knight (St. James'), Pass, Leaving Certificate examinations. Congratulations to all these young people who seem effectively to have combined bells with books.
J. H.

\section*{DURHAM AND NEWCASTLE \\ Western District at Wylam}

The lack of public transport did not in any way interfere with the success of the meeting at Wylam on April 30th. Beautiful sunshine and a lovely view of the West Tyne Valley greeted ringers from Benfieldside, Blaydon, Chester-leStreet, Fenham, Gosforth, Lanchester, North and South Shields and Whickham.

The bells, a rather heavy six, were a handicap to some but the tone left nothing to be desired. Stephen Thompson saw to it that all got a ring and Kenneth Arthur was to the fore instructing the less experienced ringers.

After tea Mr. Thompson presided over the meeting. Thanks to the Vicar and churchwardens were proposed by Mr. Brown. while the chairman expressed his gratitude to Mrs. Gordon and her helper for the splendid tea. The Rev. T. H. H. Hood, curate at Blaydon, was elected a ringing member of the Association.

\section*{OBITUARY \\ MR. J. C. ADAMS}

With regret we record the passing of Mr. J. C. Adams, of St. Mary's, Walthamstow, on May 10th, his 69th birthday.
He started ringing nearly 50 years ago and was at one time a steward of the Ancient Society of College Youths. His peal record was not a large one-he rang perhaps 75, most of which were rung at St. Mary's, where he was the very efficient tower-keeper for some years.

Unfortunately 'Little Jimmy,' as he was affectionately called by most of his friends, recently had both legs amputated, which was probably a contributory cause of his death. He will be missed by his fellow ringers, although his ringing days ended about a year ago.

\section*{THE VERY REV. W. J. CONYBEARE}

Probably the oldest member of the Cambridge University Guild, the Very Rev. W. J. Conybearc, Provost Emeritus of Southwell, died at his home at Warborough, Oxfordshire, on May 13 th, aged 83 years.

\section*{MR. A. T. HOULDSWORTH}

We regret to announce the sudden death on April 19th of Mr. A. T. Houldsworth, of Montmorency, 14, Aller Park Raad, Newton Abbot, Devon, aged 71 years.
Mr. Houldsworth began his r:nging carcer at Emmanuel Church, Oswaldtwistle, Lancs, and during the period between 1913 and 1923 he rang more than 40 peals. a good proportion being in Surprise methods. He afterwards lived at St. Annes-on-Sea, Lancs, where he was a ringer at the Parish Church.

The sympathy of many ringing friends is extended to his daughter and son-in-law, Joan and Philip Gray, who for the past four ycars have been living in Australia, and are due to return to this country on July 2nd.

\section*{MR. H. MULLARD}

One of the oldest ringers in the Guildford District Mr. H. Mullard, of Klondyke, Grayswood, Haslemere. died on May 2nd, aged 80. He had been in failing health for about a year. Mr. Mullard was a representative of the Haslemere band on the Winchester Diocesan Guild as far back as 1900 . He conducted the first peal of Bob Minor on the old six at Haslemere on September 18th, 1901, and this was believed to be the first peal on the bells. For a number of years after this he was a member of Chiddingfold tower and took part in many peals, mostly under the conductorship of Mr. A. H. Pulling. Mr. Mullard's favourite peal was Holt's Original. He was also an organist and had played the organ at the Guild services at Haslemere and Chiddingfold. By trade be was a carpenter.

The funeral service was at Grayswood Church on May 6th. The Vicar (the Rev. F. C. Roberts) officiated, assisted by the Vicar of Thursley (the Rev. H. G. French), and following the committal handbells were rung at the graveside by Mrs. F. Bowden (Haslemere) \(1-2\), F. Bowden (Haslemere) 3-4, P. Fuller (Chiddingfold) 5-6, R. Cooper (Chiddingfold) \(7-8\). Mr. A. H. Pulling represented the Guildford Diocesan Guild at the service.

In the evening 1,260 of Grandsire Triples (half-muffled) was rung on the bells of St. Bartholomew's. Haslemere, by J. E. Clark 1, J. Salter 2, Miss A. Martin 3, Miss M. Goode 4, Mrs. F. Bowden 5. H. Gauntlett 6, F. Bowden (conductor) 7, R. Cooper 8.

\section*{MR. W. H. PASMORE}

We regret to announce the death of Mr . W. H. Pasmore, a past Master of the Ancient Socicty of College Youths, who died on Sunday. The funeral is at Streatham Crematorium on Saturday, May 21st, at noon.

MR. W. WALTERS
Monmouth Parish Church has lost a faithful servant by the death at the age of 91 of Mr. W. Walters. For over 75 years he was a chorister at St. Mary's Church.

When the late Mr. A. E. Barnett, sen., came to Monmouth in 1882 and introduced change ringing into the tower, Mr. Walters was one of his pupils. On July 1st, 1886 , Mr. Walters rang the treble to a peal of Grandsire Triples (Holt's ten-part). He was the last surviving member of this all-resident band that rang the first peal on the bells.

On Miay 3rd, when the funeral took place, a quarter peal of Grandsire Doubles was rung half-muftled to his memory by the following hand: Miss K. Smith 1, G. W. Hollis 2, Mrs. band : Miss K. Smith Goodwin 4, L. H. Jones (conductor) 5,'S. Ġoodwin 6.

A successful meeting of the Leatherhead District of the Guildfor, 1 Guild, at which youth predominated over age by seven to onc (the present reporter being omitted for the purpose of this calculation) was held at Ewell on May 7th.
The service was conducted by the curate (the Rev. J. M. Wilmot Brooke), who in an informal address, enlivened by illustrations, from his 42 years' experience in the ministry, spoke of the vocation of bellringers.

At the short business meeting one new member (from Ewell) was elected and thanks were accorded to the preacher, who had honoured the company with his presence at tea, to the Vicar for the use of the bells, and to the organist, Mr. J. H. Miller. Ringing in methods up to Surprise continued until 8.30 . J. E. B.

\section*{RINGERS, RULES AND LOGIC}

\section*{By T. R. BUTLER}

IT is not unnatural that the Methods Committee's recommendations regarding Plain Bob Triples and irregular Minor methods have evoked a certain amount of criticism. The committee's proposals-brilliantly conceived and expounded-are rendered extremely convincing and conclusive, however, by the logic with which they are evinced.

The force of logical argument cannot be disputed. It is at once inestimable and inescapable.

Yet we Britons are not an exceptionally logical people. Our whole administrative system from Westminster and Whitehall downwards is, in many respects, piecemeal and patchy, though, on the whole, it functions reasonably well. Several of our laws are riddled with anomalies, nevertheless our general administration of justice is the envy of the whole world. Scattered throughout our history are causes and battles fought at the wrong time, often in the wrong manner, but usually won! In many of our institutions we frequently 'get round' awkward and difficult situations by adopting an inconsistent, but somehow workable and sensible approach.

On the other hand, our neighbours, the French, with their love of logic and possessing a written constitution, find it necessary to change their Government at an approximate average rate of once in every eight months. We have, also, seen some results of ultra logical dogma in Soviet Russia, Germany and a few other countries.

Writing about our police system in a recent issue of ' The Police College Magazine,' Brigadier P. D. W. Dunn, the distinguished Commandant of the College, uses the following inspired words - words which, perhaps, could well bear relation to our Exercise at the present time:-
- This illogical system, with all its faults, is a tremendous factor in the inherent stability of our country and is developing, and has developed, to keep pace with the changing scene and conditions in these islands. Perhaps this talent for compromise is another word for genius for practical development. The average Briton is rather wary of rigid plans and rigid sets of rules. We in Britain prefer an art, an art that is not carried out as a science with mathematical precision, and I think that the genius of the British people is not for compromise, but is for development and for a practical approach in almost everything we do. When other nations take some of our institutions, rationalise them, codify the rules, they lose something which can never be replaced. One has only to think of the world of sport to see how true this is. One can over-develop the rules of a game. Many people think that the rules of golf have now developed in so rigid a fashion that the game has suffered greatly. If anything is reduced to a mathematical science governed entirely by a set of code rules, it is far harder to develop and one may reach finality and, as Kipling once said, "Finality is death." It is also dull."
It has often been emphasised that our Exercise is an art and not a highly competitive business or sport. It is also intimately associated with our Church and a State renowned for its fairness and flexibility, even in the application and enforcement of its laws. Yet there are those who believe we have already hampered this art with too many rules and regulations. Regardless of any palliative circumstances, peals on seven bells are not recognised, a conductor must participate in the ringing and use no visible aids to memory. While these and other like measures have doubtless been imposed in a genuine effort to maintain a high standard, it is doubtful whether similar stringent restrictions would be so readily accepted by, say, members of choirs or orchestras.

Let us, therefore, not be overawed or overwhelmed by complex logical doctrine. If we still retain an affection for Bob Triples or any irregular method, well knowing their faults, by all means let us keep them. Too little consideration, one feels, has been given to the musical issue or what our audiences prefer to hear, though it is a comparatively safe guess that many would prefer the sound of Bob Triples to that of some of the legitimate methods.
Let us, too, ask ourselves the question, 'Whither are we heading ?' and endeavour to leave ample scope for adventure in the Exercise.

Above all, let us be tolerant in these matters and governed by our hearts rather than the attractive power of logic.

\section*{KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION}

After 59 years as a member of the Kent County Association Mr. E. Barnett made his debut as chairman when he presided at the Lewisham district meeting at Cudham, attended by 55 members. Twenty-two new members were elected and the election of one nonresident life member ratified. The new band (11 members) at Greenwich and the revived band at St. Mary Cray were warmly welcomed.
Mr. J. Dafters moved that the congratulations of the meeting be extended to the chairman on the two anniversaries he was celebrating this year- 70 years as a denizen of this world and 60 years as a ringer in one tower, Crayford: This was carried with acclamation.

Mr. J. Cannell urged that at all meetings the more experienced ringers should ensure that there were sufficient of their number in the belfry to assist effectively beginners in the first difficult steps in change ringing and advancement to new methods. It was very disheartening, he said, to find a preponderance of 'prentice bands in the ringing chamber whilst a wealth of instructional talent was otherwise engaged in the vicinity.
Other business included: West Wickham on July 23 rd for the next meeting, the joint meeting with the Surrey Association at Croydon on October 8th, support for the proposed 75th anniversary dinner of the K.C.A. and an application to the committee to publish the agenda of the annual general meeting in 'The Ringing World ' notices of that event.
The service was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev, Dr. H. J. Burgess) who gave a refreshing address. The lesson was read by Mr. E. Barnett and Mr. Burgess acted as organist. Mr. J. Cannell directed the ringing.

\section*{Ashford District at Ruckinge}

As it was Cup-final day, and as Ruckinge is not so easy of access as are some of the towers we visit, it was with a few misgivings that we made our way through the charming spring countryside to that pleasant village for our meeting on May 7th. But, as so often happens, our forebodings were quite unnecessary, as we found that between 30 and 40 visitors had arrived and been met by Mr. S. Sillibourne and Mr. H. G. Hill, the captain and secretary respectively, of the local band.
Ringing began about 3 o'clock, and whilst it was in progress the Rector (the Rev. H. Hammond) entertained the unoccupied ringers by showing them over the Norman church and by exhibiting the old registers (dating back to 1538) and an Elizabethan I. chalice.

A good proportion of beginners was present. It is a good sign when the learners, and more particularly the younger ones, lose their shyness and realise that our meetings are held to enable them to mix in with the more experienced, who are only too anxious to help them.
The Rector conducted the service at 4.30 and the Rev. G. Luckett (Rector of Pluckley and secretary of his band of ringers) read the lesson. A collection realised £1 18s. and was given to the Association's Belfry Repair Fund.

A lavish tea at the Blue Anchor Inn preceded the business meeting, at which the Rector presided. The feelings of the meeting were taken on several points in connection with the proposed 75th anniversary dinner of the Kent County Association.
A nucleus of members was elected from the Ruckinge band, bringing that tower in union with the Association (with a promise of more members to come).
W. P. G.

\section*{MR1* \\ A VETERAN LEADER RETIRES AT ABERGAVENNY}

Captain of St. Mary's, Abergavenny, since 1937, and a mumber of the band from 1923, Mr. George Lewis has retired from the captaincy and has been succeeded by Mr. George Ward.
Ringing in the tower flourished greatly under Mr . Lewis' leadership. He did much to get the old eight bell ring recast and rehung by public subscription, and through the generosity of a well-known local ringer and his wife the bells were augmented to ten in 1947-8.
First and foremost a Sunday service ringer, Mr. Lewis was not averse to the bells being used for peal ringing. He had the ideal personality for his position and all ringers, irrespective of class or standing, were given the same warm welcome to the tower. While retiring from office Mr. Lewis has assured the local band that his interest in its welfare is unabated.

\section*{LLANDAFF AND MONMOUTH ASSOCIATION}

For the first time ever the Llandaff branch held a quarterly meeting at St. Bride's Major on May 14th.
Early arrivals quickly took the opportunity to ring on this delightful six, which has a tenor 11 cwt., in G. They were kept going until the service, which was conducted by the Vicar, Rev. H. A. James.
A very bountiful tea was provided by the ladies of the church. To them, a very hearty vote of thanks was given by the Branch secretary.
Sixteen new members were elected at the business meeting. Place of next meeting was provisionally arranged for Llanbradach.

The \(£ 100,000\) appeal for the restoration of St. Martin's, Birmingham, has now been fully subscribed and the additional new flat sixth bell will be dedicated by the Rector of Birmingham, Canon S. W. Bryan Green, on Thursday, June 2nd, at 6.30 p.m.

Another 'Kippinsian' is the first peal of Exercise Royal rung at Southampton on May 14th.

We are informed that the tenor at Dunkerton, Bath, weighs 5 cwt. 18 lb ., and not as recently published.
Mr. Harold P. Burton has now completed the quartet of Kent Treble Bob-Minor, Major, Royal and Maximus.

Mr. Albert Walker, who recently rang in a peal for his 79th birthday, informs us, with the optimism of youth, that he only wants 1,180 more peals for his 2,000 .

With reference to the 'Lines by an Old Ringer' published in our last issure, Mr. Ben Thompson, of Lowestoft, who forwarded them to us, suggests that a collection of such verses should be made. The Boreham company had a considerable reputation in the 1880 's and early 1890's.

Mr. George Poyntz, of Saxlingham Nethergate, returned to peal ringing on May 8th after an absence of five years. During this time he has undergone a series of operations and now may be the only peal ringer with plastic hips !
Five new members were introduced to the 'Society of Roving Owls,' at Harmston, Lincs, on May 14th when, during a thunderstorm, the lights went out. Luckily they came on threequarters of an hour later, when the conductor was wondering whether the peal would be completed.

The Yorkshire Spliced Surprise band attempted on May prise Major methods. peal of 53 Spliced Surprise Major methods. The attempt failed about four courses from the end after a wonderful performance of fine ringing.

In reply to Mr. J. C. Macbeth, the last peal was rung at Nayland, Suffolk, in 1938.

Mr. Archibald Knight and his 12-year-old son, David, rang their first peal together at Hilperton on May 9th. This was the first peal on the bells since rehanging.

A bell fund is being started at Chevington, Suffolk, where there are five bells now unringable. It was here that Mr. A. W. Rolfe, of Whipstead, Bury St. Edmunds, started to ring about 50 years ago.

With the peal at Stockton on May 14th, Mr. Denis A. Bayles has conducted 100 . peals for the Durham and Newcastle Association. This feat has only been accomplished by the late Mr. W. H. Barber and Mr. T. T. Gofton.

Mr. A. W. Rolfe informs us that it was at Hartest-in-the-Clare, Sudbury District, that he was able to give six young ladies a start some two years ago. They are now ringing five or six different methods of Doubles and also Plain Bob, Kent Treble Bob and Oxford Treble Bob Minor.

One of the few peals on the bells of St. Mary's, Warwick, took place on May 14th. The band included Mr. John Pinfold, who rang his first peal here in 1910, and regarded St. Mary's as his home tower. Mr. W. Collett acted as 11 th man to the peal and the band would like to associate his name with the performance.

\section*{BRISTOL AND ITS BELLS AND RINGERS}

\section*{By Frank Skidmore.}

BRISTOL has played a great part in the development of change ringing in the past, and has produced some very prominent conductors, and also possesses some very good rings of bells. Unfortunately World War II had a devastating effect on some of the bells, the city having lost four of its rings. the glorious ten at St. Nicholas', the eight at St. Mary-le-Port, the eight at St. Peter's, and the modern ring of eight at St. Andrew's, Clifton.
The city still possesses one ring of 12 , three 10 s , eight 8 's, nine 6 's and one 5 .
The bells of St. Mary-le-Port, St. Peter's and St. Andrew's were completely destroyed, but the ring at St. Nicholas' was damaged by fire, taken down and is still in the crypt; the bells of Holy Cross (Temple) were taken down for safety and are still in the base of the tower, although both St. Nicholas' and Temple Churches were completely gutted, only the towers remaining in each instance.

Bristol was always called the city of churches, and in the 19th century, there was a church on practically every corner, quite as close as they were in the city of London. In the year 1879, the church of St. Werburgh was removed in its entirety from the centre of the city to one of the suburbs, where it still stands complete with its ring of six.

Old Bristol had several churches built on its walls, St. Leonard's, St. Lawrence's and St. John's, the last-named being the only one remaining. The city also possesses its own church, St. Mark's (the Lord Mayor's chapel), which also has a ring of six.

One of the oldest ringing societies is The Ancient Society of St. Stephen's Ringers, which undoubtedly when formed comprised the ringers of St. Stephen's Church. In the present day, however, it is a body of prominent business men, who hold an annual meeting and dinner, and make themselves responsible for the fabric of St. Stephen's Church. At the outbreak of World War II, they had a very prominent ringer amongst their number, in the person of Stephen H. Wood, who was killed in the first major blitz on Bristol in November, 1940.

Change ringing in the city has seen some ups and downs, but it appears that the period from the beginning of the century until the 1914 war saw the greatest activity; there were then two or three rival companies and there was quite a lot of peal ringing, mostly on the tens, at St. Stephen's, St. Nicholas', Christ Church and St. James'. It was during this period that Bristol possessed some notable conductors, amongst whom were James Hinton, Henry Portch, George Daltry, William A. Cave, Fred G. May, John A. Burford. There are still a few left who can remember these people quite well. I believe the oldest surviving ringer is Mr. Alfred Pearce, of St. James

The Rev. H. A. Cockey was also a great influence in the ringing world of that time. World War II had a great effect in leaving a void in the ranks of the ringers, the ones of the older generation having passed over, whilst there were too few to take their places, and the period since the war has been fully occupied in training young ringers. The same applies to conductors, but there are several young ones who are showing good promise.

Bristol also possesses a school of ringing, where potential ringers are taught to handle a bell, and taken through the elementary stages of change ringing, and a lot of benefit has been

\section*{A Welcome to Bristol}

On behalf of the Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association of Church Bell Ringers, I extend a very hearty welcome to the Central Council of Church Bell Ringers to Bristol, for the occasion of their annual Conference at Whitsuntide.

We appreciate, very much, the work done by the Council, and sincerely hope that their meeting on Whit-Tuesday will meet with every success.

A comprehensive programme has been arranged during the weekend and it is \(m y\) sincere hope that this will prove to be one of the best meetings held by the Council.

gained through the efforts of this school. It is held every week at St. John-on-the-Wall. The position with regard to Sunday service ringing has greatly improved of late, and towers which only rang occasionally now ring regularly, which is a good omen for the future.

When the Central Council visit Bristol next week they will find plenty of ringing to occupy their time, with unlimited scope.

Just a few words about Bristol itself. The city is slowly recovering from the ravages of the war, and is gradually taking on quite a 'new look,' which is all part of a long term planning, which will take years to complete. There are several well known beauty spots in and around Bristol, for instance Clifton Downs and the Suspension Bridge, the Avon Gorge, Blaise Castle and its lovely grounds (which are adjacent to Henbury Church), which are publicly owned, and refreshments can be obtained there. There is Clifton College and the Zoological Gardens, both of which are close to Emmanuel Church. Farther afield there is Burrington Coombe, the Mendip Hills. Cheddar in one direction, with the Cotswold Hills in the other.

\section*{GUILD OF MEDICAL RINGERS}

The formation of this new association was the outcome of a meeting of medical ringers, held at the Church of All Hallows, Twickenham, on May 7th. Before the business meeting members and friends, among them the Master of the Middlesex Association. had enjoyed two hours of ringing on these fine bells, so successfully transferred from their original home in the City. Tea was kindly provided by Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Neal Smith, to whom for this, and indeed all the other arrangements of the day. great thanks are due. At 6.30 members attended choral evensong, conducted by the Vicar, who also gave a short address.
The meeting which followed decided to embark on the formation of the Guild, membership to be open to all medical ringers and to students engaged in clinical studies. The officers elected were: President. F. S. Poole; Master, R. E. Price ; Secretary, D. L. Gullick, to whom were entrusted the consideration of detailed arrangements.

A very enjoyable day was brought to an end with dinner. by the river, at Richmond; the forerunner of many rhore such occasions, it is to be hoped.

\section*{A WELCOME PEAL AT LAST}

Three attempts were made to get the welcome peal for the Rev. F. R. K. Hare, the new Rector of Rotherfield. The first was on December 18 th and was lost after two hours; the second attempt lasted 2 hours and 10 min utes. Success came on May 14th when Yorkshire Surprise, with A. P. Cannon driving the difficult tenor, was brought round in 3 hours and 5 minutes, the fastest time for a peal on the bells. Coupled with the peal were marriage congratulations to Basil White and Mary Howell. married at Henfield that day, and birthday grcetings to W. Rogers.

\section*{MIDDLESEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION}

Feltham's Plans for a Ring of Ten oN the debatable question of the recognition of peals of Bob Triples, the Middlescx County Association and London Diocesan Guild, at their annual meeting at St. James', Clerkenwell, on May 14th, decided to give no instructions to their representatives.

In the afternoon, ringing took place at St. Mary's, Holloway Road, and Clerkenwell, and in the evening at St. Botolph's, Bishopsgate. The service at Clerkenwell was conducted by the Vicar, the Rey. C. T. M. Browne, who also gave an address.

The Association during the past year lost its president, the Rev. P. Gough, and Mr. W. H. Coles was voted to the chair. He was supported by Mr. E. C. S. Turner (hon, secretary), Mr. W. N. Genna (assistant hon. secretary) and Mr. T. Pricc (ringing master).

\section*{LOSSES BY DEATH}

The meeting stood while the following members who had died since the last meeting were remembered: V. J. F. Bennett (Oxford), R. P. Crump (Hornsey), E. A. Dench (Edmonton), Rev. P. Gough (Acton), G. Hughes (Stanmore), G. L. Joyce (Hornchurch), Mrs. C. J. Matthews (Southfields), F. Oram (Harrow), W. C. Parker (Staines), Rev. P. W. Shepherd-Smith, F. Start (Enfield), F. Warrington (St. Ives), W. J. Winter (Heston), S. Wright (Southgate), Rev. Mr. Dertham (Harrow Weald), Mr. Tubbs (Finchley).

The annual report, read by the hon. secretary, stated that new members elected totalled .60 , and consisted of four honorary, 43 ringing and 13 non-resident life members.

\section*{NEW METHODS}

Forty-nine peals were rung, two being on handbells. Eight Surprise Major methods were rung to peals for the first time, viz.: Enfield, Byfleet. Harlesden, Olncy, Twickenham, Ufford, Ventnor and Zennor. All were conducted by Mr. R. F. B. Speed, who also conducted peals in six and seven Spliced Surprise Major in six and seven Spliced Surprise Major rang all the work of each method. Four other Surprise Major methods rung for the first time for the Association were Aldenham, conducted by Mr. Speed, Felstead and Premier, conducted by Mr. C. W. Roberts. and Staffordshire, conducted by Mr. B. D. Threlfall. Another method rung for the first time by the Association was London Surprise Royal (No. 3 Version). A record in Doubles ringing was set up at Stanwell when Mr. F. T. Blagrove, ringing two bells, conducted a peal in which 45 methods were spliced into 42 different extents.

Nine members rang their first peal, including Mr. A. A. Richardson, who had been blind from birth. Quarter peals reported totalled 123 with Harrow Weald heading the list with 27 in twelve different methods. Congratulations were offered to Mr. R. Sanders, who celebrated his 80th birthday by ringing the 9 th at All Saints', Fulham, to a peal of Stedman Caters.

In the absence of the hon, treasurer, Mr . Turner also presented the accounts. The general fund showed an excess of income over expenditure of \(£ 56 \mathrm{~s}\). 10d. The Bell Restoration Fund had a balance of \(£ 2517 \mathrm{~s} .10 \mathrm{~d}\).

\section*{ELECTION OF OFFICERS}

In the vacancy for the presidency caused by the death of the Rev. P. Gough, the Rev. G. C. Taylor, Vicar of St. Giles-in-the-Fields, was elected. He was commended to the members by Mr. T. J. Lock as one who had a personal interest in ringers and would fill the office with sincerity and dignity.

Mr. G. Hart and Mr. W. H. Coles were reelected vice-presidents and Mr. E. C. S. Turner in acknowledging his re-election as secretary said he hoped to do more work for the Association this year than last and hoped soon to do a !ittle ringing. Mr. W. Norman Genna was re-elected assistant hon. secretary, Mr. Tony Price ringing master, Mr. C. W. Roberts hon. treasurer, Mr. Maurice Hodgson hon: auditor and Messrs. T. J. Lock, E. C. S. Turner and C. W. Roberts trustees.

Elected as non-resident life members were Messrs. Burton, W. Jones and Christopher Jones, exchange teachers, from the United States, who had been ringing at Hendon and Miss M. Lawrence, Miss Shirley Townsend (Edgware) and Mr. John R. Maltby were elected ringing members.

A new office was created, that of librarian. As the library is kept in St. Giles-in-the-Fields, Mr. Geo. Parsons, the tower-keeper, was elected to the post

The meeting favoured the Association having its own badge. It was left to the secretary in consultation with certain members to select a design and place an order for badges and brooches.

\section*{TEN BELLS FOR FELTHAM}

The chairman said it had been suggested by the committee that a donation should be given to the bell fund for Feltham. The scheme was to augment the bells to a ring of ten.

Mr. Tony Price said a design for the bell frame had been prepared by the bell-founders and the ringers were prepared to make it. They had a price of just over \(£ 300\) for the two extra bells and the ringers were prepared to hang them.
On the proposition of Mr. Turner it was decided to vote 10 guineas.
A long discussion took place on the venue for the next annual meeting. Eventually it was decided to hold the meetings alternatively in the North and East and South and West districts. St. Mary's, Twickenham, was selected for the next annual meeting.

The Central Council agenda was also considered, particularly in relation to Bob Triples. On the proposition of Mr. C. Mayne the meeting decided to leave the matter to the Association's representatives.
Mrs. Mayne initiated a debate on 'The Ringing World.' The convener of 'The Ringing World' committee, Mr. J. Frank Smallwood, and the editor contributed to the discussion.

Mr. F. W. Goodfellow reported that a memorial fund had been opened at Acton for their late president. On his proposition, seconded by Mr. A. Cutler, it was decided to send a donation of two guincas and to leave it open for members to augment, the sum by individual donations

The meeting also decided to send a letter to Mr. Jim Bennett with their best wishes for his speedy recovery. Mr. T. J. Lock read a letter he had received from Mr. Bennett stating that because of his accident it was a big disappointment that he could not take part in the peals at Evesham and also Mr. Audsley's 1,000th peal. Mr. Bennett's leg was broken near his hip.

A vote of thanks was proposed by Mr. Turner to the incumbents and Mr, and Miss Prockson for the tea arrangements.

\section*{Maidstone Grammar Schools' Society}

The Society had an enjoyable meeting at Harrietsham on May 7th, where they were welcomed by the Rev. F. W. Phillips, who also conducted the service. In his address he spoke of ringers who ring for services and then creep out of the back tower door. Those nearest the bells should heed them most.
Harrietsham ringers and their wives provided a splendid tea. At the business meeting John Hooker was elected treasurer and two new members were elected. An appropriate vote of thanks to all who contributed to the seccess of the meeting was passed.

\section*{ELY DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION} 'Dictatorship in Ringing Circles'

ET again the Ely Diocesan Association was blessed with a beautiful spring morning for the start of its annual general mecting on Easter Monday and more than one hundred ringers attended. About half of these were resident members while the rest were friends, old and new, from other associations as far apart as Kent and Cheshire and included a very good contingent from Leicester.

\section*{ON THE PLEASANT EIGHT}

Ringing started with a touch of Plain Bob Major, at St. Ives, at \(10 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}\). Touches of Cambridge. Bristol and even Spliced Surprise in five methods were asked for and successfully accomplished. At the same time the tuneful little six at Holywell were rung to a variety of Minor methods.

At 12 o'clock a move was made to two more towers-Houghton and Hemingford Abbotsboth again in really lovely old-world villages.

The afternoon's towers included Godmanchester, one of the best eights in the Diocese and restored only two years ago, the eight at Huntingdon St. Mary's, which are in need of the bell-hanger's attention, and the very handy little six at Huntingdon All Saints'.

The service was held in All Saints' Church and we were treated to a very inspiring address on the subject of 'Unity,' by the president of the Huntingdon district, Canon B. F. Sheppard.

After tea, well organised by the local district secretary, the Association held its annual business meeting with Canon Sheppard in the chair. Among apologies received was one from the president, the Lord Bishop of Ely, who assured us that he was conscious of the good work being done by the Association and wished us every success.
The annual report had been printed and circulated and it showed that membership had been maintained at about 350 resident performing members and that interest was definitely on the up-grade. The number of peals rung during 1954 was the second highest on record and the peals included 23 first pealers and more than 100 members ringing their 'first in the method.' Another good feature was the financial statement which showed the largest balance in hand that the Association had ever had.

There was a lengthy discussion on an amendment to the report, namely, that the peal of Fordham Surprise Major, which had been the cause of correspondence in 'The Ringing World,' be deleted. One of our visiting friends, Mr. H. J. Poole, was asked to contribute to the discussion and supplied some sobering thoughts on the present trend towards dictatorship in ringing circles. He asked members to consider the relative importance of a single peal to the health of an association whose aims were more and better Sunday service ringing. Eventually a proposal that the discussion cease was carried with acclamation, there being but one dissenter. The report was then adopted unanimously.

Officers were elected as follows: General secretary and treasurer, W. J. Ridgman; peal secretary, R. J. W. Housden; auditor, T. R. Dennis.

Ely was chosen for the next annual general meeting the secretary being instructed to endeavour to arrange the service at the Cathedral and to persuade the Lord Bishop to give an address. (For the advanced information of younger 'tower-grabbers,' we hope to have Soham (10) in action on that day.)

After hearty votes of thanks all round, the meeting closed and ringing continued at Godmanchester and Huntingdon until 9 p.m.

THE FUTURE OF MUFFLED RINGING
Dear Sir,-The concluding words of a ringer's obituary notice in a recent issue of "The Ringing World ' about open ringing as the wish of the deceased raises a question of the future of muffled ringing, and what will be the position of ringers if these requests and desires become more general as during the last 20 years or so they have tended to do.
It used to be a sort of unwritten rule that at the passing of a Church dignitary, notable person, or ringer, the bells would be rung muffled or half muffled either at the time of death or the funeral. Now the bells are more often rung in the open position on such occasions, and muffled ringing rather the exception than the rule.

> It would seem moreover that some of the clergy are more or less in favour of open ringing at such times and can use their influence to encourage it.
When the rector of a parish where I was in charge of the tower died some years ago I was preparing to muffle the bells when I was informed by a parishioner that the bells were to be rung 'open.' I would not accept this until I had seen a member of the family, who confirmed it and we were thanked afterwards for our help in 'uplifting their spirits.' At the time of the death of the late King George VI we were refused permission by the rector of a parish to attempt a muffled peal because, to use his own words, 'we have had enough of muffled ringing.'

This change of ideas about muftled and open ringing may be due, I think, to two different lines of thought. It may be that the passing of a relative or friend is now looked upon in a less solemn way and the open bells to express an earnest of the Resurrcction: or it may be that in this modern age with its jazz music and other light-hearted ideas of recreation the sound of muffled bells is too sad and solemn and a merry 'peal' at all times is preferred.

In a parish where my father was once towerkeeper a curate suggested that when the bells were rung muffled at a funeral, after the ceremony the muffles should be removed and the bells rung open, much like what is done at a military funeral when the band plays a slow solemn tune on the way to the place of burial and on the return to barracks a lively regimental march. My father asked the then Master of the Oxford Guild for his views on the matter and his answer was short and emphatic. "Nothing but muffled ringing on the day of a funeral.,

Apparently there is a fecling in some people's minds that muffled ringing has a morbid effect but such minds are not able to appreciate the soft beauty of good muffled ringing. Perhaps organists for the same reason are not asked to play the 'Dead March' as often as they used to be. I don't know.

Will it then become eventually the regular custom to ring the bells 'open' on all occasions, sad or gay alike for funerals and weddings, and the muffles hang unused and unwanted in the bell chamber? It may well come to that.

I, for one, hope the day is far distant when the beautiful and moving tones of well struck muffled and half muffled ringing will be but a memory. Yours faithfully, W. J. PAICE.

Wokingham, Berks.

\section*{IS IT UNNAMED?}

Dear Sir,-Has the method which is Reverse Bampton with dodging on the front been named?

It has been rung at Itchingfield and if not previously named we would like to call it 'Twineham.'-Yours faithfully.

Itchingfield.

\section*{CHRIST CHURCH, POPLAR}

Dear Sir,-I do not know where Mr. Bullock got his information, but I can assure him that Christ Church, Poplar, is not to be pulled down, in fact it is now the parish church of the Island, and has recently had \(£ 15,000\) spent on its restoration.

The bells are in good order despite the rumours that certain ringers have spread about, for what purpose I cannot imagine.

St. John's, Cubitt Town (one bell), is to be destroyed. Incidentally, quite a few peals have been attempted at Cubitt Town since the war.

I do think that this continual use of the word "silent,' when referring to towers where few peals are rung is a misnomer, as I can supply names of towers where the bells are far from silent on a Sunday but few peals are attempted. I feel that the Rev. K. Felstead should have known better than to have coined such a term.Sincerely yours,

ERNEST J. ROWE.
Tottenham, N. 15.

\section*{YOUNGEST BAND TO RING SURPRISE ROYAL}

Dear Sir,-With reference to the query in 'Belfry Gossip' regarding the average age of a band having rung a peal of Surprise Royal, members of the Leicester Diocesan Guild took part in a peal of Cambridge Surprise Royal at the Bell Foundry Campanile, Loughborough, on September 30th, 1949, the average age of the band being 20 years 4 months.

Congratulations to the 'young band' who rang the peal at Wimborne, especially to the two who rang in the first peal of Surprise Royal.-Yours faithfully,

PETER J. STANIFORTH.

\section*{CONGRATULATIONS TO WANLIP}

Dear Sir,-I have been waiting for more abler pens than mine to offer congratulations to the Wanlip (Leicestershire) ringers on their remarkable progress since their band was formed a year ago.

So far, this has gone without acknowledgment, so I beg to send through your paper my own humble praise.-Yours faithfully,

\section*{IMBERHORNE, KIRKLINGTON, ALDRIDGE, UMBERSLADE}

Dear \(\mathrm{Sir}_{3}\)-In reply to the query of Messrs. S. H. Hoare and J. R. Mayne, let me say that, in all the above methods, seconds place is made at the treble lead. 'Imberhorne' was published in Corrigan's Collection, Series II. (165 Unnamed Surprise Methods), as A. G. Driver's No. 1. But if this has been missed I will supply same in notation form. 'Imberhorne' 58-14-56-36-12-58-16-18. The false Course is 24365.

I would like to say how thoroughly I am in agreement with Mr. Mayne, that all methods should be published as soon as possible after being rung. There are now two methods to be published. not taking into account 'Hanslope.' These methods were rung in February, under the name of 'Deritend ' and ' Digbeth.' Some people know one of these methods; some people know the other. But very few know both of them. Will you please let us have them to bring our records up to date.-Sincerely yours,
E. W. TIPLER
47. Baker Street,

\section*{Lutterworth, Rugby.}

Mr. W. Rogers also sent us "Imberhorne" which was first rung on November 21st, 1953, conducted by Frank H. Hicks.-Ed.

BEWARE OF THE VERBAL TWIST
Dear Sir,-A parallel to Bob Triples is surely Canterbury Pleasure Major?-always recognised by the Central Council (until a few years ago) as a perfectly legitimate method, from which several true peals have been composed, and rung by some of the leading peal ringers in this country (I see Mr. Herbert E. Audsley's 1,000 includes three) including Central Council members themselves: the same method, be it remembered, is still recognised on five bells!

To those who are very fond of saying, "The Council doesn't dictate and tell ringers they have not to ring these methods, that they merely say they won't recognise them,' I am reminded of a story told by the Vicar of Castor, near Peterborough, at a ringing meeting: "A certain king, because a fortune teller told him that all his relatives were going to die before him and leave him a lone man, had the teller locked up in prison. Later, a second teller told the same story, only using different words, saying that he would outlive all his relatives, to which the king smiled and did not lock this second teller in prison.' I am also reminded of 'the man who refused to call a spade a spade, but said he would recognise it as an agricultural implement." Let ringers bear these points in mind when they hear it said that 'the Central Council doesn't say they shall not ring Bob Triples, Canterbury Pleasure, etc., etc., that they only say they won't recognise it," and not be gulled or misguided by this verbal twist of words simply to "get round" the issue.
As one interested in the welfare of five-belf towers, I feel, as I know a number of other fivebell conductors do, that far too much interference comes from those not interested in our welfare. And with the speaker at Southwell, I agree that if 120 changes could be produced, though they include a bob of one and a single or plain lead of another, these should be accepted! Many of these are given saints' names : St. Giles, St. Peter, St. Matthew, St. Leonard, etc., upon whose days a peal is far more likely to appeal to the clergy than someone wanting to ring a peal of Cambridge for their own birthday, or for the mere sake of just another peall
The Central Council should be helpful, and not try to dictate or become bureaucratic. Be it also remembered that some of those methods it now says it won't recognise, the Council itself got out and published in its 1931 Collection of Doubles and Minor Methods.-Yours sincerely,
P. AMOS.

Weston Favell,
Northants.

\section*{BELLS (?) AT WEYMOUTH}

Dear \(\mathrm{Sir},-\mathrm{My}\) thanks to the correspondents who have enlightened me regarding the bells removed from Christ Church, Melcombe Regis, to Lincoln; so they are gongs.
The Vicar of St. Andrew's, Lincoln, who chides me for not finding the entry in 'Dove,' does not say that I should look under ' \(M\) ' instead of 'W.'
1 know, of course, of the rings at Wyke Regis, Upwey and Preston, but the Sarum Diocesan Directory lists these parishes under their proper names. Whatever the civil boundaries of the borough may be, it would appear that, ecclesiastically, they are not in Weymouth, and the meticulous compiler of the ' Belliringer's Guide' 'is correct in omitting the name of this delightful seaside resort from his book.-Yours sincerely,
E. G. CAPLE.

Springe, Lower Saxony.

\section*{IRISH ASSOCIATION}

Presentation to Mr. R. S. F. Murphy
The finals of the striking contests to decide the destination of the all-Ireland trophy, the Murphy Cup, was held on the bells of Christ Church Cathedral, Dublin, on May 14th. The cup was won by Mt. St. Alphonsus', L'merick, with 34 faults. St. Peter's, Drogheda, were second, with 54 faults; and Hillsborough third, with 105 faults. The judges were Messrs. A. Bakker, F. Bogan and H Brown. The acting Ringing Master was Mr. W. E. Lynch.

The cup was presented to the winners by the donor, Mr. Robert S. F. Murphy, P.C., amidst popular applause. Mr. Brown (judge), in making his report, commented favourably on the 'open-hand stroke' lead, which was very pronounced. also the rhythm of the winners, which would be very difficult to beat

A presentation was made to Mr. R. S. F. Murphy from the members in recognition of his long and valued services to bell-ringing in Ireland. Mr. W. Pratt (president) in making the presentation, which was a suitably engraved silver cigarette box, said Mr. Murphy, perhaps more than any other man, had done much to improve ringing in Ireland and also the attendances at Sunday services. He was also responsible for the inauguration of the Belt Restoration Fund.
Mr. Murphy, who is now in his 83 rd year, in thanking the members, recalled his ringing career since the days in 1890 when he used to ring at St. Canice's Cathedral, Kilkenny, until he arrived in Dublin in 1900 and joined St. Patrick's Cathedral band. He then had asscciations with Lord Chief Justice R. R Cherry, Gabriel Lindoff, J. W. Washbrook and other well-known Irish ringers.
The annual Executive Council meeting was held the same day. It was decided to send a strong invitation to the Central Council to hold its meeting in Ireland in 1958. The Southern District's delegates said they hoped the councillors would visit their District. The Northern delegates said they had a claim, too. It was, however, suggested that tours should be arranged to include all Districts.
The Association's representatives on the Central Council were given a free hand to vote as their consciences told them in connection with the Plain Bob Triples motions at Bristol.
The election of officers resulted as follows :President, William Pratt (Holywood); Ringing Master and librarian, Robert S. F. Murphy (Dublin); general secretary, Fred E. Dukes, M.I.E.E., Meadow Cottage, Julianstown, Co. Nisath; auditors, W. E. Bovenizer and R. W. Smyth; badge secretary, John T. Dunwoody, 11. Church Avenue, Holywood: 'Irish Bell Nsws, Editorial Committee, F. E. Dukes (editor), Miss J. Stewart, Mrs. Dukes and G. Bingham.
Mr. David Benson, who has been a ringer at Mt. St. Alphonsus', Limerick, for over 50 years, and Mrs. R. Adamson (Belfast), who had presented a cup to the Northern District for change ringing. were elected life members.

\section*{NORTH MUSKHAM, NOTTS}

This year's outing, arranged and conducted by Mr. W. Midwinter, held on May 7th, was a visit to Derby and its outskirts. Bcfore reaching Derby ringing was enjoyed at St. Mary's, Eastwood ( \(8,19 \mathrm{cwt}\).), St. Lawrence's, Heanor (8, \(15 \frac{1}{2} \mathrm{cwt}\).) and St. Alkmund's, Duffield ( \(10,17 \frac{1}{2}\) cwt.). At the last named, famous home tower of Sir A. P. Heywood, the spliced method of the day, Duffield Major, was rung.
The programme at Derby included visits to the Cathedral ( \(10,19 \mathrm{cwt}\).), St. Peter's ( \(8,11 \frac{1}{2}\) cwt .), St. Andrew's ( \(10,18 \mathrm{cwt}\) ) and St. Luke's ( \(8,30 \mathrm{cwt}\).). The unusual features of St. Luke's Church, a magnificent building with a fine ring of bells, were explained by the Vicar.
A tired party reached St. Werburgh's, Spondon ( \(6,10 \mathrm{cwt}\).). The ringing room bore signs of disuse, and it was impossible to ring the third bell. During the day 382 steps were climbed and descended and methods included Stedman and Grandsire Triples and Caters, Double Norwich Court Bob Major and Cambridge Surprise Major.
Thanks are due to incumbents and ringers who met the party and also to the organiser.

\section*{CYCLING OUTING IN NORTH HERTFORDSHIRE}

On April 26th a small but determined band consisting of members of Bedford's two public schools met at Meppershall, Beds, where ringing on the five began the day's programme soon after 9 a.m. Then after an easy ride to Hitchin we rang at St. Ippolyts, with its nice 'lazy ' six. Cambridge was rung with the assistance of Mr. Derek Jones, who joined us there The tone of the fine octave at Stevenage was much admired.
After lunch various methods were tapped on the light six at Wymondley. At Graveley various Doubles methods were rung an another light six as well as the customary course of Cambridge. The five at Weston were put to good use, several of us ringing our first course of Erin. At Baldock we were able to ring Grandsire and Bob Major on the eight, and Cambridge on the back six. We decided that it must have been fatigue which prevented us from doing justice to the pretty little eight at Norton. Thanks were passed to all incumbents and local ringers, also to the two organisers, Messrs. Pattison and Stoughton.
S. J. I.

\section*{Essex Association}

Miss H. G. Snowden not only acted as organist, but as district ringing master presided at the business meeting of the Northern District held at Witham on May 7th and attended by 55 members.
Mr. R. C. Heazel called attention to the forthcoming Chelmsford Cathedral Festival and to the weekend ringing course at Thaxted. Three new members were elected and Gestingthorpe selected for the next meeting in August.
Votes of thanks were passed to the Vicar of Witham, who conducted the service and all who had worked hard to make the meeting a success.

\section*{PEAL OF YORKSHIRE SURPRISE} MAJOR WITHDRAWN
Dear Sir,-I wish to withdraw the peal of Yorkshire Surprise Major rung at Loughborough Bell Foundry on March 30th. The composition, a 5,088 , by Nolan Golden, published on page 105 of the Essex Association Annual Report for 1953 is false. The second lead of the 13th course is false against the end of the first lead of the 19th course.
No doubt the Essex Association will lake appropriate action concerning this composition and also the peal of Yorkshire rung at Writtle on November 21st, 1953.- Yours faithfully.
South Wigston. BRIAN G. WARWICK.

\section*{BECCLES CHIMES}

The clock chimes of Beccles are the cause of a local controversy. A visitor to the town who stayed at the King's Head Hotel wrote to the Town Clerk complaining of his inability to sleep owing to the striking of the church clock throughout the night. As a result he had been obliged to cancel his arrangements to stay at the hotel over the week-end.

The complaint was considered by a committee of the Council and they were informed that in order to stop the striking of the clock during the night and restart it in the morning it would be necessary for the clock contractor to attend to it every morning in addition to his regular evening visit to wind it. The clock is over 260 years old. The committee recommended that no action be taken.

The landlord of the King's Head Hotel told the East Anglian 'Daily Times' that he received many complaints.

The stopping of the chimes at night would cost Beccles Town Council another \(£ 2\) a week which was the equivalent of over a halfpenny rate.

Yachtsmen and boat owners on the Wavency set their watches by the chimes. A 78 -year-old lady, writing in praise of the bells, states: 'When I was a small child my home was in Beccles, and my mother used to open my window when I went to bed for me to hear the church chimes and beautiful bells-as I loved them so much-and, holding my hand she used to sing the following verse:-

Those evening bells, those evening bells,
How many a tale their music tells;
Of youth and home, and that sweet time When first I heard their tuneful chime;
And so it will be when I am gone.
Those lovely bells will still ring on;
And other bards will walk these dells,
And sing your praise, sweet evening bells.'

\section*{BEDFORDSHIRE ASSOCIATION}

\section*{First Visit to Haynes}

The first meeting of the Bedford District ever to be held at St. Mary's, Haynes, took place on May 7th. The five bells in this tower were rehung, retuned and two trebles added by Gillett and Johnston in 1953 and have an eight cwt . tenor. Sad to relate, these bells have only been rung three times previously, and in consequence the wide range of methods rung were nearly all the first on the bells.
The service was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. F. C. Cox) and was noteworthy for some really exceptionally lusty and spirited singing by the choir! Tea was taken in the Church Hall, two miles away. An enormous and sumptuous meal was prepared by the ladies of the W.I. and church helpers, being kindly given free. The Belfry Repair Fund will probably benefit by the tea money collection.
Seven new members were elected. Keysoe was chosen for the July meeting, with Mr. G. Seth as Ringing Master, Mr. Roy Ward to fill that post at Willington in June.
Mr. Bryan Pattison announced that Mr William Stapleton, tower captain at St. Peter's, Bedford, had been forced to retire owing to ill-health, and was soon going into hospital for an operation. He said Mr. Stapleton's retirement would be a great loss not only to St. Peter's and his close friends but to the whole Association. He was the foremost conductor in his time, certainly in the county and Association if not in East Anglia. He had been ringing for over 50 years and was connected with the enterprising St. Peter's company of the 1920 's, who rang many multi-method Minor peals.
The secretary was instructed to send a letter from the meeting thanking Mr. Stapleton and wishing him a sound recovery.

\section*{LINCOLN DIOCESAN GUILD}

\section*{Quality of Peals High}

The annual meeting of the Lincoln Diocesan Guild was held in the Chapter House on April 30th. Evensong was attended at the Cathedral.

The Master (Mr. J. A. Freeman), in his report, stated that the total of peals rung during 1954 was 106, ten less than in the previous year. There had been a decline in recent years but he found no cause for alarm as the qualiiy of peals had been high. The first peals ever of Oakham Surprise Royal and Evington SurOakham Surprise Royal and Evington SurMajor for the Guild were rung.

The outstanding peal, in my opinion, was Spliced Surprise Major in , 32 methods, conducted by John Freeman.' This peal contained the greatest number of Surprise Major methods yet rung in a peal for the Guild. By ring:ng in this peal Miss Betty Brown achieved the distinction of scoring a peal in more Surprise Major methods than any other lady ringer to date.

During the year the bells of Norton Disney were recast and augmented to six.

The Northern Branch reported membership steady at 301 , compared with 300 last year. A membership of over 100 was reported by the Eastern Branch and 141 by the Elloe Deaneries Branch. The Southern Branch had been well attended with some very good ringing at meetings.

The Guild account showed a balance in hand of \(£ 247 \mathrm{~s}\). \(9 \frac{1}{2} \mathrm{~d}\). Balances of Branches were: Northern \(£ 39\) 1s. 8 d .; Southern \(£ 21\) 17 s .10 d . ; Eastern \(£ 224 \mathrm{~s} .6 \mathrm{~d}\). and \(£ 93 \mathrm{~s} .3 \mathrm{~d}\). in the Belfry Repair Fund; Elloe Deaneries £44 19 s .8 d . and \(£ 503 \mathrm{~s}\). 10 d . in the Belfry Repair Fund.

The officers of the Guild were re-elected, viz. :-Master, Mr. J. A. Freeman; hon. secretary and treasurer, Mr. J. Bray; hon. peal secretary, Mr. G. E. Feirn; hon. auditors, Messrs. C. Brown and W. Tomlinson.

\section*{SEVERN TUNNEL OUTING}

On May 14 th ringers and relatives from Yatton, Chew Magna, Kewstoke, Keynsham, Kingston Seymour, Locking, Wembdon and Worle joined in an outing well and carefully organised by Mr. H. Price, of Yatton.

Picking up en route from Weston-super-Mare, our party travelled by train via the Severn Tunnel to Cardiff, where we were met at St. John's by Mr. S. Barker and the Master of the Llandaff and Monmouth Association, Mr. Fred Bailey. This tower has a wonderful view from the top as well as a grand ring of ten.

By coach then to Llandaff Cathedral, where during restoration the spire is being dismantled and the stones placed in order on the floor inside. A sandwich lunch preceded ringing, when the two trebles, hung above the rest, were found tricky.

The literally coal-black river was followed up to Pontypridd. Slow ringing at first on the light eight, but a lively touch of Grandsire concluded the ringing here and received praiseworthy comment. High tea at the New Inn Hotel was had before going on to Cacrphilly, with its moated castle. In the fairly modern church we found a beautifully laid out 'Easter Garden.' The tower contains a pleasing light eight.

Finally to St. Woolos' Cathedral, Newport, where the Dean came into the ringing room to give us a friendly welcome. Ringing included a fairly good course each of Grandsire and Stedman Cinques, being the first changes on 12 by some, and the first of Stedman Cinques by seven of the band who stood in. A good fall of all 12 bells ended the ringing.

ARCHDEACONRY OF HALIFAX
The recently recast octave at St . Peter's, Sowerby, were put to good use at the meeting of the Archdeaconry of Halifax Guild, on May 7 th , attended by 30 members

Mr. C. J. Sutcliffe presided at the business meeting when it was announced that the Guild's official trip on Whit-Monday would not take place but a small party would probably visit Whitby on that day. The Vicar was thanked for making the Guild so welcome, and Mr. G. A. Briggs in reply said he would be delighted to give the collection, taken for tea, back to Guild funds.

Considerable discussion followed the suggestion by Mr. P. Birkett that. a series of lectures and higher instruction be arranged. This would probably be followed up next winter. A good lower in peal at 9 p.m. concluded a successful meeting.

THE SEEKERS

NOT too long ago someone wrote that one of the most interesting features of our art of ringing was the opportunity its votaries had to place numerous and varied offerings upon its altars. To this might be added in complement that bells and bell ringing offer remarkable fields of study both for the practical ringer and for the non-ringer, and that even a cursory examination of a bibliography reveals an astonishing variety of essay and excursus in the historical, mechanical, archæological and mathematical branches of this tremendous subject. It is, moreover, a significant fact, and one that the student of these matters will discover, that the study and investigation that have given us so much knowledge of bells and ringing have been by no means confined to the practical ringer. On the contrary it is probably true to say that the larger part of our bibliography has come from the pens of writers who have, either by inclination or through circumstances, never progressed very far in practical change ringing.

It is well at this point to remind ourselves that there is a goodly list of writers on the art who have performed prodigies both as expert change ringers and in their voluminous outpourings of written matter. Sir Arthur Heywood's writings, though not outstandingly large, were considerable, and Heywood was a good practical ringer, who for a time had a reasonably busy ringing career. Snowdon planned a series of books and wrote the nucleus of the collection in the midst of a short and busy life in the belfry. But the output of these excellent writers seems small compared with the seemingly endless flow of matter, technical, philosophical and historical that came from the pen of J. A. Trollope, and the tremendous essays of Ernest Morris, whose ' History and Art of Change Ringing ' might, in itself, have occupied the best part of an ordinary ringer's spare time. And both these men have a large list of peals.

It may be said that most of the notable antiquarians were not great practical ringers. This does not mean that we belittle their work or that we can fail to recognise the value of their researches. To their earnest search for information, their enthusiasm in preserving records, and their influence in helping to save much that would have been destroyed - to these labours we owe a debt of gratitude. Without their efforts much valuable knowledge and possibly many a ring of bells would have been lost to us.

Their work lay often in dark and dirty places, and was conducted in cramped and painful conditions, and we may well wonder at the patience and endurance that made long journeys and exhausting investigations possible. Raven and Ellacombe did little practical ringing, North was a cripple and could not even enter a belfry. To these men, to Walters and Tilley, and to other enthusiastic searchers, must be added the name of Frederick Sharpe, who is a great student and a fine practical ringer.

The mathematical field of change ringing holds for us numerous men who, while not standing in the front rank with their peal ringing feats, have performed notable, and even astonishing, performances with paper and figures. As typical examples, and interesting in comparison, we have W. H. Thompson, H. Earle Bulwer, J. W. Driver and A. J. Pitman. Thompson, of Cambridge University and the Bengal Civil Service, settled for us an important practical question, and proved beyond doubt that a peal of Grandsire Triples could not be obtained with common bobs only. Yet Thompson was not a ringer and, indeed, had little or no interest in ringing. Bulwer was buried, so to speak, away in the Eastern Counties, with little opportunity for ringing, but because of this very handicap he was able to confer on us the valuable results of his investigations into Stedman Triples.

More remarkable, perhaps, was the work of Mr. J. W. Driver, for he was not a ringer at all. His attempts to learn to manage a bell failed, and his interest, which began in the antiquarian field, was diverted to the theoretical and mathematical side of change ringing. Thus his contribution to the progress of spliced Minor ringing was most important and of far-reaching consequence. Mr. A. J. Pitman has indeed done more practical ringing than the three mentioned above, but his opportunities have been limited, and the ringing Exercise has, in consequence, benefited by his brilliant spliced Surprise Major compositions.
So we return to our first thought and the many and varied opportunities we have for service in this art. To some are given ten talents, to some five, and to some just one. But with the gift of the talents, however small or however large, surely there is, if we can only find it, the accompanying opportunity for the Exercise and increase of it. The history of bell ringing would seem to prove the point.

LIMITED

Abstract

No matter in which corner of the country you happen to be, as likely as not you will come across Gillett $\mathcal{E}$ Johnston bells or tower clocks. Gillett $\mathcal{E}$ Johnston craftsmanship is embodied in an all-embracing service - as much in the preservation and restoration of old rings of antiquarian interest as in the installation of new.

BELL FOUNDERSANDCLOCK MAKERS

EXPLORING THE UNKNOWN

By P. AMOS

Kingscliffe may not be unknown in the strict sense of the word, but few ringers have had the privilege of ringing the bells in this fine edifice, where the Peterborough Diocesan Guild met for the first time as a Guild since its formationin 1924-a short time ago.
This village of 'the stone age ' lays somewhat off the beaten track. A few visiting ringers occasionally make a call, but the present belfry holds no great attractions owing to the excessive noise of the bells, and the day is looked forward to when it may be possible to ring them from the ground floor, which in this case would be in the chancel, in full view of the congregation, similar to that of Wollaston, near Wellingborough. The stecple, like Wollaston's, is central, hardly as high, is a broach steeple with a rather short tower, and has one very unusual feature: near the top the spire suddenly ceases to be octagonal and goes four-sided. The belfry is ascended by a metal spiral staircase.

Of the six bells (tenor 12 cwt .) it will be immediately noticed by anyone with a keen musical ear that there is something wrong with the tenor, which is slightly sharp to the others; to me it sounds as if it may be slightly cracked.
The late Rev. E. S. Powell does not give the data of these bells quite correctly when he states in his 1938 inventory that Warners, of London, rehung them in 1917. Actually Messrs. Warners rehung the last five in 1914. and in 1917 Mears and Stainbank were called in to recast the tenor. Messrs. John Taylor and Co. added the treble in 1930. They are all in a metal frame. At least one of the bells dates back to the reign of Elizabeth I. John H. Bluff, of Stamford, conducted the only peal (to my knowledge), a peal-of Doubles, upon them, in 1931, and I neither envied his throat nor the drums of the ears of the rest of his band at the finish. However, it must be said that the bells all go well.
Nearby is Woodnewton, where I found a tower capable of six bells. There is a frame for four. In the 16 th century this church did actually bave four bells as well as a sanctus. They were replaced by one in 1640 by Thomas Norris, of Stamford, and another in 1720 by Henry Penn, of Peterborough. In 1910 Messrs. Taylors recast both. The lighter is 35 in , in dia## meter, and the heavier $39 \frac{1}{2} \mathrm{in}$., is 11 cwt  A MINIATURE CATHEDRAL

Fotheringhay is close by-this village so well known in history as the place where Mary Queen of Scots was bcheaded in 1587 at the order of Elizabeth I., in the now defunct castle -only a mound near an historic river bridge to-day shows where the castle once stood. Fotheringay Church is of a miniature cathedral character, with a large lantern tower in two sec-tions-the lower half square and the upper portion octagonal. It contains but four bells, tenor 11 cwt . The treble is 1595 , the 2 nd 1614 , the 3rd, originally 1609 , was recast in 1860 by G. Mears, and the tenor bears the inscription of Thomas Norris, of Stamford, 1634. They are lotally unringable at the moment.
From Fotheringhay I could not resist a call to Tansor, where there is a mid-fifteenth century bell by Robert Crouch, of London, among these three bells. A dusty belfry, with ropes motheaten to threads, some day a new incumbent may respect this historic bell, and with its two others-one a sixteenth century undated, and the other 1611 -a restoration and possible augmentation may take shape. Like Fotheringhay and Cotterstock on cither side of it, Tansor has a rich history.
From Cotterstock (five light bells here) comes the saying, 'The weakest go to the wall,' for there were no seats at one time except stone benches alongside the walls, where the infirm sat during service, the rest having to stand.

600th PEAL AT LOUGHBOROUGH  FOUNDRY CAMPANILE

A Staff Occasion That Was Narrowly Missed

When Mr. Paul Taylor and his associates of John Taylor and Company read in an article by the Rev. K W. H. Felstead in 'The Ringing World' last month that 593 peals had been recorded on the bells of the Foundry Campanile, they decided to keep an eye on events -and save the 600th peal for themselves.
But peal ringers at the little tower have recently been coming and going in quick succession, and, unfortunately, by the time the idea was next remembered, the 600th peal had come and gone as well. Or so it seemed, until the band that had rung it found, on investigation, that their peal had proved false! It had to be disclaimed.
Mr. Taylor, while doing his best to appear sympathetic, seized the opportunity. Five fellow members of the Foundry staff were hurriedly mustered, Mr, and Mrs. Harold J. Poole were 'conscripted' from Leicester for this rather special occasion, and in no time at all the 600 th peal was shaping nicely. Just two hours 14 minutes later it was an accomplished fact.

There were several points of interest about the peal. One was that it was rung in the samc method-Stedman Triples-as the very first peal to be rung on the Foundry tower bells on September 27th, 1901. On that occasion, too, there was a Taylor in the band, Paul's father, the late Mr. John W. Taylor, jun., who conducted.
Another interesting point about the 600th was that it marked the recall from ringing retirement of that well-known Foundry executive, Mr. John Oldham, who rang his last peal no less than six years ago. Mr. Oldham rang No. 2 to Harold Poole's conducting of Dexter's Variation without a single trip, thus proving himself to be as capable a ringer now as ever he was.
Yet another ringing stalwart whose presence added more lustre to the 600th peal was that other colleague of Paul, Mr. Colin Harrison, captain of the Loughborough Parish Church band.
It was here that, last December, the abortive attempt by Mr. Eric Critchley's. gallant men to ring the extent on eight bells caused the nation to catch its breath.
Incidentally, the food shelves that were put 4 p around the ringing chamber to help to sustain the team during their ordeal (not that they were ever likely to be so hungry as to eat the shelves!) are still in position. Extent-minded challengers should please note.
With the 600 th peal now behind them (this is by far the largest number of peals rung in any single tower), the Foundry ringers are now looking to the future.. and the 1,000 th
To avoid missing the boat a second time-although last week it was only a near miss-they shouid make a note in their pocket books of the date, July 27th, 1991
For that, by my calculations, is when, at the present rate of peals progress, the 1,000 th Foundry peal will become duc.
I can only hope it keeps fine for them.

HITCHIN RINGERS ON AIR

The team that rang for the broadcast service at Hitchin on May 19th was S. Ashton 1, C. V. Hare 2, R. Head 3, K. Timbury 4, P. Croft 5 , Hare 2, R. Head 3, K. Timbury 4, P. M. Orme 7, D. J. Jones 8 . It was intended to ring a course of Plain Bob Major but owing to misunderstanding on the part of the B.B.C. there was only time for a couple of minutes of rounds.

SCOTTISH ASSOCIATION

A New President

In spite of a threatened rail strike there was a fairly representative gathering at Paisley on April 30th for the annual meeting of the Scottish Association. The ringing during the afternoon was in the hands of the Ringing Master, Mr. C. R. Raine (St. Mary's Cathedral, Edinburgh).

As the Minister of St. James', Paisley, the Rev. S. Scarlett Daly, had only been inducted to the parish in the middle of February, it was a novel experience for him to welcome the Association to St. James'. His address and the short service in church were much appreciated by all. Both Mr. and Mrs. Daly and the members of the Association were the guests of the local ringers at the very excellent tea which followed. Mrs. Caldwell, the tower secretary, had gone to no end of trouble to arrange the tea. The president. Mr. W. H. Pickett (St. Mary's Cathedral, Edinburgh), thanked Mrs. Caldwell for all her work.
The President took the chair at the business meeting which followed. The company stood in silence as a mark of respect to Miss F. E. Hogg, who had from 1916 till her death in October, 1954, been a faithful member of the band at St. Cuthbert's, Edinburgh. Apologies were intimated by the Secretary from Miss Branson and Mr. Lloyd (Edinburgh), and from the ringers at Dunblane Cathedral. New members elected were as follows: D. Kerley, R Tingley, R. J. Cook and Heather Smythe' (St. James', Paisley), A. Brydon and A. Smith (St. Mary's, Edinburgh)
The president told the meeting that he did not wish to stand again for office, and, although several members tried to persuade him to carry on, he declined, and Mr. Ernest Boumphrey (St. Mary's Cathedral, Glasgow) was elected in his place and took the chair vacated by Mr. Pickett. The Ringing Master and the secretary were re-clected for a further year.
The meeting decided to go ahead with plans for a ringing mecting at All Saints', Inveraray; a bus would run from Edinburgh, collecting ropes and the contingent from the West at Glasgow. The means of public transport avail. able for anyone not going on the chartered bus would be by the public service bus leaving Broomiclaw bus station, Glasgow, at 9 a.m.

MARKET DRAYTON JOINT MEETING

The joint meeting of the Shropshire Association and Crewe Branch of the Chester Guild, held at Market Drayton, on May 14th, was well attended in spite of the weather. The ringing included methods from rounds and call changes to four Surprise methods. During the service the Vicar welcomed the ringers and reminded them of the serious purpose behind the art.

After a good tea in the Church Hall there was a short business meeting, and seven new mernhers were elected. Several enthusiasts then visited Norton-in-Hales to sample the light eight there ; the rest returned to the tower. The ringing in general was of a high standard.

FRIEZLAND VISIT LONDON

On May 14th ringers of Christ Church, Friezland, West Yorks, Messrs. A. J. Bennett, J. Burgess, L. Dawson, A. Farrand, G. Perrin, J. Smith and F . White, were conducted to several London towers by Mr. and Mrs. Richard F. Deal.
The first tower visited was Christ Church. Wanstead, where good, ringing was enjoyed. At St. Mary-atte-Bow the striking was affected by the ropes being hung too low at hand-stroke. The same experience was met at St. Matthew's, Bethnal Green, but the touches rung were good.
At St. Botolph's-within-the-Walls, Bishopsgate, an excellent tea was prepared by Mrs. Ellen Davis, and partaken of in the Hall of the Worshipful Company of Fan Makers. The bells here proved to be heavy going, but good striking was obtained. The final call of the day was to St. Olave's, Hart Street, where the bells and ringers suited each other to a T
The next morning St. Mary Magdalenc, Holloway Road. was visited for a short touch before morning service.
In the afternoon Mrs. Deal conducted the party to St. Paul's Cathedral, and, whilst the bells were being rung for service, the bell chamber was visited, where the party could observe the bells turning, and also obtain an excellent view of Lonaon.
Accompanied by Mr. Deal the visitors walked down Ludgate Hall, through Fleet Street, and by St. Clement Danes', to Euston Station, departing for Manchester at 5.40 p.m.
Through 'The Ringing World' Friezland ringers wish to convey their sincere thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Deal for the great hospitality shown, and the most excellent arrangements made. They would also like to thank incumhents and local ringers who met them.

HERTS COUNTY ASSOCIATION

The bells of Little Hadham Church were set going promptly at 3 p.m. on May 14th for the Eastern District meeting, and the minor five were rung to Plain Bob, Grandsire, Stedman, Reverse Canterbury Pleasure, All Saints' and St. Simon's Bob Doubles.
Thirty-four ringers, representing 16 towers, enjoyed tea.
The Rev. Mr. Dinsdale-Young, Rector of Little Hadham, presided over the meeting and welcomed ringers to the Hadham district. Messrs. R. Berry, W. Coptcote, D. Munden and R. Sandcrs, of Great Amwell, were elected resident ringing members, and Messrs. A. Livings and F. Wright, of Roydon, were elected nonresident ringing members. The secretary announced that the next district meeting would be held at Braughing and Great Hormead on June 11th.
After the meeting the ringers attended evensong at Hadham, conducted by the Rector, Canon L. Dewar.
Ringing then continued on the light eight at Much Hadham until 8.30 p.m., when a good 'fall' in peal ended the day's proceedings. Standard methods up to Cambridge and Superlative Surprise Major were rung.

PEAL FOR CENTENARIAN

Wednesday, May 18 th, was the 100 th birthday of Mrs. Sarah Peters, of Stoney Stanton, Leicestershire, and to mark the occasion a peal of Grandsire Triples was rung on the bells of St. Michael's Church. After the peal the ringers, together with the remainder of the local band, were entertained to supper by Mrs. Peters, who thanked them all and remarked how pleased she was that the bells had been rung in her honour.

OUTING

BALDOCK AND NORTON

A coachload of ringers and friends from Baldock and Norton visited some towers in Ely Diocese on May 14th. After a good start, marred cnly by the news that, owing to his wife's illness, Mr. E. Buck was unable to come, we arrived at Fordham (6), $17 \frac{1}{2}$ cwt., and began the day's ringing with Cambridge Surprise. Mildenhall was next and, after admiring the great angels and beautiful carvings which adorn the beams, we had an enjoyable ring on the ten ( $16 \frac{3}{3}$ cwt.) there.
We went on to Littleport (8), 18 cyt., after a good lunch. Here we were reminded again of our duty:

- Do not ring and run away,

Leaving other folk to pray,
When a Ringer doeth so,
Hands says "Come," but foot says " Go." '
For the first time that day rain fell, but it had stopped by the time we reached St. Mary's, Ely (8), 18 cwt., where we had a pleasant ring. Tea was excellent, even by ringers' standards, and on the way back to the coach some stopped just inside the Cathedral door to listen to the choir.
A $15 \frac{1}{2} \mathrm{cwt}$. octave was in previous years popular with the clergy (one Major peal included five clerical ringers); good use was made of these bells. The last tower, Longstanton, must surely be one of the lightest octaves in East Anglia, as the tenor weighs only $7 \frac{1}{2} \mathrm{cwt}$. The bells delighted those who are used to 'featherweight ringing,' but came as a shock to some of the learners who are accustomed to a tenor of more than a ton.
All of us are very grateful to Mr. Buck, who organised the outing, and to the incumbents.

Miss Enid L. Roberts, former Ringing Master of the University of Bristol Society, called her first quarter in Australia on Anzac Day (April 25th) at Adelaide Cathedral. It was Plain Bob Triples. The tenor at Adelaide is the heaviest bell in the Southern Hemisphere, being 41 cwt . The total weight of the ring is about 150 cW .

Mr. E. Razzell, of 33, Mansfield Road, South Croydon offers, free to any ringer, unbound copies of 'The Ringing World' from 1947.
Congratulations to 17 -years-old Michael Orme for the masterful way he rang the 26 cwt . tenor to a quarter of Bob Major at Hitchin on May 22 nd .

We thank a Sussex ringer for his thankoffering. In the last lead of a peal at Mayfield his rope slipped wheel, but the bell was back in place after missing only one blow, and the peal was scored.
The quarter peal of Stedman Caters at Beddington on May 21 st was rung after an unsuccessful attempt for a peal by past and present officers of the Surrey Association to celebrate its 75 th anniversary.
Apropos the last peal at Nayland, Suffolk, Mr. W. W. Steward provides us with the following details:-Rung on June 11th, 1938, 5,040 Plain Bob Minor; A. R. Andrews (conductor) 1, Mrs. L. Wright 2, Eleanor Reeve 3, H. J. Millatt 4, C. A. Andrews 5, Leslie Wright 6.

Mr. J. W. Evans, who has completed 60 years as a ringer at Oxton, Cheshire, was en May 19th presented with a fountain pen and a cheque by the Vicar on behalf of the parishioners as a token of appreciation on his wonderful record of service both in the belfry and in the church. A presentation is also to be made to him by Wirral ringers at their monthly meet:ng.

RELIFRY GOSSIP

 Mayor, Ald R Tyne to honour the Lord clusion of his year of office with a peal of Stedman Caters. His welcome to the Central Council was most cordial and generous. Ald. R. S. Mould-Graham is a prominent churchman and a churchwarden at All Saints', Gosforth.The American Guild of English Handbel! Ringers have their own quarterly, 'Overtones.' An article appears in the current issue on casting and tuning, giving impressions of the visit of Mr. Ernest Oliver to the Whitechapel Bell Foundry.
Liverpool Cathedral tower still needs more attention to keep the weather out. Mr. Ernest L. Humphriss has been much heartened by appreciative letters the Dean has received concerning Easter ringing, especially one from a woman patient in the neighbouring hospital.
The news of the early departure of Mr. J. E. Lewis Cockey to settle in Winnipeg will be received with regret by his many friends. From his pen this journal has received interesting communications. We wish him every happiness in the autumn of his life in Manitoba.
Porthkerry (Glam) ringers defied superstition to celebrate the fifth anniversary of the dedication of the two trebles. This was on Friday the 13th, but they scored the 13 th quarter peal on the bells. Sunday service ringing has been maintained without a break during this period.
From Canterbury we learn of progress by local ringers who, at St. Dunstan's on May 20 th, rang their first (except J. Unwin) 720 of Cambridge Surprise Minor. The band was $\mathbf{A}$. Butler 1. Mrs. G. Stockbridge 2, A. C. Philpott (to whom birthday congratulations were extended) 3, J. Unwin 4, J. Stockbridge 5, D. Chatfield (conductor) 6.

SURREY ASSOCIATION'S

Memories of Past Achievements

$0^{2}$NE of the oldest of the territorial associations, formed at about the same time as the Kent, Yorkshire and Devonshire Associations, celebrated its 75 th birthday with a ringing festival and a well-supported dinner at the Greyhound Hotel, Croydon, on May 21st.

Towers available were Immanuel, Streatham, St. Peter's, South Croydon, Beddington and St. John's, Croydon.

The Master, Mr. Roydon Davies, presided at the dinner, supported by the Ven. C. F. Tonks, Archdeacon of Croydon, Mr. E. A. Barnett, secretary of the Central Council, Mr. W. F. Oatway (hon. secretary) and Mrs. Oatway.
After the loyal toast had been honoured, the Master, in proposing the toast of 'The Church,' said, throughout the day they had been ringing bells to celebrate the 75th anniversary of the Surrey Association. But there was a far wider association, which did not confine itself to territory, with which they were proud to be associated-the Church. To them, as ringers, the Church was necessary and important: without the Church they, as ringers, would have no being.

PORTRAYS THE GLORY OF GOD

It is said that bankers build their bank buildings with such imposing strength to portray to their customers stability, and strength. So also the Church with its own strength and beauty portrays to the world the glory of God.
'As the Church needs buttresses to strengthen it as a building so we as ringers by our example of service can also add strength by being members of a team together with the clergy, choir, organist and other Church workers. We must therefore maintain our support by teaching the young ringer to become proficient in the art and thereby perpetuate it as we have been fortunate enough to do these 75 years of ringing in the Association.'

The Master concluded by thanking all the incumbents of the Association's towers for their help in every way.

The Archdeacon of Croydon in reply congratulated the Master on being in office in this memorable year-three quarters of a century in the Association's life of service to the Church. They were proud that the Master was one of the ringers at his church, and they were always pleased to welcome ringers to St. John's, Croydon. He was thankful that in the old days people built towers for the churches. He was afraid that in the days to come there would be a definite mark between those towers and those churches of this age as it was rather tragic that in many of their modern churches they had not spent money on building a tower and there were actually some churches which had not a bell. He went to induct an incumbent to a new church recently and was surprised to find the church had not a bell. He told the churchwardens that next time he came he would expect the bell.

CHANGE RINGING THE MUSIC  OF BELLS

But one bell was not much use to them. The music of bells was that of change ringing and in these days they were in danger of getting 'canned bells? which were of no use to change ringers. He hoped that when money was a little less tight they would rise above utility buildings and build towers which were strong enough to hold a ring of bells.

The Archdeacon said he looked upon ringers as part of the ministry of the Church. The

75th BIRTHDAY DINNER

Ministry was not confined to the choir and sanctuary and those who put on surplices; it was very much composed of laymen. 'You in the tower are a part of the Ministry in sounding your welcome, thanksgiving and praise in a form of beauty which no other country has got. I want to thank you for your service and I hope we shall popularise change ringing as a science and an art so that the beauty of sound must be perpetuated over the whole countryside and the townships of this country !

The toast of 'The Surrey Association ' was proposed by Mr. E. A. Barnett, hon. secretary of the Central Council, who said that this was their actual 75th anniversary as the Association was formed at Beddington on May 21st, 1880, when the incumbent was instrumental in getting it formed. Their second secretary was Dr. Carpenter, of Carshalton, who was a well-known ringer and a distinguished composer.

THE BEDDINGTON BAND

Mr. Barnett recalled the achievements of the Beddington band when Mr. Kippin was in charge. One peal worth recording was that in 1926 when the average age was 21-the youngest band then to ring a peal. Another peal Mr. Kippin called was the first by a band of civil servants in which he was privileged to take part.
His first ringing acquaintance with Surrey was when he made his ninth attempt for his first peal of Stedman Caters. It was about a week after Messrs. Gillett and Johnston had one of their ringing weeks in which ringers going to Croydon would travel half fare by rail. One of their party from Crayford asked for a cheap ticket to Croydon. When told that there werc no cheap tickets he told the booking clerk to make it out as the previous week. He did and to this day he did not know whether Messrs. Gillett and Johnston footed the bill or not.
He hoped the Surrey Association would go from strength to strength and he hoped that a dinner like that which celebrate their centenary. Mr. W. F. Oatway, the general secretary, apologised for the absence of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Armstrong, of the Sussex Association, Dr. Hatcher and Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Blow, of Croydon.

The seeds which led to the formation of the Association were reputed to have been sown in a public house at Carshalton after ringing practices. The first formal meeting was held at Beddington 75 years ago that day, and right flom the start they had been on good terms with the clergy. The Rev. C. Sharpe, of Beddington, agreed to act as the first secretary and the Rev. E. A. Young, of Kingston, as treasurer. The incumbents of most of the towers joined the Association as honorary members.

DR. A. B. CARPENTER

In 1883 Dr. A. B. Carpenter, a well known Croydon physician, became secretary and held the office for nine years during which period and after he devoted much of his time to the welfare of the Association and research into the field of composition. Conductors of Stedman knew his works on this method and use it today. Dr. Carpenter's work for the Association did not go unrecognised; in 1911 the office of Master was created and he was unanimously elected the first holder. His passing in 1913 was regretted by all and to his memory his ringing colleagues erected a tablet in the belfry of St. Mary's, Beddington.

No foundation member was alive today. The oldest were Alfred Arnold, joined 1887, Frank Hoad, 1893, George Hoad, 1894. Frank and George Hoad still rang regularly at Reigate but Alfred Arnold was prevented by physical disability.

They were not a prolific peal ringing Association, the total being 1750. The first peal was rung at Kingston in 1881. The peal they were most proud of was one of Spliced Surprise Royal, at Beddington, in 1936, the first in the country and it was rung by a resident band.
In 1936 the bells of St. John-the-Baptist, Croydon, were replaced by a ring of 12 and this band felt very proud that hardly a Sunday passed without the 12 being rung to Cinques at least once during the day and also they were one of the few towers that could ring Stedman Cinques by a Sunday service band.
'The Visitors' was proposed by Mr. A. P. Cannon and 'The Master' by Mr. F. E. Collins.
The entertainment was of a high order. The Beddington band gave handbell place making demonstrations and the L.J. Singers gave a comprehensive programme.

MR. ALEX YOUNG'S 90th BIRTHDAY

College Youths' Tribute

In honour of Mr. E. Alex Young's ninetieth birthday, members of the Ancient Society of College Youths met at Bromley Parish Church to ring a quarter peal of Stedman Triples on Sunday, May 22nd. Afterwards they went to Mr. Young's house, where they found a birthday party in full swing, with Mr. Young acting as a very genial and capable host.

Proposing Mr. Young's health, Mr. J. F. Smallwood said that the Ancient Society held this youngster in very high esteem, and nearly 100 members had personally signed a birthday card, which he now had much pleasure in handing over, and to tell him of the love which all members felt for one who had served the Society so well.

Mr. Young expressed his appreciation of the gesture and said he was glad to know he occupied such a place in their thoughts. He would treasure this card to the end of his days.

The handbells were then brought out, and a touch of Stedman Triples, in which Mr. Young took 7-8, was rung. Those taking part congratulated him on the splendid way he rang in this touch. For one entering his 91 st year, it was no mean achievement.

The quarter peal on tower bells was rung by: B. Lunn 1. I. Emery 2, H. Langdon (cond.) 3, James Phillips 4. D. Kirby 5, W. J. Rawlings 6,

TOPIC FOR THE MONTH - V.

Taking It Seriously

AS ringers we belong; of course, to a great brotherhood. the interests and maintenance of which every good member will have closely at heart. This membership brings. normally, an enjoyment that is unique and a privilege that is sanctified-the privilege of divine service. Do we, then, take our part in the affairs of the Exercise with due seriousness? Are we sufficiently and consistently aware of our obligation-our individual and personal duty, in fact-to safeguard and promote the welfare of our Art, in this service to the Church?

In plain English, is each and every one of us doing his bit, no matter how small, in some way to improve ringing?
You may have noted that previous Topics have touched on what may be called ' mechanisms' of ringing activity: The maintenance and promotion of long-period ringing, as opposing any threat of peal-limitation or stoppage: The categoric recording of acceptable methods and accepted performances: The compilation of a comprehensive guide to modern ways of instruction: And the implemental functions of the ringing parliament. These mechanisms among others, properly adjusted and applied, help to lay the foundation essential for the successful development of the Exercise; yet the entire foundation is valueless without the vital functioning of the individual ringer, building up a living superstructure of good practical ringing.
Many are the ways in which this contribution can be rendered: Apportioned and regular study of ringing away from the tower; punctuality and regularity of attendance at the tower; ever-constant effort to give of one's best in the team-work of practical ringing; instructing, whether as in charge or assisting; work in the theory of ringing and in ringing research; composing; conducting and tower-leadership; genuine encouragement of less progressive ringers; tolerance and, yes, peace-making! Service in executive or administrative capacity for tower-guild, association or C.C. ; propaganda and recruiting. By these and other means learncr-wastage and stagnation can be checked and positive progress substituted. Surely, everyone can find something in this collection of 'constructives ' (even if only to help or supplement the work of the steeplekeeper). whereby, if his conscience is not already satisfied in this matter, he may reassure himself that his membership of this great fraternity is not merely lukewarm?

RECRUITMENT AND WASTAGE

The history of the Exercise is illumined by many a bright record of devoted service; and there are giants even in these days; but we all know in our hearts that the garment has extensive threadbare patches. Let us, each one. we in urban tower, we in rural steeple, and we delegates as we come down from the annual conference just closed, let each ask himself: have we any clear idea of what is to be our personal programme for betterment of ringing in the next twelve months?

Consider just one of the "constructives " listed above-the last: 'Propaganda and Recruiting.' What opportunities lie here? Yet. isn't it usually rather haphazard? The wastage of learners in some towers cannot but give rise to concern for the future of ringing therein; but the situation in which no learners are forthcoming is, perhaps, even graver.

How may the problem be attacked? It seems to resolve itself into two parts: extend propaganda and awaiken curiosity to the extent of "having a go," and then maintain interest and arouse enthusiasm until confidence is born.

At leisure times, when in conversation with our non-ringing friends, an odd word or two can lead round to the subject and frequently ' trigger off ' an interesting chat about "this ringing business.' This, followed up with an invitation to visit a tower practice for a looksee, may enlist at least one recruit.
A potentially great source of recruits is a school. Where 'local interest' school societies exist it is often possible to obtain the cooperation of the headmaster in arranging for a visit of a class of seniors to a local tower. Here a talk can be given in the ringing chamber, illustrated with demonstration both at rope's end and in the bell chamber itself. Seed falls on not wholly barren soil!

One sometimes feels that more could be done by co-operation of incumbent and tower captain in introduction of the young people's guilds and societies, run by or in association with the Church authorities, to ringing. For example, the Church Lads' Brigade, Girls' Friendly Society, Y.W.C.A. and Y.M.C.A., Scouts and Rovers should be teeming with potential recruits.

Certainly, a 'ringers' ' service, with handbells rung in the nave, ringers reading the lessons, and an informed address on the interest and use of the art in the service of the Church, is likely to create sympathy for, and even practical interest in, the ringing of the bells in the tower; with a further likelihood of at least some response to an appeal for learners to come forward and join the local band.

TALKS AND CLASSES

Talks to Rotary (illustrated with slides borrowed from one or other of the bell-founding firms) have aroused considerable interest in fruitful quarters. The value of ringing as a mental and physical recreation can be indicated, for people of both sexes and nearly all ages! But it is important to make it clear that the Exercise is not a 'closed shop' and that newcomers are welcomed.

Local Education Authorities are usually sympathetic if approached in the right way, i.e., from an educative standpoint, and with the coming of autumn it may be found possible to arrange for a series of evening classes in the theory and practice of ringing-similar to that already carried into effect in one district.

The local press is often sympathetic, tactfully approached, and can do much to arouse public interest ; always providing that pealringing has not been overdone locally! A good line to take here is the preservation of our unique art as a national heritage.

The longer days and light evenings are now with us; but this is surely the time to plan our campaign for increased activity when the year begins to close. Not all of us have a pull with the B.B.C., but it seems to me that the possibilities of propaganda on T.V. have not yet been fully exploited. It is well. of course, always to bear in mind that to risk alienating public sympathy is to commit campanological suicide!
Tact and optimism with real effort should soon pay dividends, in the shape of more recruits, developed trainees and all-round improvement in ringing standards.
Are we really considering these things seriously? If so, what are we going to do about it?
(Comments and suggestions are invited.-Ed.)

ST. DAVID'S DIOCESAN GUILD

Annual Competition

The annual competition for the Bishop Prosser Shield took place at Haverfordwest on May 14th. There were six bands competing. namely, Llandilo, Llanelly, Carmarthen, Tenby, Haverfordwest and Llanbadarn Fawr.
Owing to the treble being damaged and the tenor not going too well there was no alternative but to ring the test piece on the remaining six bells from No. 2 to No. 7. Many thought that this would sound very odd but to the surprise of all it was quite good. By 2.30 p.m. all the bands had arrived and after the usual draw for places the bells were set going by the Haverfordwest band, who drew first attempt.

By $4.30 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. the competition was over and the six bands had tested their skill on the bells, which are hung anti-clockwise but, nevertheless. there was some fairly good striking by some of the bands. The Vicar (the Rev. J. Bowden Thomas) was at the church to greet the ringers and stayed all the afternoon. Over a nice and welcome tea the atmosphere became tense as everyone was anxious to know the results. The adjudicator was Mr. F. Sharpe, of Oxford, who was accompanied by his daughter, Miss E. Sharpe. He had travelled overnight to Haverfordwest and brought some of his collection of handbells and photographs of bells, which were displayed in the hall and greatly admired. After tea the usual touch on the handbells was given by Mr. Chris. Hawkins, Mr. F. Sharpe, Mr. R. Scudamore and Mr. A. Reynolds.

The Vicar took the chair and after extending a hearty welcome to members of the St. David's Guild called upon Mr. F. Sharpe to give his verdict. After the usual comments as to who were the culprits and their faults, etc., he gave out the order in which each band came according to its merits, namely:-I Llanelly, 14 faults; 2 Haverfordwest, 30 ; 3 Tenby, 32 ; 4 Carmarthen, 36 ; 5 Llanbadarn Fawr, 52 ; 6 Llandilo, 71. Great credit is due to the young boy ringers of Haverfordwest for the way they rang in the competition.
The Vicar then presented the shield to the captain of the winning band and a certificate to the captain of the runners-up. Mr. F. Sharpe and his daughter then played some tunes on the handbells, which were an eyeopener to many of the company, and great credit is due to Miss Sharpe for the way she rang the heavy handbells.

After all the formalities of the competition a very hearty vote of thanks was extended to the Vicar and the ladies who provided the tea, by Mr. Chris. Hawkins, the sccretary, supported by Mr. Ed. J. Thomas and Mr. D. Curtis. The Vicar ably responded. The members then returned to the tower to finish off the evening.

THE SUFFOLK GUILD

When I do call, come, serve all,' was the text (from an old bell) taken by the Rev. W. C. Harting for an inspiring address at the service at Leiston of the Saxmundbam District. Mr T. R. Rowsell was organist. A collection was made in aid of the Leiston New Church Hall Fund.
At the business meeting Mr. L. Mills, of Bures, look the chair. Mr. J. Pilgrim reported that the monthly practice meetings for Surprise methods had been a success ana these would continue on the third Friday of each month where possible.
Mr. A. R. Bridges was re-elected hon. secretary and Mr. J. M. Bailey elected Ringing Master for the district, and one new member was elected. Aldeburgh was selected as the place of the next mecting, on Saturday, July 16 th .

Ringers attended from all parts of Suffolk, with some well-known visitors from Essex. Many methods were rung, ranging from rounds. to London.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

LONDON TOWERS

Dear Sir,-In your issue of May 13th Mr. Bullock, of Romford, writes concerning the ring of eight at Christ Church, Poplar. It seems he has been misinformed by someone-this church has certainly not been pulled down. Far from it, as during the last few months it has been undergoing repairs and has been entirely redecorated. and is still very active in its work in the Isle of Dogs.

As far as ringing is concerned there has been no band there for some years, but several bands have visited the church for peals, their failures being mainly due to old, rotten ropes breaking. If the bells were fitted with new ropes this tower would, I feel sure, be as popular as it has been in the past, as the Vicar is very keen on bells.

In connection with some others towers mentioned in the article on Middlesex rings, Cripplegate bells are, of course, back in order now (as are also Greenwich and Bromley, mentioned in the Kent article). At several towers the bells would be rehung if the money was available. e.g., Bow, St. Clement Danes', St. Magnus-the-Martyr and Aldgate-though one wonders who would ring them for Sunday services. The ten at the Imperial Institute are in the process of being rehung.
There have been few peals at Shepperton, Middlesex, because of excessive noise outside the tower; and few at Lee, S.E. London, because the bells do not go well, and the spire has been rebuilt during the last 18 months.Yours sincerely,

Lee, S.E.12.

THE OSWALDTWISTLE BAND

Dear Sir ,-The announcement of the death of Mr. A. T. Houldsworth recalls to mind the early days of the two brothers, James and Alfred, and also many more whom I had the honour of teaching from handling a bell to Surprise ringing at Immanuel Church, Oswaldtwistle, round about the birth of the present century.
I invited Alf about a year previous to Jim and a few months later we had about ten ringers able to ring Surprise Minor. Previous to the bells being taken back to Loughborough Foundry in February, 1913, for quarter turning and two trebles added, we rang a peal of Surprise Minor in seven methods, non-conducted. All ringers in this peal were taught by me from the stage of handling a bell.
Major ringing to this band presented little difficulty and peals of Bob Major, Treble Bob, Double Norwich, Superlative and London Surprise were rung before the first world war put an end to method ringing, as many had to join the Forces.
When the war was over and the ringers back home Surprise ringing was quickly acquired again. It was with this band that $G$. R. Newton rang his first peal of London; also W. W. Wolstencroft and William Taylor, of Penwortham. As Mr. Newton once remarked to me, they were a wonderful band and would not let you go wrong. Most of the band were cotton workers and the slump in the mid 1920's meant their seeking a livelihood elsewhere; this brought to an end this very advanced band.

C. SHARPLES.

Errata. The peal rung at Harpford, Devon, on Aprit 21st. was the first in seven Plain Minor methods for all, and for the Guild; it was also the 25th together for Frederick Wreford and John L. S. Glanvill.

A QUESTION IN ECCLESLASTICAL LAW

Dear Sir,-Nowadays it is generally understood that to remove from or to add anything to a church a faculty or an Archdeacon's licence is required. This is so for the removal of old gravestones, to add a peal tablet, a chiming apparatus, etc. As is well known, adding a chiming apparatus does not necessarily involve removing the wheels, ropes, stays, sliders and pulleys of bells already hung, but I know of at least three cases where this has been done, and it has occurred to me to askwere the incumbents sanctioning their removal legally in order? The wheels, ropes, etc., are part of an already consecrated work. Would the granting of a faculty for chiming apparatus automatically cover the removal of existing wheels, ropes, etc., or should a separate faculty for each to be obtained? There seems to be some contradiction among clergy opinion upon this matter, and I am wondering if someone with an even keener knowledge than myself could determine these finer points of ecclesiastical laws?

What have members of the Central Council Towers and Belfries Committee, for instance, to say about it?

Ketton, Rutland, has a ring of six bells (tenor 11 cwt.), rehung in 1897 by John Taylor and Co. Since 1933 (or just after) all the wheels and ropes with their stays and sliders have been removed by order of the present Rector, who installed a chiming apparatusbecause (he tells me) he could not get men to ring regularly on Sundays, the villagers in the main being seven-day-a-week cement and farm workers '!

Any story which may have been told that this fine steeple is not suitable for these eight bells (which swung for over 200 years-the newest is 1748 and the oldest 1598) can be discountenanced-just as a similar story a few years ago about Oakham steeple proved, upon the report of an independent architect, to be just a hoax.

Barnack, Northants, is a similar case, only here the wheels were left intact but the ropes, sliders, pulleys and floor immediately beneath removed at the time an apparatus was installed in 1935. These five bells, like Ketton six, were nehung in completely new fittings in 1897 by Taylors, for ringing.-Yours sincerely,
P. AMOS.

ARMY EXERCISE III.

A further parade of N.C.O.'s and men of various corps stationed in the Aldershot district was held at Pirbright, Surrey, on May 11th, a peal of Doubles being the objective. Two R.A.S.C. personnel were thirty minutes late on parade, and the Exercise was not commenced until 18.30 hours.

As the bells had to be lowered by 21.00 hours, a careful check was kept on the duration of each 120 by the Sergeant I/C. the party, and as the estimated time of conclusion was judged to be within five minutes of zero hour, ringing was allowed to continue.
L/Corpl. Ainsworth, R.A.S.C., detailed as conductor, committed a grave error at 19.05 hours when he disobeyed his own word of command in that he omitted to run out at one of his own bobs. Safety precautions were not taken in sufficient time to prevent rapid firing, and ringing was brought to an abrupt end. A severe reprimand was immediately awarded.
It is planned to repeat the Exercise at Farnborough. Hants, in the near future.

LONDON COUNTY ASSOCIATION

Mr. Cockey's Departure

St. Stephen's, Ealing, is a beautiful building, standing on high ground, with its fine tower and spire dominating the surrounding residential area, and visible for miles around. The bells are a musical ring of eight. with a 14 cwt . tenor, cast by the Whitechapel Foundry, and installed by Warners about 50 years ago. The large louvres have been boarded up and fitted with adjustable shutters, and two floors above the bells have been removed. The result is a wellbalanced tonal effect, much of the sound escaping through the spire louvres, allowing the bells to be clearly heard at a distance, while nearby the sound is much softened. The well-appointed ringing chamber, dominated by a cross at the east side, can claim to be one of the best in the diocese. In addition to an almost unique set of early eighteenth century handbells, it contains numerous handsome peal records, and is always an attraction to visitors.

On May 14th members and friends from many places, local and far afield, had the pleasure of meeting the new Vicar, the Rev. A. S. Matthews, B.D. Some good ringing, ranging from rounds to Surprise, was carried out, under the supervision of the Master, Mr. T. H. Taffender.

Choral Evensong was preceded by a Plain Course of Grandsire Caters on handbells, rung in the chancel, by H. W. Rogers, T. H. Taffender, W. G. Wilson, Mrs. O. L. Rogers and F. P. Mead. As an anthem, 'Crimond' was nicely rendered by the choir.

A very welcome tea, attended by the Vicar, organist and choir, and other friends, had been provided by the St. Stephen's Girl Rangers, who had been the recipients of numerous gifts, including a beautiful display of flowers, from friends of the Church. The Vicar, before leaving, expressed his pleasure at meeting those present and hoped they would come again before long.

At the business meeting, presided over by the Master, a number of new members were elected. The Master referred with great feeling to the recent passing of a great and much esteemed friend and member of the Association in Mrs. C. J. Matthews.

The meeting was informed of the forthcoming 90 th birthday of Mr. E. Alexander Young, and a congratulatory motion was carried unanimously. Mr. T. H. Taffender mentioned that he had sung in Mr. Young's 60 th birthday peal at St. Mary's, Southampton, and (D.V.) would stand in a peal on the following Saturday in honour of his 90th birthday.

Members present expressed great disappointment upon learning that the Association's treasurer, Mr. J. E. Lewis Cockey, was shortly to emigrate to Winnipeg, Canada. Mr. Cockey was formally thanked for all the work he had done for the Association and was left in no doubt that upon departing he would be very greatly missed by members of the Association and particularly by the authorities and ringers at St. Stephen's and Christ Church, Ealing. In Winnipeg Mr. Cockey will not be the only ringer, as he will take out with him his grandson, Robin Lyndon, who, during his stay in this country, learnt to ring.
A warm vote of thanks was accorded to the Vicar, the organist and choir, to friends who had made gifts and, last but not least, to the girl ringers for all they had done, the latter receiving quite an ovation.

Further ringing was on the fine ring at Christ-the-Saviour's from 8 to 9 p.m., and maro handbell ringing there completed a very pleasant day.
H. W. R:

By The Rev. K. W. H. FELSTEAD

ALTHOUGH the period which is under review in these articles is the past 75 years or so, when practically all the peals rung have been published in either the 'Bell News' or *The Ringing World.' an account of ringing in Norfolk would not be complete without some small reference to its fame as one of the first centres of change ringing in history. It is at St. Peter's, Mancroft, Norwich, that we find the first recorded peal-Bob Triples-on May 2 nd, 1715 , soon to be followed by the first ever of Grandsire Triples on August 26th, 1718. Mr Ernest Morris, in his book 'The History and Art of Change' Ringing,' gives many particulars of the early ringing in the county, of which there is not sufficient space to make further reference here except to echo his words that -there is scarcely a place in England of greater interest to ringers than Norwich, because some of the earliest performances in change ringing were achieved there.' Amongst famous names connected with the county perhaps the most prominent is that of Samuel Thurston, although there are many others whose fame will always be remembered by the methods and compositions which they produced. and most recent of these-Mr. J. A. Trollope, born at East Dereham.
But now for some figures. Hethersett (8) has recorded the most peals in this period-198. The first one I noted, in 1891, did not claim to be the first one on the bells, so I do not know whether any were rung there before this. No less than 94 of the total have been rung since the last war, which makes it the most popular pealringing tower at the moment. After the first 1wo in 1891 and 1892, there was a gap until 1904, after which 35 peals were rung up to 1914. Between the wars came 67.

As a point of interest, it would seem that in this county the attention of ringers has been largely concentrated on a relatively few towers (only six counties have a greater number of rings) so that whereas these have very respectable totals, there is a big gap between them and the remainder, as we shall see.
Thus there are eight which have passed the century mark, two about 90 . five in the $50-60$ range and the remaining 190 or so towers a long way behind, the majority not having reached double figures. Pulham (St. Mary Magdalene's, 8) comes second with 187 peals, It can conveniently be considered with its neighbouring tower, Pulham, St. Mary-the-Virgin's, which is actually equal fourth with 172 . These towers were the most popular in the county prior to 1914 . for 95 and 94 peals respectively were rung at them in under 20 years ( 11 years in the former case). Between the wars, the average wasn't quite so great. for we find they recorded 83 and 63 peals. Since 1945, numbers have been fewer stili- St . Mary Magdslene's has had nine from 1948 to 1952 and St. Mary-the-Virgin's 15 from 1947 to 1953.
The third on the list is Redenhall (8), which again shows rather a diminished number of peals of late. From 1881 to 1909 there were 75 peals. Then there was a gap until 1925 , after which 74 peals were rung in the next 14 years. There have been 26 since 1945, making a grand total of 175 .

ST. PETER MANCROFT

Equal fourth with Pulham, St. Mary's is Norwich's most famous tower, St. Peter Mancroft, Norwich-the only 12 -bell tower in the county. Its 172 peals have been well spread over the years since 1883-65 before 1914, 49 between the wars and 58 since the last war (meaning a higher yearly average at the moment). Its other claims to fame have already been mentioned. Diss (8) seems to have had its best time prior to the first war, for 90 of its 161 peals were rung then. 51 came between the wars and there have been 20 since 1945, so on the whole it has had a pretty consistent history.

The remaining two centenarians are a good way behind this little group of six towers. Saxlingham (8) has 116,60 after the first peal in 1901 to 1914 , and 31 since the last war, so again we find a better average 50 years ago although it is better now. Wymondham (8) has 112. This tower's best time was from 1919 to 1940 for 70 of the peals were rung then. There had been 19 from 1903 to 1914 and there have been 23 since 1945. The two nearest the 100 mark are Alburgh (8) and Norwich, St. Michael's (8). The former has recorded 90 peals from 1881, fairly evenly up to the last war but only three since then, whilst the latter has been fairly consistent since the first in the period in 1895 (there were many earlier peals here, of course) and has had 89 peals rung there.
And now for peals on towers with higher numbers of bells. I suppose for its size and number of rings, Norfolk has fewer 12's and 10 's than any other comparative county-one 12 and three 10 's. The first has already been dealt with and one of the 10 's, St. Andrew's, Norwich, is noted for being one of the two 10 -bell towers which have not had a peal rung at them since 1881 (the other being Dunham Massey) and in fact it is more than 100 years since a peal was rung (the bells are unringable at the moment, of course). This is strange considering that the first peal of London Surprise Major was rung there in 1835 . The other 10 bell towers are Aylsham and King's Lynn. Only 45 peals have been rung at the formerone every year or two since 1890 , whilst the total at the latter is fewer still- 13 , of which 10 have come since the last war. The previous three were in 1894, 1900 and 1927.
There remains to mention the four 8 -bell towers which have passed the 50 mark. They are Norwich, St. John's ( 62 - rung fairly evenly since 1909) ; Loddon ( 57 -nearly half since the last war and only nine prior to 1914); Norwich, St. Giles' ( $56-42$ since 1944 and only one between 1910 and 1937); and Marsham (55-15 from 1893 to 1914,31 from 1920 to 1939 and nine since 1945). As I have said above, the great majority of the other towers are a long way behind. There is one tower still to be conquered-Thorpe Episcopi-but only three of the remainder have not had a peal on them since the last war, and of these, the last peal at Tunstead (where seven have been rung) was as long ago as 1904.

VIRGIN TERRITORY

As for 6 -bell towers, 18 out of the 91 are still virgin territory. They are Old Buckenham; Felmingham: Hedenham; Litcham; S. Lopham; Martham; Mileham; Norwich, St. Gregory's, St. John-the-Baptist's and St. Lawrence's; Outwell; Thetford, St. Mary Magdalene's; Snettisham; Tottington; Wiggenhall, St. Mary's: Wilton; Woodton and Worstead. Actually, Norfolk has one of the highest percentages of 6 - and 5 -bell towers in its total of any of the counties-no less than 169 out of 205, but it cannot be said that the peal totals of these towers are out of the ordinary. In fact I think they are fewer than one would expect under the circumstances. Only two 6bell towers have reached the half century. Bunwell has 60,44 since the last war (the first in 1892 ) and Terrington St. John, 51, 36 since 1945. I think there will be just space enough to mention those towers with more than 30 peals to their credit. They are Tibbenham (40-39 between 1901 and 1914, the other 1930; Buxton (38-29 between the wars and six since); Wrox-ham (37-26 between the wars and seven since) and Walpole, St. Andrew's (31-18 from 1920 to 1938 and 11 since 1945). Perhaps I ought also to mention Gaywood, which has 29,19 between the wars and seven since. The longest silence of the 6 -bell towers which have had peals is Rushford, where the only peal was rung in 1901.

The list of unconquered 5-bell towers is too long to give- 47 of the 88 being in that category. No tower has reached double figures here, the best being Forncett St. Peter with six (four since the war). Six towers have five and here they are with the years of their peals: Besthorpe-1894 and 1895 (3), 19471950 Clenchwarton-all from 1910, 13 : Dickleburgh -all from 1923-32; Inwood-1903, 1935, 1939. 1948, 1949: Norwich. All Saints'-1911, 1920, 1932, 1934. 1938: Shropham-all from 191113. Actually, there are other indications apart from these just mentioned, that there was a spate of activity on the 5 -bell towers just before 1914. The longest silent towers of this group are Norwich, St. Peter-Parmantergate and Thurlton, whose only peals were rung in 1893, but several others have not been heard for 40 or 50 years.

Although I haven't indicated it above, mention ought to be made of the variety of methods which have been rung in the Norfolk towers in the past 25 years especially. Even though peal totals are not high compared with some counties, many unusual methods are found amongst them, and that alone is an achievement.

Peals which have appeared in the ringing Press up to April 15th are included in the above totals.

SIXTY YEARS AFTER HIS FIRST PEAL

Bedford Dinner in Honour of Mr. D. Thompson

The St. Paul's, Bedford, company, held a dinner at the Dujon, Bedford, on May 17 th, in honour of Mr. Donald Thompson, who rang his first peal-one of Holt's Original Grandsire Triples-on the tenor at St. Paul's, on Tuesday. May 14th, 1895, 60 years ago. This was a performance by the local band-the St. Paul's company. Also, he has rung nearly continuously for 65 years at St. Paul's.

Mr. S. Foskett, the tower captain, congratulated Mr. Thompson most warmly on his achievement, also mentioning that an old friend, Mr. Herbert Harlow, who was unfortunately ill, had nearly completed 50 years at St. Paul's.

The Vicar (the Rev. J. H. King) said that he and the other guests were honoured by being invited to dine with such an exclusive circle of ringers. These were splendid records, but long service at St. Paul's was not unusual, as Mr. Ruhliche and the verger (Mr. A. Summerfield) had very many years' service behind them.

It is hoped to hold a ringers' dinner annually.

SHEFFIELD & DISTRICT SOCIETY

Unfortunately the last monthly meeting of the Society, at Bolsover, on May 7th, coincided with the annual meeting of the Yorkshire Association and so there was a lower attendance than usual. However, about 18 ringers representing seven towers. including the local company, were present. Methods rung before tea included Plain Bob, Double Norwich and Superlative.

After tea and a short business meeting the ringers, joined by more members, returned to the tower where ringing continued until 9 p.m. In the absence of the Ringing Master the new Assistant Ringing Master, Mr. W. L. Robinson, very efficiently filled the position. D. J.S.

LANCASHIRE ASSOCIATION

Annual Meeting at Bolton

THE annual meeting of Lancashire Association was held at Bolton on April 30th. Ringing commenced at 11 a.m. and continued throughout the day at All Souls' (8), Deane (8), The Saviours' (8), St. George's (8), and the Parish Church (8). Holy Trinity (8), St. Bartholomew's (6), were available after tea.

The service was conducted by the president, the Rev. R. D. St. John Smith, M.A., B.D., and Canon R. G. Norburn, M.A., B.D., Vicar and Rural Dean of Bolton, gave the address. The lesson was read by Mr. Stephen Lloyd Parry.
Tea was served in the Parish Church Schools, where the Rural Dean welcomed the members. The president thanked the Rural Dean for his warm welcome and expressed the Association's appreciation of being allowed to come to Bolton once again. He also tendered the members' thanks to the ladies and to Mr. Vincent Martin and local ringers for their part in making the arrangements, and said that the success of the annual meeting was due in no small measure to the willing help which everyone gave.

The annual meeting followed with the president in the chair, and apologies were read from Mr. F. Dunkerley, the secretary, and Mr. Peter Crook. Mr. Parry was acting secretary for the meeting.
The president informed the meeting that no nominations had been received for the office of president. and vacated the chair. The vicepresident then took the chair and paid tribute to the Rev. R. D. St. John Smith's leadership during his term of office. This was received with acclamation. Mr. A. Tomlinson moved that the Rev. R. D. St. John Smith be nominated, this being seconded by Mr. E. G. Gower; no further nomination was received and the vice-president declared the Rev. R. D. St. John Smith duly elected.
The president returned thanks to the members for their confidence in him.

He announced that Mr. Stephen L. Parry was the only nominee for the office of ringing secretary and thereby declared him elected. Mr. Parry briefly replied.

Mr. Peter Crook was the only nominee for treasurer and was elected. No nominations had been received for auditor. Mr. R. Leigh was appointed auditor.
The committee's report. the ringing secretary's report and the balance sheet and auditor's report were adopted.
The following resolution was adopted: 'That the office of hon. vice-president be awarded to any member of this Association whom the committee feel have served the Association well. This award rests entirely at the committee's discretion and will entitle the recipient to attend committee meetings without voting powers.'

After discussion it was decided to transfer Heversham from the Furness Branch to the Lancaster Branch.

An omnibus vote of thanks to all who had contributed to the success of the meeting was moved by Mr. R. Benson and seconded by Mr. J. E. Burles and carried with acclamation.

Mr. R. Benson. Manchester Branch secretary, invited the Association to Manchester, and after discussion it was decided that the next annual meeting be held at Manchester on the last Saturday in April, 1956. or as near as possible to that date, at the discretion of the Manchester Branch.

another village called Crosthwaite. Here once more some made music while others sought the wherewithal to lubricate their gasping tonsils.

And so they returned even to their own homes, having enjoyed to the full the good things provided.

Here Beginneth the Twelfth Chapter of the Book of the Journeyings of the Ringers of Leeds

It same to pass on the 14th day of the fifth month of the ninth year of our habitation and in the fourth year of the reign of Elizabeth our Queen, that there was assembled before a certain soot-begrimed sacred edifice a company of old men and maidens, young men and children, which any man could easily have numbered.
And even as they stood a chariot bore down upon them from out of the East, and being come upon them it did stop, and those that were assembled did climb aboard and lay claim to their seats.
After all were assembled, checked and counted they moved off to the West, but all were not present; some lived far off along the road to be travelled and were to join the chariot as it moved westwards.
And so the chariot travelled along the vale of Aire, and finally all had joined, and travelled from the vale of Aire into the vale of Wharfe.
Looking now at those on the bus one could not but notice the number of those growing long in the tooth and short in the thatch. But there were others of form divine and countenance fair, whose names sounded like music on the ear though those same names had often caused confusion in the belfry.
On we went, past a certain Naked Man. Some there were who, having passed this way before, had oft enjoyed his hospitality, but today, like the Levite, they passed by on the other side.

At length they came to a place called Clapham, and there they did both stop and stay to attend to the wants of the inner man.

There was with the party one named after a bird who went forth and found nowhere to rest, but he carried many leaves and his cry was 'Taylor's, Taylor's, there are no bells like Taylor 's,' which, being interpreted, is 'If you want a good ring go to Loughborough.'
And so we journeyed to Kendal that it might be fulfilled which was written, 'And thou, Kendal, in the county of Westmorland, on to thee shall descend a horde from over the hills, and in your midst shall they raise a great clangour. This will be a change, for many of those who shall come are more used to dropping clangers, and they shall all depart leaving thee in peace at noonday."
Journeying by the vale of Kent, beneath the weeping heavens, we came to Bowness, and there we did feast ourselves, gaining sustenance for the inner man and strength for our further battles with the monsters of bronze.

And they that were once an hungered and now were filled employed the next hour as the spirit moved them. Some to the belfry, where the noise might conceivably, as at Jericho, have brought the walls a-tumbling down.
Then those that had rung, and those that had been shopping, set forth in search of the gleaming chariot, and having found it at length they boarded it and made ready for further journeyings.
So they were led beside the still waters and through valleys of shadows, and the heavens sent down snow, and all were amazed at the wondrous beauty of the land through which they travelled.
At length they came to Keswick, and leaving there those to whom shops meant more than bells the ringers journeyed on apace to the shrine of Saint Kentigern. Here they disported themselves right royally, enjoying themselves to the full and making music to delight the heart and ear.
Again they were an hungered, and like chaff were they scattered abroad, each seeking to ease the pangs and quiet the rumblings.
Aboard again, and back on the way we had come till we came to a hamlet, yea even'to

RINGERS HAD A GOOD PRESS IN 1954

The report of the Literature and Press Committee for 1954, presented to the Central Council at Bristol last Tuesday, shows that the art of change ringing had a good press in 1954. The report is signed by Edgar C. Shepherd (convener) and Fred E. Dukes, and states:-

Once again your committee has to report that ringers and ringing affairs have received considerable notice in the Press. The return of H.M. the Queen from her tour of the world was marked by a request from Parliament that all the bells of Britain should ring for the occasion, and newspaper notices of this stressed again the part bells play in our national life. Much more extraordinary was the light of publicity thrown upon the attempt at Loughborough to ring the extent of Major. Never in the history of ringing has so much attention been given, nationally and internationally, by newsmen and news agencies, to any bellringing project. The American Press was very interested, and an article in 'Time,' which began by being informative in transatlantic style, ended in the mock-heroic strain. The leader writer of 'The Manchester Guardian' was perhaps rather carried away by the stream of his own prose, and even 'The Times' was moved in sober fashion to compare the attempt with the climbing of Everest. Some of the less responsible portions of the National Press were crudely critical, and some correspondence for and against ringing naturally followed. Among the genuinely lighter comments was an amusing dialectic by "X.Y.Z" in "The Suffolk Chronicle,' which turned the mind back to Debenham and ringing feats of old time. Possibly the best article that came to hand was the wellplanned and carefully written essay in 'The Leicester Mercury, written before the attempt, and giving the layman a sensible survey of the proposd undertaking. The article was accomDanied by a photograph of the inside of the Loughborough campanilc.

SUBSIDIARY RINGING JOURNALS

It is with great pleasure that your committee notes the continued appearance during 1954 of a number of subsidiary ringing journals. Among these are 'The Belfry,' the quarterly magazine of the Maidstone District of the Kent Association, the 'Irish Bell News,' the lusty quarterly of the Irish Association, and 'The Ringing Towers,' issued by the New South Wales Association of Change Ringers. After a very able and conscientious period as Editor of 'The Ringing Towers,' Mr. W. M. Rowe has resigned and his place has been taken by Mr. T. W. Goodyear. The persistence and enterprise that produce these periodicals both at home and in the far distant outposts of the Exercise are greatly to be commended.

Certain individual ringers have during the year provided notices or news items in the press and among them are four of what may be termed 'The Old Brigade still on active service.' In June. Mr. Adolphus Roberts celebrated his 84th birthday, an occasion marked by an excellent photograph and note in 'The Birmingham Mail.' In the same city 'The Sunday Mercury, on May 16th, chose Mr. Albert Walker as 'Personality of the Wcek.' and in October 'The Surrey Times ' gave honourable mention of the golden wedding of Mr. Alfred H. Pulling, accompanied by a delightful photograph of Mr. and Mrs. Pulling. Towards the end of the year "The Oxford Times" included Mr. Richard White. of Appleton, in its series 'Impressions by David Peters,' In January, 'The Oxford Mercury ' in a cheerful article described Appleton and its claims to fame and included references to the Whites and the Holifields.

The articles have been well written and varied in style, ranging from Fred Norris's light-hearted interview with the Rev. J. G. M. Scott in a West Country paper to W. A. Farmer's authoritative account of Clunbury bells in 'The Shropshire Magazine.' 'The Croydon Advertiser,' of August 27th, gave us a reminder of the old Society of Croydon Youths and the work of Dr. A. B. Carpenter; and 'J. P. D.' in 'The Harpenden Free Press' discoursed pleasantly on the difference between carillon playing and bell ringing.

LEGEND OF PIXIES AND BELLS

'Pulman's Weekly News ' revived the legend of the pixies and the bells of Ottery St. Mary, and the story of the destruction of the carillon at Cattistock was related by William Pike in 'Home Words.' To this little paper may, perhaps, go the palm for the most charming essay of the year, 'A Novice gocs Bell Ringing,' a delightful account by B. J. Jackson of a layman's approach to handling a bell and ringing rounds. Running it very close in simplicity and charm was John Saunders' 'The Bells of Steeple Aston ' in 'The Lady' of December 2nd.
Early in the year the continued correspondence on synthetic bells in "The Daily Telegraph' was assisted by Mr. E. A. Barnett, and in 'The Kent Messenger' Dr. John Hatcher conveyed a New Year message to the people of Kent. To correspondence in 'The Western Gazette' on bells of the countryside, Mr. H. J. Sanger made a valuable contribution.
The ringing publications of 1954 cover the archæological. historical and practical approaches to our art. The Exercise will congratulate Mr. Frederick Sharpe on the completion of 'The Church Bells of Oxfordshire ' by the publication of Volume 6 and the consummation of thirty years of compilation. Part XIII of 'The Church Bells of Berkshire,' by the same indcfatigable student, appeared in the middle of the year. Mr. Wiffrid Wilson's valuable essay on conducting, prepared for 'The Ringing World,' has been produced in book form with the title 'On Conducting' and is now on sale among the publications of the Council. Other books and pamphlets published during the year include the following:

' Cheshire Bells,' J. W. Clarke.

- The Chester Scholars,' J. W. Clarke.
- Beginner's Grandsire ' (2nd edition), A Waddington.

- ORANGES AND LEMONS

Among the publications of the year not written primarily for ringers are 'Oranges and Lemons,' dedicated by the author, Miss Gladys Taylor, to the Ancient Society of College Youths, and 'Bells in England.' by Tom Ingram. The former work gives a survey of the churches of London and will appeal strongly to all ringers. We may agree with 'The Ringing World 'that the description in this book of the Sunday ringing at St. Paul's is most impressive. Mr. Ingram's work covers bells of every kind, from door bells to bells on buoys, and contains an eight-page bibliography that would appear to us to be the most comprehensive ever published.

The Ringers' Note Book and Diary,' by Viggers and Hodgson, continues to appear and deservedly flourishes. It is of great use both as a diary and as a ringer's vade mecum.

OBITUARY

With regret we inform the Exercise of the death of Frank L. Fisher, of Ufford. Suffolk, on May 20th, at the age of 54. A fuller report will appear in our next issue.

CENTRAL COUNCIL AT BRISTOL

The Ringing World' was founded in the year 1911 by John Sparkes Goldsmith, who remained its proprietor and editor untll his deash in 1942.

BRISTOL-A MEMORABLE MEETING

THE Central Council meeting at Bristol last Whitsuntide will go down in the history of change ringing as a big attempt by the members of the Council to get closer liaison with the rank and file of the Exercise. Previous to the meeting a tremendous amount of spade work had been done by Mr. C. Kenneth Lewis and Mr. E. A. Barnett, the hon. secretary of the Council, in revising the whole of the recommendations and decisions of the Council since its inception. As a preliminary to this, a summary of the existing rules and decisions had already been published in 'The Ringing World.' The Standing Committee gave the whole subject very detailed examination and much 'dead wood' was recommended for deletion. In the Council meeting debate was in no sense stifled, but a masterly grip of the proceedings was maintained by the President and the long agenda dealt with in a statesmanlike and dignified manner.

Previously the Council had before it some seven motions, all interconnected, dealing mainly with Bob Triples, Caters and Cinques. The proposers and seconders of these motions were called to a special meeting before the Standing Committee met, and as the result these seven motions were withdrawn in favour of a comprehensive motion. Thus when the matter came before the Council there was only one motion before the House. By a substantial majority the Council has agreed to accept and recognise Bob Triples, Caters and Cinques, but the field of recognition did not depart from its definition of a 'regular' method.

The latitude now to peal ringers is amazing. Another significant decision was to permit peals on handbells with a ringer only ringing one bell! Older generations of change ringers will stand aghast. Such a revolutionary sweep almost took one's breath away. What has 'brought about this change? It seems that in the first place there has been an attempt to bridge the gap between what is rung for Sunday service and practices and what is attempted in peals. The pungent critics of Central Council 'dictatorship' will for once be nonplussed. The Central Council, it should be emphatically stated, is a democratic body. When in the past a rule or decision was made it was not the outcome of a committee or coterie. The latter may have originally made the suggestion or recommendation, but the actual decision was by the representatives of the affiliated Associations. The composition of the Council is not a body out of touch with ringing. Apart from the officers there are seven life members and a maximum of 24 honorary members; the remainder are the elected members.

Bristol will also be remembered by the decision to honour the President with a badge of office. Many of our Guilds and Societies have badges and chains of office of antiquity and dignity. Is it too much to hope that before Mr. Edwin H. Lewis finally vacates the presidential chair he shall have the privilege of wearing the presidential badge? Mr. Lewis has another Council meeting before his triennial period expires. At the next meeting there is to be a vice-chairman sitting by his side, who will be his ultimate successor. A special committee has been appointed to make a recommendation to the Council for this important office, and such an appointment will be early on the agenda for the next meeting at Leicester.

This brief commentary, which was written by the Editor owing to the non-arrival of a more authoritative message, cannot close without an expression of appreciation to the Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association. Bristol was a happy meeting, despite the dark clouds of the railway strike. On the social side the conveniences of members and friends had been carefully studied. Ringing facilities were excellent, and the room set aside at headquarters was not only much appreciated but extensively used. It was indeed a great reunion. As usual on the final evening Mr. Harold J. Poole was master of ceremonies, and the New Zealand visitors at the hotel gained a new insight into a venerable side of English life. Venerable is a word that applies to much of Bristol. The reception given by the Lord Mayor and the Lady Mayoress at the Red Lodge took those present back to Tudor days when change ringing was in its infancy. Stedman Cinques 'in hand' from the walled-in garden was indeed sweet music. This civic hospitality was a most generous gesture.

Lastly, we are not merely ringers but church bell-ringers. The Dean of Bristol (the Very Rev. F. E. Lunt) made all who attended the Council meeting feel that they were members of the fellowship of Christ's Church. The meeting seemed to start on the right note-that of harmony with all the many different types of workers for the Church. To the four corners of the country and beyond into Eire the members departed, strengthened in the great bonds of friendship and also imbued with a new vision of the responsibilities of vocation as servants of His Church.

THE YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION

A CRITICAL ANNUAL REPORT

The annual meeting of the Yorkshire Association took place at Selby Abbey on May 7th, favoured by excellent weather, which, added to the fact that Selby possesses a very fine ring of ten bells, attracted an excellent gathering representative of each of the four Districts. The bells were going early to Stedman Caters and Cambridge Royal and continued in a variety of methods until a halt was made for the service.

An excellent tea followed in the Hawdon Institute after which the general meeting took place, presided over by the president, the Ven. C. O. Ellison, Archdeacon of Leeds. Apologies for absence were received from Miss D. M. Killingley and Messrs. P. Birkett and J. Ambler.
A hearty vote of thanks to the Vicar of Sclby, the Abbey authorities and the organist was ably moved by Mr. H. Walker, seconded by Mr. A. Johnson, and carricd. A similar vote of thanks to the local company for their excellent arrangements was moved by Mr. 1. Slack, scoonded by Mr. P. J. Johnson, and carried with applause. Mr. T. H. Foster, in reply, said how pleased the Abbey ringers were to entertain again the Association, and if all had been satisfactory the local ringers were amply repaid.
The report of the committec, presented by the president, stated that after allowing for the lapsing of a number of members and for the loss of cight members through death, there were now 1,620 members as against 1,606 a year ago. This total includes a large proportion of "out county' members, as those who had paid their current subscription was 762.
The Northern District had lost two old ringers-Mr. Fred Tingle and Mr. Richard Duffield. The former had been connected with the Ripon Cathedral company for nearly 50 years and the latter for 35 years. Other deaths were Mr, Fred Hutchinson, St. Chad's, Headingley, a former secretary of the Western District, and Mr. C. G. Constable, of Beverley Minster.

The report offered congratulations to the York Minster Society and the success of the annual Snowdon Dinner at Doncaster, which resulted in a profit of $£ 21 \mathrm{~s}$. 3 d .

SUNDAY SERVICE RINGING

The peal secretary's analysis for 1954 showed an increase in the number of those who had rung a peal for the first time, and a large increase in first peals in particular methods. - All this is very satisfactory and a matter on which a number of individual ringers may well congratulate themselves. But your committee is deeply concerned about the general position regarding ringing for Sunday services. Far too many towers have difficulty in raising a full band of ringers on Sundays, far too many promising recruits fall by the wayside for lack of proper tuition, and in far too many towers the bells are silent and fail to fulfil their proper purpose of summoning the people to worship.

- Bells have been hung in our church towers for one reason only, and if their main purpose is not being carried out we must not delude ourselves for one moment that a record number of peals rung in a year, or a record membership of our Association, will avail to prove that all is well.
- The first essential is the basis of all church work, a lively faith in God and desire to be His witnesses. Next, we must look upon our ringing activities as a branch of church work which will remain undone unless we do it. Next, we must be missionary-minded with regard to change ringing; in other words, always seeking for converts, willing to give up time for their training when they are found, and pleased to welcome them on Sundays as well as on practice nights. If all these conditions are fulfilled, we can confidently hope for better things.'

THREE RECORD PEALS

The peal secretary's report showed the num. ber of peals rung as 96 , at 54 different churches and three handbell centres. Twenty-seven members rang their first peal. The peals of 36 , 42 and 48 Spliced Surprise Major were all three records for the number of Surprise Major methods rung to a peal, the former breaking the record set up by the Oxford Diocesan Guild and the latter being the present record.
The leaders in numbers of peals rung and conducted were: Mr. W. E. Critchley 34 (conducted 16), Mr. W. F. Morcton 22 (9). Two centuries had been reached-the 100th peal at Guiseley and the 100th peal for the Association by Mr. J. F. Milner, of Kirklington, Notts.
The accounts showed a balance on the capital account of $£ 25413 \mathrm{~s}$. 6d., and on the yearly account of $£ 772 \mathrm{~s} .2 \mathrm{~d}$. The Bell Repair Funa had a balance of $£ 61$ 17s., four grants of $£ 5$ having been made during the year.
Mr. G. Benfield was re-elected hon. treasurer, and Mr. W. E. Critchley hon. peal secretary.
The general secretary (Mr. Leslie W. G. Morris) read an invitation from Marsden to hold the next meeting there on cither September 3rd or 10th. The meeting decided to accept the invitation for September 10th if local arrangements could be made.
The president announced that consequent upon his removing to a smaller house in Leeds he had reported to the committee that he found he had not sufficient storage space to house the stocks of previous issues of the Association's annual reports, and Mr. Bert Sutton, of 12, Highfield, Scarborough, had kindly offered to take over the entire stock. The committec were quite in favour of this, but had decided to bring the matter before this meeting. Mr. J. H. Kirby moved, and Mr. E. Hudson seconded, that approval of the meeting be given. This was carried, and Mr. Sutton thanked for his kind offer.
Mr. A. E. Marsh reported on behalf of the Leeds sub-committee in charge of the pending Snowdon Dinner, due to be held in Leeds on October 15 th. Arrangements were well advanced and the Lord Mayor-elect, Alderman Sir James Croysdale, had kindly consented to be present. It was hoped that the members would rally round to ensure the continuity ot the success the gathering had enjoyed on the last two occasions. Members were urged to book the date and to back the event by giving it full support.
Miss Margaret Wilkinson (York), A. Williams, M. K. Duxbury J. Cartwright and P. Wheatley were elected members. Mr. A. E. Marsh reported that an order had been placed for a further supply of badges and brooches, and he hoped they would be delivered in time for the next District meetings.
The president announced that he was to be inducted as Vicar of St. John's, Briggate, Leeds, on Thursday, July 21 st , and that the service would take place at 8 p.m. This concluded the business and members were able to enjoy further ringing until 9 p.m.

SUSSEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION

Dinner Loss Provokes Criticism

Over 90 ringers and friends attended the 70th annual meeting of the Sussex County Association held in the Church Hall of the Good Shepherd, Brighton, on May 7th. The service was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. H. J. Hills, who also gave the address.
The business meeting followed tea in the Church Hall. The chair was taken by the Master, Mr. S. E. Armstrong. Apologies were received from the treasurer, Mr. R. G. Blackman, Mícssrs. Laker and Dallaway.
The Master's report and balance sheet and the Divisional report were carried unanimously. The peal secretary's report showed that 65 peals were rung during the year with 30 conductors, and 126 ringers rang their first peal.

In the absence of the treasurcr, Mr. Weller gave details on his behalf of the Division levies for 1955 . These were approximately 90 per cent. of the ycar's income owing to a loss of $£ 17$ on the 70th anniversary dinnen

Mr. Downing criticised the committee over the arrangements for the 70th birthday dinner, stating that they should have covercd themselves by the charge made for the tickets. He proposed that the loss should be met out of the General Fund and not taken from Divisional funds. This was seconded by Mr. Rogers.

The secretary then gave a full report of the committee's planning of the dinner, stating that the cost had been kept down to enable all to come, and only increased the original cost by Is, per ticket.

DIVISIONS TO MEET LOSS

Mr. Wood reminded those present that they were a!! members of the Association and should do their best to help one another. Any money in the Divisional funds was there for the benefit of the Association as a whole. Mr . Weller then submitted an amendment:-- That the loss be borne by the Divisions, as the General Fund was earning $2 \frac{1}{2}$ per cent. interest, whereas the Divisional funds earned nothing.' This was seconded by Mr. Honeby. The amendment was put to the meeting and carried unanimously.
Mr. M. Crackell, of Crawley, was elected a new member.
The president and vice-presidents were relected en bloc and the Master, Mr. S. E. Armstrong, was also unanimously re-elected, as werc all the other officers of the Association.
The secretary gave details for the printing of the report for 1954. It was agrecd to include the Divisional reports at a cost of approximately $£ 37$.
The secretary gave details and cost of the proposed badges for the Association. It was agreed to place an order for diecast badges in blue and silver at a cost of 5 s . 6 d . cach.
The printing of new certificates was held over for the time being to enable the secretary to make further inquiries. Mr. North, of Brighton, offered assistance in obtaining a further estimate.
Mr. R. Overy spoke of the controversy over the acceptance of Bob Triples by the Central Council; he was supported by Mr. Frank Bennett.' It was proposed by Mr. Overy, and seconded by Mr. Bennett, that the mecting support the motion for the acceptance of Bob Triples and that the Associat:on's representatives to the Central Council should vote accordingly. This was carried.
Mr . S. Brown proposed a vote of thanks to all those who took part in the 70th birthday arrangements. This was carried unanimously.
The secretary stated that he hoped it would be possible to print the 1955 report before the annual general meeting.

ARCHDEACONRY OF STAFFORD SOCIETY

A Visit to Rugeley

When the Society last visited Rugeley, in 1951. the wish was expressed that it would not be too long before another meeting was held there. On the invitation of Mr. J. H. Joyner and the local band at St. Augustine's Parish Church, the spring meeting of the Society was held at Rugeley on May 21st and was favoured with fine weather.
It was particularly gratifying to see the younger generation well represented in the attendance of 66 . The fact that over a third of this number would be under 25 years of age is an answer to those critics who claim that ringing is a dying art.

The ring of six bells was kept busy during the afternoon and evening. The service was conducted and the address given by the curate, the Rev. Mr. Pattenden. Mr. J. H. Joyner read the lesson and St. Augustine's organist, Mrs. Buckingham, very kindly officiated. The choir boys were also in attendance and their assistance in leading the singing was much appreciated.
Tea was served in the Old Grammar School, after which thanks were expressed to Mr. Pattenden. Mr. J. H. Joyner for his assistance in arranging the meeting, and Mrs. Joyner and her lady helpers for providing tea.

Mavesyn Ridware bells were available during the evening and many of those present at Rugeley took advantage of this facility for further ringing.
The next meeting of the Society will be the ' annual ' at Lichfield on June 18th.

NORWICH ASSOCIATION

Mayor of Lowestoft's Welcome

For their meeting on May 21st the Eastern Branch visited Pakefield, where the easternmost ring of eight in the country is situated. The service, fully choral, was conducted by the Rector (the Rev. K. Wilkinson Riddle), who also preached.
The company of 50 sat down to tea in the schoolroom, where, waiting to welcome them, were the Mayor and Mayoress of Lowestoft, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Lang. who are parishioners of Pakefield. A vote of thanks was moved by the Branch chairman (Mr. E. R. Goate) to the Mayor and his lady for their gracious gesture.
The meeting proceeded under the chairmanship of Mr. E. R. Goate, supported by the Ringing Master, Mr. H. W. Barrett, and committee members.

New members elected were B. Willgress, M. Dingle, M. Hodds, D. Le Grice, of Acle, and M. Solly, of Pakefield. The re-clection of Mr. Edward T. Chapman, after a long absence from the district, was also carried.
The next meeting, at Winterton on July 16th, subject to permission, was agreed to.

A collection for the Association's Bell Fund realised $£ 12 \mathrm{~s}$ : 3 d ., and it was further announced that an anticipated profit on the tea would be devoted to the Mayor of Lowestoft's Distress fund for the dependants of the crew of the drifter 'Playmates,' lost with all hands earlier in the year.
The meeting closed with votes of thanks to the Rector, organist, choir, Mr. Peter Kindred, of the local band, and the many willing lady helpers who officiated at the tea.

DURHAM AND NEWCASTLE ASSOCIATION

Visit to Bishopwearmouth
In spite of the pouring rain and the fact that ten ringers were 'peal grabbing' at Newcastle Cathedral, there was a good turn out for the meeting of the Eastern District of the Durham and Newcastle Association at St. Michael and All Angels', Bishopwearmouth, Sunderland, on May 21st. Ringing commenced shortly after 3 p.m., and during the afternoon we were visited by 'the strong arm of the law,' who assured us that they were just curious and wished to watch bell-ringers in action and did not intend arresting anyone!
The bells are considered by most to be the finest in the county, and while the standard of ringing left much to be desired in the afternoon, it certainly improved after the sumptuous tea in the Church Hall. Mr. K. Lawson, acting vicepresident, was in the chair. A vote of thanks to the Rector and churchwardens was proposed by Mr. W. Maughan and a vote of thanks by Mr. S. Thompson to the ladies for preparing the tea.

At the request of the Rector, the ringing ceased at 7 p.m. while Evensong was sung. Several of the ringers attended this service, which was sung unaccompanied in unison. After Evensong ringing was resumed until about 9 p.m.

At a recent service held at St. Paul's Cathedral for the Friends of St. Paul's the Queen Mother, who attended, was heard to remark as she left the Cathedral, 'How lovely the bells sound.' They were actually being rung to an excellent touch of Stedman Cinques, conducted by Mr. H. Langdon.

Another good handbell performance comes from Doncaster with a peal of Minor in 73 methods. This number is the most methods rung to a peal by the Yorkshire Association.

While a peal was in progress at a Somerset tower on the Saturday following the General Election a lady commented to a ringer who was listening: 'Are the bells ringing for the General Election? I don't think it is right, although I am a Conservative.'
When a party attending the Central Council meeting at Bristol went to Calne on Whit Monday to attempt a peal of Yorkshire Surprise they had the unusual experience of being welcomed in the belfry by the Mayor and Mayoress. The peal was rung in honour of the millennium of Calne as a borough.
There were two unfortunate typographical errors in the report of the Clerical Guild's ringing week in Devon. Tawstock appeared as Tavistock, and Selworthy as Sehoorthy Some members of the Guild rang on the Thursday evening at Arlington (6) and the seldom-rung four at East Down. The errors are regretted.

- The state of health of the ringing Exercise should be measured not by long lists of peals rumg as birthday compliments or for any other reason, but by the number of towers in which ringers assemble regularly week by week to ring the bells to the glory of God and the advantage of His Church. -- Committee's report, Yorkshire Association.

Was the peal of Plain Bob Minor at Abergele on May 21st the first of Minor in Denbighshire? Older ringers consulted cannot remember one.
North Lincolnshire handbell ringers are practising for a handbell pcal in 106 Minor methods. The maximum number of Minor methods recognised before the Council meeting is 112.
Mr. John Chilcott, immediate Past-Master of the Ancient Society of College Youths, is acting as instructor to the band at Holy Trinity, Wandsworth. The first practice was on Thursday, May 26 th. The company have vacancies,
A k:ndly gesture at the quarterly meeting of the Rochester District in Frindsbury on May 21st was the signing by all the members present of a 'get well quick' card which was sent to Mr. "Gus, Hewitt, a member of the local band, who is in Dartford Hospital.
Getting home from Bristol presented a problem to many who had travelled to the Central Council meeting by train. When the Council opened, the president (Mr. E. H. Lewis) made an a; Deal for vacancies in cars. A number of offers were forthcoming, which facilitated the journey home.

CENTRAL COUNCIL MEET AT BRISTOL

A GREAT WELCOME FROM CATHEDRAL AND CITY - 'THE RINGING WORLD': INDIVIDUAL GENEROSITY PRODUCES SURPLUS OF £362 OVER THREE YEARS - BIOGRAPHIES COMMITTEE AND A LASTING MEMORIAL - TOWERS AND BELFRIES COMMITTEE'S BUSY YEAR - UNRINGABLE BELLS AND ARCHDEACONS

'IHERE is a saying in Bristol, ' Ship shape and Bristol fashion.' This in a sense exemplifies the success that attended the second session of the 27th Council (58th annual meeting) held in the Chapter House, Bristol, on Whit-Tlesday. With its wealth of bells there was a big programme of ringing extending from the Friday to the Tuesday, and after the Council meeting a civic reception was given to the members of the Council and their ladies by the Lord Mayor and Lady Mayoress (Ald. Harry Crook and Mrs. Crook) at the Elizabethan house, Red Lodge, with its wealth of treasures.

Proceedings on the Tuesday started with Holy Communion at Bristol Cathedral at which the Dean (the Very Rev. F. E. Lunt) was the celebrant.

The Council meeting opened with a welcome from the Dean and from Mr. Cyril R. Harding. Master of the Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association.

FROM OXFORD TO BRISTOL

The Dean said it was both a pleasure and a privilege to say a word of welcome to the Council, not only to the Cathedral but., in the absence of the Bishop, to the Diocese. The Bishop had asked him to express his regrets at not being present but sent his warmest wishes for the success of the meeting.

In welcoming then to the Cathedral his mind went back to the time when he was an incumbent and had bells in his church, and had a happy relationship with those who came week by week to ring them. That was in Oxford and because of the proximity of the Colleges they had to limit ringing, therefore he was not always as popular as he might have been with the ringers.

I welcome the work that is being done by your Associations and I think it makes a big difference if what goes on in the belfry is in real fellowship and harmony with the rest of the Church. I often think you have a very great influence and opportunity of bringing young people into the closer fellowship of Christ's Church: they get interested in ringing and realise what ringing stands for-in summoning people to God and the fellowship of His Church.'

The president (Mr. E. H. Lewis) in thanking the Dean for his kind welcome said the Council was very pleased to come to Bristol, which he believed was a return visit. It was a delightful place to come with its wealth of towers; with the exception of Oxford he was sure there were more bells per head of population than any other city. He also thanked the Master of the Gloucester and Bristol Association for all he and his committee had done to make them welcome.
Mir. Cyril R. Harding. Master of the Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association. in a message of welcome said they very much appreciated the work of the Central Council. They would realise. however, that the majority of their towers were in agricultural districts where the work of the Central Council had not been heard of. They did try when they went into these country villages to get the ringers to conform to the rules of the Central Council.

- I am perfectly satisfied that the ringing that has been carried on in the precincts of the city of Bristol has upheld the prestige and standard of ringing which was one of the objects of the Council. I hope your deliberations will be successful and that you will return to your homes with an everlasting memory of your visit to our ancient city of Bristol.'

CONGRATULATIONS TO MR. YOUNG
The president announced that a telegram was sent to Mr. E. Alex Young, a former hon. secretary of the Council, on his birthday on May 20th: "On behalf of all members of the Central Council may I offer you the good wishes and congratulations of the members of the Council on your 90th birthday.-Barnett.'

Mr Young had sent a reply.

ELECTION OF HON. MEMBERS

LOSS BY DEATH

The company stood while the members remembered Mr. F. Warrington, a member of the Council from 1936-47, representing the Ely Diocesan Association, who had died since the last meeting.

MINUTES OF THE LAST MEETING
The Minutes of the last mecting, published in "The Ringing World' of April 8th, were adopted subjeet to the following amendment: the name of Mr. J. Seager being substituted for Mr. C. Glenn.

HON. SECRETARY'S REPORT

One important matter decided during the year was the Council's liability for Income Tax. This matter was taken up with the Inland Revenue authorities by the auditors of the accounts of "The Ringing World" and the following points established :
(1) Any excess of affiliation fees over expenses of the Council itself is not taxable, based on the principle that mutual trading exists.
(2) Profits from the sale of publications and 'The Ringing World' are taxable only so far as they arise from persons who are not members of the Council or the affiliated societies.
(3) Income tax would be payable under Schedule ' A' on any real estate owned by the Council or under Schedule ' $D$ ' on any income from investments not already taxed at source.

Members will note that the interest on $3 \frac{1}{2}$ per cent Defence Bonds invested from the funds of 'The Ringing World' comes under (3). With regard to (2), the Inspector of Taxes accepted the computations of assessable profits based on my estimate of such sales as one per cent, and as the amounts involved were very small, he did not propose to raise an assessment up to and including the fiscal year $1953 / 54$. The position regarding $1954 / 55$ is at present under discussion.

The decision to increase the price of "The Ringing World, from 4 d . to 6 d . is dealt with in its proper place, but it may be of interest to set out the position which would have arisen hut for the generous donations received from ringers during the past three years:-

| Year | Loss on  Trading | Donations | Nominal  Surplus |  |
| :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: |
|  |  | $£$ | $£$ | $£$ |
| 1952 | $\ldots$ | 180 | 254 | 74 |
| 1953 | $\ldots$ | 272 | 311 | 39 |
| 1954 | . | 87 | 336 | 249 |

Thus, instead of a deficit of $£ 539$ during this period the paper has been able to show a surplus of $£ 362$.

It was agreed by the Standing Committee last year that consideration should be given to increasing the amount for which the Library was insured, and as a result it was decided that the figure should be amended from $£ 250$ to $£ 600$.

I would like to express my thanks to Association secretaries who send me copies of their annual reports, and also to those who send other publications. The Council is again greatly indebted to Mr. W. G. Wilson and Miss C. L.

Groves for very kindly making themselves responsible for the typing and duplicating of these papers.

A final thought-the first three societies to pay their affiliation fees for 1955 (apart from one Guild who did so in advance) were the Scottish and Irish Associations and the St. David's Guild, in that order.

The hon. secretary moved the adoption of the report.

Mr. R. S. Anderson seconded and thanked the secretary for his work for the Council.

The report was adopted.
REPORT OF THE HON. LIBRARIAN
During the year the borrowing of books of reference increased considerably. Sales of publications increased by 25 per cent above the previous year's total, and would have been greater had not the popular books on 'Doubles and Minor Methods" and 'Preservation and repair of bells" been out of print for most of the year. A new edition of the latter is now available and, at the moment of writing, negotiations are in hand with printers regarding a new edition of the Doubles book.

As a result of the price increases sanctioned last year, income exceeded expenditure by $£ 4$ 2s. 1d. The 'best seller' has been Mr. W. G. Wilson's book, 'On Conducting,' with 'Village Bells' second and 'Hints to Beginners' third.

Typed index sheets of the printed books in the Library have been made during the year and a welcome addition to the equipment has been the acquisition of six bookcases.
Where there are many copies of any book in the Library, printed since 1850 , I recommend that all above three copies be sold.

During the year the Library has received the following gifts: 'Cheshire Bells, Part III,' from the author, Mr. J. W. Clarke; 'Beginners' Grandsire, from the author, Mr. A. Waddington; 'Notes for Beginners,' from the author, Mr. W. G. Wilson; the late Mr. C. Perry's MSS., from Mr. A. C. Hazelden; and 'The Irish Bell News,' from Mr. F. E. Dukes.

Once again I must pay special tribute to the painstaking and efficient work of Miss P. J. Ayris in running the sales section of the library

Mr. F. Sharpe in moving the adoption of the report said they would notice that they had made a profit which was very gratifying to him. It was necessary because the profit they made was absorbed by 'The Ringing World' charges for advertisements and helped with publications.

He had received that day from the president a treatise on experiments carried out at All Saints'. Loughborough, on the swinging position of bells and on experiments carried out in the Loughborough foundry with a spring bellframe. He had also received a copy of the history of the London County Association and the North Southwark Diocesan Guild.

He expressed his thanks to Miss $\mathbf{P}$. Ayris for seeing to the despatch of books and to the Rev. Eric Tarrant. Rector of Launton, for the use of a room in his Rectory for the library.

Mr. H. J. Poole seconded and the report was adopted.

CARTER'S RINGING MACHINE

Mr. A. A. Hughes reported that the machine was in good working order and was demonstrated on two occasions last year.
Mr. H. J. Poole, seconding, said he would like to express thanks for the demonstration given when the National Police Guild visited London.
The report was adopted.
THE ROLL OF HONOUR
Presenting the report of the Roll of Honour Sub-Committee, Mr. Harry Miles said, 'You see in front of you a happy man. He has done a job given to him at York in 1949.' The Roll of Honour was now finished. Another thing which had made him happy was the wonderful response from all quarters in the compilation of the roll.

There were a number of people he would like to thank First, the two librarians of St. Paul's Cathedral, Mr. G. W. Henderson (since retired) and the Rev. W. M. Atkins; then Mr. C. Cullen, of Farnborough, Kent, who offered and wrote the roll free and designed the oak case. The roll in its case was placed just outside the gallery at St. Paul's Cathedral. The College Youths had agreed to turn over a page periodically.

It was proposed that photostat copies should be made of the roll. He asked Mr. F. Dunkerley to arrange with a firm at Oldham to make the stats-to send the original roll back to St. Paul's, the stats to him and the account to the general secretary. Mr. Dunkerley sent the roll back to St. Paul's, the stats to him and he paid the account personally. He thanked Mr. Dunkerley for his help and generosity.

Mr. R. S. Anderson in seconding the adoption of the report said he did not think there was a memorial in the country that had been done entircly by the people concerned. He moved that the secretary send an official letter of thanks to all who had contributed to the successful completion of the roll.

The report was adopted.

Moving the adoption of the report the hon. secretary said he suggested that the accounts of 'The Ringing World' be left to 'The Ringing World ' report. On the general fund they had made a profit of $£ 32$, which was a welcome change. This had been brought about by the doubling of the affiliation fees which now amounted to $£ 75$. The accounts had been audited by Mr. A. A. Hughes and Mr. F. W. Perrens.
Mr. A. A. Hughes seconded the adoption of the report, which was adopted.

THE RINGING WORLD' COMMITTEE

Your committee has to report another year of strenuous effort to maintain solvency. During 1954, another campaign was launched to obtain more postal subscribers. All affiliated Societies were invited to elect members to act as District representatives of 'The Ringing World,' their functions to be to try to obtain more subscribers, and also to forward to the Editor news of what was happening in their Districts. The result was encouraging and your committee is most grateful to these representatives for their efforts.
Towards the end of the year we felt there was a danger of an adverse balance, and your committee was forced to the necessity of raising the price of the journal to 6 d . This decision was taken after three years' vigorous struggle to keep the price at 4 d . Rising costs left no alternative and it is to be hoped that when the effects of the increase are realised we may experience financial stability. So far as can be estimated the resultant drop in circulation is between three and four per cent-much less than we had expected.
The situation was saved last year, as in previous years, by the generous help received in personal, voluntary peal, quarter-peal and other donations.
In view of the discussion last year regarding the non-publication of letters written over a nom-de-plume, your committee decided to advise the Editor to consider such communications for publication provided they did not contain attacks on persons or bodies. A notice to this effect was published and the result has been obvious to all readers.
Your committee looks forward to the time when it may be possible to include more illustrations in the journal, and as soon as the financial position is sufficiently improved this, and other possible improvements, will be made. For the time being, however, economy and even austcrity must continue until we sail in smoother waters.
Finally, we would place on record our sincere thanks to all who have helped in the production of the journal: to Mr. Tom White, the Editor, for his able and conscientious work; Mr. Jeater for his efficient supervision of the accounts; to all literary contributors; to all readers; to all district representatives; and last but by no means least to all who have, by their donations, helped us in a most difficult year.
Mr. F. I. Hairs in presenting the report regretted the absence of Mr. Smallwood. The rise in the price to 6 d . was only made after careful consideration and was due to the fact that they were still depending on charity.
Mr. H. G. Poole seconded the adoption of the report.
The Rev. J. H. M. Scott said a great many people in his area were not change ringers. Call change ringers had no means of publicity for the results of their competitions except the local press. If those results were put in 'The Ringing World 'they would get a substantial increase in circulation.
Mr . H. Miles supported this point of view.
Mr. Anderson said if the call change ringers sent the information to the Editor it would he published.

Mr. G. Pullinger: Could it be made possible for the paper to be open for advertisements? The President: It is quite open.
Mr. J. E. Lilley: I don't want to cross swords with Mr. Scott, but I feel this is a very controversial subject. We are struggling very hard in Devon to introduce change ringing and I am very pleased to say that through my influence there will be a change ringing band at Buckfast Abbey.

The Rev. J. H. M. Scott spoke of the friendly relations with the call change ringers and the Devonshire Association at the annual competitions at Dean Prior and had invited a band of change ringers to ring the service touch. A peal was rung at South Molton in honour of the South Molton band winning the ringing competition.
The report was adopted.
Introducing the accounts, the hon. secretary said they would notice on the income side that during the year the income from postal subscribers had increased and that was before the price increase. Donations had also increased. They would not have made a profit had it not been for these generous donations. The expenditure during the year was nothing unusual. It became clear that the paper would not have paid without an increase in price. The Standing Committee recommended that the accounts be passed subject to audit. These accounts were audited professionally.
Mr. F. I. Hairs seconded and the report was adopted.

BIOGRAPHIES COMMITTEE

The Committee have been gratified by the response made by 1954 new members to their request for the prompt return of the forms handed to them when they were introduced to the president.
Of the total forms distributed at Newcastle just over half were returned duly filled in, a few complete with a photograph. This, although better than previously, could be much improved. The particulars for which we ask have proved by our experience to be the minimum foundation required for the record of each member which the Council wishes to preserve.
The album, already containing a good number of finished obituaries, is on view. From those shects it is hoped members will note the information that is wanted, also that provision is made for a photograph of post card size. This point is specially mentioned because, in the case of members elected before 1935 (many already deceased) photographs have in many cases been obtained only with difficulty and often only by reproduction from loaned and faded copies.
Our books now contain the names of 713 persons who have been elected to membership of the Council. Of this total 76 have not attended a mecting and 100 have attended one meeting only. 315 are known to be deceased. We have complete biographies of 215 deceased past members, and 72 others, whose biographies are partially complete, are those on whom Mr. Stilwell and myself are spending many hours of searching the pages of volumes of the ringing papers. In the hope of enlisting the help of present members we append a short list of records which nced only a photograph for completion.

Moving the adoption of the report, Mr. A. C. Hazclden said information of the date of death was required of the Rev. W. W. Covey Crump, Ely Diocesan Association; Mr. S. J. Hughes, representative of the Dudley and District Guild; Mr. John Holden, of Saddleworth, Yorkshire Association; Mr. James Maddock, Bath and Wells: Mr.. A. Taylor, Chester Diocesan Guild; Mr. J. W. Milner, Chester Diocesan Guild. He appealcd to members to fill in the forms and send photographs.
Mr. John Willis. in emphasising the appeal, said to members of the Council, 'This is the only lasting record that you will get.'
Mr. F. W. Rogers suggested that members should place a note with their wills asking executors to send a postcard giving the date of their death.
The Rev. F. Ll. Edwards paid a tribute to the work of Mr. Hazelden and his committee.

PEAL BOARDS COMMITTEE

The publication last year of a list of towers where early peal boards exist, and from which details have been recorded, gave a clear indication of the progress made as well as a reminder that many more are still awaiting discovery.
Boards in towers where the bells are rung regularly-and especially where there is a band of change ringers-have in all probability been fairly well covered. On the other hand, there are towers where ringing once flourished but for some reason or other has now lapsed, and the bells have fallen into disuse. Such places provide opportunity for exploration, as instanced at Dedham, in Essex. Here the bells have not been rung for more than a century, but the ringing chamber has recently been examined with the result that a peal board recording 5.040 of Bob Major rung in 1818 has been added to the list. No doubt there are others to be located in similar circumstances.
Quite obviously the committee must depend on the interest and support of the members of the Exercise in general for the completion of its task and makes an earnest appeal for the search to bo continued. The history of ringing will be enriched by these efforts.

During the past year some thought has been given to the form of binding for the safe storage of the records collected and it seems clear that in view of the possibility of extra sheets having to be added at any time in the future, a looseleaf binding must be adopted. The committee is prepared to be responsible for the binding and it is hoped that the matter can be taken in hand shortly.

Mir. J. W. Clarke moved the adoption of the report and said that details were slowly coming in and 15 were received last year. Mr. W. Ayre seconded and the report was adopted.
TOWERS AND BELFRIES COMMITTEE
During the past year the committee has produced a revised edition of the Council's handbook. "The Installation, Preservation and Repair of Bells, Bell-frames and Fittings.' Members of the committee have given advice on restoration work in 40 towers-an increasc of two on the previous ycar

Mr. J. W. Clatke has advised on the restoration of the bells and fabric of one tower in Suffolk; and. in his capacity as chairman of the Chester Diocesan Advisory Committee, has done much useful work in that Diocese.

Mr. F. E. Collins has inspected the bells and gear in four towers in Essex and Hampshlre. In each instance his advice has been taken and restoration schemes are pending. A scheme for the complete rehanging and augmentation of the bells in a Sussex tower, upon which he reported last year, has been adopted and the work is in hand.

Mr. J. Freeman has dealt with four inquirles in Lincolnshire. In one tower a major restoration involving the recasting and augmentation of the bells was advised; in two towers inspections were made following applications for faculties to rehang bells, and approval was recommended; in the other tower advice on the safety of ringing the existing bells was given.

Mr. E. H. Lewis has dealt with an inquiry from a Suffolk parish where precise calculations were required of the effect of lowering the swinging positions of the bells from 70 feet to 45 feet from ground level. He is also dealing with an inquiry from a Warwickshire tower.
Mr. W. Osborn has visited 12 towers in the West Country. In four instances he had advised on work of a major character involving the complete renewal of bell-frames and gear. In four towers he advised on the recasting of bells or the desirability of replacing them. In another tower, after a major structural restoration had been completed. the architect refused to allow the bells to te rung. Mr. Osborn advised the installation of reinforced concrete beams encircling the inner face of the tower walls, which has been done, and all is now satisfactory. As a member of his Diocesan Advisory Committee, he has given advice resulting in the granting of ten faculties. An application to install recorded bells in another tower was successfully quashed.
The convener has dealt with 15 inquiries in Bucks. Berks. Norfolk, Northants. Oxon, Suffolk and Yorks. In five instances major restorations involving complete rehanging in new frames are being carricd out; in two instances problems regarding vertical vibration cracks in the masonry of towers were dealt with: in three towers advice on augmentations was given ; in five towers repair work was advocated. In addition to these he has been in correspondence regarding minor repairs to the bells in a Cornish tower, and in two instances has given advice on sound control. An endeavour to persuade a donor to install a small ring instead of a larger chime was unsuccessful but a private arrangement was made with the bell founders that these bells should be cast to ringing weights. Lectures have again been given to the York Architectural Institute.

This Institute has recently purchased a disused church and it is proposed to convert this into lecture rooms and a library. In the church is a derelict ring of six bells, four of which are mediæval. These are to be rehung in a new frame as a practical example for the instruction of students of Ecclesiastical Architecture.
Mr. F. Sharpe moved the adoption of the report and said it was a very brief summary of a considerable amount of work done by members of the committee.
Mr. F. E. Collins seconded.
Mr. C. Pipe asked the name of the Suffolk tower.
Mr. Sharpe said it was at Ipswich; they did not mention the names of towers for commercial reasons.
Mr. P. A. Corby said the Council must not lose sight of the great importance of the work of the committee. He thanked the committce for the work they were doing. There was a great scope for the work of this committee and it was his personal opinion that they ought to concentrate more on this aspect of their affairs than on the technical matters of change ringing, which took so much of their time. As one went round the country one realised the many towers that could take advantage of the services of the committee. He wondered if there were any means of making the work and services of the committee more widely known among the clergy and the diocesan advisory committees.
Mr. F. Sharpe replied that the chancellors and the secretaries of the diocesan advisory committees had been notified.
Mr. R. G. Blackman said for the annual meeting of the Friends of Chichester Cathedral the Archdeacon of Chichester had on the agenda "The bells and tower." He felt that such reports should be given to all annual meetings of parochial church councils.
Mr . C. K. Lewis said such a responsibility was up to the towers themselves. A measure had gone through the Church Assembly whica required every church council to have their fabric examined by an architect every five years. The remedy was getting a ringing member on the parochial church council.
Mr. J. W. Clarke said there was not one architect in 100 who knew anything about bells. He had only seen one architect report on bells and that stated 'bells rusting.' On one occasion an architect designed a frame of timber and rubber. Fortunately that report came to the Advisory Committee and he was able to express his opinion. Many architects were still sent out by the Central Council for the Care of Churches who did not know anything about bells. He still felt that the best method was a representative of the committee on the Advisory Committee. Mr. Clouston had recently been appointed to the Ipswich Advisory Committee.
Mr. John Freeman. who is a member of the Lincoln Advisory Committee, thought local ringers should be more active and report conditions to parochial church councils.
The Rev. A. G. G. Thurlow said when the quinquennial inspections began it seemed most important that adv:ce should be taken in every case where the bells were out of order. He had met cases where the incumbent did not know how many bells he had got. At the quinquennial inspection somebody should submit a complete list of all unringable bells. Mr. Nolan Golden had provided such a list for the Norwich Diocese. Such lists might do no good, but they would prevent Archdeacons from saying they did not know.
Mr. W. Osborn stressed the importance of each tower having a stecplekeeper. Where there was a good steeplekeeper the bells were in good order. The steeplekeeper should report regularly to the parochial church council.
Mr. N. Chaddock asked Mr. Sharpe to send circular coricerning the services of the committee to the diocesan advisory committees where there was no ringing representatives.
Mr. J. A. Hoare asked if this would cover their Church in Wales.
Mr. Sharpe: I have on many occasions been down to Wales and examined towers and belfries. I have written a book on 'The Church Bells of Radnorshire,' and I have completed two-thirds of a book on the bells of Cardiganshire and one-third of one on Pembrokeshire. In regard to the quinquennial survey the diffculty will be to find architects who have any knowledge of bell ringing. As a rule they don't know very much and don't like to be told. We are making progress and the Council is represented on the York Institute, which instructs surveyors.
Mr . D. Burnett said it had been the practice at Truro Cathedral, where the meeting was presided over by the Bishop, to ask if the bells were in good order.
Mr. Sharpe called attention to the new edition of 'Preservation and Care of Bells.' A copy should be in the hands of each incumbent and secretary of the parochial church council.
The report was then adopted.

A CORNISH PRACTICE NIGHT

(With apologies to the Exercise.)
It is a beautiful evening, late in spring. The birds are singing gaily in the treetops; young lovers out for an evening stroll gaze longingly into each other's eyes; and at the local bowling club men in shirt sleeves and pipes in their mouths are innocently pursuing their leisurcly hobby.
Suddenly the peace is shattered by a harsh jangle of sound ; strong men wilt, mothers hasien to ensure that their offspring are safely indoors, and the members of the bowling club speedily retire to the soundproof clubhouse
Why? It is the local ringers' practice night, of course! and for the next hour and a half the peace of the lovely countryside is obliterated by the wild cacophony of Grandsire Triples, the majestic thunder of Bob Major and the haunting melodies of Stedman Triples.
Let us for a white view the source of all this disturbance. Within the cool, grey walls of the old tower there is gathered a company of young people, both men and women. One unfortunate learner is being 'pushed ' through a course of Grandsire Doubles, and a group of young ladies are sitting in a corner equipped with knitting needles and fashion magazines and exchanging local gossip. After an interval in ringing, the leader, a burly, fierce-looking young man solemnly makes the announcement, 'We are now going to ring a course of Camoridge Major, and woe betide anyone who goes wrong.' Eight young hopefuls stand to the ropes, and eight sweaty brows are puckered in concentration as each endeavours to guide his bell correctly along the intricate path of Cambridge.

As the hands of the clock creep toward the hour of nine, and as the bells are rung down and the last throbbing chord dies away, the sun seems to shine again, the birds sing once more and the members of the bowling club thankfully resume their game: peace reigns.
Outside the church the young people are gathered. smoking and talking. One bighead is heard to remark. 'When I rang Stedman Cinques with George Fearn at St. Martin's but is hastily booed down by the remainder of the company. So here we leave them. a gathering of young sorcerers gleefully discussing arrangements for future disturbances. and the inhabitants of the surrounding countryside, both animal and human. rejoice in the fact that they will be left in peace, at least until Sunday morning.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

MUFFLED RINGING
Dear Sir,-With reference to a letter in "The Ringing World' on muffled ringing, church bells are rung (or should be) to the glory of God and in His service.
Why, then, should we muffle this praise because one who has served Him faithfully in this way for many years has now been called by God to higher service? Surely the reasonable thing to do is to ring the bells open to express our thankfulness for the years that have been.
1, personally, shall always be giad that the day my husband passed on we had a ringing meeting here and the bells were ringing for many hours. He always said that he hoped they would ring for him, but not muffled, and the peal and quarter peal in memoriam and the funeral ringing were all open. It certainly helped to add to my belief in the fact that he is not far away.
I do not think Mr. Paice is right in suggesting that the passing of a loved one is any less solemn now than ever it was, but to my mind the use of muffles has passed with the fashion that decrecd crepe and widow's weeds and black clothes even for little children.-Yours sincerely,

DORIS COOPER.

Croydon.

MUFFLED RINGING IS NOT MORBID

Dear Sir-- If these requests and desires become more general as during the last 20 years or so they have tended to do, says Mr. Paice, then there is little we ringers can do-against requests and desires-but try and sce that the Exercise and public should be educated to see things in their proper perspective and respect them.

- Will it then eventually become the regular custom to ring the bells "open" on all occasions, sad and gay?' he asks. Most certainly not-least, God forbid.

Any change arising from modern age and thought to muffled ringing should be resisted to the full.

Bells have been rung for years to celcbrate every mood and every occasion, grave and gay, for rich and poor alike. Who would ever dream of ringing 'open' for Good Friday, the most sad and solemn occasion in Christian history; or who would think of ringing muffled for 'The Day of Resurrection,' to tell it out abroad? It is the contrast that makes muffled ringing for its own occasions and purposes so stately, impressive-yes, and majestic. Long may it continue so.

Incidentally, at our last practice we had a distinguished ringer visitor, Mr. Ronald Dove. Our bells were muffled for one of our ringers, Harry Furber Holding, to be laid to rest the following day. Before the practice ended wu walked some distance to the station for the sole purpose of hearing the muffled bells; we could see quite a number of people looking to where the ringing came from, and apparently enjoying it. They usually ask on Good Friday what it is that is different about the bells.

The retention of muffled ringing-there is nothing morbid about it-is more important to the Exercise than whether Bob Triples is or is not to be allowed.

Moral : a place for everything and everything, in its place.

Crewe.
A much appreciated gesture was the entertainment of the ringers who successfully rang a peal at Great Doddington. Northants, to tea by the incumbent.

SYNTHETIC BELLS - A CONTRIBUTORY CAUSE
Dear Sir,-Artificial reproduction of bell sounds are an abomination, whether they be formed from recordings of actual bells or by some form of electronic device. Both lack the richness of harmonics of real bells, the former through lack of sensitivity and the latter from obvious monetary considerations.

The clergy up and down the country are consistently being reminded of this evil; this mockery of what for so many centuries has become part of the English way of life.

To be fair to the clergy, though, we must probe deeper into the problem and take into consideration both sides of the argument. Too many rings of bells, especially in country towers, to-day hang silent. The parishioners are called to worship Sunday by Sunday to the tolling of a single bell. It would be interesting to find out how many rings of bells actually do hang silent, disturbed only by an occasional visiting band. It is sometimes the case that a new ring of bells is hung in a tower where before there were only one or two. In many isolated country places thesc bells soon become silent.

Let us take the case of a clergyman whose former parish had one of these silent rings. He arrives at a church with probably only a single bell. A parishioner approaches him on the possibility of the installation of an ampllfied system of recorded bells, which he, the parishioner, will pay for. What, in view of his previous experience, are his reactions to such a suggestion likely to be? Take also the case of a similarly situated clergyman whose bells which are hardly ever rung have become unsafe for ringing. Would it not be cheaper for him to hang the bells dead?

These are only a few incidents of the many which force the clergy to take a more enlightened view on artificial bells.

It is all very well to put forward wordy arguments against artificial bells. It is very well to say that any tower containing bells is a potential centre of ringing. It is all very well the 'potential' being there if there is insufficient energy to release it!
The only real and solid barrier to the encroachment of this mechanisation of bells is the human one! The silent towers must be peopled once more. It is the duty of every one of us, wherever possible, to train a new team for those towers, to aid those who are left to build afresh.

This is the only reply; theoretical arguments are of no avail without material backing. Yours sincerely.

Branston, Lincs.

UNRINGABLE BELLS

Dear Sir,-I am working on a list of unring. aole towers throughout the country and I would appreciate the assistance of enthusiasts who would be prepared to send lists of unringable towers in their various counties.

This does not include Middlesex, Kent or Shropshire, as I have personally investigated these. If there are any counties so fortunate without black spots I would be glad of confirmation.

By unringable I mean all lowers, from those whose bells lie cracked on the floor to those whose silence is due to the proverbial - Parson's Gag.-Sincerely yours,

ERNEST J. ROWE

A FORMER PEAL AT WILLOUGHBY WATERLEYS

Dear Sir.-The peal at Willoughby Waterleys, Leicestershire, on May 28th, recalls vividly to my mind the occasion when I conducted the first peal on these bells on June 18th, 1927. The then Rector (the late Rev. E. A. Ingham, M.A.), once Precentor of Liverpool Cathedral, was given "Standard Methods' to digest during the ringing. Although he was not a change ringer he wrote the following lines during our peal, which show his quick grasp of our ringing phrases and terms,' and will be of interest to present peal ringers:-

> TREBLE TO TENOR ' SNAPPING
> ' Up ' and 'down ' and ' in ' and 'out,' Do not 'course' if you have gout ;
> 'Hunting,' 'leading,' 'changes,' 'strokes,'
> Do not think that these are jokes.
> ' Dodge the middlc,' 'behind,' 'before,' Be a 'Bob' but not a bore.
> Don't go 'Wrong' but get ' right' 'home,' Else climb down from up the dome.
> - Maximus' is just a twelve,
> ' Tuffings, not the only helve ;
> - Minors,' 'Majors,' 'Triples ; call
> Men of muscle, short or tall.
> 'Caters,' 'Royal,' 'Cinques' there are, 'Single,' 'Doubles, don't debar:
> Then you'll flourish 'touch' or 'peal'
> Show your nous and prove your zeal.

A COMPOSITION OF YURKSHIRE

Dear Sir,-In reply to Mr. Warwick, attention was drawn to the falsencss of this composition to Yorkshire in "The Ringing World, No. 2,251. page 350 . Confusion may have arisen in that a composition of Yorkshire in my name was inadvertently withdrawn in mistake for the false composition the week before. To the best of my knowledge this peal (Report No. $53 / 97$ ) is not false. - Yours faithfully,
D. W. BEARD.

East Ham, E. 6.

REVERSE UNIUN BOB

Dear S:r,-The method mentioned by Mr. George Francis, which is St. Simon's with the 2-3 at the lead end instcad of $2-5$, was rung at Stanwell on or before February 15th. 1952, as Reverse Union Bot. Álso Bampton had been rung before it was published in "The Ringing World ' as St. Faith's Place. Accordingly the names Bampton and Reverse Bampton should be changed.

All the plain Doubles methods, about 100 , have been rung at Stanwell in the last two or three years, and unless you go on to methods with four blows occurring at other than trebles lead or tie there are no more to be named.

In the absence of any publication of Doubles methods I will willingly supply information about same on the recejpt of a stamped addressed envelope.-Yours sincerely,

MR. FRANK L. FISHER

With regret we record the death of Mr. Frank L. Fisher, of Ufford, Suffolk, on May 20th, ac the age of 54 , as briefly announced in our last issue. Frank began ringing immediately after the first world war and continued in his quict way until late 1953, when illness compelled him to go into hospital where, with the exception of a few weeks at home and convalescent, he remained to within a week of his death. which occurred on May 20 th.

One of the few East Anglian men who made a real study of Grandsire Triples, he had called Holt's Original from every bell, including the tenor, and from each pair of handbclls. His peals, which numbered over 200 for the Suffolk Guild, included Surprise Major, Royal and Maximus.

Frank was a friend of everyone who knew him and Suffolk ringers feel his loss intensely, as shown by the many who attended his funeral, which took place on May 25th at Ufford, conducted by the Rector. In his address the Rector said Frank Fisher was an inspiring example of a man whom not even years of painful ill-health could turn from the assiduous worship of our Lord in His church. Sunday by Sunday until he was no longer physically capable of getting there, he would be seen at church at Sung Mass, Matins and Evensong.

He loved his bells and did great service in training as ringers any young people who desircd his help. There is probably no better known ringer in Suffolk. It may seem a smalt thing, but every other day for many years he wound up the church clock-often at much inconvenience-a benefit shared by the whole village. He ended his life as he lived it-in faith and in the love of God.

MR. HARRY FURBER HOLDING

We regret to record the death of Mr. Harry F. Holding, who died at the age of 64 and had been a ringer at Christ Church, Crewe, for 50 years.

He was known by ringers in many countics, having rung 230 peals, including one of 17,280 changes of Kent Treble Bob Major, which took place at Over Parish Church on July 21st, 192 s, taking ten hours to complete, and remaining a record for many years. He was a member of the regular Sunday service band and held the office of tower secretary for 30 years.

His remains were carried into Christ Church by his fellow ringers on the eve of his funeral on May 25 th.

The bells were rung half-muffled on both occasions, the ringers being: Richard D. Langford. William Holding, George A. Packer, Wilfred Kerr, Ivor Nicholls, Frank Stenson, Steve Leyland, Jack Holloway, Malcolm Owen, Herbert Edge, Clifford Thomas, also Herbert Sutton, from Acton.

He will be greatly missed by his fellow ingers.
R. D. L. ringers.

MR. A. WEAVER

The death occurred on May 23 rd at the Hamadryad Hospital, Cardiff, of Mr. Bert Weaver. 'Old Bert,' as he was affectionately called, was for many years captain and' steeplekeeper at St. Augustine's, Penarth.

Born at Marden, in Herefordshire, he was a carpenter by trade and for many years worked for Mr. William Greenleaf, the bellhanger, assisting in the rehanging of many rings of bells up and down the country. He later entered the service of the old Taff Vale Railway, later absorbed into the Great Western Railway. He was a regular attender at Association meetings and his genial presence and quaint humour will be greatly missed.
F. J. H.

MR. PETER WUOD, SEN.

The sudden death of Mr. Peter Wood, sen., of Billingshurst, on May 23 rd, came as a great shock to all who knew him. He was not a great peal ringer, having rung only three or four but was one of those who never failed to fulfil his work for the church and service ringing.

He served St. Mary's Church well and truly for 57 years in choir and ringing and as head server for the latter years.

16 TOWERS VISITED DURING WHITSUN

A very enjoyable and successful week-end, mainly in Shropshire, was had by members of various Societies of "Tower Grabbers." The advanoe guard arrived in Shrewsbury on the Saturday afternoon and took part in a tour arranged by the assistant curate of St. Julian's, the Rev. A. James Vincent, himself a ringer. Towers visited (all sixes) were Westbury, Worthen, Bishop's Castle and Clunbury but Pulverbatch was reached so late that there was no one there to unlock the belfry door.

The non-arrival of expected ringers from Warwickshire and Somerset caused the cancellation of a tour on the Sunday afternoon, but service ringing was enjoyed at Shrewsbury, St. Chad's (12), in the morning and at two Staffordshire towers, Eccleshall (6) and Broughton (8), in the evening. Late on Sunday evening two well-known ringers arrived in the green Commer van from Truro, and with the co-operation of the incumbent enabled Little Wenlock to be 'bagged' early on Monday. Arriving at Much Wenlock (8), where the Hereford Guild were holding their "annual,' the party was joined by members of the N.S.T.G. and rang here and at Coalbrookdale (10). Madeley (8) and Broseley (8). It was then decided to try to 'bag' Willey (5), and Michael Horseman's winning ways proved successful in obtaining permission. Morville (6) was the next official ${ }^{\text {p }}$ tower, and here the band were met by the Vicar and captain. These two gentlemen suggested that the party should ring at Quatt Malvern, and permission was readily obtained for the use of these delightful six bells. The last tower was Powick (6) in Worcestershire, where the party, delayed by heavy returning holiday traffic, were grateful to find a local ringer patiently waiting for them. So ended a happy week-end, enjoyed by ringers from the counties of Cornwall, Devon, Monmouth and Somerset, joined by others from Bedfordshire, Staffordshire and elsewhere at certain of the towers.

THE COUNCIL MEETING

THOSE who journeyed to Bristol for the Central Council meeting must have wondered what effect the threatened rail strike was going to have on the attendance; yet in the event almost a record number of members signed the roll. Perhaps it was the glorious weather, or the attraction of a famous city, or maybe the members hastened westward determined to avenge the wrongs which the experts-the dictators-the indefinable 'they'-had been inflicting on the Exercise for so long. Bob Triples must be legalised, many times over according to the agenda, or it was clear that twenty thousand ringers (from counties other than Cornwall) would want to know why.

An informal gathering had been arranged for an hour before the Standing Committee meeting, of such proposers and seconders of the various motions as were available, in an attempt to agree on a composite version. Success was achieved with a minute to spare, but the revised motion was not without its critics in the Council, mostly on the grounds that it did not go far enough, although one member at least thought it went too far. But after considerable discussion an amendment was carried as a result of which the Council will now recognise all true peals which conform to the conditions laid down four years ago, but amended slightly two years ago and again this year. It follows from this, of course, that such peals will be included in the Analysis. Let it be noted, however, that the Council did not depart from its definition of a 'regular' method, which was reaffirmed during the long discussion on the Handbook Sub-Committee's report.
This re-examination of the Council's Decisions and Reports, which occupied most of the afternoon, was not exactly light going, and it was as well that the morning had provided some light relief, as when Mr. Harry Miles warned members of the dangers of undertaking seemingly small tasks-his had taken something like seven years to complete. Nevertheless, all were grateful to him and to his associates for the immense trouble they had taken, and for their help.

Some amusement was also caused by the reference to 'Passallatessera' and 'Passallatria' methods. It was eventually agreed to regard these survivors of the 1906 Report on Method Classification as Exercise methods, should any be rung. The critic who reproached the subcommittee for not finding other names confessed himself unable to do so, but the fact is that 'Surprise,' 'Delight " and so forth are accepted because they have come down from ringing's early days, whereas modern expressions of a like character would sound slightly ridiculous-for example, 'Marvel,' tried out some fifty years ago, but soon abandoned.
The meeting had begun with the reading of a message sent to a former secretary on his 90th birthday and a welcome to another respected member, the Rev. F. Ll. Edwards, who had come almost straight from a long spell in hospital. It was followed by a civic reception at the historic Red Lodge, graced by the presence of the Lord Mayor and Lady Mayoress and by the Dean of Bristol. Ice-cream and a handbell course of Stedman Cinques were served up on the lawn, and one young lady at least preferred the former. So to Leicester next year, and perhaps a visit to Ireland in 1958.
E. A. B.

NOT FAIT ACCOMPLI

Dear Sir,-In your leading article in the issue of June loth you refer to a decision taken at Bristol to have a President's badge of office, and also say that a vicepresident is to be appointed. I think it should be made clear that the Committee which was set up is to consider the desirability of recommending the purchase of a badge and the creation of this new office, and that neither should be taken as a fait accompli. If such recommendations are made they will, of course, have to be accepted by the Council before further action can be taken.

Yours faithfully,
E. A. BARNETT.

To mark the 12 th centenary of the martyrdom of St . Boniface, a pilgrimage was made from Exeter Cathedral to the birthplace at Crediton, headed by the Bishops of Exeter and Crediton and 300 clergy and laity, which numbered 300 by the time Crediton was reached. A brief halt was made at Newton St. Cyres Church, which is about halfway along the route, where the pilgrims were welcomed by the bells. As they left the church a well-struck quarter peal of Grandsire Triples was rung in honour of the saint.
Following upon the decision of the Central Council a member informs us that he is already planning a peal of Plain Bob Caters, and also hopes to ring Grandsire Minor or Major.
Fifty years ago on May 27th Mr. J. Thomas conducted his first peal of Stedman Caters. The anniversary was commemorated by Mr. Thomas calling the same method at Worcester.
The ten bells at the Imperial Institute were rung for the first time for the Queen's birthday since being rehung by the Whitechapel Bell Foundry.
Mr. and Mrs. F. Bowden, of Haslemere, while on holiday in South Wales with their daughter, Margaret, helped to complete the band at St. Mary's Church, Tenby, for the Whitsun services.
Old Headington ringers, past and present, recently held a successful dinner at Eastgate Hotel, Oxford. It is hoped to make this an annual event. On June 18th they are joining with Marston ringers in a combined outing, when several Oxford towers will be visited.
Mr. Frederick Sharpe has informed us that he made a mistake in replying to Mr . Cecil Pipe's question on the report of the Towers and Belfries Committee (page 364). The Sutfolk tower which received attention was Lowestoft, and not Ipswich.

The bells of All Saints', Colchester, now a redundant church, are to be used in the proposed new church at Little Horkesiey,will replace the one which was destroyed by a will replace the one which was destroyed by a parachute mine during the war. Four of these bells were cast by Miles Graye, the Colchester bellfounder, and the third by Richard Bowler (1587). The bells are being reconditioned in a London foundry.

'E. C. S.,' in his admirable leader of June 3rd, referred to A. G. Driver. J. W. Driver, mentioned in the text, was a ringer at Chelsea many years ago and had no connection with A. G.

The Guild of Devonshire ringers in 1954 elected 85 performing members. Three bands, Brixham, Kentisbeare and Uffculme, joined the Guild.
St. George's, Camberwell, band, saw the Thames Valley at its best on June 4th, when they held their second annual outing. Towers visited were Marlow, Burnham and Cookham, where local ringers made them welcome and also assisted previously in planning the tour.
St. Albans Cathedral has a keen young team of beginners, average age 15 , who are making good progress in Grandsire, Plain Bob and Stedman. On June 4th they organised an afternoon tour, visiting Sandridge, Kimpton and Redbourn. After a picnic some of the party cycled to Abbots Langley to attend a ringing meeting.
Thanks to Mr. G. W. Jeffs, Lincolnshire ringers from Thurlby, Bourne, Rippingale, Billingborough, Silk Willoughby and Sleaford had an enjoyable tour in Northamptonshire on June 4th. Towers visited were Wilby, Mears Ashby. Cogenhoe, Brafield and three in Northampton. Through 'The Ringing World,' the party wish to thank Mr. Jeffs and all tower captains.

BROADCASTING COMMITTEE'S GOOD WORK - BOOK ON DOUBLES IN PRINTER'S HANDS WIDENING THE RANGE OF PEAL RINGING. SHOULD RECORD LENGTHS BE TREATED DIFFERENTLY? COUNCIL SAY 'NO'

BROADCASTING AND TELEVISION COMMITTEE

The formation of this new committee at Newcastle was considered necessary to cope with the ever increasing field of sound and vision radio, and as an endeavour to ensure that, eventually, all aspects of ringing introduced on sound and vision programmes should be of a good standard and suitably presented from the ringers' point of view.

Your committee has, during the past year, made considerable effort to become acquainted with the heads of departments in the various regions and has attained some measure of success.

We have been fortunate in enlisting the cooperation of the Publicity Department of the B.B.C. in the person of Mr. F. L. Cobb, the chief of this department. We now have an understanding with him to the effect that all items relating to bell-ringing shall be sent to him from the various regions and particulars passcd to "The Ringing World' for publication. Obviously an arrangement of this sort will take a considerable time to reach perfection, as it involves the complete co-operation of the powers-that-be in the various regions. In this direction the members of your committee have made every endeavour to contact their religious directors and others concerned with the use of the bells in broadcasting and to persuade them to pass the necessary information in good time for publication. In due course we hope that we shall receive sufficient recognition by the B.B.C. to be consulted on all matters in this sphere of broadcasting. This may sound a little Utopian but should, we feel, be our ultimate objective.

In the main our contacts have concerned sound radio; we have, however, achieved some measure of success on the vision side. A suggestion regarding the Interlude on vision has been recejved from a member of the Salisbury Diocesan Guild, and we have been fortunate in enlisting the good offices of one of the leading vision producers to get this passed to the proper quarter. Should this idea become a fact, we feel sure it will be well received by the ringing fraternity.
We have during the year co-opted the services of the Rev. Gilbert Thurlow.
It is not proposed in this report to go into any great detail with regard to what has been seen and heard on the radio during the year under review. Many rings, from all over the country, have been heard prior to divine service. In the main, the ringing has been of a fair standard. An old sore, of course, is how much uninterrupted ringing there should be. When we have established ourselves a little more firmly with the B.B.C. we hope to do something in this direction. Such items as the Bedfordshire Young Ringers' tour and the long length attempt at Loughborough were well covered on the air. On the vision side, bells, particularly handbells, have been introduced on a number of occasions.
The most important point concerning all broadcasting in which ringers take part is that the highest possible standard of performance should be aimed at. The ringing of good rounds is much to be preferred to poor change ringing. This applies more particularly to country towers where a shortage of competent ringers precludes good change ringing. With the best will in the world, we feel our efforts wrill be in vain if ringers themselves do not put their house in order, and on this theme we would end our report.

Mr. H. Sanger moved and Mr. F. W. Rogers seconded the adoption of the report.

Mr. H. Miles said when big conferences werc held the B.B.C. generally gave a news item. He thought that some arrangement should have been made.

Mr. Brian Threlfall suggested that the B.B.C should be invited to broadcast a ringers' meeting.

Mr. Sanger replied that the B.B.C. were not easy people to deal with and while they might suggest things it was not easy to get them through.

Mr. F. W. Rogers said that as to the B.B.C. reporting their activitics at Eastbourne, some ringing at the Council meeting was recorded in the news the same evening.
Mr. F. Skidmore: The B.B.C. were informed of this meeting and said they would do what they could but they did not do anything.

Mr. C. Pope: I think the B.B.C. are more interested in the religious service than the bells. If an approach was made through the incumbent perhaps a little more time for the bells might be arranged.

Mr. F. W. Goodfellow said until recently the B.B.C. had a feature of the bells on Christmas Day and Easter Day. Could they inquire why it was dropped?

Mr. T. J. Lock said in regard to television it was pointed out to him that because of the apparatus required, ringing should be from the ground floor.

The report was adopted.

LITERATURE AND PRESS COMMITTEE

The report of this committee appeared on page 350 .
Mr. E. Shepherd moved the adoption of the report and said the committee was very selfconscious of its defects. In the past, under the direction of the Rev. F. Ll. Edwards, the reports were prepared with great care and scholarship. He thanked ringers who had forwarded papers and articles.

Mr. F. E. Dukes seconded the adoption.
The Rev. F. LI. Edwards thought the committee had produced an admirable report.

PEALS ANALYSIS COMMITTEE
The year 1954 showed a steady decline in the number of peals rung, particularly in the realm of handbell ringing. The grand total was 2,406 , made up of 2.283 on tower bells and 123 on handbells. The former were split up as follows: Maximus 34. Cinques 33, Royal 104, Caters 83, Major 923, Triples 266, Minor 621 and Doubles 219. It will be noted that the last two make up 34.9 per cent of the total. (Good for you, the countrymen!)
This total includes one peal of Plain Bob Cinques by the Norwich Association, one of Plain Bob Caters by the Suffolk Guild and one of Plain Bob Triples each by the Essex Association, Oxford Diocesan Guild, Suffolk Guild and the Truro Guild. One peal of Grandsire Doubles, by the Derbyshire Association, was not acceptable as 60 changes were added.
Outstanding performances. Peals worthy of special mention are:
A peal in 45 methods of Doubles in which the conductor rang two "inside bells, for the Middlesex Association.
Original Triples by the Winchester Guild
Peals of Spliced Triples in 11, 10 and six methods by the Worcester and Districts.
Thirty-two Spliced Surprise Major by the Lincoln Guild.

Peals in 36, 42 and 48 Spliced Surprise Major methods by the Yorkshire Association.
Handbell peals. These are made up as follows:
Cinques 1. Royal 5. Caters 5. Major 45, Triples 10, Minor 36 and Doubles 21. The outstanding performance was a peal of Cambridge Surprise Major by the Leicester Guild.

We deplore the fading away of this branch of our art and fully recommend its fascination to the younger exponents of tower bells.

It is our sincere wish that a permanent decision may be reached regarding the inclusion of peals of Plain Boh on the odd numbers.

Heading the peals totals was the Leicester Guild with 197 peals ( 10 on handbells) followed by the Kent County with 146, third was the Suffolk Guild (127) and the Essex Association fourth (123). The Cleveland and North Yorkshire Association and the Ladies' Guild both failed to produce a peal this year.

Mr. W. Ayre moved and Mr. H. Miles seconded the adoption of the report and this was carried.

METHODS COMMITTEE

The Methods Committee has had a quiet year. Having completed the book of Doubles Methods. it has turned its attention to the revision of the Minor and Triples Methods books, as requested by the Council last year. The former, being a very popular publication, it was decided to reprint the last edition with only few alterations and then to produce a completely new work over the next few years. The revision of the Triples Methods book has commenced and we hope to have it in print for next year's Council. Its contents will dcpend to some extent on the decisions of the Council about such methods at this session. We would like to express our appreciation at the help given to us by Mr. Segar.

The Rev. K. W. H. Felstead in moving the adoption of the report said there was not very much to say for once.
Mr. F. W. Rogers seconded.
Mr. W. E. Critchley asked about the Doubles book.
Mr. Sharpe replied that it went to the printers six weeks ago and the printer hoped to have the proof ready in a fortnight or three weeks' time.
The report was adopted.

REPORT OF THE PEALS COLLECTION COMMITTEE

The Committee has not proceeded further with the proposed collection of compositions for Stedman Caters and Cinques. At the last Council meeting it was decided to await publication of the revised edition of 'Stedman' in the J. W. Snowdon series and reconsider the need for such a collection.

Mr. C. W. Woolley moved the adoption of the report and said he had a strong letter from Mr. C. W. Roberts who disagreed with the report.
Mr. W. E. Critchley seconded.
The President: How is the revised book on Stedman Caters going?
Mr. E. C. S. Turner: It is anticipated that the new edition of Stedman will be finished by about the end of this year.
The report was adopted.

ALTERATION OF RULES

Mr . E. A. Barnett moved an alteration of rules as follows: To amend Rule 4, Section (ii), by inserting the words 'Non-Territorial' between 'the ' and 'Societies." The section to read: "The representation of the Non-Territorial Societies now affiliated to the Council shall be as specified in the schedule of these Rules unless modified in application to and by permission of the Council.'
Mr. F. I. Hairs seconded and this was agreed to.

BOB TRIPLES, CATERS AND CINQUES
The president said that a number of motions before the Council had the same object in view. A mocting of proposers and seconders of these motions was held previous to the Standing Committee meeting to see if agreement could be reached on motions (a), (b), (c), (d), (e), (f) and (g). He was thankful to say that they had agreed to the following :-
'That this Council while not encouraging the ringing of peals which are not in accordance with its decisions resolves to recognise all true peals rung in conformity with the conditions required for peals laid down in 1951 (sce "The Ringing World," page 187, in the issuc of March 25 th, 1955) as subsequently amended, except that the Council is not prepared to recognise any peals rung to surpass a previous peal in length, number of methods or in any way which does not comply with its rules and decisions.'
This motion was considered by members during the luncheon interval and upon resuming the president asked Mr. C. K. Lewis to speak first.

Mr Lewis said he became very concerned over this matter some time ago and he had come to the conclusion that they should be wrong from an historical point of view-and a member had suggested from a moral point of view-if they commended these irregular methods. 'Some people may have felt I have shifted my views. I have not. What I want is consistency for all decisions.
'I still hold the view the Council's decisions are a very desirable aim, but if people wish and desire to ring something that does not conform we shall be wrong from the historian's point of view in abolishing them. Irregular peals would be lost completely and in 50 years' time someone might come along and there would be no record. If Annable had his way peals with singles would be out. He did not like them. There was a danger that we should be losing something. I am anxious that nothing shall be lost, either regular or irregular, and the main point is that we should not dismiss anything because it is not in accord with our own ideas. Let us leave it to history to say if we are right. I have much pleasure in proposing this resolution.'

Mr. E. A. Barnett, in seconding, said it was the intention if the motion was passed that peals rurg in 1953 which were deferred at last year's meeting would automatically be allowed.

The Rev. F. Ll. Edwards said he had rung a fair amount of Plain Bob but probably on even numbers. He had the pleasure in taking part in the first peal of Bob Royal which was ever recorded for the Ancient Society of College Youths and that was rung on the Shrove Tuesday of Queen Victoria's Diamond Jubilee. He only attempted one peal of Bob Triples and that was not successful. On the five bells in his village church they rang Bob Minimus with the tenor behind because they were not capable of ringing any more. He knew many members of the Exercise enjoyed ringing Bob Triples, Bob Caters and Bob Cinques and found it a useful way of bringing on young ringers. He thought the Central Council should recognise any peal. The first peal ever rung was Bob Triples and the motion if passed would cover Bob Triples.

Mr. E. C. S. Turner: The amended resolution does not cover all I desired but I am content to let it stand.

Mr. C. W. Woolley said it was the first time he had come to a Council meeting with a decided opinion from his own consityents as to what they wanted. He felt the Council should not discourage anything. He had a ring of eight with 30 cwt . tenor and a young band. They were advised to ring Plain Bob and did so very successfully with the tenor behind. A band like that wanted encouraging. These extra words in the amended resolution were, he presumed, for long length peals. Personally he was all for them being recognised as peals.

Mr. W. F Moreton said there were two points he would like to make. The first was that the resolution would allow all Minor methodsregular and irregular-to be included in the resolution. Secondly, there had recently been a lot of criticism of the Methods Committec and onc of the things was Bob Triples. He would like to ask if the Methods Committee had ever said anything about Bob Triples.

The Rev. K. W. H. Felstead: Bob Triples has never been referred to the Methods Committee and we have never passed any judgment about it.
Mr P. A. Corby said they did aim the previous night on a wording that would meet the case generally and suit all parties-the wording was perhaps a little less strong than suggested by Mr. Poole and himself. It was a fact that they should not lose sight of, that there had been strong expressions from the Exercise as to certain methods. The Council as a body was accused of saying that certain methods should or should not be rung and the rank and file of the Exercise did not like that and in some quarters they had been vocal in saying so. The purpose of the resolution was to realise the function of the Council in regard to the advice it should or should not give. In other words how far should the Council go? In the past the Council had got itself in difficult situations in seeking to find legitimate answers to many problems and there had been a tendency to diaw the attention of the Exercise to some to the exclusion of others. In the past there had been an under emphasis on the word "surprise and more latterly there had been an over emphasis on 'extension.

3o far as Bob Triples is concemed Mr. Poole and I made an attempt to test the feeling of the Exercise with regard to the resolutions coming before the Council today. I may say that with the exception of two members of the Council every reply was in favour of both resolutions. We had 120 replies and that shows that the Exercise generally is in sympathy with what we are trying to do today.
Mr. H. J. Poole said it would be obvious to the members of the Council the confidence Mr. Corby had gained since he left Kent and went into Leicestershire. 'I have agreed to the substituted motion and I think what we should be more concerned about than Bob Triples is the Exercise's reaction to what the Council has done in recent ycars. It is quite obvious from all quarters that there is a strong feeling that the Council has gone beyond its intention or authority and it is very necessary we should bear in mind that we want and need the support of all the Exercise. We want not merely the support of members coming to this meeting but every ringer of the country and the only way to get that support was to be reasonable. I feel in the past that between the technicians (I have the highest possible regard for those people who have gone into method construction) and the practical ringers there was a gap which it was difficult to bridge. What we must however be concerined about is the Sunday service ringers. Whatever our views may be about peal ringing-and I am a keen peal ringer-we ought to bear in mind the Sunday service ringer. Up to now we have said, "You should not ring Bob Triples in peals." We have many who say, "If it is good enough to be rung for Sunday service it is good enough to be rung to peals," and this is having its reaction. We should listen to these people.'

Mr. Norman Chaddock moved as an amendment that the words beyond all true peals be deleted.
Mr. J. T. Dunwoody seconded.
Mr. C. K. Lewis in reply to the amendment said those who were a lot older than he would remember they used to ring Woodbine Treble Bob and with bobs call it Merchant's Return, thus clarming two methods. If they were going to ring record lengths conditions should be more stringent than for ordinary gain.

Mr. N. Chaddock said the same fallacy would occur in an ordinary peal.
Mr. Lewis: You must protect people going for records by protecting them from spurious records. If you want to make a record in any direction you observe very strongly all the rules. Records require more stringent rules.
Mr. John Freeman opposed the amendment He agreed that rules and decisions wanted to be considered from time to time and revised, but there was one proviso-some benefit should be gaincd. In his opinion nothing would be gained. He had never agreed that Bob Triples was a good start for the beginner. Having come from a tower brought up on Grandsire and Stedman it was not surprising. He did not think Mr. Corby's Gallup poll could be taken as an expression of opinion. Mr. Poole pleaded the case of the blue line written three years ago; he expressed the opinion that if they followed the blue line they would get nowhere. If they supported the amendment they would be opening the door for everything they tbought right or wrong to be swept away because they got a spate of letters in 'The Ringing World.

Mr W. E. Critchley felt that by the resolution they would get the confidence and goodwill of many.

The Rev. J. G. M. Scott said in the matter of the last wording of the motion they would have to draw a distinction between peal records in length and records in the number of methods. Mr. Lewis had said one could call a bob in a method and call the result another method, like calling a bob in Cambridge and calling it Timbuetoo. If they chose to ring 105 methods and called a bob in each method they would get 210. Without some distinction in methods there would be a lot of dissatisfaction.

Mr. C. W. Woolley: Surely the Council will retain the right to say whether Cambridge with a bob is Timbuctoo?

Mr. E. A. Barnett: If we do that we shall be held as dictators.

Mr. E.C.S. Turner: Would it not be better to have a type of record for regular methods and another for irregular?

The Rev. K W. H. Felstead: I think we must be very careful about this. There ought to be some distinction between record peals and ordinary peals.

Dr. Hatcher: Surely we should specify conditions about record peals.

Mr. C. W. Pipe: Can we clear up Plain Bob on all numbers?

The President: This motion covers Plain Bob on all numbers. It also covers irregular methods.
Mr. H. Miles: The whole of the controversy has arisen because of the reference back of the Peals Analyses Committee. I should like to hear the views of the convencr of the Peals Analyses Committee.
Mr. Walter Ayre: The convener of the Peals Analyses Committee has nothing to say.
Mr. Miles: As a member of the Peals Analyses Committee I don't agree. At the last meeting I said that most of the Associations agreed to abide loyally by the rules and decisions of the Central Council and that was what we (the Cominitlee) tried to do. We have tried to draw up the analyses under the rules and decisions of the Council. I contend if there is any rule that is not wanted all that is needed is to bring up a resolution to rescind the rule. All the time these rules and decisions appear on our books we must abide by them. We have heard a lot about dictatorial methods and who are the Central Council. The affiliated Associations are the Central Council. I think there is a lot of tosh being talked this afternoon.
Mr. A. E. Lock: I think it was said in 1905 that Bob Triples should not be practised because it is not worthy of being retained. That does not lay down a hard and fast rule. We on the Committee of the Oxford Diocesan Guild were almost unanimous that that resolution should be dropped.
Mr. A. D. Barker : There were 29 who voted for that and I voted against it.
Mr. N. Chaddock: The reason we should leave out the latter part of the resolution.
The amendment, which reads: 'That this Council will recognise all true peals rung in conformity with the conditions laid down for peals in 1951, as subsequently amended,' was put to the meeting and carried by a very large majority.

A NEW BELL AT ST. MARTIN'S, BIRMINGHAM

The new bell in the tower at St. Martin's Church, Birmingham, has been in position for some time, but it has been the wish of the Rector that it should not be rung until complete success had been achieved in the $£ 100,000$ appeal for church restoration and extension. The amount asked for has now been fully subscribed, and on Thursday, June 2nd, the bell was rung for the first time.
The service of dedication was held in the ringing chamber, and was conducted by the Rector, Canon Bryan Green, assisted by the senior curate, the Rev. G. C. Potts. In the senior curate, of the service prayers were offered for ringers and their work, and the Rector expressed his appreciation of the ceaseless labours of his ringers as office bearers in the church.
The Master of St. Martin's Guild, Mr. Albert Walker, thanked the Rector for his constant interest in the belfry, after which Canon Green rang the new bell. A bob course of Stedman Triples and a course of Cambridge Major were then rung on the new eight.
The bell, which is in $\mathbf{B}$ flat, weighs 8 cwt ., and bears the inscription: 'I was first rung on the completion of the appeal for $£ 100.000$ for the restoration of St. Martin's Church.' It adds a flat sixth to the existing twelve, and gives a fine octave in $F$ with a tenor of about 14 cwt . It is expected to provide a useful light eight, both for general purposes and for the training of beginners.

The Master has pointed out that on Tuesday nights at 6.30 there is a special practice for beginners in various stages, and it is hoped that more aspirants will take advantage of this opportunity to benefit by the help and advice of more experienced practitioners. A. W.

ANCIENT SOCIETY OF COLLEGE YOUTHS

Spring Meeting at Bristol

On May 7th a party of College Youths under the leadership of their Master (Mr. C. J. Watts) and accompanied by their secretary (Mr. A. B. Peck) and other officers travelled from London to Bristol, where, by invitation of the members in that city, the Society's spring meeting was to be held.

Mr. Albert Tyler and other country memmers met the party at Temple Meads Station and quickly rushed them off to St. Stephen 's, the first tower of the day. En route the leaning tower of Temple Church was pointed out and regret was expressed that time did not allow any ringing there. (It was found later that the bells had been taken out.) St. Stephen's are a pleasant ten, and their merry tune was soon sounding out over the city.
By the time everyone had had a ring it was time for lunch, which was served at headquarters for the day, the Grosvenor Hotel, and where a room had been set aside for the Society's use. In the afternoon ringing took place at St. Mary Redcliffe, but unfortunately this was not up to the Society's usual high standard and consequently this glorious twelve was not heard at its best. Moving on to St. Thomas' the Society found that London did not have a monopoly of bad-going bells.
A company of more than 60 sat down to tea, which was followed by a short business meeting. Mr. C. R. Harding, on behalf of the Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association, gave the Society a warm welcome to Bristol to which the Master replied suitably. The Master then addressed the members saying how glad he was that the meeting had been so well attended by members from as far away as Cheshire and Cornwall. He remarked that this was a sure sign that the members of the Society throughout the country, and in particular those in the West of England, realised that while the day to day business of the Society must necessarily be carried on by the London members, those in the country had just as important a place in the Society and were always welcome to take part in the Society's ringing and deliberations whenever they were in London. He urged them to use their endeavours to further the well-being of the Society, bearing in mind its proud history extending over 300 years, and to make the future a worthy successor of the past. He also tendered the Society's sincere thanks to Mr. Albert Tylor for the able way in which he had organised the day's programme, which had gone without a hitch.

A social hour then followed, during which old friendships were renewed and new ones made. and all too soon it was time for the members to leave for home after what all declared had been a very successful and enjoyable day.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD

Annual Meeting at Marlborough

The festival and annual general meeting was held at Marlborough on May 21st. Fourteen towers were open for ringing, which started just after midday.
The annual meeting was held in the Town Hall before a good gathering, the Master, the Rev. Canon C. Cox, presiding, supported by Mr. W. C. West (hon, secretary and treasurer) and Mr. F. Slatford (assistant hon. secretary).
In his report the hon. secretary stated that membership remained static at 1,030 ringing, 15 honorary and 11 associates, life members being 12, elected during the year. Some Branches had increased membership and two Branches had decreased slightly. Peals numbered 18, the lowest for many years, and included one of Cambridge Maximus (first for the Guild).
Apologies were received from the Earl of Shaftesbury, the Rev. F. L1. Edwards, Mrs. Hibberd, Messrs. J. I. Davis, F. Precey and R. H. Duke.

Election of officers:- President, Lord Shaftesbury; Master, Rev. Canon Carew Cox; hon. secretary and treasurer, Mr. W. C. West; hon. assistant secretary, Mr. F. Slatford; hon. auditors, Messrs. J. S. Weeks and C. F. Andrews. Thanks were expressed to the above for the work of the past year.
The Guild office and service were held in St. Mary's Church conducted by the Rector, the Rev. F. B. R. Brown, R.D., assisted by Canon Cox, the Ven. C. A. Plaxton, Canon White and the Rev. J. S. Arthur. The Rector gave the address, and the Archdeacon of Wiltshire the Blessing. A band of ringers from Lyme Regis rang a course of Grandsire Caters during the service.
Tea was served in the Town Hall, to which 140 sat down, the company being welcomed by the Deputy Mayor, Mr. A. J. Free, on behalf of the town of Mariborough.
Hearty thanks were expressed to all concerned in the arrangements and the members dispersed to the various towers available for ringing bath in and outside the Branch area.

OUTING  HUTTON, ESSEX

After an enjoyable ring on Kelvedon's pleasant bells, our coach sped on its way to and through South Suffolk.
Our Guild was revisiting this fair county and, as before, in 1952 and 1954, we were cordially welcomed, enjoying the mellow rings at St. Gregory's, Sudbury, and Rougham. Two hours flew by at Bury St. Edmunds-lunch first and then to the Abbey Gardens, the Cathedral Church of St. James and the massive pile of St. Mary's.
Another couple of happy hours were spent at Cambridge, sampling the punts on the river of viewing the Backs, St. John's Gateway and the wonderful Chapel of King's before proceeding to Thaxted, back in Essex.
Here, for an hour, we admired the many ga:ly-attired teams of Morris dancers performing with skill before a large audience in front of the ancient Guildhall. Then we revelled in our last touches of the day on the musical ring at St. John's.
The following Saturday, May 28th, saw us again on a tower-grabbing expeditiontravelling poor man's fashion this time-on bicycles. Fobbing and Stanford-le-Hope, with their merry tuneful rings, were our main objectives, and a call in and a joyful pull on Ingrave's bells on our way home.

Thank you,' we sincerely say to all incumbents and friends who welcomed us to their towers.

A SUSSEX VILLAGE & ITS AUGMENTATION

The story of the rehanging and augmenting of Wadhurst bells can truly be said to be different from the ordinary rehanging job, for although some $£ 1,300$ was raised by public subscription, not once were the parishioners asked to give to the bells.

After the repairs of 1938, it was obvious that the old timber frame was near the end of its useful life; it was installed in 1760 and strengthened in 1891, and had got so loose that further repairs would be waste of money.
With the end of hostilities in 1945 the tower captain tried to get the Parochial Church Council interested, but each time the matter was brought up, something else had prior claim, viz., extensive repairs to the church roof, elimination of damp in the north aisle, a new chapel in the south aisle and converting a disused school building as a church in another section of the parish.
In 1952, when everything seemed set fair, the death-watch beetle made itself known and another $£ 2,000$ had to be raised. But the beetle proved to be a friend in disguise, for it was decided that all the timber in the church should be examined and the beetle was found to be working in the beams supporting the bell frame.
In 1953 Mr . F. E. Collins was asked to report on the state of the beams and bell frame, and later on it was decided that estimates should be invited, based on Mr. Collins' recommendations. At the end of October, 1953, the three founders presented their estimates, and a Parochial Church Council meeting was called. It seemed obvious that the only wise thing would be to accept one of them, but a section of the Council thought that as the famous 'Whiligh' oak grew in the parish, another timber frame should be installed. Lord Courthope was at the meeting and said that he doubted if enough good seasoned oak could be found on the whole of the estate
A faculty for a new steel frame, etc., was applied for, but the timber devotees protested to the Chancellor, and he said that an independent consultant architect should be called in to report on the matter. It speaks well for Mr. Collins that on reading this architect's report it seemed to be the whole of Mr. Collins' report, worded differently, the facts and the recommendations being exactly the same. On the receipt of this evidence the faculty was granted in June, 1954, and the bells removed in August.

In the meantime the public heard the one and only appeal for the bells and that was that someone should give two new trebles to complete the octave, but no one seemed interested Just as the bells came back in December, a legacy of $£ 100$ was left to the Vicar and wardens, who decided to use this for a new bell, and on the day that the last of the six bells was installed in the eight-bell frame, an anonymous person offered to give the other bell.
The six bells, in their new frame and fittings, were dedicated on December 19th, 1954, when everyone voiced their appreciation of the 'go' of the bells. The old treble, having been recast. sounded a little prominent, but as the new frame is lower in the tower and the bottom half of the louvres has been bricked up, the bells sound very pleasant outside.
On Saturday, May 28th, a large congregation of parishioners and ringers gathered for the dedication of the two new trebles by the Vicar of Wadhurst (Rev. A. N. H. Roscamp). An interesting address was given by the new Rector of Rotherfield (the Rev. R. F. K. Hare). The opening rounds were rung by C. A. Bassett 1 , L. W. Giles 2, J. Newick 3, Mrs. E. Bassett 4, Ann Bassett 5, J. Bishop 6, D. Neal 7, C. Pilbeam 8.
After the service there was a meeting of the East Grinstead Guild, when some 50 ringers tried out the new octave. The company were entertained to tea by the Church Council, after which the Vicar presided over the business in a manner reminiscent of the late Guild president. The Vicar was left in no doubt that Wadhurst now has a very fine octave, mechanically perfect and quite good tone, and with a band of 18 ringers in various stages of proficiency, the future looks very bright. It was regretted that the Sussex County Association were unable to be represented owing to a meeting that could not be altered.

The work, which was ably carried out by Messrs. John Taylor and Co., was as follows: Two new trebles, the old treble recast, the back five retuned and were actually the only old work to go back into the tower, everything else, down to the smallest nut and bolt, being new. The weights of the two new bells are about 41 cwt. and $4 \frac{1}{3}$ cwt., the rest as follows: No. $3,5 \mathrm{cwt}$. 7 lb .; No. $4,5 \mathrm{cwt} 2 \mathrm{qr} .13 \mathrm{lb}$.; No. $5,6 \mathrm{cwt} .15 \mathrm{lb}$.; No. $6,8 \mathrm{cwt}$. 1 qr. $8 \mathrm{lb} . ;$ No. $7,11 \mathrm{cwt}$. 11 lb .; tenor 12 cwt . 1 qr .15 lb . in F sharp.

NOTTS RINGERS' WEDDING

On June 4th, at Cotgrave Church, Notts, the wedding took place of Mr. Allan Simpson and Miss Joan E. Hoodless. The ceremony was conducted by the chairman of the Southwell Diocesan Guild, Canon R. F. Wilkinson, assisted by the Rector of Cotgrave, the Rev. A. H. Wakefield. The bride was given away by her father, Mr. Arthur E. Hoodless, and Mr. Brian Buswell was best man.
It is noteworthy that the officiating clergyman, bride, bridegroom, bride's father and best man are practising ringers, as are also the bride's grandfather and uncle.
The bridal pair were duly rung 'in' and out,' and on leaving the churchyard had to pass under a canopy of ten handbells charged with confetti, which was liberally bestowed
At the reception the numerous guests enjoyed a most bountiful repast. A musical touch of Grandsire Triples on the handbells by the bride, bridegroom, best man and C. Glenn evoked loud applause. In the afternoon a peal was rung at Daybrook by fellow-ringers in commemoration of the happy event.
The newly-married couple are taking up residence in Nottingham. Since ringing their first peal in August, 1952, their 22 peals have all been rung together, and this they hope to continue.

A HORRIFYING SIGHT

A party of ringers visiting Peterborough for the Diocesan Guild's annual meeting were impulsed out of curiosity and for archzological reasons to pause and look into the church at Orton Waterville (three miles from Peterborough and in the county of Hunts), where a feeling was that there existed three bells. They found four-treble by Thomas Norris, 1670 ; 2nd by Joseph Eayre, 1754; 3rd by Tobie Norris, sen., 1606 : and tenor of approximately $6 \frac{1}{4}$ cwt. by Joseph Eayre, 1755. All were on badly worm-eaten headstocks.
The frame for five bells would be capable of restoration after renewal of certain portions. A carpet of rubbish lay under the bells; the wheels were all broken and only one rope was any good. On the floor of the tower there was at least three-quarters of a ton of coke where chimers have to stand amid walls black with filth and a ladder in the middle of the belfry.
Curiasity also took the same party to Yarwell, where a ring was given on the four light bells, tenor 5 cwt .4 lb ., treble 2 cwt .1 qr .12 lb . Thornhaugh and Nassington were visited in addition. At Nassington they had a rope break; fortunately the Rector was present at the time.

LETTERS

half-MUFFLED RINGING

Dear Sir-With reference to W. J. Paice's letter in 'The Ringing World' of May 27th, I sincerely hope the day will never dawn when muffled and half-muffled ringing is just a memory. To ring the bells open at funerals is about the most disgusting thing 1 have ever heard. I wonder what sort of service those clergy who uphold open ringing at funerals conduct in Lent, Holy Week and Good Friday?
Contempt is the only feeling we can have for the Rector who refused permission for an attempted muffled peal at the time of the death of H.M. King George VI.
Bells should always be rung muffled at every sad occasion and period connected with the Church, eg., Lent, Palm Sunday, Remembrance Sunday, etc.-Yours truly,

PETER J. ROBERTS.
Barry, Glam.

WITHIN THE WALLS

By gad. Sir!
Shades of John Stow! Who has moved the Parish Church of St. Botolph without Bishopsgate 'in a fair churchyard, adjoining to the town ditch, upon the very bank thereof' so that it has become 'St. Botolph within the walls. Bishopsgate' (R.W., 3/6/66, page 343)?

Verily 'a fable, foolishly stowed together.'
Harborne.
Yours sincerely,
W. E. BOX.

A FALSE COMPOSITION OF YORKSHIRE Dear Sir, - In answer to Mr. Brian G. Warwick's letter regarding a false composition of Yorkshire, I should like to point out that as the conductor of the peal at Writtle on November 21 st , 1953, I myself withdrew the peal about two months afterwards through the columns of 'The Ringing World.' If Mr. Warwick would care to peruse the journals for February and/or March, 1954, he will find confirmation.
I had already notified the secretary of the Essex Association, but apparently it arrived too late to avert publication in the 1953 annual report, as the prototype had already been sent to the printers.
I deeply regret this had to occur again to Mr. Golden's composition (which runs true to Superlative), but I am entirely to blame and not Mr. Golden, because he sent it to me as a 5,088 Superlative. I hope Mr. Warwick will accept my apologies for leading him (unwittingly perhaps) up the garden path.'-Yours sincerely, Chelmsford.
PERCY GREEN.

LEEDS AND DISTRICT SOCIETY

Some twenty members and friends attended the monthly meeting at Batley on May 28th. During the afternoon and evening methods from Bob Minor to Double Norwich were rung. A broken treble rope brought ringing to a stop during the last lead of a touch of Kent prior to tea. The refixing of this rope gave rise to considerable ingenuity on the part of certain members afterwards!
At a short business meeting held in the tower a list of proposed meetings for the next two years was approved. Votes of thanks were passed to the Vicar and churchwardens, to the local company (especially to the young ladies who had served cups of tea), and to those members who had helped to get the treble rope back to its rightful place.
It is hoped that the next meeting will be a joint one with the Yorkshire District of the Ladies' Guild at Braham.

NORTH STAFFS ASSOCIATION

Presentation to Mr. W. Carnwell
The May meeting of the North Staffs Association was held in Leek, where the ten bells were rung to a varicty of methods in the afternoon and later in the evening. The service was taken by the Vicar (the Rev. J. Youell).

At the business of the meeting, which followed tea at the Swan Hotel, one new member was elected. The meeting also unanimously endorsed a recommendation of the committee that a collection should be taken at the services which are held at the monthly meetings.
After the formal business was completed the chairman, on behalf of the Association, presented a table lamp to Mr. W. Carnwell in appreciation of his eight years of service as secretary, from which office he had resigned at the annual meeting in December, 1954.
His membership of the Association began 35 years ago and he had succeeded his father, 66 years a ringer, as Ringing Master at Kingsley. He had rung 110 peals, the majority of which had been for the North Staffs Association, and had taken part in the first peal of Staffordshire Surprise Major and in the first peal of Bristol Surprise Major for the Association by a resident band. He was known to all the towers in the district and was held in high regard and affection by the Association members. It was a pleasure to know that his retirement from oftice, accepted with much regret, would not diminish his enthusiasm for ringing or his active membership of the Association. The Association extended its best wishes and thanks to Mr. Carnwell's wife and daughter for the support they had given him.
A further presentation of a cigarette lighter was made to Mr . W. Edwards, of Kingsley, who had been assistant secretary to Mr. Carnwell throughout his term of office. E. H. E.

SOCIETY OF ROYAL CUMBERLAND YOUTHS  Quarterly Meeting at Meopham

Attendance at the quarterly meeting of the Society, held on a beautiful summer afternoon at Meopham, Kent, suffered severely on account of the rail strike, and only a very small number of members and friends (all of whom had travelled quite long distances to be present) enjoyed ringing in various methods on the good light octave at St. John's during the afternoon. The Vicar (Canon V. S. Nicholis) conducted a most enjoyable service in church, and in the course of a brief but interesting address welcomed the Society to Meopham and regretted that transport difficulties had precluded a larger attendance.
A short business meeting followed tea in the Cricketers Inn, with the Master (Mr. T. H. Francis) in the chair. The belfry elections of Messrs. R. H. R. Parker and J. R. Cooper and Miss M. Parker were ratified, and the following new members elected: Messrs. P. F. Romney (Keymer), T. K. and K. W. Price (Bristol) and H. A. Nobes (Alverstoke). The secretary reminded members of the annual dinner, to be held at the Old Bell, Holborn, on Saturday, October 1st, and announced that the next quarterly meeting would be held at Dunstable and Totternhoe on Saturday, September 10th. The support of members was asked for.
The Master asked all present to stand in siknce as a token of respect to the memory of Mrs. C. J. Matthews, and reminded members of the great loss which the Society had suffered.
A very hearty vote of thanks was passed to Canon V. S. Nicholls for the use of the bells and for conducting the service, to the organist and to Canon Earle (Vicar of Wrotham) for the use of the bells there.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION

Rochester District

At the quarterly meeting held at Frindsbury on May 21st approximately 50 members and friends attended. The service was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. C. Prentice), who also took the chair at the meeting. Tea, which was provided by the local ringers, was taken in the Parish Hall. Five new members were elected at the business meeting, and a 'get well quick' card was signed by all members and sent to one of the local band. Mr. "Gus" Hewitt, who is in Dartford Hospital.
After the meeting handbells were rung before a return was mrade to the belfry for more ripging. The customary methods were rung but unfortunately were not up to the usual standard of striking.

OUTING

ST. MARY'S, HENDON

Friends from St. Andrew's, Kingsbury, St. Mary's, Finchley, and four visitors from the United States were included in the party of 32 when St. Mary's, Hendon, had a very enjoyable outing to the Sandy area of Bedfordshire on May 21st. The only disappointment was that 'Pop' ( 80 -year-old Mr. E. E. Pratchett) was prevented from attending through indisposition.
The friendly welcome received will not be forgotten, nor the magnificent tca provided by the Vicar of Potton and his lady helpers. Thanks are also extended to the Vicar of St. Leonard's. Old Warden, and Mr. Webb, the Rector of St. Peter's, Tempsford, and Miss Joan Harding and Miss Joan Ashton, of Sandy. Miss Ruth Foreman, Hendon's Ringing Master. carried out the duties of master of ceremonies in a charming way.

AN OBITUARY  ZMR. FRANK L. FISHER  An Appreciation

1rothe passing of Frank Fisher we here in East Suffolk have lost a ringer of no mean ability. Although seldom did he get any practice, he could always be relied on as a sure ringer and an excellent striker on all numbers.

In latter years he took to handbells, which he soon mastered, as also Holt's Original. This he called from all tower bells and all except 7-8 'in hand.' Some two years ago I asked him to stand in in an attempt for Cambridge Surprise Major (silent). His cheery answer was: 'I will if you call the Original.' I admit that here I had to let him down. Over a period of 30 -odd years whatever the weather or distance. Frank would always be there for a peal.

When I packed away the muffles after his funeral I could not but wonder who would take his place. His pride in the bells and the work the put into those bells that he loved could not be surpassed. His kind, quiet and genial disposition will always be remembered.

MR. W. H. PASMORE

By the passing on May 15 th in his 79th year of Mr. William H. Pasmore, the Ancient Society of College Youths has lost one of its stalwarts. He was a Past Master of the Society, and for several years held the honoured office of trustee. He was a member of the St. Paul's Cathedral Guild and also of the Westminster Abbey band, and up to within a few months of his death rang regularly at both places.

Learning to ring at Southwark Cathedral, he made quick progress, and joined the Ancient Society in 1895, the Waterloo Society and St. Margaret's Society in 1896, and the famous St. Stepher's Society in 1898. This latter was the Rochester Row band, which at that time ways making history with advanced methods, not only on tower bells but also on handbells, and in 1901 Mr . Pasmore and his brother took part in a silent peal of London at St. Stephen's, and also rang in the first Surprise handbell peal ever rung-Superlative Major.

His first peal, at the age of 20 , was rung in 1896 at St. Margaret's. Westminster, being Stedman Caters, and his last, Stedman Cinques, at Southwark in 1949.

He was a very outspoken man and was always in the forefront in maintaining the high iraditions of the Ancient Society. He earned and held the respect of all who knew him, and his passing on to higher service leaves the Exercise the poorer. May he rest in peace.

As is the custom with Abbey ringers, his body Was conveyed to Westminster Abbey, there to lie for one night before burial. The last rites were performed by Dr. Jocelyn Perkins, superintendent of the belfry.

Following is a record of the peals in which he took part:-

Grandsire.-Triples 6, handbells 2-8; Caters 2, 1-3; Cinques 1, 1-2.
-Stedman.-Triples 23,2-25; Caters 13, 215: Cinques $17,5-22$.

Plain Bob.-Major 1, 3-4; Royal 0, 1-1 ; Maximus 1, $1-2$.
Treble Bob.-Major 5, 1-6; Royal 7, 0-7; Maximus 4, 0-4.

Superlative. Major $8^{*}, 1-9$.
Cambridge Minor 1, Cambridge Major 11, Cambridge Royal 12, Cambridge Maximus 8, London Major 29, Bristol Major 3, Westminster Major 3, St. Stephen's Major 1.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION  Joint Meeting With Ladies' Guild

It was at the church of Biddenden-a gem in the magnificent setting of this unspoilt village and its lovely surrounding countryside, that the Ashford District had its first combined meeting with the Kent Branch of the Ladies' Guild on June 6th. Our hosts were the Society of Biddenden Youths, a flourishing band numbering nearly 20 with their learners. The luxury of their ringing chamber must be seen to be belicved!

Mr. H. G. Payne, the sceretary, with Mr. Geoffrey Waters, had bcen responsible for the arrangements, Ringing started at 3 o'clock and then came the customary service at 4.30 . This was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. A. B. Richardson). It was his first meeting, and he welcomed the ringers to his church.

A fine tea followed at the Chequers Inn, provided by the local band and their friends, and their generosity was thoroughly appreciated by the 40 members and friends. Then came the business meeting-District first, at which Ladies' Guild members were present. Mrs. Mitchell. on behalf of the latter, thanked the District for having made the combined meeting possible. Four new members were elected. Mr. G. Waters called attention to a forthcoming service for ringers which was to take place at Evensong on June 25 th at Biddenden. He also said he hoped to organise fortnightly practice mectings in the western half of the District next winter, similar to those of last winter. The District secretary asked for a volunteer for similar meetings in the coastal area. Mr. T. Cullingworth thanked the Vicar, the organist, choir and local band for all they thad done to make the meeting successful.

Then the men were thrown out and the ladies had their meeting!
During the evening Mr. Harry Baker had arranged for Frittenden tower to be open, and both towers were well patronised. Altogether 22 towers were represented by over 50 mumbers and methods were rung up to Superlative.

Once again we had many young ringers with us, and we wish to emphasise how welcome they are and hope they will join us whenever they can.
W. P. G.

ONE TOWER IN A DAY

By WILLIAM SHEPHERD

THE recent record of 24 towers in a day by a mixed party on a Bank Holiday is in striking contrast to travel conditions which existed in the early days of this century when one tower a day was sometimes more than enough. One memorable trip was from Exeter to Bridport for a peal of Stedman Triples on a Boxing Day when the writer was aroused from sleep at $5.45 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}$. to find the conditions bitterly cold and certainly unfavourable from a travel point of view.

My dad, my brother and myself arrived at Exeter Station and found my uncle pacing up and down the platform with his overcoat collar turned up, apparently not very optimistic about travel conditions. Uncle never spoke twenty words when ter would do, and he soon told us his version in a few words such as 'Ought not to be out. I have a cold. Wrong time of year for such a trip. Ought to wait till summer time. Too early to get up at Christmas time. We shall be perished with the cold.' These phrases brought forth no reply from the rest of the party, and shortly afterwards some frosted coaches were shunted from the siding, which enabled us to enter a dark, cold compartment for a 27 -mile journey to Axminster. In those days steam-heated trains were not in use, neither did the compartments have draught excluders or modern comforts, and we were wondering what it would be like when we had to undertake the long journey by horse brake from Axminster to Bridport.

Soon we heard from uncle again: ' Draughty carriage this. No breakfast before starting. How about the conveyance? It is open or closed?' He was told that a brake would meet us at Axminster Station, but nobody could say if it would be open or closed. This brought uncle on the warpath again with: 'If it's an open brake I'm going home. It's 14 miles of open country from Axminster to Bridport, so no open brake for me.' Alighting from the train at Axminster, we found the conveyance had not arrived and one of the party hastened to the stables with uncle's words ringing in his ears: ' Don't forget, if it's an open brake I'm off home.' Before long we saw the brake approaching and it proved to be one of the open type, whereupon uncle started to make his way back to the station, followed by two of the party protesting that his departure would ruin everything. At length he returned on being told that side curtains were being fixed to exclude draughts, and soon we were on the 14 -mile trip to the Dorset town. During the journey uncle shifted his seat several times to avoid the draught which came in through the divisions in the curtains, but once he exclaimed, 'Cold worse. Doctor to-morrow. Going to be laid up.'

We were received at Bridport by the Mayor, several clergy and about 20 townspeople who had gathered at St. Mary's Church. The Mayor started his address of welcome and said Bridport had figured largely in the history of England. He went on to give dates, etc., and said we would be conducted around its ancient church where historic associations would be revealed, but uncle broke in with 'Very nice, but we have just completed 43 miles in the cold. History goes down better when you are warm.' The effect of these remarks enabled us to have hot coffee and listen to the speeches at the same time.

Quite a number of people wished us 'good luck,' for Stedman ringing was not plentiful in that part of Dorset over 50 years ago, yet after 1 hour and 25 minutes' good ringing a shift took place and we had to stop. Our hosts came to enquire why the bells had suddenly ceased and explanations followed, but the peal had to be started again with more good wishes for its success, yet it was not to be, for a bad trip after 2 hours and 55 minutes' good striking ended our ringing for the day. A fine meal of Christmas fare rewarded our efforts and, after full justice had been done, we heard uncle's voice again: 'How about home? Time to be going. Soon it will be dark. Let's get on the road.'

We held no inquests on lost peals during the return journey to Axminster and, in spite of the cold, conversation was cheerful until someone started to arrange a peal at a certain tower rather remote from Exeter. When uncle was asked he said, 'Don't include me. I've had enough for a bit. Too cold. Shall be glad to get home.'
At Axminster we experienced another cold, draughty compartment on a stopping train to Exeter, dimly lit by oil, and we parted company at Exeter Station with the pleasing thought that, whatever the inconveniences of travel in wintry conditions, whatever the causes of two lost peal attempts, our greatest asset as a team had been our good striking. Had our first two thousand odd of Stedman not impressed our listeners, we could hardly have been invited to have a second try for the peal, for Bridport, historic and homely, enjoyed the visit of a party from Devon at the festive season, and well-struck Stedman Triples on an octave ( $21 \frac{1}{2} \mathrm{cwt}$. tenor) by visiting ringers was well worth the journey.

HERTS COUNTY ASSOCIATION  Joint Meeting at Knebworth

On May 21st the St. Albans and Northern Districts held a joint meeting at Knebworth in perfect spring weather. Visitors unfamiliar with Knebworth were surprised to find that after arriving there by bus or train they had a mile walk uphill, away from the village, before finding the church in the middle of Knebworth Park.
During the afternoon several ringers visited Knebworth House, the home of the Lyttons, who have a fine memorial chapel in the church.
After a service. conducted by the Rector (the Rev. H. M. A. Crawshaw), tea, well arranged by the wives of the local ringers, was much enjoyed by the 30 or so ringers present,
In spite of the apparently easy 'go,' due to very good steeple-keeping, restoration to the extent of $£ 275$ is urgently required to these famous bells on which record peals have been rung. The collection ( $£ 112 \mathrm{~s}$.) was given to open the fund.

Ringing in a wide variety of methods, with special emphasis on progress for beginners, continued until late in the evening.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD

Devizes Branch at Lavington

The monthly meeting of the Devizes Branch was held at West Lavington on June 4th, some 26 members and friends attending. This tower has recently joined the Salisbury Guild and this was the first meeting held there for a number of years. Tea was served in the School Room. Thanks were expressed to the Vicar for the use of the bells and for taking the service, and the ladies for providing a good tea. Ringing continued until late in the evening, ranging from rounds to London Surprise.

CHANGE RINGING IN MID-DEVON

Mainly through the efforts of Mr. J. E. Lilley, of Newton Abbot, and a small number of his colleagues, instruction in change ringing has, during the past few months, been given to the community of Buckfast Abbey, who ring the Abbey bells. They have shown keen interest in this direction and they have, at various times, endeavoured to increase their knowledge with the use of handbells.
A very successful practice meeting was held there on the afternoon of June 4th, when the three instructors who attended were augmented by three young visitors from Leicestershire. Plain Bob Doubles was extensively practised on tower bells, and one of the community members creditably rang the treble through a touch of Grandsire Triples on the front octave. To conclude the afternoon the back ten bells were rung for the benefit of the Leicester boys.
The thanks of the instructors are due to the Abbey authorities for their very kind hospitality, at the conclusion of these practices.

A BICESTER WEDDING

Two Bicester ringers-Mr. Kenneth Haddock and Miss Ann Jones-were married at Bicester, Oxon, on June 4th. Ann has been a member of the local company since her schooldays and introduced her husband into the art of ringing. The bells of the parish church were rung before and after the service.
The bride was dressed in a white lace gown with veil and headdress of orange blossom and carried a bouquet of red roses. Her sister, Mrs. B. Naylor, was matron of honour.

The reception was held at the Crown Hotel, and later they left for their honeymoon in London.

SHEFFIELD & DISTRICT SOCIETY

Once again the cup contest, held at Old Whittington on June 4th, proved to be an attractive feature, some 50 ringers, representing 12 towers, attending. By 3 p.m. the precincts of the church bore the appearance of an 'Old Crocks' meeting (cars, not ringers), and the first of six entries were soon sending the musical light six round to a well-known tune.
Some really excellent ringing was produced during the afternoon, and the judge, Mr. H . Chant, assisted by Mr. S. Scattergood, later pronounced Warsop to be the winners, with only 18 faults, in a 360 . Whittington were a close second, with 24 faults. Warsop have thus won the cup for the third year in succession. In presenting the cup the Rev. A. R. W. Andrews recalled that the first post-war cup contest was held at Whittington nine years ago, when his own ringers were also close runnersup to Handsworth.
After the customary votes of thanks it was announced that the next meeting would be at Bolsterstone on July 2nd. Ringers then returned to the spotless ringing chamber and cheerful bells for further enjoyment. N. C.

PEALS OF MINOR IN DENBIGHSHIRE

Dear Sir,-Congratulations to our friends in North Wales in ringing the first peal of Minor at Abergele, Denbighshire. They ask in 'Belfry Gossip' recently if it is the first in the county. A peal of Minor in three methods was rung at Holt on December 2nd, 1911, by members of the Chester Diocesan Guild.-Yours sincerely,
E. V. RODENHURST:

The bells of St. Luke's, Brislington, Bristol, were 'fired' 50 times (twice) on June 12 th in honour of the golden wedding of Mr . William Stowell, captain of the band, and Mrs. Stowell. A touch of 720 Grandsire Doubles followed rung by: C. Palmer 1; D. C. Clibbens 2, J. M. Stallard (conductor) 3, F. Pearce 4, J. Palmer 5, G. Stowell 6. Our congratulations and best wishes.

Mr. Harold Walker was prevented from taking part in his silver wedding peal at St. John-the-Baptist, Newcastle-upon-Tyne by the action of some of his fellow railwaymen.

The Bristol Diocese has benefited to the extent of $£ 209$ from the sale of the remains of the bells of St. Andrew's Church, Clifton, which was bombed during the war, the bells being scverely damaged.

Mr. R. B. Meadows asks us to state that through the railway strike he was unable to attend the Central Council meeting at Bristol. He asks if the attendance register was signed by some impersonator.

Mr. W. Frank Stenson, of Crewe, on behalf of ringers attending the Odd Fellows' conference at Hastings, writes: 'Our grateful thanks and appreciation for a bit of ringing: and if a little was not quite up to Central Council standard, it was very much enjoyed by all concerned. Special thanks to Mr . Downing and Brother Podger.'

A peal attempt at Bolton Parish Church came to grief with barely three minutes to gu when the rope of the sixth bell broke. It was to have been rung in honour of the ordination as pricsi in Manchester Cathedral on Trinity Sunday of the Rev. William Martin, son of Mr . Vincent Martin, leader at Bolton Parish Church.

Kettering Grammar School Society held its first ringing meeting at Weekley on June 2 nd , when touches of St. Simon's, St. Martin's, Grandsire and Plain Bob Doubles were quite well struck. The Ringing Master of the Peterborough Guild, an Old Boy of the School, augmented the band for a touch of St. Clement's Bob Minor. We wisb the Society every success.

With the peal at Liverpool on May 28th, Mr. Dennis Millwood completed the Plain Bob family from Minor to Maximus, and Mr. Brian Harris the same group as conductor.

The last 100 peals at Loughborough Bell Foundry campanile have been rung in less than three years. At the present rate. Mr. Felstead calculates that the 1,000 th peal will be in 1966 .

Mr. John Griffths. of Chester, had his Whitsun ringing 'cancelled' by the rail strike, He was to have called a peal of Stedma.i Cinques at Liverpool, and a further peal on Whit Monday at Pulford. His being called upon for extra duty necessitated hasty arrangements by the organiser.

Mr. Denis A. Bayles was the fourth and not the third conductor to conduct 100 peals for the Durham and Newcastle Association. He was beaten for this honour a few weeks ago by Mr. Roland Park, of Darlington. By a coincidence both peals were Pudscy SurpriseMr. Park's Major and Mr. Bayles' Royal.

Being on holiday in England in search of peals, and having rung three in six attempts, Alan Carveth, the president of the Truro Guild, drove from Oxford to the Delectable Duchy on Junc 9 th to ring in a peal at St. Austell, and so bring his holiday average up a little.

PREPARATIONS FOR THE HANDBOOK - COMPLETE REVISION OF COUNCIL'S DECISIONS MEETING THE NEEDS OF MODERN PRACTICE

REPORT OF THE HANDBOOK SUB-COMMITTEE

The report of this sub-committee, consisting of Mr. E. A. Barnett and Mr. C. K. Lewis, stated:-
In presenting our report, we feel that a ressume of the position which has been reached in the compilation of the Handbook is desirable.

The contents, as agreed by the Council in 1951, are to be :-

1. Photograph of Sir Arthur Heywood. We assume that the Biographies Committee can supply this.
2. Preface. A preface is being written by Mr. E. Alexander Young and we hope also to persuade Mr. G. W. Fletcher, as another past secretary of the Council, to contribute.
3. The Council, its aims, history, procedure, etc. This is in draft form.
4. Rules of the Council. The rules are as revised in 1950 and printed in 'The Ringing World ' of 9th June, 1950, and we recommend that they be incorporated subject to any amendment agreed by the Council.
5. Decisions, etc., of the Council. These, together with our recommendations, are attached at Appendix ' A.'
6. Members of the present Council. The list is readily available.
7. Active Committees. Account of work, etc. It is hoped that drafts will be available by Whitsun for examination.
४. Publications. The list will be prepared in consultation with the Librarian.
8. The Council's Library. As (8) above.
9. The Council's Journal. The history of 'The Rinzing World' is being compiled.

Appendices. List of annual meetings. past and present officers, list of members 1891 to date.

The above information is readily available.
In view of the urgent need for this publication, we seek approval for printing to be put in hand as soon as possible, subject to any amendments arising as a result of the Council meeting. It was suggested that the book should be in loose-leaf form, but we fear the cost of this is likely to be prohibitive, and we feel that. for some time to come, amendment leaflets issued every three years should suffice.

We recommend that, when the book is printed, one free copy should be issued to each affiliated Society, with one set of amendments as they arise.

We have tabled two motions regarding the decisions which we feel are desirable.

We ask for authority to make any minor verbal alterations which may be desirable, without altering the sense of any statement.

THE REVISION

The main work of the afternoon arose from the following motion, proposed by Mr. E. A. Barnett and seconded by Mr. C. K. Lewis, which read:

That such decisions made by the Council since its inception as have not previously been rescinded or superseded be now rescinded, and that the decisions as presented to the Council at this meeting, or as may have been amended thereat. be substituted and incorporated in the Council's Handhook.

These were as follows:-
That a committee be appointed to reoeive and classify all compositions of 5,000 changes and upwards and to issue an annual report in which all peals composed in the previous twelve months shall be published.

The Standing Committee's recommendation that this be rescinded was agreed.

That, in recording the performance of peals not previously rung, it is desirable to record at the same time the figures of such peals, unless they are already accessible in printed form, in which case the reference should be given.

The Standing Committee's recommendation that this be rescinded was agreed.

PEALS FOR MORE THAN ONE ASSOCIATION

That it is desirable when a band of ringers belonging to more than one Association meet to ring a peal, they shall decide beforehand to which Association such peal shall be credited, and that for the future no peal shall be published under the name of more than one Association.

The Standing Committee recommended that this be retained.

After discussion, the recommendation was amended to read: That it is desirable when a band of ringers belonging to more than one Association meet to ring a peal, they shall decide beforehand to which Association such peal shall be credited. If, however, a peal is published under the name of more than one Association it shall be included in the Analysis under the first named Association.-Agreed.

That it is desirable, whenever convenient, at all important ringing meetings of church bell ringers that arrangements should be made for holding a short service in church.
The Standing Committee's recommendation that this be retained was agreed.

That the variation of Cambridge Surprise hitherto known as the Burton Variation be known as 'New Cambridge Surprise.'

The Standing Committee's recommendation that this be retained was agreed.

That the Council sees no valid objection against commencing a Treble Bob composition with one or two bobs Right.

The Slanding Committee recommended that this be retained.

Mr. E. C. S. Turner felt that this had now become obsolete, and on the proposition of Mr. Turner, seconded by Mr. P. A. Corby, it was agreed that it be rescinded.

That it is desirable that Thurstans' well-known composition in Stedman Triples be designated his 'four-part'; and his other compositions his 'five-part ' and ' one-part ' respectively.
The Standing Committee recommended that this be retained on historical grounds. although they considered the descriptions misleading so far as the 'four-part ' and 'one-part ' peals were concerned. The recommendations were agreed.
That in the opinion of the Council the publication of palpably false compositions and worthless methods reflects discredit on their composers.
The Standing Committee's recommendation that this be retained was agreed.

That, in view of the continuance of the practice of publishing peals under the title of more than one Association, it is desirable to impress upon ringers the necessity of loyally carrying out the resolution passed by the Council in 1893.
The Standing Committee's recommendation that this be rescinded was agreed.

That, in the opinion of the Council it is desirable that promising ringers should be given the opportunity of learning how to conduct.
The Standing Committee's recommendation that this be retained was agreed.
That Bob Triples and Grandsire Major not being regular methods aro not worthy of being practised.
The Standing Committee recommended that this be retained, but it was agreed to rescind it on the proposition of Mr. W. E. Critchley. seconded by Mr. Nolan Golden.

' LONDON SURPRISE ROYAL'

That the Council declines to recognise any method hitherto rung or published as being entitled to the designation of 'London Surprise Royal.'

The Standing Committee recommended that this be retained with the addition at the end, ' unless words No. 1, 2 or 3 version ' he added.
On the proposition of Mr. C. H. Kippin this was amended to, "unless the words "Stepney Version ", "Brighton Version" or "No. 3 or Beddington Version " $\because$, be added. The recommendation was then agreed.

That the attention of Associations be called to the desirability of accurate 'striking.
The Standing Committee's recommendation that this be retained was agreed.

That the Council do not consider that the Peals Analysis Committee can be held responsible for any peals not appearing in print before the end of February.

The Standing Committee recommended that this be amended to read:-

- That the Council do not consider that the Peals Analysis Committec can be held yesponsible for the non-inclusion in the previous year's analysis of any peals not appearing in print before the end of February: This was agreed on the proposition of Mr. E. A. Barnett, seconded by Mr. H. Miles.

That the primary aim of all Associations should be the encouragement of ringing for Sunday Services and on the Festivals and their Eves.
The Standing Committe's recommendation that this be retained was agreed.
That reports of peals, in order to obtain recognition by the Analysis Committee. must be published-within a period of cight weeks after performance.
The Standing Committee's recommendation that this be rescinded was agreed.
That the Literature and Press Committec be instructed to prepare a copy of the Bibliography to be deposited in the Council's library and publish it in 'The Ringing World. or in a pamphlet, as funds would permit.
The Standing Committee's recommendation that this be rescinded was agreed.
That the Council compile and keep up-to-date an official list of the first peal and the longest peal rung in each method on each number of hells.

The Standing Committee recommended that this be retained with the addition at the end of ' and that affiliated Societies be asked to supply the figures of such peals.' This was agreed with the further addition after 'bells' of the words ' both tower and hand.'
That the Records Committec deal, for the time being. with peals of Triples. Major, Caters, Royal, Cinques and Maximus.

The Standing Committee recommended that this be retained with the addition at the end of -Sextuples and 14-In.'

A discussion followed during which Mr. Critchley asked for peals of Doubles and Minor to be included. To give effect to this it was agreed on the proposition of Mr. E. A. Barnett, seconded by Mr. C. K. Lewis, that the entire resolution be iescinded.

That in every Diocese there should be a recognised authority to give advice on matters concerning church bells, and that it is hoped that each Guild and Association will take steps to prov̉de such authority.

The Standing Committee's recommendation that this be retained was agreed.

That the County and Diocesan Associations be asked to consider the possibility of establishing in their respective areas a Bell Restoration Fund, from which grants may be made for the restoration of any rings of bells within the area, when local funds are insufficient to mect the cost.

The Standing Committee's recommendation that this be retained was agreed.

That the collection of first and progressive lengths be typed and kept by the hon. librarian for circulation amongst ringers.

The Standing Committee recommended that this be amended to: "That the collection of first and progressive lengths be typed and kept by the Records Committec for reference purposes.'

This was agreed to on the proposition of Mr. C. K. Lewis, seconded by Mr. E. A. Barnett.

That the Memorial Book be placed in St. Paul's Cathedral, London, and deposited for inspection and on permanent loan and produced to the Council on demand.

The Standing Committee recommended that this be retained, substituting 'books' for 'book' and this was agreed.

That the Roll of Honour be placed on the table at the annual meeting.

The Standing Committee's recommendation that this be rescinded was agreed.

NAMES OF METHODS

That this Council, while urging on the Exercisc the extreme importance of choosing suitable names for methods, declines to interfere with such rights as bands and individual ringers at present enjoy of giving names to new methods. and further is of the opinion that no alteration should be made in the names of old and historical methods except where urgently necessary.
The Standing Committee recommended that this be retained and this was agreed.

That when any peal, practice or ringers' meeting previously arranged happens to coincide with an occasion of public mourning, whether national or local. it should be the normal procedure to make emergency arrangements with the proper authorities for the muffling of bells before use, care being taken, unless otherwise directed, to have the muffles removed at the conclusion of the ringing.
The Standing Committee recommended that this be retained and this was agreed.

That this Council strongly deprecates the recording as a peal on a commemorative tablet any performance which does not conform to the accepted standard of a true and complete peal, and calls upon all affiliated Societies to support the Council in this matter.

The Standing Committee recommended that that this be retained and this was agreed.
That this Council deprecates the breaking-up of church bells of proved good tone and real historic mterest, urges the church authorities not to assent to their recasting except for the gravest reasons structurally or musically, and, furthermore, recommends that independent advice from persons qualificd to advise on historic, engineering and musical grounds, be obtained in all such cases before action is taken.
The Standing Committec recommended that this be retained and this was agreed.

The Standing Committee recommended that this be retained and this was agreed.

That this Council views with concern the comparatively small number of ringers ringing their first peal, and suggests that all ringers, mindful of their high calling, should do all in their power to encourage their less proficient bréthren.

The Standing Committee recommended that this be retained and this was agreed.

PEAL FOOTNOTES

That to ensure the accuracy of the Council's Peals Analysis, and as a matter of general interest, those responsible for sending the reports of peals for publication in the ringing press be urged to denote all 'first peals' and 'first peals in the method ' both by any of the band and 'as conductor.'

The Standing Committee recommended that this be retained.
Mr. G. W. Fletcher asked if this was the time for indicating general terms.
The President: It was suggested at the Standing Committee that it might be possible to get a standard system, like (a) for first peals, and (b) for first in the method. It could be adopted by 'The Ringing World ' first and if adopted by them by all the Associations.

A member said such a proposition would not be accepted.
Mr. E. C. S. Turner: I have a further objection with peal cards: ' $a$ ' and ' $b$ ' notes could not be employed.
Mr. C. K. Lewis said the idea was to get some standardised practice. The idea was to put letters from 'a 'to 'e ' and no footnotes.
The recommendation of the Standing Committee was agreed without any amendment.
That (1) while there may be exceptional cases in which the use of gramophone records of church bells is justified. any general adoption of such a practice is emphatically to be deprecated, not only on the grounds that a substitute for the real thing is unworthy of the Church of God, but also lecause it climinates the living service of hand and heart and mind which is of the very essence of bellringing and is of true spiritual yalue as contributory to an act of worship; (2) the installation of such a mechanical device should be prohibited in any tower containing or capable of containing a ring of bells. except as a temporary expedient. as. for example, when tower or bells are under repair; (3) in the case of building new churches it is obvious that the erection of a tower and bells must be often left to a future generation, or even omitted altogether, but it is a vital point of principle that no sanction should ever be given to the building or designing of a tower inadequate to its legitimate purpose, with a view to the installation of a gramophone record instead of real bells. The one practical object served by a church tower is to make provision for bells and to erect a tower to hold a gramophone record cannot be regarded otherwise than as an architectural fraud, entirely unworthy of a building designed for sacred purposes.
The Standing Committee recommended that this be retained and this was agreed.
That the method called 'Steadfast' is no different from Shipway's principle of 150 years ago.

The Standing Committee recommended that this be retained and this was agreed.
That unanimous decisions of the Methods Committee shall at once be published in The Ringing World , and shall be submitted to the next mecting of the Council for confirmation.
The Standing Committee recommended that this be retained and this was agreed.

PRACTICAL RINGING

(1) Conditions required for peals.

On all numbers of bells a true peal shall in all cases start from and end with rounds.
The use of visible aids to memory in conducting or ringing peals is not permissible.
Each bell or bells shall be rung throughout by the same person or persons.

Any objection which may be taken to a peal shall be raised at the earliest date and in any case within three months after publication, unless in respect of the truth of the composition.
With the object of emphasising the foregoing rules, and at the same time of giving a complete exposition of its views on the subject of peals in general, the Council in 1902 issued the following code, applying both to ordinary peals and also to peals rung to surpass previous achievements :-
(a) That any shift or error in ringing be immediately corrected.
(b) That no call be made, or having been made, be altered or withdrawn later than during the change at which a call would properly take effect.
(c) That no person other than those ringing in the peal shall take part in the calling or in rectifying an error.
(d) That if more than one person shall ring any bell, the fact be stated in publishing and booking the peal.
(e) That every bell must, during the peal, sound at every change.
(f) That in the case of a peal rung to surpass previous peals of 6.720 changes and upwards compliance with these further conditions is necessary :-
(i) That not less than seven days' notice shall be given in the columns of "The Ringing World ' stating the tower, day and hour at which the attempt is to be made, and the number of changes proposed to be rung.
(ii) That similar notice shall be sent to the secretary of the Guild or Association under whose title the peal (which it is proposed to surpass) was rung.
(iii) That the composition of the proposed peal shall be submitted to at least one competent person, other than the composer, for proof, and the figures shall be published in ' The Ringing World.' These figures shall be strictly adhered to unless it becomes necessary for the conductor to call the bells round before the full length is completed, owing to an unforeseen contingency. Any alteration made in the published figures for this purpose shall be published with the report of the performance and also submitted before publication to those who proved the composition.

(iv) That all the ringing shall be heard by a competent. unbiased person who may give, if he thinks fit, and the performers so desire, a written certificate that the peal has been correctly rung. Any objections to the performance must be made in writing to the conductor and umpire immediately the ringing has finished, and any controversy arising shall be referred to the Central Council whose decision on the matter shall be final.
In the case of record peals on handbells, every facility should be given to those interested to hear the ringing and a notice requesting 'Silence, could be displayed to protect performers from distraction.

The Standing Committee recommended that this be retained with the addition of a new sub-clause ( f ) ( v .) :-
(v.) That no ringer shall have any refreshment handed to him while taking part in a peal.'
This was agreed on the proposition of Mr. R. S. Anderson, seconded by Mr. F. I. Hairs.

Also that clause (c) be amended by the insertion after 'peal' of the words 'and the conductor.'

This was agreed with the addition after ' conductor ' of the words ' (if not himself ringing).' On the proposition of Mr. C. K. Lewis, seconded by Mr. G. W. Fletcher, it was agreed to amend the fourth paragraph of the section regarding objection to a peal, by inserting after 'in writing' the words 'to the conductor and the association.'

Mr. C. K. Lewis proposed and the Rev. J. G. M. Scott seconded that a further subclause (f) (vi.) be added:-

The methods rung in such peals shall comply with the Report of the Committee on Regular Methods.' This was agreed.
(2) Peals of Doubles.
(a) Peals of Doubles shall consist of 5,040 or more changes rung in:-
(i.) True and complete six-scores without interval between any two six-scores and without rounds or any other row being struck more than once before the next change is made.
(ii.) Round blocks consisting of two or more six-scores, provided that each of the six-scores which comprise the round block shall be itself a true and complete round block.
(iii.) Twelve-scores known as Morris's and Pitman's.
(iv.) Combinations of (i.), (ii.), (iii.) or any two of them.
(b) Peals of Doubles may be rung with or without a covering bell.
The Standing Committee recommended that this be retained with the addition to clause (b) of : 'No continuous leading bells are allowed.' This was agreed on the proposition of Mr. E. A. Barnett, seconded by Mr. C. K. Lewis.

(3) Peals of Minor.

(a) Peals of Minor shall consist of 5,040 or more changes rung in:-
(i.) True and complete $720^{\circ}$ s without interval between any two 720's and without rounds or any other row being struck more than once before the next change is made.
(ii.) Round blocks consisting of two or more 720 's, provided that each of the 720 's which comprise the round block shall be itself a true and complete round block.
(iii.) Any combination of (i.) or (ii.).
(b) No covering bells are allowed.

The Standing Committee recommended that this be retained with the following amendment to clause (b): 'No covering or continuous leading bells are allowed.' This was agreed on the proposition of Mr. E. A. Barnett, seconded by Mr. C. K. Lewis.

(4) Peals of Triples.

A peal of Triples shall consist of not fewer than 5,040 changes rung without interval and shall be always rung with one covering bell only, this bell in all cases to be the tenor.
The Standing Committee recommended that this be retained. After discussion it was agreed on the proposition of Mr. F. I. Hairs, seconded by Mr. C. H. Kippin, to delete the words 'no fewer than.'

(5) Peals of Caters and Cinques.

Peals of Caters and Cinques shall comprise not fewer than 5,000 changes rung without interval and with one covering bell, this bell in all cases to be the tenor.
The Standing Committee recommended that this be retained with the title and opening phrase amended to 'Peals of Caters, Cinques and Sextuples.' This was agreed on the proposition of Mr. E. A. Barnett, seconded by Mr. C. K. Lewis.

(6) Peals of Major, Royal and Maximus.

Peals of Major, Royal and Maximus shall comprise not fewer than 5,000 changes rung without interval and without a covering bell.
The Standing Committee recommended that this be retained with the title and opening phrase amended to 'Peals of Major, Royal, Maximus and 14-In.' This was agreed on the proposition of Mr. E. A. Barnett, seconded by Mr. C. K. Lewis.

(7) Handbell Peals.

Where practicable there should be an umpire to every handbell peal. A handbell peal rung single handed, though technically a peal, should be discountenanced.
The Standing Committee recommended that this be retained. Mr. C. W. Woolley proposed and Mr. E. C. S. Turner seconded that the second paragraph be deleted, and this was agreed.

(8) Spliced Peals.

Peals which contain more than one method shall be called 'Spliced,' provided that methods are so joined that the fundamental units of which they are constructed (i.e., the 'leads' in treble-dominated methods. the 'divisions' in the case of Stedman, Duffield and similar methods) remain intact. Reports of all Spliced peals shall state the number of methods rung and the number of changes from one method to another during the peal. Variations of Oxford and Kent Treble Bob, where the method is changed when the treble passes through 3-4 down, cannot be described as Spliced peals.
Three-lead course Royal methods may not be included in Spliced peals.
The Standing Committee's recommendation that this be retained was agreed.
(9) Calls.

Calls are not part of any method, but are only means of passing from one course to another, and their form and placing can be capable of considcrable variation.
A bob can affect any number of working bells and its effect should be to alter the coursing order of three of them. A single can also affect any number of working bells, and its effect should be to alter the coursing order of two of them.
Calls may be made at any place within the lead, but the traditional practice of making them at the lead end should be adhered to, and is recommended.
Only one type of bob and single may be used in any one composition.
Singles in Treble Bob methods may be used only when a desired result cannot be obtained by bobs.
In no circumstances may bells lie still on going off into changes or returning to rounds, unless it is a part of the method.
The Standing Committee recommended that this be retained with the deletion of the last paragraph. This was agreed on the proposition of Mr. E. A. Barnett, seconded by Mr. C. K. Lewis. (To be continued)

HEREFORD DIOCESAN GUILD

The festival and annual meeting of the Guild was held at Much Wenlock, Shropshire on Whit Monday. The bells of Madeley, Coalbrookdale and Broseley were available for ringing. There was an attendance of well over 100 , representing 33 towers.
The service was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. T. E. N. Pennell), who, in the course of a very helpful address, referred to the history of bells in connection with the Church. Consecration of the bells also brought a strong. reminder that the service of the ringers should be a consecrated service.
An excellent tea was provided in the school canteen, arranged by the committee of the local branch of the Mothers' Union.
The business meeting which followed was presided over by Mr. J. J. Webb, the Ringing Master. The election of officers resulted as follows:-Master, Mr. J. J. Webb; hon. secretary and treasurer, the Rcv. W. R. Thomas; peal recorder, Miss Chandler; hon. auditor, Mr W. T. Poston. The committee was re-elected with the following additions: Rev. J. C. Williams, Mr. J. E. Fox, Mr. W. Poston and Mr. H. G. Thomas. The accounts, which showed a satisfactory balance in hand, and the annual report were adopted.
It was decided to hold the next annual testival at Ross. The chairman proposed a vote of thanks to the preacher, the incumbents for the use of the respective towers, and also the ladies for the splendid tea. The meeting was then closed for further ringing.

OUTING

DAGENHAM, ESSEX
On May 21st a party of ringers and friends from Dagenham Parish Church had a half-day tour of some towers in North Essex.

The first stop was at Finchingfield ( $8,18 \mathrm{cwt}$.) after an enjoyable ride through the Roding villages and then via Thaxted. Here, on trickygoing bells but of very good tone, the standard methods Plain Bob, Kent, Grandsire, Double Norwich and rounds for the learners were rung.
At Great Bardficle ( $8,16 \mathrm{cwt}$.) standard methods were rung before tea at Woolton's Cafe. The best ringing of the day was at Great Dunmow ( $8,21 \neq \mathrm{cwt}$.) and ringing ended with a very good touch of combined Kent and Oxford Treble Bob Major. Here the nonringing members of the party were taken by the organist for an interesting tour of the church.
The day ended with a social evening and home was reached at 11.30 p.m.

GUILD OF DEVONSHIRE RINGERS

Annual Festival

THE choice of Exmouth for this year's festival of the Guild of Devonshire Ringers proved to be a fortunate one indeed. All day on Whit Monday the sun shone from a cloudkess sky, the sea sparkled and the South Devon coast was looking extremely bright and beautiful. There was one unfortunate hitch in the day's programme, the luncheon being well behind the advertised time. This was due to the room having been booked by another large party who had arrived late and could not be dislodged before they had eaten their food. Instead, therefore, of having to urge his tardy flock from church to luncheon (a not unknown experience) the general secretary spent a most uncomfortable half hour explaining to the hungry crowd of ringers waiting outside the restaurant that it wasn't really his fault, and doing his best to sound convincing.

It was for many years the practice of the Devon Guild to come to the festival in bands and ring as bands, but this habit has recently become less noticeable. The General Committee, therefore. decided this year in its wisdom to open officially only two towers, Littleham and Withycombe Raleigh, to install a ringing master in each, and so 10 give everyone, on the lines of a Branch meeting, a chance to ring. As far as could be judged, this plan worked admirably, and may well be repeated in future.
The service was held in Holy Trinity Church conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. F. R. King), assisted by the president (Prebendary E. V. Cox). In his address the Vicar said how pleasant it was to welcome ringers to a church which had no bells, since by their presence there they were witnessing to the fact that they regarded the worship of God as their primary duty as church members. The collection for the Guild Bells Restoration Fund amounted to £2 12 s .9 d .
At the belated luncheon the president was supported at the top table by the Revs. R. F. King, J. H. B. Andrews and N. F. D. Coleridge, together with Messrs. G. H. Myers, F. C. Smale and T. G. Bartlett. The company numbered 86, which is not quite up to the average of previous years. and included a number of most welcome visitors.

THE BUSINESS MEETING

The president opened the business of the annual meeting by proposing a hearty vote of thanks to the vicars of the two local churches, and to all who had contributed to the success of the festival. This was carried with acclamation. The annual report stated that although no fewer than 85 new members had been elected during the year the total membership had only risen from 524 to 544 . Three new towers Brixham, Kentisbeare and Uffculme, had joined the Guild, and the loss of Feniton was noted with regret. During the year 33 peals had been rung, only one (that of Bob Major on the back eight of the Cathedral) being by a wholly non-resident band. and 25 members had scored their first peal. Messrs. John Quick and William Webb tad joined the ranks of the conductors, and Mr. Sidney Skinner had called peals in 4, 11, 14 and 21 Doubles methods The report and accounts were adopted.

Cullompton was chosen for next Whit Monday's festival and the officers for the coming year were elected as follows: President, Prebendary E. V. Cox; general secretary, Mr. E. J. Taylor; general treasurer and peal secretary, Mr. A. L. Bennett; hon. auditor, Mr. T. G. Bartlett.

A motion sponsored by the East Devon Branch that the Guild Service be revised, or failing this be reprinted without the hymns was moved by Mr. R. Perry. A discussion followed in which several points of view were put forward (including one that a wholly clerical committee was not the ideal one for doing the revision). In the end wisdom (as expounded by the president and general seciretary) prevailed, and it was decided to set ud a small committee composed of the president, the Revs. J. H. B. Andrews and C. J. Poulton, with power to add to their number, to revise the Service Form, to add some ringers' hymns and to spend up to $£ 10$ in printing the result of their efforts.
The bells of various local towers were sampled during the remainder of the day, and if anyone's pleasure was dimmed in any way it was certainly not the fault of the clerk of the weather.

NEW TREASURE IN DURHAM CATHEDRAL

A new treasure has recently been added to those already reposing in the Monks' Dormitory of the Cathedral.
It is the bell from Monkhesleden Church, near Castle Eden, and it has been given to the Cathedral authorities for safe keeping, now that the church has been demolished.

The bell has been newly cleaned and its appearance belies the fact that it is believed to have been cast on the spot while the church was being built in 1307 -which makes it one of the oldest church bells in the country, and well worth inspection.

NEWS FROM AUSTRALIA

Miss Betty Heron, who is mentioned in our quarter peal column, is the first member of Christ Church St. Lawrence's new band to ring a quarter peal. The treble ringer, 'Chook Fowell, had recently undergone an eye operation, the offending member being covered with an imposing wad of gauze. He states that not only was he ringing but seeing double(s) by the end of the quarter!

Just before Christmas the Rector of Holy Trinity, Hobart, rang some rounds for practioc ; he is the first ringing parson at Holy Trinity for half a century

MEMORIAL TO NORTHAMPTON RINGER

The evening service on June 5th saw a gathering of ringers and friends at Kingstharpe Church. Northampton, to witness the dedication of an oak screen near the belfry by the Archdeacon of Northampton. The screen, of plain unpolished oak, is a fine example of real craftsmanship, and has been given in memory of John' Dunkley, for 64 years a ringer of Kingsthorpe Church, and of his wife, by their daughter, Mrs. Goff.
Mr. Dunkley, who died in 1951, was the belfry captain for many years, and this beautiful screen, suitably inscribed, will perpetuate the high example of his leadership and devotion to Sunday service ringing.

Jim Giddins and Pat Ulyatt, both ringing members of St. Jude's. Randwick, were married there in February of this year.
Miss E. Lloyd 'Roberis' quarter peal at St. Peter's, Adelaide, was also the first of "Triples " for the brothers Cox and Laurie Holt. The Cathedral narrowly missed a quarter of Triples for the Queen's visit to Adelaide last year. Let's hope that this one will be the first of many.

St. Patrick's College, Manly, now has one fine bell weighing $10 \frac{1}{2}$ cwt. and hung for ringing. 'It looks rather lonely,' says John Sheehy, of St. Mary's Cathedral, wistfully! J. H.

CALL CHANGE RINGERS AND HAPPY RELATIONSHIP

Dear Sir,-I am interested to read in the report of the meeting of the Central Council at Bristol that the Rev. J. H. M. Scott made mention of the happy relations which exist with the call change ringers in this part of the West Country and of the ringing festival which this Association is holding at Dean Prior on Saturday, June 25th. This is an invitation meeting organised in aid of the Historic Churches Preservation Trust. Fifteen teams have entered from towers in South and Mid-Devon, and it is the entrance fees and profits from the teas which provide the funds to be handed over to the Trust after, of course, the incidental expenses have been met. A six-bell event was dcided upon as having a wider appeal than an cight-bell meeting.
We are particularly pleased that the MidDevon Guild has accepted our invitation to ring 'the service touch' so to establish a 'oneness ' in what, we trust, will be as much an act of praise as a ringing competition.
The Bishop of Plymouth has consented to give the address at the service and, at the suggestion of the secretary of the Trust, approach has been made to the B.B.C.. Bristol, in the hope that they will be able to take some practical interest in the cffort, which, after all, should provide some of the best call change ringing in the county.
I can confirm Mr. Anderson's assurance of the welcome awaiting call change ringers in your columns-from my own experience. Yours truly,
E. BARTLETT, Hon. Sel.
South Devon Ringers' Association.

ECCLESIASTICAL LAW

Dear Sir,-Mr. Percy Amos letter on ecclesiastical law is something I have been trying really to understand for years, because if such a thing exists why is it not enforced? Herewith a few questions on the subject:-
Why was a past Rector at Long Melford allowed to mutilate the interior fittings, esipecially memorial choir stalls? At Great Cornard the bell fund was closed wher money was still coming in, so a ringing five of great historical interest were rehung dead.
Church clocks are often taken over by the local authorities and the chimes on the church bells have faulty hammers. Will the local author:ty be responsible for any damage caused to the bells? When I took charge of Bures tower in 1948 three of the hammer return springs were broken, and to save the bells I had to meet the expense myself. Our clock is maintained by a trust fund, but not the chiming hammers.
Having laboured to raise 10 s. per head ot the population to install our trebles in 1951, it will interest readers to know that I have not yet seen the official receipt for the money, which included $£ 15$ for alterations to the clock hammers. A late donation of five guineas was taken by our Parochial Church Council and absorbed in their accounts, so the bells helped to maintain the rest of the church. but in spite of my four years of pleading 1 am still unable to persuade them to repair the windows in the ringing chamber!
A number of towers, such as Halstead, have a Bell Rope Fund, but the income has a habit of disappearing into church accounts.
Consecrated property is sold at will; we hear of bells being sold to help pay for church repairs, and at Glemsford the money subscribed to rehang the bells was taken to replace the lead roof
I could nearly fill this week's issue with facts as stated, but have outlined enough to give readers food for thought. - Yours sincerely,
Bures, Suffolk. LikSLIE D. MILLS'

OBITUARY

MR. AND MRS. DUNKERLEY BEREAVED
The Exercise will extend its sincere sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. F. Dunkerley in their bereavement on June 12th. Their elder son was killed when his car collided with a motor van near Bolton. His passenger was also fatally injured.

Mr. Dunkerley was away from home at the time, practising for the air race for the King's Cup. He also had an accident whilst flying; a swallow hit his windscreen and broke it.

THE REV. J. G. McCLINTOCK

The death took place on June 7th of the Rev. John Grenfell McClintock, M.C., M.A., Vicar of St. Thomas', Pendleton, and St. Anne's, Brindle Heath, Manchester. He was killed outside Pendleton Church when the motorpropelled bicycle he was riding developed a wobble and he was thrown into the path of an oncoming lorry.

Mr. McClintock was 43 years of age and leaves a widow and three small children.

The funeral took place at St. Thomas Church, Pendleton, and was conducted by the Lord Bishop of Manchester. The Bishop of Middleton and the Bishop of Hulme also attended along with civic representatives. The half-muffled bells were rung by members of the Bolton Branch. Cremation followed at the Manchester Crematorium.

This parish priest was a great lover of bells and a real friend to ringers. His church did not have a band of its own, but the bells were always available to visitors and Branch meetings; he never refused a peal attempt. J. T.

NORWICH DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION

Fourteen towers were represented at the quarterly meeting of the West Norfolk Branch held at Saham Toney on May 26th. Ringing from 2.30 was enjoyed by all in methods suited to the varying capabilities of those present.
The service was conducted by the Rector (Canon Richmond) assisted by the Association president (the Rev. H. G. Lillingstone).

During the business meeting. in which two new members and one honorary member were elected, the chairman (the Rev. Mr. Dobson) paid tribute to the late president, the Rev. A. St. J. Heard.

An interim meeting at Holkham on July 2nd was agreed to, and as Ryborough bells are not ringable. the next quarterly meeting will be held at Scarning on August 27th (subject to permission).

Votes of thanks were passed to the Rector, organist, the ladies who arranged tea, and all others who helped to make such an enjoyable meeting.

GUILDFORD DIOCESAN GUILD

The meeting of the Chertsey District at Send on June 4 th proved without doubt that the District is on the upgrade. Youngsters from Oatlands Park, Ottershaw, Horsell, Hersham and Send gave a most satisfying account of themselves; furthermore, many of these same youngsters' names are now appearing quite regularly in the quarter peal columns of "The Ringing World.'

Ringing in the afternoon was followed by the Diocesan Ringers' service, conducted by the Vicar. The ladies, as usual, provided an excellent tea, and the business meeting was disposed of speedily but efficiently by the Guild's general secretary, Mr. G. Grover.
Further ringing until' 9 p.m. ranged from rounds to Cambridge, including a well 'tapped ' 120 of Grandsire that was recorded by Mr. John Martin, of Horsell, and played back to the delight of the participants and the caustic remarks of leg-pulling friends. J. F. D.

FOUR COUNTIES TOUR

The annual Whitsun tour by "The Friends of the Exercise ' has once more taken place. Some of the old faces were missed but several new ones were welcomed, and the same good spirit prevailed. Meeting at Backwell, in Somerset, on Saturday, May 28 th, we soon decided that these bells must be one of the finest eights in the county. An hour was not long enough, but with a long programme ahead we had to be content.

A full day was spent calling at Churchill, Winscombe, East Brent, Brent Knoll, Burnham-on-Sca, North Petherton and Culmstock. What a county Somerset is for very fine churches and towers! We found plenty of time to explore and marvel anew at the exquisite work of some of the master builders of old.

East Budleigh was the headquarters and Sunday was a day of rest. The programme was: Ringing from 10 o'clock for morning service at East Budleigh, and a visit to Wolborough after dinner. Here, on rising, we found the stay of the second either broken or slipped out. Unable to investigate we held it between touches and spent a pleasant hour, followed by the lovely run down the river to Teignmouth. After tea we joined St. James' ringers and rang several touches before Evensong.

In a terrific heatwave we set off eastwards on Monday and all went well at Whitechurch Canonicorum, Dorchester, and Wareham. After this we met the holiday traffic, a thing which was not reckoned with in our time-table. However, a pleasant three-quarters of an hour at Poole and an hour at Wimborne Minster will go down among the memories. Approaching Ringwood, the traffic problem became acute. One car was lucky to get through dead on time, one more arrived 20 minutes later, and a third in time for one quick touch. Ringwood must be revisited. The fourth car reached Fordingbridge with the rest and the day and tour ended at Downton. where we were joined by members of a band who had not long since completed a peal of Stedman Triples there. Methods rung on the tour varied between Grandsire and Yorkshire Surprise Major.

A FRIEND.'

THE LADIES' GUILD Midland District

An enjoyable meeting of the Midland District was held on June 4th at Aylestone. Leicester, where a warm welcome was received. The eight bells were set going during the afternoon and evening to a variety of methods, ranging from rounds to Surprise Major.

A short service was conducted by the Vicat, who, in his address, stressed the importance of bellringing in the work of the Church. Mr. B. G. Warwick kindly acted as organist.

An excellent tea was served in the nearby boathouse. Before the ladies held their business meeting Miss Thompson (vice-president) expressed thanks to all concerned, especially to Mr. F. Wilson, for making the local arrangements.
It is hoped to hold the next mecting jointly with the West Midland District at Tamworth, in September.

With the peal of Stedman Doubles at St. Mary's, Guildford, on June 10 th. Messrs. W. J. Robinson, F. A. Munday T. M. White and W. T. Beeson have rung Stedman from Doubles to Cinques.

The Rev. K. W. H. Felstead informs us that there have been three previous peals of Minor at Holt, Denbighshire: On December 2nd, 1911 (three methods). December 10th, 1921 (four methods), and January 2nd, 1923 (seven methods).

MOIST BUT MUSICAL

TVIE cynics, not the tourist agencies, came into their own on June 11th, when the pick of Devon's call-change ringers rang it out at Torrington. It was grey, sunless and chilly, and until tea it tried to rain; after tea it succeeded most effectively with that soft, gentle and astonishingly wetting rain which is the West Country's speciality. In the High Street, under the arcaded front of the Town Hall, and more still in the beautifully-kept churchyard under the lime trees and among the slate headstones, ringers from all over Devon were gathered discussing the prospects for the afternoon. The judges, Messrs. T. Darch, C. Tapper, J. J. Brewer and H. Pidler, were installed in their room nearby before the teams drew for their order of ringing, that there might be no knowing which peal was whose ; the first team were locked into the church; the treble of the eight chimed a few times to set the judges on their toes; and the competition was on.

The ten bands competing in this final were drawn five from North Devon and five from the South. In the North, the holders of the shield, West Down, had been second to Down St. Mary in the regional competition by a narrow margin, but many people expected them to turn the tables again now. Behind them came Mortehoe, Swymbridge and Heanton Punchardon. (If you don't believe in such a place, you'll find it on the map a few miles north-west of Barnstaple.) In the South, at Kenn. Widecombe had won from Colebrooke by over 10 faults. with West Alvington, Plymstock and Combe-in-Teignhead coming after. As in all six-bell competitions, the teams had to ring a 'peal' (as much a technical term here as among change ringers, so please bear with it) of a rise in peal, sixty-six call-changes, and a lower, the whole to be not less than 15 minutes. A clip costs a quarter fault; a bell out of place, failing to strike or striking superfluously in the rise and lower, is a full fault. And a clip means any irregularity in the beat that the ear can detect. The standard is perfection, and no previous practice on the bells is allowed in this competition.

The draw has been very co-operative in keeping the afternoon exciting, by putting the probable leaders in the second half of the list. of the top four from the regional competitions, only Colebrooke are to ring before tea, and the holders of the shield are last of all. First on the list is Plymstock; their rise is not perfect, but pretty fair, but they push the bells up too stiff-perhaps it's the ball-bearings-and their changes, at 30 a minute, are rather unsteady. Like most of the bands competing, they failed to stop the bells from speaking at the end of their lower: oddly enough, the tenor was the chief offender in most cases. The judges gave Plymstock 56

The next three bands each improved the standard, and the listeners began to find the characteristics of the bells as each band rang. They had a very definite 'pitch ' of 33 rounds a minute, which the next band, Heanton Punchardon, found, after trying for a while to push along at 34 , a little unsteadily. Heanton also found, it seemed, that the bells should be rung up, not pulled up. On ball-bearings, with a tenor of about 15 cwt., they got out of hand if, like Heanton, you tried to rise them too fast, but at that the standard was good, and the best rises excellent. Forty-nine faults went to Heanton Punchardon.

Mortehoe had drawn eighth position, but changed with Swymbridge to ring next, and improved on the last band by $12 \frac{3}{4}$ faults; their rise was notably better, and they were perhaps the first band to get their 'top ringing' (the rounds and call-changes) really swinging along. Colebrooke went still better; their rise was the best so far, and their call-changes, once they had settled down from a slightly pushed 34 to a steadier 32 rounds a minute, were excellent. The tenor lost her tongue for a few blows during the lower, and that may have brought their faults up to $26 \frac{1}{4}$, but it was a good peal.

Combe-in-Teignhead had a most unfortunate peal; they didn't seem to get the feel of the bells at all, rushing them up very fast and getting them too high for their top ringing at 30 a minute. They went down badly with 63 faults. Still, Combe is a band we shall hear more of in the future, and a credit to a very small place.

After tea, the rain had come in earnest, and ringers huddled into nooks and crannies, or peered out from doorways like rabbits apprehensive of the presence of a poaching cat. But the ringing was worth peering out for. West Alvington is a name to conjure with, or was three years ago; this was their second band which came to Torrington, having beaten the first for the second year running. Perhaps it was the journey of over 70 miles or the tea interval, but West Alvington had an off day, which was a disappointment to me, who have so often heard splendid music from their tower coming across Kingsbridge town on a Sunday. They pushed the bells a little too fast at 34 and, unlike most bands, didn't slow up to a steadier pace. But they redeemed their performance with a good lower.

With Widecombe ringing next, all ears were pricked, and we certainly heard some lovely music. Widecombe lost marks on their rise and lower, particularly on the chiming at the end, when the tenor got a little behind. Enough to say that all the marks they lost (there were 27) were lost thus; their top ringing the judges found faultess, and I found a real delight. Dead on the pitch of the bells, fluent and steady, it was better than clockwork; it had a touch of inspiration. But the next to ring, Swymbridge, though without the highlights of Widecombe's peal, beat them by $4 \frac{3}{4}$ marks with an excellent piece of ringing which put them into a well-deserved third place.

Now came the two great rivals, the two Downs, St. Mary and West Down, and what a treat! Down St. Mary recovered from a slightly unsteady start to rise the bells well, and went off into the top ringing at 33. They slowed by a round a minute later, but, thanks to beautiful control, kept the bells steady and even, which no other band succeeded in doing at that speed. Their lower was the best of the day. Then came West Down, the holders of the shield, with a very stiff task ahead if they were to beat the last. That they failed to do so by a mark and a half is no criticism of their ringing; it was a beautiful peal, and their lower, slow to get the very last bit of song from the bells, so slow that you could never believe they'd keep it steady (but they did), was one of the joys of the day.
And so into church. for the service and the presentation of awards. To Down St. Mary, the big Shield and 1st Certificate, 104 faults; to West Down, the Shelley Cup and 2nd Certificate, $12 \frac{1}{}$; to Swymbridge, the 3 rd Certificate. $22 \frac{1}{2}$ : and to Colebrooke, the 4 th, with $26 t$. It will be some time before the grey, Church of St. Michael hears such a treat of bell music, or Rudhall's back six make it. And if any band from 'up the line' fancies its striking, let them come and sec whether they can persuade Messis. Darch, Tapper. Brewer and Pidler to let them off with ten and three-quarter faults for fifteen minutes' ringing !

DURHAM AND NEWCASTLE

Western District at Benfieldside

A very successful meeting was held at Shotley Bridge on June 11th. Mr. Stephen Thompson presided, and in his remarks pointed out that on previous occasions the Western District depended on the support from other Districts, but to-day, apart from one member, all were residents of the District. Towers represented were Consett, Benfieidside, Lanchester, Blaydon, Chester-le-Street, Whickham and Newcastle Cathedral.

The local ringers kindly provided a free tea and were thanked by Mr. Robson (Newcastle). A vote of thanks to the Vicar and churchwardens was proposed by Mr. R. W. Leighton, who took the opportunity later to make an appeal for more members to take 'The Ringing World.' It was decided to hold the next meeting at Tanfield.
The Rev. T. H. H. Hood (Blaydon), in the absence of the Vicar, conducted the service, and Mr. Jack Brown was the organist. The collection was given to the local bell fund and amounted to 18 s . 6 d .

GLOUCESTER AND BRISTOL

The half-yearly meeting of the Swindon Branch was held at Bishopstone on June 11th and some good ringing was had on the heavy ring of eight, methods up to Cambridge and Superlative being rung. There was a fairly good attendance of members, and visitors were present from Buckland, Chiseldon and Shrivetuham.
The Branch chairman (Dr. H. Craig) presided at the business meeting and Mr. W. B. Kynaston gave a report of the Central Council meeting held at Bristol. It was proposed that the next three meetings be held at Wanborough, Ashton Keynes and Cricklade and Highworth.

Resignation of S. Norfolk Chairman

The South Norfolk Branch meeting held at Pulham St. Mary on June 4th attracted 43 ringers and friends from 22 different parishes in Norfolk and Suffolk, and a visitor from Frome, Somerset. The Rector (the Rev. C. G. Kerslake) conducted the service, and the new president of the Association (the Rev. H. G. Lillingston) was the preacher.
At the meeting which followed tea, the Rev. F. E. Vokes presided, accompanied by the president, the new general secretary (Mr. Love), the Branch Ringing Master (Mr. E. Whiting) and Branch secretary (Mr. A. G. Harrison) and members of the committee. New members elected were: Mr. L. Minns and Mr. W. T. Bell (Pulham St. Mary) ; and Miss Moyrl J. Alden (Saxlingham), Mr. R. Plummer (Fressingfield) and Mr. C. Brown (Wingfield) non-resident life members.
The Branch chairman, the Rev. F. E. Vokes, who is leaving South Norfolk for Wales in the near future, tendered his resignation. Dr. Paul H. A. Jonason, of East Harling, was elected as the new chairman. The president expressed his thanks on behalf of the Branch to Mr. Vokes for the able way he had conducted the meetings during his term of office. Thanks were also passed to Mr. E. Whiting and the ladies who served tea.

A writer asks: Cannot Mr. E. Razzell (mentioned in these columns on May 27 th) find a Mr. Brewer to join forces with Edward J. Beer, Maurico Stout and Mansfield Ginn to ring a peal? Suggested meeting place- 'The World's Upside Down '! Terry Onions, Wilfred Pickles and Mr. Cheese might be invited to join forces.

BARNSLEY & DISTRICT SOCIETY

The test piece was 720 changes. Cawthorne rang Violet, the other three rang Oxford. Mr. H. Chant (Felkirk) was the judge, and Mr. E: Atkinson (Horbury) the marker. Friezland were the winners and hold the shield for 12 months, and each ringer received a chrome jam dish. Thanks are extended to the Vicar, the local company, the judge and the marker. It is hoped to hold the next meeting at South Kirkby on July 9th.

A YORKSHIRE VETERAN

Mr. F. Parr, of Killamarsh, had a pleasant surprise for his 78th birthday, which he celebrated on Sunday, June 5th. At the invitation of his ringing colleagues at Killamarsh, ringers from Sheffield and Rotherham gathered at Killamarsh Church after evening service and rang the bells in his honour to touches of Plain Bob, Cambridge and a 720 of Kent Treble Bob.

After the ringing those taking part were invited to Mr . Parr's home to drink his health and enjoy a sample of his birthday cake. Mr. Parr is the remaining link between the present band and the old team, which was so successful under the leadership of the late Charles Severn.

The bells of Evershot Parish Church will be broadcast in the West Home Service next Sunday at $9.30 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}$.
Mr. Charles R. Morss, tower master of St. Mary's, Woodford, Essex, has the proud record of having rung at this tower for 61 years.
A touch of Plain Bob Triples rung at St. Margaret's, Leiston, Suffolk, on June 14th, is believed to be the first rung on the bells.
Mr. E. S. Ruck, the Grand Old Man of Kent, rang in a quarter peal at Willesborough on June 20th in celebration of his 88th birthday.

A peal of 53 Spliced Surprise Major methods was rung at Conisbrough, Yorkshife, on June 24th, conducted by Mr. W. Eric Critchley. This constitutes a new record.
Dr. Richard von der Riet Woolley, the new Astronomer Royal as from January 1st, 1956, is a cousin of Mr. C. W. Woolley. He rang in at least one handbell peal while at Cambridge University.

The Rev. K. W. H. Felstead writes: 'The peal of Stedman Cinques at Cirencester was the first in a method other than Grandsire for 50 years. There has not been a peal of Maximus this century-the last was of Kent Treble Bob in 1897.'

The Chartered Institute of Secretaries gave a luncheon at the House of Commons last week in honour of Mr. J. C. Mitchell (president of the Institute 1916-17), who has been a member for 50 years. Mr. Mitchell has, however, a longer membership of the Ancient Society of College Youths-over 70 years. He was formerly secretary of the London General Omnibus Company.

BELFRY GOSSIP

His many friends in the to congratulate Mr. A. H . Thur on reaching his 91 st birthday yesterday Thursday). Formerly of Birchington and Canterbury, he has been a ringer for many years, and is one of the last remaining members of the old band at Quex Park. In spite of his great age he still visits both Birchington and Canterbury, although not to ring. All will wish him good health.

A married couples' peal of London Surprise Major was rung by four couples resident in the Leicester District.

Congratulations to Mr . Leslic Battison on conducting a peal of seven Doubles methods at Little Houghton, Northants, with the other four ringers attempting their first peal.

Another peal this week containing four 'first peals' was at Abbotsbury, Dorset. Here Mr. Henry J. Ford was calling his first peal of Plain Bob Minor.

We regret to learn that Mr. F. M. Mitchell, the general treasurer of the Kent County Association, is in Gravesend Hospital for treatment. He was visited on June 25th by Mr. B. J. Luck during the Canterbury District's outing.

Mr. C. Chambers sails for Durban on the 'Oranjefontein" from Southampton on July 2nd. Through 'The Ringing World' he expresses his appreciation of the many kindnesses he has reccived while ringing in England, in particular from the St. Thomas' Church, Stourbridge, band.

Congratulations to David Hoare, of Radstock, on scoring his first of Cambridge Surprise Maximus and London Surprise Major on two consecutive days. His visit to Leicester Cathedral brought back to the peal columns three members of the old school, to whom congratulations are also tendered on their firstgratulations are class 'come-back.

COUNCIL READY TO ADVISE ON INSTALLATIONS - VARIATIONS AND AUTHORSHIP DEFINITIONS

ROLL OF HONOUR

That a photostat copy of the Roll of Honour be made, to be taken to Council meetings.
The Standing Committee's recommendation that this be retained was agreed.

That the Roll be housed in St. Paul's Cathedral.

The Standing Committee's recommendation that this be rescinded was agreed.

That, in future, all peals not conforming to the Council's decisions will not be included in the Analysis; they will, however, if sent, be published in © The Ringing World.

The Standing Committee make no recommendation regarding this, as it would be superseded if motions (e) or (f) on the agenda were carried. Motion (f), amended, was carried later.

That this Council deprecates the increasing number of installations of synthetic and recorded bells, which it considers to be unworthy of use in the House of God, and wishes to support the responsible authorities in the steps they are taking to prevent their installation.

The Standing Committee recommended that this be retained with the addition of the following paragraph:-

That this Council is always ready to advise on alternative schemes.'
This was agreed on the proposition of Mr. E. A. Barnett, seconded by Mr. C. K. Lewis.

REPORTS ADOPTED BY THE COUNCLL WHICH ARE STILL CURRENT

Report on Variation and Authorshig.
The conditions controlling composition vary so greatly, according to the method treated, that it is impossible to devise a comprehensive set of rules which shall be equally applicable to all methods and yet free from the imperfection of being too lax when applied to some methods, and too stringent in the case of others. Each method requires separate consideration and rules determining the limits of originality in composition applicable to itself; and though it would, no doubt, be possible to form groups of methods, to each of which one set of rules might be applicable, the result would be both cumbrous and confusing. The following propositions are, therefore, limited to a general statement of the features distinguishing originality, which are more or less applicable to all methods :-
(1) The earliest ascertainable true composition on any definite plan in any method, which is not a reproduction or obvious variation of the same composition in another method, is entitled to be termed the 'original' composition on that plan.
(2) Subsequent compositions on the same plan which are not demonstrably reversals or transpositions (as hereinafter described) or obvious variations of a previous composition in the same method, may be considered as 'distinct ' compositions on the plan and allowed the claim of 'originality.'
(3) Reversals in which the calls in one position are exchanged for those in another, including direct inversions of calling; Transpositions, by which one bell is substituted for another as 'the observation,' or rearrangements of the same calling; Artificial Alterations, such as the employment of alternative calls, the multiplication or subtracting or shifting of singles, or the redistribution of 'shunting calls,' by which the general result is not affected, but only the form of the composition-if applied to any previous composition possessed of the distinction of "originality," are to be considered as "Variations.'

In the foregoing statement, the word 'plan' is used in a comprehensive sense, as embracing not only the divisions of a composition into a given number of parts, but also the assignment of 'qualities' with reference to length, the treatment of 'Fixed ' or 'observation ' bells, or any other Distinctive Feature in Construction.
The Standing Committee's recommendation that this be retained was agreed.
Report of the Committee on Regular Methods.
(A) All methods are founded on principles.
(B) A principle is a collection of rows which form a perfect round block, in which:-
(a) Every bell does the same work.
(b) No bell moves up or down more than one place at a time.
(c) No bell lies more than two consecutive blows in any one place.
(C) Methods are formed from principles in two ways:-
(1) A principle may be used as a method when it conforms to the following rules:-
(a) It must be true within itself.
(b) It must be divisible into as many divisions as there are bells, each division, together with the hunting and place-making that connect it with the next division, to contain the whole working of the method.
(c) In the case of those methods in which the coursing order of the bells is altered by an alternative work (as the quick and slow in Stedman), these divisions are sub-divided.
(d) Each division, or, in (c), each subdivision, must reverse true to itself.
(2) One or more bells in any principle (called hunts ') may be allowed to retain their original paths. while the places of the others are taken by working bells, which revolve about the hunt (or hunts), subject to the following conditions:
(a) No bell shall move up or down more than one place at a time.
(b) No bell shall strike more than two consecutive blows in any one place.
(c) There shall be as many plain leads in the plain course as there are working bells, each lead containing as many rows as the principle on which it is founded.
(d) The working bells shall be in the same coursing order at each lead head and end in the plain course.
(e) Each lead shall reverse true to itself, and, together with the hunting and placemaking that connect it with the next lead, shall contain the whole working of the method.
Note: In 1952, 2(b), (c) and (d) above were modified in respect of Doubles methods only, as follows:-
(b) No bell shall strike more than four consecutive blows in any one place, such four consecutive blows to occur only when the treble is at the front or at the back.
(c) As far as possible there shall be as many leads in the plain course as there are working bells, but this requirement to be relaxed to include single-hunt methods which have three leads in the plain course.
(d) The working bells need not be in the same coursing order at each lead head and end in the plain course.
The Standing Committee's recommendation that this be retained with Section $C(2)$ suitably reworded was agreed.

DEFINITIONS

(A) A Plain Lead is a succession of rows so arranged that when the hunt (or hunts) has completed its work from the lead-head to the lead-end. it is in a different relative position among the working bells, but the working bells are in the same coursing order.
(B) A Bob Lead is a succession of rows so arranged that when the hunt (or hunts) has completed its work from the lead-head to leadend it is in a different relative position among the working bells, and the working bells have three of their number in a different coursing order.

BELFRY

 Portsmouth are warm in praise of Eric W. Harrison, who stood in at short notice. Eric is in the Royal Marines doing his National Service and is suffering from a fractured right arm. The way he rang his tell with his right arm in plaster, strapped to his side, was amazing.Mr. J. Lewis Cockey sails on August 10th from Liverpool on the 'Ascania.'

The University of Bristol Society is thinking of forming an overseas branch. Miss B. E. Li. Roberts is in Australia, Dr. Alan Pedlar in the United States and he is to be joined by Bob Stokes. Peter Stanford, who was tower secretary for 1954-55, leaves shortly for New Zealand.
The marriage of Mr. Gordon H. Arguile and Miss Iris M. Hinds took place at St. Mary's Church. Anstey, on June 11th. Gordon has been an enthusiastic ringer, chorister and server at Anstey Church for a number of years. A wedding present in the form of an electric fire was given to the couple from the bellringers and choir with their very best wishes; no doubt this will be a reminder to Gordon of the many times he has mended the temperamental fire in Anstey belfry! In the afternoon following the wedding, a peal of Cambridge Surprise Major was rung to honour the happy occasion.

The Rev. F. D. E. Burne, an active ringer in the Melton District, is leaving for missionary work in Malaya. Many years of his missionary work were spent in China. He took part in a farewell peal at Asfordby.
Mr. Howard Watson has rung tis first peal at the age of 47 at Broughton Astley, Leicestershire. There were three other 'first pealers' with him, to the satisfaction of Mr. John A. Smith, the conductor.

The many friends of Albert H. Ward (82) will be sorry to hear that owing to disability he was unable to take a pair in the handbell peal rung on his birthday, and send all good wishes with hopes for a speedy recovery.

Mr. W. Eric Critchley has now conducted from an 'inside' bell all three of the compositions of Spliced Surprise Major by A. J. Pitman in four, five and six methods, with the full work of each method for all bells. Any chance of some more in seven or eight, Mr. Pitman?
On Wednesday, June 15 th. Mr. Norman Chaddock gave a talk on 'Campanology' to the Teachers' and Parents' Association of Herringthorpe School. The talk was illustrated by pictures, diagrams, a model bell and demonstrations of handbell ringing by girls from Rotherham High School. The programme ended with selections of tunes on handbells. Requests to visit Rotherham Parish Church belfry were received by the speaker from several members of the audience.

(C) A Single Lead is as a Bob Lead except that the working bells finally have two of thelr number in a different coursing order.

The Standing Committee recommended that these be retained with the addition after 'leadend ' in both (A) and (B) of the words 'and the hunting and place-making that connect it witn the next lead are completed.'

This was agreed on the proposition of Mr. E. A. Barnett, seconded by Mr. E. K. Lewis.

NOTES

Principle.-This word is used in a purely technical sense.

Division.-All methods in Class (C) (i) are divisible into as many divisions as there are bells. The division of Stedman comprises a quick six and a slow six $; ;$ for neither by itselt contains the whole method.

Reversion.-If lines are drawn at the top and bottom of any division (or sub-division) all places counted from the top line downwards must correspond with places counted from the bottom line upwards.

Methods founded on two Principles. - In some cases it is possible to found a method on two Principles.
(Added in 1933). An illustration of this statement is to be found in the Little and Alliance Methods, which have come into prominence of late years. In appearance their form places them outside the definition of Plain and Bob leads, but, properly speaking, they are in logical succession of such methods as Bob Major. Thus a Little Method is one which follows the rule except in so far as this is qualified by the restriction of the hunt to fewer places than the number of bells employed: an Alliance Method is one in which the hunt has a composite path comprising portions of more than one principle.

It should be noted that such methods, by themselves, are never capable of producing the full extent of the rows.
'The bells to be in the same coursing order at each lead-head and end.'-This means that all methods must have what are known as 'Plain Bob lead-ends,' Division between leads.-This is:-
(a) In methods with one hunt (treble)-between the first and second blows of the wholepull of the hunt, before or behind;
(b) In methods with two hunts' (treble and bell in the hunt)-midway between the wholepull of the first hunt and the whole-pull of the second hunt, before or behind.

Methods.

(a) A Single method has all its places made on one side of the hunt (or hunts) only, e.g., Single Oxford Bob Major, all places above the hunt, and College Minor, all places below the hunt.
(b) A Reverse method is in all respects reverse to its single variation, e.g., Reverse Grandsire Triples.
(c) A Double method has places made above the hunt and places made to correspond with them below the hunt, e.g., Double Norwich Court Bob Major.
(d) A Compound method has places made on both sides of the hunt (or hunts) which are not related to each other, e.g., Cambridge Surprise. Some Compound methods can be reversed.
The Standing Committee recommended that these be retained with the following amendments :-
(i) Reversion. - The words 'lead or' to be inserted between ' any ' and ' division.'
(ii).-Note headed 'The bells to be in the same coursing order at each lead-head and end.' The words For single-hunt methods and Grandsire lead-ends for those with two hunts to be added after 'lead-ends."

These were agreed on the proposition of Mr. E. A. Barnett, and seconded by Mr. C. K. Lewis.

Report on Method Classification.

Plain Methods, whether having one or two hunts:-
(a) Bob methods, having the Grandsire Bob place, either before, or behind, or both, the place being the extreme working beli nearest the hunt or hunts.
(b) Imperial methods having Imperial places as, for instance, those made in Kent Treble Bob.
(c) Court methods, having Court places, i.e., places other than those in (a) and (b). The Standing Committee recommended the substitution of the following:-

Bob Methods.

These methods have the same Plain BoD place, either before or behind, or both, the place being made by the working bell coming in front of the treble. The simplest example is Double Bob. Any method in which such places occur is automatically a ' Bob ' method. irrespective of any other class to which it may also belong.

Imperial methods.

These methods have contiguous places made as, for instance, in Kent Treble Bob. Court methods.

These have places other than those in Bob and Imperial methods. There are two classes of Court method:-
(a) In which a bell coursing in front ot the treble makes an internal place, crosses the treble's path and immediately makes another place, e.g., Double Norwich.
(b) In which the bell coursing in front of the treble makes an internal place, hunts down to lead or makes an internal place away from the treble, hunts up and makes a third place immediately after crossing the treble's path, e.g., New London Court.
College Methods.
In these methods, the normal characteristic is the dodging which takes place in $1-2$, the belis which the treble leaves there dodging until its return, e.g., St. Clement's College Bob.
Note--Strictly, a Bob' method is as described above. By definition, a 'Court, method cannot be a ' Bob' method, but traditionally the word ' Bob' is added. Similarly, neither 'Imperial " nor 'College, methods are entitled to the addition of 'Bob ' unless they possess a 'Bob' place.

Treble Bob Methods.

(a) Treble Bob methods proper have no places made at a cross-section.
(b) Pas-alla-tessera methods, having places made at all cross-sections but four.
(c) Pas-alla-tria methods, having places made at all cross-sections but three.
(d) Exercise methods, having places made at all cross-sections but two.
(e) Delight methods. having places made at all but one cross-section.
(f) Surprise methods, having places made at all cross-sections.
The Standing Committee recommended that (b) and (c) be deleted and that (d) be amended by the addition at the end of 'three or four.'
The Standing Committee also recommended that the following note be added:-
"The word "cross-section" as used here means the point at which the treble passes from, e.g., 1-2 to $3-4$; it does not apply to the treble's leading or lying,'
These were agreed on the proposition of Mr. E. A. Barnett, and seconded by Mr. E. K. Lewis.

THE LADIES' GUILD  Sussex Division

A meeting was held at All Saints', Hastings, on Saturday, June 11th, in an attempt to form a Division of the Ladies' Guild in Sussex.

Owing to a misunderstanding and postal delay the meeting was not advertised in 'The Ringing World' and an apology from the Editor was received. This was probably the reason for the small attendance.
Ringing took place at All Saints' in the afternoon, and St. Clement's in the evening. With the belp of the gentlemen present, rounds. Triples, Bob Major and Cambridge Minor were rung.

After tea a short business meeting was held and Miss Colgate explained the rules, etc., and gave details of the annual meeting of the Ladies. Guild to be held at Guildford on July 2nd. Four new members were elected. Mrs. Percy was elected vice-president, and it was decided to leave the election of an hon. secretary and two committee members till the next meeting, to be held at Christ Church, Eastbourne, on August 13th.
Thanks are due to the clergy for the use of the bells, and to Mr. Buckland and Mr. Baker for meeting the members at the towers. B. $P$.

South Wales District

The quarterly meeting of the South Wales District, held at St. Mellons, om June 11tn, proved most enjoyable. Some 35 ringers attended and a variety of methods was rung.

The service was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. Gower Rees, who heartily welcomed the Guild to St. Mellons. The organist was Miss Dorothy Attivel, All Saints', Newport.
A bountiful tea was prepared by the ringers* wives and members of the Sewing Guild. The ladies were sincerely thanked by Mr. R. E. Coles, Cowbridge.

At the business meeting six new members were elected. It was decided to accept the invitation from Mr. Leslie Evans to hold the next mecting at Eardisland, Herefordshire.

OUTING

SUTTON-ON-TRENT

Saturday, June 4th, was a very wet morning for the outing of Sutton-on-Trent ringers. The first tower visited was Ranmoor, near Shefficld (10. 16 cwt .) and the bells were soon raised. and ringing ranged from rounds to Grandsire Caters and Little Bob Royal.
Moving westwards over the Pennines into Derbyshire, thick mist was encountered, but Hope was not lost, indeed it was found to have a nice eight (tenor $14 \frac{1}{2}$ cwt.). Here several Triples and Major methods were rung.
Further westward still, in fact only one side of the street away from Cheshire to the Church of St. George-the-Martyr, at New Mills. The last tower before tea was Hayfield, where some members, not content with the normal entrance. appeared from a trap-door in the floor from the stokehole below.
Tea was taken at Buxton and the visit to Fairfield coincided with the May Fair. While some of the younger members tried their skill for cocoanuts, some good ringing was enjoyed on these fine bells.
The lightest six in the country, Wormhill (6. tenor 1 cwt . 1 qr . 14 lb .) was then sampled. Some amusement was caused until ringers got accustomed to the weights. The last tower was St. Giles', Great Longstone ( $6,11 \mathrm{cwt}$. ), after which a very tired party returned homewards.
Many thanks are due to the incumbents and the ringers who met the party and the Misses G. and K. Burchnall for organising a most enjoyable day.

LETTERS

SINGLE-HANDED HANDBELL PEAKS

Dear Sir,-The recent intelligence that singlehanded handbell peals are to be accepted in future as peals on a par with more worthy performances properly rung 'in hand' will surely be received with mixed feelings, both on account of the unexpectedness of this decision and on the lack of opposition to it at the Central Council meeting.

While admitting that, to a band of learners, suth a performance would have value as an extended form of practice, would it not be justice to other peal ringers to classify such peals as 'Other Performances ' in the columns of 'The Ringing World,' and so exclude them from the annual Peal Analysis? Reports on the proceedings at Bristol show no mention of any proposal of this nature, possibly because representatives were so taken by surprise that the full implications of such a step did not occur to them.

It is always possible that some of our more unscrupulous brethren might use this loophole to further their own ends by amassing peals of this nature, for in spite of the general condemnation in which they would be held, such a means of obtaining peals cheaply and easily is now completely legal--Yours faithfully,

HARRY POYNER

Blackdown, Aldershot.

A RECORDING FOR AUSTRALIA

Dear Sir, -On June 15th. practice night at St. Helen's Church, Darley Dale, Derbyshire, an Australian Film and Recording Unit paid a visit, and a recording of the bells was taken for use in Australia to illustrate scenes of British life. A plain course of Grandsire Triples and call changes were rung, also some handbell ringing was recorded. Comments by the Rector of Darley and several of the ringers were added. Mr. Lee Proofs and his wife, of Australia, who were in charge of the unit, were shown round the belfry and bells, and they saw change ringing being performed. They werc very much impressed by the proceedings, it being the first time they had seen any ringing. Greetings to ringers in Australia were also included in the recording.-Yours faithfully,

GEORGE H. PAULSON.

Darley Dale, Derbys.

ST. BOTOLPH'S

Dear Sir,-May I, through the pages of 'The Ringing World,' be allowed to offer my sincere and humble apologies to Mr. W. E. Box, of Harborne, for misquoting the name of the Parish Church of St. Botolph.

Maybe we are only poor, ignorant country gawbies, but we did enjoy ourselves and, I venture to add, brought the art of good striking to the notice of quite a few.-Yours sincerely,
A. FARRAND.

Mossiey, Lancs.

Carillon Recital Welcomes Rotarians

When 20,000 Rotarians attended Rotary International Golden Anniversary Convention on May 29th at Chicago, they were given a ringing welcome on the Rockefeller Memorial Carillon. Mr. James R. Lawson, the chapel carillonneur, planned a programme which included arrangements of the National Anthems from the home countries of the visitors.
The programme on these 72 bells, with the largest weighing over 18 tons and the smallest 10 pounds, included Organ Toccata in D minor (Bach), Prelude in C sharp minor (Rachmaninoff) and 'Ave Maria' (Schubert). The bells were cast by Gillett and Johnston, Croydon.

UNIVERSITY OF LONDON SOCIETY

Whitsun Tour, 1955

Every tour has certain features which make its details readily distinguishable from those of other tours when the passage of time might otherwise cause our memories to blend everything into a confused mass of itinerant campanology. These distinguishing features are usually not directly concerned with ringing $\rightarrow$ though, of course, outstandingly good (or bad) towers are not readily forgotten. In this present tour the two most striking memories were the accommodation and a form of party activity which in these politically enlightened days might be described as 'deviationism.'

The living accommodation was unique in the experience of the Society which, although it has previously rested at guest houses, has never before patronised one with a supper licence. A detailed description is neither necessary nor appropriate; suffice it to say that the licence was more evident than the supper, that our beds-when we eventually reached them-were comfortable, and that breakfast was worth getting up for.

On Friday evening, May 27th, most of the party assembled at Westerham, where the local band kindly welcomed them to join their practice. Heavy rain greeted us on Saturday morning. After ringing on the six at Sundridge, the party climbed a variety of steep hills through narrow lanes to ring at Cudtam. The teu bells here produced mixed feelings, but there was general agreement that the back five -on which a course of Grandsire Doubles was rung-constituted a likeable ring. There was no disagreement, however, about the excellence of the eight at Edenbridge. It was at lunchtime in this town that the first deviationist tendencies were noticed. Three members who partook of some quick refreshment before joining the rest for lunch found no seats immediately available, and so went off to other premises, where they managed to obtain sandwiches, pies and cheese with their food.

At Hever a 'snatching' member joined us for a short ring, but soon left to catch the next train back to London. Everyone enjoyed ringing on the very pleasant eight at Withyham. The fine eight in a fine tower at East Grinstead were also much admired, though many cups of tea were brazenly consumed by various splinter groups. The day's organised ringing ended at Godstone where one of the highlights was a touch of Spliced Cambridge, Superlative and Yorkshire, which was the first Spliced Surprise ever rung by three members of the band. After a good and much needed supper had been taken we repaired to the Bell at Godstone, where a room was at our disposal for the evening, and refreshment was most generously provided by one of the Elder Brethren. Ranald Clouston gave some details of the summer tour he is organising this year in the Ipswich area, and the gathering then broke into handbeli ringing, other forms of music and general gossip.
Most of the party attended the early service in Sevenoaks and then-biggest breakaway movement of all-three members travelled 25 miles to breakfast, although the invitation so pressingly given and readily accepted the night before did not seem quite so convincing in the cold light of day. It was somewhat difficult to find fhe farm in the miles of orchards around Maidstone which was their goal, but the travellers were eventually picked up by a searching guide who had earlier missed them while negligently buying a paper. The breakfast invitation was extended to lunch, and eventually to tea, also. Meanwhile the main party rang at St. Nicholas'. Sevenoaks, for Matins and, after lunch, at Seal Chart. The rest of the afternoon was spent in seeing a variety of sights, and all were re-united for evening ringing at St. Peter's, Tunbridge Wells. At the Artichoke an enjoyable evening was spent amidst extraordinarily varied company.
On Monday morning Martyn Harbott, who had spent the night hitch-hiking and walking. from Southampton, was found waiting to scrve us with breakfast. Perfect weather and pleasant bells at Leigh, Chiddingstone and Penshurst made the morning pass all too quickly. Lunch was taken in Tonbridge before ringing on the really fine eight there, and the six at Shipbourne were visited on the way to another excellent ring at Wrotham. The last tower of the tour was Eynsford. After ringing had finally finished here, group photographs were taken in the churchyard, and Mary Fuller was warmly thanked by everyone present for having made all the arrangements for this very good tour. Some members who had had to make use of the car park of the Malt Shovel then went to pay their parking fees and bid each other 'au revoir.'
The Society thanks, in addition to the organiser, all the incumbents and local ringers, who, by their permission to ring, and in many cases personal welcome, contributed much to the success of the tour:

SUBSCRIPTION REMINDER

Half-yearly and quarterly postal subscribers are reminded that subscriptions are overdue. Please send without delay to Mr. J. E. Jeater, Greystones, Cusgarne, Truro, Cornwall. Rates: quarterly $7 /-$, six months $13 / 6$.

CRAWFORD CUP CONTEST

The contest for the Crawford Cup took place this year at Bawtry for the first time. Five teams entered, and Mr. J. Thorley, of Thorne, was the judge, assisted by Mr. A. Firth, of Rawmarsh, as marker. Each team had to ring a lest piece of 360 changes.
Over 50 sat down to a very good tea after which Canon E. F. H. Dunnicliff, of Bawtry, took the chair at the meeting. Mr. J. Thorley gavo the result as follows:- Sutton-on-Trent 193 faults; Warsop 59; Ordsall 144; East Retford 305 ; and Bawtry 287. Although Warsop were easy winners it was unfortunate that while they were ringing a helicopter passed over. the judge missing about four leads. Canon Dunniclift then presented the cup to Mr. H. T. Rooke. captain of Warsop, who thanked him.
The next meeting, at Cresswell, on July 9th, will be a joint one with the Chesterfield District. The collection for the Bell Fund was £1 9s, 11 d .
Canon E. F. H. Dunnicliff was elected a vice-president and votes of thanks were accorded him for the use of the bells, to Mr. J. Thorley and Mr. A. Firth for their services; and to all who had charge of tea arrangements.
H. D.

TOPIC FOR THE MONTH - VI.

'Strike It'

IN many districts the annual festivals of music and drama have been claiming attention once again, and the degree of interest evoked makes one wonder how much truth there is in the suggestion that, as a nation, we are becoming 'music lazy.' In other words, in spite of the wider opportunities of hearing music of all kinds through the present-day media of records and radio (as compared with the conditions of, say, 30 or 40 years ago) and of the greater interest that these opportunities should encourage are we, nevertheless, now gencrally content to sit passively and listen only, rather than make the effort to learn something of the pleasure of the active playing of a musical instrument?
At one time there was even the vogue of a sort of compromise between these two attitudes, as evinced in the player-piano; by which the performer, while actually manipulating levers at the keyboard and operating the pedals, had his music played for him by means of a roll of perforated paper ! Such 'playing,' of course, was bound to be lacking in life and character.
The point is, how many of us ring that way? It may be said the two are not comparable. Well, let us look more closely into it, bearing in mind that this is not an investigation of the musical qualities of ringing compositions, but rather of the ringer's mental attitude towards the quality of his audible performance.
In the simple sense, of course, the bell is a musical instrument. When sounded it produces a number of tones, some more predominant than others. As we know, in some musical instruments the tones are already 'prefabricated '-merely awaiting birth; while in others the player has to form them as he produces them. In the latter class come, for example, the violin family, the slide trombone, etc., while in the former class are included the piano, the merimbaphone and-the bell.

VITAL IMPORTANCE OF "TEMPO

But although the ringer has his tones "preformed,' he has, nevertheless. the residual and all-important necessity of performing to a given tempo. And this tempo, or 'timing,' varies just as much in method ringing as in the playing of music on other instruments. But there is a quite extraordinary difference between the tempo variation of the striking of the bells in a ring performing changes and that of the instruments of the orchestra. In the latter (the band) the tempo variation is exactly the same for all the instruments at the same moment. In other words the instruments perform simultaneously (for instance), a tempo (at the given steady beat) or perhaps andantino (a little slower), or again allegretto (a little faster), and even so, they have something to guide them precisely in this-the beat of the conductor.
In a ringing performance, on the other hand, the tempo variation does not affect all the bells simultaneously; some being a tempo (i.e., when leading, lying, place-making or covering), some andantino (i.e., those hunting up) and the rest allegretto (i.e., those hunting down). And not only are the ringers thus individually at variance in their timing but also their conductor can give them no indication of precisely what that variation in time is individually to be. Each must gauge it precisely for himself, and by listening, and the gain in time of one must be accommodated exactly by the loss in time of another, since the 'beat' of the whole is to remain relatively constant. Yesthis is the art of striking !

But what consternation (not to say confusion! would ensue in an orchestra if the conductor were withdrawn and the players presented with scores marked with timing that varied from instrument to instrument! Can it then be denied that ringers have indeed a musician's task-that of maintaining, with a high degree of precision, a continual variation of timing of the notes they individually produce? To what degree, actually, is this precision demanded?
If a peal of 5,040 changes on eight bells be rung in three hours it means that in every minute of that time there occur, on an average, 28 changes-in other words, 224 bell sounds plus 14 silent intervals (one for each 'open " handstroke). This is an aggregate of 238 equal intervals of time in 60 seconds-practically four per second. I fancy the average musician, though he can well play more than four notes per second, would be a little taken aback if asked to strike a note on his instrument to coincide with a time interval of precisely one quarter of a second. Yet ringers do better than this when, for instance, they ring such a peal in under three hours, or if they ring on higher numbers in slightly over three hours; or if they ring more changes than 5,040 in those times; always assuming, of course, that it is good ringing, i.e., good striking.

MIND, MUSCLE AND EAR

The bell, then, as an instrument, must be mastered by its 'player' to be sounded within precise limits of timing; an accomplishment requiring quite as much practice as that given to his instrument by any musician. And when it is realised that the effect is produced by continually inverting a mass of several hundredweights controlled only by a rising and falling rope, the requisite co-ordination of mind and muscle begins to be appreciated. With practice and upon bells of varied radius of swing, a ringer must learn to acquire the 'feel' or pull-off interval, and thus place his blow precisely amid the others.

But this is not all. There have been, and are, blind ringers-some of them very good strikers. But does anyone know of a stonedeaf ringer who is a good striker? And by 'good striking' we mean, of course, striking properly any unfamiliar and odd-struck bell. The clue to it is obviously the ear
So now we are down to it. A good ringer must-absolutely must-make good and collstant use of his ear while ringing. But have we not met or heard of ringers who can't tell the sound of their own bell? Almost incredible, isn't it? How can the striking be good when they stand in? Investigation will often reveal the trouble being due to neglect during their instruction.

EAR TESTING AND TRAINING

Pupils beginning a course of instruction in ringing should be tested for tone recognition, and given practice in it, if they need it. This is not difficult. There are several ways of setting about it. Handbells are most helpful for the purpose. For example, the pupil is asked to turn his back upon the rack where hangs an octave of handbells, and the instructor tells him he is 'on' a given bell, and strikes it several times, preferably in conjunction with the treble and tenor in the octave, so as to give the pupil a 'reference' in pitch. The instructor then taps various bells, frequently inserting the pupil's bell, at about two taps per second. The pupil is required to call out 'Mine' whenever he thinks his is struck. If in error he is shown the difference in pitch by tapping the 'named' sound alongside that of his bell. A variation can then be made by giving the pupil a bell to ring whenever he hears the bell preceding his in pitch, tapped by the instructor. Many other variations of these exercises will no doubt suggest themselves; and it is often surprising how quickly a keen pupil. starting with little tonesense, develops this faculty. Once tone is recognisable, striking practice can begin.
The ear has other uses in ringing, of course, especially for conductors. But it can be particularly helpful to the beginner in learning to hunt amongst the other bells, reducing hesitancy and thus improving striking again. In hunting up, he catches the sound of the bell striking after him, and in hunting down, the sound of the bell preceding his. Combined with the pure ropesight this faculty is a helpful check on his tempo as he hunts up and down. For improvers moving on to the higher numbers the faculty is especially helpful if rope sight is weak. But the pupil must be shown and helped in all this until he has acquired the lanack of ringing by rhythm.

This final thought is perhaps impressive and should be remembered when ringing especially on practice nights. As a musician must acquire dexterity and polished skill in the playing of his instrument, so also must the ringer in the ringing of his bell; for he, like the player in the orchestra, is one of a band. But this requires constant practice with consistent at tention by ear to what sound-intervals are being produced; and whereas most musical instruments can be practised in privacy, ringing practice is publicly audible-every trip and every odd-struck blow is broadcast from the tower.

A sobering thought? Well. it should foster keen enthusiasm to attain faultless striking. But it all (or nearly all) depends upon the use of the ear. Do we, from the outset of instructing our pupils, recollect this, and see that it is put into practice?

OUTINGS

PAKEFIELD, SUFFOLK

On June 2nd the annual outing of the ringers of All Saints', Pakefield, was arranged with visits to Helmingham, Debenham and Eye. Accompanied by the Rector, organist, members of the congregation and four ringing friends from St. Margaret's, Lowestoft, and Gorleston, the party of 68 by a coincidence reached Helmingham just about the time that H.M. Queen Elizabeth the Queen Mother was due to pass the church on her way to Helmingham Hall for a private visit. The ringers joined the villagers in giving her a rousing cheer and then hurried to the tower, and the bells rang out in further loyal grecting as her car passed through the park to the Hall.

On reaching Debenham the ringers were soon making use of the bells while the rest of the party made for tea. After an hour's ringing the ringers went to the cafe for their tea, and found the main party had cleared the eatables up! However, after a short delay, they werc able to enjoy a first-class meal. Afterwards the whole party attended Evensong, taken by the Rector of Debenham.

The ringers were loath to leave the lovely bells at Debenham, but at last Eye was reached, and an hour's ringing on this good eight was enjoyed although the tenor has a crack in the crown.

The ringing at the three towers was quite good in spite of the unaccustomed weight of metal. The methods rung were Grandsire, Plain Bob, Kent and Oxford Treble Bob and Stedman.

WALTON-ON-THAMES, SLRREY

An early start was necessary for the annual outing of Walton-on-Thames ringers and friends on Whit Monday, as East Anglia was the objective. After ringing at Sible Hedingham ( $18 \frac{1}{8}$ cwt.) the party went on to Sudbury for lunch and a good ring at All Saints' Church. Then came Lavenham with its finest-toned tenor in the country, where the ringing brought visitors to the belfry

The route back into Essex was via Clare and Finchingfield to Great Dunmow where a wonderful tea awaited the party. After so much climbing. the ground floor ring here was a great relief. The last tower was Cheshunt, and the action of the local ringers here in waiting nearly an hour through heavy holiday traffic delays was much appreciated. Thanks are due to Mr. R. Lathbury. the organiser, and the incumbents and ringers who met the party.

OBITUARY

MR. WILLIAM R. BAXTER
With deep regret we record the passing, after a long illness, of Mr. William R. Baxter, who died at the Trowbridge and District Hospital on June 18th, aged 69 years.
' Bill,' as he was known to a wide circle of ringing friends, had been a member of the St . James' band, Trowbridge, since 1910, and was a most regular Sunday service ringer. On his return from war service, in 1919, he rejoined the St. James' band, who were then making some progress in change ringing. He became one of its most enthusiastic members, and soon made progress in the standard methods. Although a full list of his peals is not available, he had rung about 100 , ranging from Doubles to Cinques, mostly for the Salisbury Diocesan Guild.

The interment took place at Trowbridge Cemetery on June 22 nd, when ringing friends were present from Trowbridge, Bath, Melksham and North Bradley. A course of Grand sire Triples was rung on handbells, following the committal, and touches of Grandsire and Stedman Caters, with bells half-muffled, at St. James's after the service.

The Trowbridge tower, which has been hard hit by death during the past few years, has lost another whom it will be hard to replace. May he rest in peace.
C. F. A.

MR. FREDERICK W. RISHWORTH

We regret to record the death of Mr. Frederick W. Rishworth, who until recently was an active member of the Aston Parish Church and St. John's, Perry Barr, bands.

Fred, who was in his 81st year, and a Yorkshireman by birth, came to Birmingham in 1915 , and until his retirement was engaged by the Austin Motor Company as a machine tool fitter.

A regular attender at St. Martin's Guild meetings, he was also a member of the Yorkshire Association and the Sociely for the Archdeaconry of Stafford. His peals totalled about 130 including several 'in hand,' many of which were rung with Morris J. Morris and the late George F. Swann.

Mourned by his widow, two daughters and son, he was laid to rest on May 26th at his native village of Silsden, in Yorkshire, where, at the Parish Church, he first handled a bell.

Fred will be sadly missed by his ringing colleagues at Aston, where his regular attendance and punctuality for Sunday service and practice nights was an example to all. R. C. 1

OUTING

ST. PAUL'S, BURTON-ON-TRENT

St. Paul's, Burton, and their ringing colleagues from nearby Repton, Needwood and Uttoxeter made the long journey to Sulfolk for their annual outing on June 4th.

Leaving Burton at 6.30 a.m. the party arrived at Lavenham just before noon to enjoy a ring at the beautiful Church of SS. Peter and Paul. After lunch at Bury St. Edmunds the early afternoon was spent ringing at the Cathedral (10) and St. Mary's (8). The next call was at the Memorial Tower of SS. Patrick and Andrew's, Elvedon (8), where this lovely ring was enjoyed to the full.

After tea at Mildenhall the final 'pull' of the day was at the Church of St. Andrew (10). A high standard of ringing was maintained throughout the day and methods rung were Grandsire Caters and Triples, Stedman Caters and Triples. Oxford Treble Bob, Plain Bob Major and Double Norwich Court Bob Major.
It was a very tired band of ringers that arrived back home shortly after midnight, kut all agreed it had been a most successful and memorable outing.

The Ringing World" was founded in the year 1911 by John Sparkes Goldsmith, who remained its proprietor and edltor untll his death in 1942.

OLD BOB

0LD Bob prided himself on being the 'triple tenor ringer,' which really meant he was a specialist in ringing the tenor to triple methods on the light octave in his village tower. By trade he was well known as a chimney sweep and he also served as a chorister and steeplekeeper with unfailing regularity. He was short and stocky with a nice long beard, and he loved his trade as a sweep; in fact, he would emerge from his home early in the morning with all the signs of having swept many chimneys before starting the day's work. Whether he did this to show people he was a practical sweep or to remind householders of their chimneys, nobody seemed to know, for Bob was very reticent in business matters.

His career as a singer in the choir is too long for these columns, and to ringers he was known for his cheery smile, his punctuality and his quaint sayings. As a steeplekeeper he had his own ideas of dusting, and if he happened to see dust on the long seat he would slide himself along if no duster was handy. Once when Bob was needed above and he mounted the wall ladder soot came down on the heads of ringers with every step he took, and it was resolved that Bob be given a lecture when he descended. After talking nicely to him he agreed to try and abate the trouble which he said must have come from his beard, and it was a different Bob when he next came to ring, for his features had received due attention from the proper quarter.

Our real problem was to get Bob into other towers when we visited neighbouring bands, but for years he preferred his own tower, and would not be induced to pay a friendly visit to ring with nearby ringers. After pressing Bob for a long time we told him of a visit we were making to ring on a lovely ring of bells, saying they were the best for many miles around, and we had a surprise when he announced: ' I'd like a ring on them air bells.' We cheerfully walked the five miles in order that Bob should show his skill on the tenor in an away tower, but on entering the ringing chamber he surveyed the scene, asked which was the tenor and then said: 'I can't ring that air tenor like that.' It was pointed out that the tenor rope, being near the clock case boarding, needed to be rung with one's back tight against the boarding, and no difficulty would occur providing he kept erect.

After watching a touch of Major, Bob took hold of the rope with confidence, for he regarded himself as a good tenor man to Triples. The hand stroke went well, but on the down stroke Bob did his usual bend, bobbed against the clock case, was shot forward and failed to get the sally. Soon Bob was struggling with much loose rope and we had to stop, for he seemed scared out of his wits, quite unlike the cheery character we knew at home. When the struggle was over Bob sat down to rest after the ordeal and silence reigned, that awful silence which sometimes comes in many a belfry, then someone asked Bob to try again, but sadly he shook his head, probably because he was at a loss for words.
On the road home in the dark Bob and myself walked side by side and for a short while neither of us spoke, but suddenly old Bob started to try and explain his failure to put up a good show in his first away tower. Had the clock case not been there he would have found room to do his little bend, was his theme, and he was of the opinion that the tenor ringer should have more room, yet when we realised how long the local tenor man had managed the bell without trouble and had rung several peals, it certainly proved to Bob that small difficulties can be overcome by adaptation.

The failure to put up a good exhibition had certainly upset Bob, for he began to talk about sending in his resignation as a ringer, but the writer promptly dispelled all thoughts of such drastic measures because of a simple mishap in a strange tower, and pointed out how valuable his services were in his own tower. Lots of ringers can only ring the tenor behind, but in most cases they do the job well and are an asset to a band; besides, we should miss old Bob in many ways and ringing would not be quite the same without him. And so we said 'Good night" after Bob had agreed to continue and confine his ringing to his home tower, solemnly remarking, 'There's no place like home.'

Good old Bob, one of the cheerful sort who took plenty of leg-pulling in good part, and he would make us smile when he used words such transport for transept and flims for films, but deep down in our hearts we regarded him as a loyal, keen churchworker and one to be relied on at the appointed times for ringing. Bob was greatly missed when he left the district to reside in eastern England, but he left behind many happy memories of duty well done, even though his ringing ability was limited. Many such characters exist and have existed in towers throughout the land, and it is the thoroughness in them that brings out values that are not fully appreciated until retirement comes along.

WILLIAM SHEPHERD.

LIMITED

No matter in which corner of the country, you happen to be, as likely as not you will come across Gillett & Johnston bells or tower clocks. Gillett & Johnston craftsmanship is embodied in an all-embracing service - as much in the preservation and restoration of old rings of antiquarian interest as in the installation of new.

THE ESSEX  ASSOCIATION

 Annual Meeting Tells of No Flagging During 1954N Whit Monday the annual meeting of the Essex Association was held at Chelmsford. The service in the Cathedral was conducted by the Provast (the Very Rev. G. E. Gordon), assisted by the Succentor (the Rev. B. A. Hughs). The lesson was read by the Master of the Association (Mr. R. C. Heazel) and the address was given by Canon M. N. Lake, Vicar of Stanstead Mount Fitchet, honorary member of the Association.
During the service the names of the members who had passed on to higher service during 1954 were read, namely:- H. Allen, C. T. Chalk, E. A. Dench, G. L. Joyce, A. J. Mansfield, S. V. Pearce, A. A. Saunders, W. Gleaves, G. M. Kilby, F. Pavvit, G. F. Pudney, A. L. Simmonds. Their loss leaves the Association much poorer and they are remembered with affection.
The Master (Mr. R. C. Heazel) presided at the annual general meeting held in the Cathedral Chapter House supported by the Deputy Master and the officers of the Association. The Master, in the name of the Association, welcomed visitors to the meeting.
Apologies for absence were received from Miss H. Snowden. Mr. J. H. Crampion, Mr. B. G. Burton and Mr. P. Eaves.

The annual report prepared by Mr. F. P. Gant, hon. secretary, in co-operation with the District secretaries, showed that interest in the Association had not fiagged during 1954. Ringing membership had increased from 895 to 924, and honorary members to 202.

The more outstanding meetings of the year had been held at Harlow Town, Bocking, Great Waltham and Hornchurch. The report shows that the Association was taking rather more interest than of late in the District meetings. The attendances showed a marked increase, but there was still a considerable amount of room for improvement.

The effect of National Service was still being felt in some towers. Old hands and the fairer sex were keeping the 'ship' going until the young ringers returned. Ringing for divine service had been the aim throughout the year, but it was regretted that some towers still stood silent Sunday by Sunday.

PEALS - A GOOD YEAR

During the year 122 peals were rung. If peals in Surprise methods were any indication of an Association's strength, then this year had been most successful. Peals of special interest were Cambridge Surprise Maximus at Waltham Abbey: Stedman Cinques at Saffron Walden: Yorkshire, Cambridge and Lindsey Surprise Royal, and Ealing, Lincolnshire, Painswick. Falmouth. Portsmouth, Colchester and Kendal Surprise Major. Among the peals mentioned above, 13 were rung for the Association to welcome Her Majesty The Queen on her return; the first peal to be recorded in the whole country was that at Prittlewell, which commenced at $8.17 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}$. Mr. J. E. G. Roast, with 20 peals, headed the list of conductors, with Mr. T. Earle next with 14, and Mr. J. H. Crampion with nine.

For the recorders, 243 members rang their "first in the method,' 26 members scored their first peal, there were five 'first as conductors.' Quarter peals numbered 147.

After various members had spoken on the report, it was put to the meeting and carried unanimously.

The hon. treasurer, presenting the accounts, stated that the gross income from the Districts totalled $£ 116$ 11s. $2 \frac{1}{2} \mathrm{~d}$., and the sum of $£ 46$

6s. 4d. had been contributed to the Bell Restoration Fund. Peal fees added a further $£ 20$ 4 s . The balance on the General Account at the end of the year stood at $£ 267$ 4s. 8d., whilst that of the Bell Restoration Fund was $£ 156$ 14 s . 6 d . Grants during the current yeal amounted to $£ 5210 \mathrm{~s}$.
Mr. M. Baker, one of the auditors of the Association, presented the accounts, which were adopted.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS

The Ven. E. N. Gowing, some time Archdeacon of Southend, Vicar of Prittlewell, was elected a life vice-president of the Association. The election of officers followed:-Master, Mr. R. C. Heazel; Deputy Master, Mr. H. Turner; hon. secretary and treasurer, Mr. F. P. Gant; auditors, Messrs. M. Baker and U. G. Mayell; trustees, Messrs. Eves, Saltmarsh and Smith.

The Master proposed Alderman Sir Firank Foster, J.P., chairman of the Essex County Council, as an honorary member. This motion, on being put to the meeting, was carried unanimously. The following members nominated by the various Districts were recommended by the committee for clection as life members:Messrs. H. Bradley (Broomfield), A. Chaplin (Dagenham), E. Clark (Broomfield) and T. B. Fairhead (Writtle).
The Master proposed a hearty vote of thanks to the Provost for conducting the service and for the use of the bells, and to the Succentor for his assistance at the service. Thanks were also expressed to the Cathedral organist, Mr. Derrick Cantrell.
Members then adjourned to the Cathedral Hall, where an excellent lunch was provided and well served by members of the Association. This is the first occasion on which the catering has been undertaken by the Association.

During the day the following towers were open for ringing:- Chelmsford, Great Baddow, Boreham, Galleywood, Widford, Writtle, Broomfield. Danbury, Springfield, Little Waltham, Sandon and Little Baddow.

Bolton Branch at Blackrod

A very successful meeting of the Bolton Branch was held at Blackrod, a six-bell tower, on June 18th. The panorama from here is very fine. Across the very wide valley can be seen Rivington. Pike Hill (with its old Beacon Tower), also a number of Lancashire towns and the sea, some 35 miles away. The meeting was arranged to coincide with the village gala day, which caused much merriment. A tea on this occasion was provided for the ringers.

An old custom in this village is to use the bells rung in a certain order, to give an ałarm for fire. Some years ago, whilst the gala was in full swing, the visiting ringers were ringiag call changes and, unaware of this custom. the bells were rung in this order, and kept in this order for a longer period than usual. The result was that the local firemen were seen running from the gala ground seeking the 'fire.' It was only when they approached the church and found the bells ringing differently that they found that all was well.

At this last meeting there was some very good instructional work and although the number attending was not great, there were many methods rung including Surprise, and several members rang their first touch in some new method.

OUTINGS

FENHAM, NEWCASTLE-UPON-TYNE

For once the 'sun' in Whitsuntide was conspicuous by its presence when on Whit Monday the ringers and friends of SS. James and Basil's, Fenham, held their annual busman's excursion into North Northumberland. A full coach left Newcastle at $9.30 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}$. and procceded via the Great North Road to Morpeth, where some of the party enjoyed an hour's ringing at the ancient Watch Tower and others got blisters by the alternative method of boating on the River Wansbeck.

Continuing northward, the village of Rothbury, nestling in the simonsidc hills, was reached in time for lunch. Following an exceflent meal, the village and river banks were explored until 2.30 p.m., when the bells of All Saints' Church were rung for a spell to a variety of methods. We were welcomed here by the Rev. F. R. Hedley, the new Rector, lately Vicar of St. Paul's, Whitley Bay, and always a good friend to ringers. Our visit also coincided with the 100th birthday celebrations of the village's oldest inhabitant and it was not until we learned of this that we realised all the flags and bunting were not flying for us!
A long run north-eastwards over moorland and later meadow country took us through Alnwick, to our final tower of the day. Bamburgh, besides being a delightful village in a picturesque coastal setting commanded by the magnificent castle, is hallowed by its close association with St. Aidan and the early Christian history of this country. The Parish Church, dedicated to St . Aidan, contains the most northerly ring of church bells in England (the secular tower of Berwick-upon-Tweed Town Hall, which is slightly further north, has an unringable ring of eight bells). Ringing was enjoyed here by many, but the clemency of the weather and the beauty of the surroundings proved strong detractions and a goodly number of us partook of other pursuits, including watching cricket on the castle green, viewing the scene of Holy Island and the Farnes from the tower summit, and 'plodging' (the good old Tyncside occupation of paddling in the sea).
The return journey came all too soon for everybody but a very pleasant run down the coast through Embleton, Alnmouth and Warkworth helped to alleviate regrets and it was a happy but tired party which arrived in Newcastle at 10 p.m.

ST. MARGARET'S, LEICESTER

St. Margarct's. Leicester, had a grand outing on May 14th, when a party of 41 enjoyed ringing at Doncaster Parish Church (tenor 30 cwt .), Howden (tenor 22 cwt .), regarded by Mr. Ernest Morris as the finest tower and bells in the country, and Holy Trinity. Hull, where a former curate of St. Margaret's (the Rev. L. O. Kenyons is Vicar. Some of the party also rang at St. Mary's, Lowgate, where the tower overlaps the causeway and the road goes through its base. Later came the grand ring of ten at St. Mary's, Beverley. Owing to the music festival that afternoon and evening the Minster bells were not available, but the party visited this most wonderful building, said to be the finest Gothic church in Europe. The long journey home was accomplished without mishap.

WOODFORD, ESSEX

Ringers of St. Mary's, Woodford, were joined by friends from Walthamstow and Romford for their outing on June 18th. Ringing took place at Hoddesdon, Knebworth, Wat-ton-on-Stone (a difficult six), Braughing and Bishop's Stortford. At the last named tower two young ladies of the Woodford tower. Pat and Gill, rang creditably their first touch from the treble of Bob Royal.

ST. LAURENCE, READING

Favoured by beautiful weather, this year's outing on Whit Monday was an outstanding success in spite of having to dovetail with the Central Council at some towers. However, we were at. Trowbridge at 9 a.m. and ringing good Stedman Cinques, and then a glorious run to Evercreech. where Cambridge Royal and Stedman Caters went quite well on this good ten.
Lunch at Wells was followed by a visit to the Cathedral. where we were met by Mr. R. O. Fry, to whom, with Mr. Albert Tyler, of Bristol, we are indebted for our arrangements fitting in so beautifully. Here Stedman Caters went quite well, and three leads of Treble Ten were rung, like the day's programme, rather hurriedly.

Then on to Congresbury and Wrington, at the latter tower meeting Mr. M. H. Knight, who had everything in readiness. Good Stedmam Caters here, and our only Grandsire Caters of the day, which sounded well on this glorious ten.

St. Mary Redcliffe was our last call and Stedman Cinques was well rung considering our own tenor is only 23 cwt ., and in the last two courses before our ringing finally ended, we were pleased to have ringing with us Mr. A. D. Barker and Mr. J. Thomas, who were at Bristol for the Central Council meeting.
The ringing all day was above average for an outing, and even our youngsters rang rounds very creditably in spite of the weight of the majority of tenors.
May I, through this column, thank all the incumbents for permission to ring and the individuals who gave us such a warm welcome at each tower, with apologies to Congresbury, where we arrived very late owing to a bad traffic hold-up at Cheddar.

OUTINGS

TAUNTON, SOMERSET

For their annual outing on June 11th ringers of St. James' and Wilton, Taunton, made a long journey into Hampshire and Dorset.
Towers visited were Wimborne Minster, Christchurch Priory, St. John's and St. Peter's, Bournemouth, and Poole Parish Church. Mr. Preston welcomed the party at Christchurch and climbed with them to the ringing chamber. A pleasant hour was spent on the bells.
Before the party broke up after refreshments at Crewkerne, Mr. A. H. Reed thanked Mr. W. G. Gigg for the excellent arrangements he had made. Incumbents and tower captains are thanked and also Mr. D. T. Matkin for his help.

ST. PETER'S, DERBY

On June 11 th the ringers of St . Peter's, Derby, with friends from Duffield, Etwall and Ashbourne, spent an enjoyable afternoon and evening in the Peak District. This was the first outing organised by St. Peter's ringers for some years, and will be remembered by the fact that the timetable was faithfully adhered to throughout the day.
The towers visited were Darley Dale, where the ancient yew tree in the churchyard, reputed to be 2.000 years old and with a circumference of 33 feet, aroused much interest; Bakewell, where the best striking of the day was heard; and Tideswell, which well deserves its title of 'Cathedral of the Peak.' The lighting apparatus used when broadcasts are made from Tideswell tower greatly intrigued the visitors.
We should like to express out thanks to the incurnbents and ringers of the towers visited for their co-operation and help. A. M. H.

WESTON FAVELL, NURTHANTS

The Welland Valley, where Rutland, Lincolnshire and Northants join, was the objective of the Weston Favell outing on Jume 18th, the journey being made by a fleet of private cars.
The five bells at Caldecote, rehung in 1952 by Messrs. Taylor, 'go' excellently, and here the party were met by the Misses Billson. The bells were all cast by Toby Norris II. in 1696. Another five at Great Easton followed. The sound of the bells being raised attracted Mr. Geary, a Groby ringer, who joined the party for the rest of the day. At Seaton Mr. and Mrs. Clarke, of Oundle, joined in the ringing.
A great disappointment was that the six at Harringworth, rehung in 1913, were found to be almost unringable due to ncglected bearings

STANWICK, NORTHANTS

Stanwick ringers and friends had an interesting tour for their annual outing on June 18th. Ringing on the light six in the new steel tower of Corby was followed by a visit to Uppingham, Rutlandshire, where the church and school were visited. A pleasant trip into Leicestershire followed. At Great Glenn the Vicar welcomed the party After tea at South Wigston the good eight bells at St. Thomas' Church were enjoyed. Mr. E. Tipler and other ringers met the party at Lutterworth, where Bob Major and Triples were rung. Finally came the light six at Misterton.
The party are grateful to Mr. B. Warwick. towerkeepers and incumbents for their assistance.

Mr. R. F. B. Speed informs us that the peal of Watford published under the name of Mr. George Freebrey is almost identical with that published from Mr. Harold Cashmore some years ago.

An increase of 25 per cent. in membership was reported at the annual meeting of the Ladies' Guild at Guildford last Saturday. The next annual meeting will be at Worcester. A report of the Guildford gathering will appear in our next issue

The peal at Henley-on-Thames on June 25th was the first on the bells for 26 years.

In submitting quarter peals, will correspondents write each quarter rung in a different tower on a separate sheet of paper?

Mr. Fred Attewell, of Billing, who is blind, was one of the party who enjoyed the ringing provided by Weston Favell's outing on June 18th.

The bells of Holy Trinity, Abbott's Leigh, Somerset, will be on the air for the morning service on Sunday, July 24th, from the West Home Service at $9.30 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}$.

The monthly practice meeting of the Chew Deanery Branch of the Bath and Wells Association was held at Kingston Seymour on June 18th, when the six bells were put to good use in methods up to Cambridge and London Surprise Minor. Mr. and Mrs. Norton provided an excellent tea, which was very much appreciated.

Ashtead, Surrey, ringers felt inspired enough after their outing on June 4 th to attempt on their return home a quarter peal of Grandsire Triples. The ringing was excellent, but unfortunately a trip occurred and the first quarter of Triples by an all-local band was not to be recorded.
A memorial tablet to Mr. Thomas Werrett, late captain of St. Nicholas', Norton, Herts, has been placed in the ri.iging chamber. As a memorial a bell fund for a new church in the centre of the parish has been opened. Contributions to this are still required and these may be sent to Mr. E. G. Sanderson, churchwarden, 3, Eastholm, Letchworth.

BELFRY GOSSIP

The first peal ever rung by doctors only (on July 9th, 1947) has been commemorated by a peal board at Abbots Langley, Herts. This bears the inscription: "Dedicated in grateful memory of the doctors, nurses and personnel of all the medical services who gave their lives in the war, 1939-1945.' In a quarter peal before the service of dedication, two of the doctors rang the same bells as they had rung in the peal.

The peal at Hazel Grove, reported on page 372, was rung on Thursday, June 2nd.

The length of the peal of Lincolnshire, rung at Harrow Weald on June 11 th was 5,120 changes and not 5,152 , as published on page 387.

Mr. Michael Horseman, of Nailsea, thanks, through 'The Ringing World,' those ringers in the Nottingham and Derby area who made him so welcome during his recent stay in the district.

The composition of Double Norwich Court Bob Major rung to a peal at St. John's, Erith, on June 24th, was chosen because it was the composer (Mr. Edwin Barnett, sen.) who first taught the conductor (Mr. F. J. Cullum) to ring 40 years ago.

Mr. T. F. Earnshaw, a ringer at York Minster for 60 years and now residing with his daughter Mrs. R. R. Perry, in Birmingham, paid a welcome visit to St. Martin's on Sunday morning, June 12th, his 87 th birthday, and took part in ringing Stedman Cinques for service. Mr. Earnsnaw was looking remarkably fit and well and received hearty congratulations and good wishes. He still takes a great interest in reading his 'Ringing World ' each week.

53 SPLICED SURPRISE MAJOR METHODS

A new record in the field of Spliced Surprise Major ringing was established by a peal in 53 methods rung at St. Peter's, Conisbrough, Yorks, on June 24th. This peal also surpasses the handbell peal of 50 methods in Plain Major, which was the previous highest number of any kind of Major methods and was rung by the Lincoln Diocesan Guild at Burton-on-Stather in 1951.

The Exercise will join with us in congratulating the conductor and composer of the peal, Mr. W. Eric Critchley, and his band. The peal is appended:-

Twice repeated. Contains 96 of each method, with 158 changes of method.

PETERBOROUGH DIOCESAN GUILD

A New Master

THE City of Peterborough is this year celebrating the 13th centenary of the foundation of the Abbey. On the same site stands the Cathedral, that noble building which itself dates from Norman times. On Whit Monday afternoon its walls echoed to the voices of some 200 ringers who gathered from far and wide for the Guild's annual service.
So that the Cathedral statute should be continued, the Guild form of service was blended with evensong, which was sung by the Precentor, the Rev. R. W. Dawe, in the presence of the Dean, the Very Rev. N. C. Christopherson. The lesson was read by a canon in residence, Canon J. L. Cartwright, and the Guild president, the Ven. C. J. Grimes, D.D., Archdeacon of Northampton, led the prayers. In his address, the Lord Bishop, the Rt. Rev. Spencer Leeson, spoke on 'The ministry of church bellringing.' The Peterborough Branch organist, Mr. W. Stevens, F.R.C.O., kindly deputised for the Cathedral organist.
The president was in the chair at the business meeting which followed tea in St. Mary's Church Hall. Business was mainly of a routine nature, but a change of officers was recorded The president and secretary were re-elected. The Master, Mr. E. E. Whitmore, did not seek re-election, and to succeed him Mr. B. P. Morris was appointed. In turn Mr. P. I. Chapman was elected auditor to succeed Mr. Morris.

The chairman spoke in gratitude of Mr . Whitmore's work for the Guild during his years of Mastership, and the meeting elected him an honorary life member.
The general secretary's report recorded a slight reduction in membership, perhaps accounted for by a stricter application of the rule dealing with outstanding subscriptions. Under the heading of lapsed or left were 112 names, but elections during the year give 9 honorary, 98 ringing members and 20 non-resident life members.
The Guild had suffered the loss of 12 members by death. Among them was the oldest ringer in the diocese, Mr. A. Moore, of Daventry, Mrs. K. Billson, of Caldecote, who was probably more widely known under her maiden name of Miss Kitty Moore, and Mr. Harry Chambers, of Stanwick, formerly of Irth. lingborough, who raised the standard of Surprise Major ringing.
Peals rung during the year totalled 43. Quarter peals had been in evidence and proved to be a great help in maintaining interest.

A FINAL MESSAGE

Mr. E. E. Whitmore, in his final report as Master, recalled that he became third Master of the Guild in 1947, when they were only beginning to recover from the effects of six years of war. With the return of peace young learners in large numbers were a familiar sight in many belfries and branch meetings, and some of these post-war learners were now among their leading ringers and shared in the councils of the Guild.
During this time membership increased until it reached four figures, while two dormant branches were restored and a new one inaugurated; 'but with all this enthusiasm 1 wonder sometimes how many towers in unity with the Guild ring the full complement Sunday by Sunday. We all know of towers where there are few or no ringers, and whilst even one such tower exists in our midst the challenge remains.'
As to the future, Mr. Whitmore wrote: 'A solemn responsibility rests upon each one of us to impart to others what has been taught us, and so do our bit towards ensuring the continuity of our art.'
The local arrangements for the day were in the hands of the Peterborough Branch secretary, Mr. G. S. Bush, and the branch committee, who were heartily thanked for all that they had done. The vote of thanks also included the incumbents of the many parishes where ringing had been going on during the day.
Owing to its geographical situation, the Peterborough Branch finds difficulty in providing bells in sufficient numbers for so large a gathering, and the good neighbourliness of the adjoining associations is demonstrated to the full by their welcome to the nearby towers. This'privilege is appreciated most perhaps by those members of the Guild who live in the far south of the diocese nearly 80 miles away. With the beautiful weather of the Whitsun holiday a most enjoyable day was spent.

Mr. E. F. Gibbard, who has completed 25 years as hon. secretary and treasurer of the secretary and treasurer of the Oxford Diocesan Guild, was presented with a handsome eightday clock in walnut case and with Westminster chimes, at the Branch annual meeting at Wingrave. This appreciation of his services came as a big surprise.
A civic reception was given by the Mayor to the Rev. A. G. G. Thurlow after his institution to the living of Great Yarmouth on June 21st. Speaking of the work ahead, the new Vicar said: 'Are you going to allow Christianity's most important expreskion in Yarmouth to be a roofless ruin very much longer?'

Although he celebrated his 90th birthday on March 27th, Mr. F. W. Cannings is still carrying on as tower master at Bathford, Somerset, a post he has held for 51 years. He took part in the first peal on the bells 50 years ago, and this week we record the anniversary peal. The first peal was conducted by Mr. John Taylor, and his son, Mr. Horace D. Taylor. conducted for the anniversary. Mr. Arthur B. Cannings, youngest son of the tower master, also took part in the peal.

One day, perhaps. someone will write the story of the contribution of the family of Morrises to the history of ringing. Mr. E. Morris (no relation to Leicester's. Ernest) is the new Master of the Swansea and Brecon Diocesan Guild, and Mr. B. P. Morris the new Master of the Peterborough Diocesan Guild.

The quarter peal of Stedman Caters at Shoreditch on June 26th was remarkable in that the third struck only once on coming into rounds, as the rope broke and the bell set. Geoff Bryant was left examining the frayed rope end at the conclusion of his first and almost certainly his most exact quarter peal.

The Bolton Branch can provide a band of church officers for a peal of Caters.
A ringer at Saxmundham called at a house that had been renamed Peal Cottage, hoping that the new occupants were change ringers, only to find that the name came from their initials, P. E. and A. L.
The peal at Hingham, Norfolk, on June 8th (page 387), was a diamond wedding compliment to the parents of Mr. Alan C. Haines, and not a golden wedding compliment as stated in our columns. Every happiness to the recipients of the honour.

REPORT OF CONFERENCE WITH THE SOCIETY FOR THE PROTECTION OF ANCIENT BULLDINGS
The Standing Committec's recommendation that as this report is available as a separate booklet, it be not included in the Handbook was agreed.

LEGAL COMMITTEE REPORT

The Standing Committee's recommendation that this be brought up to date as necessary and included in the Handbook was agreed.
STANDING COMMITTEE REPORT ON THE

CONSTITUTION OF COMMITTEES

(a) Standing Committee.

To consist of (i) the president, honorary secretary and treasurer, honorary librarian and conveners of committees ex-officio; (ii) iwelve elected members (chosen by ballot if more than 12 names are proposed). The twelve retiring members to be the first names to be proposed. The committee to have power in the event of any other member of the Council being considered by them desirable, to co-opt not more than two members.

(b) Other Committees.

The Council should appoint the convener in the first instance, but changes may be made at any time by the committees.

The Standing Committee recommended that this be added to Rule (iii) (committees) and the following be reinstated in that Rule:-

At the annual meeting next after a triennial election, members of any committee who have not been re-elected to the Council shall (when such committee has a report to present) have the right to attend and vote upon any motion arising exclusively out of that report.:

Notice of motion was given accordingly.  METHODS COMMITTEE REPORT ON EXTENSION

The Standing Committec's recommendation that as this report is available as a separate booklet, it be not included in the Handbook was agreed.
Mr. E. A. Barnett formally moved the adoption of the Handbook Sub-Committee's report. Mr. F. I. Hairs seconded, and the report as amended was adopted.
The Rev. K. W. H. Felstead expressed thanks to the members of the sub-committee for thelr wonderful work during the year. It was a tremendous job.
Mr . Barnett: I am very grateful to Mr . Lewis. He came down and spent four days with me.

THE NEXT MEETING

Mr . Harold J. Poole: On behalf of the Leicester Diocesan Guild it is a great pleasure to me to extend to the Council an invitation to come to Leicester for their next meeting. If you come there next Whitsuntide I can promise you a memorable time. We shall leave no stone unturned to see that you have a good time.

Mr. Anderson moved, and Mr. Barker seconded that the invitation be accepted, and this was agreed to.
The secretary said that he had received a letter from the Executive Council of the Irish Association inviting the Central Council to hold their 1958 meeting in Dublin.
Mr. Poole: 1 should ber only too glad to go. but it had been said that before we go to Ireland there should be a reasonable number making the journey to make the meeting a success. The year 1958 is the first meeting of a new session.

Mr. F. E. Dukes said they were prepared to adjourn to 1959 if the Council thought so.

Mr. R. S. Anderson: The first portion of the motion is one I move with the utmost regret, athough I understand it is necessary. Our president has graced the chair of our meetings for many years with dignity, and the confidence of all members who have attended the Council. We, as a Council, cannot but regret most sincerely his decision not to continue in that high office. I understand his decision is irrevocable; he says he is getting old, but if that is so his appearance belies his age. We hope he will continue to give us his wise counsel even if he is not in the chair.

It was brought home to me this morning that the Master of the Gloucester and Bristol Association has a very fine badge and chain of office, yet the president of our Council has no distinguishing mark. At the Standing Committee last night the question was raised of the advisability of appointing a vice-president who could step into the presidential chair. I beg to move:
(a) That a committee be appointed to consider nominations for the position of president, and to make a recommendation.
(b) To consider and submit to the Council suitable designs for a badge of office for the president.
(c) To consider the appointment of a vicepresident of the Council.
(d) To alter any rules that are necessary. ' It is suggested that the committee should be three members from the Standing Committee and three from the floor of the Council, and any suggestion for the position be sent to the Standing Committee.'
Mr. John Wallis: Was any financial limit set to a chain and badge of office? There is precious little you will get for $£ 25$.

Mr. Harold J. Poole: Having regard to the state of the balance sheet I suggest you leave it to the committee with a free hand to act.

The resolutions were carried, and Messrs. P. A. Corby, J. A. Freeman and T. J. Lock were appointed from the floor of the house to serve on the committee.

Mr. Anderson then moved a vote of thanks to the president for taking the chair at the meeting, which was carried with acclamation.

In thanking the Council, the president said they should not forget the great assistance they got from the hon. secretary. He did the bulk of the work to make the meeting a success.
The president then proposed an omnibus vole of thanks to the Dean and Chapter of Bristol for the use of the Chapter House; to the Dean for officiating at Holy Communion that morning and his welcome later in the morning; to the Master of the Gloucester and Bristol Association for his welcome; to Mr. Skidmore and the Reception Committee for making all the local arrangements and for their hospitality; to all the incumbents of the different towers in which they were privileged to ring and to all steeplekeepers who got the bells ready for them. This was carried with acclamation.

CORRECTION

On page 378, column 2, in the discussion on Bob Triples, Caters and Cinques, Mr. C. K. Lewis is reported as saying "if they commended these irregular methods." The phrase should read 'if they condemned these irregular methods.'

The error is regretted.-Ed.

GREAT YARMOUTH'S NEW VICAR

Institution of the Rev. Gilbert Thurlow
TWHE Rev. Gilbert Thurlow was instituted by the Bishop of Norwich as Vicar of Great Yarmouth on Tuesday, June 21st. The vast congregation in St. Peter's, the acing parish church, represented all sides of the civic and religious life of the borough and county.

But, alas! There was no grand ringing of tower bells such as would mark such an occasion in almost every other place of equal or indeed lesser importance throughout the land. On June 24th, 1942, the Parish Church of St. Nicholas, the largest parish church in England, was completely gutted by incendiary bombs, and its great tower has since stood as cmpty as its walls. Ever since Great Yarmouth became one of England's premier seaside resorts, and long before this, its parish church was a Mecca for ringers, but such is not the case to-day.
The Institution was nevertheless marked by the presence and activity of several notable ringers. A circle of chairs in a side chapel was the meeting place, not of a bridge party (as one innocent visiting clergyman said he thought it was) but of noted ringers from near and far, These included George and Edith Fletcher, Peter Newstead, Billy Barrett (the Association Ringing Master), Edwin Goate, Percy Johnson and the new Vicar, whilst Bert Hughes and Billy Harwood, for long the East Norfolk Branch secretary, were also present.

The congregation were soon listening to Grandsire Caters on handbells, mostly plain courses rung by various of the above-the new Vicar in the first course
This may not have been particularly spectacular, but it was historic, in that both is Vicar's institution in a 'daughter church' and change ringing in that particular church are probably without precedent. Also we all hope that the event marks a new chapter in the life of this great town, a chapter which will see St. Nicholas' rise from death to life, and which will hear its grand ring of twelve-this time perhaps thirteen, and larger and grander ones at that, than ever before, who knows? sounding once again over town and market. land and sea.

War damage will not pay for the bells. They must be the result, now as in the past, of people's generosity. Such a ring as we deserve may cost $£ 7,000$. Towards this we have about $£ 2,000$, given by many generous people. The Norwich Diocesan Association recently diverted $£ 20$ from St. George Colegate and St. Andrew's, Norwich, at neither of which was it wanted now, to Yarmouth, with E 2 . in addition. Now what about YOU? Do YOU want to find East Anglia's premier health resort, which longs to entertain you with sea, sand, sun and fun, providing you with grand ringing as well? If you do, send me something towards the remaining $£ 5,000$.

We are steadily raising funds for the refurnishing of the church. At the service on St. John-the-Baptist Day, June 24th, when we gave the large collection to the same purpose, we rang handbells in the porch before and afterwards. And the new Vicar is, of course, at home to any ringers visiting Yarmouth who can catch him at his residence.
G. S.

Joint Meeting at Nottingham

Many methods from Doubles to Royal were rung at a joint meeting of the Nottingham District of the Southwell Diocesan Guild and the Melton District of the Leicester Guild at St. Mary's, Nottingham. on June 4th. After. tea and the business mecting at St. Mary's Institute the ten at St. Peter's were raised and kept going for the evening.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Campaice mit ont lavo or pramose

Dear Sir,-With reference to the composition of 'Cambridge with one lead of Primrose, which is published in your issue of June 24th, I hope Mr. Sedgley will not mind my saying (purely in a personal capacity) that if, as 1 suspect, the object of the lead of Primrose is to eliminate three leads of Cambridge which would otherwise give rise to falseness, this is a very dubious type of 'wangle' which should be condemned wholeheartedly, as indeed I am sure it will be by most people who have dabbled in composition, before it becomes an established practice.

If I am wrong about the motive I apologise to Mr. Sedgley, but if so the lead of Primrose is completely pointless.- Yours faithfully,
E. A. BARNETT.

AUSTRALIAN AND HOSE

Dear Sir,-May I congratulate and thank your correspondent from Melton Mowbray upon his delightful report of the gathering of ringers at the village church of Hose, as recorded in your issue of March 11 th, page 156.

He opens with the sentence. "Not many readers of "The Ringing World " will have heard of Hose.' Well, sir, I, for one, have happy memories of ringing at this tower. As one of a new band of young ringers from Long Clawson I was accepted as a member of the old 'Framland Society' at the annual meeting which was held at Hose in those far-off days of 1908. The report of this gathering was duly recorded in 'The Bell News and Ringer's Record.'

The enthusiastic ringers who impressed this great day upon my memory included Harry Bartram, Dick Mount, Dick Smith, William Sharpe, Pearson, Ward. Squires, Kelham, Wildman, the Caunt brothers, Sam Furmidge, etc.

May this fine old church in the beautiful "Vale of Belvoir" long continue its witness, and may the bells never lack competent and enthusiastic ringers. - Yours sincerely,
W. SMITH.

CVNRINGABLE TOWERS

Dear Sir.-So far I have listed over 250 unringable towers of five or more bells. To all those who have written, may I express my sincere thanks.

I require, however, information regarding the following counties: Berks, Beds, Bucks, Cheshire. Derbys, Durham, Herefords, Herts, Hants, Lancs, North Lincs, Norfolk, Northumberland. Notts, Oxon. Suffolk and Yorks. As I intend to turn this information over to the Central Council. I would be grateful if help could be given with regard to the above.- Yours sincerely,

PHOTOGRAPHS WANTED

Dear Sir,-Might I be allowed to ask for the co-operation of ringers who also have interests in photography? I am trying to collect photographs of all churches and towers containing four or more bells hung for ringing, whether at present ringable or not. I only require black and white "contact "prints, size $2 t$ by $3 \pm$ inches only. Any spare or old photos fulfilling the above conditions will be gratefully received and acknowledged by the undersigned.-Yours, etc.,

A THATCHED TOWER

Dear Sir,-Years ago I lived opposite the Church of St. Mary, Thornham Parva, near Eye, Suffolk. The church is thatched and the tower is also thatched. This, to my mind, is somewhat unique, and I should like to know of any other thatched tower or steeple. -Yours truly,

Ipswich.

- MY GREATEST PLEASURE AND GREATEST DISAPPOINTMENT,

Mr. W. Frank Stenson, of Crewe, regards his attempt for a peal of Stedman Cinques on the bells of Lincoln Cathedral on June 25th as his greatest pleasure and greatest disappointment. The attempt was made by a band who had waited five years for the attempt.

Mr. Stenson writes:- After a rather indifferent start of 20 minutes the bells were set; a fresh and better start was made, but after 2 hours and 15 minutes of good ringing - with the peal 'in the bag,' as they say-Mr. Henry O. Baker, of Chester, became unwell, and the conductor, Mr. Howard Howell, Walsall, had ro alternative but to set the bells. This was a great disappointment to all the band.

Also taking part in addition to those mentioned were Barnabas Key and Mrs. Dorothy Gardiner (Burton-on-Trent), Ralph Edwards and Rodney Meadows (Birmingham), Ernest Stitch and William Davies (Walsall), John Bibby (Frodsham), Richard D. Langford, George A. Packer and W. Frank Stenson (Crewe).
We ringers had not only the pleasure of hearing but of ringing the bells bearing the inscription: America-England - one voice one mind, which were referred to by Mr. Myrom Ackerman when replying to the toast of 'Anglo-American Relations ' at Crewe Corporation Mayoral Dinner.

These front four bells were added in 1928 as a memorial to the ringers of the Lincoln Diocese who fell in the Great War, and the subscription list was completed by an unknown American.

Lincoln Cathedral is the only one in England which has a Ringers' Chapel.

Our grateful thanks to the Dean and Mr. John A. Freeman, Ringing Master, for a great privilege and pleasure, if a disappointed one.

YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION

Eastern District at Howden

The annual meeting of the Eastern District was held at Howden on June 25th and was attended by 35 members representing 15 towers. An excellent tea was served in the Shire Hall and was followed by the business meeting, presided over by the vice-president (Mr. A. E. Sellers), who asked the members to stand in memory of Mr. R. B. Smith, a local ringer for over 50 years and who was for many years a member of the General Committee of the Yorkshire Association.

Mr. S. H. Steel was re-elected Ringing Master and Mr. L. M. Woodhead was elected on the General Committee, and Messrs. A. B. Cook, J. J. Taylor and H. Walker on the District Committee. Goole was selected as the place for the next meeting in September. Mr. F. W. Dale expressed a wish to resign from the committee, but was persuaded to carry on for another year, in order that he could complete 30 years on the General Committee.

Apologies for absence were received from Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Taylor, of Goole, and the members sent a message of sympathy to Mrs. Taylor wishing her a speedy recovery from her illness. The usual votes of thanks concluded a very successful meeting.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD

Summer Meeting at Abbotsbury

The Dorchester branch held their summer meeting at Abbotsbury on Saturday, June 25th.
The six bells of St. Nicholas Church were rung for an hour before the Guild service at 4 p.m., which was conducted by the Vicar. the Rev. S. P. Rowcroft, who, after welcoming the ringers, gave an interesting address on the evolution of bells from very early times up to the present, mentioning especially the tuning, which, he said, symbolised the Christian faith, being accomplished from the inside, namely, - Give me a clean heart, O God, and renew a right spirit within me.'

Tea was served in the garden of No. 4, West Street, and the business meeting followed, conducted, in the absence of the chairman, by the Rev. S. P. Rowcroft.

The membership of Mr. J. Kape, elected prior to ringing a peal recently, was ratified. It was proposed to hold the next meeting at Preston in August, and the following rota of practices was agrecd to:-Milton Abbey, July 2nd; Sydling, July 16th; Maiden Newton, July 30 th ; St. Peter's, Dorchester, August 13th; and Bere Regis, August 27th (all subject to permission).

Ringing continued until 9 p.m. under the direction of Mr. F. Precey, Ringing Master of the Branch, and his deputies, Mr. F. Stedman and Mr. H. J. Ford, methods rung including Grandsire and Stedman Doubles, Plain Bob Minor, Kent and Oxford Treble Bob and Cambridge and London Surprise Minor.

Towers represented were Abbotsbury, Buckland Newton, Charminster, St. Peter's, Dorchester, Preston, Wool, Wyke Regis and Yetminster with a visitor from Bishopstone, near Southampton.

North Herts District

In brilliant sunshine a meeting was held at King's Walden on June 25th. After some group photographs had been taken, the service was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. A. Cheetham.

At the business meeting, after a good rea, it was decided that the next District meeting should be in August, with the special method Thelwall Delight and the Ringing Master Mr. M. Orme. The July meeting would be a joint one with the Eastern District at Aspenden on July 9th.

Ringing continued with methods ranging from rounds to the special method, Wearmouth Surprise.

Eastern District

A bell-shaped cake was a feature of the tea provided for 27 ringers representing 14 towers at the meeting of the Eastern District at Great Hormead on June 14th. Ringing on the six bells (tenor 13 cwt .) included Grandsire, Stedman and Plain Bob Doubles, St. Clement's, Kent Treble Bob, Cambridge Surprise and Double Court Bob Minor.

Mr. A. S. Carter presided at the business meeting, when Messrs. B. Smith, B. Jones, P. Glazebrook and D. Smith, of the Braughing band, were elected ringing members. The next meeting is on July 9th at Aspenden.

RINGING WEEK-END AT THAXTED

A most successful ringing week-end was held at Clarence House, Thaxted, Essex, under the auspices of the Further Education department of the Essex County Council, arranged by the Essex Association of Change Ringers.
The members of the course gathered from Essex and the surrounding counties on Friday evening, all arriving in time for supper at $8.30 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. There being no set work for Friday evening, various items of entertainment and sport were enjoyed. The two pianos in the lounge were put into scrvice and the talent of the members was soon unleashed. The handbells were brought into use and the members ringing in a rather unorthodox manner caused more fun than they produced good ringing. As the hour of midnight approached and the prospects of a full day to come, the party broke up and retired to bed.
Breakfast at 8.45 appeared to be rather early for some, but needless to say all were ready for the Ringing Experts when they arrived at $10 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}$. There, complete with blackboard and chalk, the general secretary of the Essex Association (Mr. Frank Gant) proceeded to expound the theory of Method Construc-tion-how they could be set out and memorised. Writing pads were provided so that everyone could try their luck, needless to say there were no marks awarded to those who were good and no cane for those who made many mistakes. After an hour of this rather hectic brainwork, coffee and biscuits were served to revive and sustain both the lecturer and student. Following this short break Mr. David Beard gave a very interesting lecture with blackboard illustration on conducting and proof of touches. This proved to be a subject which brought forth many questions and much discussion. Here again notes were taken for future reference, a suggestion being made that the lecturer's notes should be printed and circulated to all concerned.
The students were joined by other ringers, who came for the day, and lunch proved to be a very jolly meal. Needless to say, the merits or otherwise of bells and peals came forward for discussion-members expressing their views in no uncertain manner.

MR. PAUL TAYLOR LECTURES

After lunch the secne was set for the next lecture. Three different types of projector were tried before the illustrated lecture could commence. Mr. Paul Taylor, of Messrs. John Taylor and Co., started by showing illustrations and explaining the merits of the very early bells, and, with the aid of an excellent range of slides. conducted the members through all the stages of a bell foundry up to the present day. He then spoke about the methods of hanging. the principles which must be complied with, the forces to which towers and frames are subjected, and all the many things which assist to make ringing a pleasure to those who ring, and a joy to those who from choice or necessity listen. The lecturer had to answer a great many questions and proved his skill both in the way that he dealt with the questioners and the questions. He had a wealth of experience and a mine of knowledge stretching back many generations to draw his replies from.

Following tea, the bells of Thaxted Parish Church were placed at the disposal of the members by the Vicar, the Rev. Jack Putterill, and methods up to London Surprise Major were rung. The bells with their lovely friezes were inspected. and photos of the Dancing and Fellowship bells were taken.

Sunday started with the ringing of the bells prior to the Communion service, and in spite of the very heavy rain a good number of parishioners turned out to join the ringers at the early morning service. Later in the day many people expressed their pleasure at hearing the bells so early.

RINGING AT SAFFRON WALDEN

After breakfast a number of the party visited Saffron Walden to have a pull on the fine ring of twelve, whilst others rang for the service. and some more bold than the rest took up positions in the choir to sing the service to a real Thaxted Setting of the Mass. After the scrvice more touches in various methods were rung and then our two organist members were invited to try their skill on the organs of the Parish Church, one a great organ with many years of service and no doubt a great deal of tradition behind its many stops, the other a splendid choir organ which has the pipes of a fairly old organ with the electric action and heart of a modern instrument. Needless to say they both acquitted themselves well, proving that ringers have abilities in other ways.

After lunch the course again resumed, when Mr. Lconard E. Last gave a lecture on the growth of the Parish Church, commencing with very early geological history to explain the reasons for the positions of first the village and then the church. Starting with the Early Saxon churches, he spoke about their structure and limitation owing to the nature of the materials available. The lecturer pursued his subject through the various stages of architecture and design, he gave the reasons for the enlargement of the churches, coming right upp to the great pro-cathedrals of the present day. Towers and the fittings they contain were very much to the fore in the minds of the lecturer and his hearers.
At tea the organiser thanked the lectures for their help and support, and on behalf of all present their host, Mrs. M. Jones, for the way they had been received and treated during what had proved to be a very happy, pleasant and instructive week-end. All agreed that the course had been a great success and requested the organiser to make certain that representations. were made to the authorities for their permission to hold another week-end course next year.

MEMORIAL TO CANON COLERIDGE

On the evening of the patronal festival, St . John=the-Baptist's Day, June 24th, the long talked of memorial to Canon G. F. Coleridge was dedicated in Crowthorne Church, where the Canon was Vicar for 52 years.

The form of the memorial was the beautifying of the sanctuary by the provision of ad new altar, frontal and linen, light colouring or the east wall to give better lighting effect, and a tablet set in the south wall telling future generations that the work was to the glory of God, the enrichment of His house and to the memory of a great vicar.

Bishop A. G. Parham, former Bishop of Reading, performed the ceremony in the presence of a large gathering of parishioners and friends. The Bishop, after explaining the object of the memorial said it was to the memory of a truly remarkable man. He spoke of Canon Coleridge as he knew him in his own lifetime ; his commanding stature, his devoted work as a parish priest, his other activities in likc, particularly as a ringer, one time Master and always a stalwart of the Oxford Diocesan Guild.

Bishop Parham also referred to the Canon's personal qualities, such as his outspoken criticism when needed, his insistence on only the best for God's service, and his simple, human kindness.

Among ringers present were Miss Marie Cross, Mr. W. J. Paice and his son, Mr. L. W. Paice, and Mr W. H. J. Parker, of Sandhurst.

Annual Meeting at Lichfield

$I^{\mathrm{N}}$N spite of the cold wind, the presence of the sun was sufficient to attract the usual attendance at the annual meeting of the Stafford Archdeaconry Society at Lichficld on June 15 tp. approximately 100 members and friends sitting down to tea.
The Society's president, Canon W. A. Parker, was officiating at a Missionary Festival at Burton-on-Trent, and the chair was taken by the clerical secretary, the Rev. C. H. Barker, this being his 40 th year in that office. Apologies were also received from Mr. B. G. Key, in charge of the ringing at the Burton festival, and Mr. H. Knight. It was also unfortunate that the lay secretary, Mr. F. Bennett, was unable to be present owing to an engagement at Hereford Cathedral, and he sent his apologies. $t 00$.

The business meeting might well go down as the shortest on record, not one controversial item heing raised. General satisfaction was expressed that, in spite of higher printing costs, the balance in hand at the end of the financial year had increased by just over $£ 2$.

The Society's officers were re-elected with the axception of the Ringing Master, the only nomination for this position being that of Mr G. W. Hughes, of Walsall. The retiring Ringing Master, Mr. J. D. Holden, in a short comment on the comparatively low peal total of 34. stressed the relatively greater importance of Sunday service ringing, and also pointed out that this was being maintained with the help of the many young people who were joining the Society.

No report by the Central Council representatives was available owing firstly to the inability of Mr. C. Wallater to go to Bristol because of the railway strike, and secondly to the absence from the meeting of Mr. B. G. Key. The next meeting is to be held jointly with the Shropshire Association and the Hereford Diocesan Guild at Walsall on July 9th, and the annual dinner was fixed for November 12th.
Twenty-two new members (among them nine ladies) were elected. and the meeting closed with the thanks offered by the chairman to Prebendary Creswell for taking the service at St. Mary's. and to all who had helped to make the meeting a success.

All three of the city towers were open for ringing and members were particularly gratified in that the Cathedral bells were available for a longer period than was formerly the case.

OBITUARY

MR. H. E. HAMMOND

A life member of the Essex Association, Mr. H. E. Hammond, died on June 22nd at the home of his daughter in Birmingham, aged 89 years.

He had a wonderful record of service to St. Michael's Church, Braintree. Not only was he a ringer for over 60 years, but he had a similar period of long service to the choir, and was a very keen musician. His pleasing personality and abilities as a ringer and good striker won for him the admiration of many friends. He rang several peals, including Surprise Major, and it was not until he had passed 80 that he ceased Sunday ringing.

The funeral service was at Braintree on June 28th. A course of Grandsire Triples was rung at the graveside by Miss H. Snowden, Messrs. A. Catterwell, L. W. Wiffen and E. Jennings. To his memory 1,280 Double Norwich Court Bob Major with the bells half-muffled was rung on Braintree bells in the evening by the following local band: S. Warne 1, Mrs. Jarvis 2, R. Lindsell 3, C. Barker 4, H. G. Felton 5, H. Reason 6, L. W. Wiften (cond.) 7, A. Wiffen 8.

SURPRISE AT LAND'S END

It was a case from East to extreme West when five of the local Danbury, Essex, band visited Cornwall for a holiday, and by enlisting the help of the rural Dean of Penwite Sennen, rang a peal of Cambridge Surprise Minor at Sennen, the church at Land's End. Surprise has now been rung as far west as possible in Englank First to congratulate the band with the words 'Jolly good' was the Rector, the Rev. C. R. Coate, who appeared in the tower immediately the ringing stopped, looking far more overcome by the heat of this delightful June evening than the peal band. He had spent most of the time the peal was being rung cutting grass in the churchyard, and on guard with a pair of shears.
The visitors mingled more ringing with their holiday at Landewednack, Zennor, St. Mary's, Penzance, Crantock and Towednack. At the last-named it was a peal of Bob Major with help from Kenwyn, and at other towers help was also given by changeringers in the district.

St. Andrew's, Rugby

The octave in the new tower of St. Andrew's Church, Rugby, were rung on June 19th for the first time since their restoration. The bell frame has been lowered approximately 16 feet in the tower, and all the bells are now mounted on ball bearings.

A special service was held on June 19th, when the Archdeacon of Oakham (the Ven. E. N. Millard) blessed the work that had been carried out.
The majority of the money for these alterations was provided by Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Hudson as a memorial to their parents.

Kent County Association

Good use was made of the light ring of eight at Gillingham Parish Church for a bymeeting of the Rochester District on June 18th. The Rev. J. R. John gave a most enjoyable sermon at the service.
Local ringers kindly provided tea and they and the Vicar were thanked by Mr. S. Rayfield. Ringing was continued in the evening in various methods.

ST. DAVID'S DIOCESAN GUILD

Annual Festival at Bishop's Palace

The Annual Festival of the Guild took place at the Bishop's Palace, Abergwili, Carmarthen, on June 25 th . Before proceeding to the Palace members congregated at St. Peter's Church, Carmarthen, where the bells of St. Peter's were at their disposal from 2 to 3 p.m.
On arriving at the Palace, the secretary, Mr. Chris Hawkins, was graciously received by the Bishop and, after a preliminary talk, the Bishop walked around the grounds of the Palace, greeting the members as he met them and telling them of the history and the places of interest in and around the Palace grounds.

At $3.30 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. a service was held in the Palace Chapel, at which the Bishop officiated. The lesson was read by Mr. Graham A. Edwards, of Llanelly, and the organ was played by Mr. Williams, of Llanstephan, both of whom are members of the Guild. After the service the members were entertained to tea in the Palace grounds.

The business meeting was held in the Conference Room of the Palace, at which the Bishop presided. Before starting the meeting a tribute of respect was paid 10 Mr . George Morris, of Llanstephan, and Mr. E. Hurren, of Llanelly, both members of the Guild, who had passed away since the last meeting.
The usual touch on the handbells was given by Mr. Slaney, Mr. Scudamore, Mr. Reynolds and Mr. W. J. Harris.
The minutes of the last annual meeting were read by the secretary, and a statement of accounts was given by Mr. W. P. E. Sage, the treasurer, both of which were adopted.
A report of the Central Council meeting was read by Mr. Chris Hawkins, who apologised for the unavoidable absence of Mr. A. Hoare, who was attending the meeting of the Swansea and Brecon Diocesan Guild.
Owing to the resignation of Mr. H. Jenkins, of Tenby, the honour of being Master of the Guild was bestowed upon Mr. E. J. Thomas, of Carmarthen. The office of Ringing Master fell to Mr. Gwyn Francis, of Llanelly. The secretary, treasurer and auditor were re-elected.

It was agreed to hold the 1956 competition at Llanbadarn Fawr.
A collection for the Bell Restoration Fund realised the sum of $£ 23 \mathrm{~s}$. The secretary, Mr. Chris Hawkins, then spoke about the bells of the diocese. He stated that unless something was done in the near future he feared that many of the rings of bells would be silent. He appealed to the ringers to approach their Vicars and Parochial Councils to get their bells rehung and overhauled before they became unringable.
A hearty vote of thanks was passed to the Lord Bishop for having the Guild at the Palace for their annual meeting. Also to Mrs. Havard and her helpers who provided tea: The Bishop responded suitably and the ringers then returned to St. Peter's Church to finish off a very enjoyable and memorable day.

SINGLE-HANDED HANDBELL PEALS  By C. W. WOOLLEY

AS proposer of the amendment at Bristol by which single-handed handbell peals are now recognised, I think I should endeavour to answer the points raised by Mr. Harry Poyner (July 1st).

This matter had been considered by the Council a few years ago when a more restrictive rule was proposed. This was rejected, the argument being that after two world wars there might well be some disabled ringers for whom this might be the only means of peal ringing. Since this view was accepted then, it seemed only logical to rescind a decision that such performances should be 'discountenanced.' The Council cannot therefore have been altogether so surprised when this matter came up again at Bristol; and the decision in question had been published previously in 'The Ringing World,' together with others for ratification or amendment.

Double-handed ringing has never been widely practised, and now, to judge by the peal reports, is very much on the decline. It has even been stated that it may die out altogether. I am the last person to wish to see this happen. I believe that the former decision to discountenance singlehanded performances was taken with the best of motives, that is, to encourage handbell ringers to ring doublehanded, but I very much doubt if it has had the effect intended.

Many ringers, I think, feel that if they take to handbell ringing it is absolutely necessary to master the doublehanded technique, of which they have no knowledge and towards which they have no ambition; and they will not ring single-handed because they feel some stigma attaches to this sort of performance. Consequently there are many sets of handbells, which might be put to very good use, lying about in odd corners in our belfries and going to ruin for want of a little use and attention. I do think that if more of these were used considerable good might result; a band which put in extra practice by handbell ringing would be bound to feel the benefit in the tower; and many people might be led to try a pair and, ultimately, become double-handed ringers.

As to the feeling that single-handed handbell ringing is to be despised, is it. after all, so very much easier than tower-bell ringing? Once the art of change ringing in the tower has been acquired, the amount of skill and attention a ringer has to put into the actual manipulation of his bell (unless very heavy, bad-going or odd-struck) is practically nil; all goes into the actual ringing and striking of the method. There could probably be no easier method devised of sounding a bell accurately in its place than the present one of ringing it up with rope and wheel; let anyone who doubts this try to ring changes by any other method, say by a band chiming, with one rope each, on a chiming apparatus. I really cannot agree that handbells would provide such a cheap and easy way of scoring peals; and if one looks at peal reports in years gone by, when such performances were recognised, there is no evidence that this ever was so.

If there are ringers whose sole object in ringing is to run up vast scores of peals, as if in competition with all others, would it not be better that they should be able to do this inoffensively in their own homes, rather than by caning their own and neighbouring towers-a procedure which can only arouse opposition from the general public? The real business of the Exercise is, after all, to get bells rung as much and as well as possible on Sundays, and we should adopt all means we can to this end. There are certainly those who go in for peal ringing in a big way and acquire great skill through much practice; if they also like to do it in their own homes, should they be called 'unscrupulous '?

Finally, it has never been suggested that single-handed performances should be accepted as 'on a par' with double-handed ones, if by 'on a par' we mean (as I think). strictly equal in merit and difficulty. Then what peals are 'on a par' in this sense? Ringers of a peal of Bob Major on a light eight, while claiming a peal, would hardly claim that their performance equalled a peal of Surprise Maximus. No one, I think, would ever confuse single and double-handed ringing on their merits.

It now remains to be seen whether the old prejudices remain, or whether any ringers will take advantage of the new C.C. ruling. At least, they are now free to do so if they so desire. I cannot see that any harm will come; and if through this any band betters itself for tower-bell ringing, or one ringer is induced to take up double-handed handbell ringing, then the few minutes taken up at the Council meeting in amending this decision will not have been wasted.

ASHTEAD, SURREY

The Ashtead ringers with some friends from Christ Church, Epsom, and Leatherhead had a day's ringing along the Essex-Kent border on June 4th. The towers visited in the morning were Balcombe and Turner's Hill, both very easy going octaves. Lunch was taken at Aldrington, Hove, but before this the visitors had an opportunity of ringing on this very pleasant six and had the honour of welcoming one of a number of brides who were married there that day. The towers visited after lunch were Coleman's Hatch, Edenbridge and Lingfield, all eights. Here again the ringing was much enjoyed. Methods rung during the day were Grandsire, Plain Bob and Stedman. Thanks are due to all incumbents and tower captains who made the outing so enjoyable.

FARNHAM, SURREY

Farnham ringers had a grand day on June 25 th, the beautiful sunshine enabling the company to enjoy the longish journey to Northampton.

An old friend, Mr. Rowland Aldridge, who learnt to ring at Aldershot, awaited the party at St. Mary's, Roade, a five-bell tower which provided the first ringing of the day. He helped Mr. C. W. Denyer, the Farnham captain, to make the excellent arrangements.

The thrill of ringing on ten bells was provided at St. Giles', Northampton. After an excellent lunch at the Wedgewood Cafe a short coach journey brought the party to St. John's, Kingsthorpe, where 'wedding bells' were rung Two other towers were visited during the after-noon-St. Edmund's (8) and St. Peter's, Weston Favell (5). After a good ring at each tower the party was ready for tea at Abington Park Only one tower was visited during the eveningSt. Peter's. Before leaving Northampton thanks were expressed to Mr. Aldridge for such a successful tour. Farnham was reached at 10.30 .

MILTON-NEXT-GRAVESEND

For the third year in succession lovely weather favoured the Milton-next-Gravesend band for their outing on June 25th. To the regret of the party Mr. F. M. Mitchell, the Jeader, was unable to be with the party as he had entered Gravesend and North Kent Hospital a few days previous for treatment.

The first stop was at Hartfield, where Cambridge was the first touch of the day on these easy-going bells. Then on to Eastbourne for an enjoyable ring at All Saints', lunch and an hour on the beach.

The route to Hawkhurst was through lovely country. The inside of the church is still in a sorry state through war damage, but there is a fine ring of bells. Tea at Biddenden came before entering the 'drawing room' belfry of the Parish Church. Here with the assistance of Mr. Fred Macey and Mr. Geoffrey Waters a reasonably good course of Double Norwich was rung.

RRAINTREE, ESSEX

St. Michael's, Braintree, company and their wives had a very enjoyable outing on Jume 18th. In the morning ringing took place at St. Peter's (10), St. Albans, and at Tring. After lunch at the Forum Restaurant. Oxford, two of the city churches were visited-St. Giles' and All Saints' All evening ride Lioughe the party to Thame where, after ringing for half an hour, they had the pleasure of meeting Cheltenham ringers, who were on their annual outing. Home was reached at midnight. Thanks are accorded to all who helped to make the outing so successful.

OUTINGS

NEWARK-UN-TRENT

For their annual outing this year Newark Parish Church Society of Ringers chose Derbyshire, and a very collective day's ringing for June 25 th had been arranged by the secretary, Mr. F. W. Midwinter.
Commencing with St. Mary's, Sutton-in-Ashfield ( 8 , tenor $15 \frac{1}{2} \mathrm{cwt}$.), the bells were soon raised and rung to a variety of methods. This was followed by the musical eight (tenor $12 \frac{1}{2}$ cwt.) of St. Mary's, Crich. It was a great pleasure here to ring with the Vicar, who has just started to learn along with a new band.
Following lunch, St. Mary's, Wirksworth (8, tenor $14 \frac{1}{2} \mathrm{cwt}$.), was visited, and after some difficulty in finding the way to the ringing chamber, some good ringing was enjoyed. The last tower before tea was the eight (tenor 14 cwt .) of St. Oswald's, Ashbourne. Only simple methods were attempted here owing to the long draught and the difficulty experienced in handling the bells.

Crossing into Staffordshire, tea was taken at Ilam Park. Following tea with some time to spare, permission to ring on the five bells of the Church of the Holy Cross, Ilam, was sought of the Vicar. The Vicar said that he thought that there was a wheel missing but we could try them at our own risk. On entering the belfry it was found the wheel was missing from the fourth, the rope being tied to the clapper, and the tenor had been completely overturned, entwining the rope and breaking the stay. After rethreading the rope and clearing the broken stay it was decided that perhaps it would not be safe to ring the bells up, but by chiming $1,2,3$ and 5 and clocking the fourth it was realised that here was a fine ring of good tone, which, due to negligence, was now lost to the Exercise.

The last tower of the day was the fine eight (tenor $16 \frac{1}{2}$ cwt.) of All Saints' Church, Ripley. So ended a good day's ringing with many thanks to the incumbents for the use of the bells, and 'to Mr. F. W. Midwinter for arranging a most enjoyable day.

HELMINGHAM, SUFFOLK

Shortly after 6 am on June 25th the Helmingham and district party were on their way to Surrey. Towers chosen were Chertsey, Bagshot, Yorktown, Farnham, Holy Trinity and S. Nicolas', Guildford.

Before leaving the hall for ringing, the party stood in silence as a last tribute to a faithful friend, Frank L. Fisher, and Alfred H. Watson, who died during that week; both had always accompanied the party. Mrs. Welton and helpers had provided a magnificent lunch in the Church Hall, Bagshot, which was thoroughly enjoyed.

Another good meal was enjoyed at Farnham. All enjoyed the journey across the Hog's Back to Guildford. Here some of the party, after 30 years, renewed friendship with Mr. A. H. Pulling, who is still going strong and took part in a course of Bristol.

Home was reached at $2.30 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}$. aftet 250 miles had been covered. Good ringing was heard all day to various methods. Les Biett, the organiser, thanks everyone who helped him to makc yet another outing such a success, also the party for their kindness in presenting him with a wallet, which came as a great surprise.

ROTHERHAM

With friends from Wath-on-Dearne and Handsworth (Sheffield), Rotherham Parish Church ringers had a long outing on June $18 \mathrm{th}_{\downarrow}$ leaving home at $7 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}$., arriving home at 1 a.m.
At Lichfield the party were met by Mr. F. A. Sedgwick and were ready for the splendid breakfast. At St. Mary's Church they were welcomed by Miss Cawser and the brothers Peter and Dennis Beresford, who had everything ready. Bob Major, Grandsire and Stedman were rung. An opportunity was made for & visit to the Cathedral.
A pleasant drive through beautiful country led to Kenilworth, where Mr. Royal ushered the party into the clean little belfry. The six, bells were soon going to Cambridge Surprise, Oxford Treble Bob, Little and Plain Bob.
Owing to the annual regatta, ringing had been cancelled at Stratford-on-Avon, but fortunately Mr. Chaddock was able to contact Mr. Hunt, the head ringer, and the visitors were allowed to try this beautiful ten at $7.30 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$.
After a day well spent the party was entertained en route with tunes on handbells by Mr. Chaddock and his pupils.

TEIGNMOUTH DISTRICT

A small number of members of the MidDevon area, mainly drawn from Teignmouth, spent a very enjoyable afternoon on July 9th, when a visit was paid to Holne, a charming village on the edge of the moors, which is associated with the Rev. Charles Kingsley. An hour was spent here with these rather difficult going bells. A few of the more energetic members later climbed up in the tower and inspected the bells and found that they were all dated 1743, and were cast by one A. Gooding.
A move was afterwards made down to Spitchwick, where a picnic was much enjoyed beside the River Dart, and incidentally there were quite a number of other visitors in the district.
A visit was afterwards paid to Buckland-in-the-Moor, another lovely Devon village, where we were joined by the local steeplekeeper. A very pleasant hour was spent with these ex-cellent-going bells, after which 'tracks' wero. made for home.

FARINGDON, BERKS

Ringers of Faringdon, Buckland, Stanford-in-the-Vale. Shrivenham and Aldenham had a perfect day for their annual outing when visits were paid to Stratford-on-Avon, Birmingham, Tanworth-in-Arden and Stow-in-the-Wold.
Ringing at Stratford preceded lunch at Birmingham, followed by ringing at the Cathedral Church of St. Philip. Next came the light eight at Tanworth. After tea at Stratford-onAvon, a pleasant run took the party to Stow-on-the-Wold, via Chipping Campden. The Vicar (the Rev. A. H. G. Davey) and his wife accompanied the ringers.

Halifax and District Association

Only three companies officially entered for the six-bell contest held at Cawthorne on June 25th, but a sufficient number of spare members at* tended to make up a mixed company. The judge was Mr. R. Brogan, of Cawthorne, and he gave his decision as follows

Friezland were declared winners of the silver cup and each man received a brass letter rack.
During the annual business meeting the balance sheet was adopted and all the officers were re-elected. A proposal that members of winning teams should be penalised was rejected, after a lengthy debate. Further ringing by mixed hands brought a grand day to a close.

Rınging friends in NorthEast Essex will wish to congratulate Mr. Herbert T. Pye, Colchester, on attaining his 80th birthday on June 23rd, and will sympathise with him in the fact that he did not feel equal to taking part in any ringing on that special ocasion. A congratulatory quarter of Yorkshire Surprise was rung at St. Peter's in the evening and the five "firsts" included three lady ringers.
Mr. G. Pullinger has relinquished the Mastership of the Winchester and Portsmouth Diocesan Guild, to the great regret of the members. His successor is the general secretary of the Guild, Mr. F. W. Rogers. Mr. J. C. A. King, of Winchester, is the new general secretary.

Mr. George Evenden, of Bournemouth, a popular member of the Roving Ringers, was injured in an explosion at Bournemouth Gas Works. We wish him a speedy recovery.

Mr. Ian Scott-Jackson, from the Isle of Wight. was a welcome visitor to St. Donard's, Belfast, on June 26th, when he took part in the ringing for morning and evening services. St. Donard's are not practising during the summer months.

At the last meeting of the College Youths it was interesting to note amongst those in attendance Mr. E. Alex Young, aged 90; Mr. W. T. Elson, aged 88 ; and Mr. I. Emery, aged 82, all taking a very keen part in the proceedings. Some Youths!
Alter 41 years' practice Mr Edgar C Shepherd has at last rung the tenor to a peal and alse 'circled' a tower (Edgbaston). Certain Birmingham friends consider that the obvious targets for his declining years are St. Paul's, Exeter, and Liverpool Cathedral (in that order, of course).

GOSSIP

Mr. Derek P. Jones made his 100th peal a family affair with Philip Mehew, of Stotfold, and Michacl Orme, of Hitchin, with whom he had rung 31 peals. It was rung beneath a ruined flint arch at Minsden Chapel, near Hitchin, a start being made at 6.30 a.m. The peal was completed a few minutes before 9 a.m. so as to enable the party to keep previous engagements.
Letter received by Mr. F. Dukes, secretary of the Irish Association:- Choirboy to Vicar: The choir is getting up a cricket team, sir, and we are wondering if you would lend us the bats which the verger says you have in the belfry. Mr. Dukes writes in the "Irish Bell News": There are nine of St. Peter's, Drogheda, bell ringers in the church choir.

Mr. W. R. Manser has 'circled ' East Peckham tower to peals three times.
Corsham, Wilts, had a quarter rung on its bells on June 29th. Is this the first on the bells? inquire those who participated.

We hear that plans are in hand for a reunion of veterans at St. Olave's, Hart Street, E.C., on September 17th.

It was a big disappointment to Liverpool ringers to lose the half-muffled peal to the memory of their former Rector (the Rev. David Railton). The attempt was Stedman Triples on the light eight, and after nearly three and a half hours, when the bells were in the plain course at the end of the peal, a slight hesitation on the part of one ringer led to the bells getting all in a heap. Although they were finally sorted out and came into rounds there was a very ugly patch of 30 or so changes and if could not honestly be regarded as a peal. In the company were Miss G. Howlett and Miss F. Ellison, who were making their first peal attempt on the new bells.

THE WHITECHAPEL BELL FOUNDRY

LATEST RINGER TO SCORE 1,000 PEALS MR. JOHN THOMAS AND HIS EXPLOTTS

$\mathrm{O}^{\mathrm{N}}$N Tuesday, December 26th, 1899, a peal of Stedman Triples was rung at St. Stephen's Church, Bristol. It was the first peal by the ringer of the treble-John Thomas -and the conductor was G. T. Daltry. On Saturday, June 18th. 1955, John Thomas returned to St. Stephen's, Bristol, and called a peal of Stedman Caters-his 1,000 th peal. Two members of the band were old Bristol ringersAlfred E. Reeves (76) and Frederick G. Leaker (73), with whom Jack Thomas (also 73) has been associated for almost all of his ringing life. The band included Mrs. Thomas, two of Jack's brothers-in-law-Joseph D. Johnson (secretary of the Worcestershire and Districts Association) and Thomas W. Lewis, of Worcester, as well as Albert M. Tyler, of Bristol (Jack's nephew).
A remarkable point about the ringing career of John Thomas is that he rang his 500th peal as recently as March 14th, 1943, and he has, therefore, rung the second 500 in just over 12 years, whereas the first 500 took over 43 years.

STARTED AT BRISTOL

John Thomas learned to ring with several of his brothers at St. Michael's, Bristol, a sixbell tower, and he undoubtedly took to the art as a duck to water. He was brought up in an age when learners had to show their merit with scant encouragement from their elders.

His first peal of Surprise-Superlative, again conducted by G. T. Daltry-was rung at All Saints', Bristol, on September 11th, 1901 , and his first as conductor was at St. Luke's, Bristol - seven extents of Bob Minor-on February 7th. 1902. His first handbell peal (also the first handbell peal to be rung in Bristol) was Grandsire Caters, rung on May Day, 1902.

Any who know Jack Thomas will think of him as a great conductor of Holt $s$ Original. Very few people have called this famous composition more times than he has. The first time was at Christ Church, Swindon, on December 23rd, 1902. Since then he has rung the peal on both tower-and handbells in many parts of the country, and a good many learners have thus been able to thank John Thomas for their first peal.

On September 14th, 1903, the late William Pye performed what has often been regarded as one of the greatest possible feats of heavy bell ringing when he rang the tenor at Exeter Cathedral single-handed to a peal of Stedman Caters. John Thomas was the ringer of the treble in that historic real, and for his 1,000 th peal he chose the same composition ( 5,041 Stedman Caters by G. Lindoff), which William Pye called at Exeter.

On December 29th, 1903, a peal of London Surprise Major-first by all the band-was zung at All Saints', Bristol, conducted by F . G. May, Mr. Thomas rang the fifth. On March 2nd, 1904, in St. Stephen's, Bristol, belfry he called Holt's Original on handhellshis first handbell peal as conductor, and on May 20th, 1905, he called Thurstans' One-Part at Long Ashton, and this was his 100 th peal.

IN LONDON

By the time Mr. Thomas left Bristol, in 1911, to live in London, he had rung just over 150 peals. Then began long assaciations with three farnous companies of peal ringers-WilJiam Pye's band, Mr. James Parker's Edmonton band and the Ancient Society of College

Youths. Thus it was that he took part in a peal of Stedman Cinques at St. Michael's, Cornhill, on October 31st, 1911.
He took part, on April 8th, 1912, at Knebworth, Herts, in a record peal of Bristol Surprise Major, 12,160 changes, conducted by $G$. N. Price. This was only to stand as a record for a few weeks, being beaten by William Pye at Hornchurch, Essex, but was a fine performance all the same.
On November 23rd, 1912, Mr. Thomas took part in the first 'name' peal on 12 bells at St. Giles', Cripplegate. This was conducted by the late John H. Cheeseman, who was also in the select company of those who have rung a thousand peals. Another participant was the first editor of 'The Ringing World '-John S. Goldsmith.
A performance remarkable for those, or even for these, days was a handbell peal of Stedman Cinques rung in Shoreditch belfry on November 13th, 1914, conducted by William Pye. Bertram Prewett, said to have been one of the first ringers of his generation, rang $1-2$ in this peal, and Alfred W. Grimes, the first man to ring 250 peals in two years, rang 11-12. Mr. Thomas rang 9-10, and the brothers William, Geoige R. and Ernest Pye rang the remaining pairs.
Mr. Thomas rang his first of Cambridgc Maximus at Chelmsford Cathedral on March 28th, 1921. He took part with the Pye band in three peals of Middlesex Surprise Royal at St. Magnus-the-Martyr, London Bridge, West Ham and St. Clement Danes'.
Another of the great performances of all time was a peal of Cambridge Surprise Maximus at St. Paul's Cathedral on February 7th, 1925. This was conducted from the tenor by the present secretary of the Ancient Society of College Youths (Mr. A. B. Peck) and the 11th was rung by Mr. Herbert Langdon. Mr. Thomas rang the third.
In the following years Mr. Thomas rang peals in many parts of the country. Wherever his work as a bellhanger for Messrs. Mears and Stainbank took him he participated in local ringing.

Mr. Thomas has been married twice and he has taken part in a married couples' peal with both of his wives, including with his present wife a peal of Stedman Cinques at Leicestel. Mrs. Thomas was the first lady to ring 500 peals, and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas have probably rung more peals together than any other manried couple.

WAR-TIME RINGING

The outbreak of the last war brought a cessation to tower bell ringing, but Mr. I nomas was in the forefront of those who kept the art alive on handbells. He took part in Holt s Original rung silent, at Whitechapel Bell Foundry on November 8th, 1941. On March 14th, 1943, he rang Holt's Original 'in hand' at Enfield, and this was his 500 th peal. About this time the floodgates really opened and 24 , Suffolk Road. Enficld, became the best known address in the Exercise. In 1943, 1944 and 1945 hardly a week passed without several peals rung at that address. Several youngsters were taught and after the ban on ringing was removed All Saints', Edmonton, had a regular band trained by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas. The names of some of these young ringers may be recalled-Eric A. Dench, Victor R. Woodard, Albert J. Wallman, Dennis H. Langdon, Philip J. Coward and Lucile M. Hubbert (now Mrs. P. A. Corby). Another well-known ringer associated closely with the activities of this company at that time was Mr. Charles W. Roberts, whose name appears very frequently in Mr Thomas' peal book. Many fine handbell performances resulted from their activities including Stedman Cinques, which they rang with great skill. The culminating performance was the first peal ever rung with 14 changing bells -Plain Bob 14 -in on Sunday, August 24th, 1944. Many peals were rung on Sunday afternoons, but this particular peal was the only one which ever interfered with regular service ringing at All Saints', Edmonton.

SOLID ACHIEVEMENT

In December, 1946, Mr. Thomas moved from London to his present home at Hinton-on-the Green, Worcestershire. He continues to be very active both with tower- and handbells. Very few ringers are better known than Mr. Thomas, and his many friends will share his pleasure at ringing his 1,000 th peal. This has been no mere peal-grabbing but represents solid achievement and a great deal of spade work for the benefit of less experienced ringers. Few instructors are gifted with such patience, and few are more qualified to give instruction than this man with a wonderful ear and a genius for striking an odd-struck bell. The Exercise hopes he will continue long to enjoy his present good health and live to ring many more peals. Congratulations, Jack

THE LADIES' GUILD PROGRESSES

25 PER CENT. MEMBERSHIP INCREASE

WHEN the Ladies' Guild came to Guildford on July 2nd it had its largest attendance at an annual meeting in the 43 years of its existence. For the occasion a good programme of ringing was arranged, seven towers in Guildford and the neighbouring villages being available. Members ' came from Leeds, South Wales, Bristol, Bedford and the Home Counties.

The service was held in St. Mary's Church, some 900 years old, and was conducted by the Rev. C. G. Pearson, who gave an address. Tea in the Congregational Hall had been provided by the Guildford Diocesan Guild and the Southern District of the Ladies' Guild. Appreciation of the fare provided was a collection of $£ 7$ for the Guildford New Cathedral Fund.
The meal had scarcely concluded before the Mayor and Mayoress of Guildford (Councillor and Mrs. H. Kimber) arrived to give the Guild a civic welcome to Guildford. Such an honour, said the president, in introducing the visitors, was unique in the Guild's 43 years' history. "We have never had the honour of being welcomed by a Mayor and Mayoress before. That was the largest annual meeting of the Guild she had presided over. They were very fortunate in having so many friends in Guildford. who had entertained them as their guests. Guildford was a delightful old town but she found the hills rather trying.

The Mayor, in his defence of Guildford's hills, thought the winds of Caister far more dangerous. In extending a welcome to the Guild he expressed surprise that they had not been welcomed by a chief citizen before, and suggested that they had not approached the Mayor.

COLLEGE MAIDENS'
He lived near a church and he frequently heard them making a joyful noise unto the Lord.' He was rather intrigued about the title of the Ancient Society of College Youths; he suggested that their Guild was the 'Ancient Society of College Maidens.'

You have a glorious day for your visit. I suggest you get up early to-morrow and see Guildford from the hills. See the Cathedral of the Holy Spirit and ring the bells with all your might but don't ring before $8 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}$.'

At the business meeting Mrs. Fletcher presided. supported by Miss D. Colegate (hon. secretary). Among the apologies received was one from Miss Dorothy Sayers, an honorary member, who could not attend through illhealth. She sent her best wishes to the meeting and the Exercise generally.

The meeting stood in remembrance of Mrs. Matthews, Mrs. East, Mrs. Reeves (one of the earliest members better known under her maiden name, Miss Chillingworth) and Miss Walker.

STARTED WITH 30

Acknowledging her re-election as president, Mrs. Fletcher said she sometimes felt that she ought to give up the office, but the Ladies' Guild and the Central Council were her only two connections with ringing now. 'I don't feel, unless I am chucked out, that I can give up the office. When we started there were 30 members; now there are over 700.'

Miss Colegate was elected secretary and treasurer and was described by the president as a "real tower of strength 10 the Guild.' Miss Audrey Bailey, the hon. auditor, was also re-elected and was especially thanked for the expeditious way she dealt with the accounts to have them ready for the meeting.
The secretary's report stated that 1954 had been a year of slow but steady progress. The West Midland District, under its new secretary, was increasing its membership, and the newlyformed Kent District had made an excellent start. The total membership had increased during the year by 25 per cent., rising from 612 to 768. The recent death of Mrs. K. Matthews was a sad loss to the Guild. She was for a time secretary of the Central District, and had also acted as assistant secretary. She had represented the Central District on the General Committee and had also taken part in peals for the Guild.

Subscriptions showed an increase ( $£ 28$ 17s. 6 d . compared with $£ 26$ 2s. in 1953). There was an excess of income over expenditure of $£ 18$, but it must be remembered that no report was issued during the year.

PEALS WANTED

No peals were rung for the Guild during 1954. Whilst peal ringing is not one of our aims, there is a sense of achievement when one has been accomplished, and often a peal will create interest among non-members of the district in which it is rung. It is not an easy matter to get together a band, but it is doubtful if the difficulties are as great to-day as they were when the first peals for the Guild were being rung, and we should like to see a few peals each year as a proof that we are still going forward.
The president said the committee considered the matter of a report and suggested that it would be advisable to have a full report with the names and addresses of members every three years, and in the interim a small report of the activities of the various Districts and any vital information as to changes of officers would be published. This was agreed to and the report was adopted.
The balance sheet showed cash balances of $£ 5117 \mathrm{~s}$. $11 \mathrm{~d} .$, stock of badges $£ 1010 \mathrm{~s}$., and Post Office Saving Bank Account £55 8s. 11d. There was an excess of income over expenditure during the year of $£ 182 \mathrm{~s} .10 \frac{1}{2} \mathrm{~d}$. The accounts were adopted on the proposition of Miss Colegate, seconded by Miss Steel.

DISTRICT REPORTS

Miss Oliver, reporting on the Southern District, stated that it kept very staple and there was nothing very outstanding. There were quite a number of girls and women who were not members whom they would like to see in the Guild. The time had now arrived when she could not continue as District secretary.

Miss Evans, presenting the South Wales report, said the District was going from strength to strength and they had 88 members on the books. For their next meeting they were going to Eardisland, in Herefordshire, and they hoped to form a Hereford District.

Miss Haffenden gave an encouraging first report of the Kent District. At the annual meeting at Canterbury the ladies rang the 12 bells of the Cathedral. They had now 70 members, including five honorary.
Miss Lawrenoe, reporting on the Central District, stated that 13 new members wore elected during the year. The District continued to meet on the fifth Saturday of the month.
A written report was received from Mrs. Richardson concerning the Lincolnshire District, which stated that 1954 was a good year for the District. They bad lost one of their ablest ringers by the marriage of Miss Betty Brown, who now lived in Canada. The strength of the Branch had moved from the north to the south and 17 lived in the Spalding area. They had still six ladies who joined the Guild in 1927.
A report of the Midland District was sent by Miss Simpson which stated that five meetings had been held and 12 new members elected.

Mrs. Lee's report on the North-Eastern District stated meetings were well supported. They had 45 members, including six honorary.
The Western District's report sent by Mrs. De Jong recorded a fairly successful year with four meetings. Their first service touch of Grandsire Caters was rung at Minehead. Six new members had been elected.

Miss Stella Hughes' report of the West Midland District stated that meetings had been well attended. Two peals had been attempted but unfortunately came to grief. Two quarters had been rung. They hoped to ring at least one peal during the coming year.
The Yorkshire District report sent by Mrs, Kelly stated that four meetings, all successful, had been held. Fourteen new members hack been elected against six in the previous year.

The president said they owed a debt of gratitude to the secretary and the District sec retaries. Their hard work had brought the Guild up to its present strength.

NEXT MEETING AT WORCESTER

On the proposition of Miss J. Evans, seconded by Mrs. E. A. Barnett, it was decided to hold the next annual meeting at Worcester on the first Saturday in July, 1956.
Upon the recommendation of the committee the meeting agreed to hold another dinner.
An omnibus vote of thanks was moved from the chair to the incumbents of Guildford and neighbouring churches for permission to ring, to the Rev. C. E. Pearson. the organist and choir for their services, and to the Guildford Diocesan Guild and Mrs. Grover for the tea, and to Miss Oliver for making the arrangements. Acknowledging the compliment, Miss Oliver said 'We have had great fun in arranging it." Mrs. Lock proposed a vote of thanks to the Guild's officers, which was carried with acclamation.

Joint Meeting at Drighlington

Leeds and District Society held an enjoyable joint meeting with the Yorkshire District of the Ladies' Guild at Drighlington on June 25th. During the afternoon and evening members and friends from Pudsey, Northowram, Leeds, Bradford, Liversedge, Thorner, Rothwell, Armley, Headingley St. Michael's, Otley, Handsworth and Batley kept the bells going in a variety of methods ranging from Plain Bob to Yorkshire.
In proposing the customary vote of thanks at the business meeting Mr. I. Slack particularly thanked Mr. S. Barron, who had made the local arrangements for tea, which had earlier been enjoyed by some 18 members. This was seconded by Miss M. Rhodes on behalf of the Ladies' Guild.
The next meeting will be held at Bramley.
In a report from the Ladies' Guild we learn that Mrs. P. M. Thorley was elected vice-president in place of Miss M. Rhodes, who retired, and Mrs. E. D. Kelley re-elected hon. secretary.
The report for 1954 stated that 14 new members had been elected, against six in the previous year. Four quarterly meetings had been held.
On returning to the belfry, writes E. D. K., it was noted that a stay, broken while the meeting was taking place, had been replaced with alacrity, but the ladies were disappointed at not seeing tht 'Jacob's Ladder' negotiated, 'J. L.' being nothing more than toe holes in the wall as far as the eye could see.
A course of Bob Minor was rung by the ladies and then votes of thanks were expressed to Mr. Barron for his excellent arrangements, to the clergy and to the Leeds Society for their kind invitation to join them.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

THE EMANCIPATION OF 1955

Dear Sir,-So Bob Triples is reprieved!-and with it all its aberrent relations. Considering the stir the Bob Triples controversy aroused, I have been most surprised at the quiet way its acceptance by the Central Council has passed off, only you, sir, making a comment.
Ringers generally must concede that their representatives voted in accordance with popular sentiment. The majority is not always right, but can usually be relied upon to give a rational judgment upon issues affecting the multitude. Pages of 'Decisions' reconsidered this year at Bristol, and agreed to, cannot but be accepted by any fair-minded ringer.

Many a pint of ale has been quaffed of late to the accompaniment of a discussion on what we think we should legitimately ring; much ink has been expended, and on occasions much heat generated in this journal over the issue. It appears that it has been well worth while. Despite the verdict of a small minority, the commonsense of the majority has triumphed, and the Council has at last shown clearly that it will not be controlled by small extremist groups.
It is most heartening to learn that democracy still prevails in our councils, and the Exercise owes a gracious 'Thank you' to all those loyal enthusiasts who gave their time and money to travel to Bristol amid the confusion of the rail strike to convey their members' decisions (often at variance with their own) to the Parliament of ringing.

Now that we have the liberty to ring peals of whatever we like, and have them recognised, let us. not interpret this as licence to ring 'rubbish.' It is our obvious duty to follow the guidance of the Methods Committee, even if we do occasionally take the liberty of ringing an irregular method based on one of the standard methods, or one which has a practical value in the advancement of a pupil. Let commonsense rule our activities in the belfry, as it did the decisions made at Bristol, and let us not give the Council occasion to rue the emancipation conceded in 1955.-Yours faithfully,
W. BIRMINGHAM.

PEALS OF STEDMAN CINQUES AT CIRENCESTER

Dear Sir.-The Rev. K. W. H. Felstead has been misinformed re peals of Stedman Cinques at Cirencester.
The first was rung on September 18th, 1903 (conducted by G. Lindoff). Others were : Sept. 27th. 1924 (J. E. Groves); March 28th, 1932 (William Pye); Feb. 23rd, 1945 (Wilfred Williams): Oct. 16th, 1948 (Walter F. Judge); the last, May 30th, 1955 (Fred E. Collins).

I well remember what would have been the first peal of Stedman Cinques for the Gloucester and Bristol Association being lost in the turning course after the last Bob had been called, owing to a change course. This was previous to 1903.-Yours faithfully,
F. J. LEWIS.

Cirencester.
[Note.-We thank other correspondents who have written.]

Dear Sir,-Help! I am already receiving protesting letters re Stedman Cinques at Cirencester. I fear they are right and I have made a mistake. Can't read my own writing, it seems. Anyway, there have been peals of Stedman Cinques in the past 50 years-the last one in 1948, which was the peal previous to the recent one. My observations still stand about Maximus. fortunately. Apologies to all concerned.Yours sincerely,
K. W. H. FELSTEAD.

RINGING DURING A SERVICE

Dear Sir,-During the last month the times of our Sunday morning services have been altered at St. Thomas' Church, Exeter. It has been the custom to ring for matins from 10 a.m. to 11 a.m. Now that the morning services are altered, there is a said matins at 10.30 a.m., followed by sung Holy Communion at $11 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}$.
Before this alteration of the Sunday morning services started I asked our secretary to call a meeting with the Vicar, so as to arrange earlier ringing, viz.. from 9.30 to 10.30 . The verbal reply our secretary had from our Vicar was that the ringing could carry on as before, namely, $10 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}$. to $11 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}$.
In my opinion, it is not right for ringing to take place whilst a service is on. Admittedly only about six people attend the said matins, but I ask, how can people worship Almighty God when ringing and talking is taking place in the belfry?
I may mention that our belfry ringing floor is open to the church.
I have given notice to our band that I will not attend Sunday morning ringing unless the time is altered. My wife is a member of our band and she shares the same views.
I would like to know of anywhere else where bells are rung from a belfry open to the church during a service and whether fellowringers agree with me in not ringing under these circumstances.
You may note my church-going comes first, ringing second. I am also a member of St . Thomas' Parochial Church Council and sidesman, and have always been a regular church-goer.-Yours faithfully,
W. A. WILLS.

Exeter.

'WITHIN OUR HEARTS'

Dear Sir,-Thanks for the article, 'Topic for the Month' (page 412).
By gad, it was far nicer and more encouraging than what was in column 1, page 381. I am glad to state that we at Friezland do appreciate it and I am sure those who heard us at St. Botolph's or anywhere else did fully realise our thoughts in respect to the bells and good striking, so I quote the following:-

Within the walls, without the walls or without the walls within the walls we ring the bells from within our hearts.

Sincerely yours,

J. BURGESS.

PEAL AT ASHTON-UNDER-LYNE

Dear Sir,-My attention has been directed to the report of a peal of Plain Bob Major rung at Ashton-under-Lyne on May 7th, 1955. The performance actually took one hour longer than is stated, which is, perhaps, accounted for by the fact that 32 more changes were rung than appear in the report. The composition used was a regular four-part of 5,056 changes and was rung in 3 hours and 6 minutes.-Yours faithfully.

LAVENHAM TENOR

Dear Sir, - In the report of Walton-onThames ringers' outing is a statement that Lavenham has the finest toned tenor in the country.
I would like to say this is very untrue, and it is time the 300 -year-old myth was exploded. - Yours, etc.,

CECIL W. PIPE.

BOB TRIPLES AT LEISTON

Dear Sir ,-In a recent 'Ringing World ' it states Bob Triples was rung at Leiston, Suffolk, for the first time. This is not correct. The original Leiston company rang their first peal, 5,040 Bob Triples, on November 6th, 1886, conducted by T. Shearing, and on November 20th a 5,040 , conducted by G. Baxter, and on January 10th, 1887, 6,024 Oxford Treble Bob. This was conducted by G. Lindoff, as his original name was changed that day.
I have the honour to be the only living ringer in those three peals. The above three peals, with one of 10,304 Bob Major, conducted by J. Motts in 1888, are recorded on the centre tablet in the belfry. For this I collected the. money. Mr. F. Tillett, of Ipswich, and myself are the only survivors of the peal of Bob Major. -Yours faithfully,

> R. W. STANNARD.

WA'TFORD SURPRISE MAJOR

Dear Sir.-I notice in last week's • Ringing World, Mr. Speed points out that the composition of Watford by me is almost identical with one by Mr. Cashmore. I was not aware: of it at the time I sent it, so may I be allowed to withdraw any claim to same and ask you to publish the enclosed composition, which I think will settle the point.-Yours respectfully,

SWANSEA AND BRECON DIOCESAN GUILD

Annual Festival at Knighton

June 25 th was an ideal day for the visit to Knighton, Radnorshire, where the annual festival of the Guild was held. It was one of those days when everything went perfectly, and all enjoyed themselves.

The town is situated at the northern tip of the diocese and this means a day's journey for the members of the Southern District. This year they travelled via Hay and Eardisland, where the party had lunch and were met by Mr. Leslie Evans, who arranged ringing on the lovely eight in St. Mary-the-Virgin's Church.

All parties arrived at Knighton between 2.30 p.m. and 3 p.m. Evensong was attended by the Lord Bishop (Dr. Glyn Simon), who gave the Blessing. The Rev. T. E. Griffiths, Rector of New Radnor, gave the address. High tea followed the service

In opening the business meeting the Lord Bishop, who presided, thanked the Vicar of Knighton for the arrangements made and also for the use of the bells. He also thanked the ringers for their part in the preparations. Apologies were received from Builth Wells and Cefn Coed.

Members stood in silence while the following members were remembered: Mr. J. Smith, Talgarth; Mr. Allsop, Ebbw Vale; and Mr. G. Morris, Llanstephen.

The general secretary's report included the sad news of Cefn Coed bells. Ringing has been stopped because the tower is cracked from top to bottom and is unsafe. The cost of repair will be over $£ 4,000$, an amount which is not easy to obtain.

The Rev. Sydney H. Morris, Vicar of Gorseinon, who was nominated as vice-president by Mr. Roderick, was elected. The hon. treasurer's report, which showed a great improvement in the balance in hand, was adopted.

Mr. G. I. Lewis was thanked by the chairman for his report on the Central Council meeting at Bristol.

Mr. E. Morris was elected Master of the Guild. All other officers were re-elected.

A welcome to the visitors from Shrewsbury and Chichester was proposed by the general secretary.

The 1956 festival will be held at Sketty, Swansea, and an invitation has been received from the Rector to visit New Radnor for 1957. Arrangements for the ringing competition were left to the committee.

A vote of thanks was proposed by the general secretary to the Lord Bishop for presiding.

After more ringing at St. Edward's tower, the Southern party left for home, and on the way stopped at Llanfihangel, Rhydeithen, to ring on the light six. Standing outside the tower we could not help thinking of the five peals in one day.

HORSMONDEN HAS NOW A RING OF EIGHT

The old six bells of St. Margaret's, Horsmonden, Kent, have been rehung and augmented to eight by the addition of two new trebies. The cost has been defrayed by Mrs. Bridges as a memorial to her husband, Mr. Bertram Bridges. An excellent splice has been effected by Messrs. John Taylor and Co, and in the opinion of local ringers the bells, with a tenor of $19 \frac{1}{\mathrm{cwt}} \mathrm{cw}$, are second to none in the county of Kent.

The two new bells will be dedicated on Sunday. July 24th, at 6.30 p.m., by the Right Rev. H. N. V. Tonks, formerly Bishop of the Windward Islands. Ringing will start on the six at 5.30 p.m., and after the service on the eight. All ringers are welcome.

Presentation to Central Bucks Secretary

For the first time in its history the parish of Wingrave welcomed the Central Bucks Branch for its annual meeting. The six bells were rung up at 2.45 p.m. The Guild service at 4 p.m. was conducted by the Branch chairman (Canon G. Dixon) and the lesson was read by the Master of the Guild (the Rev. C. E. Wigg). The Vicar of Wingrave (the Rev. $\mathbf{T}$ : Barker) gave the address and members of the Branch formed the choir.

Over 60 ringers sat down to an excellent tea in the Church Room, provided by the wives of the local ringers.

The annual meeting which followed was somewhat of an occasion, as it was the 25 th time that Mr. E. F. Gibbard had officiated in the capacity of hon. secretary and treasurer. The Branch chairman (Canon G. Dixon) presided, supported by the Master of the Guild and hon. librarian (Miss M. R. Cross). All the Branch officers were re-elected and the secretary reported that the Branch had a balance of $£ 19$.

To mark this auspicious occasion for Mr. Gibbard, the assistant secretary, Mr. D. Wheeler, and Branch Ringing Masters Mr. G. Edmans and Mr. F. Gregory had secretly organised a presentation to him which came as a great surprise. After the Master of the Guild had expressed the thanks and appreciation of the Guild for his long and valuable work for the Branch, Mr. Gibbard was presented with a handsome eight-day clock in walnut case and with Westminster chimes. The clock was suit. ably inscribed, and a book, 'The Towers and Bells of Britain,' was also presented.

The presentation, amidst loud applause, was made by the Branch chairman, who, like Mr. Gibbard, had done long and sterling service to the Branch. In fact, Canon Dixon has been chairman ever since the Branch was formed, 27 years ago.

Mr. Gibbard thanked the members for such delightful presents and said it had been a pleasure to work for so happy a branch. He only wished he had the time to get round to more towers in the branch.

After the meeting ringing continued until 8.30 p.m.

SOUTHWELL DIOCESAN GUILD

The July meeting of the Newark District was held at the Church of St. Mary, Staunton-in-the-Vale ( 5 , tenor 9 cwt .). The bells were raised at approximatcly 2.30 p.m. and rung in a variety of methods until 5 p.m., when tea was taken at the Staunton Arms. After tea the chairman, Mr. F. W. Midwinter, took the chair and welcomed visitors from Ancaster, Eagle, Heanor, Hough-on-the-Hill, Grantham and Rotherham. The next meeting was confirmed as a joint meeting with the Lincoln Guild at Newark, and the November meeting at South and North Collingham.

New Ringing Master of Western District

Although the total attendance was rather disappointing, 21 towers were represented at the annual meeting of the Western District held on June 18th at SS. Peter and Leonard's, Horbury. The bells of Holy Trinity, Ossett, were also available during the afternoon and evening.
Tea was served at 5 p.m. in the Co-operative Cafe, Horbury, and was followed by the business meeting.

In the absence of the vice-president, the chair was taken by the Ringing Master, Mr. T. W. Strangeway. Votes of thanks were expressed to the church authorities and local companies of both towers for their hospitality.
The election of officers then took place and it was with regret that members accepted the resignation of Mr. T. W. Strangeway from the office of Ringing Master. His services were, however, not to be dispensed with, and he was subsequently elected to serve on the District committee and to represent the District on the general committee of the Association. Mr. V. Bottomley was unanimously elected to sueceed Mr. Strangeway as Ringing Master. Retiring committee members were Messrs. E. H. Simpson and A. Bairstow, neither of whom sought re-election, and Mr. A. W. Bond. Mr. Bond was duly re-elected and the remaining two seats filled by Messrs. 'T. W. Strangeway and J. Pearson.

Following the meeting, members apportioned themselves between the two towers and ringing continued throughout the evening.

BEDFORDSHIRE ASSOCIATION

The summer festival of the Bedfordshire Association was held at All Saints', Leighton Buzzard, on June 25th. Ringing commenced at 3 p.m. with a well-struck touch of Grandsire Triples on the back eight, continuing with Bob Royal, Grandsire Caters, Cambridge Surprise Major, and rounds for those learning.

Those fortunate enough not to be roped in took full advantage of the June sunshine by going out on to the chancel roof enjoying the view towards Mentmore and the surrounding countryside in this beautiful corner of Bedfordshire.

After a bountiful tea members returned to the tower and continued ringing with Stedman Caters, Double Norwich, Yorkshire Surprise Major, etc., until 9 p.m.

HONOURING A VETERAN  RINGER

A band composed of friends of Mr. T. W. Wyatt from Leamington, Warwick and Lillington met at the Church of St. Mary Magdalene, Lillington, on June 28th, to attempt with him a quarter peal of Grandsire Triples in honour of his 78th birthday and his long service to ringing.

Unfortunately Mr. Wyatt had been taken to hospital the previous day. After some very good ringing the quarter peal broke down when about 20 changes from the end.

Mr. Wyatt started his ringing carcer in London in 1896 and rang for many years at Lambeth "Parish Church and other towers in London, and held office in one of the London Associations.

After coming to Leamington some years ago he joined the band at All Saints' and is one of the most regular members of that band, attending ringing twice every Sunday and on practice nights, and gives valuable help in training beginners. Considering he is 78 years of age, we think his record is very good and feel sure his London friends will join with Warwickshire ringers in wishing him a speedy recovery.

LAVENHAM RINGING DAY

The 144th ringing anniversary on Saturday, June 18 th, was well attended by ringers of both sexes from many Districts. The opening touches were ' tapped off' by the St. Stephen's company, Hampstead, who were passing through Lavenham on their "annual.'

During the afternoon and evening many touches in various methods were enjoyed by the other visiting ringers, amongst whom was the Suffolk Guild's Ringing Master, Mr. Charles Sedgley.

The rounds ringers were not forgotten and everyone present had a pull.

Although the anniversary is only a shadow of its former self everyone present enjoyed ringing on these grand bells. Time was when ringing commenced at $6 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}$. and continued till 9 p.m. with many noted ringers present, including the late Squire Proctor and his band, John Marven, Nathan Pitstow and the noted London ringer, John Cox, etc. The lastnamed used to entertain the assembly by ring. ing a three-bobbed lead of Kent Major on handbells-two in each hand, one strapped to each of his elbows and one strapped to each boot-toe.

HERTS COUNTY ASSOCIATION

 St. Albans DistrictThe curious iron cresset on the tower of Monken Hadley was an object of interest to the St. Albans District members who visited this tower on the afternoon of June 18th. Good use was made of the light eight.

The ringers then crossed the common to Barnet, that ancient Hertfordshire town that is now so much a northern outpost of London, where they were joined by many more ringers for the short business meeting, followed by ringing on the glorious octave housed in the flint chequered tower. The bells demanded and responded well to good handling and even the touches that failed were worth listening to.

At the business meeting it was proposed that Essenden (in a perfect 'summer setting') be visited on July 16th, and possibly St. Michael's, Si. Albans, in September, with no August meeting.

ROSS-ON-WYE'S TOWERGRABBING EXPEDITION

On Saturday, June 25 th, eight ringers from the Ross-on-Wye District had an enjoyable outing in Gloucestershire. The first tower visited was Quedgeley ( $8,9 \frac{1}{2} \mathrm{cwt}$ ), followed by Elmore ( $6,11 \mathrm{cwt}$.). At Longney (8, 14 cwt .) the sole disaster of the day occurred. Just as the bells were being lowered a snapping noise was heard. No, it wasn't a rope-but the thread of the necklace one of the young ladies had been wearing! The result can be imagined. Both here and at the next tower, Moreton Valence ( $6,10 \mathrm{cwt}$.) the band amused themselves by following in her wake collecting stray beads !

After ringing at Moreton Valence (and being shown round the church by the Vicar), sandwiches were enjoyed in Whitminster Park. The meal was enlivened by the two girls' discovery that they had been sitting on an ants' nest. Proceeding to Whitminster, an attempt was made to raise the bells ( $6,15 \mathrm{cwt}$.), but several jackdaws' nests had to be removed before this was possible. Slimbridge ( $6,12 \frac{1}{2} \mathrm{cwt}$.) was a complete contrast, possessing what is surely one of the most attractive ringing chambers in the country. Next came Coaley ( $6,12 \frac{1}{2}$ cwt.), where the long draught and the low sallies proved troublesome; and the final tower, the best of the day, was Dursley ( $8,19 \frac{1}{2} \mathrm{cwt}$ ),

The following methods were rung:-
Doubles.-Grandsire, Stedman and Plain Bob. Minor-Plain Bob, Little Bob, Double Court. Double Oxford, Thelwall, Oxford and Kent Treble Bob and Cambridge Surprise. Triples.-Grandsire, Stedman, Bob Triples and Oxford Bob. Major.-Plain Bob.

Thanks are due to all incumbents and local ringers who met the party, and to the two organisers, Reginald Jones and Eric Roberts.

LINCOLN DIOCESAN GULLD

The Elloe Deaneries Branch visited Gedney Hill for its summer meeting. A small village on the borders of Cambridgeshire, in spite of its name there is no hill for miles around. The church is most unusual with a nave of wooden arcades, the pillars being of stout oak.

The glorious summer weather attracted a gathering of about 30 ringers and friends. The service was conducted by the Rev. A. H. Hibbert, with Mrs. Hibbert at the organ. Tea was served in the Memorial Hall by the local ringers' wives and other helpers.

Mr. Hibbert was chairman at the business meeting. Four members of the local company were elected ringing members and Mr. Hibbert was elected an honorary member. Mr. Ames, in his vote of thanks, said that the last meeting here was in 1936, and he hoped it would not be another 19 years before the next visit. Handbell ringing followed the meeting, then members again returned to the church, where ringing continued till 9 p.m.

A large variety of methods was rung on the five bells, the only ring of five in the Branch, and it is understood that there is now a fund started for adding a treble at some future date.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD

The quarterly meeting of the Devizes Branch was held at Urchfont on July 2nd, some 32 members and friends attending, including visitors from Chippenham, Frome, Nailsea, Chilcompton and New Zealand.

The next three mectings were fixed for Great Cheverell, Rowde and Trowbridge. A vote of thanks was passed to the Vicar for the use of the bells and to the ladies for providing tea. Ringing ranged from rounds to Double Norwich Court Bob Major.

SOUTH DEVON RINGERS' FESTIVAL

Everything contributed to make the ringing festival at Dean Prior on June 25th a noteworthy event-brilliant weather, good ringing and wholehearted co-operation from the Vicar.
The 15 th century, church was almost fuli for the service at 4 o'clock, at which the Bishop of Plymouth, the Rt. Rev. N. H. Clarke, gave the address. In his address the Bishop stressed the fact that, although time lent dignity to our churches, its hand lay heavily upon them in deterioratioñ of fabric, and he at once brought home to the congregation the need for and the needs of the Historic Churches Preservation Trust, to which fund the day's activities were directed.

As was to be expected, the occasion was marked by call change ringing of a high order, but it was disappointing that owing to lastminute shortage, the Mid-Devon Guild were unable to ring the service touch. However, the judges were able to make up six and so gratify their own wish to ring.

Dartmouth were unfortunate in having the treble rope break as they were nearing the end of their peal. A replacement was speedily forthcoming and a satisfactory arrangement was made as regards their marking. 'Sixty on thirds' constituted the prize peal.
Certificates were presented to the first six teams - Kingsbridge, West Alvington (1), Buckland-in-the-Moor, Widecombe-in-the-Moor, Upton, Torquay and West Alvington (2) in that: order.

It is expected that a sum of about $£ 12$ will be handed over to the Trust as a result of the Festival.

STOKE D'ABERNON, SURREY.. TO HAVE RING OF FIVE

Stoke D'Abernon, Surrey, is to have a light ring of five bells. The four old bells in the church have been silent for years owing to the frame being unsafe and have been removed to a bell-foundry.
Making the announcement, the Rector (the Rev. John H. L. Waterson) writes: 'It would be a very sweet ring of perhaps the lightest bells in the south country with a tenor weighing three and a half cwt. and the new treble bell not more than one cwt., all harmonically in accord.

The cost is about $£ 700$.
Of the four bells in Stoke D'Abernon, one was pre-Reformation, circa 1450 , which was ascribed to Joanna Sturdy. Another pre-Reformation bell was recast by Warners in 1886. and William Eldridge provided a bell here in 1687.
Hascombe, in the Guildford Diocese, has a ring of five with a tenor weighing 3 cwt . 3 qr. 17 lb .

SHEFFIELD & DISTRICT SOCDETY

By kind invitation of the Vicar the monthly meeting of the Society was held at High Bradfield on July 2nd. The ringers from the Cathedral had been asked to ring the bells for the annual church garden party and so it was decided that the meeting should be held there.

Altogether about 30 members, representing 10 towers, were present. The bells were rung for a few minutes until 3 o'clock, when there was a break during which the garden party was declared open. Ringing continued until 4 p.m., when tea was served in the Church Hall.

No business meeting was held but ringing continued in a variety of methods including London, Cambridge, Stedman and Plain Bob untıl 7 p.m. During the course of the evening a tew rounds were rung by a team consisting entirely of girls attending the High School for Girls, Rotherham. The next meeting is to be held at Eckington on August 4th.

OBITUARY

THE REV. DAVID RAILTON

A memorial service for the late Rev. David Railton, Rector of Liverpool from 1935-42, was held at the Parish Church of Our Lady and St. Nicholas, Liverpool, on July 4th. The service was conducted by the present Rector, Canon R. Nelson.

The Rev. D. Railton served as a chaplain in the first world war and won the M.C.; he picked up a large Union Jack in no-man's-land and it was in this flag that the body of the Unknown Warrior was wrapped and brought from the Western Front to London. The suggestion to bury an unknown soldier in Westminster Abbey as a memorial to all those who died in the first world war emanated from David Railton in a conversation with the late Bishop Ryle, then Dean of Westminster.
In the evening, after Evensong, members of the St. Nicholas' band attempted a peal of Stedman Triples on the light eight, which was lost in the last plain course.

MR. ROBERT BRIGHAM SMITH

The passing of Mr. Robert Brigham Smith (aged 77), of Howden, East Yorks, on May 15th, is deeply regretted by ringers of the Yorkshire Association and Selby and District Society. He had been a member of the Yorkshire Association (Eastern District) since 1908 and was a member of the general committee of the Association.
His ringing career began at Howden Parish Church more than half a century ago and he was captain of the belfry for most of that period. He had rung in 23 peals and was keenly interested in change ringing throughout the county and attended meetings regularly up to the time of his passing. He gave every encouragement to young ringers and was of a very kindly and sociable disposition, and would sit outside various churches listening to any peal in progress.
Mr. Smith was Howden's only surviving veteran of the old Volunteer Corps which fought in the South African War.
The funeral took place on May 18th and in the evening his memory was honoured by a team of ringers ringing Howden Church bells half-muffled. A course of Grandsire was rung on handbells at the graveside.
At the quarterly meeting of the Eastern District of the Yorkshire Association held at Howden on June 25th, members stood in silence for a moment in respect of the late Mr. Smith, the vice-president of the Association (Mr. A. E. Sellars) paying tribute to his memory. Mr. W. A. Hudson (Hemingbrough), who had been his pal for 50 years as a ringer and socially, wrote the following lines, which were read to the meeting:-

OUR LAST FAREWELL TO R. B. SMITH (OLD BOB)

At rest he lies on the sunny south side of Howden Church,
Beneath the bells he rang so long and true.
His course is run, his bell is home and honour is his due.
The bells each week as they ring out their message, ever new,
Will also keep alive and warm
Our memories, Bob, of you.
L. M. W.

MR. EDWIN YATES

One of the oldest members of the North Bucks Branch of the Oxford Diocesan Guild, Mr. Edwin Yates, died at his home on Sunday, June 26th. Born at Stony Stratford in 1868 , he resided in the town all his life, where he carried on his craft as a master wheelwright.

As a lad he sang in the choir of St. Giles' Church and later became a member of the local bellringers, joining the Oxford Guild in 1885. He was tower captain for 60 years, a post he held until his death. He had rung between 50 and 60 peals, mostly for the Oxford and Peterborough Guilds.
In his younger days he was a member of the local fire brigade for 30 years, serving as captain for the last 13 years, when he was succeeded by his son, who is also a ringer.
The funeral took place on June 29th at St. Giles' Church, where he had been verger for the last 30 years. The service, which was choral, was conducted by the Vicar the Rev. C. L. G. Hutchings), and in addition to the family mourners was attended by fellow ringers from Newport Pagnell, Cosgrove, Wicken and St. Giles' tower.
The bearers were members of his own tower, Messrs. W. G. Clark, A. W. Dillow, A. Hurst and H. C. Edwards. Among the many floral tributes was one from the North Bucks Branch, Wicken ringers, and St. Giles', Cosgrove, ringers.
'Father,' as he was affectionately called, will be sadly missed by his fellow ringers and friends.

BARNSLEY & DISTRICT VISIT NEW BRIGHTON

This is your story-teller, the man called Slack. To-day's story is of a trip through three counties by lads and lasses from 11 towers. Two coaches set off round the area collecting the people from various points. The coaches met at Penistone and procceded over the wild moors to "hide ' (sorry, Hyde)-we were not yet fugitives.
Then began the mystery-who had two breakfasts? And what a breakfast it was! A good start to what proved to be a grand day.

At the church the children's choir were rehearsing, and the non-ringers, and the ringers, too, enjoyed listening to them. The bells were truly a delight and were soon rolling merrily along with the usual Barnsley neatness. Touch number two-Spliced Kent and Oxford-was going nicely when the tenor rope broke. Was this the result of two breakfasts? Repairs were soon in hand by the local ringers and the ringing continued. Reluctantly we had to leave - a short journey this time - to the city of reputed everlasting rain, but to-day something had gone wrong. A golden ball suspended in the heavens poured down heat and light on the party as we arrived at Miles Platting, where this light eight were soon away to - Yorkshire Glory followed by the usual neat six. Again the enemy was pressing and we had to leave; a straight run to Liverpool, the Mersey tunnel, Birkenhead and New Brighton. There the aftemoon was deployed as each individual was wont.
After tea, the journey home.
They travelled along at a rattling good pace
Over moorland and valley and plain,
And poor little
(Sorry, right verse wrong opera.)
Soon the George and Dragon was reached but George must have been out, according to who served us.

Then for home, one off here, two off there, and your scribe to catch a train to London for his holidays. You may hear from him shortly if he keeps of the cider.
The enemy, time, defeated, everyone safe home after another good day,

OUTING

SPALDING, LINCS

Leaving the Corn Exchange, Spalding, at 6 a.m. on July 9th was a great effort for some ringers of St. Mary's and St. Nicholas', Spalding, along with friends from some neighbouring towers, but away on time and off towards Yorkshire, arriving at the first tower of the day, Thorne, in good time. The bells were all up ready and soon changes were ringing out over the town.
Away in good time and to our next tower, Goole. After an enjoyable ring here and some good wishes from the Vicar we set off to Howden. The enormous tower could be seen long before arrival and we were not disappointed when we heard the bells, a truly grand octave.

On again to Beverley where, after a good lunch, we first enjoyed the ring of ten at St. Mary's, the weight men having a go. We then travelled along to that wonderful Minster Church just as a bride and her groom were leaving. We gave them a good and unexpected send-off to Royal and Caters, all agreeing that the bells of Beverley were indeed tirst class.

In the coach again and on to Selby. where we had to pay a toll before we could get into the town. Our first call was for tea, an excellent meal enjoyed by all. Unfortunately, we clashed with another party of ringers at the Abbey Church through some mistake, but we all got a ring on the fine ten.

Our last call of the day was Doncaster, its massive tower standing out over the town. We were not disappointed by the bells after a long climb to the ringing chamber and the day was completed with various methods on this glorious octave. A short stop was made at Retford for refreshments, and we arrived back in Spalding at $12.30 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}$. all exhausted, but agreeing it had been a wonderful day.
Thanks were expressed to our secretary, Mr. France, and to the Ringing Master ; also to all the incumbents of the churches we had visited and the ringers who had met us and made us so wekome.

Repeated.

The peal of Superlative rung by an all-local band at Bures was rung without any anxious moments at the first attempt. The ringers of the first six bells were local pupils, one being aged 18 , one 16 , and two 15 , including the conductor. The rest of the band very much ap. preciated the way Edwin tumed the tenor in on a very hot afternoon.

HAROLD J. POOLE

THE news of the passing of Harold J. Poole, in tragic circumstances, will come as a tremendous shock to those who knew him - hundreds of ringers knew him personally and thousands knew of him by repute because he was a giant among ringers, one of the great men of the Exercise. Ringers everywhere will join us in expressing our deepest sympathy to Mrs. Poole and her family.

Harold Poole had all those attributes that made him the great man he was. As a ringer and conductor there have been few his equal; as an instructor he accomplished marvels. His tremendous enthusiasm infected all his pupils; they established a reputation for 12 -bell ringing unsurpassed in the country. But it was not merely in his own tower and among peal ringers that his activities were confined. The same enthusiasm for peal ringing he introduced into the activities of the Leicester Diocesan Guild, which became a separate entity largely through his initiative when the Midland Counties Association was divided. As president he did a great work among the young people. Mere instruction is not enough; for a guild to flourish there must be a strong social life. In spirit he was for ever young, joining and inspiring the fun and happiness of those around him. His socials were at times on a big scale. We remember seeing nearly 1,000 people dancing in the de Montford Hall at Leicester at a function his ringers had organised.
There was also the serious side of his character. He realised that ringing was not solely for human enjoyment; it had a great spiritual message to convey to the country. In the Leicester Diocese the understanding between the Church authorities and the ringers was almost ideal. Since 1941 Mr. Poole had been a lay canon of Leicester Cathedral, an honour that is unique in English ringing. This friendliness has not only found expression with the support given by the Bishops and Provosts of Leicester to ringers' meetings and festivals, but on one of the happiest days in the lives of Mr. and Mrs. Poole the Bishop attended to give the Blessing at the marriage of their daughter, Jill.

By profession he was a policeman. There was the police stamp of authority about him. It was only last November that he retired from the Leicester City Force. For years he had been the prosecuting inspector, sitting almost daily in the Leicester Courts. He had a deep knowledge of human nature : not a hard impenetrable rock but a sympathetic understanding and a readiness to help those who found life's travel one of difficulty. With those above him he was held in high esteem; with policemen all over the country he was known as a fine colleague. Much of this came through the agency of the National Police Guild of Ringers, of which he was one of the founders. From secretary in this Guild he advanced to president. The annual gatherings of the Guild were very fraternal with the president not only maintaining the standard of ringing but introducing a happy social atmosphere.

It is only natural that Harold Poole, with his brilliant achievements as a ringer and the president of two guilds, should be on the Central Council. Nowhere will his passing be more keenly felt than when the Council meet again. He brought to bear a complete understanding of what the rank and file of the Exercise were thinking. We are not giving away a secret when we mention that at a meeting of the Standing Committee eyes would turn towards him seeking his reaction to the immediate problem. It was the same on the floor of the Council meeting. His views were listened to attentively. At times there would be a bluffness and the spice of humour was invariably near to the surface, but always his advice was sound. When the business of the day was over it was to Harold Poole that the company looked for entertainment. He was undoubtedly the presiding genius at the social evening.
We on this journal remember in particular his tenacious fight at Chester to keep the price of 'The Ringing World " at fourpence. He joined Mr. J. Frank Smallwood on 'The Ringing World' Committee and examined with care the different sides of the problem. Only those behind the scenes know of the really big effort that was made. Harold Poole was particularly anxious that every boy and girl should not begrudge the price of the publication.

Of the pupils of Fred Dexter, Harold Poole was probably the greatest. He moulded him as a ringer and he introduced to him the art of composition. Our news columns give some indication of his accomplishments as a peal ringer, both on tower bells and handbells. The full story will come later with the record of his peals.

Truly, his motto might well have been, ' Whatsoever thy hand findeth to do, do it with all thy might.' There was nothing half-hearted about Harold; in all matters he was painstaking and conscientious. May he rest in peace.

OBITUARY

MR. THOMAS H. TOWNSEND

With the passing of Mr. T. H. Townsend. Ely Association has lost another of its old stalwarts.

A native of Tetbury, Glos, he settled in Huntingdonshire in 1898 and at Great Staughton a few years later. He was a keen ringer and when the bells were augmented to six, after the first world war, he soon established a change ringing band. In 1921 he had the unusual experience of conducting the first peal on the bells and the first peal and the first attempt by all the band. It was only Grandsire Doubles, but it earned the following comment from Mr. Goldsmith: 'No matter to what heights these men may climb they will never ring a sweeter peal.'
Tom was very regular in his service ringing, and although he had to work on Sundays he made a point of being in the belfry for both morning and evening service. He was captain of Great Staughton tower until he left the district in 1930. On his retirement, in 1950. he returned to Great Staughton, but failing health prevented kim from doing much ringing, though he was still interested right up to the end.
Tom was a great man, always cheerful, and beloved by all who knew trim. After his beloved oy auly who knew bellsm. Are rung halfmuffled to a quarter peal of Grandsire Doubles.

OUTING

TIVERTON, DEVON

Two outings have already been enjoyed this year by members of St. Peter's, Tiverton, and friends. The first was on May 28th, when five six-bell towers in the Dunster Deanery were visited. The first stop was at Exton, high on the hill overlooking Bridgetown and Exmoor, then to Cutcombe, where to the surprise of the party the bells were up. Here there is a ground floor ringing chamber not shut off from the church.
Exford has a modern ring of six, excellent for both tone and 'go.' Then followed the mellow old six at Winsford, and, finally, Brushford, where in spite of the rope of the fourth breaking, some good ringing was enjoyed on this tricky light six.

[^10]Lunch was taken at Weston-super-Mare and then to Congreshury, the heaviest ring of the day. These bells are certainly a handful, but the effort put in was well worth while, some Grandsire and Stedman Triples being successfully brought round. Winscombe, a lighter eight. where some thought the ringing was the best of the day. was next: this lighter ring seemed idcal for a very hot afternoon. Back to Weston for tea and to pick up those who decided to spend the afternoon by the sea, then down the coast to Burnham-on-Sea for one and a half hours' ringing on a lovely Mears eight with some of the local ringers.
Taunton. the final stop. for refreshments, was reached at 9.30 p.m. and home was reached at 10.30 p.m. Thanks are extended to all incumbents and to the local tower captains who met the party.

HANDBELLS REPLACE ORGAN

At a special service at St. Mary's Church, Ambrosden, on July 3 rd . all the hymns were accompanied on handbells by Mr. Frederick Sharpe's handbell ringers. In all three, octaves of bells were used. the largest being 25 in $G$. The bells were by many different founders. the oldest being 1696 . The lessons were read by ringers-Mr. S. Holtham. Miss S. Clarke. Miss P. J. Avris and Mr. F. Sharpe. The church was packed for the service.

DIAMOND JUBILEE OF QUEENBOROUGH RINGER

Eighty-three-years-old Mr. George Wood, of Queenborough, Kent, has celebrated his diamond jubilee as a ringer. Mr. Wood joined the Kent County Association in 1895 and for the past 45 years he has rung regularly for services at Holy Trinity Church, Queenborough.
His completion of 60 years' practising membership has been followed by a letter of congratulation from the general secretary of the Kent County Association. The letter states: - This is a wonderful record of service and loyalty, and it is not wholly surprising that your fellow ringers and the members of the Parochial Church Council are honouring you.

- As you ring the bells in God's name this Sunday, your diamond jubilee as a ringer, you can feel that your achievement is ut the heart of our Association's traditions, and that your example will be the inspiration of younger ringers for many years to come."

A native of Faversham, it was as a boy of 15 that Mr. Wood crept up to the belfry at Selling. He became fascinated by the bells and learned to handle them. He rang for Queen Victoria's Jubilee and, since, on the occasion of every Royal birthday, wedding and funeral. Not only does he attend the weekly practice at Queenborough, but most Mondays will also find him at the Sittingbourne practice.

If you are a quarterly or half-yearly subscriber your subscription is now due.

GUILD of DEVONSHIRE RINGERS  N.E. Branch in Culm Valley

Towers in the Culm Valley were visited by the N.E. Branch for their mecting on July 2nd at Hemyock, where the service was conducted by the Rector. He told the ringers of the damage done by the clapper of the tenor bell breaking. Although temporary, repairs had been effected he asked that ringing should be limited, but hoped that everyone would have a touch on the bells. A Bells Restoration Fund had been started and the collection was devoted to this object. Tea, an excellent spread, was served by the wives of local ringers.

Ringing before the service was at Culmstock, a useful but tricky ring of eight, where some well-struck touches of Triples and Doubles were brought round. After tea and a short ring at Hemyock, the visitors went up the hill to Clayhidon, a tower never previously visited by the Guild, not even by the president, who was among the party. Here two very enjoyable hours were spent on this handy six, methods rung being Grandsire. Stedman, Plain Bob, Double Court and Cambridge. Ringing was under the guidance of Mr. A. G. Selley.

TRURO DIOCESAN GUILD

The Diocesan Ringing Festival was held at Launceston on July 9th, with headquarters at St. Stephen's. Other towers open were St . Mary Magdalene's, St. Thomas', Lawhitton, Lezant, St. Giles-in-the-Heath, North Petherwin and North Tamerton. About 70 were present, representing Zennor, Lewannick, Lelant, Landulph, St. Mary Magdalene's and St. Stephen's, Launceston, Crantock, Lezant, St. Dennis, Stratton, Marhamchurch, St. Breock, Menheniot St. Ewe, St. Mawgan-inPydar, and several visitors. The late hay harvest kept many away.

The president was unfortunately unable to attend, the officials of the Guild being represented by the Ringing Master (Mr. D. Burnett), the Assistant Ringing Master (Mr. H. J. Clark) and the secretary (the Rev. H. Trewhella).

Evensong at St. Stephen's was taken by the Vicar (the Rev. P. Gendall), the preacher being Prebendary Guy, of Tavistock; the lessons were read by Mr. E. H. Ransom, one of the ringers at St. Stephen's. An excellent tea was provided and served by the ladies of the parish during which the Ringing Master, introduced by Mr. H. J. Clark as it was his first Diocesan Festival since his election, thanked the Vicar of St. Stephen's and all who had helped to make the festival a success.

Ringing ranged from rounds upwards and much method ringing was heard. It was good to know that this last type of ringing is beginning to be practised in Launceston, whose three noble rings are worthy to be used for the highest forms of the Exercise.

We apologise to our readers who purchase their copies of 'The Ringing World ' through newsagents over the Jate delivery of their copies last week. The fault was not that of our publishers, Rolls House Publishing Company, Ltd. Copies for our publishers left the printers at Guildford before 5.30 p.m. on Wednesday for delivery by British Road Transport at Rolls House, in London. The lorry left Guildford with the copies at $6.30 \mathrm{a}-\mathrm{m}$. on Thursday and returned to Guildford that night with the copies undelivered. They were even. tually delivered on Friday at $10.45 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}$.
The next Henry Johnson commemoration dinner will be held at the Imperial Hotel, Birmingham, on February 26th, 1956.
Steeplekeepers will be intrigued by the following notice that was seen recently on a ground-floor level door giving access to the staircase of a Suffolk church tower:-

Please fasten this door securely.
Birds building in tower.'
When in hospital Mr. Pack, a Faversham, Kent, ringer, came in contaci with another patient from Herne Bay, who had with him a photograph of Mr. John Thomas, of Gloucester, who died on May 7th, 1921, aged 92 . This Mr. Thomas assisted in ringing a muffled peal in London at the funeral of the Duke of Wellington in 1852, and was a member of the Ancient Society of College Youths.

Mr. Isaac Emery, who was one of the three veterans attending the College Youths' meeting referred to in this column last week, is 84 years of age. Of the three veterans mentioned, he was the senior College Youth, having been elected on May 2nd, 1891, On his birthday, on June 25th, he was unable to get the band he wanted but he conducted several touches of Grandsire Triples with seven girl ringers at Bromley.

If the Leicester Diocesan Guild are unable to have the Central Council meeting at Leicester in 1956, the Oxford Diocesan Guild on Saturday empowered its officers to invite the Council to hold its meeting at Oxford, a city which has never previously been visited by the Council.
With a quarter peal at Melbury Osmond on July 8th Mr. E. T. P. Field has rung in all the ringable towers in Dorset.
Mr. Tudor P. Edwards, B.Sc., of Bristol University, recently received heartiest congratulations from his fellow ringers at Pentre, Glam, on his 21 st birthday. A quarter peal, in which he participated, was rung in honour of the event.
The tragedy at Westbury-on-Trym, where a choirboy was crushed to death by a falling bell, emphasises the responsibility of ensuring that no unauthorised person enters a ringing chamber. It is incumbent upon all ringers to examine the safety precautions existing in their own tower.
The single bell of Iona Abbey will be heard prior to the services to be broadcast from there at $9.30 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}$. on Sundays in all Home Services on July 24 and 31st and August 7th, the only exceptions being the West Home Service on July 24th and the Midland Home Service on August 7th.
Mr. Harold J. Poole's last peal was arranged specially for Mr. J. W. Cotton, of Overseale, to enable him to ring his 400 th peal. 'I shall always remember with gratitude one who so readily arranged and assisted, when not fit, in my 400th peal. We ringers in the Midlands-to say little of the Exercise as a whole-have now suffered a great loss and I a very sincere friend,' writes Mr. Cotton.

THE WHITECHAPEL BELL FOUNDRY

ESTABLISHED

TRAGIC DEATH OF MR. HAROLD J. POOLE

A Brilliant Ringer whose Lustre Enhanced the Exercise in every Direction

WITH deep regret 'The Ringing World' records the death of Mr. Harold Joseph Poole, of 150 , Narborough Road, Leicester, on Thursday, July 14th. In the opinion of the Coroner he acted on a sudden impulse in taking his life, and while the balance of his mind was temporarily disturbed. He was found hanging from a spare rope which had been attached to a spiral staircase in the belfry of Leicester Cathedral.
Mr. Poole, who was 52 years of age, rang his last peal on the evening before his death, in the Loughborough Bell Foundry Campanile. It was Stedman Caters and was called by his son-in-law, Mr. Peter J. Staniforth. Mrs. Poole was also a member of the band. For the past week he had not been his usual self. On the Thursday morning he left home in his car to call for his daughter, Jill, and his little granddaughter. He did not arrive and the police were notified.

CHIEF CONSTABLE'S TRIBUTE

At the inquest the Chief Constable of Leicester, Mr. O. J. B. Cole, said: ' Inspector Poole was a superbly conscientious officer. On behalf of the Police Force I would like to express our heartfelt sympathy to Mrs. Poole and his family. I have known him for 26 years and he was a most able and efficient officer.'
Thus passes one of the most brilliant ringers the Exercise has ever known. He was the president of the Leicester Diocesan Guild and the National Guild of Police Ringers. He had rung approximately 1,250 peals, and last year rang more than 100 peals with his wife.

INFLUENCE OF F. H. DEXTER

It was while a choirboy at Bitteswell, Leicestershire, a six-bell tower, that Mr. Poole was taught to handle a bell by the verger, Mr. Tom Briggs. In 1917 the family moved to Leicester, and Harold and his father and brother became members of the St. Mary-deCastro tower. Under the guidance of William Millar, the steeplekeeper, he learned to ring Grandsire Doubles, and for two years his ringing was mainly confined to this method.

The turning point in his ringing career came in July, 1919, when the bells of St. Mary-deCastro were condemned as unsafe to ring. He was then a member of the choir and it was a choice between ringing and singing. Mr. Poole's choice was ringing and he joined St. Martin's band. Here he came under the very eritical ear and eye of Frederick H. Dexter, who quickly realised his aptitude for learning more difficult methods.

His distinguished career as a peal ringer started with Stedman Triples at Stoney Stanton on July 3rd, 1920, and by May, 1923, he had completed his century. Before he was 21 he had conducted the longest length (12.896) of Cambridge Surprisc Major, at Stoney Stanton. His second century was completed in 1925, and in November of that year he joined the Leices. ter City Police Force, with which he served tor 29 years.

The Late Mr. H. J. Poole

CONDUCTED G. R. PYE'S 900th PEAL

While attending a detective course at New Scotland Yard in 1930, Mr. Poole rang his first peal of Spliced Surprise Major-one in four methods conducted by the late William Pye. One of his most thrilling week-ends at that time was when he rang his first peal of Cambridge Surprise Maximus on the Saturday, conducted a handbell peal of Stedman Cinques (G. R. Pye's 900 th ) on the Sunday afternoon. and afterwards rang ten courses of London, Cambridge, Superlative and Bristol Surprise Major and Cambridge Royal on handbells. This was said to be the first time Cambridge Surprise Royal had been rung 'in hand.'

RINGING MASTER AT CATHEDRAL FOR

 18 YEARSIn 1937 when the new ring of 13 bells was installed at Leicester Cathedral Mr. Poole was elected Ringing Master in place of his tutor, Mr. Frederick H. Dexter. This position he held to the time of his death, and there is no question that the band he brought to perfection in Surprise Maximus ringing was the outstanding Sunday Cathedral band in the country.
Among his many individual achievements was being the first person to conduct Cambridge Surprise from Minor to Maximus on tower bells and also 'in hand.' and he had also conducted from Minor to Maximus in this method in one day. He conducted the first peal of Stedman Triples, Caters and Cinques by a police band. and the first of Stedman Cinques by a band of marricd ceuples. His 1,000 th peal was rung in December, 1952, one of Spliced Surprise Maximus in ten methods. the first time such a peal had ever been rung.

PRESIDENT OF TWO GUILDS

Mr. Poole combined his outstanding proficiency as a conductor and a peal ringer with the gift of organisation. As a young man he was at one time secretary of the Leicester District of the Midland Counties Association and also represented that body on the Ceniral Council. Following the decision in 1946 to divide the Midland Counties Association into three and to form as one part the Leicester Diocesan Guild he was elected the first president. This position he held at the time of his death. His unlimited enthusiasm for social events made annual meetings and dinners of the Guild memorable occasions. Leicester gained a big reputation for its hospitality. With the Lord Bishops and other leading officials of the Diocese he maintained a very friendly contact, and his services to Lcicester Cathedral were recognised in 1941 when he was elected a lay canon.

Mr. Poole was also a founder of the Police Guild of Ringers in 1931. For the first 16 years he was honorary sceretary and in 1947 he was elected president, a position he still held.

With the Central Council he had a long association and for many years was a member of the Standing Committee. In 1951 he was elected a member of 'The Ringing World, Committee. As a public speaker he spoke with conviction and his views received the closest attention of the Exercise.

The deep sympathy of the Exercise is extended to Mrs. Poole, his daughter, Jill, and son-in-law, Peter J. Staniforth. They constituted a family that did much to advance the progress of change ringing.
The funeral service was held at Leicester Cathedral on Monday.
A service of 'Reconciliation' was held in the Cathedral on Saturday conducted by the Bishop, Dr. R. R. Williams, assisted by the Provost, the Very Rev. Mervyn Armstrong.

AN APPRECIATION

Consternation, bewilderment and tragic shock greeted the Leicester Cathedral ringers on their arrival at the Cathedral for the usual Thursday evening practice on July 14th. It was a stunning blow difficult to realise, as only the previous evening he had rung in a peal at Loughbarough without any indication of the tragedy so soon to follow. His brilliant brain must have snapped with startling suddenness.
As a ringer he stood on a pedestal with the very few. I counted him as a great personal friend throughout his ringing career and his police service. His natural aptitude as a ringer was brought io perfection by Fred Dexter, who was very proud of his pupil and very pleased to see him take over the leadership of the Cathedral band. His genius as such is well known. He inspired ordinary ringers to effort and achievement which has never been surpassed. In everything he did or undertook he displayed an enthusiasm and thoroughness which guaranteed full success. These qualifcations were in evidence in work and play.

His domestic life was also a shining example of affection and happiness and to those who mourn their loss the sympathies of a host of ringing friends will be extended.
As a lay canon of the Cathedral he was respected by all with whom he came in contact. His Christianity was the real thing, a practical Christianity which showed itself in many ways without ostentation or thought of appreciation. He could be exacting inasmuch as nothing but the best sufficed, but there was always a tolerant kindness which earned the respect of all with whom he dealt. Onr loss is irreparable but his shining example will live with us, and must be our inspiration to carry on.

WINCHESTER AND PORTSMOUTH GUILD

RETIREMENT OF MR. GEORGE PULLINGER FROM MASTERSHIP

TTHE annual meeting of the Winchester and Portsmouth Diocesan Guild at Basingstoke on July 2nd was well attended, all Districts of the Guild being represented. together with visitors from Chilvers Coton. Beaconsfield, Checkendon and Salisbury. The bells at many of the surrounding towers were available during the day, and the Guild's service was held in St. Michael's Church. conducted by the Archdeacon of Basingstoke. The address was given by the Rev. D. A. Oliphant, Vicar of Yateley.

A meat tea was provided in Church Cottage after which the general meeting was held presided over by the Master (Mr. G. Pullinger) and supported by the general secretary (Mr. F. W. Rogers) and general treasurer (Mr. R. A. Reed). The Master welcomed the visitors on behalf of the Guild and made special mention of the presence of those ringers from various towers who are now attached to Southampton University and take an active part in the Guild's affairs. Apologies expressing their inability to attend were received from several members.
The minutes of the last annual meeting were read and accepted, the general secretary expressing his regret that owing to unforeseen circumstances the printers had not been able to distribute the annual reports in order that members could have been in possession of them before the meeting.

IMPROVED FINANCES

In the absence of the report, copics of the accounts were passed round and exhibited whilst the treasurer explained the items in detail. An improvement in the Guild's financial position was revealed, showing a balance of $£ 133$, excluding investments in Defence Bonds and War Savings and moneys held by District secretaries. He attributed the improvement to (1) decrease in cost of reports by adopting an abridged form: (2) no schemes entailing expense; (3) slightly increased membership; (4) increase in dues from Districts. He was pleased to report that the juvenile membership of the Guild was now over 60 . The report, as circulated, was adopted.

The general secretary read the joint report of the Guild officers.
From reports received from the various Districts quite a uscful and encouraging year had been spent, which must have given the District secretaries a considerable amount of satisfaction, especially in the knowledge that the juvenile membership was steadily increasing. A special word of praise was due to the Andover District in increasing its ringing menbers by 36 and honorary members by 11, also to the Basingstoke District, which reported an increase of 26 ringing members. It was to be hoped that this would be spread over all Districts during the coming year.

The overall membership showed a slight decrease but with a united effort this could be remedied to show a definite increase.

The finances had shown a greater stability during the year, due in no small measure to the decision to economise on annual reports, which showed a saving of $£ 29$. A further supply of badges was obtained but due to steady sales a profit was shown on the Trading Account, together with Guild certificates. Little restoration work had been reported during the year but the Guild wished success to Preston Candover in their effort to recast and augment their bells, and also to Old Alrestord where it was hoped to raise sufficient funds to rehang the present ring.
An inspection of the statistics presented by the recorder of peals showed that a varied and useful year had been spent. The District secretaries reported that more quarter peals had been rung, many for Sunday services.
' It is to be hoped that members will support their District secretary with their presence at District meetings. In many cases these meetings would have met with little success had they not been supported by ringers outside or the Districts, much as their presence is both welcomed and appreciated. We should like tu commend to all the desirability of supporting our only national journal, "The Ringing World." The editor and editorial committee have a difficult task in covering all aspects and catering for all tastes in our art, but we are sure that ringing would suffer a severe set-back if, through lack of support, it had to cease publication.

- We much appreciated the portrait of the late Master (Mr. George Williams), which our late treasurer (Mr. W. Linter) presented to the Guild.

The recorder of peals ( $\mathrm{Mr}, \mathrm{N}$. Hayes), in presenting his report, said that during 1954, 48 tower bell and 17 handbell peals had been rung compared with 52 and 14 respectively in 1953. Ten new methods for the Guild had been rung, among them Southwell and Winchester Surprise, being the first ever rung. For the first time peals had been rung on the bells at Baughurst and Kingsclerc. The peals recorder intimated that he would not be seeking re-election, and after the meeting had accepted his report he was heartily thanked for his past services in connection with this office.

The librarian (the Rev. K. W. H. Felstead), in his report, mentioned that the handbells needed an overhaul of straps, and the meeting empowered the Executive to invite tenders for renewal of straps and to proceed with the work if the estimate was considered reasonable.

A report of the Central Council procecdings at Bristol was presented by one of the Guild's representatives, Mr. C. H. Kippin, and supported by the other three representatives who attended the mecting.

CHANGES IN GUILD OFFICERS

The Master (Mr. George Pullinger) expressed his definite wish to relinquish his officc. He said he would be retiring soon in private life and he considered that now was the time to make the change. Mr. Kippin proposed that a record be placed in the minutes of the great work done by the Master, and this was endorsed by the Rev. K. W. H. Felstead. Mr. N. Audrews proposed that the Master's work be recognised in a fitting manner by electing him a vice-president of the Guild. This was received with acclamation, and Mr. Pullinger feelingly responded and thanked the members for the honour bestowed on him.
The gencral secretary had given his intention to resign from his present office for some months, and the members, on the proposition of Mr. Kippin, invited him to accept the vacant Mastership. After some considelation he agreed to the nomination and as there were no other nominations he was elected Master.

In thanking the mecting for their confidence, he paid a personal tribute to the work done by Mr. Pullinger for the Guild, both as Master and before that as general secretary, and trusted that he (personally) would be able to serve the Guild equally as efficiently as his predecessors.

Mr. J. C. A. King (Winchester) was invited to accept the post of general secretary. He said that if it was the wish of the members he would be happy to serve in that capacity. He was unanimously elected.
Mr. R. A. Reed was re-elected general treasurer, Mr. L. Bailey general auditor, and the Rev, K. W. H. Felstead librarian. Mr. J. M. Lakin was elected in place of Mr. N. Hayes as recorder of peals.

It was decided to hold the next annual general meeting at Ryde, Isle of Wight, on July 7th, 1956.

A suggestion to hold the annual general meetings alternately in each District of the Guild was referred to the Executive for consideration, as it would necessitate amending Rule 5.

PRESTON CANDOVER BELLS

The Rev. C. E. C. Brinkworth announced that the restored bells at Preston Candover would be opened to ringers on October 22nd. Mr. King appealed for the restoration being carried out on the six bells at Old Alresford and a sum of five guineas was granted from the Special Purposes Fund to this project. Mr. Brinkworth also mentioned that a scheme was afoot to restore Brown Candover bells.

At the conclusion of the business votes of thanks were accorded Mr. J. Chesterman, Mr. and Mrs. Austin, the ladies who officiated at tea and the organists and incumbents of all churches who had granted the use of their bells to the members.

The bells of the various churches were again made use of during the evening.

DURHAM AND NEWCASTLE ASSOCIATION

On Saturday, July 2nd, a meeting of the Eastern District was held at the Parish Church of St. Hilda, South Shields. Contrary to the usual inclement weather, brilliant sunshine shone through the circular window and illuminated the ringing chamber where there were gathered ringers from various towers in Northumberland and Durham. We were pleased to welcome visitors from Richmond, North Yorks, and Poole, Dorset.
Unfortunately, the Vicar (Canon M. N. Coates) was unable to be present at the meeting owing to other engagements, but on his return in the evening he came up into the belfry to welcome the ringers.
The ringing was somewhat curtailed during the afternoon on account of the stallholders in the Market Square, but after tea there was no opposition and we were able to ring until 9 p.m.
The next meeting is to be held at West Hartlepool (St. Oswald s), when the predominant method will be Stedman Caters. J. B. S.

Mr. T. J. Fowler is writing his reminiscences of 57 years in Cookham. This vice-president of the Oxford Diocesan Guild, we are certain, will have something interesting to say about ringing. He cannot keep it out.

LETTERS

A LEAD OF PRIMROSE IN CAMBRIDGE
Dear Sir.-Mr. Barnett's supposition about the introduction of the lead of Primrose into the composition of Cambridge is correct, it 'by-passes' false leads in course with tenors parted. I see nothing objectionable in it; there is nothing there which is not Cambridge, and in a method such as this. which has so few good compositions available, is justified Middleton's, good as it is, must become dread. fully monotonous after ringing it a few dozen times.
Further, I think the introduction of a lead of Primrose at the start of a peal of Cambridge Niaximus, thus bringing up the "Wrong' the first lead, is the best means of shortening it to 5.040 ; we did this once at Ipswich.-Yours sincerely,

CHARLES J. SEDGLEY.
Ipswich.

LAVENHAM TENOR

Dear Sir,-Mr. Pipe's outburst on Lavenham tenor was in bad taste. No doubt he wants to extol the virtues of some other bell. Envious controversy, to my mind, is harmful to the Exercise. Few, if any of us, are qualified to make comparisons and we do not want a long drawn-out argument on this matter. So please. Mr. Pipe-pipe down.-Yours, etc.,

Cuckfield.
R. V. JOHNSON.

NOT A BETTER BELL,

Dear Sir,-It always appears to rue rather ridiculous and sometimes childish to criticise without reason.

So perhaps Cecil W. Pipe will add a little reason to his criticism of Lavenham tenor and inform ringers where better tenors are to be found and why they are better.

During my 40 years as a ringer I have not heard a better-toned bell; until I do I shall believe the 300 -years-old myth which Cecil W. Pipe wants exploding-mind the blast, sir. -Yours faithfully, R. NEWMAN.

Holloway, N. 7.

Four Generations Ring Together

Horsham, Sussex.-On Sunday, July 3rd, 72 changes of Bob Minor, with the tenor covering: Jean F. Barnett (age 12) 1, F. Bennett (age $86 \frac{1}{2}$ ) 2. Mrs. O. D. Barnett 3, Mrs. F. I. Hairs 4, E. Barnett 5, E. A. Barnett 6, F. I. Hairs 7.

The ringers of the first four bells are four generations and it is believed to be the first occasion this has taken place. They are respectively the treble ringer's great-grandfather, mother and grandmother, and the other tingers were her father and two grandfathers; in all. four sets of three generations were included.

The band are very grateful to the Horsham ringers for allowing them to come at rather short notice, and glad to have joined them in the normal service ringing afterwards. In the course of this the oldest member of the party proved that he could still call Stedman Triples without any difficulty.

ST. MARTIN'S GUILD

Visit to Tanworth-in-Arden
A very enjoyable meeting of the St. Martin's Guild for the Diocese of Birmingham was held in beautiful summer weather in the pleasant village of Tanworth-in-Arden on July 2nd.

An apology was read from the Rev. D. W. Lee, Vicar of Tanworth, who regretted his inability to attend, which was due to the holding of the Sunday School festival on that date. The only room in the village was booked for the children's tea, so the members of the Guild accepted the kind invitation of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Jones to tea, and to hold the meeting at their residence. As the Master remarked, they were not sorry that the Village Hall was in use, so well were they provided for by their host and hostess.

Several members visited Henley-in-Arden to ring, at the request of the Vicar, for the village fete, and transport was provided by the Jones brothers for the four miles which separate the two villages.

At the meeting the Master referred to the death of Frederick W. Rishworth, who had been a ringer at Perry Barr and Aston Parish Church since he came to Birmingham from Yorkshire some 40 years ago. He had regularly attęnded the meetings of the Guild, and his loss is much regretted.

Two life members had passed away since the last meeting-Mrs. C. J. Matthews, of the Society of Royal Cumberland Youths, and William H. Passmore, of the Ancient Society of College Youths. The members stood in silence for a short time as a token of respect to their memory.

The tower election of Mr. Robert A. Soutnwood, of Plymouth, as a life member was duly ratifield.
It was decided to hold the next meeting at Yardley Parish Church on October Ist.

The secretary informed the meeting that the date of the next Henry Johnson commemoration dinner would be February 26th, as the Connaught Room was already booked for the first Saturday in March.

The meeting closed with an enthusiastic vote of thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Jones for arranging a superb tea and for placing their home at the disposal of the members of the Guild.

THE SUFFOLK GUILD

A Summer's Day at Grundishurgh

A general meeting of the Suffolk Guild was held at Grundisburgh on July 16 th and was fairly well attended. Ringing commenced on the 'pretty six' $(1,2,3,6,8,10)$ with a good course of Cambridge Minor, which was followed by methods ranging from Bob Major to London and Bristol and Stedman Caters and Cambridge Royal.

In the burning sunshine cool drinks were served under the churchyard giant beech tree and tea was later taken on the Rectory lawn.
At the business meeting Mr. Charles J. Sedgley referred to the sad news of Mr. Harold J. Poole and spoka to the members of his greatness as a ringer. All stood in silence as a tribute to his memory.
The next meeting will be at Beccles on September 24 th, when it is hoped many will avail themselves of the opportunity to ring on one of the finest rings in the Eastern Counties.

CHOIRBOY CRUSHED BY BELL

Accident at Westbury-on-Trym

A boy chorister, Richard Egan (15), of 15, Elderberry Walk, Westbury-on-Trym, was crushed by a $15-\mathrm{cwt}$. bell in the tower of Holy Trinity, Westbury-on-Trym, Glos, on July 12th This tower has a ring of six with a tenor of $23 \frac{1}{4}$ cwt.
The accident happed about 8 p.m. after choir practice. Egan and his companion went to the ringing room at the foot of the tower Richard asked the tower master. Mr. Edwin George, if they could go to the top of the tower. Then Peter Adams, an 18-years-old student, came in, and at Mr. George's request, raised No. 4 bell to the ringing position, ready for the evening practice.

Mr. George asked Adams to take the boys up, assuming that they were going up to the top of the tower to see the view. At the inquest Adams told the Coroner that he misunderstood what Mr. George said and thought he was to show the boys the bells, as he had done before.
Fifty feet below Mr. George pulled off the bell and it crashed against Richard, pinning him by the chest against an iron girder.

Mr. George ran up the stairs and found Adams trying to pull the bell back from the boy.
Police and firemen were summoned and Fireman S. Morgan climbed into the bell chamber carrying a giant iron jack. Working in the confined space and semi-darkness rescuers eventually managed to prise the bell away. Oxygen breathing apparatus was called for, but the boy was dead.
A verdict of 'Accidental Death' was returned. Precautionary measures are to be taken as to future admissions to the tower

Wedding of Mr. W. L. Exton
Saturday, July 9th, was a day of great rejoicing in Newark, when that very busy gentleman, the Ringing Master of the Newark District of the Southwell Guild, Deputy Ringing Master of Newark Parish Church and 'Ringing World' correspondent, namely, Mr. W. L. Exton, found time to get married to Miss Brenda Wright.

The Parish Church ringers rang a "wedding touch ' as the happy couple came from church, and a few miles away at North Muskham a peal was in progress during the time of the wedding ceremony, rung by a representative band of the Southwell Guild.

Mr. and Mrs. Exton spent their honeymoon at Chapel St. Leonard, Lincs, where, it is understood, there are no ringable bells within a radius of about ten miles !

A Colchester Ringing Wedding

Mr. Peter G. Barnes, a member of Ardleigh tower, and Miss Rosemary W. Sollis, of. St. Leonard's Church, Colchester, were married on Saturday, June 25th, at St. Leonard's Church, Colchester.
The bride, who wore a dress of white figured taffeta and carried a bouquet of red rases, was given away by her uncle. She was attended by four bridesmaids.

After the reception the happy couple left for their honcymoon in North Devon.

On their return the following quarter peal was rung to honour the happy occasion:Wednesday, July 6th. 1,260 Plain Bob Minor: Eva Appleby (chief bridesmaid) 1, Rosemary Barnes 2, B. Fairhead 3, F. Oliver 4, G. W. Barnes 5. P. G. Barnes (conductor) 6.
The many presents included a fish cutlery set from St. Leonard's choir and ringers and a bedside cabinet from Ardleigh ringers.

PEAL RINGING IN NORTHAMPTONSHIRE

By The Rev. K. W. H. FELSTEAD

NORTHAMPTONSHIRE is one of the counties which has a much higher proportion of six- and five-bell towers than eight and upwards. Out of 198 rings, only 30 are eights and tens (there are two of the latter). It will be no surprise, therefore, to find that more six- and five-bell peals have been rung in the county than eight- and ten-bell peals. Actually, the approximate number is 1,150 as against 1,100 . The latter number would be very considerably reduced if one tower is ignoredIrthlingborough, for there have been nearly three times as many peals there as at any other tower. Its total is 227 and it is the only tower which has passed the century. It was most prominent 50 years ago, for 168 peals were rung from the first in 1894 up to 1916-about eight a year average. After the war less than three a year were rung, for only 53 came from 1919 to 1939. Even so this was a higher total than at any other tower in the county. Since the last war there have only been six, which means a smaller average still.

The tower which comes next in numbers, Higham Ferrers, shows a very similar history. Out of its total of 91,68 were rung between 4893 and 1914, there were 19 from 1919 to 1935, and there have been four since 1951. The sext two towers both had six bells at the beginning of the period under consideration (1881 onwards). They are Raunds and Wicken. The first peal rung in the county in the period came from the former tower in 1883, and terı were rung on the six before the trebles were added in the $1890^{\circ}$ s. Then came 35 from 1898 to 1914,26 between the wars and only six since, making a total of 77. Wicken was not augmented until 1922, by which time there had been 15 on the bells, commencing in 1905. The 40 peals which were rung from 1922 to 1939 made it the second most popular tower in the county during that period. It is still going strong, for 20 peals have come since 1944 easily the most of any tower since the war.

TWO TEN-BELL TOWERS

It is convenient to take the two ten-bell towers next for their peal totals come more or less next in order. They are Kettering and Northampton, St. Giles'. The former was an eight-bell tower at first, and 43 of its 73 peals were rung there before 1914-its best period. Two more were rung in 1921 before augmentation and there followed 20 up to 1937. There have been eight since the war. St. Giles' has had a rather more consistent history than most towers, even though its peal total is not high60. Twenty-one came from 1898 to 1913, 32 from 1919 to 1932, and seven from 1946 to 1951 (none since).
Actually a six-bell tower comes next after Kettering-Isham, with 67 peals. Here, too, ringing has been fairly consistent with a slightly better average at first than since. The first peal recorded was in 1906 and 29 were rung before the first war. Thirty-one came between the wars, and seven since 1947 have appeared in - The Ringing World columns.

Thrapston (8) has 61 peals, spread evenly over the past 60 years with the usual gaps for the wars. Northampton, St. Edmund's (8), shows a similar history also, but the first peal was earlier, in 1889, and there have been only four since the war. Burton Latimer (8) also has 60. As a six-bell tower, 11 peals were rung between 1903 and 1913. After the trebles werc added it became one of the most popular lowers in the county, and 37 peals were rung there before the last war. There have been 12 since 1947 and only one or two towers can beat this post-war figure. Two other towers have passed the 50 mark in the county and both have 55 peals. They are Finedon (8), whose best period was before the first war ( 32 peals then and only two since 1936), and a six-bcll tower-Cranford. The average here was also better prior to 1914, for 25 of the peals came in the seven years from 1907 to 1914. There were 23 from 1919 to 1932, after which silence for 15 years, and seven peals recently.

In the 40's are Peterborough, St. Mary's (6), with 48, Rothwell (8) with 45, and Great Addington (6) with 42. All registered their first peals at the beginning of the century and have appeared at regular intervals in the peal columns since. The 14 peals at the Peterborough tower make it the second bighest in the number of peals since the last war.

TOWERS UNCONQUERED

All the eight-bell towers have had a peal or peals rung at them-Aynhoe's one and oniy being as long ago as 1901. The only previous peal at Rushden before the one in 1953 was in 1885, when it had six bells. Although there are 73 six-bell towers in the county only two remain virgin territory-Barnack and Cottesbrooke. The proportion of five-bell towers which have been conquered is likewise very high, only 27 out of 96 remaining. The only counties with comparable numbers of five-bell towers are Norfolk (80) and Suffolk (98). At the former, 47 are still unconquered, as menttioned in the last article, whilst in Suffolk 53 have not had a peal yet. So Northamptonshire can well be proud of this record. Before coming on to make special mention of the five-bell towers one or two more of the six-bell towers must be mentioned. Ringstead and Weekley both have had 30 peals rung at them, Cogenhoe, Islip and Rushton 26. The latter two have only been heard once or twice in the past 25 years. Glinton (21) and Mears Ashby (20) complete the six-bell towers which have reached 20 peals.

Very special mention must be made of the five-bell towers, for peal ringing on these has been higher than in any other county. I said in a previous article that few such towers in the country had reached double figures-the number is only 17 in all at the moment. Eight of these towers are in Northamptonshire-practically half, in other words. They include the only three five-bell towers which have recorded more than 20 peals. They are Warkton with 32 , Barton Scgrave 29 and Pyichley 22. Barton

Segrave headed the list for a long time, for 14 of the peals were rung prior to 1914 and 13 between the wars. There has only been one since. Warkton's total was five in 1914 and 25 in 1938, but the seven since the war have, enabled it to take the lead. Pytchley has only had two since 1945 the bulk (17) having been rung from 1919 to 1939. The other towers with more than ten peals are Weston Favell (14), Grafton Underwood and Orlingbury (12), Easton Maudit (11) and Roade (11). The last named is doing very well since it is a new ring. Alderton, Bozeat and Stanwick each with eight, should soon join the above select company. Peal totals include all that have appeared in the ringing Press up to April 22nd inclusive.
In the middle of writing the above article, I received a letter from Mr. P. Amos in hiş usual fiery vein! In the part concerning my articles, he suggested I might give a wrong impression about peal ringing activities in Northants and Rutland, since some peals rung were never published because of certain differences with the local Guild. (What a pity that people can't 'agree to differ' in a friendly way.) However, even though this be so, I don't think that the overall picture will be very different. I can' $£$ think that any unpublished peals would be as much as five per cent. (i.e., 100 peals), in which case they wouldn't make much difference. I should, however, be very grateful if Mr. Amos, or others, could kindly let me know of such unpublished peals for my records. My object is to hand on to posterity as complete a record as possible of all the peals that have ever been rung.

ST. ANNE'S CHURCH, ALDERNEY

Alderncy, perhaps one of the most beautiful of the Channel Islands, has in St. Anne's Church a ring of six bells. The church, built in 1850 after the Early English style, was designed by Sir Gilbert Scott, and has a large central tower, in which the bells are hung. They were originally cast by Mears in 1852.
In 1940 the Germans invaded Alderney, and the island, after complete evacuation, was turned into a concentration camp. The bells were removed, one was left in the churchyard, another in Braye Harbour and the other four were removed to France to be melted down. By some stroke of luck they were found in Cherbourg by the Allies and were returned to St. Anne's.

Two bells were cracked, but the other four were hung on a wooden frame in the churchyard and chimed for service. The Islanders, of whom there are nearly 1,300 , first undertook to repair their church, but in 1953 the great day arrived when the bells were recast by John Taylor and Co., at a cost of $£ 1,370$. The bells are inscribed:-
Treble.- The Time is Short,' in memory of B. B.. H. B. and R. Bickerton.

2nd.- Watch and Pray always.
3rd.- O Come let us Worship.
4th. - Praise ye the Lord.
5th.- 'In everything give thanks in memory of F. L. Impey.'
Tenor.- All things are ready. In memory of Daisie Mignot.
A very pleasant chime of bells, tenor 12 cwt . It is a pity they cannot be rung to changes.
I should like to thank the Vicar (the Rev. G. F. D. Pitts) for rertain information contained herein.

EXPLORING THE UNKNOWN

By P. AMOS

$\mathbf{Q}^{\mathbf{L}}$UERY has been raised in the past as to the church with the lightest ring of five bells; Foots Cray, Kent with its $3 \frac{1}{4}$ cwt. tenor, has been claimed. Should a treble be added at some time in the future, this must have a very close rival in Wansford, near Peterborough, for the tenor of these four is but 24 inches across the lip and reported to be three cwt .
The frame at Wansford dates back many years and in 1897 wooden props were erected in each corner of this upstairs belfry from its floor up to the old oak frame (for four bells) above to support it, truly a patch-up job! Ir that same year (1897) enthusiasm evidently ran high to add the two other bells-the present treble and tenor which Messrs. Taylors cast. An entirely new frame would certainly have saved what must very shortly be a scheme of complete restoration if these bells are to be prevented from crashing under their own weight, light as they be, for the old frame today is so riddled with death watch beetle and wood worm that it can have but a very short life. The broach steeple has recently had $£ 650$ spent upon its exterior.
The two middle bells were both originally circa 1520, by Mellor, of Nottingham, but only the third is to-day untouched; the second was, in 1868, recast by Messrs. Warners, of London. Much rubbish adorned this steeple when I visited it in August, 1954, my second visit.

UFFORD

Not far from here is Ufford, where, in 1896, Messrs. Taylors installed a new 'H' metal frame. The treble to the existing three bells (tenor 11 cwt .), being cracked, was recast, and a new treble added to make four. The present third and tenor are ascribed to John Sanders, who owned the Reading bellfoundry from 1539 to 1559. It is doubtful if they will ever (during the present incumbency) be augmented, for this living now goes with Barnack, where the present incumbent is content to let the disgraceful state of affairs remain.

Six bells are in this noted stecple, the tower of which is truly Saxon. Only five bells are, however, hung for ringing, and these in 1935 were immobilised by removal of the ropes, the pulleys and the sliders, together with the floor immediately beneath, leaving an open drop to the new concrete belfry floor below, where a chiming apparatus is installed. At the same time a new bell of 14 cwt .3 qr . 26 lb . sounding the note of a tenor to the old five (which are a minor five) was added, suspended stationary on an oak beam and triagular oak frame on its own in one corner of the tower, used only for the clock and chimes.

Some $£ 2,000$ was spent from his own purse by the then Rector (Canon Fry) upon all this work as a memorial to a relative. Fortunately the wheels of the five are still intact, and their oak frame (in good condition) was repaired in 1897 when they were rehung by Messrs. John Taylor and Co, who also cast the new clock bell in 1935. From a ringer's point of view the money could have been more wisely spent, especially as the tower and spire were strengthened from top to bottom at the same time, and is equally as strong as is the other well-known Saxon tower, Earl's Barton, which (also in 1935) had its six bells (tenor 12 cwt .) rehung and two trebles added.

When I spoke to the Rector of Barnack once about restoring the pulleys, the slides, putting the floor back and replacing the ropes I was told that 'the population had accepted the present state, and there was no likelihood of going back to the old period, as there were no ringers." The tenor of the old five is a pre-Reformation bell, possibly by John de Colsale, of Nottingham, circa 1410. In Barnack steeple one cannot help thinking of the words of the hymn, 'Through all the changing scenes of life '! Let us hope they will one day change for the better.
I must now proceed to another story of almost equal interest concerning a steeple in Peterborough, St. Mark's. Here is a church built in 1856 with a fine tower and spire capable of eight bells with a tenor of 10-15 cwt. In it is but one small bell, 19 inches diameter, cast by Messrs. C. and G. Mears, of London, 1856.

INVESTIGATING A BEQUEST

Rumour has had it for a number of years (I had it told to me 30 years ago by the late Mr. Waldron, of Peterborough) that as far back as 1889 (or thereabouts) an old lady parishioner left a sum of money to this church on condition that it never had bells.

A short time ago I contacted the present Vicar to ascertain the truth of this story, as neither Mr. Waldron nor anyone else seemed ever to be able to name 'the old lady making this bequest.'

The reply came: 'Dear Mr. Amos, No such bequest has ever been made to St . Mark's, Pcterborough. I have looked up the facts of the case for you, and it appears that many years ago a scheme was launched to have a ring of bells. But when a faculty was applied for it met with such strong opposition from residents in the neighbourhood that it had to be dropped. St. Mark's people have accepted the position and there seems little likelihood that it will ever be raised again.'
To this I replied: 'Thank you for your help and information, but I hope future generations (nor present, for that matter) at St. Mark's will not content themselves to be tied down to decisions of their forefathers, in this case wholly contrary to the words of a hymn so often sung, "Soldiers of the Cross arise, gird you with your armour bright." Compared with a ring of bells, the armour of one bell is certainly very dull '? Maybe this comment would be passed on to the Parochial Church Council-I hope it was!

PETERBOROUGH'S BELLS

Peterborough has several churches with only one bell-All Saints', 1891; St. Paul's 1868; and St. Barnabas', 1900. Those of the first two have towers, but the one at St. Barnabas' is hung on a wooden framework from the ground outside, and chimed from the inside-a cheap, ugly looking contraption.
St. Mary"s, Peterborough, is well known to ringers. But I must refute the weight of the tenor of this Warner ring of 1887 (six bells in a saddleback tower) which has varied from time to time. Its correct weight is 8 cwt .3 lb ., not 9 cwt., $8 \frac{1}{2} \mathrm{cwt}$., and so on !

St. John"s, Peterborough, is also well known, but not well known are its bells and history. There was in this stately tower before 1675, five bells only, which Tobie Norris II. recast in 1675, together with a sanctus bell. They were recast again in 1808 by William Dobson, of Downham.
Although pleasant to ring, they strike one as being thin on first hearing them. The tenor is 26 cwt . 2 qr .22 lb . in C sharp, which tells its own story, for most bells in C sharp are several cwt., heavier. The seventh cracked in the late 1920's and in 1930 had to be recast by Messrs. John Taylor and Co. Previously they had been rehung in a new metal frame by Messrs! Gillett and Johnston in 1910, the two trebles being recast at the same time.

WYLDBORE'S DAY

Matthew Wyldbore, one time Member of Parliament, who died on March 15th, 1781, by his will "bequeathed an annuity of $£ 5$ to be paid for entertainment to the ringers on condition that they ring one or more peals on the anniversary of the date of his death.' 'Wyldbore Day 'was a regular feature of ringing for many years. The money is vested in the Vicar and churchwardens.
Nearby is one of the noblest of Norman Cathedrals to be seen anywhere. Prior to 1540 it was an abbey church to Lincoln Cathedralthe Peterborough Diocese then being part of the See of Lincoln. At the dissolution of the monasteries an inventory was taken on November 30th, 1539, of all the furnishings of the Abbey, which showed: - In chapel of Low, 3 bells. In infirmary chapel one small bell. In the two steeples at the front, 10 bells.'
Those of the chapel of Low and the one of the infirmary were evidently sold soon after the dissolution, but the other 10 were allowed to remain. At the time of the Commonwealth, soldiers quartered there used to annoy the inhabitants by continually jangling upon them. They must have been very heavy, for in 1709 a new ring of 10 was cast from the metal of the four heaviest, and even these 10 (five of which still remain) have a tenor reputed to be 30 cwt . which I, personally, have reason to believe is nearer 28 cwt. It is $56 t$ inches diameter across the lip! The tenor at St. John's, by the way, is $55^{\circ}$ inches diameter.

The work of casting these 10 bells was entrusted to Henry Penn, who six years earlier, in 1703, had set up business in Broad Bridge Street, Peterborough, where he cast many bells, until his tragic death falling from his horse after an Assize at Huntingdon, in 1729. This Assize concerned a claim against him by the people of St. Ives for work to their bells. He won his casc, but the tragedy followed immediately after.
No trace of Penn's bell foundry to-day exists, nor does the waterway called 'bell-dyke,' which he constructed for more readily conveying his bells. He married a Miss Annie Sheppard.
In 1831 the ninth of these bells (the present fourth) was recast by William Dobson, who two years later dicd. Dobson is said to have bought the first five and used the metal for casting the six bells at Witham-on-the-Hill, Lincs. These five bore the inscriptions:1. Cantemus Domino Canticum Novum. Henry Penn, Fvsore, 1709.
2.-Venite Exultemus Domino. William Precent, 1709.
3.-Gloria Deo In Excelsis. Richard Cumberland, Prab. Henry Pen. Fvsore, 1709.
4.-Voce Mea Ad Dorn. John Balderson. D.D. Præb, 1709.
5.-Benedictum Sit Nomen Domini. John Taylor. A. M. Præb. 1709.

Various Notations used in setting down Touches and Peals

By D. BEACHAM

THE LEAD HEAD

In writing out a plain course of Bob Doubles, we start from rounds and obtain the rows by applying a certain rule as far as the treble's handstroke lead. In order to obtain the treble's backstroke lead, however, we apply a different rule. We then start from this last row or 'Lead Head' in the same way that we did from rounds and prick the next lead, and so on.

Now, if we know the rules for writing out a lead of any method, then, given any lead head, we can prick all the rows in that lead; the lead head is thus representative of all the rows in the lead, and in practice it is this we use in setting down touches and peals.

Thus the plain course of Bob Doubles set down by the lead heads is :-
(1)2345 The treble is shown bracketed because in practice it is always (1)3524 omitted, its presence being un-
(1) 5432 derstood.
(1) 2345

Note: 'Lead Head' is the correct name for this row, but it is more often referred to as the 'Lead End.'
In order to produce a 120 we must employ Bobs. The bob is called when the treble is in 2nds on its way down to lead, and is "made" at the treble's back ${ }^{-*}$ roke lead. This will produce a different lead head from that if no bob was called.

A 120 of Bob Doubles is produced by calling three bobs, each bob being called in the fourth lead after the previous one. The first bob, however, can be in any of the first four leads. Here is one of them:-

The ' dash ' shows that a bob was called to produce that lead head.
Singles are shown S4235 (though there are no singles in Bob Doubles, of course).

TRANSPOSITION

In order to write down the lead heads of any touch, all we need to know is the first lead head of the plain course and the lead heads produced by a Bob or a Single being called in the first lead, for we can then write down all other lead heads by transposition.

Look at the lead heads of the plain course of Bob Doubles:- We wrote down first 2345 of all 2345 (the lead head from which we start) and underneath it the first lead head 3524. This lead head is related to 2345 thus:-

3524

5432
2345

The next lead head is 5432 , and since the rows starting from 3524 and ending with 5432 were produced by the same rule which produced 3524 from 2345 , then 5432 will bear the same relationship to 3524 as this latter does to 2345 thus:-

The other leads of the plain course will be similarly related, so that know-

etc. course, we can obtain any 'plain' lead head by transposing the previous one by 3524 , the plain lead transposition.

Thus the plain lead after 2534 will be 5423 and the next 4352 , etc.
Note: 'plain' lead-the lead head if no call was made.
'bob' lead-the lead head produced by a bob.
As a further example, take the lead heads of the plain course of Bob Major. If we know the first lead head then we can obtain all the others using it as the transposition, thus:-

First lead head is 35274862345678 Having written it down as shown, look at 3527486 and say to yourself look at 3527486 and say to yourself 3527486 three, and write down (as the first figure of the row) the bell in thirds place, i.e., 5 ; then say five and write down the bell in 5ths, i.e., 7, and so on, and we get:-

2345678
To obtain the third lead head we transpose 5738264 by 3527486 in the same way, and so on.

Now for the bobs, for which we shall go back to Bob Doubles. If we call a bob at the first lead we shall get 12354 , our 'bob lead ' transposition is thus 2354. If, then, we write down the first three lead heads of the plain course and transpose the third one by 2354 , we shall obtain the first bob lead thus:- 2345

We can then write down the next three plain leads using the transposition 3524 and then again transpose the

3524 ton 3524 and then again transpose the

5432 last one by 2354 to obtain the bob lead 4253 and so on. Notice that the bob lead - 4235 transposition is an easy one; it only involves reversing the last two bells in the previous lead head.

OBSERVATION BELL.

Before giving details of the notations used for different methods and for different numbers of bells, a short explanation of the use of an - Observation Bell' will be given.

It is often convenient for a conductor to learn the work of one bell in a long touch or peal, and since it may simplify composition as well as conducting, it is often arranged for one bell, generally the tenor in Major and the seventh in Triples, to repeat its work at regular intervals. This bell is called the Observation bell and the bobs and singles are often referred to by the position into which the observation bell falls at the lead head at which the call is made.

In Bob Minor a bell is said to be called RIGHT (or HOME in the case of the tenor) if it is a 6ths place bell, i.e., it dodges 5-6 down at the lead head at which the call is made. If it is a 5ths place bell (dodging 5-6 up) it is said to be called WRONG; and if it is called to run out (3rds place bell) it is said to be BEFORE (because it is coursing before the treble).

The positions in Bob Major are:-
(M) MIDDLE-

6ths place bell (5-6 down).
(W) WRONG-

7 ths place bell (7-8 up).
(H) HOME or RIGHT-

8ths place bell (7-8 down).
(B) BEFORE-

3rds place bell (runs out).
There is also another position sometimes used known as 5ths and 4ths. This is when a bob is called when the tenor dodges $5-6$ up (i.e.. is a 5ths place bell), and then a bob is called at the next lead which the tenor makes (i.e., is a 4 ths place bell).

The M, W and H positions in Royal will be 8 ths, 9 ths and 10 ths place bells respectively.

The positions in Grandsire Triples are:-
MIDDLE-5ths place bell ( $4-5 \mathrm{up}$ ).
WRONG-6ths place bell (6-7 down).
RIGHT or HOME-7ths place bell ( $6-7 \mathrm{up}$ ). BEFORE-3rds place bell.
IN-Into the hunt (2nds place bell).
OUT-Out of the hunt (4ths place bell).
If the call is a single, the words "with a single' are added, e.g., 'Before with a single.'

OUTING

REDENHALL AND DISS
Accompaned by Ernest Whiting, Ringing Master for South Norfolk, the Redenhall and Diss ringers left Diss at $7 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}$. on July 9 th for a tour in Hertfordshire. The first call was Braughing ( 8 bells), then on to Baldock and Stevenage. Lunch was taken at Stevenage.

The afternoon's programme included St. Andrew's, Hertford, and Bengeo, then tea in Hertford. The evening call was at Much Hadham. The return journey was via Newmarket for 'supper.' Before dispersing, thanks were expressed to Mr. William Flatt, who organised the outing.

We should also like to express out thanks to the incumbents and ringers of the towers visited and the warm welcome we received.
A. G. H.

This John Taylor, by the way, was in no way connected with the present firm of Taylors of Loughborough.

Bells $6,7,8,9$ and 10 (now the present five) are inscribed:-6,7 and 8 the same as 1,2 and $3 ; 9$ (now the fourth), was, before 1831. Te Deum Laudamus. White Kennett. S.S.T.P. Decano. Henry Penn, Fvsore, 1709. Its present inscription reads: Herbert Marsh, Bishop of Peterborough. Thos. Turton, Dean of Peterboro'; Wm. Strong, Archdeacon of N'pton. There are also the names of six prebendaries inscribed together with the year 1831.

Thir diameters and approximate weights are : (1) $39 \mathrm{in} ., 10 \mathrm{cwt}$; (2) $42 \mathrm{in.}$,13 cwt ; (3) $45 \mathrm{in.}$, $15 \frac{1}{2} \mathrm{cWt}$; ( 4 ) 48 in., 19 cwt ; (5) $56 \frac{3}{4} \mathrm{in} ., 28$ cwt., reputed 30 cwt . in D .

Although they have been rung in years gone by, at present they are only chimed by apparatus, and the condition of the fabric, although constantly under renovation, expresses fears of them ever being rung again. I did once suggest to the late Bishop Blagden when conversing together over a cup of tea at a Diocesan Conference that they be melted down into a light ten with a tenor about 18 cwt , to which he replied, 'I wish it were possible '!

HOW HANDBELL PEALS WERE LOST

By WILLIAM SHEPHERD

LOOKING through my peal book recently recalled not only the successful occasions but also the failures with their pointers to success, and in some cases humorous situations which caused sudden stoppages. Some handbell ringers are apt to be 'nervy' and strange noises upset them very easily, for those residing in the vicinity cannot be expected to understand anything about handbell peals.

On one occasion we were all set for a peal of Triples in a back room when the man next door started shooting rats from an open window. A front room attempt went well till a man with his one-man-band came along and we were glad when he passed to other houses. Shortly afterwards a band struck up and preaching followed, but one of the umpires went out with some coppers, and this had the desired effect until a man with a cornet started his solos in his own particular style which finished our attempt for that meeting. Many other outside noises were experienced such as a political meeting, a singing beggar, cat and dog fights, and a domestic quarrel, all of which taught us the lesson that suitable rooms should be appreciated. Even open-air attempts were liable to come to grief because of unexpected events, and a tolerant 5-6 man can say nasty things about mischievous boys who squirt water down people's necks from behind a garden fence.

The writer attempted but one handbell peal in Ireland, which was in J. W. Washbrook's garden at Arklow, and after ringing over 2,000 Stedman Triples he had to cry off from having any more on 5-6 because of the perplexing situation created by the front bells. In ordinary handbell peals 1-2 and 3-4 are manipulated by two persons using up and down strokes, but on this occasion Jim Washbrook was ringing four bells and also calling the bobs; therefore, such a mode of procedure, unique and clever, was too confusing to me because of the difference in handmovements.

Sometimes it was the umpires who caused a stir by undue noises when poking the fire or putting on more fuel, and during one peal we had two umpires who enjoyed a bag of juicy pears, some oranges and a bag of nuts between them, with varied noises caused by the nut-crackers at uneven intervals.

The three brothers William, Ernest and Bob Pye with Bertram Prewett used to meet occasionally in London for double-handed Stedman ' in hand,' and in 1911-12 quite a good bag of peals 'in hand 'was rung at various addresses in London and Surrey, but when Alf Grimes took up handbell peal ringing early in 1912 his residence, a licensed house in Haggerston, became a popular meeting place, chiefly on account of a nice large room readily available for peals. Even here we found that a big rat became interested in Stedman for a short while and one evening the umpire's chair collapsed! Alf's 'pub' was handy when listeners came to hear the ringing, for a choice of drinks could be obtained, and how nice it was to ring Stedman Cinques with one umpire busy with his bread, cheese and pickles.
Later on, the belfry of St. Leonard's, Shoreditch, became the meeting place, and here came many famous ringers, clergymen included, to take part in handbell peals. A rare experience of two bats invading the ringing chamber of a Surrey tower while a handbell peal was well on the way to success brings back memories of five ringers evading bats and ringing Grandsire Caters at the same time. The umpire settled the argument by switching off the light.

We had no code of rules relating to umpires or any advice on situations likely to arise during the ringing, and if one dropped off to sleep after his day's work it was understandable, but his loud snores certainly disturbed the tranquillity of the ringing. The umpire two of us found hard to forgive was one who liked a nice blazing fire and who kept stoking up until the heat became unbearable for my neighbouring ringer and myself who had our backs to the fire.

A unique way of attending a ringing meeting came one day when a Surrey handbell party travelled by boat on the Thames and rang a quarter peal en route. This led to the idea that a peal on the water would be quite a novelty and this was duly arranged. Everything looked all right even though we had to make do with a punt, but after ringing 1,500 the writer found his cushions had slipped and he was low in the punt. Soon came the uncomfortable feeling that water had found the spot where he was sitting and was slowly coming upwards because of a leak; therefore, it was desirable to arrive at a decision quickly. Needless to say, we made for the land and all hands helped the wet conductor ashore. No more river handbells, was the verdict; still, everyone enjoyed a good laugh over it.

Those London and Surrey handbell days, peal or no peal, enabled the writer to meet well-known personalities who did much to popularise double-handed ringing. Many of them have left us for higher service, leaving behind them not only a record of peals scored but also happy memories of peal attempts and incidents connected with them. Space prevents any mention of names or details of peals won, but I trust the few specimens given herein will suffice to show what varied situations have been the means of halting handbell peals.

OUTINGS

NORTON SUBCOURSE AND BECCLES

On July 9th the ringers of Norton Subcourse and Beccles had an enjoyable day in Essex. The party of 38 left Norton at 8 a.m., and after a brief stop at Bury St. Edmunds proceeded to Pebmarsh, where some good touches were rung on the delightful six.

After lunch at Halstead. Sible Hedingham was visited, where methods including Cambridge Major were rung. Returning to Halstead the eight bells were set going, after which tea was taken. Then on to Colne Engaine, where London and Beverley Surprise Minor were attempted and brought round.

At the next stop, Earls Colne, some of the best ringing of the day occurred on these lovely eight bells. The final call was Great Tey, where some tired ringers ascended the somewhat unusual staircase to partake in various methods which included a touch of Stedman Triples.
Returning home via Colchester one stop was made to sample some Suffolk brew, and then home, arriving at 11.55 . The party tender their thanks to Mr. W. Arnold for his help in arranging the programme, also to Mr. Claydon, who acted as guide. Mr. G. Walpole would like to thank all incumbents and local ringers for their help and kindness.

ST. MARY'S, EASTBOURNE

A very enjoyable meeting took place on July 9th when St. Mary's ringers left Eastbourne at 7.30 a.m. picking up friends en route to the first stop, Crawley, where ringing was enjoyed at St. John-the-Baptist's (tenor $13 \frac{3}{2} \mathrm{cwt}$.). Then on to Godalming. where, after a good lunch, the heavier eight (tenor 22 cwt .) were put to good use.
The highlight of the day followed, ringing on the ten at Haslemere : these must surely be the best ten for their weight (tenor 13 cwt .) in the country. This was followed by a drive through the beautiful countryside to the little village of Linchmere, where tea was prepared in the Vicarage garden and thoroughly enjoyed, appreciation being shown by handbell ringing. The little church of Linchmere could not be by-passed so the two small bells there had to be tried.
And so on to the last tower of the day. Billingshurst (tenor 12 z cwt .), where a very good touch of Double Norwich rounded off a very pleasant day's ringing.
Thanks are due to the incumbents, the tower secretaries and all who helped to make this outing such a great success.

TWERTON-ON-AYON

On July 16 th the Twerton-on-Avon ringers had their outing. The weather was really beautiful and the lovely Wiltshire countryside looked a picture.
At Malmesbury Abbey we were met by Mr. E. Player and ringing was enjoyed on the good eight (tenor 11 cwt . 8 lb . in F sharp). The second tower was Cricklade, where Mr. Sherwood awaited the party. Ringing here on the five bells (tenor 12 cwt . 27 lb . in G) will be remembered for a very long time as the ropes go through two sets of guides. The length between the ringers and the bells is 75 feet.

After a wonderful spread, ringing followed at Purtop. where we were met by Messrs. R. and C. R. Shailes. The six bells are glorious (tenor 20 cwt .14 lb . in C sharp). At the last tower, Wootton Bassett, Mr. E. Brooks greeted the party. Ringing was enjoyed on the eight (tenor 18 cwt . in E).
Thanks are due to Mr. R. Fry, who organised the outing so well, and to the incumbents.

OUTINGS

PUTNEY

Readers of 'The Ringing World' for July 15th will have seen that Mr. Elson, of Putney, has celebrated his 88 th birthday. But those of us who year by year take part in the outings which he arranges find great difficulty in believing it. I do not know whether he was ever a sergeant-major, but, by the way in which he keeps a coachload of varied ringers and nonringers up to the time-table he has arranged, he could well have been.
This year was no exception and on July 9th the usual party of Putneyites and invited guests enjoyed ringing in four eight-bell towers in Essex: Halstead, deep in tone for its $14 \frac{1}{2}$ cwt. tenor; St. Peter's, Colchester, 21 cwt., a lovely ring and a fine ringing chamber; Writtie, $18 \frac{1}{2}$ cwt., in a church by the village green, where the annual fair was in progress; and Brentwood, $19 \frac{1}{2} \mathrm{cwt}$., with a tower at present in 'splints.'
Lunch at the Cups Hotel, Colchester, was first class, and a good tea was enjoyed at Whittle. But the unusual part of the outing was the afternoon visit to Bergholt, just over the border into Suffolk. Here the visiting ringers were spectators just as much as the non-ringers, while the local band demonstrated their skill in set changes on the five bells (tenor 28 cwt.) in the bell cage in the churchyard. Whether it is more difficult to ring the bells, without ropes, by the handgrips on the headstocks than it is to stand the noise in the bell cage is debatable, but we all found it most interesting.
Thanks are accorded to the incumbents and to the members of the local bands who welcomed us at each tower.
W. G. W.

RAINHAM, KENT

It was at $7 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}$. with the mist still surrounding the countryside that Rainham ringers and friends left for their annual outing on July 9th. Mr. P. Borer and lady friend had travelled by car from Frindsbury and had kindly given a lift to Mr. and Mrs. Carey, who like several younger members, were making it their first outing with St. Margaret's ringers. Soon Key Street was reached, where Mr, and Mrs. B. May and Michael, also Mr. George Kenward, joined the party.

Along the road to Stocktury Mr. and Mrs. Bert Dunk came aboard and we set sail for our 200 miles tour of Kent and Sussex well up to time, the route being via Maidstone, Hadlow, on to Tonbridge and Tunbridge Wells.

After a short break at Crowborough for morning coffee we went to St. Margaret's, Buxted, our first ring, which proved to be a very handy eight (tenor 16 cwt .), rung from the ground floor. This church is well back in the park, where herds of deer roam, and our thanks are due to Mr. Eade, who met us.

Arundel was reached at midday for lunch at the Warming Pan Hotel, a very welcome break before ringing the light eight at Arundel Parish Church (tenor $14 \frac{1}{2} \mathrm{cwt}$.). Once again the coach had to hurry, for we were due at Chichester Cathedral at 2.30, and heard some members of the Cathedral band pulling up the bells as we climbed the many steps at its detached campanile. Here the bells were rung to touches of Plain Bob Major, Grandsire Triples and rounds. Non-ringing friends took the opportunity of visiting the Cathedral.
The next ring was upon the bells of St: Mary's, Pulborough, a light eight (tenor $13 \frac{1}{2}$ cwt.). Alas! The tower is surrounded by scaffolding, awaiting a surveyor's report upon repairs to be undertaken. By 5 o'clock tea was next upon the programme, but owing to a slight breakdown to the coach we arrived half an hour late at the Rose and Crown. Never was a cup of tea more welcome, for all the party had walked uphill for nearly a mile before the coach came along.
The last ring of the day was at East Grinstead with its grand eight (tenor $23 \frac{3}{4} \mathrm{cwt}$.). Here we were greeted in the tower by two local ringers, who had waited for over half an hour so that we could enjoy our ringing.
It was a great pity that the company this year could not ring more methods. How we miss the old faces the Jarretts, Naylors and Dobbies, besides those who have passed over since the war. Still, a happy day was spent, not forgetting the call at the local just outside Hadlow.
By 10 p.m. we were on our homeward journey led by choirmaster Bert Dunk, singing till Stockbury was reached. Rainham was reached just after 11 p.m. Our thanks are due to all incumbents, tower captains and ringers who helped to make this outing a success. F. J. C.

Congratulations to the Rye Grammar School Society of Change Ringers on the peal of Grandsire Triples on the bells of St. Mary's, Rye. This is the first peal on the bells for 25 years. Unfortunately it was a farewell to four members of the band who are leaving Rye.
Will Mr. Roger Baldwin kindly forward his address to the Editor.

Mr. J. W. Pilkington, late captain of the Ormskirk ringers, who died on July 23rd, had rung at Ormskirk for over 60 years. To his memory a peal was rung at Huyton, Lancs, in which a great friend of Mr. Pilkington, Mr. Wilfred Riley, participated.

The quarter of Bob Minor at St. Michael's-with-St. Paul's, Bath, on July 17th, was arranged for Mr. Colin Conway, who has been in Bath serving an apprenticeship and is leaving to join H.M. Forces.
Mr. J. G. Macdougal, of Hornchurch, recently underwent a severe abdominal operation in Oldchurch Hospital, Romford. After making a good recovery his condition deteriorated and further treatment was necessary. The latest news is that 'Mac' is once again making steady progress. His many friends in the Hornchurch area hope that this improvement will be maintained. 'Mac,' indeed, thanks all who have written to him, and sends his kindest regards.
Seldom are the musical eight at Redditch, Worcs, heard ringing more than rounds or Grandsire Doubles and it is believed that not even a quarter peal has been rung on the bells since restoration in 1931. However, for Evensong, on July 17th, an excellent quarter peal of Grandsire Doubles, with the assistance of two outside ringers, was rung to mark the end of a week of celebrations for the centenary of the consecration of the completed Church of St. Stephen (July 19th, 1855).

RELFRY  GOSSIP

With the peal of Plain Bob Triples at Wilby, Mr. H. W. Barrett, of Loddon, has completed the Plain Bob family from Doubles to Maximus. The legitimacy of "Master Triples' will doubtless cause maternal instincts to rise in the breasts of many who had hitherto thought they had a quiverful of Plain Bob.
Visitors, particularly ' tower-grabbers,' should note the recommendation of the Chew Deanery Branch of the Bath and Wells Diocesan Association that applications for the use of bells should be made at least one week before the date of a proposed visit.

The Ven. C. O. Ellison. Archdeacon of Leeds and president of the Yorkshire Association, was inducted as Vicar of St. John-theEvangelist's, New Briggate, Leeds, on July 21 st. In honour of the event a peal of Yorkshire Surprise Major was rung at Heptonstall on July 23rd.

An attempt on Monday, July 11th, to ring a memorial peal to Mr. J. W. Taylor, at Allesley, Coventry, came to grief with only four courses to go when a rope broke. Despite the discomfort of the close weather the band instantly agreed to make a second attempt the following Thursday. This met with success and a very fitting peal was rung to the memory of the late Ringing Master.

Mr. Bob Stickley, to the deep regret of his South African friends, left for home on July 15th. He leaves a gap that will be very difficult to fill at St. Mary's. Woodstock, and the band there write appreciatively of his services during the last 12 months, particularly in conducting. They wish him Godspeed to Hereford and good ringing. Any ringers going to Cape Town will be very welcome and should communicate with Mr. A. V. Sheppard, P.O. Box 1,073, Cape Town.

FUNERAL OF MR. HAROLD J. POOLE

A Wonderful Tribute of Affection at Leicester Cathedral

$\mathrm{O}^{-}$V Monday, July 18th, in the presence of a large congregation of relatives, ringers, policemen and friends, all that was mortal of Harold Joseph Poole was brought to the Cathedral Church of St. Martin in Leicester. This was a place that he had loved, where many of his happiest hours had been spent, and where he had played so large a part in making ringing history. It was fitting that he should be received there for the last time with such honour and dignity, attended by important officers of Church and State amongst the sorrow and love of many humbler friends.

At the hour of one, in a pause in the throbbing life of a busy city, the funeral cortegu, passing through a guard of honour of Leicester City Police, was received at the Cathedral north door by the Provost of Leicester, the Very Rev. Mervyn Armstrong and the Rev. F. W. Pratt and other clergy, and as the opening sentences were recited the procession moved slowly up the nave and to the foot of the altar steps, where the Lord Bishop of the Diocese had alrcady taken his place.

The coffin was supported by four of Mr. Poole's fellow lay canons wearing then familiar red and black robes. The family mourners were led by Mrs. Poole supported by Mr. P. J. Staniforth and followed by Mrs. Staniforth (known still to so many as Jill Poole) and Mr. G. W. Poole, Harold's eldest brother. Other brothers and sisters-Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Poole, Mr. E. Poole, Miss F. A. Poole-and nephews and nieces-Messrs. F. and G. A. Poole, Mrs. W. Parker and Mrs. G. Fitzgerald-followed with his great friends, Mr. and Mrs, J. F. Milner.

Then came the Cathedral company of ringers and Mr. E. C. Turner, vice-president of the Leicester Diocesan Guild and Harold's mentor of long ago in the Leicester City Police. Also in the procession were the Chief Constable of Leicester, Mr. O. J. B. Cole, whose genial presence at many Leicester ringing functions will be recalled by many, accompanied by his deputy chief.

' CAME OUT OF GREAT TRIBULATION '

The choir, already in their places, led the singing of the opening psalm, and the Archdeacon of Leicester, the Ven. C. L. Matthews, read the lesson, the Revelation of St. John-theDivine 7 xiv.

These are they which came out of great tribulation and have washed their robes, and made them white in the blood of the Lamb. Therefore are they before the throne of God and serve Him day and night in His temple : and He that sitteth on the throne shall dwell amortg them. . . :
Then followed the familiar setting of the 23rd Psalm to Brother James' Air and so to the prayers and to the hymn ' Blessed are the pure in heart.' The Lord Bishop gave his Blessing, and as the choir took up the strains of the Nunc Dimittus the procession re-formed and moved slowly out through the north door.

Several of the congregation were able to follow in cars to the crematorium on the outskirts of the city, and in the Cemetery Chapel the prayers were said by the Rcv. F. W. Pratt, and as the solemn words of committal were pronounced by the Provost of Leicester the coffin moved slowly out of sight. The Provost gave the final Blessing and so we left the Chapel having committed to the care and keep. ing of Almighty God the soul of a great friend of ringers and a much loved man whose good works will surely live long after him.

AMONG THE CONGREGATION

Many ringers were present in the Cathedral from all parts of the country representing many aspects of Mr. Poole's very active ringing career. Among them were Mr. E. A. Barnett, general secretary of the Central Council of Church Bell Ringers, Mr. F. I. Hairs, representing 'The Ringing World 'Committee, of which Mr. Poole was a member, Messrs. Alfred H. Pulling and Albert Walker, Mrs. A. Richardson and Mrs. J. Wayman, (Surfleet), Messrs. John Freeman, George E. Feirn (Lincoln Guild). Messrs. J. G. A. Prior, N. S. Bagworth, C. E. Willmington (National Police Guild, of which Mr. Poole was founder and president), W. B. Cartwright and N. Goodman (Worcestershire and Districts Association), a strong representation from each of the six Districts of the Lcicester Diocesan Guild, including Mr. Paul L. Taylor, vice-president, Mr. W. A. Wood, general secretary, Mr. A. E. Rowley, treasurer, and the Leicester Guild Central Council representatives, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Beamish (Coventry Guild), Mrs. Datson (Peterborough), many old friends with whom Mr. Poole had done a great deal of ringing, such as Harry Broughton, who was in his first and many of his early peais, Redvers F. Cotton, K. Holtom, and very many others including ringers from humble five- and six-bell towers whose names are not known to the Exercise but whose cause was so dear to the first president of the Leicester Diocesan Guild.

MEMORIAL PEAL

In the evening at the Cathedral a peal of Stedman Cinques was rung half-muffled by a band comprising senior members of the Cathedral company including Mr. H. G. Jenney, a member of the Police Guild and a triend of many years, Mr. Shirley Burton, peal secretary, and other old friends in the Leicester Diocesan Guild. The composition was specially chosen as being the one that was rung for the Guild's first peal of Stedman Cinques and as being by Frederick H. Dexter, who, more than any other, was acknowledged always by Harold as to one to whom he owed most in his ringing career.
P. A. C.

AN APPRECIATION

As deputy to Harold Poole in the capacity of Ringing Master at Leicester Cathedral, I should like to add my tribute to his greatness.

All I may be personally, as a ringer, is due to his great ability, advice and help under all conditions. The Cathedral band was of his making, and all its success has been due to his enthusiasm and painstaking effort. It will indeed be a difficult task for his successor, but we shall do our best to maintain the standard he so ably created.

He was a gentleman in every sense and a very sincere friend. He will be greatly missed in many walks of life. The peal rung on the Cathedral bells on the day of his funeral was, I think, one which did full credit to those taking part, and a tribute for all he had done for ringing and ringers.

HERRICK B. BOWLEY.

VETERAN'S THANKS

Dear Sir,-As the ringer who first guided Harold Poole's steps to the Leicester Cathedral belfry and who had the arranging of all the ringing he did in the early years of his brilliant career, I would like to convey my thanks to all the ringers who gathered at Leicester Cathedral on the occasion of his funeral from both near and far to pay their last respects to a great ringer and true friend.-Yours faithfully,

Leicester.  HARRY BROUGHTON.

PETERBOROUGH DIOCESAN GUILD

Easton Maudit a Popular Meeting

Bellringers from a wide area and their friends attended the quarterly meeting of the Wellingborough Branch at Easton Maudit on July 16th.
Among those present were representatives from Earis Barton. Wollaston. Rushden, Ecton, Irthlingborough. Wellingborough. Northampton, Cogenhoe Lichborough. Yardley Hastings, Great Doddington, Bozeat. Harrold. Lavendon, Luton and the local ringers.
The Guild service, held in the Parish Church, was led by the Vicar of Bozeat and Easton Maudit (the Rev. W. C. Knight), who is president of the Branch. He also gave an address. The organist was Mr. S. Jeffs, and a collection for the Guild Bell Restoration Fund amounted to $£ 214 \mathrm{~s}$. 6 d .

Mr. Knight presided over the business proceedings, supported by Mr. A. Bigley, secretary. It was decided to visit Ecton during October for the next meeting.
The Rector of Wilby, the Rev. H. D. Pitchford, was clected an honorary member, and Mr. E. Scamar, of Irchester, a ringing member.
Miss Smith, of Great Doddington: expressed thanks to the Vicar and the organist, and to Mrs. E. Jones and her helpers for providing and serving tca. Mrs, Allebone (churchwarden) and the Vicar replied.
Handbells were rung at the conclusion of the meeting. The towers of Easton Maudit, Yardley Hastings and Bozeat were open for ringing in the evening.

OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD FESTIVAL

NEW LORD BISHOP'S ENCOURAGING MESSAGE - KEEP ACTIVITIES OF RINGERS IN PUBLIC EYE, URGES MASTER - FINANCES DISTURBED BY COST OF ANNUAL REPORT AN INVITATION TO CENTRAL COUNCIL TO VISIT OXFORD

THE. Right Rev. Harry Carpenter, the new Bishop of Oxford. met the ringers of Oxford Diocesan Guild for the first time at the Guild festival on July 15th. At the Guild service, held in Christ Church and conducted by the Rev. C. Elliot Wigg (the Master), he preached the sermon.

The Bishop spoke of the great joy expressed ty bells in calling people to worship-a wild, riotous joy which was different in quality from anything that could be produced by any other form of music. The bells proclaimed in the heart the joy of Christian people.

To-day they particularly needed the reminder of the bells. So many Christian people did not connect joy and gladness with going to church. They were apt to thituk of their worship as something they ought to go through with or as a kind of tonic. The Church of England encouraged them to approach Gud with a joyful heart.
'I am very happy to know that all over the diocese there are keen, enthusiastic ringers, who give up a great deal of their time and energy to make their ringing more perfect. We are all grateful to you for your contribution to the life and worship of the Church and the witness you bear to the joy of the Gospel. I know you find in your work a happy co-operation in which each of you has a part to play. I hope you will have a happy festival and go back to your parishes encouraged for your work in the future.

As usual, ringers of the diocese formed a surpliced choir. The Deputy Ringing Master (Mir. Frederick Sharpe) read the lesson.

THE BUSINESS MEETING

The annual meeting of the Guild was held in the Chapter House. The Master presided, supported by the Deputy Master, the hou. treasurer (Mr. A. D. Barker), the hon. secteary (Mr. W. Hibbert) and the librarian (Miss M. R. Cross).

At the beginning of the meeting the members stood in silence to the memory of Mr. H. J Poole.

The Master, in his report, wrote that the incumbents of the Oxford Diocese were, on the whole, very interested in the progress and welfare of their bands of ringers. It was most important for captains of towers to do their best to keep the activitics of the ringers in the public eye of the parish, for in this way new recruits for the belfry could be more easily obtained. A very good plan was to obtain the sanction of the incumbent for a ringers' Sunday to be held. He urged ringers in any parish to keep the needs of the Guild Restoration Fund before their Parochial Church Councils and to ascertain what response had been made to the appeal recently circulated to all incumbents in the diocese with rings of bells in their charge.

The Diputy Master reported that with a few notable exceptions Sunday service ringing was well maintained and much enthusiasm was evident at Branch meetings. To those in the remoter parts of the diocese who found it difficult and costly to attend the annual festival, he suggested towers combining to run a motor coach to Oxford with stops for ringing en route.

Among those who had passed away he paia tribute to Victor Bennett, former hon. secretary of the Oxford Society, who was greatly beloved by all who knew him and did so much to advance the art of ringing in Oxford. Another outstanding ringer was J. E. Hedges, who did much good work for the Newbury Branch, and reached the advanced age of 92 .

The secretary's report stated 1954 went along smoothly. Membership was still high and they must be thankful to all the individuals who spent so much of their time teaching recruits to handle a bell and then to "hunt the treble.' The number of peals had decreased very much compared with the years since the war.
The treasurer's report stated that the general funds of the Guild amounted to $£ 962$ 10s. 8d., of which $£ 878$ 3s, 2d. was in the Restoration Fund.

The librarian stated that recording of peals rung by the Guild went steadily on and she was very grateful to Mr. H. L. Roper, of Adderbury for all the work he had done. Between 3.000 and 4.000 peals had now been tabulated. She thanked all who had lent early peal books for reference.

Mr. F. Vickers proposed, and Mr. H. James seconded. the adoption of the reports with the exception of the treasurer's.

DIFFICULTY OVER PRINTER'S BILL

Mr A. D. Barker said the finances of the Guild were a serious matter. He had a bill for $£ 922 \mathrm{~s}$. 9 d . for printing the annual reports which he could not meet. Only two Branch quotas had been received and one was considerably lower.

The Master hoped the difficuity was only temporary. When the money from the Branches was received Mr. Barker should be able to pay the printers.

In taply to the Rev. C. Sherwood, Mr. Bar$k \geq r$ said the printer's charges were 50 per cent. higher.

It was decided that a committee consisting of the officers, with power to co-oph should consider the position.

Mr. E. F. Gibbard suggested that each Branch should subscribe $£ 2$ from its Branch funds to meet the difference in cost. It was pointed out that the meeting had no power to vote Branch funds, but the Master said if Branches acted on Mr. Gibbard's suggestion it would be much appreciated.

The officers of the Guild were re-clected, and also the members of the committee with the exception of Mr. B. Hall.
The meeting debated a recommendation from the General Committee that in the case of children still at school, on application by the tower foreman to the Branch secretary, such children may pay half price for annual subscriptions.'
Miss Cross objected to the recommendation. In her own tower they saved the money ruceived from wedding ringing to meet the cost of subscriptions and outings.
The recommendation was defeated by 34 votes to 33.
A number of other amendments to rules were approved.

NEW MEMBERS

The meeting confirmed the election of 205 new members, which included some non-resident members.
Mr. T. J. Fowler said while they were glad to have new members, many were only members for a few months and then lapsed. They got about 200 new members each year but their total membership did not increase. He thought the trouble was that foremen put up youngsters for membership before they were ready.

The Master said there was an old rulc that a new member should be able to ring 120 Grandsire Doubles, and he felt they should stick to it.
Mr. Gibbard asked for a grant for Winsluw tower, where they proposed to augment a ring of six to eight. A grant of $£ 10$ was agreed
Mr. F. Vickers submitted an application on behalf of Buckingham. They were having new headstocks, pulleys, etc., and the cost would be between $£ 300$ and $£ 325$. A grant of $£ 25$ was sanctioned.

THE LUNCHEON

The luncheon in the hall of Christ Churcn followed and was attended by the Lord Bishop. The Master presided.
Mr. F. Sharpe proposed a vote of thanks to the Dean and Chapter of Christ Church for the use of the Cathedral for the service, to the new president, the Lord Bishop for praching the sermon. to Mr. Oxley, the deputy organist, and to the general secretary and general treusurer for making the arrangements.
The Lord Bishop thanked the ringers for their welcome and said it was a great privilege to take part in their festival.
The toast of 'The Oxford Diocesan Guild ' was submitted by Mr. T. W. White, who made a sympathetic reference to the passing of Mr. Harold Poole. Arising from his death it might not be possible for the 1956 Council meeting to be held at Leicester. He understood that the C.ntral Council had not previously visited Oxford and he wondered if. in the event of such a difficulty arising, the Guild wouls consider inviting the Council to Oxford

The suggestion was favcurably rectived and on the proposition of Miss Cross the following resolution was passed: 'Should the Central Council not be able to go to Leicester for the 1956 meeting, the officers of the Oxford Diocesan Guild extend a cordial invitation to the Council to hold its 1956 meeting at Oxford.'
A collection of photographs of old bells and founders' marks belonging to Mr. Sharpe was on view and attracted considerable attention. Ringing followed in various churches and colleges.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

THE WESTBURY-ON-TRYM TRAGEDY
Dear Sir,-I am sure that after the unfortunate and tragic accident in the tower of this Parish Church last week, when a choirboy was trapped and killed by a bell, ringers and tower masters throughout the country will look to you for fair and informed comment, as many of the newspaper reports seem to have been hurried and incomplete.

I should like to make it quite clear that the two choirboys came quietly into the ringing chamber and sat down. Later they were given permission to visit the top of the tower, a ringer of four years standing being deputised to accompany them while silent practice continued.

The stairs to the top lead past the outside of the bolted door of the bell chamber, and the evidence of the uninjured choirboy at the inquest made it quite plain that he expected to be taken on to the top of the tower, and that he had heard my warning about not leaning on the battlements. Unforfunately, the ringer (who arrived after the boy's original request) concluded that they would like to see the bells and opened the door.
The lesson to be learnt is that verbal instructions are inadequate, and that the physical barrier of a lock and key is a necessity. I am sure that this accident will make each person in charge of a tower even more conscious of his responsibilities.-Yours sincerely,
E. GEORGE, Tower Secretary, Westbury-on-Trym Parish Church.

RINGING DURING A SERVICE

Dear Sir,-In reply to Mr. Wills' letter in a recent issue, I venture to say that the Vicar is undoubtedly right. If ringing ceased before Mattins, the congregation assembling for Choral Eucharist would hear no bells. There is really no difficulty about worship accompanied by the sound of bells, and the ringing of bells during an act of worship is by no means without precedent. Unless I am mistaken, the ancient statutes of Exeter Cathedral actually provided for the ringing or chiming of two bells during part of Mattins, viz., the Te Deum. The essential point is that the supreme act of Christian worship should be immediately preceded by the music of the bells.-Yours sincerely,

F. LLEWELLYN EDWARDS.

BROADCAST - LYME REGIS

Dear Sir,-May I. through 'The Ringing World. heartily congratulate the Lyme Regis band on the top grade ringing in their recent Sunday service broadcast. I am sure many will agree that this is the best striking heard on radio for a very long time.

As a past member of the band I am familiar with the keenness and enthusiasm with which Mr. G. S. Morris and his band have progressed, the first consideration always being a very high standard of striking and, secondly, to progress to the more advanced methods, an ambition every ringer should strive for where circumstances permit.-Yours sincerely.
N. MAI.LETT.

RINGING IN AUSTRALIA

Dear Sir,-When Australian bells and ringing come under discussion, the average English ringer generally says, 'Oh, but there isn't much ringing down there, is there? As one who has recently been 'Down Under,' may I do something to correct this impression?

In Sydney there are eight rings of bells. Seven of these are ringable and six out of the seven have active bands. There are also two 'country towers' in New South Wales-Yass and West Maitland, each of which have rings of six .

In Queensland there is only one ringing peal which is at Maryborough, 2,000 (yes, two thousand!) miles from the nearest ringing tower, and yet the Exercise lives on. At Brisbane, the capital of Queensland, the bells of St. John's Cathedral are hung dead in a temporary structure pending the completion of the new central tower.

Of the three rings of bells in Melbourne only St. Paul's Cathedral (13) are rung regularly. St. Patrick's (R.C.) Cathedral are silent for want of a band, and St. James' are unringable owing to fauky hanging. At Bendigo in Victoria the eight bells are rung although the tower sways fantastically. Ballaarat has a fine eight at the Town Hall and six (with an additional two trebles hung dead) at St. Peter's. Both of these rings of bells are rung regularly.

Adelaide also has three ringing towers. The eight at the Town Hall have not been rung within living memory, but the new Taylor eight at the Cathedral and the six at St. Andrew's, Walkerville, are far from silent.

There is only one ring of bells in Perth, the capital of Western Australia. Two English ringers have taught several of the local lads to handle the bells at St. George's Cathedral, but they are reluctant to risk ringing them as all the bells are badly pitted by years of chiming.

Down in Hobart, Tasmania (separated from the mainland by a day's sailing), there are two rings of eight, at both of which change ringing is practised.
Geelong has an absolutely unringable eight, and I believe that there was also an eight at Bathurst which have been taken down from the tower-in any event, no one can remember them ever having been rung.

In addition to all the centres of tower-bell ringing there is also a handbell group at Echuca, in the Murray Valley, taught by Mr. Bennett, a former English ringer. Handbells are also rung with great enthusiasm in Sydney and at St. Andrew's, Walkerville. Anyone else who has visited Australia can testify to the enthusiasm existing out there, and it is hoped that one day some of the Australian lads will visit England to "show their paces " on our bells.-Yours faithfully,

SINGLE-HANDED HANDBELL PEALS

Dear Sir,-With reference to the statement made bv Mr. Woolley in his article under the above heading, can he put me in touch, please, with one or more of those sets of handbells which are serving no useful purpose, as I would like to purchase same for our own belfry where they can be put to good use.-Yours faithfully,

FRANK HUCKLE.
Fulwood Place, Barham, Kent.

BOB TRIPLES AT LEISTON

Dear Sir,-May I point out that there is no record of a peal of Bob Triples at Leiston. Suffolk, in the belfry. The tablet that Mr. R. W. Stannard refers to records a peal of 10,304 Bob Major, composed by H. Knights and conducted by J. Motts, on 21 st April, 1888, with three other peals $-5,376$ Bob Major, composed and conducted by G. Lindoff, on December 27th, 1887: 5,040 Grandsire Triples, Holt's Original, conducted by G. Lindoff, on January 5th, 1889: 5,024 Oxford Treble Bob Major, composed by J. Cox and conducted by G. Lindoff, on January 24th, 1889.

Mr. R. W. Stannard took part in all the above peals, and he leaves me with no doubt that Bob Triples had been previously rung at Leiston by the peals that he mentioned in his letter.-Yours faithfully,

> A. R. BRIDGES.

Theberton, Suffolk.

DANGERS OF CLOCKLNG

Dear Sir, - Many readers were no doubt astonished to read in the report of an outing in your issue of July 15 th that the visiting ringers, finding the five bells at a church unringable. 'clocked' the fourth bell in order to chime. Surely they should know of the danger of cracking a bell by this dangerous practice, and should read the stern warning against clocking given on page 2 of the Central Council's handbook on the preservation of bells. Yours, etc.

CLEM GLENN.

LAVENHAM TENOR

Dear Sir,-Why the grinding of the axe re Lavenham tenor? Cecil W. Pipe did not say where a better tenor could be heard.

I have heard Lavenham in the tower, below the tower and at various distances up to three miles away, and for the weight and note I have still to hear a better bell. I, like Mr. Pipe. have travelled the country a bit and rung on and listened to many rings of bells. Give credit where it is due.-Yours, etc.,

FREDERICK A. SALTER.
Nottingham.

PEAL RINGING IN MIDDLESEX
Dear Sir,-On going through 'The Ringing World of April 22nd, I see that mention is made of the bells of St. Dionis', then in Fenchurch Street, and it is stated that there have been no peals rung there during the period. I have records of five peals rung by the Ancient Society of College Youths, namely :-
1729.-5,184 Grandsire Caters, time not given.
1752.-5,085 Grandsire Caters. 3 hours is minutes.
1760. $-5,040$ Double Ten Ln. 3 hours 45 minutes.
1785.-5.040 Treble Bob Royal, 3 hours 30 minutes.
1852.-5.079 Stedman Caters, 3 hours 15 minutes.
As the article says, peals have been heard for over 200 years, so it could not be expected all peals would be in the records kept now.-Yours sincerely.
A. R. BOTTING.

PEAL RINGING IN NOTTINGHAMSHIRE

By The Rev. K. W. H. FELSTEAD

AFTER a series of counties having a large numbers of rings or large numbers of peals to talk about (Kent to Northants, alphabetically), we come to Nottinghamshire, which has neither. There are about 90 rings of bells and only one has had more than 100 peals rung on them. Although in olden days (before the period we are considering commenced) the Sherwood Youths were quite famous (they rang 10,260 Grandsire Caters at St. Mary's, Nottingham, in 1778), I don't think ringing in the county has ever attained such prominence since, although a preliminary glance at the tower figures seems to suggest that more pcals have been rung in the last 10 years than in any comparable period since 1881, which is most encouraging.

The centenarian is St. Peter's, Nottingham (10), which has scored 137 since 1881. Thirty were rung when it was an eight-bell tower up to 1919, but after augmentation it was the most popular peal ringing tower in the county, for 69 came from 1922 to 1939. Since the war, too, it has done well, 38 pcals having been rung there, which total is only beaten by one tower-one with six bells-Warsop, all of whose 44 peals have come since 1947. This total of 137 is almost double that of any other towe1 The second on the list is Greasley (8), with 75. The first peal here wasn't rung until 1926, so it has done consistently well since then. Thirtyseven came from 1926 to 1939 and 38 from 1943 to 1955-pretty well the same average per year. Stanford-on-Soar's best time was prior to 1914. At this eight-bell tower 57 of its 69 peals were rung from 1896 to 1914 -the most in any tower in the county over that period. There were 11 more from 1921 to 1932 and only one since then (last year). So the glories of this ring are found 50 years ago. The same is true of Beeston (8), which has the next most of the eight-bell towers. Thirty-three of the 45 peals came between 1882 and 1914, nine from 1919 to 1927, and odd ones in 1932 1934 and 1937, and none since. 7,200 of Double Norwich Major was rung here in 1882 , which was then the longest peal in the method (the record was surpassed three years later).

FOUR TEN-BELL TOWERS

Before mentioning other eight-bell towers, a few words about those with higher numbers. There are no 12's in the county. of the four 10's, Nottingham, St. Peter's, has already been mentioned. The other ten-bell tower in that city. St. Mary's. has many old peal records apart from the long length above. In the past 75 years, 58 peals have been rung there, 27 in the last 10 years, so it is going strong now. There were eight prior to 1914 and 23 between the wars. East Retford had a lean time 25 years ago, for only three peals were rung in the 1920's and 1930's. Its heyday was carly in out period and 30 peals came from 1891 to 1913. Things have looked up a little since the war and there have been seven peals since 1948 The total is thus 40 . The last ten-bell tower, Newark, must be amongst those with the fewest peals in the country, for only two seem to have been rung since 1881 -in 1897 and 1913. I expect many ringers would like to have the opportunity of breaking the long silence here.

Turning to eight-bell towers again, one is stilt virgin territory-Thrumpton. Three have already been mentioned, and following them comes firstly Sutton-on-Trent, where 44 peals have been rung. This was a six-bell tower until 1932 and nine peals had been rung there by that date. Nineteen followed in the next seven years and there have been 16 since 1946, so it is keeping up a steady average. Of Lenton's 37 peals, 25 came from 1902 to 1914, and there has only been one since 1929-in 1949. I believe the 'go' of these bells leaves a lot to be desired. Twenty of Mansfield's 30 likewise came before 1914, with seven from 1920 to 1933 and three from 1949 to 1953. The same story is repeated at Eastwood ( 25 peals)19 from 1905 to 1912, four from 1919 to 1929, and two in 1949. The only two other towers with more than 25 are Daybrook and East Markham, each with 26 . Exactly half have been rung since the last war at the first of these, so it is doing better now (first peal in 1903). The latter was a six-bell tower at first, and three peals were rung there between 1899 and 1906. Eighteen came after augmentation between 1925 and 1940, and the remaining five since 1946 (none for five years now). The last peal at Nottingham, All Saints', was in 1905.

SIX-BELL TOWERS FLOURISHING

It seems to be the six-bell towers which have been the most flourishing in recent times. Warsop's 44 since 1947 has been noted above as the highest number of peals at any tower in the county since the war. One six-bell tower has a bigger number of peals than this-actually the fourth of all the rings in the county. I is Gamston, with a total of 61 . Twenty-nine were rung from 1927 to 1938 and there have been 32 since 1944; so the good work is continuing. In the 30 's are Barnby-in-the-Willows and North Muskham, both with 33, and Cotgrave with 31 . At the first. all have been rung since 1935, with 10 since 1945 (there were nine in 1937); at the second, 23 have come since 1946, the first peal here being in 1928, whell there were five bells; at the last, we find the peals spread out evenly over the years since the first in 1900. In the 20's are Cuckney (21) and Elston (20). Two towers where a peal has been rung have not been heard this century. Clifton's one and only was in 1898, and Shireoak's in 1896. There are four unconquered towersBunney, Laxton, Ossington and North Wheatley
The best that the five-bell towers can muster is six at Kirkby-in-Ashfield. All were rung between 1928 and 1937. Teversall had three in 1929 and 1930, whilst Cropwell Bishop, Farnsfield, Shelford, Staunton-in-the-Vale, Sutton Bonington and Thrumpton have two each. Eleven of the 23 such towers have not had peals yet.
Peal totals include all published up to Apri] 29th.

THE SUFFOLK GUILD

Aldeburgh (by the sea) is an ideal place for a summer meeting where one can bring one's family and ring. while the family (if nonringers) can enjoy the breezy beach, but at the meeting of the Saxmundham District on July 2nd at Aldeburgh, the attendance was low, despite the day being warm and sunny
Ringing commenced at 3 p.m. with many methods being rung until $8.30 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. An adjournment for tea on the sea front at 5 p.m., where the conversation turned from ringing to local fishing. to the absence of one of the lifeboats, to the sea defences and back again to ringing. A short" service at $7.30 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. was taken by the Vicar.
At the business meeting, after reading the minutes of the previous meeting. a vote of thanks was given for the use of the bells, and to Mr. J. Pilgrim for arranging the tea. The next meeting will be at Swerring and Saxmundham in October, the actual date to be announced later

ESSEX ASSOCIATION

First Visit to Ingrave Since the War

On July 17th the South-Western Division held their summer quarterly meeting at Ingrave. This is the first time since that war that the Association has visited Ingrave, and for many this was their first pull on this rather noisy five. Thirty-two members and friends sat down to an excellent tea provided by Mrs. Don Crouchman and her able helpers.
The new Rector of Ingrave (the Rev. Mr. Porter) conducted the scrvice and also presided at the business meeting which followed tea. Silent tribute was paid to the memory of Jimmy Adams, a ringing member of Walthamstow, who had died since the last quarterly meeting. Eight new members were elected, including the Rector of Ingrave.
Mr. Chalk put forward the suggestion that the date of the Essex Association's annual general meeting should be changed in order that the Central Council's representatives should not have to miss their own annual general meeting, and it was agreed that this subject should be deferred for further discussion. Mr. Crampion, who had been at Bristol this year, gave the meeting a brief outline of the Central Council's proceedings there.

\begin{aligned}
& \text { Mr. Chalk also suggested to the Rector that } \\ & \text { scheme should be put in hand for adding } \end{aligned}
$$ a scheme should be put in hand for adding a treble bell to the existing five at Ingrave. The Rector replied that present parish commitments, including the building and furnishing of a church on the new estate, made this impos-sible-at least for the present.

The date of the next divisional meeting was given as August 13th; this is a joint meeting with the Middlesex Association, and both Bethnal Grcen and Stepney towers will be open. It was agreed that a letter of thanks from the Division be sent to Messrs. A. H. Everctt and E. Roast (Master and secretary respectively of the South-Eastern Division) for the excellent lunch and tea which they and members of the Danbury band provided at Chelmsford this year.
The meeting concluded with a vote of thanks to the Rector and organist and the ladies of the parish for making the meeting at Ingrave possible. After tea, ringing continued hoth here and at Brentwood. The collection for the Bell Restoration Fund amounted to 18s. 9d.

BATH AND WELLS ASSOCIATION

The July quarterly meeting of the Chew Deanery Branch was held at the six-bell tower of Tickenham, the church having the unusual dedication of St. Quiricus and Julictta.

Ringing preceded the Association service, which was conducted by the Rector of Tickenham, the Rev. W. R. Ford, and afterwards a move was made to Clevedon for tea and the business meeting.
One new member from Nailsea was elected, and it was decided that, subject to permission being granted, the next quarterly meeting should be held at Yatton in October. with practice meetings at Clapton-in-Gordano (August) and Butcombe (Scptember). The half-yearly Corporate Communion will be held at Yatton on August 28th.
It was mentioned that a misunderstanding had been caused at onc tower in the Branch due to visitors asking the incumbent for the use of the bells at short notice, and after discussion a recommendation was made that intending visitors wishing to use the bells should apply carly, at least a week before the date of the proposed visit.
Votes of thanks to the Rector and the organist concluded the business, and the tower was again visited, ringing being under the direction of the Master, Mr. H. W. Knight.

Various Notations used in setting down Touches and Peals

By D. BEACHAM

The various notations used will now be dealt with.

DOUBLES

Extents of Doubles (excluding principles such as Stedman) are always set down by the lead heads as shown in the examples of Bob Doubles. Doubles methods, however, fall into two groups; one, in which the bob is made at the treble's backstroke lead as in Plain Bob; the other, in which the bob is made at the treble's handstroke lead, as in Grandsire. Note that in the Grandsire group the bob is called when the treble is in 3rds.

MiNOR

For Minor methods, whether Plain Treble Bob or Surprise, two methods are in general use :-

| (1) By the lead heads. Example: 360 Plain Bob. | 23456 |
| :---: | :---: |
| The transpositions are:- | 23564 |
| Plain lead Bob lead Single lead | 36245 |
| $23456 \quad 23456 \quad 23456$ | 6435 |
| 352642356432564 | -45236 |
| Note that a single lead is the | -45362 |
| same as a bob lead except that | 56423 |
| the bells in 2nds and 3rds are | 62534 |
| reversed. | 23645 |
|  | 34256 |
|  | twice |

In this touch the tenor is said to be called ' W., R. and W.' twice repeated. When the calling is repeated, the touch or peal is said to be a two-part. three-part, etc. (this one is a three-part), and the last row in each part is called the PART END.
(2) By the bob leads.

For irregular (i.e., not in parts) touches and 720 's, the above method is too long and we generally only need to know the bob leads anyway. Set out in bob leads,' the above touch would be shown :-

23456 The figures to the right indicate 235641 the number of leads between the 452364 calls. Here the first bob is at the 453621 the fourth lead after that, and P.L. 342564 so on. Note that the bob marks twice are not used. If the call is a repeated the left hand side of the row.

N.B.: P.L.-Plain lead.

TRIPLES

GRANDSIRE: Written either by the lead heads or by the bob leads only as already described for Minor.
Example: 167

OTHER TRIPLES METHODS (excluding principles such as Stedman and Erin) use the same methods.

STEDMAN.-See letter.

MAJOR

For all methods on and above eight bells, the COURSE END notation is used. The calls are made so as not to affect the work of the observation bell (the tenor), except in special cases. These calls also keep the tenors together, i.e., 7th always coursing after the 8 th in Major, the reason being musical, and these bells therefore ring plain courses all the time except in the special cases which will be dealt with.

Examples of Bob Major.

|  | 1.264 |  |  |  |
| :--- | :--- | :--- | :--- | :--- | :--- |
| 23456 | W | B | M | H |
| 23564 |  | 1 |  | - |
| 52364 |  |  |  | $=$ |
| 35264 |  |  |  | - |
| 42356 | - |  | - | - |
| 33256 |  |  |  | - |
| 32456 |  |  |  | S |
| 53264 | - | 1 |  | - |
| 25364 |  |  |  | - |
| 43256 |  |  | - | - |
| 24356 |  |  |  | - |
| 23456 |  |  |  | S |

The rows written down are the course ends, and since each ends in 78, we do not bother to write these tro down; again as with the treble, their presence is understood. To the right of each row are the calls which produced it. The dashes indicate bohs, and the $S$ a single. The symbol is written in the column beaded by the calling position at which it is called. Simce up to four consecutive bobs
Before can be called in one course without the leads repeating, the number of bobs B . is indicated by a figure. Each bob B. introduces an extra lead into the course.
Thus the first course in the example is produced by calling one bob $\mathbf{B}$. and a bob H.
The first course in the second block is produced by calling bobs at W., M. and H. The lines between the blocks are merely to indicate special features, e.g., different bells being moved into 56 as in the example.

|  |  |  |  |
| :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: |
| 23456 | W $^{160}$ | 54 | M |
| 56423 |  | H |  |
| 23456 |  | - |  |

> The ' 5 ths and 4ths' position is shown in this example. Sometimes the two dashes are replaced by an $X$. Bobs at '5ths and 4ths ' part the tenors for the lead between them, and shorten the course by two leads.

DOUBLE NORWICH

In this method the three bells concerned in the bob making are those in 678. In order, therefore, that the tenor should not be affected by the bobs, they are called when the tenor is below 6ths. The leads in which the tenor is in the position required are the 1st, 4th and 6th. A short course ( 5 leads) is produced if a bob is called in the 5th lead, at which 7 and 8 dodge together behind. The compositions are thus set out as in the following example:-

| 23456 | $\frac{1}{1}$ | 4 | 6 |
| :--- | :--- | :--- | :--- | :--- |
| 63524 | - | - | $S$ |
| 52436 | S |  | 5 |
| 23456 | - |  |  |

MISS DAPHNE WEBB, OF TEMPLECOMBE, MARRIED

An interesting presentation took place in the belfry of St. Mary's, Templecombe. Somerset, on July 13th, of a barometer to Miss Daphne Webb on the occasion of her marriage to Mr. D. Howcutt, also of Templecombe, which took place three days later at St. Mary's Church.

Miss Webb is a member of the Bath and Wells Association and of the Salisbury Diocesan Guild, and is well known to many in the Branches. Nearly eight years ago she assisted in the formation of a practice party to confine their efforts to advanced and Surprise methods. She was then a learner in these methods, being only in her middle teens.

Miss Webb rapidly became a valuable instructress and conductor of these methods. The party, drawn from six parishes, numbers ten regulars, of whom four are ladies, with occasional visitors. The practices are held on alternate Wednesdays throughout the year in various towers in turn situated in about 12 miles of Sherborne, Dorset.

The presentation was made by Mrs. M. M. Godley, of Yetminster, one of the party. In handing, the gift to Miss Webb she expressed good wishes for her future happiness adding that at the moment one of the hands of the barometer was pointing to 'Change,' which indicated her change of name, and the other to 'Set Fair,' which was a happy omen for her future.

Miss Webb, in reply, thanked the donors for the generous gift and for their good wishes. She would still reside in Templecombe after her marriage.
The marriage was solemnised at St. Mary's, Templecombe, on Saturday, July 16th, in perfect summer weather.
The service was fully choral and was conducted by the Rev. C. H. Vernon in the absence of the Rector, who was on holiday.
The bride, who was given away by her father, was attended by two small bridesmaids. The choir met the bride at the west door and preceded her up the aisle with the singing of 'Lead us, Heavenly Father, lead us.' Two other hymns chosen by the bride were sung during the service. The choir concluded the service by singing Psalm 23 set to Crimond.
Wedding bells were ringing merrily before and after the service. Touches during the hour before the service included some of Cambridge Surprise, and after the ceremony a quarter peal in this method was rung. The local ringers were reinforced by several ringers from near and far towers where the bride is well known. The reception was held in the Church Hall, when among the many telegrams received was one from the local Branch secretary of the Bath and Wells Association and another from the secretary of the Salisbury Branch of Salisbury Guild.

The quarter peal of Cambridge Surprise Minor mentioned above ( 1,440 changes), was rung by: J. F. Hatchley 1, H. P. Sparks 2, Miss Judy M. Denton 3, T. Marks 4, F. Priddle (conductor) 5, D. V. Gare 6.

TREBLE BOB

The calling positions used are the same as for Plain Bob except that they come in a different order, i.e., H., M., B., W. Also, all these bobs except the bob B. lengthen the course by one lead for each bob called. Compositions are set down as for Plain Bob.

SURPRISE

Again, compositions are set out in the same way as Plain Bob except that the calling positions occur in a different order depending on the method group. One difference, however, is that a bob B. may produce a short course having less than seven leads. The actual number will depend on the method.

MR. JOHN WILLIAM TAYLOR

We regret to record the passing on July 6th of Mr. John William Taylor-'Old Jack,' as he was affectionately known amongst his friends in the Coventry Diocesan Guild. He was 66 and during the past two years had suffered a painful affliction and had several spells in hospital. A relapse after an operation a few weeks ago brought the end. The sympathy of a wide circle of friends is extended to his widow and family.

Jack was a loyal supporter of the church for many years as a bellringer, and his employment as head gardener at the Paybody Hospital Coventry, kept him within earshot of the bells of All Saints', Allesley, where he rang. He learned to ring about 1911 under Mr. Harry Kettle, who was Rector's gardener and Ringing Master of the band until his death in the first war. After the war Jack became Ringing Master and the band grew strong under his leadership.

Apart from a few years at the end of the 1920's and early 1930's Jack retained the office until 1949, his total period as Master being about 25 years. He was also at various times tower secretary and towerkeeper. During his 44 years as a ringer he took part in 112 peals, exactly half of which were rung at All Saints, many on the six bells before they were augmented to eight. All but one of his peals were rung for the Coventry Diocesan Guild, of which he was elected a member in 1912, and of which he was for many years a committee member.

Among his more notable peal achievements were the first Guild peal of London Minor, which was his first Surprise peal, and the first Guild peal in seven Surprise Minor methods, both at All Saints', Allesley, with a Sunday service band. He preferred to leave the calling to others and only called one peal himself, a peal of Plain Bob Minor, in which his eldest sor.. John, rang his first peal "inside.'

The funeral took place at All Saints'. Allesley, on July 9th. A touch of Stedman, half-muffled, preceded the service, and a course of Grandsire Triples was rung 'in hand 'over the grave. A memorial peal was rung on Thursday, July 14th, conducted by J. W. T. Taylor,' 'Old Jack's' eldest son.

OPERATION FELMERSHAM

In view of the forthcoming restoration and augmentation of the five bells of Felmersham, Beds, it was decided by two notorious members of the Peterborough Diocesan Guild to prove or disprove once and for all the ancient legend of the Monks of Odell and the theft of the sixth bell from Felmersham Church. Perhaps, a brief outline of the legend is necessary here :-

Way back in the dim and distant days before the Reformation, the wicked monks of Odell one dark night rowed down to Felmersham, and while the village slept, proceeded to convey the aforementionted bell back to their monastery. Their dastardly plan was not to be accomplished, however, for before they had passed the bounds of the parish a great storm arose, tncir frail craft sank, and they and the bell with it. It is said by some that the bell can be heard on any such dark night to this day, being tolled by the spirits of tne drowned monks!
Arriving at the village at midnight, great difficulty was experienced in finding a suitable site from which to commence operations. A dog suffering from insomnia caused our departure from the first base, and galloping horses hastened our retreat from the second. The pitch blackness and the presence of bogs deterred us from trying a third spot, and besides, the more portly member of the expedition was near exhaustion.

It being decided that practice at swimming would be necessary, when a certain famous park in Northamptonshire was reached at 1.45 a.m., advantage was taken of the swimming pool therein. This must have had a cooling effect on the pair of adventurers, for by 2.15 a.m. a decision was reached to abandon operations for the night.

Had you been in the vicinity of Felmersham on the afternoon of the following day, you might have seen further antiquarian aquatics on the site of the legendary disaster, and it is understood that most valuable experience was gained there. It is hoped that it will be possible to report favourably in the very near ruture.
(Since this was writien, information has been received that $\mathbf{P}$. Amos has actually seen this bell. He says that it is a 30 cw . bell, striking a waterlogged D natural, and was cast by the same firm that cast Pass?nham tenor.)

NORWICH ASSOCIATION Visit to Winterton

The Eastern Branch visited Winterton on July 16 th, where, as usual, the welcome from the Rector and the local ringers was very warm, as warm, in fact, as the bright sunshine which prevailed throughout the afternoon.

This isolated coastal village boasts a very tal] tower visible over the flat countryside and out to sea for several miles, and the many links existing between church and the seafaring way of life are further strengthened by the fact that certain of the local ringers also belong to the Rocket Life-saving Company, who on wild wintry nights, in concert with local lifeboats, have snatched marry a life from a watery grave on these bleak coasts.

The six bells were soon being rung to suit all talents despite the fact that the stiff climb to the belfry had found many hitherto unknown muscles for some of the members !

The diocesan order of service was conducted by the Rector (the Rev. G. W. Harwood) and the 'pressed voluntzer' organist was the new Vicar of Great Yarmouth, and lately general secretary of the Asscciation, the Rev. A. G. G. Thurlow.

After the short business meeting. presided over by the Branch chairman (Mr. E. R. Goate) and supported by the Association Ringing Master (Mr. H. W. Barrett) and members of the committee, the belfry election of Mr. William H. Holdom, of Cromer, was ratified.

Subject to the necessary permission being obtained, Gorleston was voted as the venue for the next meeting on October 1st. On the pruposition of Mrs. G. W. Fletcher the sympathy of the Association was to be conveyed to Mrs. Poole in her recent tragic loss.

The meeting ended with votes of thanks to the Rector for the use of the bells, the organist and Mr . R. Woodhouse, of the local ringers, for the well-organised tea arrangements.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION

Favoured with perfect summer weather, the Canterbury District held its quarterly meeting at the Church of St. John, Margate, on July 16th. An attendance of 85 members and friends was recorded, some of them making a day of it, having arranged a coach. The members came from 21 towers in the District, witr visiting ringers from Ashford, Sevenoaks and Kempston, Beds.

Ringing was slightly delayed during the afternoon by a wedding, the happy couple having the benefit of a wedding peal without fee. The service in the church was conducted by the curate (the Rev. I. N. Skepper), who. in a short address, welcomed the members to Margate. Through the generosity of the Church Council we ware entertained to an excellent tea, even appetites sharpened by the sea failing to clear the tables.

For a short business meeting, Mr. J. A. Russell was in the chair. One new member was flected. Bekesbourne gained the vote as the place of the next by-meeting. Pleasure was expressed at the presence of Mr. Frank Pack after his recent successful eye operation. Mrs. Dladds, mother of the local secretary, had made and iced a cake as a prize for the raffle, this being won by Mrs. Bridges, of Broadstairs, the result being a nice little sum added to the funds for the social.

Thanks were expressed to the Vicar of Matgate. to the zurate. the Church Council. the helpers at the tea and the two churchwardens who had given up their time to be present for the afternoon and evening. Further ringing was held until a late hour, though the ranks were rather thinned by those who had brought their bathing slips, and those who complained that ringing is thirsty work in this 'ere "eat." And so to the close of another happy time at Margate.

\section*{SURREY ASSOCIATION}

Visit to Three Thamesside Towers
It was a warm, sunny afternoon when the Northern District met at St. Mary's, Walton-on-Thames, on July 9th, and ringing was under the guidance of Mr. F. E. Collins, District Ringing Master. A short service was conducted by the curate, the Rev. E. P. Neap, and afterwards 23 sat down to a bountiful tea provided by the lady ringers.
At the meeting members stood in silence in remembrance of Mr. Matthews, of Putney, and Mr. W. H. Passmore, of Tooting. One new member was elected. The warmest congratulations of the meeting were extended to Mr. Gorge Cook, who had now paid his 50th annual subscription to the Surrey Association.

Ringing continued for a short period at Walton, and then for one hour at St. James', Weybridge, a new tower to some of the company, where ringing facilities are difficult to obtain, and finally at St. Mary's, Oatlands Park.

\section*{THE WORST BELL CHAMBER IN ENGLAND}

DISGUSTING sights greet anyone who visits the bell chambers of Pertenhall. Beds; Odell, Beds; Chellington, Beds; Galby, Leics; Showell, Leics; Braybrooke, Northants; Cottesbrooke, Northants; Claycoton, Northants; Chesterton, Hunts; Brooke, Rutland; Ryhall, Rutland; and Orton Waterville, Hunts.

But one worse than any of these (if not the worst to be found anywhere in England) is surely Swineshead, Beds! Here, a recent historic survey revealed conditions worse than to be found in many a pigsty or a marine store. Entry up a staircase had to be made over piles of twigs on every step by feeling-not one could be seen. In the bell chamber masses of twigs surrounded every bell-the fourth and tenor, in fact, could not be seen, and only the cannons and headstock of the tenor were visible.

Twigs were piled within 3 inches of the top of the old broken wheel to the fourth-something like three sacksful had to be forcibly moved aside from this bell alone to get down to its inscription, which, when found, showed it to be an old bell by John Dier, circa 1585. Dier of Itinerant (meaning a wanderer or person of no fixed place) cast all his bells on the spot by means of temporary furnaces, between the years 1580 and 1597. At nearby Bolnhurst are some of his, dated 1587. Others can be found at Maulden and several Bedfordshire and Hertfordshire towers.

Another mass of twigs, decomposed birds and rubbish of all description had to be moved to get at the date of the tenor, which showed it to be a bell by James Keene, of Woodstock, 1629. Its chiming hammer (like the poor old clock) hasn't moved for years! And the bells? It must be a lifetime since they were last rung. Every wheel was broken and wormeaten, pieces of rims and half wheels resting across the bells and the frame propping up piles more of twigs and rubbish. Every particle of the old double-tier frame is rotten-at the joists one can powder it away with a touch of the finger.

The third bell is cracked, and only the very light treble is able to be moved at all-and that has about a third of a wheel. The five bells are hung treble, second and third above the fourth and tenor. Why in such a steeple it is difficult to imagine for such light bells. The tenor cannot be more than \(4 \frac{3}{4}\) to 5 cwt . There is easily room enough to hang six bells (tenor 7 cwt .) all on one level. All the three trebles are little more than school bells. Like the tenor they are all three by Keene, dated 1629.

Dier's bells are getting rarer and rarer, a reason why care should be taken to see that what few remain to history should be preserved. But the Rector of Swineshead, who is also Rector of Pertenhall, 'couldn't care less '!-To the question put to him, 'Do you know of and seriously appreciate the state of things in Swineshead steeple ?' he merely replied, 'Well, the bells won't hurt anyone if they do crash.' A villager, commenting upon it, remarked, 'The Bishops think "any old thing" suitable for these country livings!'

One is left wondering what sort of a churchwardens' report upon the fabric and furnishings is given to the Archdeacon every year at the visitations. The word 'sacrilege' seems to me to be the only suitable description of these the most disgusting of all conditions the writer has ever seen in nearly 1,000 towers.

It is to be hoped that a fire never occurs at Swineshead steeple from a spark of some nearby fire entering its bell chamber. If it did, some very embarrassing questions might arise from any insurance claim.

And those interested in the work of the Historic Churches Preservation Trust, too, would not feel very well impressed. In fact, such a sight might well harm its funds and impede its work. The conditions in Swineshead steeple are not just recent; they are the result of a long period of years of neglect (a lifetime) and are, therefore, inexcusable.

\section*{GILLETT \\ AND JOHNSTON}

LIMITED

\section*{No matter in which corner of the country} you happen to be, as likely as not you will come across Gillett \(\mathcal{E}\) Johnston bells or tower clocks. Gillett \(\mathcal{G}\) Johnston craftsmanship is embodied in an all-embracing service - as much in the preservation and restoration of old rings of antiquarian interest as in the installation of new.

\section*{BELL FOUNDERS \\ AND \\ CLOCK MAKERS}

\section*{THE CRAFT THAT IS SIX THOUSAND YEARS OLD}
[Reproduced by permission of Jenolite News]

Bell founding must surely be the oldest craft with which Jenolite products have been associated; its origins stretch back through the years to 4000 B.C. when, in China, large bells were being used in religious worship. In Great Britain, two or three great bellfounding firms survive, and the subject of this study, John Taylor and Co. of Loughborough, Leics., trace their descent directly from a business established in Leicester as long ago as 1360 .
History and legend combine to give us the first (and necessarily incomplete) picture of the origin of bells. The Father of Percussion Instruments, Jubal, is supposed to have had the first conception of bells from listening to the ring of his brother's hammer on an anvil; and it is known that the earliest bells of which there is any trace to-day were Assyrian, discovered in the Palace of Nimrod.
The introduction of bells to Europe was brought about in the fourth century by Paulinus, Bishop of Nola, in Campania (by derivation, a flat land '-related to the Latin 'campus') whence one has 'campana' (late Latin for © bell '), and from it, in modern English usage, 'campanology '- the science and art of bellfounding and ringing
It would be impossible to hazard a guess concerning the development of ecclesiastical architecture throughout the world had not bells inspired the creation of church steeples and buildings like the impressive and magnificent Campanile in the Piazza San Marco in Venice -the most noteworthy of the few remaining separate belfries that at one time were a feature of all Venetian churches. The increasing popularity of the carillon, particularly in the United States, is reviving the Campanile (or separate bell tower) and examples are to be found at Niagara Falls and at many Universities throughout America.
The earliest bells in this country were almost certainly imported; it was not until the tenth century that a bell was made in England at the instigation of St. Dunstan. In 1091 a Boston coppersmith made bells for Croyland Abbey. As the craft grew and flourished, so came into being the practice of adding inscriptions, either commemorating the donor, or perhaps echoing the thoughts of the craftsman who cast them. Consider for yourselves the thought behind this one:

1 Often Have Been Beat And Banged,
My Friends Rejoice To See Me Hanged.
And When My Friends Do Chance To Die,
Then I For Them Aloud Will Cry.'
In passing, it is interesting to record that many bells were cast for monasteries, and the inscriptions, often in Latin hexameters, spread amongst simple folk to the belief in the power of bells over evil.

\section*{BACK TO 1360}

The history of the Taylor Bellfoundry goes back to mediaeval times when Johannes de Stafford (twice Mayor of Leicester) built a foundry in Leicester in 1360. For four hundred years this famous foundry carried on bellfounding under different ownerships until, in 1780, Robert Taylor, an apprentice of the previous owner, Edward Arnold. succeeded to the business. From that time to the present day, the art of bellfounding has been handed down through successive generations of the Taylor family.

To-day, members of the firm will tell you that the actual bell shape, as such has not changed, but proportions, curves and thicknesses have altered considerably with the advent of tuning. Most pre-Reformation bells are long compared with the diameter, then came a period when the bell was shortened and the mouth flared.
The late John Taylor, when he introduced the tuning of bells just before the turn of the century, spent a great deal of time in studying the relation of bell shapes to the harmonics of bells, and found they were so closely interrelated that it was possible to generate the necessary curves very accurately. This brought about the modern shape, which is characteristic of the tuned bell of to-day.
Modern bellfounding begins on the drawing board, and the specifications laid down here, are followed in the foundry. An inner 'core,' rather resembling a giant thimble, is built of bricks, and a thick casing of loam applied by hand and shaped with a 'strickle board'-a sort of 'blunt, swinging scimitar,' carefully designed from a huge selection of templates kept in stock. The mould of the outside of the bell is built up in a similar fashion with a strickle board on the inside surface of a castiron case, or 'cope,' each layer of sand being stoved before the application of the next one. The cope is perforated for the expulsion of gases, and its coating of loam is skilfully embossed with whatever inscription, verse or donor's name is required.
The core is then lowered on a base-plate deep into the greensand floor of the foundry, and the cope carefully fitted over it in such a way that the two rims meet and a space is left between the moulds for the metal to fill.

\section*{BELL METAL}

Bell metal, which has changed little in composition throughout the ages, is composed of pure copper and tin in the approximate proportions of 13 to 4. It is a hard, crystalline and very durable metal, subject only to an initial surface corrosion, or verdigris, which forms a protective coating against further oxidation. The idea, which is sometimes aired, that a silver bell would have a purer tone is merely poetic fantasy! Sterling silver bells would be tolerable -a golden bell would be as resonant as one made of lead! When the pyrometer registers a temperature of between 900 and \(1,200^{\circ} \mathrm{C}\), according to the size of the bell, the furnace can be tapped. This calls for team-work of the highest order, and is usually performed by a gang that has worked together for ycars under the foundry foreman. The glowing molten metal runs into iron funnels mounted on top of the moulds, and in a few minutes the bell is cast. A smallish bell can be taken out of the mould on the following day, but larger bells must be left up to three weeks before they are sufficiently cool and naturally annealed. The metal must cool evenly otherwise there is a danger of the bell cracking, or of being too porous.

\section*{TUNING A BELL}

The tuning is an operation of such perfection that it would astonish the layman, who might popularly suppose it to be done with a hammer! Upturned bells stand in large clusters all over the floor, waiting to be humped on to a revolving baseplate, where the cutting tool of a vertical boring machine pares oft shavings of metal from the inner surface as the bell is rotated. Throughout this operation the bell is constantly tested for accuracy, and further cuts are made until the bell is perfectly tuned. If a mistake is made in the tuning operation it is almost impossible to rectify it. Taylor's claim their system of 'true-harmonic' tuning is the most scientifically accurate yet evolved.

\section*{FIVE NOTES}

So far from having one note, as many people imagine, a bell has five: the Strike note, the Nominal (an octave higher), the Hum (an octave lower), the Tierce (a minor third), and the Quint (a perfect fifth). In every bell these five notes must harmonise, and additionally, all five notes must be in accurate time with the five notes of every other bell in the ring or peal concerned. A 'carillon' is a group of bells comprising at least two chromatic octaves ( 25 bells) and 'ringing bells ' form a scale of 5,6 , 8,10 or 12 bells rung in full swing by means of wheels and ropes. The number of bells in a chime may be increased from time to time until the chime attains the dignity of a carillon. The Taylor Company supplied a chime of ten bells to an American college in 1899, which in 1929 was augmented by a further 26 bells, the installation now forming a carillon of 36 bells.
The final operation in the manufacturing process takes place at the hands of a sandblaster, who applies a charge of small shot at a very great pressure. This gives the bell metal its exclusive and exquisite pale gold sheen.

John Taylor and Co. have, for very many years, been fighting a dangerous and powerful enemy, rust. Bells generally are exposed to wind and damp, and are often hung in industrial areas where there is a great deal of acid in the air. Timber, which was used for many years to build the bell frames, suffered severely from the death watch beetle and dry rot. Steel, on the other hand, is naturally prone to rust, and this it is liable to do very swiftly under the difficult atmospheres to which it is exposed.
Great satisfaction has been obtained by the use of Jenolite RRN and Chemical Sealer which are now used on all steelwork on bell frames and fittings, followed by the application of bitumen paint.
Not all old bells are recast, and no preReformation bells are subjected to this operation. These bells are kept as originally cast for their archrological value, and great care must be taken. when they are being handled. During a recent visit to Loughborough one beli dating from 1600 was in to be rehung-the oldest bell Taylors have rehung dates back to 1300.

Most of the bells they recast were originally cast between 1700 and 1890 . Generally speaking, bells cast in the 1800 's were not particularly good specimens of the bellfounders art musically. The advent of scientific tuning and foundry technique have altered this state of affairs, and now many peals of mediocre bells are being recast into really tuneful rings.

\section*{PITCH OF PERFECTION}

Bells are often rehung, as for instance when a clapper has deeply indented the metal on the inside of the beil, and perhaps it needs retuning. Exact moulding are taken of the beautiful inscriptions on the original bell when it comes in for recasting, and these are reproduced with amazing accuracy in detail. In recent years the use of mechanical handling, simplified moulding, and the true harmonic system for producing overtones has brought bellfounding to a pitch of perfection which it is doubtful can ever be bettered.
Bells to-day are an investment-here at Loughborough was cast the largest bell in the British Empire-Great Paul-weighing over 16 tons and now hanging in the South Tower of St. Paul's Cathedral. From this foundry came such diverse items as the ships' bells for the Queen, Elizabeth and the Queen Mary-the only ships' bells in the world to be tuned-and the famous carillon of 71 bells at the Singing Tower Bird Sanctuary, Mountain Lake, Florida.

\section*{The Bishop of Leicester}
The recent death of Inspector Poole in tragic circumstances is felt as a grievous blow to bell ringing in the Leicester diocese.
Ex-Inspector Poole was the founder in 1946 of the Leicester Diocesan Guild of Church Bell Ringers and was still president at his death. He was also founder and later president of the Police Guild of Ringers. He was a member of the Central Council of Church Bell ringers and was busy in making arrangements for the meeting of the Council to be held in Leicester next Whitsun. In recognition of his activities for bell ringing he was made a Lay Canon of Leicester Cathedral.

As I have been Bishop of Leicester for only some two years my knowledge of Inspector Poole's life and work was naturally limited, but during this time 1 had come to trust his wise counsel and advice on all bell ringing matters. He was an indefatigable worker in the cause, and his keenness and commonsense were such that it was always a pleasure to work with him in this matter.
Our sympathy goes out to his wife and family and we must not fail to be grateful to God for all that Inspector Poole was able to do for the cause. The funeral service was held in Leicester Cathedral on July 18th. It was conducted by the Bishop, the Provost and other clergy and was attended by a very large and representative congregation, mainly composed of bell ringers.

\section*{THREE LEICESTER TRIBUTES TO THE MEMORY OF HAROLD J. POOLE}

\section*{The Provost of Leicester}
(The Very Rev. Mervyn Armstrong)
One of the first men I met when I came to Leicester some 17 months ago was Harold Poole. Within the first minute it was clear that Harold Poole had one overriding concernbell ringing in general and the Cathedral bells in particular. But it also quickly became apparent that he had a real appreciation of spiritual values which stemmed a firm belief and trust in our Lord and a deep love of his Church.
Leicester Cathedral owes a very great deal to Harold Poole not only for the standard of perfection he strove for in the belfry but for the many contributions he made to the life of the city and the Cathedral. His services to the Diocese were recognised in 1944, when he became a Lay Canon of the Cathedral; and over the years the indebtedness of Diocese and Cathedral to him increased steadily.
I shall miss Harold Poole as a friend and as a man. His advice was always worth listening to, for he gave it without reservation and without fear or favour. His kindliness, his understanding and his Christian charity were qualities which made him so valuable a member of the community, and we are all the poorer by his passing. Our sympathy goes to Mrs. Poole and to her daughter, Jill, and her husband.

\section*{The Chief Constable of Leicester}
(Mr. O. J. B. Cole)
When I became Chief Constable of Leicester in 1929, a young man who quickly took my eye was Harold Poole. He was then a constable with three years' service, and he had already come to notice as a conscientious and energetic police officer. He had been commended for smart work in arresting criminals.
The next few years proved his administrative ability; later, with the advent of war, his organising ability was used in Civil Defence to great effect and, finally, in the last twelve years before his retirement he earned unanimous praise for the way in which he carried out the onerous and responsible duties of police prosecuting officer at the Magistrates' Court. One felt sorry when he left, but, at the same time, glad of the services of such a loyal and efficient officer over so many years.
His hobby was responsible for the foundation. soon after the war, of the Leicester Diocesan Guild of Church Bell Ringers and he became its first president. Later, he founded and presided over the Police Guild of Ringers, and his undoubted ability caused him for many years to be a member of the Central Councl of Church Bell Ringers. Perhaps his greatest joy was to be the Master of the Leicester Cathedral Company of Ringers, and he was proud to have been made a Lay Canon of the Cathedral some years ago.

His untimely end will not dim the minds of his friends when they picture him as one who wholeheartedly devoted himself to any job which he took in hand and one who, in his time, gave of his best to so many.

A peal of Little Bob Major was rung at St. Stephen's, Ealing, on July 27th, as a farewell to Mr. J. E. Lewis Cockey, who leaves England on August 10th to make his home in Canada. After the peal, ringing friends from Ealing and Isleworth, with the Vicar, two churchwardens, two former churchwardens and others, met in the ringing chamber to bid him Godspeed and to thank bim for his work for ringing in Ealing for more than twenty years. The appearance of the ringing chamber and the condition of the bells and belfry bear witness to his efforts, and after many tributes had been paid to him he was presented with a travelling clock and Mrs. Cockey with a bouquet as a sign of their affection and esteem, and with best wishes for a safe journey and for their future happiness in Winnipeg.

Mr. S. Weeks, of Brislington, Bristol, sailed for Perth, Australia, last week. We wish him "bon voyage.'
Aldrington, Sussex, had two brides from the local company on the same day - Beryl Reynolds and Hazel Stevenson. The complimentary quarter was duly rung.
Does the hanging of a ring of bells beneath a spire improve their conal qualities when heard outside the church? Reader David Beacham asks for opinions on this subject.
The farewell quarter rung at West Retford to Mr. Alan Simpson, a master at King Edward VI. School, Retford, was rung by a band, with the exception of Mr. Harold Denman, who are members of the school.
Thirteen peal attempts are on the programme of Mr. A. P. Cannon's North Oxfordshire and Cotswolds ringing tour which starts to-morrow. The headquarters of the party are at Chipping Norton. One day is being devoted to a scenic tour and ringing at nine towers.

\section*{GOSSIP} to ring a peal of Superlative Poole. Mafor to the memory of Mr. H. J. Uniortunately, after 1 hour and 50 minutes' good ringing, the tenor rope broke The band consisted of T. E. Sone and Cullingworth are members of the Central Council.
With reference to the peal of Kent Treble Bob Major at Isleworth on June 18th (see page 418), the name of the treble ringer was Thomas E. Davies and the fifth Wilfrid G. Wilson.
Mr. and Mrs. F. I. Hairs, who are among the oldest friends of the late Mr. Harold J. Poole and Mrs. Poole, were among those who attended the funeral service reported in our last issue.
The peal at Little Houghton on May 30th, reported on page 404, was rung for the Peterborough Diocesan Guild (Northampton Branch). With apologies to all concerned from the conductor.
The bells of Aldrington (by the medium of a recording) welcomed the Archbishop of Canterbury at the church in Mbale, Uganda, on his recent visit to the diocese of the Upper Nile. Mr. Kenneth Sharpe, a former ringer at Aldrington, writes to say that in this land of drums the bells were much appreciated.
Miss June M. Clements, who has been studying in London for the past two years, desires to say a very sincere 'Thank you' to those ringers who have made her so welcome at towers and meetings (especially those of the Surrey Association).

OUT AND ABOUT IN NORTH STAFFORDSHIRE

sTAFFORDSHIRE is not a county that finds its way into travellers' guides or those books that commend the beauties, either natural or man-made, of Britain; it is associated from lessons at school with the Black Country and the Potteries, and the geograpby book photographs that normally accompany such references do less than justice to the modern Potteries at all events; they portray it as a county to be passed through as rapidly as possible en route for somewhere else. It is quite true that although it is eighteenth in geographical area, it supports a population listed in the first ten in the same statistics. The manufacturing districts are by no means inviting; the industrial revolution developed too quickly to permit asthetic planning, and the five towns that grew into the city of Stoke-on-Trent that straggles for ten miles down a valley, yet barely exceeds three miles at its greatest width, were no exception.

These conurbations (as we now choose to call them), however, in which are concentrated over a million of its \(1,500,000\) inhabitants, cover only a very small proportion of the county, those in the south being by far the larger. The far greater remainder of the county offers a variety of delightful countryside that is rarely found within the borders of a single shire. Staffordshire is divided by a broad belt of undulating pasture land which extends from the Shropshire Plain in the west to Derbyshire. North of this line lies a countryside quite different from that in the south, where a dialect is spoken quite unrelated to that in the southern part and, if it has any affinities, these are with Derbyshire to the east and Cheshire to the north.
From the central lowland, devoted to dairy farming, the land climbs up the pleasant wooded valleys of the Trent, Blythe, Hamps. Churnet, Manifold and Dove, to the hills and moors that become part of the Peak and the Pennines in the east and north and cease abruptly as a rampart overlooking the Cheshire Plain further west. These hills, channelled by the valleys which run north to south, drop gently down westwards through the potteries in wooded ridges to the Shropshire Plain beyond which can be seen the mountains of Wales.

\section*{ST. EDWARD'S, LEEK}

The moorlands are bleak; hedges give way to dry stone walls, the cliffs of the Roches stand out against the sky and the low stone cottages and churches of this part are defensive against the harsh elements of nature. The countryside is sparsely inhabited. Surrounded by its ranges of protective hills, and built on a lesser hill within the bowl, lies Leek, the centre of this region, a market and textile town. It is dominated by the majestic pinnacled 14th century tower of the Church of St. Edward. In its masonry and within its precincts are relics of earlier worship on the site. In its churchyard are graves of French naval personnel taken prisoner in the Napoleonic wars and a part of the town is still known as Petty France. The tower contains a fine ring of ten bells with a tenor of \(18 \frac{1}{2}\) cwt. in \(E\) flat. Prince Charles, who is said to have stayed at the vicarage on his retreat from Derby in 1745, may well have heard the old six by Rudhall, installed in 1721. They were augmented to eight by John Warner and Sons in 1863, and the inscription on their treble bell is particularly appropriate to their ringing:-

for the Association. The tower also possesses a chiming apparatus which plays one of 14 tunes four times a day.

A mile and half to the north-west of Leek lies Rudyard Lake, running for two miles between the hillsides where woods stretch down to the water's edge. The fact that it is a reservoir for local canals in no way detracts from its natural beauty and it was this lake after which the poet Rudyard Kipling was named.

\section*{A LEGEND OF HORTON}

Close by is the pleasantly inaccessible village of Horton with its 16 th century church and a musical ring of six, cast by Rudhall in 1753 (tenor 11 cwt ). An enterprising band from Norton-le-Moors in the 1920's quite often visited Horton, and the story goes that the bells were so used to being left during the 'drop' for the ringers to run to catch the last train home, that they could lower themselves in peal.

Our voices shall with joyful sound, Make hill and valley echo round.'
According to the old Accounts of the church, there was a ring of bells in this tower in 1663, but of these there is no trace. Eleven peals have been rung on the bells since the formation of the North Staffs Association, two of Grandsire Triples before the augmentation to 10 in the 1920 's, and among those rung since then are the first of Cambridge and Yorkshire Royal

Two miles along the valley of the Churnet to the south of Leek is Cheddleton, whose church, standing on an escarpment, commands a wonderful view of the pleasant hills through which the river winds, where the swans glide and the fishermen sleep on hot summer afternoons. Part of the church dates from the 14th century, and a medixval brass eagle is preserved on the lectern. It has some fine stained glass, including windows by Rossetti and BurneJones. The tower is 16 th century and the belfry is reached by a staircase remarkable for the steepness and decreasing depth of its steps. The six bells (tenor 12 cwt .) blend well despite the fact that the work of four founders, since improved by Taylors, have gone into them. The treble (1864) second and tenor (1862) are by Warners, the third by Edward Arnold, of Leicester, 1796, the fifth 1762 (unknown). The fourth with a diameter of 33 inches bears the mark of Paul Hutton, of Congleton, and the inscription, 'Jesus be our spede \(1632^{\circ}\) ( 3 reversed).

High on a hillside a few miles to the south is Kingsley with the rebuilt Church of St. Werburgh retaining the original tower at the west end of the south aisle, its ringing gallery open to the church. Four of the six bells (tenor 12 cwt .) came from the Gloucester foundry in 1725. Here the moorland traditional six-bell ringing is carried on, and methods now uncommon, such as Wragby and Duke of York, are still rung as a matter of course. One of the peals recorded here was a welcome home to the Rector's daughter who had served as a volunteer nurse in the Spanish Civil War.

\section*{CHEADLE'S TWO CHURCHES}

Not far away is Cheadle with its steep, narrow streets clinging to the edge of the moorland, with a history going back to the Roman occupation. It possesses two churches both dedicated to St. Giles. The parish church is a 19th century building with six bells (tenor 13 cwt .) bearing the usual inscriptions of the Rudhalls, who cast the first five bells in 1722 and the tenor in 1730. The Roman Catholic church with a heavily decorated interior dates from the 19th century and is the work of Pugin. It possesses an extremely slender and graceful spire which, rising to a height of some 200 ft .. is a landmark clearly visible for many miles to the south. It contains an excellent ring of eight bells (tenor 15 cwt .) by Taylors. Beneath Cheadle are rich coal seams and many of its inhabitants are colliers. It is fitting that here should have been rung a muffled peal to the memory of the men entombed in the Creswell Colliery disaster in 1950.
On the eastern borders of North Staffordshire by the valley of the Dove. which flows southwards parallel with the Churnet, are a series of delightful villages. There is Sheen to the north, overlooking the Dove, with its six bells ( 7 cwt .) cast in 1851 and inscribed in Latin, Ilam with its ancient heritage, its association with the Congreves who lived at the hall and where William Congreve wrote his comedy, 'The Old Bachelor,' and with Dr. Johnson, who used Ilam as the setting for his only novel. The church was restored in the last century and its most ancient part is the 13th century gabled tower which houses a ring of five bells cast by Taylors in 1856, and the gift of \(J\) Watts-Russell, who renovated the old hall and much of the village.

\section*{EVENING BELLS}

On the hanks of the Dove close to Ashbourne lies the village of Mayfield: here for a time lived Thomas Moore the poet, who is said to have found inspiration for his poem, 'Evening Bells,' from the music borne over the river from the Derbyshire town. Mayfield, however, has its own ring of six (tenor 12 cwt .), which includes two old bells, one with an ornamented inscription. 'Huius sci larenti,' and the other inscribed. 'Jesus be our Spede 1624.'

Ellastone, too, has literary connections, for here is the setting of 'Adam Bede.' Rousseau also spent some time in the nearby Wootton Hall. There has been a ring of six at this 16 th century church since 1788 when Hedderley, of Nottingham, installed the treble and second. The tenor is by Rudhall. 1740, and the 4th and 5th are of unknown date, but the ornamental inscriptions on them are believed to be those of a Nottingham founder. They read as follows:-

\section*{4. ihs SCA MARIA OPN}
5. ihs SCA TRINITAS DEUS M.N,

Alton with its five bells ( 12 cwt .) is renowned for the great palace of Alton Towers, built in the last century by the 15th Earl of Shrewsbury, its magnificent grounds laid out by Capability Brown. The village lies at the end of the gorge through which the River Churnet flows and, with its convent built on the cliff top originally occupied by a Norman castle, is often likened to the Rhineland.

\section*{ROCESTER BELLS}

Rocester on meadow lands, where the valley of the Dove broadens as it leaves the dale for which it is so famous, is a quiet village which, as its name implies, has a history which goes back to Roman times when it lay on the Ryknield Way which ran from Chester to Derby. It once possessed an abbey, but this has long since vanished. The church, marked by its graceful spire, has a ring of eight bells (tenor \(13 t \mathrm{cwt}\). in F sharp), which are a delight to ring. Three of the bells are dated 1774. others \(1796,1830,1871\), the two remaining being of more recent date. Unfortunately a local band no longer exists to ring them.
The south-eastern extremity of this region is reached at Uttoxeter, for centuries renowned for its market and the centre of a rich agricultural area. The church is a fine edifice with an ancient tower and later spire, containing a majestic ring of bells ( 20 cwt . in E ), six of which were cast by Abraham Rudhall in 1729, bearing his mark and familiar inscriptions: the treble and tenor by John Warner and Sons in 1874. Twenty-six peals have been rung on these bells for the North Staff, Association since its foundation in 1884, including the first on the bells and the firsts of Staffordshire and New Cambridge Surprise Major for the Association by resident bands.
On the border of Derbyshire a few miles from Uttoxeter, the village of Marchington stands on the Dove. near the verge of the Needwood Forest. The church is in classical style and the tower is strangely domed. Three of the six bells ( 10 cwt . in G) date from 1626 and another from 1765.

Returning north-west along the main road to the Potteries are three ringing towers-the first. Leigh with six bells in an ancient tower, the two older bells being by Rudhall and dated 1710. Thomas Rudhall cast the next in 1762 and John a fourth in 1810. On the Tean lies Checkley; much of its church is of Norman workmanship, including the tower which houses six bells (tenor 12 cwt.) by Rudhall in 1761 .

\section*{DRAYCOTT-IN-THE-MOORS}

Some three miles beyond, squat on a hill top and approached by a grass-grown lane, stands the church of Draycott-in-the-Moors. The most striking feature of the church is the chapel of the Draycotts, where, in clothes of centuries ago. the Draycotts sleep in carved alabaster. This family, whose seat can be seen on lower land a mile away, worshipped here for seven centuries, gaining both fame and notoriety. A low door at the west end of the nave gives access to the ground floor ringing chamber. The bells now number eight ( 11 cwt .) having been augmented from six in 1939 and earlier from five to six. The oldest bell is dated 1607 and is inscribed, ' I sweetly toling men do call to taste on meats that feede the soole, bearing the mark of Henry Oldfield. founder, of Nottingham. Two others dated 1636 are by Paul Hutton, of Congleton. The old treble bears a curious crest and the legend: - ihs Nazarenus Rex Iudeorum Fili Dei Misere

\section*{RN WC Wardens 1678. \\ PHIL DRAYCOTT ESQ.}

Twenty-eight peals have been rung on those bells to date and are a popular ring despite the fact that one or two are at present odd-struck.
Not far from Draycott, nestling in a wellwooded valley, lies Dilhorne, unique in that it possesses the only completely octagonal tower in Staffordshire. The bells in this asymmetric tower are a good ring of six (tenor 9 cwt .). aug(Continued foot of next column)

\section*{YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION}

\section*{President Inducted Vicar of Famous Leeds Church}

An event of wide local interest, and in particular to members of the Yorkshire Association, took place on July 21st, when the president, the Ven. C. O. Ellison, B.Sc., was inducted Vicar of the 17 th century Church of St. John the Evangelist, New Briggate, Leeds. The Association was well represented among the large congregation.

In the course of his address, the Bishop of Ripon, Dr. G. A. Chase, said that in some ways it was a very strange service. One reason for this was that the Archdeacon, who was being instituted, was usually assisting him at similar services in that part of the diocese; another was the character of the Church of St. Jobn. He was used to performing institutions at huge parishes in Leeds or small parishes in the heart of the country. Here, however, was a parish with a small population situated right in the centre of the city. It nestled in the shadow of great shop and office buildings, with the busy Headrow on one side and a new bus station planned on the other.

John Harrison, at whose expense the church was built and completed in 1634, would have loved to have been here to-night,' went on the Bishop. ' He would have found the surroundings very different, but he would have loved that because he was an industrialist. He was a man interested in Leeds, in business and in politics, but in it all he was a churchman. To-day the church has to play its part in social life, in business, in industry and in politics. All these things must be brought into the ambit of the church if it is to perform its duty."
Before the institution, the Archdeacon was presented to the Bishop by the Lord Mayor of Leeds (Alderman Sir James Croysdale), who is one of the five patrons of St. John's. The induction which followed was by the Vicar and Rural Dean of Leeds (Сanon C. B. Sampson).

Immediately following the ceremony a course of Grandsire Caters was rung on handbells by the following members of the Association: W. O. Talbot 1-2, W. Barton 3-4, P. J. Johnson 5-6, L. W. G. Morris 7-8, J. Ambler 9-10. Members will join in congratulating their president on his new incumbency, and wishing him Godspeed in his new calling.

\section*{LETTERS TO THE EDITOR}

\section*{LAVENHAM TENOR}

Dear Sir,-Mr. Pipe is certainly trailing his coat. Miles Graye's masterpiece embodies perfection of proportion and tonal quality in a maiden bell, and since perfection cannot be improved upon, the claim made for this bell is completely justified.

There is no myth to explode, sir, in connection with Lavenham tenor, but if Mr. Pipe will look up Asop some time he will find a story about a frog which DID explode, and the reason therefor.-Yours sincerely.

OLIVER G. BARNARD.

\section*{Stowmarket.}

Dear Sir,-I can see if you do not end the controversy, the Lavenham tenor argument will be as long-winded as the Everton-cum-Tetworth controversy.
Does it really matter if Lavenham tenor is a finer bell than Grundisburgh, or vice versa? Never will it be unanimously agreed that a particular tenor is the finest in the country, nor should it be. Unless two bells are hung side by side. who is in a position to judge? Opinions vary as do bells. Who could compare the bells at St . Peter Mancroft with those of St. Chad's, Shrewsbury, both magnificent rings, but different types entirely.

Mr. Ernest Morris only last week claimed Howden (Yorks) his favourite eight. One will not have to go far before Chewton Mendip and Ditcheat enter the conversation. A few months back a well-known Bedfordshire ringer was swearing (not literally) by Ebbw Vale.

Whichever we prefer, it should be remembered that if all bells were as near perfection as possible, ringing would become much more monotonous, and probably no outings would be arranged. It certainly is not worth arguing over and the risk of losing friends taken for the sake of one unimportant opinion.-Yours, etc., Burton Latimer.
B. S. COPP.

Dear Sir.-The letter in "The Ringing World ' of July 15 th regarding the tone of Lavenham tenor is a statement of opinion with which I agree. It is only an opinion, however, and though we are all entitled to our opinions they will vary from person to person as in all things.

In forming our opinions on the tonal qualities of bells. several factors must be considered. Firstly, I think it is only fair to compare the tones of bells in the same weight range, which also means having nearly the same note. Then it must be remembered that some bells are simpson tuned and others are not and there are some ringers who do not like Simpson tuned bells.

Another factor, which I think is most important, is that many people visit a new tower and state their opinion of the tone without having heard the bells outside. Quite often 1 find that bells that sound rather poor inside are really worth listening to outside the tower. I have. in fact, rung in several towers where the bells, generally Simpson tuned, absolutely 'howl' at you because they are hung in a steel frame and the ringing chamber is too close to the bells and the false floor is not sufficiently soundproof. Outside the bells are a joy to hear.

Another point which may have some influence on the outside effect of the bells is that 1 find many of my favourite rings are hung beneath a spire. Whether or not the bells would be so pleasing if taken out and hung in an ordinary tower seems difficult to prove. (Has anyone any experience of this?)

In concluding, then, I feel that one should not say. 'Best bells (or tenor) in the country" (and have they rung on all of them?), but rather the finest toned for their weight that they have rung or heard. Now the claims will be coming in!-Yours faithfully,

DAVID BEACHAM.

PETERBOROUGH GULLD DIFEERENCES BLOWN OVER
Dear Sir,-May I congratulate the Rev. K. W. H. Felstead on his most interesting article on 'Peal Ringing in Northamptonshire'? His articles undoubtedly are the result of a large amount of research work.
I was very sorry to read that Mr. Felstead has been the recipient of a letter from Mr. P. Amos written in a fiery vein. While I am not going to 'stir up muddy water' regarding Mr. Amos' differences with the Peterborough Guild in the past, I agree with Mr. Felstead that any peals rung and not published would be negligible and would not, I think, create a wrong impression regarding peal ringing activities in the county.

I am happy to say that the differences which existed some years ago have now blown over, and I hope that there will be no recurrence from any source whatsoever.
As Master of the Peterborough Diocesan Guild my principal aim is to encourage Sunday service ringing with an emphasis on good striking. I hope that this may lead to a revival of peal ringing of the standard set up by some of the stalwarts of the old Central Northants Association. This can only be achieved by adopting a 'team spirit' and mutual understanding one with another.-Yours sincerely,
B. P. MORRIS, Master,

Peterborough Diocesan Guild.

\section*{A BOLTON RINGER IN AUSTRALIA}

Dear Sir ,-I received a letter from Ronald Edge, formerly a ringer at Holy Trinity Church, Bolton, and Cambridge University. Some months ago his profession took him to Australia. In his letter he describes attending a ringers' meeting and competition near Sydney. We here cannot be surprised at the progress and interest which is developing in that country, when we learn of the enthusiasm there. Mr. Edge informs me that to attend the event he flew over 200 miles and then completed the journey from Sydney to Turramurra with a half-hour train ride. He was not the only one how had travelled far; there were several who had covered over 140 miles and some from Tass.
For the competition he joined the St. Mary's Society of Sydney. They lost in the 'Doubles; contest, but won the 'Minor' with a very narrow margin from the home tower, viz., 30 points against 30.5 . They now hold the shield. After the competition there was the annual dinner, followed by speeches and films.
He said the Turramurra bells are a very light ring of six by Taylors. A ringer very kindly put him up for the night, and the following morning he rang at St. Jude's, Randwick, a ring of eight steel bells which were cast by Vickers before they became VickersArmstrong. After a ride along the Cooger beach (a beautiful spot) and lunch, they went back to the church and rang a quarter peal.
Mr. Edge experienced a very unpleasant time when the plane he was travelling in began to descend from 7.000 ft . He had a hollow tooth and he suffered what has become known as 'airpressure' toothache, and it is very severe whilst it lasts. He had to seek a dentist's aid immediately upon landing. On account of this he decided to take the long journey home by train.
Some of the West Maitland ringers related their experiences in the floods. One said she still had 6 ft . of mud in her house.-Yours, etc.,
Bolton.

COVENTRY DIOCESAN GUILD Quarterly Meeting at Rugby
The summer quarterly meeting was held on July 16 th at Rugby, where the octave in the north-east tower, recently rededicated after overhaul, was the attraction. The bells have been lowered 20ft. and hung on ball bearings and are now much easier to handle.
Ringing in the afternoon was curtailed to one service touch on account of weddings, then at 4.30 a short service was conducted by the Rector, followed by tea in local cafes. Ringing continued after tea until a halt was called for the business meeting to take place in the ringing room.

The Master (Mr. R. J. Edden) presided, and apologies were read from the president (the Rev. W. C. Maggs), vice-presidents (the Rev. R. R. P. Rigby and Mr. F. W. Perrens) and Messrs. F. C. Lyne, H. C. Burt, J. Ford, W. Wyatt, H. Allen and Mrs. Carpenter.

It was announced that the annual dinner arrangements were well in hand and would take the same form as last year. It was decided by a majority vote to engage professional entertainers again. The next quarterly would be held in Coventry prior to the dinner on Oct. 15 th.
A discussion arose on how best to cater for diocesan towers in the fringe areas. A letter from a Leamington member was read suggesting that application be made to the County Council for a grant to hold a course of instruction in campanology. Further investigations are to be made by the committee and a report made at the next meeting.
Competition ringing was then brought to the notice of the members, and after a discussion it was decided to ask all members to consider the matter and vote on it at the annual meeting in April.
New members elected were: Miss Pat Houston (Bilton), R. W. Sheriff and T. G. Hill (Southam) P P. D. Howitt (Rugby), T. K. Farrow and R. M. Andrews (Harbury). Ratifications: P. and D. Beresford (Lichfield) and E. Malin (Penkridge)
Members stood for a few moments before the meeting closed to the memory of Mr. J. W. Taylor, captain of the Allesley band for many years, who had recently passed on, and also to Mr. H. J. Poole, whose tragic death had been reported the day before.
The church collection of \(£ 21 \mathrm{~s}\). was given direct to the Rugby Bell Fund.

\section*{SOUTH HACKNEY BELLS REHUNG}

An East End ring that has been silent for many years - St. John of Jerusalem, South Hackney-have been rehung on ball bearings by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank. This ring of eight with tenor approx. 20 cw . was originally installed by the Whitechapel firm in 1848.
On July 20th, at the invitation of the Rector, the Rev. R. Parsons, members of the London County Association rang for thanksgiving service for the 107th anniversary of the dedication and the restoration of the church after extensive bomb damage.
Members from as far afield as Isleworth, Chelsea and Romford rang Grandsire, Stedman and Cambridge before and after the service. For the bells Messrs. Mears and Stainbank have done a fine job; the only objection is that the bells are rather noisy in the ringing room. On July 22nd the foundation stone of the new school building was laid by Lord Amhurst of Hackney. After the dedication by the Lord Bishop of London, 1,260 Stedman Triples was rung by Mrs. E. Merrett 1, T. H. Taffender 2, J. A. Hales 3, J. Merrett 4. W. D. Grainger 5 , J. Barrance 6, L. W. Bullock (cond.) 7, J.
McPhail 8. McPhail 8.
The Rector, thanking the ringers for their services, said Dr. Wand remarked on how well the bells sounded and the great pleasure it gave him to hear them rung.

\section*{TOPIC FOR THE MONTH - VII.}

\section*{Comes the 'Dawn'?}

The recently accepted revision of the Central Council's 'Decisions' cannot fail to have some impact on the Exercise at large-not so much by what the Decisions include (we'll come to that in a later article, perhaps), but rather by the spirit of widened outlook and broadened toleration of what may be rung; that is to say, rung with the benign acceptance of official approval.

\section*{YET A NEED}

But there is still something lacking; something of a degree of importance still generally unrecognised; something which, when it does come, will illumine our ringing path like the light of dawn after the uncertain gloom of night.
Extravagant words? Then consider for how long we have endured the 'ban,' recently lifted. (The writer recalls his first peal as one of Grandsire Minor ! Or again, consider the protracted and mainly futile arguments, over the last 30 years, on the subject of "extensions." The root cause of all the trouble is largely the failure to distinguish between conventional 'regulations' on the one hand and 'natural laws ' on the other.

But if this sounds like criticism, either of the hard-working sub-committee revising the Decisions or of the Council members who accepted the revision, let it be said at once that none such is intended. Indeed, the changing spirit manifested in these recent happenings may well be the herald of such a 'dawn.' What, then, is needed?

\section*{THEORY-BUT HOW MUCH ?}

Consider the issue from first principles. Most pursuits embrace both a theory and a practice ; or, if you like, a science and an art. What of ringing? One of the difficulties here is that its science is not entirely 'natural,' being, in fact, in part artificial or man-made. So that, while its fundamental principles are certainly amenable to mathematical analysis, yet some of its accepted conventions are, to say the least, somewhat arbitrary if not insay the least, somewhat arbitrary if not inconsequential, I think it may be agreed. The reason for this is not far to seek. The science of ringing, such as it is, has developed somewhat sporadically, locally and traditionally; and, be it admitted once again, with little regard to the essential distinction between 'laws, and 'regulations.' In ringing, the latter are fairly arbitrary, while the former are mathematical truths-the real theory of ringing.

How much, then, of the theory of what is rung has been set forth in scientific fashion? In fact, how much of this is necessary to be set down? To answer this rightly we must first be clear as to what constitutes ' that which is to be rung? Is it simply the result of what is recognised as the all-important business of composition-the setting out of touches and peal-lengths? Certainly, we couldn't get far in practical ringing without the splendid work of our composers. But even they can't get busy until the method builders have produced something to provide the scope for composition; in other words, until our method designers have produced the methods themselves.
And it is here, right at the root of all ringing, that we find so little of scientific bibliography; most of the science of ringing that has been written up indeed, relates mainly to composition; so that little will be found of its precursor- method structure.' Let it be clear that books on methods, as we know them, excellent as they are for setting out the individual methods, and necessary as they always will be for learning them, do not fill the gap.

\section*{GENERAL THEORY OF METHOL} STRUCTURE
It is at this point that many a practical ringer will say that the various publications on methods themselves are good enough for him. So what?

Well, he puts himself in the position of a bandsman who says, 'Theory of music be blowed! I've got, and can read, my band parts and they're good enough for me.' Quite so! But of course, he ignores the simple fact that before a piece of music can be presented to him someone has to study theory of music and learn how to write it; and an 'arranger' also, who has studied 'orchestration,' has probably arranged the band parts.

In ringing, the job of the 'composer' (of touches and peals), is analogous to that of the 'arranger' in music. The latter, of course, takes the originally designed piece of music and, unless it be already orchestrated, sets it for small or large orchestra, or maybe even for piano only if the composer of the music has stopped short at the melody. Some music composers, of course, do the whole thing.
To the composer of music his opposite number in ringing is not, of course, the composer of peals and touches; he is, in fact, the method designer. The point here is that just as in music there is a theory of design or composition, scientifically set forth, but open to artistic development according to rule, so also in ringing the building of methods rests upon scientific principles - a science of method structure if you like-artistically to be developed into the individual methods, in their respective groups or classes.

The recognition of this vital fact has been widening rapidly in the past few years; so that the need is becoming more obvious for a comprehensive set of 'Decisions' on method structure, in other words, a standard work on the subject. This, then, is that 'something lacking,' referred to in the opening paragraphs of the article.
Space here is limited, but even one example is better than extended precept. On page 395 of issue No, 2,308 of 'The Ringing World' we find (middle column) phrases introduced to cover the extending range of stages now being rung; i.e., 'Sextuples' and ' 14 -in,' relating, of course, respectively to changes on 13 bells and 14 bells. At the moment such ringing is confined to 'extensions' of methods, on handbells. Yet no definition has hitherto been accepted of what constitutes an 'extension' of a method. Incredibly, the need for such a definition was officially denied, at the time the 'Report on Extension' was being compiled !

\section*{SIGNIFICANCE OF 'EXTENSION' IN METHOD STRUCTURE}

The true significance of what is generally understood to be an 'extension' is not yet fully appreciated. Detailed discussion on this signal point is here impracticable, but its importance can be put briefly, as viewed by those of us who have been studying it since the first world war. thus:-
A method subsists in one or more stages, according to the nature of its design, in which design such stages are, ab initio, inherent absolutely. The lowest of such stages to exhibit all the prime features of the design is the 'basic stage,' those above it being 'extensions.' Any below it, omitting one or more design features but otherwise conforming to the method's specification, are 'contractions." From the fact of inherency, given any stage not being a contraction, all other applicable stages of the method can be derived from the given stage, by a mathematical process known as stage variation.' The process is rigid, and admits of no 'versions, producing only the inherent form for each stage, or none at all. The inherent family relationship of all admissible stages of the method is unique and invariable.

\section*{METHOD SPECIFICATION}

From the foregoing it follows that any stage not being a contraction, i.e., the basic stage or any of the admissible extension stages, can be the 'parent' stage, i.e., 'parent' in the sense of the particular stage in which the method of the particular stage in which the method is first devised and/or published. These conclusions were not reached without considerable investigation, in the course of which it became obvious that no new method should be published without its 'specification,' as already mentioned, and as now briefly explained:-

In the early days of method building the design was 'simple,' i.e., contained few or no place-makings and dodgings within the "lead" or division. The designer simply gave it out by figures, as applying in the one stage in which he had conceived it. Ambitious bands, wishing to try the method on higher stages, found it to 'extend ' without much trouble to them. The custom of neglecting to publish anything other than the figures (and of the 'parent ' stage only) thus became established; and resulted in only) thus became established; and resulted in the 'wonder-if-it-will-go-higher' attitude of mind to methods as they came out. Later, mind 'complex' methods were evolved, i.c., those with numerous place-makings and dodgings within the 'lead' or division (thus constantly reversing the mode of hunting), there resulted the tragedy of endless and futile argument as to 'extensions'; while the wonder-if-it-will-go-higher' seekers found their own ' versions.
Either of two things could have prevented all that: (a) the patiently deduced knowledge that we have to-day of stage variation, as already mentioned; or (b) the publication by the designer of his specification for the design. This latter is simply a scientific statement for the production of the method in all stages to which the designer has found his plan to apply. It is positive, unequivocal and generic, and sets out the inherent features in the basic design, The figures of a half-lead (or the 'shorthand; way of setting them out) can never define a method for all its admissible stages. The most they can do is to identify the method for that particular stage. Further data are required for stage variation. But the specification is allsufficient.

This one aspect is but exemplary of what the theory of method structure has to tell us. To the average practical ringer it may not have great interest, at the moment; but it is of practical interest to, indeed essential for, the modern designer or builder of methods in the wide field of design as yet untouched;--after him, to the composer of touches and peals in those new methods and-after him, to the conductor who selects both the method and its compositions.

\section*{FUTURE OUTLOOK}

New methods can no longer be conceived as for one stage only, if they are to satisfy towers with varying rings of bells. The number of rings of tower bells in the higher stages has increased considerably, and handbell peals on even higher stages are beginning to enter the records. The more important it is. therefore, that the science of ringing, at its foundation, i.e., method structure, be set forth in clear and logical form. The longer the delay the more difficult, protracted and corrective in nature will be the task.

Once again, however, let us take initial satisfaction in the recent acceptance of the revised Central Council Decisions. And let us occasionally recall that without well-founded theory there can scarcely develop universally successful practice.

\section*{GUILD of DEVONSHIRE RINGERS}

\section*{Branch Meeting at Kingskerswell}

In perfect weather, the Mid-Devon Branch held a quarterly meeting at Kingskerswell on July 23 rd, amongst those attending being visitors from Beeston (Notts) and Farnborough.
Ringing took place throughout the afternoon to suit all tastes, this being followed by a service in church, conducted by the Rev. A. C. F. Rowe (Vicar), who extended a very hearty welcome.
After tea at the Whitpot Mill Tea Gardens, the usual business meeting followed with Mr. J. E. Lilley in the chair. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and confirmed, the secretary reporting on matters arising, and apologies for absence were received from the Rev. N. F. D. Coleridge, of Dartmouth, and Mr. Paul Field, of Langport.

The election of three non-resident members prior to starting for a peal was confirmed, and it was resolved to hold the next meeting at Paignton, with Babbacombe, on October 15 th, subject to the usual permission being obtained.

The meeting also decided to send a letter of congratulations to the Rev. and Mrs. Coleridge on the birth of a son, and it was also resolved to send to Mrs. H. J. Poole, of Leicester, the sympathy of the branch at the tragic death of her husband.

The usual votes of thanks were proposed by the chairman, who welcomed the visiting ringers, after which a visit was paid to Coffinswell.

\section*{TWO BRIDES FROM ONE TOWER}

Aldrington, Sussex, ringers had the unusual experience of ringing wedding bells for two of their young lady ringers who were married within a quarter of an hour of each other.
On Saturday, July 9th, at 1.45 p.m.., Miss Beryl Reynolds and James Sexton (a ringer from Seaford) were married at St. Leonard's, Aldrington, and the local handbell ringers rang the bride into church.

The ringers then dashed to St. Nicolas' Church, Portslade, and rang handbells for the wedding of Miss Hazel Stevenson and Mr. Arthur Craven. while the remainder of the local band were ringing tower bells at Aldrington for Beryl and Jim.

Both brides were regular members of the Aldrington band and their fellow-ringers presented them with wedding presents to remind them of the many enjoyable times together and to wish each happy couple every happiness in the future.

It is very encouraging to know that Beryl and \(\operatorname{Jim}\) will soon be ringing in Lancashire, while Hazel and Arthur are to take up the art in Bedfordshire.

\section*{HORNCHURCH, ESSEX}

Good weather, good food, good bells and good timekeeping were the main contributory factors to a very fine day spent in Kent on July 9 th.
Missing from the party this year was Dr. C. E. Wright now on National Service in Hong Kong, and Mr. J. Macdougal. recovering from an operation.

Stops were made at Headcorn, Biddenden, Salehurst, Marden and Eynsford. Ringing was much enjoyed at all these towers. Congratulations on your ringing chamber, Biddenden !

Ringers in general will be pleased to know that in this garden of England the 'crops' are looking fine.

Thank you very much, Kent-you did us proud. and if 'earth hath anything to show more fair' than the view, set in the rays of the setting sun, than that from Wrotham Hill, then we have yet to see it.

\section*{STORIES OF THIS YEAR'S OUTINGS}

\section*{BOLSOVER, DERBYSHIRE}

After many weeks of careful planning and eager anticipation, the day of the annual outing of the Bolsover ringers and friends, June 25th, again came and passed all too quickly. The last Saturday in June has now become almost an automatic choice for the date and we were again favoured with really lovely weather. The improvements in road travel conditions and modern coaches make it possible to venture much further afield, and although the journey to Worcester proved to be very tiring all felt it well worth while and the excellent opportunities for ringing were ample repayment for the extra effort required.

A slight hitch delayed the start from Bolsover and the stay at the first tower, Northfield, near Birmingham, had to be curtailed because of arrangements for a wedding. The narrow staircase approach to the ringing chamber caused some amusement, and touches of Bob Major, Double Norwich, Cambridge and Kent Treble Bob were rung on the eásy-going bells.

The second tower, Dodderhill (Droitwich) was considered by most people to be the best of the day. The spacious ringing chamber and first-class ropes made for excellent ringing conditions, and the tone and 'go' of the bells was really grand. Mr. Raxter, of the local company, was obviously very proud of the bells and enjoyed listening to a well-struck course of Superlative Surprise Major.

Despite the great heat all the party did justice to an excellently-prepared luncheon at the Dcansway Restaurant, Worcester, and later high tea at the same establishment was fully enjoyed by all.
At All Saints', Worcester, Mr. T. W. Lewis met the party, and the organiser was able to thank him personally for all his help in connection with the arrangements for the outing and suggestions of towers for ringing. The effect of the lunch and intense heat seemed to upset the ringing of the heavy ten and for many of the party it was their first experience of Royal. The striking was much better in courses of Double Norwich and Cambridge Surprise Major. Mr. Lewis joined the visitors in an excellent 'fall.'
The short walk across Worcester, past the famous cricket ground, made a welcome breather and ringing was continued on the musical light octave at St. John-the-Baptist's. Several of the younger ringers and the nonringers made good use of a free period in the programme and spent some time on the river. Most people visited the Cathedral, but it was decided in advance that no arrangements would be made for ringing the Cathedral bells. Being accustomed to light and quick-going bells, it was felt that the party might not do justice to this heavy ring.
The evening ringing was at Stoke Prior, an extremely light but musical eight. The ringing chamber is immediately below the bells and there is no insulation, but the 'go ' and tone of the ring far outweighed the discomfort from the excessive noise.
Mr. H. Nicklin met the party and was obviously very pleased to hear his bells so well rung. During the opening touch of Double Norwich the tenor rope became untucked, but the bells went so well that the writer was able to continue ringing one-handed and the touch was considered to be the best of the day. The ringing at this tower was extended somewhat beyond the original programme but all seemed happy to stay.
The long journey back to Bolsover was accomplished without mishap and various people reached home shortly after midnight. Grateful thanks are accorded to all who assisted in any way with the arrangements for the outing, and to our friends from Chesterfield, Warsop and Worksop, who again ensured some excellent ringing of the standard normally expected on such a tour.
A. B. C.

\section*{DARTFORD AND DISTRICT}

On June 25th Dartford and district ringers toured part of Kent and Sussex for their annual outing. After a good start, Edenbridge's eight were set going to everyone's delight and proved a good omen for the rest of the day. Then on into Sussex and to Uckfield, where again the eight bells were put to good use.
Lunch was followed by two touches on handbells at Ye Maiden's Head Hotel. The journey to Burwash was through a very pleasant countryside and the delightful sights here were enjoyed. Then on to Wadhurst with its recentlyaugmented bells, and once again full marks were accorded.
Tea was taken at the Queen's Head before leaving for Frant, where, unfortunately, a call change band occupies the tower and the ropes needed adjusting. However, time would not allow of this, so a few touches were brought round on the six bells and the journey continued back into Kent to Tonbridge with its fine eight, and the heaviest of the day's selection. For the last call of the day Seal St. Lawrence. with its six, was visited, and these were kept going until' 9 p.m.

The ringing was of a very high standard and touches in standard methods up to Cambridge were brought home, in some cases with local ringers joining in. At all towers a reception committee awaited us, and our thanks are due to clergy and towerkeepers for an exceptionally fine day's ringing on some grand bells.

\section*{BURY ST. EDMUNDS}

Bury St. Edmunds ringers selected Kent for their annual outing on July 2nd. Leaving Bury by coach at \(7 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}\). the journey to London was via Epping Forest, and the Thames was crossed by the Blackwall Tunnel. Maidstone was reached at 12.10 p.m., about ten minutes late. Here after the long journey the company were disappointed to find the tower door locked and they were unable to ring.
After lunch at Maidstone the company went to St. Nicholas' Church, Leeds (10), a massive tower of short height, and here ringing included Grandsire Caters. Stedman Caters and Bob Royal. Mr. A. E. Moore, who had been to Leeds during the \(1914-18\) war, escorted the party to the gravestone of James Barham, who died at the age of 93 , and rang in the long peal which lasted 27 hours.
The next tower was Rochester Cathedral (10, tenor 30 cwt .) and before ringing we heard the large choir of 500 singing at the festival service. Ringing was fairly good as our back-enders are used to heavy bells. All were ready for a cup of tea at 6 p.m.
When we arrived at out coach we found that the driver had wheel trouble. This delayed departure by about two hours. A tired but happy party reached Bury St. Edmunds at 12.30 a.m.

\section*{GLORIOUS SUNSHINE MADE THESE OUTINGS MEMORABLE}

\section*{CHECKENDON, OXON}

Members of the Checkendon band, with friends from Shiplake, Mapledurham and Reading, had a most enjoyable outing into Hampshire on July 23 rd

The journey to the first tower, the eight at Liss, took longer than expected, and we arrived nearly half an hour late. Ringing was enjoyed on this musical octave (tenor \(12 \frac{1}{\frac{2}{2}} \mathrm{cwt}\).) but the long draught proved the undoing of some of the less experienced.

Next came the heaviest ring of the day, Havant ( \(8,18 \frac{1}{2}\) cwt.), with a pleasant belfry full of creakiag timbers, Our youngsters redeemed themselves here, and methods up to Stedman Triples and Bob Major were rung before the party dispersed for lunch.

Afterwards the coach ran along near the coast to Titchfield, the only six of the day. Nobody complained of the heat, however, until we started ringing at Titchfield. An external stone staircase leads to the small ringing chamber, which soon became stifling; these bells are not renowned for their 'go,' and the sweat poured off everyone.

We found it a little cooler in the groundfloor ringing chamber of the rather disappointing eight at SS. Peter and Paul's, Fareham, after which the party had an excellent and well-earned tea at the Old Vine, just outside the town.
The last tower we visited was Petersfield. This glorious octave (tenor \(16 \frac{1}{2} \mathrm{cwt}\).) was voted the best of the day and some good touches were brought round. The end came all too soon with a good fali soon after \(8 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}\). Home was reached for most of us at 11 p.m., after a stop at Alton.

We hope that the young lady from Havant, who was in attendance for most of the day, enjoyed herself, and we were all sorry that Ben Wakefield was unable to be with us. The party express their thanks to Mr. George Hearns, the organiser, those who met us at the towers (with apologies to Liss), and others who helped to make the outing a success.
R. K. R.

\section*{RICHMOND, YORKS}

Accompanied by ringers stationed at Catterick Camp, the Richmond. St. Mary's, ringers left Richmond at \(8.30 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}\). on July 9 th for a tour in West Yorkshire and North Lancashire. The first call was the mellow eight at Sedburgh, where coffee was taken. Crossing the border into Lancashire, the next stop was the six at Cartmel, where we were greeted by the Rector and Miss Margaret Snowdon. After ringing, the party travelled to Holker Hall, about a mile away for lunch.
Some of the party then visited Flookburgh, with a heavy six (tenor 18 cwt .), whilst the remainder looked round the Hall. We found these bells to be the best of the day. The next stop was the rather cramped light eight at Morecambe, where Grandsire Triples and Kent Major were rung.
After an excellent tea the journey back to Richmond was via Lancaster and Ingleton.
Methods rung were Grandsire and Stedman Doubles. Plain Bob, Kent and Cambridge Minor, Grandsire Triples and Kent Major.
M. P. H.

\section*{DURLEIGH, SOMERSET}

Durleigh ringers, accompanied by friends, including three ringers from Wembdon, held their third annual outing, in glorious weather, on July 16 th.

Leaving Durleigh at \(9.30 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}\). the party proceeded via Bridgwater and Somerton to Bruton ( \(6,26 \mathrm{cwt}\). ), where an enjoyable 40 minutes was spent. The next tower on the list was Nunncy ( \(6,12 \mathrm{cwt}\).) and from here the party went on to Frome for lunch.
St. Mary's, Devizes ( \(6,17 \mathrm{cwt}\).), in Wiltshire, was the next objective and was reached after a pleasant run through delightful country. Tea was also taken here and afterwards the party re-entered Somerset, to Chilcompton ( 6,20 cwt.), the last tower of the day. Ringing here had to be cut short due to the party having lost the way and arriving late. A good 'lower, however, ended a very pleasant day.

Ringing included rounds, Grandsire, Plain Bob and Stedman Doubles and Bob Minor. Thanks are due to the organisers and to those who met the ringers at the towers. G. M.

\section*{RUNCORN, CHESHIRE}

Six churches in the counties of Cheshire, Derbyshire, Yorkshire and Lancashire were visited by the Grappenhall Branch of Ringers on their annual outing on July 16th.

An early start was necessary and the Runcorn party met their colleagues from the rural areas at Hathersage. It was in this very old country church that the day's ringing started, and while this was in process the visitors found the grave of Little John, of Robin Hood fame.
The journey to St. George's, Doncaster, led through Sheffield and Rotherham. In climbing the 137 steps to the ringing chamber the older ringers kept up with the younger members of the party. Ringing included touches of Cambridge Surprise. Stedman and Plain Bob Major, Doncaster Parish Church has also, according to the head verger, the largest organ in any church in the country. After these exertions the party was ready for lunch.
The Church of All Saints', Pontefract, a very beautiful building inside, was the next objective. Later St. Giles', in the centre of the town with its ring of ten bells, was visited. This was another long climb to the ringing chamber; nevertheless, the message of the bells was sent out to the hundreds of people in the shopping centre. Tea was, indeed, welcome. Pontefract was left at 6 p.m. for Ossett, the route being via Wakefield, where the Cathedral could be seen in the distance. Perhaps the villagers wondered why their bells were ringing, never dreaming that these strangers had travelled so many miles.
To reach Marsden, the industrial town of Huddersfield was passed. In this ancient church some of the local band were waiting to join in the ringing. It was 9.15 when the bells were dropped and then came the long journey home.
The outing, the tenth since the war, will go down as one of the best. Thanks are due to Mr. Cecil Raddon, the organiser, for the tremendous amount of work he put in and also to the clergy and belfry masters of the churches to the visited.

The ringers of Emmanuel Church, Plymouth, with their wives and families, set off at 7.30 a.m. sharp on July 16th for their annual outing. The weather was ideal and the early morning run took us to Torpoint Ferry through Liskeard and to Lostwithiel, where we enjoyed coffee and cakes, some even having 'Cornish pastics '-greatly appreciated, ds most of the party had had their breakfast at \(6.30 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}\).
The first real business was at Lanlivery, a village just two miles from Lostwithiel, where there is a ring of eight which has recently been renovated. The next church was St. Sampson-by-Fowey, standing on the slopes of the River Fowey and affording an excellent view of the river. The visit here created a precedent, as in the 130 churches visited by the Society since the war this is the first five-bell tower (tenor 44 cwt .). There was, however, a special reason, as one of our company, Mr. Owen Thomas, was born in the parish (as also was his wife), and christened and married in the grand old church. Mr. Thomas started his ringing there some 40 years ago.
Then on to Fowey, where the ring of eight must rank high amongst the eight-bell towers in Cornwall, and where we had some excellent ringing before seeking lunch. Fowey is a lovely spot, the home for many ycars of the late Sir Arthur Quiller-Couch, and across the river at Bodinnick Miss Daphne Du Maurier spent her childhood. We later passed near to Miss Du Maurier's home, where she now resides with her husband, General Browning, and family. Later we saw Jamaica Inn, from whence her book 'Jamaica Inn' took its name, and afterwards to Altarnun, where the niece in that story went to the Vicar for advice and help.
Leaving Fowey we wended our way amongst to Clay Pits to St. Denys, where the Rector awaited us, then on to the Goss Moor, through Bodmin and over the Bodmin Moor for an excellent high tea at the King's Head Hotel. Altarnun. At Altarnun the Vicar (the Rev. Mr Kncebone) not only gave us a welcome, but we rang some call changes for him to join in.
Stoke Climsland has a lovely ring of eight and although our ringing (Grandsire and Stedman Triples-Doubles at St. Sampson's without a tenor- and rounds for the less experienced) had been very good indeed during the day, we really excelled ourselves here, so much so that one of the local ringers said, 'Our chaps cannot ring them like it.'

After a short break at Tavistock we arrived back in Plymouth at 10.15 . having spent a most enjoyable day. At tea Mr. J. P. Sims, our captain, thanked the chara; driver, the hotel proprietors and Mr. H. H. Thomas (hon. secretary) for arranging this circular trip of S.E. Cornwall, and had a special word of thanks for Mr. 'Bill ' Collier for his work in the belfry, his latest act being the preparation of a peal board, which has now been lettered and is ready for dedication.
H. H. T.

Mr. Frank K. Measures, the Hinckley District secretary, was unfortunately unable to take part in the district's in memoriam peal to Harold J. Poole at Stoney Stanton. All the other district officers sang.

We have experts visiting all parts of the British Isles, and shall be pleased to carry out restorations or give reports regarding any make of Tower Clock

The Ringing World ' was founded in the year 1911 by John Sparkes Goldsmith, who remained its proprietor and editor until his death in 1942.

\section*{WHERE ARE THE PEAL RINGERS?}

SOME TIME ago a prominent member of the Central Council said to the editor, 'There are far too many peals rung to-day.' That was at a time when 'The Ringing World' was handling between 50 and 60 peals a week. This year has seen a dramatic change; in many weeks there have been under 30 peals received, and the question does arise as to whether the art of peal ringing on tower bells is to go the same way as those 'in hand.'

Handbell ringing to the ability to ring a peal on eight, ten or twelve bells is becoming a lost art. There are hundreds of ringers who dabble with handbells and enjoy a touch, but sustained ringing, like that in the good old days told somewhat graphically a fortnight ago, is not a part of the ringer's programme. Perhaps it is that life is far fuller; the attractions of the outer world, such as wireless, television and the cinema, have too great a call on many individuals' time to permit of ringing to be an almost exclusive hobby. Handbells as such have not lost favour; the demand for second-hand sets is still heavy. Efficiency, as in tower bell ringing, however, will only be accomplished by regular practice. To quote an example : we heard of a case of four experienced ringers 'in hand,' with a number of peals to their credit, who have met on four occasions in an attempt to score a peal without success.

As to the drop in tower bell peals, not all are due to lack of interest. To-day there is a desire for variety among experienced ringers and, generally speaking, a wish not to tolerate for record purposes anything that does not strictly conform to good ringing. From what we gather, the code of ethics among most companies will not tolerate a long sorting out. Only a minor trip is corrected. This is as it should be. Peals worthy of counting should be good peals. Have we the lynx-eyed conductors as of old who nursed the weak members of the band with such consummate skill? While the art of conducting to-day is good, it is now far more widespread. The opportunity to conduct comes to most young ringers, but it should be noted this does not always produce peals. We do not in any sense condemn these greater opportunities.

Is sufficient attention given to ropes to-day? Peal attempts that come to an abrupt termination through ropes breaking seem to be more numerous, and they are invariably a 'special occasion' peal, when there is a desire to perpetuate either the memory of an individual or a big event. It is easy to say that the ropes should be thoroughly inspected before an attempt is made, but this is not always possible. Judging by the reports we receive from outings and tours, the standard of maintenance of ropes has deteriorated.

We do not believe the precautionary methods advocated in the Central Council's handbook on the 'Preservation and Care of Bells, etc.,' are practised or observed. Ropes are expensive. A wise company will not only do its utmost to preserve the life of its bell ropes, but endeavour to build up a fund to supplement any grants made from the Parochial Church Council, and it should be remembered that in these days the maintenance of the bells is not the first consideration on a Council's funds. Best results are invariably obtained where the ringers are cooperative and in happy relations with other church workers.

The fact that the number of peals rung has diminished has resulted in more pages being available in "The Ringing World' for general reading matter. The editor would appreciate articles of general interest to ringers, particularly on any new subject. Many an old ringer has a good story to tell, and if it can be improved by a journalistic touch, well the editor is there for that purpose! The essential thing is that the advantage of the extra page or two should be for the benefit of the general reader. Already we have received appreciative messages from correspondents regarding additional general news space. The success of 'The Ringing World ' in its appeal depends on the individual contributor more than the editor. Bricks cannot be made without straw, and the straw is to be found in the towers and belfries of these islands and beyond the seas.

\section*{FROM SUSSEX TO SOMERSET TOUR}

NEARLY 1,100 MILES TRAVELLED DURING A HAPPY WEEK-32 TOWERS VISITED

1HANKS to the splendid organisation by Miss Wyman, of Lingfield, a very happy week was spent by all who took part in the week's tour of nearly 1,100 miles with headquarters at Wells. Ringing reached a very high standard throughout the week, ranging from Grandsire Triples to six-spliced Surprise Major and Cambridge Royal. 1,532 steps were climbed to ring a total of 18,364 changes in 121 touches in 32 towers.

The party travelled on Sunday, July 3rd, from Horsham by coach through Hungerford, Marlborough, Devizes to Frome, where we met Mr. Massey and were given a welcome by the Vicar previous to ringing on the fine eight at St. John's for evening service.

On arrival at Wells we were accommodated at the Ancient Gate House Hotel. The Gate House itself is 700 years old, a Norman building once in the hands of feudal barons and now scheduled as an Ancient Building. few members of the party were soon ready to believe this when they found themselves going up to their rooms via belfry-like stone stairs and being confronted with four-poster beds.
Monday, the 4th, started off on a sad note as Mr. Apps, a member of the party, was taken ill, eventually having an operation in Bristol Hospital, and consequently his relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Snelling, missed a good deal of the tour while visiting him.

Chewton Mendip was the first call; a lovely church and glorious tower containing a very melodious and easy-going eight (tenor 24 cwt .). Loath to leave them we went on to Chew Magna to find another fine eight. After lunch at beauty spot Barrington Combe, Wrington was reached, the first ten of the tour, where we were welcomed by Mr. and Mrs. Knight, and excellent use was made of these very fine bells. Some of the party visited the grave of the late John H. B. Hesse.
Yatton, with its fine tower and quaint spire, has an eight of beautiful tone and 'go.' Yorkshire, Stedman and six-spliced were well struck. Some thought this the best ring so far.

Blagdon, another fine eight, took a bit more handling than the bells at Yatton. A dog sang (or protested) as the bells were got up. It is recorded that in 1512 William Tavener gave 6s. 8d. for a new bell.

On Tuesday the first call was Ditcheat, a beautiful church in a lovely setting. Various methods were well rung, including a course of London on this easy-going eight.

\section*{'THE LANTERN OF THE WEST'}

Next came Yeovil, its lovely 15 th century church widely known as 'The Lantern of the West,' and a massive tower with one of the most harmonious rings of ten one could wish for.

At East Coker we found a very nice handy eight, the belfry entered through a door near the altar rails.
All were eager to climb the 90 steps to the belfry of Sherborne Abbey, and after the fifth rope was repaired below the sally the bells were soon going to Stedman and Cambridge. Mrs. Godley, of Yetminster, met us here.
We made a passing call at Queen Camel and heard the chimes strike six, so we were able to say that we had rung on the heaviest ten and eight and heard the heaviest six.

After dinner at Wells we were glad to go to St. Cuthbert's, a church founded by King Alfred after his victory over the Danes about 890 A.D. Good use was made of the Taylor eight (tenor 27 cwt .) and the ringing included a good course of Bristol.
On Wednesday we arrived at Curry Rivel very late so we were deprived of the full enjoyment of the good ring of eight. In the church there is a 17 th century Jennings Brothers Memorial-two troopers dressed in jackboots and jerkins.

North Curry, with its central octagonal tower, has a nice eight which needed time to get used to. In the vestry is a marble slab inscribed with an interesting account of the Reeve's Feast.

Taunton St. James' has fine-toned bells but on ball bearings by Mears in 1954. Stedman and Double Norwich went well and also three leads of Bristol. The perpendicular tower is one of the finest in the county. In the ringing room there are 14 handbells acquired in memory of a ringer, James Hunt, and in the church a children's window showing children of 18 nations-a thankoffering of the donors for the safe return of 11 nephews from the 1939-45 war.
Wellington has an excellent Taylor eight, recast 1949, and included in the ringing was a course of Wellington Little Court. In the church there is a rare pre-Reformation Lily Crucifix' in the centre mullion of the east window in the side chapel.
A diversion was made to climb the Brendon Hills to Chipstable, where one of the party (Mr. Young) spent his boyhood.
Then on to Old Cleeve with sweet-toned Mears bells (tenor \(18 \frac{3}{4} \mathrm{cwt}\).), rather long draught and a bit springy, with fine views across the sea to Dunster, Minehead and the Welsh coast. A very good Somerset tea was enjoyed here, and a fine ride with glimpses of the sea to Bridgwater, 170 feet tower, groundfloor ringing, with long draught but not too difficult to handle.

\section*{EVERCREECH'S EXAMPLE}

On Thursday we set off for Evercreech, with the fine ten so often broadcast. Everybody felt constrained to do their best and Stedman, Grandsire Caters and Cambridge Royal were rung. Group photographs were taken to form mementoes of the occasion.
The Vicar and Mr. Kynaston met us at Shepton Mallet, the oldist and finest tower in Somerset. The church has a Saxon font, a wagon-type roof with 350 panels all of different designs, and a pulpit chiselled from a single piece of stone. The bells (tenor 25 cwt .) were much enjoyed.
Lunch of chicken, strawberries and cream was taken at the Miners Arms, Priddy, associated since Roman times with lead mining, then on to Cheddar via the famous Gorge of breath-taking beauty causing everybody to wish the coach had no roof. There has been a church at Cheddar since the time of King Alfred. There is no east window, but an oil painting of the Last Supper at Emmaus by a 17 th century Dutch artist. The ringers enjoyed the ringing more than the coach driver did, as when he went to the top of the tower to scan the scenery he quickly came down when he saw cracks in the masonry opening and closing with the swing of the bells !

After tea we travelled to Mark, where the north door is guarded by two red-painted stone lions. Unfortunately they have not prevented the church being completely infested with bats and woodworm. The two trebles were added as a war memorial, and an excellent course of Yorkshire was rung on the very pleasant and easy-going ring. A course of Somerset came to grief at the fifth lead end. The Vicar met us and was pleased to see three Welsh compatriots in the company.

Our last tower of the day was Wedmore, a cruciform church with central tower, scene of the peace of Wedmore between King Altred and the Danes. We found a very good ring but four, five and six ropes go through wooden shutes causing the sixth to be quite silent to the ringer of it.

\section*{AT LYME REGIS}

On Friday we changed direction into Dorsef, and after being held up by a convoy of Army ' \(L\) ' drivers, we arrived at Lyme Regis, where we met Dr. L. Taylor and Mr. George H. Cross. The eight bells were recast and rehung by Taylors in 1953, and the tone and 'go' are perfect. The tower is in such close proximity to the sea that protective measures have continually to be taken.
A packed lunch was enjoyed on the beach at Seaton, then along the coast road to Sidmouth (Devon), a fine massive tower, bells rehung and recast by Mears in 1922, a handy light eight.
A long run took us back into Somerset to Ilminster, with a tower further round than it is high, and the church containing a most beautiful modern reredos delicately carveda sermon in stone. On the grand eight here a course of Somerset was accomplished.
From time to time we had noted Glastonbury Tor, and now we paid a visit to the church, which existed before 1144, and the tower built 1475. We were met by Mr. and Mrs. Jack Thomas, and the ringing was thoroughly enjoyed on the notably fine ring.
On Saturday we were reminded by one of the party that we were leaving Wells to go to Miells to ring the bells. We were met by Mr. Nash. The lovely bells were got up in peal and a course of Ashtead rung as well as Cambridge, Double Norwich, Stedman and Grandsire. Mells is associated with Little John Horner, and in the north-east chapel there is an equestrian statue in memory of Lt. Edward. W. Horner, who fell in France in 1917.

Nidsomer Norton was the next call, wrere a bridal couple were leaving the church as Stedman Triples were rung. We were pleased to meet Mr. J. T. Dyke, who rang the tenor to a good course of Superlative. Yorkshire was also rung. We also met Mr. G. Peters, who was on a cycling tour from Leatherhead.
Additional to the programme was Corston, with a musical Taylor eight (tenor \(9 \frac{3}{3} \mathrm{cwt}\).) with very short draught. A course of Ashtead and six-spliced Surprise was rung on this truly delightful ring. Noticed in the belfry was a framed exhortation to visiting ringers on Sunday to stay to service.

\section*{MEN'S BELLS AT BATH ABBEY}

Bath Abbey was next on the list with 121 steps to climb. There is here a very, good ten (tenor 35 cwt .), but they are ' men's' bells, reverse way round, the eighth being a handful as (Continued next page)

the rope runs over double pulleys. Grandsire and Stedman Caters were good, but Cambridge Royal soon had to be given up.
On Sunday morning about 20 of the party attended 8 a.m. Communion in Wells Cathedral, impressively conducted by the Bishop of Bath and Wells. The Taylor ten (tenor 56 cwt.) is a delight to listen to. The ringing was good and enjoyable both inside the tower and outside the Cathedral.

Before leaving Wells all members of the Darty heartily thanked Miss Wyman for all the hard work and worry involved in bringing such a venture to success, and as a small mark of appreciation she was presented by Mr. Trevor Roderick with a striking clock.
The outstanding recollections of the tour are the varied and beautiful countryside, including the wonderful Cheddar Gorge, the treasures to be seen in the churches, the magnificent towers and the fine bells, the friendly company and the blessing of a week's perfect summer weather.
After farewells were made the journey home was taken with a call at Swindon for lunch and a much appreciated pull before Sunday School on the Taylor ten with perfect tone and 'go." Mr. J. E. Lewis Cockey and Mr. Kynaston met us in the tower.
The final call was for tea at The Catherine Wheel at Henley, where conversation turned on recollections of this and prospects of another tour.

Our thanks are due specially to Mr. J. Dyke for all his help. Mr. R. O. Fry for making arrangements at Bath, and to the incumbents and all local ringers for their help and kindness in making us so welcome.
S. H. I.

\section*{HERTS COUNTY ASSOCIATION \\ St. Albans District}

St. Mary's, Essendon, whose chancel was rebuilt after Zeppelin bombing in the first world war and whose bells have been rehung very recently, was chosen for the District meeting on July 16 th. The bells are a rather plaintive ring of six, the old Chandler minor five having been augmented by a treble instead of a tenor.
With no District officers able to be present. the 15 or so at tea held no business meeting and soon returned to the tower, where from rounds to Cambridge were rung.
There will be no meeting in August; the next meeting is hoped to be at St. Michael's, St. Albans, in September.

\section*{Maidstone Grammar Schools' Change Ringing Society}

We were made very welcome by the local ringers when we held our fourth meeting at Yalding on July 23 rd. Ringing started at 3 p.m. and a service was held at 4 p.m., which was attended by some of the villagers as well as ringers. An excellent tea was prepared by Miss Ann Howlden and Miss Jean Langley, who are members of the Society. This was particularly enjoyed by some junior male members.
The business meeting followed with the Rev. W. L. Howlden in the chair. One new member was elected. One name was withdrawn from the membership list because the ringer concerned is no longer able to ring. More ringing followed and the meeting closed at 8 p.m. Nethod ringing was not very successful as there were not enough who could ring any one method. There were some Plain Bob ringers and some Grandsire ringers, but not enough of either.

\section*{ENGLISH BELL WANTED FOR SINHALESE CATHEDRAL}

Plans are being prepared to build a Cathedral in the comparatively new diocese of Kurunagala in Ceylon. The Bishop of Kurunagala (the Right Rev. H. L. J. De Mel) is anxious for the building to contain some visible link with England, and has asked if any church or cathedral in this country can provide a bell.
The diocese of Kurunagala was created in 1950 and is the second diocese of the Church of Ceylon. Bishop De Mel, who trained for the ministry at at Keble College, Oxford, and Cuddesdon Theological College, and served his first curacy in Kennington, is the first Sinhalese Anglican Bishop.
Suggestions would be welcomed by the Secretary, Church Information Boad, Church House, Westminster, S.W.1.

While ringing for the Queen Mother's birthday on Thursday, Mr. H. Langdon was responsible for one of those gracious little actions so typical of him. The second touch, one of two courses of Stedman Caters, was rung at his request, as a compliment and farewell to Mr. J. E. Lewis Cockey, those present wishing the latter happiness for his future in Winnipeg. This action was very much appreciated by Mr. Cockey. Those taking part were: J. E. Lewis Cockey 1, H. Langdon (conductor) 2, H. Belcher 3, T. H. Taffender 4, J. Philips 5, A. B. Peck 5, G. E. Cecil 7, W. J. Rawlings 8, R. Deal 9, J. H. Crampion 10 , Mr. W. Langdon kindly giving over his bell for the touch.

Mr. F. Skidmore has retired from the secretaryship of St. Ambrose Guild, Bristol, a position he has held for 28 years.
The peal of Yorkshire Surprise Maximus at Sheffield Cathedral on August 1st was J. Martin Thorley's 100th peal for the Yorkshire Association, and 100 th peal of Surprise.
A new organisation is introduced to readers this week in 'Friends of the Exercise.' Their correspondent is C. Savage, c/o Edenhurst, Tutshill, Chepstow, Mon.
By ringing in a peal of Grandsire Caters at St. Mary's, Beverley, on August 1st, Mr. Stanley E. Bennett completed the Grandsire range from Doubles to Cinques.

As a memorial to Mr. Charles Mead, who for many years called the villagers to worship, the Parochial Church Council of Great Parndon have decided to have the bells of the Parish Church put into good ringing order at a cost of about \(£ 250\). Those who wish to share in this memorial can send their gift to the Rev. Alban Rabson, Rector of Great Parndon. Essex.

\section*{BELFRY GOSSIP}

It is many years since the Rev. A. G. G. Thurlow was a young curate at Wokingham. The occasion of his marriage on Saturday, July 30 th, was, however, remembered by the local ringers, who attempted a peal in honour of the event. Unfortunately, this was unsuccessful. It was followed by a complimentary quarter.
A very fine peal of Yorkshire Surprise Maximus was rung at Sheffield Cathedral on August Ist conducted from the 40 cwt . tenor by Mr. Wilfred Williams.

Mr. David A. Carpenter, of Coventry, rang his first peal of Cinques at Evesham on July 23 rd, an in memoriam peal to Dr. Cash, late Bishop of Worcester.

Bedfordshire Young Ringers are on tour this week in Somerset. Their programme includes visits to 29 towers. This is the Young Ringers' sixth tour. They have no officers and no con-stitution-an ideal democracy.
Three ringers from Teignmouth joined three local ringers at Townstal to ring the quarter peal reported on page 454. Much satisfaction is felt at this step on the ladder to establish change ringing in this part of Devon.
Mr. Alfred J. Wallater, after 43 years' residence in San Francisco, is on a visit to his old tower, St. Giles', Walsall. A complimentary peal of Stedman Caters was conducted in honour of the event on July 30th by Miss Stella Hughes.

Those on holiday in Cornwall should note that combined practices are being held during the summer in central eight-bell towers organised by the Ringing Master, Mr. D. Burnett. The secretary of the Guild ts the Rev. W. H. R. Trewhella, Penheola, Crantock, Newquay, Comwall.

OUT AND ABOUT IN NORTH STAFFORDSHIRE

TWHE six towns that federated to form the city of Stoke-on-Trent stretch almost in line north, north-west, and each possesses its ring of bells. The most southerly is Longton, affectionately known locally as the Neck-end, the centre of the china manufacturing industry. In the shadow of the railway bridge which crosses the square in front of the Town Hall lies the brick Church of St. John the Baptist, Lane End (Longton), its tower now floated separately from the church on a concrete raft to minimise the effect of mining subsidence, which was gradually destroying it. The bells are eight in number ( 15 cwt .), augmented by Taylors from a ring of seven installed by T. Mears in 1815. A curious feature is that one bell, when rung on its own, sounds in the belfry dead and quite unmusical, but appears to gain in quality as it is rung and blends well when the eight are turning.

Fenton, the sixth town, omitted in Arnold Bennett's novels, possesses another brick church with a tower of fine proportions. The first peal on this modern ring of eight ( 14 cwt .) was in 1901. The Rev. E. V. Cox, a welcome resident in the district, was curate here from 1905 to 1907, and took part in many peals for the North Staffordshire Association.

\section*{ST. PETER-AD-VINCULA}

The city is famous the world over for its pottery, and in the Church of St. Peter-ad-Vincula, Stoke-on-Trent. are remembered the men who raised this primitive craft to a high art-the Spodes, Wedgwoods, Adams and Mintons. The church is modern, built in the last century on the site of an earlier edifice. Two arcades in the churchyard, now pleasantly laid out in flower gardens and lawns, are the remains of the earlier church. The tower possesses a sonorous ring of eight bells ( 20 cwt . in E flat), cast and installed in the reign of William IV. by William and John Taylor. Fourteen of the 36 peals rung here for the Association have taken place since 1944, and of these only one has been of Triples (Stedman, 1950), seven have been of Surprise Major, including one of Pudsey fully muffled for the passing of King George VI., three of Double Norwich and the other three of Treble Bob.

\section*{COINS IN HANLEY BELLS}

A mile and a half from Stoke is Hanley, the shopping centre of the city and birthplace of Arnold Bennett. The Parish Church of St. John the Evangelist. on a hill-top overlooking the old Port Vale football ground, was erected in the middle years of the 18th century. The ten bells (tenor 18 cwt . in E) cause a noticeable sway to the tower which, like the body of the church. is built of red brick. Eight of the bells date from 1790, being the work of Edward Arnold of Leicester; several of them, in addition to the founder's marks, bear coins from the reign of George III. The ascent to the singing chamber used to be quite a difficult and, on dark winter evenings, dangerous experience, entailing the descent of an unguarded flight of steps to the boiler room beneath the tower followed by a tortuous ascent to the -ringing room. More direct access has since been made.

Burslem church is undistinguished-a classical body retaining its 15 th century tower in which is a ring of six bells ( \(11 \frac{1}{\mathrm{c}} \mathrm{cwt}\). in F sharp) by William Dobson, of Downham, Norfolk (1828).

The slender spire of Christ Church, Tunstallshe most northerly of the pottery towns-con-towers of the district. Forty-four peals have been rung on the bells and all the first 36 between 1891 and 1934 were in seven methods, including the first band conducted peal in North Staffordshire (1896) and the first 'silent" peal of Surprise in the county (1897). Only one peal of Doubles has ever been rung on these bells (1947). Here in 1950 was rung the first peal of Woodcock's Victory Treble Bob Minor.

North of Bucknall, high on a wind-swept ridge commanding magnificent views on either side, is the Church of St. Bartholomew, Norton-le-Moors. The original six were by William Dobson in 1826, who inscribed his treble with the, one would have thought, superfluous legend, 'Give no offence to the church.' These were recast by Taylors in 1930 and augmented by them to eight ( 121 cwt. in F sharp) in 1949. The six-bell ringing was, as at Bucknall and as witnessed by the peal boards, in a great variety of methods, many long since forgotten or disallowed! Surprise Major is now regularly rung at this tower by the Sunday service band.

\section*{BROWN EDGE}

Winding through a cleft in a moorland ridge, a stone's throw from Norton, is the mining village of Brown Edge with its church dedicated to St. Anne standing on an outcrop of rock. The tower with its stumpy spire, built in 1854. ten years after the body of the church, carries six bells ( 10 cwt . in G), the gift of one Hugh Henshall Williamson in 1855 and cast by
C. and G. Mears. The bells were rehung by Taylors in 1946. The louvres in the tower are bricked up and the sound escapes through the spire lights, four on each of its four faces.

Further north is Biddulph Moor. Here are strange legends of Vikings, Saxon warriors and Crusaders, the tragedy of Francis Biddulph who carried the plague over the moor and who lived at the now ruined hall. It takes its name from the village of Biddulph with its ancient church dedicated to St. Lawrence. The six bells ( 10 cwt. in \(F\) sharp), cast by Mears and Stainbank in 1873, were the gift of Robert Heath, of Biddulph Grange. All are inscribed, but the third is somewhat unusual:-
'Prosperity attend old England's shore,
Let Biddulph flourish now and evermore.'
Numerous peals have been rung on these bells, including one of Biddulph Double Surprise Minor.

The border between Staffordshire and Cheshire is marked by a ridge which rises suddenly and steeply from the Plain and marks the limit of hills and moorland of Biddulph and beyond. Its highest point is marked by Mow Cop castle, a 19th century artificial ruin whose tower walls, on at least one occasion, have echoed to Grandsire Triples on handbells. At the foot of this escarpment and just in Staffordshire is the modern township of Kidsgrove, its brick-built church nestling in a wooded clough alongside the railway and canal as they emerge from the mile-long Harecastle tunnel. The tower possesses a light musical ring of six bells (11 cwt.) by Thomas Mears, 1836.

AUDLEY'S LOCAL BAND
On the Newcastle to Nantwich road lies Audley, a mining township built in the first instance on the Roman road that runs across the county to Uttoxeter. Its church with a squat embattled tower is on the lee-side of the hill-top. The body of the church has been rebuilt, but still contains many interesting features. A brass to Sir Thomas Audley recalls his father, the bravest knight of Poitiers, who fought with the Black Prince. Three of the eight bells date from 1697 and further bells were added by Abraham Rudhall in 1730 and 1756 and a sixth by William Dobson in 1828 . The bells were rehung and augmented to eight (tenor 15 cwt . in \(F\) sharp) after the last war. The first peal was rung on these bells in 1924 and was in seven Minor methods, and the tower records include the first of London Surprise Major for the North Staffs Association by an entirely resident band.

A landmark for many miles around is the tower and fine spire of the Church of St. Margaret. Wolstanton, a village with Saxon origins and considerable importance judging by its mention in the Domesday Book. The church suffered considerable rebuilding in the 19th century when, among other alterations, the roof was restored to its original pitch. The tower with its Saxon base (attached to the north aisle) has, however, remained almost unchanged over the centuries, the only additions being a turret and pinnacles to the parapet. It houses a fine ring of eight tenor 14 cwt . in F), rehung on ball bearings by Taylors in 1948.

bell (1623), the gift of a blacksmith whose mark, hammer and tongs are still on the bell All bear the mark of Rudhall. Two other bells were added in 1884, half the cost being raised by the local ringers. More peals have been rung for the North Staffs Association on these bells than at any other tower in the district, 46 in number, 41 being rung before 1913. The first peal for the Association, the first of Triples and Treble Bob Major for the Association were rung on these bells.

\section*{NEWCASTLE-UNDER-LYME}

A trec-lined road across Wolstanton Marsh leads to Newcastle-under-Lyme, an ancient borough which arose round the castle built by John of Gaunt. The spacious and imposing Parish Church of St. Giles in neo-Gothic architecture was designed by Sir Gilbert Scott and replaces an older building in classical style. The massive 13 th century tower alone remains of the original church on this site, and in it hangs a ring of ten bells (tenor 16 cwt . in E).

The original eight were by Abraham Rudhall in 1732, being augmented by Gilletts in 1935. The two new trebles were hung over the old oak frame. The tower ultimately cracked, possibly due, in part, to the considerable and alarming movement of the old frame. When repairs were commenced on the tower in 1954 the bells were rehung 17 ft . lower in the tower. but as the ringing chamber was dropped by an equal amount. there is still a considerable draught of rope to control. Pits were added for two further bells. Thirty-four peals have been rung on the bells, including one for the Ancient Society of College Youths.

A mile from Newcastle and some mile and a half from Wolstanton lies the mining village of Silverdale, a straggling and dilapidated township, broken by the ravages of mining subsidence which is preventing any new building in or near its centre. Overshadowed by pithead shafts, the pleasant but unpretentious modern church stands in its wooded churchyard. The tower at the east end of the south aisle carrids a short spire and contains an eight (tenor 9 cwt . in A flat) by John Warner and Sons, 1908, since rehung. Some 30 peals have been rung here, including one of Stedman Triples in 1910, in which J. W. Washbrook, the conductor, rang both 3 rd and 4 th, and the first peal of Burslem Surprise Major (1951). In order to be up in time to ring for the first service on a recent church festival, two members of the local band spent the night in the belfry!

\section*{KEELE SPIRE A LANDMARK}

High on a wooded ridge above Silverdale and. as it seems, in a country village quite remote from indusiry, the tall spire of Keele stands out as a landmark. The church was rebuilt in the 19th century, the old church possessing only a small squat tower. The oldest bell, the Sth, bears the inscription:-
'Ora Pro Nobis Sancte Iohannes Baptista,' and a patera with a king's head embossed on it. The 3rd and tenor ( 1638 and 1647) appear to be by Paul Hutton, of Congleton. The trebles were added by William Dobson in 1829. Several peals have been rung on these bells, including one on Coronation Day, 1953. The bells have not gone well for some years and are temporarily silent. The old Elizabethan hall, for centuries the home of the Sneyd family and more recently of the Grand Duke Michael of Russia, is now the centre of the new University of North Staffordshire.

Travelling westwards from Keele the road forks, the left-hand road leading to the village of Madeley, now fast increasing in size with estates of prefabricated and Council houses round its fringe. The centre of the old part, however, remains unchanged and much as Izaak Walton knew it. The half timbered Tudor hall with its inscription, 'Walk knave: What Lookest At,' overlooks the mere, the haunt of swans and wild fowl. Beyond stands the church on a knoll, approached through an avenue of yew trees. Part of the church is 13 th century, although the tower with its projecting staircase, unusual in this part of the country, is somewhat later.
The ringing chamber, a gallery over the west door, is open to the church, a natural hazard when peal ringing as the writer had occasion to notice particularly one winter's evening when severe competition was encountered from the organist and choir participating in a rehearsal of a Nativity play. (This had been arranged after permission for the peal had been granted.) After one unheard bob and subsequent restart, the peal won. Another bazard is the west window, which reaches from floor to ceiling and is without blinds. The exceedingly musical six bells (tenor 11 cwt.) are by Rudhalls, four dating from 1711, one from 1753 and the tenor 1808, when all were recast at the same foundry. They have since been rehung by Taylors. There is no local band to ring these delightful bells.

The Rudhalls also cast five of the bells ( \(8 \pm\) cwt.) at Betley on the northerly road from Keele. Four date from 1711 (God Save Queen Anne) and the other, 1784, by Charles and John Rudhall. Only three peals are known to have been rung on these bells, the tenors responding only to considerable physical effort. The church itself has a half-timbered clerestory and is remarkable for its interior woodwork. Not only does it possess a fine pulpit and screens, but the arches also are of wood and the octagonal columns of the arcade are hewn out of single trunks of English chestnut. These, alas, are now in need of considerable attention.

On the Shropshire border is the village of Mucklestone with a 14th century church. Four of the five bells (tenor 11 cwt.) are by Abraham Rudhall (1742) and the fifth by T. Mears (1839): unfortunately these are no longer ringable. It was from this tower that Queen Mar-

\section*{LYME REGIS}

Favoured with a lovely, very warm day, Lyme Regis ringers and some friends made Southampton their objective on July 23rd. Calling at Blandford for coffee about 9 a.m., the picturesque village of Wimborne St. Giles-the seat of the Earl of Shaftesbury - was first visited. The nice going eight (tenor 17 cwt .) provided an hour's good ringing.
A very pleasant run to Fordingbridge and then over open country into the New Forest brought the party to Romsey. Here the fine eight (tenor 24 cwt .) were much enjoyed, but a funeral service necessitated a break of twenty minutes in the ringing and threw the time-table a little out of shape. However, it enabled some members to view the bells in the wooden octagon and see the town from the roof. The Vicar. Canon W. E. Norris, most kindly invited the party into his shady garden for their pienic lunch. Then on to Southampton, some half an hour late. where the Rev. K. W. H. Felstead welcomed all to St. Michael's and joined in some creditable touches on the ten good going lightish bells.
Notwithstanding the spate of traffic through the Forest, Lyndhurst was reached dead on time, and after a substantial tea a move was made to the tower, where the eight bells (tenor 12 cwt .), especially the trebles, called for considerable mastery. Some good striking, however, resulted, including a course of London Major.
Veteran Mr. George Preston was awaiting the ringers at Christchurch Priory, and it was a disappointment that he could not venture as far as the belfry to join in the ringing. Rounds on the 12 bells (tenor 27 cwt .) were enjoyed as well as touches of Caters and Royal, the highlight conclusion of the day's ringing being a fincly struck course of Bristol Major on the back eight.
Methods rung at the various towers were Grandsire and Stedman Triples and Caters, Kent Royal, Cambridge, Yorkshire, London and Bristol Surprise Major.
Allowing some time for a supper halt at Wimborne Minster, home was reached soon after 11 p.m. leaving memories of another highly pleasurable trip.

\section*{STOWMARKET, SUFFOLK}

One June 25th the Stowmarket company, augmented by friends and ringers of the district. made a tour of their 'home' country on the occasion of their annual outing.
Ringing took place at St. Mary's. Bungay, Beccles, St. Margaret's, Lowestoft, Pakefield, Southwold, Halesworth and Stradbroke, with lunch at Lowestoft and tea at Southwold

Ringing ranged from rounds and call-changes for the learners to Cambridge Major and Grandsire Caters, and regret was expressed on all sides at the absence of Mr. H. D. Lister, who is still indisposed but progressing favourably. A feature of the day was the excellent progress shown by the younger generation.

To all incumbents, local ringers, in particular Eddie Goate, John Blythe and the two young ladies who had raised the bells at Lowestoft, and finally Mr. O. G. Barnard for so ably arranging everything, a very hearty thank you from us all.

\section*{LETTERS TO \\ \section*{SPLICED SURPRISE MAJOR IN SEVEN} METHODS}

Dear Sir,--Since reading the comment in page 409 of 'The Ringing World' regarding Mr. Eric Critchley conducting my three compositions of Spliced Surprise Major from 'inside' bells, and inquiring about the possibilities of compositions in seven or eight methods, I have gone into the question of adding further methods to the six methods, and up to the present I have managed to include Dorchester Surprise Major, so making seven with the full work of each method for all bells by some rearrangement of the methods. I send enclosed a copy of the composition as arranged. I must sincerely congratulate Mr. Critchley and other conductors on having called my difficult compositions and wish them further success.- Yours faithfully,

All the work of the seven methods for all bells. Contains 960 London. 928 Watford, 896 Bristol, 672 Cambridge. 608 Dorchester, 640 Superlative. 576 Pudsey. To reduce, omit three Bobs Home (3) and the Bristol leads between at one or both places.

\section*{LYME REGIS BROADCAST}

Dear Sir.-Through the medium of 'The Ringing World ' I should like to thank all who have so kindly expressed, in various ways, their appreciation of the broadcast ringing from Lyme Regis on Sunday, July 17th.

It is most gratifying to all concerned to know that despite many difficulties, their efforts to maintain a high standard of striking, especially for Sunday service ringing, has been so widely noted.

May we hope that this may spur on our many friends, especially in the West Country, to keep the flag of 'Good Striking 'flying in their respective towers. - Yours faithfully, Lyme Regis.

G. S. MORRIS.

\section*{FIVE-BELL TOWERS}

Dear Sir,-I wonder if any of your readers can suggest reasons for the small number of five-bell towers in the North of England. There appear to be only nine fives in Lancashire, Yorkshire, Durham, Cumberland, Westmorland, Northumberland and Scotland. Nine out of a possible 362 towers with five or more. Whereas in Northamptonshire there are 93 fives out of a possible 198.-Yours faithfully.

\section*{TONAL QUALITIES OF BELLS}

Dear Sir,-In reply to Mr. David Beacham's query (page 488), I suggest that the best tonal qualities from a ring of bells is obtained by hanging 6 ft . to 12 ft . below the louvres with as much head height above as possible. Most rings would be hung below a spire, but the important point would be keeping bells from shouting out of the window.-Yours, etc.,
H. A. PRICE.

\section*{ST. DIONIS', FENCHURCH STREET}

Dear Sir,-If I may, I would like to comment on one or two letters in 'The Ringing World of July 29th. I fear Mr. Botting, in Australia, has not realised that the 'period' I write about is from 1881 onwards (although I frequently mention it). There were no peals at St. Dionis' Fenchurch Street, in that time, as I said. I had 'collected' the five peals he mentioned and also another one which, I think, must have been the last peal on the bells there-Kent Treble Bob Royal, on December 8th, 1877.
Concerning Bob Triples at Leiston Mr. Stannard is quite right-I have recorded three peals there-on November 6th and November 20th, 1886, and January 3rd, 1887 (he gives another peal instead of this one). There have been none there since in the method. I wonder if the original peal board has been painted out and re-used, as sometimes happens! The first peal on the bells was on December 26th, 1884, and the peal rung in January this year was the 301st I have recorded. I shall say more about this popular tower when I get to 'Peal Ringing in Suffolk.'-Yours faithfully,
K. W. H. FELSTEAD.

Southampton.

\section*{A PRESLDENT: THANKS}

Dear \(\mathrm{Sir},-\mathrm{I}\) should be grateful if you will allow me to express my thanks to Mr. L. W. G. Morris and the members of the Yorkshire Association who kindly rang a peal of Yorkshire Surprise Major at Heptonstall on July 23 rd in honour of my institution and induction as Vicar of St. John the Evangelist, Leeds, which had taken place two days beforehand. As one who has sometimes been critical when frivolous 'excuses' have been given for pealringing, I feel that coals of fire have now been heaped on my head, and must confess before all the (ringing) world that my only sensations on hearing of this graceful compliment were those of modest pleasure.

May I also thank the five senior members of the Association who attended the institution and induction ceremony and rang a course of Grandsire Caters on handbells during the service. This spontaneous and kindly gesture was much appreciated not only by myself, but by the Bishop, and by many others who were apparently hearing change-ringing on handbells for the first time, and have since told me how much they enjoyed it.-Yours sincerely,
C. O. ELLISON,

President, Yorkshire Association of Change

PEAL RINGING IN NORTHAMPTONSHIRE
Dear Sir,-I contend that the Rev. K. W. .H. Felstead is trying to bite off more than he can chew in his record of peals rung since 1881. Others in the past have tried to do this, including the late Thomas North, with the result that what they have handed on to posterity contains a number of inaccuracies and omissions. Several such instances have been noted by myself and others in North's works on Bedfordshire, Dean being a typical case, where he accounts for only three bells, whereas there have been four since 1677.
Now a few words about these alleged 'virgin or unconquered towers.' My own tower, Weston Favell, for example, has had five bells since 1707. How can Mr. Felstead, or any other living person, say with accuracy what number of peals have been rung there? The first might have been in 1707, who can say it was not? No one living then is here to tell us otherwise and there is no record of any peal prior to 1908, in which year the bells were last rehung. In the belfry there is recorded 'The first peai on the bells, which I contend should read 'May be the first peal on the bells.'
There must be hundreds of similar towers up and down the country where five or more of the bells date back beyond living memory, or beyond the time when territorial Guilds or ringing newspapers came into being, and therefore in the absence of a peals register the only known peals prior to that time are those recorded on old peal boards, and even some of these may have disappeared years ago. I remember giving a framed card of my first peal (in 1924) rung at Hardingstone, conducted by Harry Clarke, who is to-day still living at 88 years to tell of his experiences. A few years later this card disappeared-nobody knows where! The year 1924 is comparatively recent, and there may be others similar of a century or more ago in many towers. How, therefore, can Mr. Felstead, or anyone else truthfully state 'to hand on to posterity' which are virgin towers?
I know at least two such towers where he is definitely wrong about them being unconquered And where does he get his 96 five-bell towers in Northants from? I make the number 92 , and that includes Barnack, which he claims is a ring of six, which it never has been! Barnack has a minor five, hung in a frame for five only. The sixth bell is a clock bell, hung dead on its own, and never has rung.
He might just as well claim St. Matthew's, Northampton, as an unconquered ring of 12 , Great Houghton as an unconquered ring of six, and Duddington as an unconquered ring of six! This brings down the true total of sixbell towers to 72 , not 73 .
As to where he gets his 96 fives from, I am still at a loss to know. I do know that Adstone, with only one bell in a cote, is wrongly given in 'Dove' as a church with five bells-but there isn't even a tower! So much so, that still leaves four ' imaginary rings of five,' not counting Barnack.-Yours sincerely,
P. AMOS.

Weston Favell, Northants.

\title{
PEAL RINGING IN OXFORDSHIRE

\author{

PEAL ringing in Oxfordshire 70 years ago was very largely influenced by the activities of the Rev. F. E. Robinson and his cronies, for, living on the borders of the county, many of his peals were rung there. This is shown in the fact that many towers recorded more peals in his day than they have done since (he died just before the first world war). Thus the tower with most peals-Caversham (8)-had 135 of its total of 154 rung between 1885 and 1915. These included many in the most advanced methods then practised (the now 'standard' Surprise methods). There was a brief activity after this war, for 11 peals came from the years 1919 to 1922, but then the number dwindled to seven in the 14 years from 1924 to 1937. This year has heard the only peal rung there since then. Thus the glory of this tower is certainly in the past.
Its pre-1914 total is almost as many as the score of the second tower on the list-Kidlington (8). The average per year before 1914 is the best in this church also, although recently (with 29 peals from 1944 to 1954, but volume now diminishing) it has picked up again. From 1890 to 1915, 82 peals were rung, and after a couple more in 1918 and 1919, a burst of activity which produced 28 from 1922 to 1932. There was only one more before the last war, in 1936. Grand total 142, then.

\section*{ST. EBBE'S POPULARITY}

The only other centenarian in the county since 1881 is Oxford, St. Ebbe's (8). This has been easily the most popular tower of recent years, for 74 of its 109 peals have been rung since 1944. The first peal recorded there was when it had six bells, in 1919, and it had only registered seven when the trebles were added, in 1925. Then came 28 peals in the next 14 years until the war put an end to activities.

Witney (8) will soon be celebrating the 100 mark. The peak periods here have also been early on and in recent years with few between the wars. Sixty of the 97 peals were rung from \(\square 887\) to 1915 and there have been 26 since 1943.

Dorchester's (8) peals are more evenly spread over the years. Out of 89 rung, 33 were prior to 1914, 25 between the wars and 31 in the past ten years, which is the most in any tower since the war except for St. Ebbe's. The only 12 -bell tower in the county, Oxford Cathedral, is sixth on the list with 81 peals. Only ten peals were sung from 1900 to 1930, but there had been 47 in the last 20 years of the 19th century, and there have been 24 since 1930 ( 14 since the war).

\section*{BANBURY'S ATTRACTION}

It is obvious that the 8 -bell towers have been most popular in the county. Five of the above six are in that category, and we find that the first 10 -bell tower is 13 th on the list in number of peals rung. This is Banbury, with 33. It was an 8 -bell tower until 25 years ago, and only five peals had then been rung there (in 1897, 1901, 1906, 1909 and 1927). After augmentation, 15 peals were rung in the 1930's and there have been 14 since 1945. Thus it seems that adding the trebles was well worth while from the ringer's point of view. Perhaps this is because the other two 10 -bell towers are in Oxford colleges and so are not available to the same extent as most church rings. Thus New College has had 15 peals since 1885-the last in 1950, and Magdalene College only ten-the first in 1919 and five since the war.

To return to the 8 -bell towers in order of popularity. we find Shipton-under-Wychwood coming next with 60 peals (although not heard of much these days), 53 of these were rung from 1893 to 1912, so only seven have come in the past 40 years (four since 1945). This completes the towers with more than 50 peals, for Bicester, next on the list, has 48-nine from 1883 to 191413 from 1922 to 1939, and 26 since 1946. Woodstock's 41 are spread evenly over the years from 1885. Ten of Goring-onThames' 40 came when it was a 6 -bell tower between 1896 and 1924. The first peal on the eight was in 1930 so 30 peals have come in 20 ringing years since then.

Towers with peal totals in the 30 's are Burford (38), Southleigh ( \(36-\) only four since 1925), Kirtlington (31) and Chipping Norton and Shiplake ( 30 ). All the 8 -bell towers have had peals rung at them, Bloxham's one and only being in 1908. Oxford, St. Peter's, has the longest silence. The 26 peals rung there were all between 1891 and 1897 ! Merton College very nearly beat this for the peal rung there in 1945 is the only one since 1896. Apart from the one iust mentioned Great Milton is the only tower which has not appeared in the peal lists since the war. The last of its seven peals was in 1931.

\section*{SIX-BELL RINGING}

Onlv three six-bell towers have reached double figures-all of them through welcome post-war activity. Cassington and St. Thomas' Oxford, both have 14 peals. In the case of the former. 11 since 1946. and at the latter, 13 since 1945 (only previous neal in 1889). Cowley is the third tower with double figures-10. All have been rune since 1949 Chastleton and Launton each have eight neals. In both cases the last one was rung nearly 25 years ago. Thus 6 -bell ringing has never been very popular here. Actually 22 of the 706 -bell towers have had just a single peal ( 17 of them since the war) and eight towers remain to be conquered-Ascott-under-Wychwood; Cuddesdon; Horspath; Northleigh; Oxford. St. Aldate's; Oxford. Carfax (a peal rung in 1945 was, apparently, false); Wardington: Wolvercote.
Of the 5 -bell towers, 17 out of 27 have not had a peal yet. Eight of the ten which have, have only had one peal. Of the other two, Bodicote has had two since the war, but Marston has been doing very well. It is one of the very few 5-bell towers which have reached double figures. All jits ten peals have come since the war and have included record peals of Doubles in 21, 22, 25. 30 and 42 methods. May it long carry on this good work.

One final point about this county. I think I expected to find more peals rung than has actually been the case. I suppose this was because it is a large county and diocese and so near London. I find I was, to some extent. mistaken. Peal totals include all published to July 22nd, 1955.

\section*{GOLDEN WEDDING ANNIVERSARY}

Golden wedding congratulations 10 Mr . and Mrs. Alfred Reeves, of 2 , Green Street, Totterdown. Bristol. The happy anniversary took place on August 5th, when they received the hest wishes of a wide circle of ringing friends. Their marriage took place near Newbury. Berks, and they have a son and daughter, five grandchilden and two great-grandehildren. 'Alfie.' who is now 76, has been ringing since the age of 16 . He is still regarded as one of Bristol's steadiest ringers, and many would be pleased with half his abilities. For 52 years he was employed on the Great Western Railway, and retired in 1947 .

\section*{MIDLAND COUNTIES GUILD}

\section*{First Meeting at Swepstone}

Under present-day transport conditions ringers frequently find that a meeting at an isolated tower is a doubtful venture, but thanks to a shuttle service of cars the Guild was able to 'invade' for the first time the pleasant Leicestershire village of Swepstone.

The recently-installed ring of six bells was rung to a variety of methods before the Vicar (the Rev. G. Malcombe) conducted shortened Evensong and extended a welcome to the ringers before delivering an inspiring address.

Following tea in the Church Room, the secretary (Mr. J. W. Cotton) referred to the loss the Leicester Diocesan Guild had sustained by the death of their president (Mr. H. J. Poole). In paying tribute to his memory Mr. Cotton spoke of his greatness as a ringer and conductor and gave a few instances when his brilliance excelled. The members stood in silence as a tribute to his respected memory.

The next meeting, a joint one with the Derby. shire Association, will be at Melbourne on August 27th. Thanks were accorded to the local ringers' wives who had prepared tea.

Towers represented were Burton, St. Modwen and St. Paul's, Repton, Winshill, Netherseale, Overseale, Measham, Packington, Ibstock and Lullington.

\section*{BEVERLEY & DISTRICT SOCIETY}

The annual meeting of the Beverley and District Ringing Society was held at St. Peter's Church, Hutton Cranswick, on Saturday, July 9 th, at the invitation of the Vicar, the Rev. G. S. Storer. The occasion was also the fifth anniversary of the dedication by the Archbishop of York of the restored bells at this church.

Forty members attended the meeting from York, Pațrington, Sutton-on-Hull, Market Weighton, Hessle, Hull, Bridlington. Bcverley, Eastrington, Rise, Driffield and Barrow-onHumber. The bells were rung to various methods and a service was conducted by the Rev. G. S. Storer.
Tea provided by the Vicar and ladies of the church was served in the Schoolroom.

At the business meeting which followed, the president (Mr. A. E. Sellers, of Beverley) presided. and the secretary (Mr. H. Parker, of Bridlington) reported on the 12 successful meetings held during the year.

Officers elected were :-President. Mr. A. E. Sellers; vice-president, Mr. G. Braithwaite ; secretary, Mr. H. Parker; assistant secretary, Miss A. Davie; Ringing Master, Mr. L. Rodmell ; Assistant Ringing Master, Mr. C. Barker: committee, Messrs. A. Taylor (Beverley), W. Tyson (Bridlington), F. Wilkinson (Pocklington) and R. Ducker (Sutton).

Further ringing concluded the meeting

\section*{NORTH SHIELDS}

Ringers from Christ Church, North Shields, accompanied by friends, held their annual outing on Junc 26th. Travelling by coach, the first halt was at Wooler, where an excellent lunch was served at the Ryecroft Hotel.

During the afternoon the route was via Ford and Etal to Bamburgh. A stop was made at Ford for the party to visit the Schoolroom to see the paintings by the late Marchioness of Waterford.

On arrival at Bamburgh tea was enjoyed at the Mizen Head Hotel and the ringers then went to the Church of St . Aidan to ring for Evensong. The bells were a pleasure to ring, and the younger members are to be congratulated upon their handling of the bells.

The homeward journey was via Seahouses, Warkworth (a short halt) and Amble and was a delightful run down the coast on a summer's evening.

\section*{ST. ALBANS CATHEDRAL}

This year the outing for the St. Albans Abbey ringers and friends, on July 9th, was enlivened by a high proportion of young beginners, all of whom have started to ring since last summer. This section, naturally, occupied the rear of the coach.
With a 7 a.m. start, the first call was at Guildford, where the fine octave at the proCathedral of Holy Trinity was rung, It was a pleasure to be met by the editor of "The Ringing World' and his son, Mark. Next was Godalming with a central tower and spire. The belfry was found to be very close and warm, the only ventilation being two small holes' in the walls.
After passing the lovely "Devil's Punchbowl,' Portsmouth was reached 'or lunch. It is very inspiring to see the splendid new Cathedral of St. Thomas of Canterbury rising here in a bold, new design, incorporating the old Parish Church and west tower as a choir and central tower. The ringers here are well justified in taking pride in their bells. It was certainly a pleasure to ring here. The fine late-Victorian church of Portsea was next visited, with its tall tower ( 143 feet against St. Albans' 144 feet) and fine bells. Several made the long journey to the roof, where the fine view was admired.
After tea, the journey home, and a visit to Haslemere, with its light ring of ten. Quite a good course of Cambridge Royal was achieved along with touches of Stedman Caters and rounds. At the final call it was surprising the number of ' 18 th birthdays' there were amongst the younger lads. Home was reached all too soon after such an enjoyable day.

\section*{LEATHERHEAD, SURREY}

Accompanied by visiting ringers from Cobham. Clandon, Dorking, Ditton and Banstead. Leatherhead's annual outing on June 25th was to East Kent and Romney Marsh.
By starting at 6.30 a.m., Maidstone was reached for coffee just after \(8 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}\). and then to the first bells of the day, Leeds (10), immortalised by the feat of James Barham in 1761, when the bells were rung to the complete number of changes on eight bells. There is an association between Leatherhead and Leeds as it was a prior of Leeds who in the 15 th century built the Surrey church.

Ringing followed at Lenham and Wye with its large ringing chamber with plenty of light, and good bells in good going order The unspoilt village of Chilham with its half-timbered buildings and very good ring of bells was a delight to all the company.
After lunch at Ashford the journey was made across Romney Marsh, which is still famous for its sheep. New Romney Church, despite the term 'new,' is an ancient building with a Norman nave, aisles and tower. The belis were rung here for 25 minutes before leaving for Lydd, with its lofty tower and war-damaged church. A good ring of eight bells and a nice ringing chamber were enjoyed for the full time. The Sussex border was crossed to visit the ancient seaport of Rye, with its narrow, cobbled streets. Rye Church is reputed to be the largest parish church in Sussex, and with several local ringers we spent a happy 45 minutes. Tea followed at the Flushing Inn. In the evening a pleasant hour was spent at Salehurst, and Leatherhead was reached at \(10 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}\).

Methods rung during the day included Grandsire Caters and Triples. Stedman Triples, Plain Bob, Treble Bob, Double Norwich, Superlative, Yorkshire, Ashtead. London, Bristol and Spliced Surprise Major and Cambridge Surprise Royal.

\section*{ASH, SURREY}

Last year it was the pouring rain, this year the blazing sun which accompanied the ringers and friends of St. Peter's, Ash, on their annual ringing tour on July 16th.
By 8.15 the party were on their way westward. During the morning stops were made at St. Mary's, Chilton Foliat, St. Michael's, Aldbourne, and to ring the six bells of St. Mary-theVirgin's, Marlborough. Lunch was taken at the Georgian Restaurant, Marlborough, before going on to the well cared for belfry of St. Mary-the-Virgin's, Calne. On to St. Nicholas' Bromham, then to that much needed cup of tea, served at the Checsecake Cafe, Devizes. Another tower visited was that of St. Mary Magdalene's, West Lavington, before the band set out on the wonderful drive back to the eight bells of St. Peter's, Yateley. A grand finish to the day was when some of the party joined in singing hymns with the organist.
The tour had been arranged by Mr. S. Russell and Miss A. Goodchild, and on behalf of the ringers Mr. R. Mills and Mr. F. half of the ringers Mr. R. Mills and Mr. F. Cherryman expressed their thanks.
Throughout the day the ringers and their friends much appreciated the welcome they received at each tower and they give their grateful thanks.

\section*{WEST RETFORD, NOTTINGHAMSHIRE}

On July 16 th the newly-formed band of St . Michael's, West Retford, held their first annual outing. They were accompanied by friends from St. Swithun's, East Retfond, who have been their instructors since the band was formed, just over two years ago.

Leaving Retford at \(8 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}\). the first stop was at Taylor's Foundry, Loughborough. The ringers were met by Mr. Paul Taylor, who conducted them round the foundry. There they saw a light ring of six (tenor 4 cwt .) destincd for Preston Candover, Hampshire. These bells were mounted on a frame for testing, and at Mr. Taylor's invitation the visitors had a short ring on them. They found difficulty in handling such a light ring, but enjoyed the experience of seeing the bell swinging above their heads while ringing.

An enjoyable and interesting visit to the foundry ended with a ring on the foundry bells. The party then made their way to All Saints' Loughborough, where they enjoyed ringing the magnificent bells of that church.
After lunch in Loughborough the next stop was at Quorn (8), where an unsuccessful attempt was made to ring Major. Much diffculty was experienced owing to several bells being odd-struck and the bells being loud in the belfry.
At 3 p.m. the party left for Waltham-on-theWolds, but the bus driver missed a dodge and had to do some plain hunting before the right road was found. As a result Waltham was reached at 4.15 instead of 3.45 . A short ring on the delightful bells was enjoyed by all, and some of the best striking of the day was achicved.

Croxton Kerrial, the next tower, was missed as the ringers had heard from two sources that the bells were unsafe. In any case the outing was running behind schedule so the party proceeded to Grantham for tea. After tea the ringers met at St. Wulfram's (10) for a most enjoyable ring, ending in an excellent drop of all ten bells, in which the treble was rung by a member of the local band.

After concluding the day's ringing at Balderton (6) the party arrived home at \(10 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}\). tired but happy. During the day several methods (Continued foot of next column)

GAINSBOROUGH AND DISTRICT ADVENTURES IN YORKSHIRE
By eight oclock on the beautiful morning of July 2nd the first members and friends were aboard the bus for their annual outing.

The first ringing call was at Hutton Cranswick, but ignorance of the local roads literally took us across the fields with six gates to open and shut! Very late, we were made most welcome by the Rev. Storrer and were impressed by a welcome and the details of who we were, etc., on the church notice board. The bells are a fine, heavy six, augmented from three five ycars ago. The 25 miles to our next tower, Wykeham, near Scarborough, saw the order 'bring your own lunch' well and truly carried out!

This tower is unique in that it has the only five in the North Riding. It is also detached from the church and built as a gateway to the churchyard. Here we found a nice five (tenor 9 cwt.).

From here to our next call, Fylingdales (Robin Hood's Bay), the road follows roughly the coast line and provides magnificent scenery, to say nothing of hair-raising experiences as the coach climbed and descended hills of gradients up to one in three and negotiated every kind of bend. On one occasion it was even suggested that the quickest way to get round would be to lift the back end of the bus over a yard or two !. Nevertheless, belated but safely we arrived, and first put an excellent tea out of the way! Whilst most of the non-ringers descended the 99 steps to the sea, the ringers climbed about half that number to the ringing chamber of St. Stephen's Church. The church is modern with a mid-south tower, and contains a ring of eight (tenor 12 cwt .), which sound much nicer outside than in. Slipping into the realms of fantasy, the writer thought of the tower as a pirate's boat on the sea (it rocks alarmingly !), and the bells as eight snarling men. The touch of Grandsire must have been a more successful trip than the Major which followed. They cursed and fought until the attempt had to be abandoned! Nevertheless they showed that kindly streak which even pirates have, by a good lower in peal.

Next on to Whitby and thence across the moors to Pickering and Malton. More hills and more bends, but superb scenery.

Very late in arriving at St. Leonard's, Mal-ton-we apologise to the local people who were to meet us-we found the belfry locked. Inquiries, and still more inquiries, and the Vicar was found. He was most considerate and is probably a stock car driver, but he certainly gave two of us some of the thrills as he sped through Malton secking the steeplekeeper, collecting keys and depositing us at the church. These bells are a grand eight and we were sorry to have to cut the amount of ringing very short. Refreshments of various kinds followed, the keys retumed, and course set for home. Just for good measure the driver got lost in York and circled the city twice, nearly ran out of petrol, and finally got back about two a.m., having done over 300 miles.
It was a grand outing, all agreed, and if it was hectic and more than a day, well, it only happens once a year!
had been rung including Plain Bob, St. Clement's, Single Court, Single Oxford, Kent Treble Bob and Grandsire.

Thanks are extended to Mr. Taylor for an enjoyable visit to the bell foundry and to the incumbents and ringers of the various towers visited.

Various Notations used in setting down Touches and Peals

CATERS
GRANDSIRE: Grandsire Caters is set out by course ends, but the calling positions are described in a manner peculiar to Grandsire Caters and Cinques.

Unlike Major, it is usual to ring Grandsire Caters and Cinques with the big bells in other than the plain course position. The two positions almost always used are the Tittums and Handstroke positions. In the former, the big bells course in the order 7, 8,9 and strike 978 at the course end. In the latter position they course \(7,9,8\) and strike 879 at the course end. These two positions are usually used in the same touch or peal, the first half being rung in the Tittums and the last half in the Handstroke, which brings the touch round at hand.
The course which moves the bells from the plain course into the required position is called the starting or going off course. The course which moves them into the second position is called the turning course. The bobs which produce these course ends are indicated in the composition by figures indicating the number of the lead from the previous course end.
When the bells are in the required position, calls are made so that the coursing order is not affected except at the actual leads at which the calls are made. These calls are described in a peculiar way: ' 9 in 3 ' means that the rth is called into the hunt, out at the next lead and another bob at the next lead-three bobs in all. ' 9 in \(3 S^{\prime}\) ' means that the third call is a single instead of a bob. ' 9 in \(3 \mathrm{~S}, 78\). means that after the first three calls-the' 9 in 3S part-a bob is called at which 78 dodge behind, i.e., at the course end. From these explanations, the meanings of the callings encountered should be easily seen. One other point is that a course having only one call in it will contain six leads and is known as a long course as opposed to a short course having three or four calls and therefore five or four leads respectively in it.
An example showing the calls is given:
23456789
\begin{tabular}{ll}
42356978 & 1,4 \\
32654 & 89 \\
63254 & 9 in 3 \\
23465 & \(1 \mathrm{~S}, 89\) \\
42365879 & \(1,3,4 \mathrm{~S}+\) \\
34265 & 8 in 3
\end{tabular} changed 8 in that 8 and 9 are changed over, so that 8 in 3 in the handstroke is effectively the same calling as 9 in 3 is in the Tittums. Also some composers write ' 9 in and 2 ' instead of ' 9 in 3 ,' and so on.
STEDMAN: Stedman Caters is usually rung with the big bells in the same positions as in Grandsire. The compositions will thus again contain a starting course, courses with the big bells in the required positions, a turning course, more courses in the second position and a homing course in which the bells are brought round (actually at handstroke).
There are eighteen sixes in a course, and the calls are indicated by the number of the six in which they are made, not by the number of sixes between them. It must be rememhered that, though the call is made at the first change of the six, it is called in the previous sir. Thus. a bob at 16 is called at the fifth change of the 15 th six.

Example:
231456789
\begin{tabular}{ll}
215463978 & \(1,4,6,7,10 \mathrm{~S}, 12,13,14\) \\
213564 & 16 \\
214365 & 16 \\
215463879 & \(2,9 \mathrm{~S}, 16\) \\
213564 & 16 \\
214365 & 16
\end{tabular}

Note: Rounds is the fourth row of a quick six, the six-end being 231456789 .
In the body of the touch, when it is not required to disturb the fixed bells, calls are only made at the 4 th, 5 th or 16 th six.

\section*{ROYAL, CINQUES AND MAXIMUS}

Compositions of methods on these numbers are set out similarly to those for Major and Caters. In these cases, of course, the observation bells will be different. Thus in Royal, W, M and H will refer to the tenor when it is an 8ths, 9 ths and 10ths place bell respectively.

\section*{LEEDS AND DISTRICT SOCIETY}

Bramley was the tower visited by the Leeds and District Society for their July meeting. A very hot afternoon and the fact that July 30th was the Saturday of the Bank Holiday week-end may well have been responsible for the small attendance. However, those present made full use of the bells, keeping them going in a variety of methods from Plain Bob to Cambridge.
Tea was at 5.15 in the Bramley Institute, and very welcome were the cups of tea provided by the local ladies.

At the business meeting which followed, five new members were elected-two from St. Chad's, Far Headingley, and three visiting ringers from Accrington, Gamston and West Tanfield. In replying to the customary votes of thanks Mr. S. Helliwell said how much he wished the bells of St. Peter's rang out week by week as they had done that afternoon.

The business concluded, some members stayed behind for handbell ringing, others made their way back to the tower where ringing continued until shortly before 9 o'clock.

\section*{WEDDING OF MISS F. E. WARDEN}

A well-known ringer in the Coventry Guild area, Miss Florence E. Warden was married to Mr. George Birtles, of Coventry, at St. James' Church, Bulkington, on Saturday July 30th. "Florrie." as she was known to ringers and friends, started to ring in 1928, and was always at her place for Sunday service ringing and practice until the death of her parents. Then circumstances prevented her regular attendance, but she attended whenever possible. Her father, Mr. Joseph Warden. was a ringer.

The bells were rung before and after the service by the local band with Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Beamish and Miss Beamish deputising for ringers who were on holiday. At the reception Mr. A. J. Hinde, captain and secretary of the Bulkington band wished the newly-married couple every happiness in the years to come. A very pleasant surprise for all was the handbell ringing by Mr., Mrs, and Miss Beamish, and the local band thank them very much for their assistance and entertainment.

A quarter peal of 1,260 Grandsire Triples was afterwands Jung by Miss Joan Carter (first quarter) 1, Miss M. E. Bailey 2, Miss R. Ashley 3 Miss M. E. Beamish 4 Mrs. D. E. Beamish 5, A. H. Beamish (conductor) 6, A. J. Hinde 7, K. F. Haswell (first quarter) 8.

\section*{AN IMAGINARY LETTER FROM ONE BEGINNER TO ANOTHER}

\section*{MY DEAR GEORGE,}

You ask my advice about ringing-here it is. If you are prepared to risk submission to a burning enthusiasm which will make such demands on your leisure as practically to exclude the serious pursuit of any other hobby, then take it up; otherwise, keep away. If you decide to try it, you will soon know whether you are destined to dedicate yourself to the art; some tentative learners do fall away. Should you find yourself uninspired when you have given it a trial, do break off quickly, and don't, I beg you, waste any more of the time of your instructor and his devoted band.
The reason I say this so emphatically is that when you enter a tower and say that you want to learn to ring you will instantly be welcomed into the brotherhood, and provided you are keen, the whole band, from the master downwards, will take endless trouble to teach you, at considerable expense of their time and probably curtailment of their opportunities for practising advanced methods. As you get on a bit, they will take pride in your progress, for all the world like the older members of a family rejoicing in the achievements of 'our kid.' In short, you will meet with exceedingly great kindness.

Don't be put off if curious little squabbles, also reminiscent of the nursery, break out from time to time among your new friends-it seems to happen in quite a lot of towers. If yours is one of them, you probably won't even understand what it's all about; but of two things you may be sure-it won't affect you, and the clouds will all blow away again as quickly as after a summer shower. As I said, there's something of childhood about it; it may be connected with the fact that these ringers seem to have the secret of perpetual youth.
From the learner's side, good discipline and a word of thanks now and again are appreciated. Do turn up whenever you have engaged to go, be punctual, be willing, and do as you are told without sulking if it isn't exactly what you wished. If you notice some of your seniors intolerant of criticism, you needn't imitate them in their touchiness.

As I have so recently learned the elementary stages of ringing (I am just taking my first helter-skelter steps into change-ringing-you'll understand later the suggestion of precipitancy !) and the memories are still fresh, I may be able to give you a few tips that will be useful. There's a special point about the recent memory, because many of the senior ringers, especially, learned to handle a bell so long ago that they seem to have forgotten the exact difficulties that beset the beginner. Our master, for instance. learned to ring fifty-odd years ago when his voice broke and he had a compulsory rest from choir duties.

First, then, don't be content with the casual glance at the bells which seems to be accorded to most beginners, but study them in the belfry, in diagrams, or, best of all, in a model, if your tower is fortunate enough to possess one, until you see exactly the cause of every movement of the rope-failure to appreciate the reason for the rising of the sally leads to unnecessary mystification, and prevents the clear visualising of what is going on above your head. Ask to be allowed to stand in a safe place and watch the movement of a bell when it is rung.

When you come to handle the rope, your master may be fussy about fitting the end to you every time before you begin; if so, you are lucky, for if you are allowed to clutch it vaguely somewhere near the end you get into avoidable trouble at backstroke, perhaps holding too close to the end, when the bell will probably go over the balance and need a great tug to bring it back; or even bump the stay, when at the best it will start on its downward swing before you are ready for it and probably get out of control, and at the worst the stay will break-and then you can't let go too quickly! Alternatively, you get your end too long, the bell is checked before it has risen properly, and, of course, begins to come down-again, you probably lose control of it. I'm specially keen on all this, because neglect of this preliminary caused me much trouble when I was too inept (and panic-stricken!) either to understand why the bell was being so awkward or to adjust my grip while ringing.

Realising at the start that successful management of a bell depends on keeping a tight rope at all times, so, whether you are nagged about it or not, and you should be, be certain to cultivate good follow-through at backstroke.

If you hold on until your hands are as low as possible the sally arrives as straight as the proverbial ramrod and correspondingly easy to catch; if you don't, it presents itself to your horrified gaze wriggling like some frightful serpent! Even if you do catch it thus, and you may not, you gradually develop a sensation unpleasantly like seasickness. After pulling off at handstroke, whip your right hand down instantly to join your left, and don't let them rise until the rope pulls them up-that keeps it taut.
All novices, I believe, pull too hard, especially when they begin to ring rounds. One reason for this is that, being unsure of holding the bell on the balance, by bringing it over they can at least prevent its running away with them, so to speak, and carrying them helplessly out of their place. Until the knack of pulling just right is acquired this is inevitable, but an important consequence is the rapid onset of fatigue. This naturally affects the children and girls first, but I mention it because some instructors seem quite unaware that their learners tire so soon, and in their ignorance of its true cause scold them for a clumsiness they can no longer avoid.

It may not occur to anyone to point out to you that the whole art depends on the ability to ring at will at three speeds, i.e., the rate correct for rounds, a trifle slower to hunt up a place, and slightly quicker to move a place towards the lead. It is obvious when you consider what is going on, but it is only too easy to miss the obvious and waste time unnecessarily in the elementary stages by reason of not grasping simple points such as this. Incidentally, a simple lecture at the beginning, explaining elementary facts and some of the terms used, would save a deal of time and perplexity.

I hope you will be taught to raise and fall a bell early in your career. I found that the skill so acquired added enormously to my confidence. Also, the moment you are allowed to try to raise or fall in peal, seize the opportunity, though you'll get quite out the first few times.

Be content to ring rounds, rounds, rounds, in your tower and others if possible, until you can strike them accurately -truly accurately-and your efforts contribute to a performance which is a pleasure to hear. I'm certain the grind will prove invaluable later when you try to become a competent change-ringer. I have visited towers where learners are put on to changes the moment they can ring rounds, however badly, with the inevitable result that, even when they know a method, their striking is so bad that the result is excruciating to the unfortunate-and, remember, involuntary !--listener outside. The next step in their progress is the hellish din when they try to ring advanced methods before they can ring simple ones well.
Get into the habit of listening for the sound of your bell -it isn't as easy as might appear, because the sound reaches your ear just as you are approaching the next pull and fully occupied trying to time that correctly. There is little difficulty in picking up the inexorable stumble in the rhythm wherever you've pulled too quick or too slow!

Well, there is a first-hand account of the difficulties as one beginner sees them, and I hope it will help you. I'll let you know how my initiation into the next mysteries of the Exercise proceeds.

Ever yours,
JIM.

MANCHESTER UNIVERSITY GUILD ON TOUR

\section*{A Racy Story of Adventures in the South Midlands}

r.the early evening of Monday, July 11th, 13 members of the Manchester University Guild assembled at Badby Youth Hostel, near Daventry. Although this was the official start of the tour, several members cycled together from Manchester, staying at Rudyard Lake Hostel and Lichfield. We were made very welcome at St. Mary's, Lichfield, where we rang for Evensong. On arriving at Badby the party was completed by the arrival of one member and a guest from London University Guild. The inevitable practice night occurred on Monday 'only a mile or two away' and the whole party cycled to Weedon Bec, where we were made to feel at home. The distance proved to be six miles.
On Tuesday, July 12th, the tour got off to a good start both with ringing and with the weather, which was hot and continued to be so for the duration of the tour. The towers visited before lunch were Staverton (6) and Southam (8). After lunch, with frequent stops for tea and ice cream, we continued to Whitnash (6), where we had the last ring of the day. Here we were joined by an old member of the Guild, now doing National Service, who came down by car to be with us for a few days. From Whitnash it was full speed to Leamington Spa and the first stop was a cafe. The night was spent at Leamington Hostel. All the party spent the evening rowing (?) on the river. One expert spent half an hour in drying his trousers.

Wednesday was started in fine style. Whilst ringing at All Saints', Leamington, we were visited by a newspaper reporter. Several of us tried the Spa water and came to the conclusion that we would rather bathe in it tban drink it. The second tower was St. Mary's, Warwick. where we had some fairly good ringing on the ten bells. We made a six miles dash from Warwick to Sherborne, where we had lunch before ringing the six bells of the private church. The last ring of the day was at Smitherfield (6) and after the usual stop for tea we felt fit to ring and proceeded to enjoy ourselves for an hour. A five mile ride brought us to Stratford Youth Hostel, which was like a luxury hotel compared with the small hostels previously encountered. Another pleasant evening was spent on the river and everyone remained dry.
Thursday started well with some good striking on the ten bells at Holy Trinity, Stratford-on-Avon. After partaking of the by now customary ice cream the party proceeded to Mickleton (8) and rang there, after which the usual lunch of cheese and tomato was consumed. A seven mile ride in almost unbearable heat brought us to Blockley (8) followed by Moreton-in-Marsh a further five miles on. The eight bells here were very rough and the ropes were badly placed. One gentleman went to sleep outside, and when he woke up and heard the bells he stayed outside !

After the usual adjournment to the nearest cafe we proceeded to Stow-on-the-Wold only to find that two of our party had been to the Hostel and had a wash, and still got to the church before us. Some good striking was heard on the heavy eight here, and after ringing for one hour we went round the corner to the Youth Hostel and got ready for our evening meal. Our National Service friend left us and returned home at this point, and the following morning another member left us in order to attend his annual T.A. camp.

\section*{THE WRONG LYNHAM}

After saying goodbye to the departing member on Friday we proceeded to Bledington (6), where we found the bells were off key. The next tower, Kingham (8), proved much better, with the bells of good tone. Lynham provided a puzzle as we couldn't find the church. After doing a little quizzing we discovered that it was Lynham in Wiltshire, 50 miles away, which had bells. The Ringing Master, full of apologies, decided to cycle on to Churchill, the next village, to see if we could have use of the bells. We had lunch at Churchill and sampled the local cider, then asked the Vicar about the bells. We were given permission to ring and found them to be quite a nice six. A cafe in Chipping Norton was the next stop, followed by the Parish Church, where one of the local ringers joined us.

The last tower before reaching the Hostel was Spelsbury (6), which we found after fighting our way through a herd of cows. The six ropes here are hung in one corner with three ropes in a straight line. Charlbury was the Hostel for the night and after our evening meal we went to ring on the six bells at the church. Several local ringers joined us and we were welcomed by the Vical. After ringing we all went to sample the local cider.
Saturday was a full day. In the morning Stonefield and Yarnton were visited, Untortunately a rope broke at Yarnton which caused some delay. Lunch was had on the river bank in Oxford, where another member of the Guild joined us for the final week of the tour. Advantage was taken of the Oxford Guild Festival to ring in the many towers available. Saturday and Sunday were spent at Oxford Youth Hostel and the whole party rang at the Cathedral on Sunday morning.

\section*{WARDEN WANTED A FRESH TUNE}

On Monday we entered a new county as all four towers were in Berkshire. Cumnor (6) was quite fair, and Appleton (a light ten) provided us with some amusement. After ringing we had our lunch and then proceeded in ones and twos to Buckland (8) where two of the party made themselves conspicuous by their late arrival. The last tower of the day was Faringdon (8) but before ringing we went to a snack bar for a drink of coffee. Whilst ringing at Faringdon we had the only rain of the tour, which lasted for five minutes. The bells were dropped at 5.45 p.m. and we all listened to the hymn tune played at 6 p.m. A seven mile dash along fairly flat roads brought us to Inglesham Hostel. After listening to tune ringing on the handbells for two hours the warden asked for a fresh tune! By the end of the evening, however, the grand total of six tunes had been mastered!

Tuesday was cold until about 10 a.m. but warm later. Lechlade's six were fairly good but we had difficulty in persuading six people to enter the tower together. We put it down to the heat or something (the emphasis being on something). The second tower was Fairford (8), where we rang from the choir stalls. We had lunch in a private park. A large apple pie was provided for one gentleman who had a birthday. The towers for the afternoon were Meysey Hampton and Cirencester. The six bells at Meysey Hampton were spoiled by the fifth, which had a poor tone. The 12 bells at Cirencester were got going after we had quenched our thirst in a cafe, but since we were only 13 in number we rang rounds and call changes only on all 12 . From here we had a hard eight-mile ride to the Hostel at Duntisborne Abbots. During supper a birthday cake was carried in and proved to be a great surprise for everyone. It was duly presented to the gentleman concerned and all the candles were blown out. Everyone then got a small fragment of cream sandwich.

\section*{FOOD POISONING}

During the night three male members of the party suffered from food poisoning and were sick. The dormitory was like a race meeting with three pcople running backwards and forwards to the washroom!

Wednesday, the last day of the tour was spoiled to a certain extent by the sickness. Codine tablets settled the trouble but induced a tendency to sleep at the wrong time. The bells at the first tower, Cowley, proved to be unringable so we continued on our way to Chaston Kings (8), where we found the bells difficulty to keep up. At St. Mary's, Cheltenham, after lunch, we were joined by one or two local ringers. Our London University friend then left us; he had proved invaluable during the course of the tour. The last tower before reaching the Hostel was Prestbury (8), where a somewhat sleepy band of ringers had a difficult job in trying to ring and keep their eyes open at the same time. The hostel for the night was at Cleeve Hill and was reached after a long climb up a one in four hill. After our evening meal we all went to Bishop's Cleeve, where the best ringing of the tour was heard. Several of the local ringers were present and an excellent touch of Stedman was brought round.

Thursday morning was rather sad as we all went our separate ways. All but four went by train, three cycled to Birmingham and then got a lift to Manchester, while the one left (who surprised us all by buying a comb for himself the previous day) went to Tewkesbury !

Methods rung were:-Plain Bob Doubles, Minor, Major, Royal and Maximus, Grandsire and Stedman Doubles, Triples, Caters and Cinques, St. Simon's Doubles and April Day, Kent and Oxford Minor and Major (and the two spliced), Cambridge Surprise Minor, Cambridge, Yorkshire, Bristol and Superlative Surprise Major, Little Bob Major and Royal, Double Norwich and the following Minor methods: Single Oxford, Double Oxford, Double Court, Double Bob, London and York Surprise.
May we express our gratitude to all the clergy, local ringers and Youth Hostel Association wardens who aided us in making our tour a great success. Also on behalf of all the members of our party we say thank you to Misses C. Anne Muirtead and Ruth M. Jackson for the excellent way in which they organised the tour. Thanks also to the Ringing Master, Mr. Brian A. Tomlinson, for keeping us at it all the time. We also thank all the visitors who came with us on our tour and helped to make it such a great success.

\section*{TRURO DIOCESAN GUILD}

Combined practices are being held during the summer in central eight-bell towers, organised by the Ringing Master, Mr. D. Burnett. On August 6th the practice began at St. Austell, which has the finest-toned eight in Cornwall. It was attended by members of many Cornish towers including the president, Mr. A. Carveth, and a few visitors.
After an hour's ringing the party moved to the tower of St. Stephen-in-Brannel, where they were met by the Rector (Canon Gilbert), and ringing continued for nearly two hours. Everyone was given a chance to ring and to attempt methods they cannot practise in their home towers. A well-struck extent of Grandsire Doubles was struck by the Crantock band with the assistance of some of the visitors, and there were also touches of Minor, Triples and Major methods.
These practices have been most successful and are a great help in advancing change ringing in the Guild. W. H. R. T.

\section*{North-West Branch at Holsworthy}

The summer meeting of the N.W. Branch took place at Holsworthy on August 6th, when some 40 members and friends, including the president, Prebendary E. V. Cox and many ringers on holiday, spent a happy afternoon with the fine ring of bells. A short service was conducted by the Rev. Mr. Knight, and the Rector (the Rev. A. Warne), who also presided at the organ, gave all a hearty welcome in his inspiring address.

After tea, Mr. F. C. Smale presided at the short business meeting. One non-resident member-Mr. Elliott, of Kelvedon, Essexwas elected. The company stood in silence to the memory of the late chairman, the Rev. W. H. Ravenhill, who for many years had filled that office.
The Rector and Mr. Knight were thanked for their services and the use of the bells. Ringing continued till eight in the evening and the standard methods were practised. F. C. S.

\section*{Devizes Branch}

The August meeting of the Devizes Branch was held at Great Cheverell on the 6th inst., some 35 members and friends attending, including a number of visitors. The ringers were the guests of \(\operatorname{Sir} \mathbf{C}\). Chitham for tea, for which thanks were expressed.

Aifter tea Erlestoke tower was open for ringing and was visited by some members. Ringing ranged from rounds to Cambridge.

\section*{AN EVENTFUL SOMERSET BANK HOLIDAY}

Seven Somerset ringers from West Buckland. North Petherton and Wembdon got together at short notice for what proved to be a very eventful day.
Goathurst was visited first where the aim and achievement was some good courses of Cambridge Minor. For our efforts we were offered some excellent cider!

Next came Charlynch, where we rang, we believe, the flrst quarter on this very rough five. During this, coloured movie shots were taken by Mr. David Callander, of Guelph, Ontario. Mr. and Mrs. Callander are staying with friends at Charlynch House, and are friends and neighbours of Mr. Arnold Summerville, carillonneur of St. George's Parish: Guelph, who succeeded Mr. Robert Donnell, present carillonneur of the Peace Tower, Parliament Buildings, Ottawa.

Mr. Callander then took more shots of the ringers, of the bells in action, and of the view from the top of the tower, and requested that a copy of 'The Ringing. World' recording the quarter peal be sent to him in Canada.

Before we left, a black kitten came into the tower, but this did not prove to be a lucky omen for two of the party who were joining in a peal attempt at Nempnett Thrubwell. (There is such a place and the tower is extremely difficult to find!

Later we rejoined forces at Holcombe Rogus (Devon) for over an hour's good ringing. This was followed by refreshments and handbell ringing (not so successful) at the home of the West Buckland section of the party.

A wonderful handbell feat was recently performed by Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bray and Mr. G. E. Feirn. On August 8th they rang a handbell peal in 106 Minor methods, thus surpassing the peal of 105 methods rung by them 'in hand ' in June, 1947, and also rung on tower bells by the Leicestershire band at Copt Oak. Congratulations !

Over 70 bell founders are represented in the 2,000 bells in Essex. About nine per cent. are pre-Reformation, some dating back to the 14th century or earlier.
Best wishes from his many ringing friends to Mr. C. Green and his wife, of Long Buckby, Northants, on the occasion of their golden wedding. The peal at Long Buckby on August 2nd paid due tribute to the oldest member of the local company on this happy occasion.

Mainly through the energy and drive of the Rev. Gilbert Thurlow, the bells of St. George's, Colegate, Bristol, were augmented and hung as a ringing peal. It was appropriate that a peal should be rung at this church in honour of his wedding to Miss Thelda Hook.
The 60th anniversary peal of the first peal at Newcastle-under-Lyme, rung on July 29th and recorded in our last issue, one of Holt's ten-part Grandsire Triples, was the same composition of the peal rung on July 29th, 1895. The first peal was conducted by Mr. H. Page, and it was his son, Mr. C. H. Page, of Stoke-on-Trent, who conducted the anniversary peal. The other members of the band were of the regular Sunday service band at Newcastle-under-Lyme. The jubilee peal was the first on the bells since they were lowered and rehung in a new frame by Messrs. Gillett and Johnston, Lid. Mr. Page was warmly congratulated and thanked by the band at the conclusion of the peal.

At a meeting of the General Committee of the Leicester Thursday, August 11 th, it was unanimously decided that the invitation of the Guild to the Central Council to hold its 1956 meeting at Leicester should stand. The vice-presidents, Messrs. Paul L. Taylor and E. C. Turner, are proceeding with arrangments for the meeting.

Ringing takes place at Woburn Abbey at 10 a.m. and 5 p.m. on Sundays. Visitors will be welcome.

Mr. E. Alexander Young, who is now past 90 years of age, read the lesson when the Lewisham District of the Kent County Association held their meeting at Farningham.
After the peal at West Malling for the wedding of Peter C. Wright and Kathleen Higgins the ringers were entertained by Mr, and Mrs. P. Wright, parents of the bridegroom.

The peal at Higher Waltom was a golden wedding compliment to one of the Lancashire Association's best servants, Mr. Arthur Tomlinson, who was ringing secretary for many years and vice-president and is still a Central Council representative. Throughout his ringing life he has been a conscientious service ringer. May he and his wife live long to enjoy their retirement.

The Melton Mowbray District of the Leicester Diocesan Guild welcomes as residents to Melton Mr. and Mrs. Michael D. Staniforth. Mr. Staniforth (Peter's younger brother) is well known as a ringer in Leicestershire. He has been teaching in Melton for the past year, and now his wife has taken up a teaching appointment in the town. They were married at York at Easter time and Mrs. Staniforth has now relinquished an appointment at Wetherby, Yorkshire.

\section*{BROUGHTON HALL}

RETRACING one's steps along the main Market Drayton-Newcastle Road, a right-hand fork at the Loggerheads turns away towards Eccleshall, rumning through thickly wooded country. On the left of the road is the beautiful half-timbered Broughton Hall, with its small but equally fine church opposite, originally the chapel to the hall. It is an excellent example of native architecture and among its special treasures "are its stained glass, some of Flemish origin brought back by the Delves returning from Continental wars, some ancient heraldic glass from the now ruined Doddington Castle, and its font built into the west side of the north-east pillar supporting the tower There are eight bells (tenor 15 cwt .), being augmented from a six, which bear the inscription: 'Pietatis ergo Sr. B: Broughton Bart. 1720.' The bells go and sound extremely well and despite the isolation of the tower (there is no village of Broughton) are rung to methods every Sunday by an enthusiastic band drawn from several miles around.

Standon is a hamlet four miles east of Broughton. The partly-Norman Church has five bells, now unringable. Of the older bells, one (undated) bears the inscription: 'Sancta Maria Ora Pro Nobis,' and another bears the mark of William Bagley, of Chacombe, 1674.
Swynnerton, home of the Fitzherberts, Lords of Stafford, is quite close too. The church is partly Norman. The ringing chamber is reached by a flight of wooden steps and a trap-door, and for ventilation an unguarded door opens into space high up in the nave wall. John Rudhall cast the six bells (tenor 9 cwt.) at 'Glocester ' in 1812.

\section*{RUDHALL BELLS AT ECCLESHALL}

Eccleshall, five miles south of Swynnerton, to-day a quiet market town, was for many centuries the home of the Bishops of Lichfield, several of whom are buried here. In keeping with its importance the church is magnificent, both in its proportions and workmanship. Particularly notable is a modern oak chapel reredos and screens. The tower is 100 feet high and its lower stages contain both Saxon and Norman work. The doorway to the tower staircase is approached by a semi-circular flight of steps outside the west end. Four of the six bells (tenor 11 cwt .) are by Rudhall in 1710, and the treble came from the same foundry in 1735. John Taylor and Co. added the second in 1873 and rehung the bells in 1954. The tenor is marked with the names of the churchwardens in office in 1710, when the bells were installed, and among them is one J. Pickstock. The present captain of ringers is of the same name.

It is not far from Eccleshall to Stone, birthplace of John Jervis, Earl St. Vincent, who is buried here, Richard Barnfield, a poet, contemporary and acquaintance of William Shakespeare, and of Peter de Wint, the landscape painter. The present church dates from 1750, being built on the site of the old Priory Church. Six of the eight bells (tenor 12 cwt .)
are older than the present building, being cast in 1710 by Abraham Rudhall and may have come from the old church. The inscription on the treble reads: 'When you mee ring Ile sweetly sing,' and the fifth: 'God save queen Ann and the church of England as by law iestablished.' These were augmented in the last century. The rope circle runs anti-clockwise.
Between Stone and the Potteries the land rises to Barlaston Downs and the pleasant village built round its Green. The church is some distance from the Green and at the end of an avenue of 'immemorial elms, beside the 18 th century hall. The small, low tower rises hardly a full storey above the nave roof. Ringing is done from the ground floor and in full view of the congregation through a fine arch which reaches to the nave roof. A lych-

\section*{Hinton Bells have been heard in the Seven Seas}

The bells of St. Peter's, Hinton-on-the-Green, Wores, have something in common with the famous bells of Bow. in that they have been heard and cherished in the farthest corners of the earth.

Just back from a foreign commission is the heavy cruiser H.M.S. 'Birmingham.'

Every Sunday morning before Divisions, the bells of Hinton, from a tape recording of Stedman Triples by the Sunday service band, rang out in every part of the ship and over the waters in many harbours into the earshot of peoples of different colours and tongues.

From Kure in Japan to Lourenço Marques in Portuguese East Africa, from Diego Suarez in French Madagascar to Manus and the other Admiralty Islands of the South Pacific, the 'Birmingham' pealed out the bells of Hinton-on-theGreen.

And at sea, too, across 41,000 miles of the Indian Ocean and the South Atlantic, the Sea of Japan and the English Channel, the authentic voice of a little church in the heart of England was heard by all who passed by, calling them to prayer.

The chaplain of the 'Birmingham' during her last commission was the Rev. J. O. C. Champion, R.N., whose father, the Rev. F. C. Champion, is the rector of Hinton-on-the-Green. gate gives entrance to the churchyard. a memorial to the wife of a former resident in the village, and it is said that a sixth bell was offered as the benefaction but that the effect of the extra metal would have entailed the blocking of part of the archway. Three of the bells are dated 1620,1638 and 1695 respectively and these were recast and two tenors added by W. Blews and Sons, of Birmingham, in 1876. They have been rehung since the war by Taylors. The tenor is only six cwt. but the bells are not the easiest to manage owing to the length of unguided rope and the smallness of the circle.

A WARM WELCOME TO VISITORS
This, then, is the area covered by the North Staffordshire Association, but communications are difficult particularly in the isolated moorland districts-it is easier and quicker to travel the 150 miles to London than to cross the 25 -odd miles from the Shropshire to the Derbyshire border-and several of the towers are not affiliated. Monthly ringing meetings are held and in this way stimulus and encouragement are brought to different towers each year by the sense of fellowship they engender and the opportunity they offer of advancing one's skill. The Association covers the Archdeaconry of Stoke-on-Trent, but no mention is here made of four other towers with five or more bells within the Archdeaconry-Forton, Gnosall, High Offley and Norbury-since these belong more properly to Central rather than North Staffordshire.

In an area where communications are not easy, it is to be expected that there will be great variations in the standards of ringing, but there are many fine rings of bells to be enjoyed, and any ringers who may visit the district may be sure of being warmly welcomed.

\section*{MELTON RINGERS MARRIED AT NOTTINGHAM}

Two Melton Mowbray, Leicestershire, ringers were married in an inspiring service on Monday. August 8th, at the lovely Church of St. Mary at Nottingham.

The bridegroom was Mr. H. G. Bailey, a native of Scalford, near Melton, and the bride was Miss E. S. Wise, whose home is at Melton. Both have been ringers at Melton for some years.

Nottingham ringers sounded a welcome on their heavy ring of ten as the bride approached the church, and the fully choral service was conducted by Canon Hawkins, Vicar of St . Mary's assisted by Canon Clarke, Vicar of Meiton Mowbray. A Melton ringer, Mr. P. A. Corby, was best man.

As the bridal party left the church the bells pealed out again and were 'fired' several times.

The honeymoon is being spent touring in the south-west and the future home of Mr. and Mrs. Bailey will be at Winsford, Cheshire, where Mr. Bailey is in business, and Mrs. Bailey teaches. They have the very good wishes of the Melton ringers who hope their visits will be frequent. In the meantime Cheshire ringers will have two useful permanent additions to their strength.

\section*{Guilsborough Branch's Gift to Retiring President}

The meeting of the Guilsborough Branch at West Haddon on August 6th was the occasion of a presentation to Canon T. W. Long, of an electric table lamp in appreciation of his loyal service as Branch president for 22 years. Canon Long will retire from the living of West Haddon at the end of September.
The holiday month of August prevented several from attending, but members were present from Yelvertoft, Long Buckby, Creaton, Kelmarsh, Oxendon and West Haddon, with visitors from Northampton, Rugby and Brafield.
It was agreed to hold the next two Branch meetings at Long Buckby on September 3rd, and at Hazelbech on October 10th.

\section*{PEAL RINGING IN RUTLANDSHIRE}

\author{

N the letter from Mr. P. Amos concerning peals in Northants, he also said that several peals in Rutlandshire had never been published. Although this did not make much difference in the larger county, where I had recorded some 2,000 -odd peals, if true, it would make a difference in our smallest county, for I have found only just over 100 peals mentioned in the columns of the ringing press. Figures, it should be remembered particularly here, concern peals so published. I shall always be very pleased and grateful to learn of any which have never appeared in print.

A footnote to a peal at Empingham (6) on November 2nd, 1895, says that it is the first in Rutlandshire. I expect that is accurate since it was before the days of the 'quarrels' which caused peals not to be published. There have only been two other peals recorded at this tower-in 1910 and 1933. Actually 16 towers have appeared in the peal columns of 'The Ringing World' and 'Bell News,' and only three of these have reached double figures for numbers of peals.

Oakham (8) has easily the most-33. Thres of these were in 1911 and 1912, then there were 15 from 1921 to 1935 and the remaining 15 have come in the last ten years. The only other 8 -bell tower is Uppingham. Only six peals have been rung there in the years 1899. \(1910,1930,1931,1932\) and 1952.

The other two towers with double figures both have six bells and both have recorded 12 peals. At Belton six were rung from 1911 to 1914 and the remainder from 1920 to 1936. At Langham four were rung between 1901 and 1911, seven from 1920 to 1936 and the final one in 1949. There is room to mention all the towers in the county with bells. Thus. amongst the others with six bells, Exton comes next with nine peals-three from 1896 to 191 n and six from 1935 to 1939. Whissendine has seven-five since the war and the other two in 1914 and 1932.

I have recorded six at Glaston (Mr. Amos mentions this tower specifically as having had an earlier peal than the first published in 1932). The first two were on five bells, the remaining four on the six in 1937, 1939, 1948 and 1952. Cottesmore has five in 1934, 1936, 1950, 1951 and 1954. Greetham and Edith Weston (like Empingham) each have three and all have come since 1951. Ashwell (6) does not appear to have had a peal-none published, at any rate.

Of the fives, seven out of the 12 are still virgin territory as far as "The Ringing World " peal columns are concerned They are Great Casterton, Hambleton, Ketton (unringable, I believe), North Luffenham. Lyddington, Preston and Ryhall.

Of those with peals. Market Overton has the most-three-all since 1951. Caldecote's two have likewise been in 1952 and 1953. The remaining three have one each. They are Barrowden (in 1931), Seaton (1932) and Wing (1931-but a footnote to this says that "the last peal on these bells was rung in 1903,' so that seems to be another not published).

That appears to be all one can say about the peals in Rutlandshire. As I said above, I should be very grateful for details of peals which have not been published. Perhaps, now that I have mentioned the figures for the different towers, it will enable some sympathetic ringer to compare notes with me about some of them. I hope so. Peal totals include all published up to July 22nd, 1955.

\section*{Farnham District at Grayshott}

The meeting of the Farnham District at St. Luke's Church, Grayshott, on August 6th can be said to be quite successful. A good number of members turned up during the afternoon and evening and they were able to welcome many visitors to the area.

Mr. E. J. Wells, Ringing Master, was in charge of the ringing. Methods rung ranged from rounds to Superlative.

The ringers' service was conducted by Canon Fielding H. B. Ottley. This was followed by tea, served in the Bank House Cafe.

After a very short business meeting Mr. C. W. Denyer, on behalf of the ringers, thanked the Canon for taking the service, and the Grayshott band under their captain, Mr. G. Yarborough, for making the afternoon such a success.

RINGING BY ROTHERHAM HIGH SCHOOL GIRLS

A unique event took place at Rotherham Parish Church on Tuesday morning, July 19th, when eight girls from Rotherham High School rang the bells to call their 500 colleagues to church to their annual end-of-term service.
A good deal of local interest was focused on the event. which was previously announced by the B.B.C. in their programme 'The Week Ahead.' Photographers from three local newspapers turned up during the ringing.

The girls' ages ranged from 14 to 18 and averaged 15 , and their abilities range from rounds to Surprise Minor. Four of the girls are attached to the Parish Church team, three from Thrybergh and one from St. Stephen's.

Six of the girls rang a plain course of Bob Minor, then, assisted by Messrs. F. Fisher, G. Lee and N.' Chaddock, touches of Plain Bob and Little Bob Minor were rung on the front six. Ringing concluded with well-struck call changes on the back eight and on the ten bells the girls ringing on the front seven and the three men on the heavier three bells.
The girls really excelled themselves and received many congratulations from several quarters after this happy and unusual occurrence, which undoubtedly acted as a useful stimulant to their interest.

\section*{LETTERS TO THE EDITOR}

LAST PEAL AT ST. DIONIS'
Dear Sir,-The Rev. K. W. H. Felstead is almost certainly correct in supposing that the peal at St. Dionis', Backchurch, in December, 1877, was the last one there. The footnote to the peal in 'Church Bells' (it was 5,200 Kent Treble Bob Royal, conducted by H. W. Haley), says: "This is the last peal that will be heard from the above tower, as both church and tower are to be taken down in the course of the year.'

The memorial stone to Sir Henry Tulse, both Lord Mayor of London and Master of the College Youths in 1684, is to be found in what remains of St. Dionis' churchyard, and it may be remembered that this was restored by the Society in their tercentenary year. The present senior steward and I located it a year or two ago (not without difficulty-it is in a little courtyard off Lime Street, between Fenchurch and Leadenhal! Streets), and we were glad to find the stone in good condition.-Yours faithfully.

\section*{AN APPEAL FOR CU-UPERATION}

Dear Sir,-I feel a letter of congratulation is due to Mr. Amos for his helpful letter in - The Ringing World ' on page 507. The useful information he sends will, no doubt, prove most encouraging to the Rev. K. W. H. Felstead in his researches. I imagine Mr. Amos is now in direct correspondence with Mr. Felstead so that he can tell him which are the five-bell towers which have been conquered.

I am not quite clear why Mr. Amos finds it necessary to condemn the attempt to record all peals. Such records can be of great interest and, if carefully compiled with the co-operation of diligent researchers (such as Mr. Amos), will serve to give a fairly accurate idea of ringing at different times Old peal records are so easily lost that a permanent record is very necessary.

I can give a good example of the inestimable value of these records. A certain well-known organiser of peal-ringing tours usually tries to arrange to ring the 'first in the method' at each tower. Where, but from Mr. Felstead, can he get accurate information? Thus can progress be made!

Finally, may I presume to remind Mr. Amos that Mr. Felstead's records only claim to be complete in respect of peals published in the various ringing journals. He has never said that any tower was virgin, only that there has been no published peal. Hence it behoves Mr. Amos to pass on his vast supplies of usefui information for the good of the Exercise instead of airing it by oblique references. It would be a shame for it to be forgotten with him.-Yours sincerely,

Hampton Wick.

\section*{PEAL RINGING IN NOTTINGHAMSHIRE}

Dear Sir,-In 'Peal Ringing in Nottinghamshire ' ('Ringing World,' July 29th), Thrumpton is mentioned as an eight-bell tower which is still virgin territory but probably Ruddington was meant. Thrumpton is correctly included in the five-bell towers at the end of the article -Yours sincerely,
C. GLENN.

\section*{FALSE PEAL OF SPLICED CAMBRIDGE, NEW CAMBRIDGE AND SOUTHWELL SURPRISE MAJOR}

Dear Sir, - Roger Baldwin's peal of Spliced Cambridge, New Cambridge and Southwell, published on page 445, is false in a few places, due to falseness between New Cambridge and Cambridge or Superlative. This occurs, as in Cambridge, between the first and fifth leads and between the third and sixth leads (f.c.e. 46253), also bctween the second and sixth leads and between the third and seventh leads (f.c.e. 32546).

For this reason the third lead in each of courses \(4,5,7,8,9,10,11\) and 13 is false against the seventh lead in courses \(12,8,23\), \(2,4,22,5\), and 6 respectively, the fifth lead in courses \(1,13,19\) and 20 against the first lead in courses \(22,17,1\) and 12 respectively, and the sixth lead in courses 1 and 13 against the third lead in courses 22 and 17 , if these leads are rung to Cambridge or Southwell. The falseness can, of course, be remedied by ringing New Cambridge in these leads, but this severely limits the number of leads in which the other two methods may be rung.-Yours sincerely,

JOHN L. MORRIS

\section*{Orpington, Kent.}

Dear Sir,-I have checked the composition of Spliced New Cambridge and Southwell and have found Mr. Morris's observations to be correct. I would like to apologise for my oversight in extracting f.c.e.'s and thank Mr. Morris for pointing out the falseness.

This composition will have to be withdrawn, but the calling is still true to Superlative.Yours sincerely,

\section*{RINGING DURING SERVICE}

Dear Sir,-I have been very interested in the numerous letters that have been received about 'Ringing during Service.' St. Mary's, Rickmansworth, is one of these churches which have a Sung Mass every Sunday morning preceded by Sung Matins. We are thus unable to ring for the \(11 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}\). service but we endeavour to ring four times a year for this service in which we have to ring during Matins, these being: Christmas, Easter, Whitsun and Harvest Thanksgiving. We call a band together and approach the Vicar on these occasions, and he has no objection whatsoever.-Yours faithfully,

DOUGLAS C. BARTHOLOMEW
Rickmansworth.

\section*{SPLICED SURPRISE MAJOR}

Dear Sir,-May I be allowed to warmly congratulate Mr. A. J. Pitman on producing yet another 'masterpiece' in the form of a Spliced Surprise Major composition in seven methods, retaining the standard four, wherein all the bells do all the work of each method.
This achievement marks a new triumph in the advancement of this branch of the art, especially so as the number of methods that can be included on this plan is necessarily limited. Coupled with congratulations must also be thanks for the many hours of patient research that lie behind these highly commendable productions, and I have the greatest possible pleasure in expressing my own.-Yours truly,
L. W. G. MORRIS.

LEICESTER DIOCESAN GUILD
- Mr. Fred Williams Leaving Melton Mowbray
Mr. Fred Williams, formerly of Eaton, chairman of the District, has now removed to Blyth, Nottinghamshire, and will be sadly missed by Melton District, where he has been an indefatigable worker for the cause of ringing.
An excellent chairman and a good organiser, Mr. Williams spared no pains in his efforts to attract ringers and friends in an exclusively agricultural area to the meetings and social functions which are always such happy affairs in the District. In particular, Mr. Williams personally organised the annual District dinner at Scalford and these functions were always a very great success.

Apart from his activities for the Diocesan Guild, Mr. Williams is also secretary of the Framland Association, an organisation of ringers in the Framland Deaneries, which was founded 80 years ago at Waltham-on-theWolds. Considerable interest was aroused at a meeting of the Association in May this year at Waltham when Mr. Williams had on show a presentation bell on a stand, which had been presented to a former secretary of the Association towards the end of the last century. This bell had been discovered in a secondhand shop far away from the District and Mr. Williams took the initiative in purchasing it for the Framland Association. His action was warmly approved by the members and the bell has since been accepted for safe custody by the Rector of Waltham, having been formally handed over at Evensong by Mr. Williams on behalf of the Association on a subsequent Sunday.

In over 20 years at Eaton, where there is a light ring of six, much good work for the Parish Church has been done by Mr. Williams including a period as secretary of the Parochial Church Council.
Mrs. Williams is also very well known to the ringers of the district and she has usually been with her husband when he has made his frequent visits to other churches to assist in ringing for special services on occasions when local bands have been very glad of outside help and have been much encouraged by the presence and assistance of their Guild chairman.
The Melton District wishes every happiness to its old friends in their new surroundings and hopes that the sadness of parting may be lessened by frequent return visits.

\section*{Richmond (Surrey) Have a Quarter After 25 Years}

The Church of St. Mathias, Richmond, built as a chapel-of-ease or daughter church of the Parish of Richmond, was designed for a ring of 12 bells, but they were never installed. The commemorative quarter for the 97th dedication festival was, therefore, rung at the Parish Church, and this quarter was the first for at least a quarter of a century, although a peal was rung here about 23 years ago. The ringer of the sixth, Mr. W. Coles, rang in this peal, which was conducted by Mr. J. A. Trollope. Among the band there were two members of the choir of St. Matthias'. Dr. G. J. Neal Smith, who is organist of the church, and whose birthday happens to be the same as the dedication festival, and his daughter, Gillian. At least four members of the choir of St. Matthias' are ringers, which must be almost unique for a church without bells.

\section*{ST. AMBROSE, BRISTOL}

On July 16th 41 ringers and friends left St. Ambrose, Bristol, for their annual outing. First stop was Monmouth, and whilst the ringers had a pull on the eight bells others took a very weicome cup of coffee. It was here that our party went coach hunting, as the police objected to our shutting out the light from the police station.
Leaving Monmouth somewhat late, our next stop was Abergavenny, where the non-ringing section of our party partook of an excellent lunch and the ringers made good use of the delightful ten bells. After some excellent ringing, including Little Bob Royal, the ringers then hastened to the second lunch sitting, some stopping for the usual!

It was at Abergavenny that we contucted Mr. Stephens, of Ebbw Vale, who promised to guide us to our next tower. Our ringing on the beautiful eight was (as we afterwards found out) the introduction to the annual carnival.

A stop at Pontypool for tea, and then on to Usk for ringing, on the lovely eight, and another 'quick one' !

Our last stop was back at Monmouth again for our traditional supper, after which a presentation was made to Mr. F. Skidmore, who had retired from the secretaryship of St . Ambrose Ringing Guild after 28 years' service.
It was nearly midnight when a tired but happy party arrived back in Bristol after a long but enjoyable day. Our thanks are due to incumbents for the use of the bells, and to all others who helped to make this outing successful.

\section*{NEWCASTLE AREA}

On August Bank Holiday the Northern District of the Durham and Newcastle Association held another very successful outing, this year to four towns or villages at the edge of the Cleveland Hills in North Yorkshire.

A start was made at 9.10 a.m. from Newcastle, the route being through Durham, Sedgefield, Stockton, Stokesley and across the Cleveland Hills to Helmsley. Here we rang at All Saints', with its flat sixth and much swaying tower, the last characteristic making the ringing not up to the standard we would have wished. By then it was time for an excellent lunch in the Yorkshire style at the Crown Hotel. Under low, dark clouds the journey was resumed along the Thirsk road, down Sutton Bank, with its gradient of one in four, to a tiny village about one and a half miles off the main road, called Felixkirk. The Church of St. Felix houses a small German organ, a rarity in this country, and a pretty ring of six (tenor 9 cwt.) and, hidden away under a belfry seat. in a wormeaten box, one of those sets of handbells referred to by C. W. Woolley in a recent leading article, a set of six bells by Warners. However, their tone and condition were good. A variety of methods was rung.
At Thirsk the bells were kept going for 4.5 minutes in methods up to Double Norwich and by then everybody was ready for tea at Faceby, a 20 -mile journey on the northern side of the Cleveland Hills. As the water in this village is cut off at about 6 p.m. every day on account of the long dry spell of weather, it was indeed fortunate that our hostess had laid by a good supply of water to meet our thirsts.
The last tower of the day, and the best bells, were at Carlton-in-Cleveland. Highlights of the ringing on this excellent light eight (tenor 15 cwt.) rung from a gallery, were a course of Yorkshire Surprise Major and a touch of Stedman Triples containing Tittums, Queens and Whittington. After a short adjournment to quench our thirsts we started to wend our way peacefully homeward, but within \(20 \mathrm{~min}-\) utes of leaving Carlton a pellet of paper hit some unsuspecting maiden's neck and before many minutes had passed, showers of pellets were fiying up and down the coach and soon some people started losing shoes. Before we knew where we were we had to start patching up our wounds in readiness to leave the coach, which arrived back in Newcastle at 10 p.m., discharging a very tired but happy cargo.
Thanks are due to Mr. George S. Deas for the excellent way in which he organised this, his first trip as organiser, and especially for discovering two such hospitable hostelries for meals
J. A. A.

\section*{GAMSTON, NOTTS}

It was July 23rd and Gamston outing! At 7.20 a.m. a large coach arrived in Retford Market Place; it had to be large because two 'Lancasters' (although not aircraft) were waiting. Owing to the hot weather one did not have to 'wear' many garments. A 'cook' was also put on board, it was thought he might be uscful. Taking the right 'street,' the coach set off for the King's Lynn district. Before going far nice fresh 'willows' were put inside to brighten up the coach.
At Gamston a couple of 'pilgrams' were awaiting the pilgrimage, with a fine young 'badger and a nice 'day.'
At Tuxford a full-grown 'fox' was picked up and put inside for safety. It was at Sutton-on-Trent where the problem of finding room for a 'castle' was overcome-although large, we got her in.

We had a short wait at North Muskham for a ' \(\operatorname{cop}(p)\) ' to get in, but he, being nice, took no names There was only one more stop before being full, this at Newark, but on opening the door in came 'midwinter,' and we had no ' coat(e)s' with us.
However, all was well, and right away to Long Sutton, a very fine eight; we should have liked to have stayed longer but time did not permit. At Downham Market a broken rope delayed ringing; these bells would be better if they could be heard more distinctly. Magdalen, St. Mary's, was next, with a grand six very much enjoyed. Gaywood (6) was the last tower before tea, and also enjoyed.
St. Margaret's (10), King's Lynn, was the highlight of the day, and touches of Grandsire Caters was the best ringing on this grand ring which is all that can be desired. The last tower of the day was Terrington St. Clement, and ringing ended shortly after 7.30.
Through 'The Ringing World' thanks are given to all the clergy for permission to ring, Mr. E. H. Mastin for his kind assistance, and all the local ringers for a kind welcome.
Although we had a load the coach did not 'reek' one bit, and home was reached at 11 p.m. after 200 miles and a 'day' well spent.
H. D.

\section*{MELTON MOWBRAY}

On August Bank Holiday Melton Mowbray (Leicestershire) ringers, accompanied by the Rev. E. W. K. Bailey (curate), wives, swecthearts. mothers and other friends visited Higham Ferrers, St. Albans (St. Peter's). Woburn, Olney and Earls Barton. The ringing at Woburn was most appropriate for the 80th birthday of Mrs. Harris. the wife of Mr. H. D. Harris, the well-known Bedfordshire ringer, who celebrated his 80th birthday earlier in the year. He was happy to ring a course of Cambridge with the visitors. Another participant in this course was 'Robbie'-William J. Robinson-lately so well known at Guildford, who has now retired to Bedfordshire and was on a visit to Woburn. A good time was had by all.

Towers in Rutland and North Leicestershire were visited on July 2nd by members of the Hunts District for their annual tour. The coach left St. Neots at \(8 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}\). picking up at Brampton, Huntingdon, St. Ives and Yaxley until the full complement of 35 was reached.
A welcome from the Rector was accorded the party at Uppenham, their first tewer, which was reached at \(10 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}_{\text {. }}\) and ringing was enjoyed for an hour. The lively little six at Edith Weston followed and a friendly greeting from the Rector.
After lunch, at Oakham, Mr. S. R. Hoy met the party at the Parish Church and we were delighted with the bells. Crossing into Leicestershire, Mr. Huddleston was waiting at Wymondham. It was here the first mishap occurred, the tenor rope breaking as the bells were being raised. Minor repairs were quickly executed and the bells got going. Nevertheless some of the party found these bells a bit of a handful. Then to tea, a delightful spread, which was quickly despatched. Under the Three Horseshoes sign the party were photographed.
Buckminster, a prettily situated church with a delightful ring of six, provided some good ringing. The last tower of the day was Botteford, where Mr. Ward welcomed the party, and ringing continued until 8.30 p.m. After a vole of thanks to Mr. H. S. Peacock, tracks were made for home.

\section*{OTTERSHAW, SURREY,}

Ringers and friends of Christ Church, Ottershaw, held their annual outing on June 25 th. An early start was made for a tour of Hertfordshire. The first church visited after a run of an hour and a quarter was Abbots Langley, with its unusual ringing chamber. The party then moved on to the charming village of Great Gaddesden, where glorious views of the surrounding country were obtained from the top of the church tower. After a good lunch in a 16 th century barn in St. Albans a short visit was paid to the Abbey. Unfortunately time did not permit the tower to be visited.
The route then led via Kimpton and St. Ippolyts (situated high on a hill) to Little Berkhamstead, where tea was taken. The last tower of the day was Aldenham, with its fine ring of eight. To complete the day a short stop was made at Stoke Poges for liquid refreshment.
Several members of local bands joined in the ringing of some of the touches. The ringing this year was not of such high standard as on previous occasions, due mainly to the absence of more experienced ringers.
Thanks are due to the tower secretaries and incumbents who helped to ensure the success of this year's venture.
J. \(\mathbf{R}\).

\section*{Wedding of Mr. Leslie Boumphrey and Miss Bryce}

Friendship which started at Leeds University was consummated by the wedding at Torrisholme Ascension Church, Morecambe, Lancs, on August 13th. of Mr. Leslie Boumphrey and Miss Margaret Bryce.
The bridegroom, who was born in Glasgow, is the son of the president of the Scottish Association, and after completing his training at Leeds University recently accepted an appointment in the Manchester area and has been prominent in ringing circles in South Lancashire.
The bride is a native of Lancaster and has done most of her ringing since the left the University at Wakefield, where she held a teaching appointment.
After a honeymoon in North Wales they are to make their home at Hazel Grove, near Stockport.

\section*{SOCIETY OF FRIENDS OF THE EXERCISE}

The first summer holiday tour by the above (as yet unofficial) Society has at last taken placc. Members from Wales, North Bradley, Chippenham, Bristol, Tewkesbury, Swindon, Lancashire and Devon assembled at Keynsham on July 23rd at 9 a.m. and a short service of intercession was held, conducted by the Vicar, before the start of a ten-day tour of South Devon. Ringing on Saturday continued at Bishop's Lydeard, Rockwell Green (a lovely six), Broadclyst and Clyst Common.
Headquarters for the week was at East Budleigh, where five of the party rang for early service on Sunday, the tenor being 'brought along bchind" by Harry Luxton, one of Devon's call change ringers, who is also a member of the Guild.
Morning service was at Littleham with a visit (always a pleasure) to Ottery St. Mary for Evensong.
Monday was spent with a short tour of Clyst St. George, Pinhoe, Topsham, Lympstone and Withycombe Raleigh, but to get full measure we returned to Littleham for an hour in the evening. By this time everyone was getting a nice tan and had had a real taste of the clear blue Atlantic Ocean.

Tuesday was another easy day at Exminster, Powderham, Kingsteignton, where quite a novelty is the stream which runs through the churchyard to work an old waterwheel beyond The day ended at Dawlish.

Wednesday was perhaps the highlight of the week, and before lunch we had already enjoyed two more of Devon's lovely rings of eight at Chudleigh and Bovey Tracey. At 2.15 p.m. we were at Buckfast Abbey, where we were met and were entertained by Father Oswald Mewan, O.S.B., who also joined us in some rounds. Two and a half hours here seemed a matter of minutes, but before leaving we visited the bell chamber to watch 'Hosaunah' being tolled. The slow majestic movement of this giant among bells is truly a sight worth seeing. The day ended at Buckfastleigh.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION

\section*{Lewisham District}

All the amenities of an English country village in ideal weather graced the occasion of the quarterly meeting at Farningham.

Ringing during the afternoon, superintended by Mr. H. Hoverd, was followed by the very enjoyable service conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. G. M. Young), who warmly welcomed his congregation in the prelude to his address. The lesson was read by Mr. Alex Young, of Bromley. Mr. Dussex, of Stanstead, kindly acted as organist.
The business meeting followed an al fresco tea at the Lion, Mr. J. Dafters (Lewisham) presiding. Eight ringers were elected into the Association, and the election of two non-resident members was ratified.

Bexley was chosen as the place for the next practice meeting to be held at Saturday, August 27th, and the invitation to visit St. Mary Crav for the annual District meeting, on October 29th. was gratefully accepted.
Cordial votes of thanks to the Vicar, organist and to the local ringers concluded the business.
Further ringing followed under the direction of Mr. P. Brown, Bexley, and the \(52 \mathrm{mem}-\) bers participating in the meeting had garnered one more memory of a pleasant and successful function.

Thursday was Exeter day; St. Thomas' St. Mark's and St. David's, followed by an hour and a half at the Cathedral and a full evening at Heavitree, where it was a pleasure to renew some old acquaintanceships, including one with a 'younger-than-ever-looking' Mr. Charles Glass.
Friday was a bit of a rush before lunch, and proved once again that if you start out half an hour and ten minutes late you remain late all day. However, we 'got in ' Highweek, Ipplepen, Dartmouth (St. Petrox) by lunch time, and after, St. Clement's and St. Saviour's, followed by an evening at Brixham.
Saturday it was up and over the moors to Moretonhampstead and Plymouth (St. Andrew's and Emmanuel) followed by Plympton (St. Maurice's), while Sunday morning was again a 'local affair' at Sidmouth and Sidbury. Lunch in the Village Hall at East Budleigh was provided by Hawkers, the local caterers, and memories were revived by seeing 'W. E. Pidgeon , on the crockery. The last day ' in residence, ended with visits to Woodbury, Brampford Speke for Evensong, and Upton Pyne.

Monday, the final day, found us at Bath, the dispersal point, after visiting Glastonbury (St. John's and St. Benedict's), Midsomer Norton and Corston. Space (and my - Devonian modesty ') will not allow a full description of the lovely bells we were allowed to ring or the beautiful country through which we passed. To those of you who know Devon, it is unnecessary, anyway. Our best wishes to those members who could not join us, including Enid Lloyd-Roberts in Australia, Bob Stokes in America and Bert Sutton in Yorkshire.

Our grateful thanks, first to Our Father for the glorious weather and health to enjoy it, and then to all incumbents and friends in local ringers who joined us, especially to the Rev. N. F. D. Coleridge, Fred Wreford and Tom Myers for valuable assistance in organising.

We have an afternoon 'do' arranged for September 17 th and a full Saturday and Sunday tour for October 8th.

\section*{Norfolk Dedication to be Broadcast}

Two new bells were dedicated at Gressenhall Church on August 7th by the Bishop of Norwich in memory of the late Rector, the Rev. Percy Edmund Hall, and his wife, Mrs. Margaret Pollok Hall. Mrs. Hall, who is 81, was in the congregation. The dedication ceremony was filmed and recorded by the B.B.C. and will be included in the Home Service Children's Hour and the Children's Television Newsreel on October 9th. Gressenhall has now a ring of eight bells.

The Bishop, who repeated parts of the cercmony afterwards for the engineers, said in his address that he was glad the B.B.C. had shown the farsightedness to realise that this country parish church was worth putting before vast numbers of viewers and listeners.

It is a great occasion for people to be on television and broadcast,' he said with a smile. - You must, quite-rightly, feel proud of this publicity. All the same it is not very important. I am glad the vast crowds are not still listening now. We can bring the service back home.'
The Bishop spoke of the high example set by Mr. Hall who was Rector from 1908 to 1953. 'He was the only Rector many of you

\section*{The Pipeline goes through Melton}

Melton Mowbray ringers were standing outside the Crown on a recent Sunday morning enjoying the air when their peace was suddenly disturbed by the passing of a coach at very high speed. As the speeding coach fled by there was a fleeting shout from one of the passengers of 'Hello, Philip!'

Unaccustomed to such excitement, the Melton ringers were slowly collecting their senses when they realised that a car containing the Edwards brothersRonald and Ralph-was standing at the kerbside. Evidently they had arrived in the wake of the coach, which it was understood contained Pipe's Pilgrims. There was a rumour abroad that the speed of the coach was due to the fact that it contained a very heavy load; and, in fact, there were stories that a bell of something over a ton in weight was being smuggled from somewhere in East Anglia. This rumour cannot be confirmed, but readers can draw their own conclusions-and smuggling would certainly account for the speed of the coach.

The key to the situation was possibly brought to Melton later in the week when other notable wayfarers-the Locks-passed through the town on their way back home from the dales of Derbyshire. They had news from higher up the pipeline of an uncomplimentary nature to the effect that the Pilgrims thought that some of their old friends were a bit snooty now they have moved to hunting country. There is an answer to that one, of course, but perhaps enough has already been said. had ever known,' he said. 'He was just " the Rector." He was an example of the high tradition of our English Church life which is now not so well kept as in former days, when men of education and position were content to spend their whole life as minister and pastor of one country village.
- What England owes to such men is quite beyond your powers and mine to compute, but they left an impress on generation after generation of English people and they have been a great factor in making English life and the English way of life what it is.'

After the service, which was attended by a large congregation, the Bishop presented certificates of membership of the Diocesan Association to three Gressenhall bellringers-Mrs. Joyce Callaby, Miss June Nelson and Mr. Roland Fox

When the Tonbridge District of the Kent County Association met at Horsmonden a picnic tea was the order of the day. One member enhanced his popularity by bringing his own kettle. Even those who had brought flasks were observed joining the end of the queue 'just so that none is wasted.'

\section*{NEW SOUTH WALES STALWART}

The following appreciation of the services to ringing of Mr. William Maldon Rowe, who was recently made a life member of the New South Wales Association of Change Ringers appears in the issue of 'The Ringing Towers ' to hand this week:-
- It is fitting that the Editorial of this edition of the New South Wales Association of Change Ringers' official organ be devoted to its founder, Bill Rowe. Over a period of 20 years or so he has perhaps done more for the formation of ringing in this State in particular than any other single individual, and for this reason was made an honorary member of the Central Council of Church Bellrmgers.

Bill first became interested in ringing in 1933, when he joined St. Jude's tower, Randwick, which was then under the captaincy of Basil Horrocks. At the time Mr. Horrocks was endeavouring to build up that Society, and the ringing consisted mainly of Grandsire Doubles, which was read from cards. A few years later he joined St. Mary's Basilica band, which was under the control of the late Mr. McDonald, sen. There his ringing was advanced to Grandsire Doubles and short touches of Triples.

During the war, Bill was associated with the English visitors who visited Australia whilst serving with the Royal Navy and this enabled him to reccive greater knowledge and experience in his change ringing. It was during his association with one of these men, namely, Alf Williams, that the idea was conceived of incorporating all ringers of the State into one fellowship. In 1946 this suggestion was materialised in the form of the New South Wales Association of Change Ringers, Bill being instrumental in its formation. He was, therefore, a foundation member and became its first secretary, holding this position until his resignation in 1954.

Whilst holding this position and also that of senior instructor for the Association, he organised and conducted excursions to all towers with ringing bells, city and country, in Australia with the exception of Tasmania and Western Australia. By these visits he has uncreased the enthusiasm and interest of ringers in this and other States. An example of this was his captaincy of the team which opened the bells of St. Peter's Cathedral, Adelaide, in 1947, and also the organisation of the Victorian tour which sowed the seeds again at Bendigo and at Ballarat, where the bells had not been rung for 37 years. Closer to home he improved the bells at St. Paul's, West Maitland, and with the help of Mr. J. Duncan, was instrumental in St. Clement's, Yass, ringing again.

At the last annual general meeting of the New South Wales Association of Change Ringers Bill Rowe was made a life member and given full voting rights. In order to confer this distinction upon the man who has given such valuable service for the betterment of good ringing over the years, it was necessary to make a constitutional amendment to this effect, but the decision of the meeting was unanimous.

It is hoped we may look to Bill Rowe in the future as in the past for his ever-willing guidance.'

In England at the moment is Father John Roche, Parish Priest of St. Benedict's, Broadway, Sydney. St. Benedict's has the only other ringing bells in a Roman Catholic Church in Sydney besides St. Mary's, and so Fr. Roche has a close acquaintance with ringers. He has been recalled temporarily to the Royal Australian Navy to serve as chapJain on board the H.M.A.S. ' Vengeance ' and to return to Australia in the new carrier ' Melbourne.' It is hoped that Fr. Roche will meet some English ringers while he is over here.

\section*{KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION}

\section*{Ashford District Visit Cheriton After 20 Years}

The Church of St. Martin, at Cheriton, was the rendezvous for the Ashford District of the Kent County Association on August 6th for the first time for 20 years. And what a relief after the seething mass of traffic on the roads and in the towns! This delightful church, so beautifully maintained peeps from its clump of trees over the restful countryside to the sea, as, indeed, it has been doing for more than a thousand years.

Mr. Walter Chandler, the captain of the local band, had made all arrangements for the meeting, with not only the permission of the Rector (the Rev. J. Ellis Robinson), but with his wholehearted co-operation.
Ringing began about \(3 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}\). and we had the opportunity to see the progress which Mr. Chandler's team of learners had made. At 4.30 the service was held, the Rector officiating. whilst Mr. Chandier was at the organ (ne change for him as he is the organist), and the singing was led by a small but most efficient choir. Mr. John Willis read the lesson and the Rector gave an address in which he welcomed us to the church. A collection was taken for the Association's Belfry Repair Fund and realised E 1 1 1 s . 3d. After the service wC found that a magnificent tea had been prepared in the Schoolroom. It had been provided by the Rector the local ringers and their friends, and was served by their ladies.
A short business meeting followed at which four non-resident life members were elected, and three practising members (one adult and two juniors). It was announced that the annual District meeting would be held at Ashford on September 24 th. Mr. J. Willis thanked all those concerned for their share in the arrangements.

Ringing continued during the evening and the neighbouring tower of Newington was also available. Altogether about 40 members and friends were present from 15 towers

As I made my way home I pondered upon two things:-
1. The happy state of affairs which exists when clergy and ringers back one another up in all church matters as well as purely ringing ones.
2. The kindness and hospitality which make our meetings such enjoyahle functions.
W. P. G.

\section*{BY INVITATION}

PERHAPS my home county was stung by some veiled criticism of her weather in my last report; whatever happened, the railway posters came to life on August 6th. and Devon was nothing if not sunny. From Haytor Down I looked down on such a glorious carpet-pattern of farmland, rich as wedding-cake mixture, moor, heath and woodland, with such a brilliant border of blue beyond Dawlish, Teignmouth and the Torbay towns, that I thought for a moment, 'Why doesn't everyone in the world come to live in Devon ?'; and then I saw the nasty rash of brick and concrete, tile and slate spreading outwards from the towns, and I thought, 'I hope too many of them don't.' Then over the moor, with a breeze blowing the gorse-scent into my face, over the top to look down on the wide valley -the Wide Combe in the Moor-between the steep, clittery hills. There, on a little knoll slap in the middle of the valley is the Church of St. Pancras, Widecombe-in-theMoor. And as I stop I can hear the call-changes singing out from its lovely tower: seventeen bands are competing there-by invitation from the Widecombe ringers-and they have been going for an hour or two now, for August 6 th has been a busy day; a young lady began her fascinating existence in my house at one o'clock this morning.

If, like thousands of people do, you go to Widecombe in a coach from Bolton or Handsworth or Huddersfield or almost anywhere else, you will find a rather spoilt, trippery little place, picturesque in its setting and its ancient buildings, but garish with Olde Shoppes full of terra-cotta gnomes and plaster-of-Paris Toby-jugs, cream-bowls inscribed in pseudo-Devonshire dialect and Lucky Dartmoor Pixies on cards. In and out of the shops, the Church and the old Church House file the trippers, in every garb from pin-stripe blue suits to sun-tops and very short shorts-yes, and I even saw a pair of greyish-mauve corduroy plusfours, but I like to think that their wearer was Not English. All through the summer they come, and not many villages could stand that sort of thing for many years before having their life and vitality and cohesion sucked right out. But Widecombe does. To-day the village is having a fete to help pay for the Church's restoration, and all among the charabancs and the litter-louts Widecombe is bowling for a pig, playing hoop-la, running races, serving teas-and ringing. Instead of the village seeming, as so many beautyspots do, to be embalmed in a cocoon of money-making unreality, it is the trippers and the 'charas' which seem unreal; Widecombe is just being itself.

Seventeen teams ringing by invitation in the competition, organised for the occasion by the Widecombe band themselves. They come from all parts of South Devon, west from Kenn, south from North Tawton, north from East Portlemouth, east from Plymstock, and one band came across the Tamar, from Botus Fleming in Cornwall, and brought their Vicar with them. In parts of Cornwall they ring rounds almost exclusively, and these weren't used to the call changes-they had never rung in Devon beforebut the Widecombe captain, Mr. Miners, went up and called the changes for them, and very nice too. It began with a service, conducted by the Vicar, and from then till after 8 o'clock the ringing went on with only enough intermission for one band to leave the ringing-chamber and another to go in. By far the most hard-worked men in the place must have been the judges; I saw cups of tea being carried up to their hidden eyrie, but they must have been very weary men when the seventeenth band had rung the bells down. In the little square under the oak tree on the Green among the side-shows of the fete, in the Church House, where once they served parish ales and now they served parish teas, the place was full of ringers. Seventeen six-bell bands-you can work it out-not counting listeners like me.

The ringing was good, without question, and the best was very good: Widecombe bells sound best, perhaps, when rung well down, call-change fashion.* Three bands had under 30 faults; West Alvington ' A,' the winners, with 10 , a splendid peal; East Portlemouth with 14; and Buckland-in-the-Moor, who did very well, coming as they did from their ultra-light ring of eight, to be awarded only 23 faults. West Alvington ' B ' had the misfortune to break a stay, and they were disqualified. The judges decided that they 'had no business to be up there' (meaning the bells, not the ringers !). This was fair enough, for at 34 a minute the stays should hardly touch the sliders on these bells, and fourteen teams rang afterwards without the stay, and without, apparently, any trouble from its absence.
Still, the results were not, probably, the vital matter that they are in an official competition like that one at Torrington. The main aims were an afternoon's good ringingachieved without question-and help for the Churchachieved to the tune of three pounds or thereabouts. For me it was a pleasure and an education. So many people go to Widecombe to see things-scenery, ancient and picturesque buildings, and gaudy stuff for sale-their minds full of Old Uncle Tom Cobley. I had a better bargain, for I saw the real Widecombe-a Church worshipped in, houses lived in, Church House used, by real people, nice people, living and enjoying life.
J. G. M. S.
* Widecombe bells were originally a five by Pennington of Exeter, cast in 1632-3. The old 2nd was recast by Bilbie, and the tenor later went to make two trebles. Like many bells by the Penningtons, they are thin castings; the tenor is \(12 \frac{3}{4} \mathrm{cwt}\)., by Taylors' information, in F, compared with one modern tenor I know of \(14 \frac{3}{4}\) in F sharp. For this reason they sound a little thin if you ring them as 'stiff ' as most change-ringers do.

The Results.-West Alvington ' A' 10; East Portlemouth 14; Buckland-in-the-Moor 23; North Tawton 36; Plymstock 463 ; Stoke Fleming 67; Kingskerswell 68; Kenn 70; Botus Fleming 72; Kingsbridge 79; Ilsington 90; Cornwood 110; North Bovey 140; Chudleigh 166; Dartington 170; Lustleigh 189; West Alvington ' B ' disqualified.

\section*{KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION}

\section*{Tonbridge District}

The first meeting on the recently-augmented bells at Horsmonden was held by the Tonbridge District of the Kent County Association on August 6th. This tower is rapidly becoming a favourite with the ladies owing to the fact that it is usually decorated with large bunches of flowers of prize-winning quality, which are distributed at the end of the meeting.
Just before the service the clapper of the sixth bell fell out, but fortunately did no damage, and was replaced by Mr. R. T. Lambert after tea, so that little ringing time was lost.
The service was taken by the Rector, the Rev. D. Barber, who gave an interesting address on the Transfiguration, based on the account in St. Mark's Gospel.
As Horsmonden Church is several miles from the village it was decided that members should bring their own tea, and everyone enjoyed the pienic held on the grass just outside the churchyard.

Thus fortified, ringing continued until late evening with methods to suit all tastes, all agreeing that this tower is a welcome addition to the eight-bell towers in the Tonbridge District, the local ringers being determined that the high standard they have always maintained on the six bells shall be continued on the eight.

\section*{BOLSTERSTONE VETERAN RETIRES}

A somewhat sad ceremony took place in the belfry of Bolsterstone (Yorkshire) Church prior to ringing for afternoon service on Sunday, August 14th.
This was the presentation of an ebony, silvermounted walking stick, suitably inscribed to Mr. William Harrison, who is leaving the District on his retirement from business.

Mr. Harrison, who is 76 years old, has been a member of the Yorkshire Association since 1901, doing all his ringing at Bolsterstone. He has taken part in 51 peals for the Association, which include 8,336 College Single Major (the longest length in the method) and 8,064 Double Norwich Court Bob Major, which is still the longest length in the method by the Yorkshire Association.

Mr. Harrison goes into Gloucestershire to reside with his son, and where he has also a brother (Mr. Samuel Harrison) living in retirement.
The walking stick was subscribed for by the ringers, and presented by the Vicar (the Rev. W. A. Surtees), who expressed the hope of all that Mr. Harrison would often return to his native tower to ring and to meet all his old friends and brother ringers.

\section*{THE LADIES' GUILD}

\section*{Sussex District Now Formed}

In the attempt to form a Ladies' Guild in Sussex, a second meeting was held at Christ Church, Eastbourne, on August 13th. Despite bad weather there was a better attendance of ladies.
Ringing took place from 3 p.m. until 8 p.m., during which time rounds to Double Norwich Court Bob Major were achieved, including a good all-ladies' touch of Kent Treble Bob Major.
After the tea break, while the men carried on ringing, a business meeting was held in the Church Room, during which the officers were elected. At the last meeting Mrs. B. Percy was elected vice-president. Other officers are:Miss K. Yeo (hon. secretary), Mrs. Hicks and Mrs. Nevett (committee members).
It is hoped to hold the next meeting at Southover, Lewes (10), on November 12th.

On Sunday morning, July 17th, an interesting event took place in the belfry of Keighley Parish Church, when Mr. John Hall, who has reached the age of 80, and has rung at the Parish Church for 50 years, was presented with a gold watch, suitably inscribed, by the Rector and churchwardens of the church, as a token of his long and devoted service as a ringer. He will be missed very much as he was always present and never late for ringing.
The peal at St. Stephen's, Acomb, York, on August 1st makes history. It was the first peal on tower bells in the city of York since 1892.

After a lapse of 18 months, owing to extensive repairs to the tower, ringing has now recommenced at Lillingstone Lovell, Bucks. The raising of the necessary money was a great effort on the part of the parishioners.

A peal of Kent Treble Bob, attempted at Burton-on-Stather on August 16 th, was lost after \(1 \frac{1}{2}\) hours' good ringing, due to the conductor's error. It had been arranged as a memorial peal for the Rev. O. G. O. Larr, Vicar of this parish from 1944 to 1953, and Mrs. A. Farrah, a life-long worker for this church.

The bells of Chichester Cathedral will be seen (but not heard) in two films which have been made this year: 'Richard III.' produced by Sir Laurence Olivier,' and the American film 'Quentin Durwood.' The local band assisted in the making of both films.

Whilst on holiday at Southbourne, Herrick B. Bowley managed to ring his annual handbell peal and also maintained his 100 per cent. record (total three peals). He also gave some excellent practice to two members of the band who rang in a peal of Stedman Doubles. These two rather suspect he would have taken part in this, but was rather afraid of losing his record!

\section*{GOSSIP}

The 'Cannon-Sone' ringing tour of Oxfordshire was highly successful with ten peals scored out of 15 attempts. During the week 50 towers were visited. The party consisted of 18 ringers. The story of the tour and the peals recorded will appear in our next issue.

By the peal of Doubles at Pulverbatch on August 6th Mr. John N. Lindon has rung peals of Stedman from Doubles to Cinques.

Fifteen-years-old Stanley Jenner has made a good start with peal ringing at Seal Chart. We are informed that he rang his first peal from an inside bell faultlessly.

The genial secretary of the Melton District of the Leicester Diocesan Guild and his 13-years-old son, Roland, rang their first peal of Triples at Mountsorrel on August 13th. The 'grand old man' of the Syston District, Mr. Joe Norton, listened to the whole peal, and with the Vicar of Mountsorrel joined the band for tea afterwards.

The Universities' Association had a very successful week from August 6th to 15th, with their headquarters at Rugby. Four peals were rung including one of Spliced Minor in 41 methods conducted by Wilfrid F. Moreton. There were also peals of Superlative and Bristol Surprise and Double Norwich Court Bob Major.

For over 50 years Mr. E. Fenner has been a ringer at St. Dunstan's. Mayfield, Sussex. To honour his golden wedding a peal attempt was made at St. Dunstan's on August 9th. Unfortunately after 4,000 changes of Plain Bob the attempt failed owing to a shift course. In the band were A. Grimwood 1, C. Bassett 2, B. Collinson 3. C. Tester 4. L. Honess 5, S. Posting 6, W. Kitchenside (conductor) 7, F. Hicks 8.

106 METHODS TO HANDBELL PEAL

\section*{Splicing Plain and Treble Bob Methods}

Last week we briefly recorded the new record established in Minor ringing on August 8th of a handbell peal in 106 methods. Mr. George E. Feirn and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bray have achieved a new standard which will be hard to surpass.

The peal was only rung after assiduous practice. The first practice was held on January 1st, and since then they have met on 33 occasions before the final triumph came their way.
Another new feature of the peal was the introduction of a 720 containing 18 Plain and four Treble Bob methods. This was composed by Mr. C. Kenneth Lewis, and this was the first time that Plain and Treble Bob Minor methods had been spliced into an extent.
In the hope that other handbell bands will be encouraged to emulate this example and for record purposes the extent is given below:

ANOTHER RECORD FOR NORTH LINCOLNSHIRE.-Mr, and Mrs. Jack Bray, with Mr. George E. Feirn (the conductor) on the right, who have created a new record of 106 Minor methods 'in hand.' On June 30th, 1947, they established a record with a peal 'in hand' of 105 methods.

\section*{BELLS AT A BAPTISM}

The christening of the infant son of the Rev. N. F. D. Coleridge took place at Townstal on the Feast of the Transtiguration and was made the occasion of ringing in three towers. A carload and a motor-cycle met Mr. Coleridge and one or two of his ringers at Stoke Fleming and Doubles was rung on the six bells there. A welcome by the local captain was much appreciated, but unfortunately infirmity prevented him from demonstrating Devon call changes.

After a picnic tea on Mr. Coleridge's lawn, the party moved on to St. Petrox Church, which is adjacent to Dartmouth Castle at the mouth of the River Dart. The cars were parked almost on a level with the top of the tower, so it was a case of going down to ring, where the ringers found themselves surrounded by very fine Jacobean panelling removed from a tower gallery, and now inscribed as a war memorial.
The bells are a nice, light Taylor ring, and ringing them was much enjoyed before the hill was climbed to reach Townstal, the original Parish Church of Dartmouth, where Mr. Coleridge is priest-in-charge. The bells were rung before and after choral Evensong, the sacrament of baptism being administered after the second lesson, when the baby was christened Robert James Nicholas by his uncle, the Rev. A. D. Coleridge, the Vicar of Ide, near Exeter.

\section*{BOLSOVER HAS TWO BRIDES}

On two occasions within a week the ringers of Bolsover Parish Church, Derbyshire, met recently to ring peals in honour of the marriages of two lady members of the local company.

The first wedding was on Saturday, July. 30th when Miss Pamela Joyce Leaning was married to Mr. Gerald Ashley. The bells were rung before and after the ceremony, which took place during the morning, and in the afternoon a peal of Oxford Treble Bob Major was completed by the local ringers, assisted by friends of the bride from Bakewell and Warsop.

On the following Saturday Miss June Wright, daughter of Mr. Cyril Wright, of the local band, was married to Mr. Colin Smith. The bells were again rung for the morning ceremony, and an attempt during the afternoon for a peal of Little Bob Major failed after two hours. Hurried arrangements were made for a fresh attempt on the following Tuesday evening and the peal was then completed without mishap.

Both peals were extremely well struck and the local band were very grateful to Mr. Herbert Rooke for so ably conducting on each occasion.

The Rev. G. Gordon Graham (Bakewell), Mr. S. Scattergood (Chesterfield) and Messrs. G. Chambers and L. Barlow (Creswell) took part in the first attempt for Little Bob Major.

\section*{A CORRECTIUN}

Miss Stella Hughes, of Walsall, in conveying her apologies to the Exercise, wishes to correct that the peal of Stedman Caters (see page 514) was rung at St. Giles', Willenhall, and not at Walsall. The peal was, as stated, for the Society for the Archdeaconry of Stafford.

\title{
Old-Fashioned Stays and Sliders and Other Queer Things

By E. V. RODENHURST

\(\mathrm{A}^{\mathrm{s}}\)the majority of ringers are no doubt aware, church bells were originally hung without stays, and these came at a later date. They took various forms, ranging from the oldfashioned iron peg to the wooden stay and slider of conventional type down to the modern type of 'Hastings' stay often fitted to-day. In my ramblings round Shropshire prior to the 1914-18 war, I came across numerous types of stays, which have now for the most part disappeared due to the many restorations and rehangings which have taken place during the last few years.

The old six bells at Moreton Corbet (recast 1924) had for a stay a short round iron peg about five inches long. This worked on an iron slider fitted in a slot at the side of the frame and protruding horizontally into the pit about waist-high or a little above.

At Cound (rehung 1925) the front five bells had an iron stay and slider of a different kind, the stay being a square iron peg about three inches long fitted close to the end of the headstock; this peg was bent outwards at rightangles, an inch or so. The iron slider was fixed vertically on the side of the frame a short distance below the bearing and was made after the style of a latch on a stable door, but on a larger scale.

These bells had large wheels and the old flat rope rollers fitted by Rudhall when he cast and hung the bells in 1726. The tenor had a wooden stay and slider of the usual type.

\section*{SHAWBURY BELLS}

At Shawbury, where I rang for a time as a boy, the tenor had (and still has) an iron stay and slider similar to those on the old Moreton Corbet bells. It looks very much as though the other five bells were originally hung without stays, and that these have been fitted by a local man at a later date. They are ordinary straight wooden stays, but the fixing of the sliders is odd, in that the long-flighted clappers hanging so near the floor and allowing no room for a slider underneath the bell, they are fixed outside the frame with the free end protruding into the pit between the two braces of the frame, which act as a stop block each way. The sliders of the treble and fourth are fixed in the window sills.

Shawbury bells have very large wheels and the old rope rollers. An odd feature of the wheels is the fact that the garter hole is in the top of the wheel between the two upright spokes, and to give the necessary leverage at handstroke a small reel is fitted a short distance down the wheel. This reel is rather too high up. for when the bells were rung the sallies were considerably lower when the bells were set at handstroke than when they were in the 'down' position.
I have vivid memories of how, in that hot, dry summer of 1911, I, as a stout youth of \(14 \frac{1}{2}\) years, used to cycle the four miles from my old home to Shawbury to slog the second bell in call changes with the loss of much sweat. and get as much pleasure out of it as 1 have done in many a peal since.
The bell went with a hop, skip and a jump, and the rickety old wheel would throw the rope off occasionally, but it always came on again after a few swings, we never had to stop. Harry Austin, the blacksmith, used to ring the tenor at that time, and one Sunday evening, after some 10 to is minutes of call changes, 1 counted 13 drops of sweat on the quarries that had run off the end of his nose and chin, so you can understand, the 'go' was not 'all that could be desired.' The fourth bell was badly cracked, and some rude boys of the village used to say. "The bell is cracked and the ringer is cracked.' The tenor was a good old bell. nice mellow tone; I doubt if Abraham Rudhall ever cast a better bell for the weight. In 1924 the tenor gudgeon broke and the bell came down in the pit, as it had done once or twice before. After that all ringing was suspended. The bell was hung up again locally, the sexton tied all the clappers and they have now been 'clocked for the past 30 years.

The old six at Hodnct were another hardgoing lot. They had been 'rehung' by the same firm of building contractors who restored the tower, and the first time the bells were rung the clappers of the second and fifth flew out almost immediately, the clapper of the fifth going on to the stairway.

\section*{THE CLAPPERS AT HODNET}

The old oak frame, which had been shored up by the builders, was of odd design, the ropes formed an anti-clockwise circle and came down in the order 123465.

A 28 lb . balance had been put on the headstock of the fifth to help pull it round. The 'go' of the tenor was dreadful, and the fourth nearly as bad. The late James H. Shepherd told me he could not recall ringing on bells that went so badly. How different are conditions there to-day, for the bells, having been entirely rehung and augmented and a ringing floor put in, now go so well that a schoolboy can ring the tenor with ease.

The old tenor at St. Chad's. Shrewsbury (recast 1914), had a curious kind of double stay, that is to say, a curved, wooden stay each side of the headstock, bolted together where they joined near the top.

On my visit to Rushbury in 1914, I found stays of the same type, and also at Lydbury North, though at this latter tower 1 could not ring, as I was given to understand the bells had not been rung for some years, and 1 noticed that all the clappers were tied for 'clocking.'
At Uppington (6) there is no 'bed ' for the slider, the free end being suspended from the frame by an iron rod.

\section*{Cumberland and North Westmorland Associatior}

The Association held a practice and committee meeting at Crosthwaite, Keswick, on Saturday. August 20th.
The attendance was very small and half of those present were members of the newlyformed band from Appleby. Method ringing was very restricted, but some very valuable practice was obtained for the Appleby band.
At the committee meeting held afterwards the problem of Sunday service ringing was discussed. It was reported that only seven out of 18 ringable towers in the county were ringing for Sunday service. In this connection the need for closer co-operation between ringers and incumbents was stressed. Obviously, immediate action is required if Cumberland towers are to remain ringing.

Good wishes of local ringers accompany Mr. D. E. Vowles, of Yatton, Somerset, on leaving to undertake his National Service with the R.A.F. His farewell quarter, rung from the seventh, enabled him to ring a quarter peal on each bell in the tower.

\section*{DURHAM AND NEWCASTLE ASSOCIATION}

\section*{Western District Hold Annual Meeting at Tanfield}

Perfect summer weather again favoured the Western District when they held their meeting at Tanfield on August 13th. Members came from Benfieldside, Blackhill (St. Mary's), Blay. den, Consett. Chester-le-Street, Fenham, Lanchester. North and South Shields, Newcastle and Whickham.

The service in church was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. R. Race), who, in a short address, welcomed the members. He also said he hoped in the near future to meet them as fellow ringers.

The lesson was read by Mr. K. W. Cheeseman, a local ringer (who is a lay reader, secretary and treasurer to the Parochial Church Council and organist). The organist was Mr. Jack Brown, who is shortly leaving the district for Ripon.

After tea in the School Room the meeting was held, with Mr. Stephen Thompson in the chair. A vote of thanks to the Vicar and churchwardens for the use of the bells was proposed by Mr. S. Hewett, and Mr. H. Cliff thanked the ladies for the splendid tea they had provided. The Vicar replicd.

Winlaton was selected for the next meeting in early October. Officers for the ensuing year were re-elected, namely, Mr. S. Thompson (vicepresident) and Mr. C. T. Lamb (District secretary). Both were thanked for their past services by Mr. P. G. Draffan

Mr. K. Arthur appealed for more 'Ringing World ' supporters, and handed copies of the paper to any who did not take it. Afterwards the bells were kept going until 8.30 p.m., and all had spent a happy time.

The tower at one time must have been a hunting ground for peal ringers, but very few peals are attempted nowadays. A peal of 5,040 Bob Triples was rung in 1891, and on April 24th, 1905, 7.232 of Double Oxford. The latter still stands as the longest for the Association, and it took four hours and nine minutes to complete. The ringers were: J. E. Scolt 1 , E. Hern 2, R. Hogg 3. T. Teasdale 4, J. J. Hogg 5, J. Hern 6, A. Jolly 7, G. Dix tenor.

\section*{Southern District}

The annual meeting of the Southern District was held on August 13 th at County Durham's prettiest village, Brancepeth. A successful year was reported. Mr. T. Cooke (St; Cuthbert's, Darlington) vice-president, Mr. P. Rock (Holy Trinity, Stockton-on-Tees) hon. secretary, Mr. F. W. Cooke (Holy Trinity, Darlington) hon. - Ringing World ' representative, were all reelected and thanked by the gathering.
Ringing took place at the beautiful 12th century Church of St. Brandon in the Castle grounds. Methods rung were Kent and Bob Major, Stedman and Grandsire Triples, Cambridge Surprise and Kent and Bob Minor.

\section*{BEVERLEY & DISTRICT SOCIETY}

On August 13th the Society held its monthly meeting at the Priory Church, Bridlington, at the invitation of Canon J. W. Lamb and the local ringers. Twenty members attended and the bells were rung to Plain Bob, Stedman, Grandsire and Treble Bob.
The service in the Priory Church at 4.30 p.m. was conducted by the Rector (Canon J. W. Lamb). who welcomed the Society in his address. He was assisted in the service by the Rev. G. Storer.
Tea was served in the Church Hall, followed by the business meeting, and the president, Mr. A. Sellers, welcomed a visitor, Mr. John K. Foot. from Liverpool University.

Further ringing took place until 8.30 p.m.

\section*{METHOD-STAGE RELATIONSHIP}

Dear Sir,-Some time ago Mr. Blagrove responded to the suggestion that he should try designing a method on the lines of a principle to be derived from an 'outline' specification that was given on page 172 of the issue of 'The Ringing World' No. 2,294, and he produced his ' Stanwell.'
For this he is to be commended, as also for his bold use of the new technology we have introduced for method structure: e.g., such terms as Link: Junction; Omni-working; Huntcontrolled; Natural coursing-order; Specification. etc.; without which, or some such specific and unambiguous terms, it is not possible to discuss the subject succinctly.

But in his letter giving the figures for Stanwell (page 315 of issue No. 2,303)-and I note he does not give a specification, the preferable and generic form! - he raises a number of points, to answer all of which would occupy too much space in these columns. In view, however, of the interest of those who followed the previous correspondence (relating to his list of Surprise methods and 'churning out ' of the same), I would ask to be allowed to comment on two issues. (The rest I could deal with by letter direct to Mr. Blagrove, if he so wishes.)

First, I think he will agree that he should be consistently careful in the use of terminology, even if only to avoid that bugbear of ringing theory-confusion by ambiguity. For example, he is still speaking of "composing' a method, and he uses the term 'specufication ' in rather an ambiguous sense, and not in that for which it was introduced; which was. of course, as a sort of formula for a generic design (of a method) applicable to all related stages.
Regarding the novelty of Regina, he shifts his ground as to 'new' methods and his former claim that Driver's work was exhaustive in that group. By 'new' we mean, of course, newly published. There is no record of Mr. Blagrove having previously published details of this method.
The main point for answer. however, is Mr. Blagrove's statement that he awaits with interest a reply to a letter in :The Ringing World ' in 1953, which alleged that the Royal and Maximus of Regina are not extensions of the Major.
Now this is a key point for the whole future treatment of method-stage relationship. It is intimately bound up with the comparatively new principle of method specification, as again discussed in the recent Topic for the Month, VII.' In point of fact the writer of that 1953 letter fell (unwittingly, no doubt) into a trap; for Regina was the first method ever to be designed not for any one stage, but in accordance with a generic specification; and to that specification the figures of the method conform strictly for all stages. Obviously, if a method is deliberately designed not for any one stage, but in accordance with a generic specification, then neither I nor anyone else can argue that the design produced from that specification for any one stage is not that of the method-family so specified! Yet that is what was said.

But apart from this, my old friend George Baker, one of the oldest living workers in method structure. and who has usually differed with me throughout the years, nevertheless immediately came down heavily in support of this technological fact, when, in his letter on page 649 of the issue dated October 2nd. 1953, se said, in conclusion: 'I am sorry to contradict the Methods Committee's dictum when I say emphatically they (the stages from 6 to 12 bells) are all one method under the above title." -Yours very truly,
A. YORK-BRAMBLE.

\section*{BELLS OF THEBERTON}

\section*{THEBERTON, OCTOBER 20th, 1874}

SONG OF THE OLD BELLS
For thrice one hundred years our cry
Has sounded from the belfry high,
Facti sumus in honorem Domini.*
For thrice one hundred years we tell Our message from each warning bell, Facti sumus in honorem Domini.

Worn out at last by service long Our followers must repeat the song, Facti sumus in honorem Domini.

Neglectful hearts they still will rouse Inviting all to GOD'S own house; Facti sumus in honorem Domini.

If any wander near in doubt,
Hark! let them hear the bells ring outFacti sumus in honorem Domini.

If any fainting in despair should cry Why was I born? The bells replyFacti sumus in honorem Domini.

Let all who hear the solemn lay
Or young or old, for pardon pray,
And to their hearts the happy sentence layFacti sumus in honorem Domini.
W. B.
* Inscription on one of the old bells dated 1595. (May be translated, 'We were made to honour the Lord.')

\section*{SABBATH BELLS}

Dear is the hallowed morn to me When village bells awake the day; And by their sacred minstrelsy
Call me from earthly cares away. Hark! all around,
Hark! far above,
Sweet notes fall ringing, ringing,
Notes of Love, which sing-
- Come old, come young,

Come rich, come poor,
Come strong. come feeble, feeble.
More and more.
' Come sinner. saint,
Or sad. or gay,
Still life is waning, waning,
Short the day.
' Speed here thy step,
Thy spirit cheer,
Sweet Peace awaits, awaits thee. Ever here.

Keeble, K.C.B.

\section*{BIRTHDAY BELLS}

Hark 'tis some Birthday's joyful meeting.
The bells a new-born babe declare;
In chorus with sweet music greeting
Life's young short hours, unknowing care.
Ever the same. yet ever new, Chang d and yet true,
Like the pure heav'n's unfailing blue
Which varies on from hour to hour
Yet of the same Love and Power Tells alway!-such may seem Through life, or waking or in dream. The echoing bells that gave
Our childhood's welcome to the healing wave-
Such the remember'd Word, so mighty then to save.

Keble.

WEDDING BELLS
Lovely 'tis the Bride to see With the Village all delight, When the bells so merrily
All to happy thoughts invite.
Ah! of life it is the May:
Rich moments lent us from above;
A ray of heav'n to gild the way
To endless harmony and love.
Domestic Happiness! thou only bliss
Of Paradise that hast surviv'd the fall!
Thou art the nurse of virtue. In thine arms She smiles, appearing, as in truth she is, Heav'n-born and destin'd to the skies again.

Schiller. Corper.

\section*{FUNERAL BELL}

Now the tow'r's deep-toned bell
Tolls some parting pilgrim's knell !
Sadly solemn! See relations weeping
One now follow who in death is sleeping.
But bless'd be faith
Which smiling saith-
- No sorrow hath Heav'n, nor tears, nor death:
Time and Faith
Can conquer Death
Till side by side in the tranquil tomb
With joy or sorrow we wait our doom.'
Schiller-G. S. Cautley.

\section*{CHRISTMAS BELLS}

Listen do'st thou hear
The Christmas bells so soft and clear?
To high and low glad news they tell,
How God the Father loved us well;
How God the Eternal Son
Came to undo what we had done;
How God the Comforter
Who fram'd the Babe so sweet
In glory came, the Birth to greet.
May I the twelve-month long Bear the glad song
About with me in the world's throng;
That treasur'd joys of Christmastide
May in the hour of gloom abideThe Christmas carol sing
Deep in my heart when I would sing! Each of the twelve good days
Its earnest yield of duteous love and praise
Ensuring happy months and hallowing common ways. Keble.

\section*{NEW YEAR BELLS}

Let me hear
The peal of the departing year.
O well I love, the step of time
Should move to that familiar chime. Fair fall the tones that steep The Old Year in the dews of sleepThe New guide softly in-
With hopes to sweet sad memories akin.
Long may that soothing cadence ear, Heart and conscience, win.

The breeze doth sigh and wail
And up and down its plaintive scale Range fitfully and bear
Its burden to the humbly listening ear;
And the sweet bells that charmed
Life's morn. are there.
Keble.

\section*{THE 'BLUE PING' TOUR IN HAMPSHIRE}
\({ }^{1}\) A N innovation on the part of the ringers of the Daventry district was the hiring of a coach for their 1955 tour; whether the freedom from strain on the car-owners resulted in an improvement in ringing is a matter for conjecture. All the efforts to convert the genial chauffeur to our fraternity were unsuccessful, but any hopes he may have held regarding accommodation in celestial spheres for the 'Blue Ping' bus were dispelled in song by the choristers. As might be expected, the long-distance visitor arrived first, having travelled through the early hours from Ipswich; the party being completed at Banbury, whence Dorothy was given sanctuary from transport sleuths.

The first call was at Deddington before taking lunch at Oxford, where the only disappointment of the week, in the form of a cancellation at St. Ebbe, occurred. At East Ilsley the methods drifted "in deep waters,' to quote one of the texts which prefix the peal tablets. The traffic congestions on the approaches to Newbury robbed us of valuable ringing time on its fine ten, even though a forgetful member contrived to extend the stay by her efforts to retrived to extend th trieve a dolly-bag.

\section*{WINCHESTER BEDECKED}

The discovery, on reaching our headquarters, that Winchester streets had been decorated for the Royal visit and not in welcome to us was alleviated by a square meal at the Great Western Hotel where the majority of the party was billeted. The 'St. John's Mead provided accommodation for the rest, but the assertion that this formed the staid section of the party was soon disproved. A pleasant evening drive to Micheldever revealed a quaint round-shaped church and produced some ringing which left the poll-heifers in the vicinity absolutely speechless!

Sunday morning saw the contingent at a corporate Communion in the nearby Church of St. John-the-Baptist, where a Blessing was uttered by the Vicar. It was disappointing to uttered by the Vicar. It was disappointing to Jing only the front eight at the Cathedral before attending Matins, but the risk of further damage to the cracked clapper of the tenor, so near to the Queen's visit, was appreciated. A free afternoon by the sea at Bournemouth preceded Evensong at St. John's, Surrey Road, where a grand octave was not disgraced by our efforts at Grandsire, Stedman, Plain Bob and Double Norwich.

The first call on Monday was at Tichborne, where the nave, chancel and tower form the C. of \(E\). portion, and the north aisle the \(R\).C. vault, both denominations holding regular services. The Saxon crucifix in the Early English tower of New Alresford gives an indication of its varied fortunes: the bells require pushing to be heard at their best. Repairs to the coach were responsible for an abbreviated stay at Ropley (a heavy six in a wooden tower), but the delay was made up by Iunch-time at Alton. A good octave in the graceful church of Privett would have sounded better to the Duffield music without the extrancous noises of the ringingroom. To a lesser extent this applied also at East Meon, which, however, provides some glorious examples of several periods of architecture. The drive home was halted in a pleasant country lane in order to cheer the return of the Royal party, and we were greeted at our destination by the Cathedral bells ringing Grandsire Caters.

The party was increased the next day by two Cathedral members-Messis. P. Nash and M. Lakin-and we found the bells at Hursley in rather a neglected condition: full compensation awaited us, however, at Romsey Abbey. This glorious octave, with a 'humdinger ' of a tenor, is in keeping with a noble Norman edifice. The Vicar met us at Sherfield English, which has a Vicar met us at Sherfield English, which has a light, fast eight; next a visit to the medium octave of East Tytherley; and, finally, the heavyish six at King's Somborne.

Wednesday's programme opened at Lyndhurst, which boasts a fine timbered roof and a pleasing-toned octave worthy of better striking than we supplied. This laxity persisted at Brockenhurst, but the cameramen found compensation in the gravestone of the snake-serum hermit. A grand set of bells at Lymington restored our spirits, and, after vital repairs to Peter's apparel, lunch provided the mood for an afternoon by (and in) the sea at Milford. One finds here a good eight rung from the floor of a tower which is itself built within the fabric of the church and at Eling St, Mary (our last call) a heavy six dating from 1775 .

\section*{COACH'S OVERALL DRESS}

A glorious Thursday morning saw the coach dressed overall in pyjama suiting in dubious welcome to another visitor from the Cathedral, Miss Beryl Pittoway. Before lunch at Fareham we visited Curdridge (rather noisy belfry) and Shedfield (good octave); after it, the descriptions reversed themselves at Soberton (a fall in 'Queen's' here) and Swanmore, where we suspected a lurching frame. Bishop's Waltham seems to be several hundredweights heavier than the weight quoted in the much-thumbed guide by Dove. A special evening practice was arranged for us at the local Church of St. Maurice by another Cathedral ringer, Mr. J.
King, and with his assistance the 'boss' managed to steer himself through a touch of Spliced Surprise in five Minor methods.

Southampton was visited the next morning, the two fine tens of St. Mary's (being rebuilt after bomb destruction) and St. Michael's (here we were delighted to meet its Vicar, the Rev. K. W. H. Felstead) providing happy memories of the famous port where the 'Queen Elizabeth' was lying in dock. After lunch we journeyed to North Stoneham, the burial place of George Williams, and, in our case, the scene of an argument with a stay. The bells of Bishopstoke seem to have suffered through augmentations, but Twyford has a pleasant light eight. Conviviality in the clubroom spent the evening all too quickly, but an interlude was found for Dorothy to express the gratitude (tangibly, also, in the form of a brief case) of the gathering to Mr. E. G. Orland for the prodigious task of organising such a tour,

The return home on Saturday was marred by a forgotten fixture at Wonston (rectified, however, by some good ringing during the time available) and a late arrival at Highclere. where a very good ring provided compensation. Lunch was taken at Newbury and the final ring at Kidlington; some deliberate striking and a good fall formed a fitting conclusion to a week spent amongst grand country, at fine churches and in glorious weather. At times Harry, the navigator, contrived to get us lost : this aroused a sense of anticipation in the blissful Malcolm and a display of feigned vexation in the punctilious organiser. Fred became one of the party from the start and is expected to start "hobleying, up the belfry in preparation for attaining full membership of the 'Blue Ping' band next summer.

Methods rung during the tour included:Minor: Plain Bob, Kent and Oxford Treble Bob, Double Court, Double Oxford. Cambridge and London Surprise. Triples: Grandsire, Stedman, Double Court and Oxford Bob. Major: Plain Bob, Little Bob, Kent and Oxford Treble Bob, St. Clement's, Duffield, Double Norwich, Cambridge, Superlative and Yorkshire Surprise. Caters and Royal: the standard methods and one half course of Cambridge.

Thanks are accorded incumbents for the use of the bells and the local representatives for the cordial reception accorded to us everywhere.

\section*{OUTING}

\section*{LLANDILO, CARMARTHENSHIRE}

Leaving the Parish, Church, Llandilo, at the early hour of seven on June 18th, was a great effort for some of the ringers of St. Teilo's Church, who were holding their first annual outing. Away on time, with good weather to go with them, the route was set for England.

Abergavenny was reached by 9.30 a.m., where the party were joined by friends from Winterbourne, Glos. After much handshaking the way was found into the belfry of the Priory Church of St. Mary. Good use was made of these glorious bells ( 10 , tenor 25 cwt ) and was enjoyed by all. It was afterwards learned that some harsh words were said by a party of ordnance surveyors. who were setting up a theodolite on the top of the tower.

The Rev. I. J. Richards, of Llanarth, was elected as guide to the party to find the next stop at Llangattock-Vibon-Avel, where the Church of St. Cadoc is to be found hidden in a valley well off the highway. After a long cross-country ride the party were rewarded with a grand study for the photographers, and an a grand study for tells ( 6 . tenor 11 cwt .), which went well to Grandsire and Bob Minor.

A short run into Monmouth for lunch, followed by ringing at the Church of St. Mary ( 8 , tenor 20 cwt .). It was here that the first snag occurred-no one to meet the party, no key. After a little hunting around the town the towerkeeper was run to ground, having his own meal. Ringing commenced some 30 minutes late, and some hurried touches of Grandsire Triples were obtained before moving on.

The Church of St. Giles, Goodrich, was reached on time but here the second snag ap-peared-a wedding was to take place and the guests were already arriving. A quick dash was made for the tower and the bride was greeted with touches of Bob Minor on a good ring of six (tenor 13 cwt .).

The next call was to St. Weonard's, where the engineers had to get busy and make temporary repairs to the bells ( 6, tenor 11 cwt .) before ringing could commence. Although the 'go' left a lot to be desired, touches of Grandsire and Stedman were brought round.

Ross-on-Wye was the aim for tea as well as ringing. The musical octave of St. Mary's Church (tenor \(24 \frac{3}{3} \mathrm{cwt}\).) was voted the best tower of the day, and the party found that Grandsire Triples came with ease.

Another quick run followed to the Church of St. Lawrence. Weston-under-Penyard, where the ring of six (tenor 10 cwt .) had just been rehung by Messrs. John Taylor. Here some good touches of Plain Bob, Little Bob and Kent were obtained in expert style.

The last tower of the day was Aston Ingham, where the party found a good, light ring at the Church of St. John ( 6 , tenor 5 cwt.). Here the younger ringers found difficulty in handling the bells, although one of the so-called experts showed of by ringing both seated down and whilst on his knees. After some good ringing the third snag of the day showed up-a stay bust. This brought to a close a glorious but exhausting day.

Outside the tower was again the scene of much handshaking and the parting of the ways. The Llandilo ringers reached their homes by 1 a.m. and it is still under investigation by the Winterbourne policeman as to what held his party up until 2 a.m.

Thanks are due to the organiser and to the clergy of the churches visited, and also to those who met the ringers at the towers. W. T. S.

\section*{RANDOM THOUGHTS ON TREBLE BOB MINOR}

\(M^{A}\)ANY of the ingredients (palatable or otherwise) used in this article were included in a talk I gave some years ago to members of the Barnsley and District Society of Change Ringers. I am resuscitating, regurgitating or repeating them here for the following reasons:
(a). The recent decisions of the Central Council intimate a recognition of the usefulness of, at least some of, certain so-called irregular Minor methods.
(b). I hope that the tabulations given will facilitate the acquisition of methods by a ringer or a band inclined to Minor method ringing; they may also enable one to classify and sort out methods already learned and to 'corollarate' these with new ones being learned.
(c). I have a sincere belief that we should ' never despise the bridge that carried us over,' and that it is incumbent upon us not to allow methods rung by our predecessors to become buried in the mists of antiquity.
(d). That other people may be able to fill in the blanks (in methods, names, etc.) that occur in my lists.
Now in every Minor method on the Treble Bob system, each lead may be divided into six sections of four rows each, as shown in the appended lead of Oxford Treble Bob.
Furthermore, the last three sections are the reverse of the first three, each lead being, in fact, symmetrical about a line \(1 \quad 123456\) drawn between the third and fourth sections.
In connection with method structure the following points must also be borne in mind:-
(i.) Any method that does not have in the plain course the same lead-ends and leadheads as occur in a plain course of Bob Minor is called an "irregular" method. (This is equivalent to saying that the lead-end of the first and the next row, the lead-head of the second lead, must be also the same as two of those found in a plain course of Plain Bob.)
(ii.) Fifths place must not be made unless below the treble.
(iii.) No more than two consecutive blows must be struck by any bell in one place except at a 'bob.'
(iv.) Fourths place must not be made when the treble is leading full, except at a 'bob.'
All this is, of course, well known. even to the student, and the professor wonders why I am wasting my ink, his time and much valuable space in - The Ringing World.'

About (i) above, I have written at length elsewhere.
The reason for (ii) seems a trifle obscure. If it is for the sake of the music or if it is to avoid stagnation, थthen why allow a much Worse offence-seven-pull dodging?

Still, taking it by and large, it seems a sensible rule, and as such I have no objection to it. (About which the Exercise, no doubt, will be greatly relieved?
(iii) is also commonsense.

About (iv) I shall have, with your permission, a word or two to say later.
Owing to Rule (ii), above, it will te observed that the shape of Sections 2 and 5 is identical in all Treble Bob Minor methods. i.e.. the places are made in 1 and 2 in the second and third rows of the section.
The method itself, then. must be decided by the remaining four sections. Let us take the middle two first, i.e., numbers 3 and 4. Seeing

\section*{By H. CHANT}

These shapes are, of course, fixed by the place-making bells, and need not necessarily employ the figures given here. (I merely selected 263514 because it occurs in the first lead of Oxford Treble Bob.)

Other apparent shapes (sections) are possible, but these are unusable owing to the unequal distribution of 'in-course' or 'out of course' rows within the section (or in other cases the rows being all the same 'course ').

In joining Sections 3 and 4 together the treble is always the place-making bell in 6ths. The other place must be made either in 5 ths, 3rds or 1st. Each 'link-place' (if I may coin a term) gives of course, a different method.

Some of the 12 sections are capable of being joined together in any of the three available link-places, whilst others, owing to the infringement of Rule (iii) can only emply two of the three available-link-places.
However, I will be giving you a complete list soon, so don't worry about it, dear student. First, may I point out how the method may be further altered? The connection between the 2 nd and 3 rd sections (or between the 4 th and 5th) may be effected either by (a) a link-place in 3rds, or (b) a link-place in 1 st place. (The other place-there must always be two-is compulsory in 6ths.) Again, owing to the infringement of Rule (iii) there is a reduction of choice.
Here, then, are all the possible variations:-

\section*{OBITUARY}

\section*{MR. CHARLES CARR}

We regret to report the passing on August 13th of Mr. Charles Carr, of Mansfield, at the age of 74. It was at Mansfield Parish Church in 1897 that he learned to handle a bell, and he had a continuous membership. Most of the members of the present band were taught to ring by Mr. Carr, who for several years was captain of the ringers. He had many peals to his credit, a number of which he had conducted.
- The most reliable and loyal member we have ever had and the most dependable. A real Christian whose presence will be greatly missed,' is the tribute of a fellow ringer at Mansfield.

The sympathy of many friends is extended to his widow, son (who is a ringer) and daughter.

\section*{MIDDLESEX COUNTY \\ ASSOCIATION}

\section*{Harrow-on-the-Hill After 41 Years}

The meeting of the North and East District at Harrow-on-the-Hill was noteworthy for the fact that it was 41 years ago that the last meeting of the Association was held in this church. Since then the bells have been rehung. The church stands in a commanding position, with red navigation lights for aircraft attached to the top of the tower, and the bells are heard to advantage on the slopes surrounding the hill.

This meeting was attended by over fifty ringers and many touches and courses in different methods were rung. Visitors came from Cambridge, Leatherhead, Reading and Beddington.

The service was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. Mr. Blackborne, and this was followed by a tea prepared by Mrs. Pitcher and helpers.
Thanks were accorded to the Vicar. who had extended a warm invitation to the Association, and to Mr. G. C. Pitcher for ensuring a successful meeting, the opportunity for which was much appreciated.

1 have chosen the names from the Central Council Collection so that these methods may have a suitable 'christening,' but the names by which I refer to some of them (in mind and notebook) are different.

Now the 12 sections. A-L, may be turned upside down and used for lead-ends. Here, for instance, is B so inverted:-

Of course, any section that has 2nd made in its original state is automatically ruled out,

RYE, SUSSEX.-To visitors: Please note that there will be no Sunday ringing on August 28 th or September 4th. Practice as usual, however, on Fridays at \(8 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}\). Normal service ringing again from September 11th at 10 a.m. and \(5.45 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}\). Visitors always welcome. 6828 as this would bring up 5 ths when turned upside down. This rules out A, F, G, H, I and J. As Rule (iv) states that 4ths must not be made when the treble is leading full (except at a bob), the number of lead-ends is still further reduced. We have, however, the choice of 6 ths or 4 ths as link-places between Sections 5 and 6 (or 1 and 2). As can be seen from the tabulated list of sections previously given, even this 'doesn't exactly overwhelm us! The 6ths and 4ths will correspond to the 1sts and 3rds in the original sections.
Here is the complete list:-

\section*{THE EYE-WITNESS}

\section*{By EDGAR C. SHEPHERD}

MR. WILLIAM SHEPHERD'S admirable articles, with their glimpses of the human aspect of ringing activity, may serve to remind us all once again of the fascinating field of research and collation that still remains for the future author, compiler and editor. The history books of change ringing and the peal books of the associations hold for all time records of ringing performances great and small. The place, the time, the performers and performance, in many instances the composition tooall these things are recorded with care and accuracy, and credit is given to each feat in measure according to its magnitude. Thus the peal of Grandsire Doubles stands alongside the peal of Cambridge Maximus, the peal of Plain Bob beside the peal of London Surprise.

So we pass them by as we turn the leaves of the peal book or the pages of 'The Bell News' or 'The Ringing World.' We move on idly, musing perhaps, even marvelling maybe. as names and feats of past days succeed each other in the record, and if we are alone and our mood is contemplative, we may attempt to construct in our minds some of the background of a particular ringing performance, to clothe the bare bones of this printed record with a human integument, to try to form a mental image of the men actually at their laborious work in the tower, to imagine their approach to the task, and to picture their faces at the supreme moment of success. To follow them from the tower to a temporary paradise of milk and honey may be a satisfactory consummation of our reflections.

Fifty or sixty years ago the 'reporting' of a peal was far more common than it is to-day. Most of the long peals, and even performances of ordinary length, were accompanied by notes relating to the preparation, performance and aftermath of the enterprise, and the failures themselves often provided critical comment that now makes interesting reading and must have been of practical value at the time. Accounts of peals are, of course, found much farther back than the 19th century. In 1734 that assiduous auditor Thomas Hearne was listening regularly and intently to all the ringing in Oxford and was writing in his diary critical surveys of each peal and peal attempt in a manner that can only be likened to that of a modern music critic. His style was austere and his adverse criticism extremely caustic. His praise was rare and subdued by caution, and his greatest enthusiasm surged up when the Londoners visited Oxford in 1733; on that occasion his admiration, though expressed with restraint, was unqualified. Hearne confined himself for the most part to formal criticism, and we can learn little from him directly of the social side of ringing life in Oxford. What we can gather must be by reading between the lines, and here we find some broad hints that some of the habits attendant on the ringing were not always to be greatly admired.

Such critical analysis as Hearne gives is not common. Unlike sporting events, change ringing does not lend itself to a full running commentary and, in fact, any attempt at such a feature would prove intolerable. The accounts, therefore, that come to us of the actual progress of the ringing are compiled in recollection by one of the performers or (more rarely in these days, we are glad to say) by some not entirely disinterested critics outside the tower.

It is true that in reference to a peal of Stedman Triples at St. Michael at Coslany, Norwich, in 1731, the 'Norwich Daily Press' gives the unusual privilege of reading of the behaviour of the public outside the tower during the ringing, but such treats are rare, and the more common addenda to peal performances tell either of preparation for the attempt or of the social activity attendant on the success of the enterprise. Such accounts were, as has been noted, more common in past years, but no one who has enjoyed reading them can fail to agree that we cannot have too many of them.
Some years ago Mr. Hilaire Belloc wrote, under the title ' The Eye-Witness,' a series of sketches in which great historical events were related as if by someone actually present on the occasion. In change ringing records the eyewitness account is so often missing; yet the eye-witness is in many cases still with us. Intimate details exist, it is certain, in many a diary and notebook, and many of these notebooks and journals will, like the old Book of Jasher, be lost and longed for in time to come.

Now is the time for the eye-witnesses to give us the stories of some of the great feats of modern times; there can be little doubt that readers of "The Ringing World " would welcome them.

The many friends of Mr. J Pugsley, of Minehead, will be pleased to note in our quarter peal columns that at 83 he was able to "stand in' for a quarter of Stedman Triples, rung as a birthday compliment to him on August 16 th. Mr. Pugsley commenced ringing in 1888 and rang his first peal in 1891. He has been a member of the Bath and Wells Diocesan Association since its foundation, possessing a certificate numbered 89. He has been tower captain at St. Michael's, Minehead, since 1931, and Ringing Master of the Dunster Branch since 1930. This is a noteworthy achievement and it is to be hoped that he will be spared many more years to carry on the good work.
After a long run of losses this year Mr. S. J. Ivin rang two peals on two consecutive nights.

Rope-breaking failures, to peals notified this week are from St. Giles', Willenhall, and Ewhurst. Surrey.
The date of the peal rung at Acomb, Yorkshire, and published in our last issue, should read August 13th, and not as sent in.
Three members of the Kippin family, while on holiday in Devon, rang in a quarter peal at Holsworthy. We are pleased to note the progress of 'R. C.'
Mr . J. E. Lewis Cockey has arrived safely at Manitoba-'a beautiful city,' he writes. - I think we shall be happy here, but I shall miss the ringing terribly, for a time, at any rate.'
Major E. F. M. Samson reminds the Rev. K. W. H. Felstead and also the Editor that the smallest county in England is Rutland, and not Rutlandshire. He adds: 'I have even caught the B.B.C. and "The Daily Telegraph" making the same mistake, so you are in good company, but don't repeat it.' The articles, he states, are most absorbing.

GOSSIP
Two peals were scored during a day's outing by ringers from Cheshire and North Wales on August 16 th . The journey to Anglesey was me de by road through beautiful scenery. On their return from Beaumaris the party called upon Mr. Albert J. Hughes, at Bangor, who is recovering from a serious illness, and a pleasant half-hour was spent talking over old times. The thanks of the band are due to the Llandudno tower secretary, who preceded them to the two towers (Beaumaris and Bangor) to ensure that the ropes were in good order.
The peals at Saham Toney and Caston, Norfolk, were arranged for the visit of Mr. Peter Newing, of Canterbury, Mr. Newing said he had come to Norfolk 'for a 'rest.'

Mr. Alfred J. Wallater, who is on a visit to this country from San Francisco, was formerly a member of the band at St. Paul's, Wood Green, Wednesbury, and not as stated in our issue of August 19th.

Bells will be heard before evening service of September 11 th on the London. West, Welsh, North. Northern Ireland and Midland Home Services of the B.B.C. from Swymbridge Parish Church. Devon (six bells, tenor 11 cwt .3 qr. 3 lb.\()\).

A quarter peal 'in hand ( 1.260 Grandsire Doubles) was rung on August 21 st on board M/S Hakon Jarl while crossing from Svolvaer to Stamsund in the Lafoten Islands by Dorothy R. Fletcher (conductor) 1-2, Kathleen E. Fletcher 3-4. Ethel M. Fletcher 5-6. This is within the Arctic Circle, and Miss Dorothy R. Fletcher inquires whether a quarter peal has been rung so far north before (between latitudes 68 degrees 15 minutes and 68 degrees 10 minutes). The quarter was a 25 th birthday compliment to Princess Margaret.

\section*{OXFORDSHIRE RINGING TOUR}

\section*{A SUCCESSFUL WEEK AMONGST GOOD BELLS AND BEAUTIFUL SCENERY}

FOR the last six years the second week in August has been the signal for another 'Cannon-Sone' tour in a new county. This year the venue was Oxfordshire, with headquarters at Chipping Norton, and accommodation was booked at the White Hart and the King's Arms Hotels. Both places can be well recommended for future touring parties. Our party consisted of 18 ringers, and transport was provided in the shape of a coach owned by Messrs. Davis and Son, of Hawkhurst, Kent, and driven by 'Mick' Smith.
The purpose of these tours is not only to score peals but to visit a large number of villages, with rings of six and five. Reference to Dove's admirable book will show that there are twice as many towers with five and six bells than with the higher numbers, so ringers who do not visit these towers do not get a complete picture of ringing conditions.

\section*{FIFTY TOWERS VISITED}

During the week we rang ten peals out of 15 attempts, and enjoyed visits to 50 towers, so feel entitiled to claim that ours was a successful venture.
Our coach left Paddock Wood, Kent, at 9 a.m. on Saturday, August 6 th, picking up our party at various points en route to Oxford, which was reached at 3.30 p.m. We commenced ringing with visits to Wolvercote ( 6 , 6 cwt .) and Wootion ( \(6,9 \frac{1}{2} \mathrm{cwt}\).) and arrived at Chipping Norton at' 6 p.m. After dinner we visited Shipton-under-Wychwood (8, 143 cwt .) and were met by Mr. Jack Keyte, local Branch secretary. We rang Stedman, Double Norwich, Cambridge and Bristol, but the ropes and bells are beginning to require some attention. Next we went on to Churchill ( 6,11 cwt.), where the tower was built in 1826 as a replica of the famous Magdalen College tower in Oxford.
Sunday. August 8th, arrived with the promise of a glorious day, and we were given a hearty welcome by Mr. Reg Jarvis and the local band at Chipping Norton ( \(8,14 \frac{\mathrm{t}}{\mathrm{c}} \mathrm{cwt}\).). We rang Grandsire, stedman, Yorkshire and Superlative on a very handy ring cast in 1907 by Mears and Stainbank from the metal of an older bell by John Rudhall in 1826. As usual, we stayed for service, and Messrs. Malcolm Cloke and Philip Mehew were invited to join the choir.
In the afternoon we enjoyed a run into Giloucestershire and a view of the Cotswotds. Our first tower was Stow-on-the-Wold ( \(8,27 \mathrm{cwt}\).), where we had the pleasure of being joined by Messis. R. G. Edwards G. E. Feam, R. B. Messrs. R. G. Edwards G. E. Fearn, R. B.
Meadows, P. Border and D. P. Jones. Messrs. John Taylor have considerabiy improved the bells by turing and they 'go' really well. We rang Stedman, Double Norwich, Superlative and London and the Rector (the Rev. H. C. Pots) met us outside the church after the bellis had been lowered in peal.
Continuing our journey, we arrived at the isolated village of Blockley ( 8.16 cwt .), where the Vicar (the Rev. A. J. Ridler) was waiting to welcome us; also Messrs. Jack Keyte and Brian Bladon, who had waiked from Blockley station. The ringing chamber is rather bare, but the red sallies gave a touch of colour, and we rang Stedman, Cambridge and Bristol on a fair-going ring.
For Evensong we were due to ring at the very fine church of Chipping Campden \((8,24\) cwt.), but owing to delay in finding the key through an oversight we did not commence until 6.5 p.m., so had to content ourselves with half a course of Cambridge, Double Norwich Court Bob. Stedman and Plain Bob. These bells have been a ring of eight since 1683 and their bad 'go' has been overrated. There were at least four people in the tower who were prepared to ring the tenor to a peal! The village is a delightful one built entirely of the typical Cotswold stone and is very popular with tourists generally.

\section*{TWO PEALS ON MONDAY}

Our first peal tower was at the very fine church of Bampton ( \(8,25 \mathrm{cwt}\) ). The bells, which hang in a central tower, with spire, are a good-toned ring, but as they are hung on plain bearings some of the back bells run dry. We started for Yorkshire and for two and threequarter hours had some really good ringing. It was a race between Tom Sone on the sixth and the writer on the tenor as to who would last the longest. Tom Sone won with a course to spare, and although the writer offers no excuses, he would like to remind any critics that there is a big difference between ballbearing 'freewheelers' and a plain-bearing heavy tenor running dry on a hot day. Those not ringing visited Clanfield ( \(8,13 \mathrm{cwt}\).) and Aston Bampton ( \(6,13 \mathrm{cwt}\).).
After an excellent lunch we had two comfortable rings available for the afternoon. At Burford ( \(8,17 \mathrm{c}\) cwt.) Messrs. Gillett and Johnston made a splendid job of rehanging the bells in 1950. The local captain, Mr. W. J. Dixon, welcomed us, and a good, steady peal of Superlative was scored.
Ann Cox and Stewart Kimber rang well to gain their stars. Another band visited Witney (8, \(163 \mathrm{cwt}\). ), where Taylors made an equally good job of rehanging in 1938. We scored a good peal of Treble Bob to enable Monica Collins and Daphne Castell to earn a star. This was the 99th peal on the bells. Mr. L. Oliffe met us at the finish and was satisfied with our striking.
An interesting coincidence was that all three peals were attempted in towers with central peasers and spires. Statistically minded readers might like to agrec that this is another 'first '!

\section*{ADDERBURY'S FINE PEAL}

The opportunity of attempting a peal at Adderbury ( \(8,24 \mathrm{cwt}\).) on Tuesday, August 9 th, was very much appreciated, as peals here these days are rare. Mr. H. L. Roper, who had kindly obtained permission from the Vicar (the Rev. A. D. Walmsley), welcomed us on arrival, and we scored a good peal of Yorkshire with a steady beat. There has appeared from time to time in 'The Ringing World, discussions as to the merit of certain rings and even of certain tenors. It is obvious that a modern ring all coming from the same foundry must sound better than an old ring of mixed vintage. But an old ring by one founder can sometimes measure up to a modern ring. Adderbury bells were cast in 1789 by John Briant, of Hertford. In 1863 the third was recast by Mears, and in 1927 John Taylors recast the sixth and retuned the remainder. A really fine job was done and in the writer's opinion Adderbury has one of the finest eights in the country. The tenor (1789) in D can hold its own with any tenor of its own weight in the country (Lavenham included). In addition, the other seven give it sonorous support, thus proving that an old ring, skilfully tuned, is the equal of the moderns.
The remainder of our party visited Tadmarton ( \(6,11 \mathrm{cwt}\).) and Swalcliffe ( \(6,13 \frac{1}{\mathrm{c}} \mathrm{cwt}\).), the latter an old and musical ring dated 1685, tuned and rehung by Gillett and Johnston, 1938.

The afternoon attempt had been arranged at Banbury ( \(10,17 \frac{1}{\frac{1}{c w} \text { cwt.), and Mr. W. Watson. }}\) looking as young as ever, met us at the tower. The tower is round and the bells are an excellent ring cast in 1930 by John Taylors.
It was a big disappointment to the band to lose Kent Royal after two and a half hours. However, the local reporter came into the belfry, took our photographs and from particutars given him was able to give us a wellwritten front page article in his paper, which was appreciated by everyone.
Those of us who were not ringing at Banbury visited the very fine ring at Middleton Cheney ( \(6,22 \frac{2}{2}\) cwt.), with its long draught; Chacombe ( \(6,14 \mathrm{cwt}\).), home of the Bagleys; Cropredy ( \(6,14 \mathrm{cwt}\).) and Hanwell ( \(5,7 \% \mathrm{cwt}\).) At the latter tower the tenor rope broke and the efforts of the local ringer to poke i through two holes, not in alignment, caused us much amusement. Mr. Watson accompanied us for the afternoon and was able to direct us around the rural by-lanes.

\section*{SCENIC TOUR IN THE COTSWOLDS}

As has happened on previous tours, Wednesday, August 10th, was selected for a whole day's tower hunting amongst delightful scenery. Our first call was at Ilmington, Warwickshire ( 6,16 cwt.). Here John Taylors made another fine job of rehanging in 1951, as they also have at Quinton ( \(6,13 \mathrm{cwt}\).). These are two excellent rings, well worth a visit. At Quinton Mr. and Mrs. Shirley Burton and their daughter. Eileen, joined us for the rest of the day, and we were delighted to have them with us.

The first eight-bell tower of the day was Mickleton ( \(8,15 \mathrm{cwt}\).), whose bells have just been rehung by Taylors. Mr. Donald Niblett welcomed us to his home tower, and although we were a little shaky with Yorkshire and Bristol, we did ring a perfect course of Hawkhurst Bob Triples, which is an interesting, new method.
The bells of Moreton-in-the-Marsh (8, 12 cwt.) have long had a bad reputation for 'go, but we did succeed in ringing Grandsire, Stedman and Plain Bob in reasonable style. It was a pleasure to meet the Rector (Canon W. B. Ingham) who unlocked the belfry door for us. He recalled ringing peals with the late Robert Sperring. Sam Jones and other Cheshire worthies over 20 years ago, and the also inquired after John Worth.
After lunch we visited Broadwell (5.8 cwt.), a noisy ring with a tenor very much out of tune. The curate-in-charge (the Rev. K. H. Cheal) welcomed us from the top of his tower and later met us in the belfry. Bourton-on-the-Water ( \(8,14 \mathrm{cwt}\).), with its model village and stream running parallel with the main street. is one of the show pieces of the Cotswolds. The Rector (the Rev. J. R. Nettlefold) was especially pleased to see us, as it was St. Lawrence's Day, St. Lawrence being the patron saint of the church. The bells are a mixed lot, which require quite a bit of striking. especially the sixth.

Continuing our journey. we arrived at Northleach ( \(8,18 \frac{1}{2}\) cwt.), which is a splendid church with a fine tower. While waiting for the key of the belfry several of our party got together for hymn singing, to the obvious interest of other visitors. The bells are a good ring, the back six being cast by William Cox, of Aldbourne, and we rang a good course of London as well as Double Norwich and Treble Bob.

Bibury ( \(6,10 \mathrm{cwt}\).), reputed to be one of the prettiest villages in the country, certainly lived up to its reputation. Particular attention was paid to the well-kept gardens and the tidy churchyard: it is nice to think that the local people take a pride in their village. The bells are a very handy ring, and Mr. Ralph Wenban, late of Staplehurst, Kent, was pleased to meet ringers from his own county. Our last call was at Taynton ( 6,8 cwt.), where the merry little bells are rung from a very small ringing cham(Continued next page) ber. Mr. T. W. Timms met us and we were sorry we could not stay longer, but a punctual dinner awaited us.

\section*{ANOTHER DOUBLE}

The programme for Thursday, August 11 th, commenced with pcal attempts at Bicester ( 8 , 15 cwt .) and Ambrosden ( \(8,20 \frac{1}{2}\) cwt.) in the morning. At Bicester we were met by Mr.
H . Hatfield and found the really ideal pcal H. Hatfield and found the really ideal pcal in 1913 by Gillett and Johnston, their "go' is admirable and the strip lighting in the middle of the ringing chamber all contribute to a good peal. The first peal of Superlative was successfully brought round and our new tencr ringer. Trevor Cross, rang really well.
At Ambrosden Mr. G. Taylor had everything ready, and it was a disappointment to lose Yorkshire after 1 hour and 40 minutes through a miscall. They are fine bells, rehung in 1928 by Taylors, who added two trebles, and the last time the writer visited this church was while the work was in progress in November, 1928. Very best thanks to Mr. Cyril Kinch, who was unable to meet us, but who had kindly made arrangements for us at both churches. Incidentally, the Bicester peal was the 49th in the tower.
For the afternoon we went to Kirtlington (8. \(16 \mathrm{cwt)}\). and found another handy Taylor rchung ring (1938) hanging in a splendid Norman central tower. A good peal of Lincolnshire was scored, with Brian Bladon proving that he is as competent on the tenor as he is on a light bell.

Those not peal ringing visited Lower Heyford ( \(6,7 \mathrm{cwt}\).) and Rousham ( \(6,9 \mathrm{cwt}\).), both churches being held by the same Rector, and only one mile apart. Next came Tackley ( 6. 14 cwt .). where five youthful members of the local company met us and led us up the unusual approach to the ringing chamber. We were pleased to help them through Bob Doubles. Then on to Weston-on-the-Green ( 5.8 cwt .), where permission was kindly granted at short notice to ring on a pleasant five.

\section*{TWO FAILURES-ONE SUCCESS}

It was a pleasure to mect once again \(\mathbf{M r}\). E. C. Pearson and his son, Edmund, at Dedding. ton ( \(8,17 \mathrm{cwt}\).) on Friday, August 12th. The tower is unusual in that the clock pendulum, which is a long one, swings in the centre of the ringing chamber; The first peal of Yorkshire seemed a cert; but with two and a half courses to ring after 2 hours and 40 minutes ringing, the treble rope gave an ominous snap and fell at Stewart's feet.
Another party had gone to Aynhoe (8, 16 \(\frac{1}{2}\) cwt.) just over in Northants and scored a creditable peal of Plain Bob, the first peal here since 1901 , and first Major on the bells.

The afternoon peal was fixed for Great Tew ( \(8,22 \mathrm{cwt}\).), the method chosen was Superlative, and the services of those two well-known ringers. George Fearn and Ralph Edwards, were enlisted for seven and eight. However, luck deserted them, as a shift course finished the attempt, after 1 hour and 20 minutes ringing.

These bells, rung from the ground floor, are an old ring cast by Abraham Rudhall in 1709 , with third and fifth recast in 1785 and 1842 respectively, and the bells retuned and rehung by Mears and Stainbank in 1924. Inside the tower the tone is somewhat 'muddy,' but away from the church and walking towards the entrance to the park in which it stands the effect is much more melodious. Here again it is so much a matter of personal opinion.
The non-pealers, accompanied by Mrs. \(R\), \(G\). Edwards and Mrs. G. Fearn. visited Duns Tew ( \(5,14 \mathrm{cwt}\).), a good-going ring, recently rehung. The local constable came to watch our efforts to see we did not disturb the peace too much I At Steeple Aston ( \(6,11 \frac{1}{2} \mathrm{cwt}\).) the ringing is conducted from a ringers' gallery erected in the 17th century by Richard Duckworth. He was Rector here from 1680 to 1706 , and was joint producer with Fabian Stedman in 1668 of the famous 'Tintinnalogia.' The bells have a long draught and cannot be hurried.

Finding ourselves ahead of schedule (for a change!) we decided to try out the "unknown bells of Steeple Barton ( \(5,10 \frac{1}{4} \mathrm{cwt}\).). Permission was obtained for ringing, but with very low sallies and bad "go,' 60 changes was suth. cient per touch! Our Birmingham friends, having finished at Great Tew, found us here, and the well-known slogan, 'You want the towers-I find 'em,' caused much amusement! Sandford St. Martin ( \(6,9 \mathrm{cwt}\).) has a handy ring with a sloping floor to the ringing chamber. The remainder of the Great Tew peal band, who had walked three miles, arrived feeling pretty warm. However, we rang London and Cambridge and then proceeded to Enstone ( \(6,9 \mathrm{cwt}\).), where we were welcomed by the churchwarden, Mr. J. E. Hawtin. The bells are noisy but 'go' well. The day finished with a social evening at the White Hart Hotel, at which George, Ralph and their wives weri welcome visitors.

\section*{FOUR PEALS ON LAST DAY}

As ușual, Saturday, August 13 th, arrived all too quickly. John Morris said farewell as he had a date with a well-known 12 -bell tower in London. One party went to Kingham (8, \(12 \frac{1}{3}\) cwt.), a very musical ring by Taylors (1924). The Rector (the Rev. Dr. G. C. B. Davies) gave us a warm welcome and we were successful with the well-known 'cert' peal of Double Norwich, this being the 18 th county in which the conductor has called this composition. Another party went to Chipping Norton (8, \(14 \frac{1}{2} \mathrm{cwt}\) ) and scored the first peal of Cambridge on this handy ring. Once again Trevor Cross showed his ability on the tenor.

After lunch Brian and Winnie Warwick departed for Leicester, and we made the short journey to Hook Norton (8, \(20 \frac{1}{2}\) cwt.). A funeral in the nearby Baptist cemetery deiayed our start until 4 p.m., but it was well worth waiting to hear the really grand recast Taylor (1949) eight ringing Yorkshire. The bells can be heard very clearly in the ringing chamber, but as the only window would not open, it tends to become very warm before the end of a peal in summer. The rest of our party went over to Swalcliffe ( \(6,13 \frac{1}{2}\) cwt.) and scored a good peal in seven methods on the musical ring, rehung by Gillett and Johnston in 1938.

Mr. A. F. Borsberry, local captain, had very kindly provided an excellent tea for us, and after this we visited two Warwickshire towers Whichford ( \(6,12 \frac{3}{4} \mathrm{cwt}\) ), a good-going ring, and Long Compton ( \(6,12 \mathrm{cwt}\).), where the third bell rope is well out of the normal circle. This was the Writer's 1,916th tower (no prime number here, Dick !).

\section*{HOMEWARD BOUND}

On Sunday morning, August 14th, we said 'Goodbye, to 'Benny, Ralph Bird and Philip Mehew, who were returning home by motorcycle and car. Ralph apparently got as far as High Wycombe before his engine went on strike !

We dropped Malcolm Cloke, Fred Wilshaw, Brian Bladon and Daphne Castell at Oxford and continued to Warborough ( 8,12 cwt.). where two trebles have recently been added by Mears and Stainbank, and the bells are a very nice little ring. Mr. F. Absalom and his band gave us a friendly welcome, and we rang Plain Bob and Stedman.
All good things, unfortunately, come to an end and we should have enjoyed another week. We would like to say a sincere "Thank you' to all the vicars and local ringers who met our party, and who so kindly gave us permission to ring. Thank you. Oxfordshire, for your very helpful co-operation. thus ensuring a happy and successful week. A. P. C.

\section*{RELAXATION AFTER EXAMINATIONS}

\section*{University of Bristol Change Ringers' Tour}

MANY and varied are the methods used by students to celebrate the end of examinations. Some take a delight in burning their books and papers; some in challenging a rival hall to a mock battle: some in a grand booze up.' The Bristol University Society took another form of relaxation-a ringing and cycling tour.

This year's tour took place in the counties of Wiltshire and Gloucestershire. Towers visited in the three days of the tour ranged from good to indifferent; from good ringing chambers to bad ones; from five bells to thirteen bell towers.

It was most unfortunate that this year's organiser should be such an ardent cyclist, as this meant that 35 miles had to be covered in order to reach the first tower, Long Newnton. However, after a most welcome pot of tea supplied by the Rector, the party was almost willing to forgive even the organiser! The second tower of the tour, after supper at Ashton Keynes Youth Hostel, was South Cerney. where the only clergyman in the Church of England with an engineering degree met the party.

The second day of the tour was a full one with seven towers to be visited. Fortunately, no mishaps occurred and the following towers were visited: Cricklade, with its long draught, Purton, Lydiard Millicent, South Marston, Broad Blunsdon. with its very light six, Castle Eaton and Down Ampney, where the Rector turned out to be a most interesting amateur archaologist. Again the party repaired to Ashton Keynes for the night, where the various members found entertainment and refreshment to suit their tastes.

On Sunday morning the good folk of Ashton Keynes were called at \(8 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}\). Communion by their Parish Church bells. The comment of one member of the society that he took a dim view of tower grabbing at 7.30 a.m. probably summed up everyone's feelings! Morning ring ing took place at Watermoor, Cirencester, after what will probably remain a record 'washingup' session at any Youth Hostel for a long time. Ringing in the afternoon at North Cerney introduced to the visitors a most interesting church. beautifully preserved and added to. For evening service the society joined the ringers at St. John the Baptist's, Cirencester, where the twelve bells were rung to rounds and the society rang a touch of Grandsire Caters.

The last half day, Monday morning, started rather badly with a depleted party, and so we were late at each of the three towers. Ringing started on the steel bells at Chalford, a new venture for many of the society, and was followed, after the long climb uphill to Minchinhampton, by an only too short ring on the fine six there. The last tower of the tour, Avening, will probably be remembered for the noise of the bells in the ringing chamber.
Lunch taken in Tetbury ended yet another successful tour, the last one of many very interesting and enjoyable tours undertaken by the society during the academic year. If there should be any ringer who is not yet certain which university to honour next year Bristol can be well recommended-at least so far as the ringing is concerned. Your correspondent cannot really vouch for the academic qualities of this or any other place.

The thanks of the society are tendered to all the incumbents for their ready permission to use their bells and to the several local ringers who met us and joined in the ringing. Methods rung ranged from Plain Bob and Grandsire to London and Cambridge Surprise by way of many methods, both regular and irregular.

\section*{SWINESHEAD CHURCH}

\section*{An Independent Investigation}

The following description of St. Nicholas' Church. Swineshead, appears in 'The Bedfordshire Times and Standard following the article that appeared in "The Ringing World

With the permission of the Rector (the Rev. A. Thornton Down), who was appointed to the living in 1950, a representative of this newspaper visited the church-a fine example of early decorated work-and was admitted to the extremely narrow spiral stairway leading to the belfry. There were twigs on every step, as the article stated, but in most cases these were quite easy to see. Nevertheless, the ascent was not without its hazards! Above, past the ancient mechanism of the clock-now quite idle-and the bell, was the chamber.

Here a sorry sight presented itself. Twigs, which had been carried into the chamber by generations of birds over a period of many years, together with much dust, lay all around and, indeed, two of the five bells were partly covered. Apart from some very elderly duck eggs, however, there was no other rubbish and the general condition did not quite match the "pigsty" description which had been given to it. The bells. one of which dates back to the late 17 th century, have obviously not been rung for a great many years. The framework is rotten and the wooden wheels have fallen to pieces.

\section*{RECTOR'S REPLY}
- When a call was made on Mr. Thorntoni Down it was found that the assertion that the Rector "could not care less' was far from being true. "I am certainly not oblivious to the situation," he said. "The matter has been under discussion by the Parochial Church Council for some time and is still under discussion.'

Mr. Thornton Down said that before the writer of the article in the bell-ringers' paper had approached him, he had been in touch with a Loughborough firm of bell-founders and had asked them to inspect the bells. This they had done and had now made their report. The cost of putting the bells in order would probably be about \(£ 830\) and, in addition, work by a local builder would be necessary. This would bring the total cost to about \(£ 900\).

\section*{SHOULD BE LOWERED}
" "In a village of about 100 inhabitants," he said, "we cannot possibly raise that amount." That was also the opinion of the Bishop. The alternative would be to lower the bells, the Loughborough firm storing them until such time as the work might be ready to be done. Cost of lowering them would be approximately \(£ 70\). Although the firm would not say that the bells might fall at any moment, as has been suggested, they were of the opinion that it would be well to lower the bells as soon as possible.

Then the Rector went on to say that the matter had been communicated through diocesan channels to the Historic Churches Preservation Fund to ask whether or not they would be prepared to make a grant.

As for the twigs, Mr. Thornton spoke of the difficulty of obtaining labour for such clearance tasks. If the twigs were cleared away, he said, the binds would soon bring more in again. To prevent that happening every opening in the tower and spire would have to be covered with netting. and that would be quite expensive.'

\section*{RECTOR NOT INDIFFERENT}

Dear Sir-l feel that as a ringer who has lived for over 30 years within two miles of Swineshead Church, I must make some sort of reply to Mr. Amos' allegation.
This gentleman's tactless remarks are well known around Bedfordshire, and it is a great pity that he cannot use his wide knowledge of bells and their founders to the good of the ringing world instead of going around and accusing local priests of something that is not altogether correct.

That the Rector of Swineshead 'couldn't care less ' is not a true statement. He has been in touch with the Loughborough founders, and the cost of putting the bells in order would be about \(£ 830\) in addition to sonte repairs to the tower. The cost of lowering the bells would be about \(£ 70\)
The population of Swineshead is less tban 100.

It cannot be denied that there are some jackdaws' nests in the belfry, but the situation is certainly not as bad as has been suggested.
Mr. Amos should realise by now that interest and attendance at churches everywhere leave much to be desired. In future he would do better not to refer to a church as being like a pigsty, but either to clear up the mess he has discovered in some out of the way place. or to dip his hand into his pocket to pay someone else to do it for him.-Yours faithfully,

\section*{KENNETH G. SPAVINS.}

Bletchley, Bucks.

\section*{A WARNING}

Dear Sir,-Forty-five years ago the spirited leader of August 5 th would have caused endless correspondence. but to-day it has passed almost without comment. P. A. is to be commended for his diligence, and if many others had his enthusiasm then the story of these ringing chambers would be quite different.
It is useless to blame the clergy for decadent bells and fittings; the responsibility is the churchwardens'. The clergy rarely take much interest in the state of the bell chamber, also the archdeacons do not go up the tower to see if the report presented is true or otherwise.
The sad state of affairs presented by P. A. is just one of the signs of the times. Every Monday we read in the newspapers of maln roads into London being choked with cars returning from the coast, and it is much the same elsewhere. It is common to see cars and coaches stretching the whole 16 miles from Blackpool to Preston on Sunday evenings. So it is clear that people do not attend church as formerly. This gradually affects the belfry, and the bells stop for want of ringers. Jackdaws and pigeons take possession and decay quickly sets in.
The only cure is a band of ringers and a good towerkeeper who should be worthy of his hire. Here is where the clergy can help by visiting the ringers occasionally and encouraging them. The tower captain should also go up aloft periodically to see if any repairs are necessary and inform the wardens.
Now where do the Associations come in? Are they going to meet the challenge of stopped bells or remain passive? Most Associations have men who can put the case for ringing to a parish or village meeting. The incumbent would be willing to call such a meeting and it certainly could do no harm. No time must be lost, for the number of stopped bells on Sundays is serious. In due course peal ringers will have less towers to visit, and so the decline will affect every branch of our art. Let everyone think seriously on this matter and let the Editor have their suggestions.

LANCASTRIAN.

\section*{AMERICAN PARSON'S INTEREST}

Dear Sir,-We in Witney are at present enjoying the visit of an American rector whilst our own Canon Bale is on holiday in the U.S.A. He is the Rev. W. R. Robbins, of St. Thomas' Church, New Haven, Connecticut. and he has become very interested in the traditional English manner of ringing. So much so that he would very much like to see a ring installed in his own tower in New Haven, if this is possible.

Mr. Robbins and I, however, have no idea whether there is any centre of change ringing in the U.S.A. (apart from a few clues gleaned from 'Dove') and we would be very pleased to hear if any of our readers could supply contacts or information that would be of help.
I have heard that some time ago the Oxford University Society sent information io an interested party in the States, but of the accuracy and details of this I am totally ignorant.
If anyone would like to help in this endeavour to break new ground, would they send their information either direct or through these columns. I hope eventually to be able to send in a 'progress report.'-Yours faithfully,

DAVID J. SMITH.

THE FALLING-OFF OF PEALS
Dear Sir,-The magnitude of importance once attached to peals is becoming less for the following reasons:-
(1). Many are coming to recognise (as the past Master of the Peterborough Diocesan Guild recently stated) that peal ringing \(m\) itsclf should not be looked upon as a yardstick by which to measure success.
(2). Since peals became 'two-a-penny' little record value can nowadays be attached to them.
(3). Many prefer to concentrate upon the maintenance of a regular Sunday service band, if only for some of the simpler methods, rather than see a crowded belfry on weekdays and a silent one on Sundays.-Yours sincerely,
P. AMOS

Weston Favell, Northants.

\section*{St. Mary's, Woodstock, South Africa}
'The Outspan,' South Africa's illustrated weekly, contains an informative article on the bells of St. Mary's, Woodstock, Cape Town. with pictures of the band preparing for a quarter peal. James Barwell, of Birmingham, cast Woodstock bells in 1901 and they were delivered the next year. The first method ringing was on December 22nd, 1903, when a touch of 720 Bob Minor was rung. Of that original band. Mr. J. F. Priest died only last year in Cape Town.
The first full peal was on December 15th, 1904-Taylor's Six-Part, Grandsire Triples. One of the ringers, Mr. J. Murray, had 14 years earlier rung the first peal in Australia, and was perhaps the only man of his time who had scored a peal in three continents.

Pictured in the article are J. Wood (tower captain), V. Sheppard, O. Lamb, J. Ernstzen, C. Gardiner and J. Riley. Three of the present ringers are accountants.

\section*{Joint Meeting at Bolsterstone}

The joint meeting of the Barnsley and Sheffield District Societies held at Bolsterstone on August 13th resulted in a very pleasant and happy afternoon and evening.

Tea was served in a small cafe opposite the church, where about 30 ringers enjoyed a good square meal. The Vicar joined the party at tea and also conducted the business meeting which followed. He assured all of a very hearty welcome. The business was soon disposed of and further ringing followed until about 8 p.m. Good use was made of the bells during the afternoon and evening in Minor and Major methods with plenty of scope for beginners.

It is a long time since the last meeting was at Bolsterstone. The visitors enjoyed and appreciated the open countryside. No doubt in midwinter the outlook would be much different when nature changes her cloak

\section*{TOPIC FOR THE MONTH - VIII.}

\section*{The Meeting}

TOLLOWING the annual general meetings, many a newly-elected secretary is now contemplating his first meeting in office, and probably realising how much of the responsibility for its success will rest with him; and by success is meant, of course, the efficient despatch of business under the control of the chairman, who rightly looks to the secretary to bring up and arrange the material for the agenda of the meeting.

Some new secretaries have first-rate examples to follow while others succeed to office where limited and often misguided function has somehow struggled through the job, lacking the essentials for good business despatch. For the latter these few notes, though elementary, may serve as talking points on efficient service end.

\section*{GENERAL ARRANGEMENTS}

The first of these is the convening of the meeting, which must be done in accordance with the rules of the Association, and which may be by circular letter to all members, or by notice in the Press, or even by notice posted up in some specific place, depending upon the nature and extent of the Association. Failure to convene properly may invalidate the meeting.

Next comes the preparation of the agenda, in which must be found a place for all legitimate business, though some items may not be included unless submitted by their sponsors before a given time prior to the meeting. The order of business on the agenda is of prime importance and though not always followed, through either ignorance or neglect, it is essentially standardised for efficient and legitimate despatch. (This order is detailed below.)
The compilation of his agenda will serve to remind the secretary, apart from other indications. that certain reports and records due in from other officers may not be to hand, and these he will then have to 'chase.' His own books and records he will, of course, have posted up in all readiness to bring to the meeting.
Lastly, the meeting-room. A preferred arrangement of seating is that of a central aisle, though this is not essential. Facing the main seating is the table for the administrative officers. This should be large enough to accommodate some half-dozen seats behind it, and should be furnished with a sheet of blank paper before each seat and a water glass centrally A gavel or table-rapper should be provided for the chairman. In ringing Associations he is usually the Master, although if the president or a vice-president be present he is usually invited to preside. In such case the Master should sit on the president's right. Normally the secretary will sit on the chairman's left, and be ready to prompt and inform him as required. The treasurer usually sits on the chairman's right, or, if the Master be there instead of in the chair, then on the Master's right. Other officers at the table sit as most convenient. The secretary will find it useful to have more than one pen and/or pencil and to have a rough notebook, in addition to his minute book, correspondence file and other regulation documents. He should also ensure that he has a copy of the Rules handy, and also of the previously-issued report of the Association.

\section*{RULES}

Successsful administration of any organisation depends, inter alia, on a well-defined constitution; in other words, on well-drafted rules; and as mentioned, a copy should be on the table. It is surprising to find, in some few cases, how poorly the rules have been drafted, so as to be of little real use, in fact, to be confusing and provide loopholes for trouble. No attempt should be made to employ "legal" phrascology, but simple statements should state clearly the Association's requirements. They should deal with matters including such as the following, and in some such order:-
Title and objects of the Association con-stitution-officers and membership; affiliation to Central Council and/or any other body; form of government; general meetings and nature of business; election of members; rates of subscription; tower affiliation and representative or correspondent; District organisation; District meetings; District finance; Central or Association finance; special funds and grants; library; instructors and teaching methods; peal reporting; general reports; alteration of rules ; etc.

\section*{PROCEDURE}

The conduct of most well-run meetingsgeneral and committee-follows, in some main respects, the procedure of that mother of all talking places or 'parliaments'-the House of Commons. The example is followed simply because it is the smoothest and most efficient way of despatching the business at hand.
Speakers rise only on indication from the chair. and if not 'down' to speak and thus called upon by the chairman, must 'catch his eye, On rising, unless in small meetings where all are known (such as in committee) the speaker should first give his name and place of origin. All remarks are addressed to the chair and not across the floor between members ot the audience. This ensures control of the proceedings and avoid risk of 'bickering.' Normally no one may speak more than once on any item of discussion, except the proposer, who has the right of reply to any opposition; and here the chairman may often avoid waste of time by announcing a time limit for speakers. No discussion may open on any item unless and until it has been both proposed and seconded, so that if the matter is not thus supported, the chairman may at once proceed to the next item on the agenda. Even when a motion has been both proposed and seconded the chairman has a further routine before permitting discussion: he should, if it is a proposition for discussion, ask if there be any amendment or amendments. and the last of these (all duly proposed and seconded, of course), should be taken first, and so proceed backwards to the original proposition; on the other hand, if it be a proposition for election of an officer or place of visit. etc., he should call for 'any other nominations; and deal with these as duly proposed and seconded on vote. It may be noted that a motion should never be spoken of as a 'resolution' unless and until it has been put to the vote and 'resolved' or 'carried': until then it is only a 'motion' or a proposition.'. In recording the nature of the voting it is important to distinguish between carried nem. con.' and 'carried unanimously.' Both these phrases refer to voting all of on nature, i.e., for the motion; but whereas the latter strictly means that all present have voted as one (in favour), the former means that (from the Latin) no one has voted to the contrary. though some may not have voted at all.
Some chairmen are 'made or marred' by their secretaries. in so far as their collation and arrangement of matter for the agenda is concerned. and by their giving or not of the judicious prompting and supporting information that is invaluable in all but the straightforward routine business.

THE ORDER OF THE AGENDA
As already intimated the importance of the precise order in which business is to be set down on the agenda is not always appreciated; and this order can, in fact, affect the result of voting. (An obvious case is that of the clection of an officer to a new office, only if his retirement from the old one has been previously intimated and an election to the new one not yet effected ; but other examples may be cited.) In general terms the business of a meeting comes under four heads, and in this order: (a) Initiation or opening; (b) Business of the past; (c) Business of the future; (d) Closure. Each section of business contains at least two, or more, items, and these, even, must come in due order within their appropriate section, for the correct and efficient despatch of the business. Here, then, is the normal order of items on the agenda, and as particularly applicable to ringing meetings:-
Section (a), Opening.
1. Notice of Convention. The chairmart calls on the secretary ta read or declare the form of notice of convention of the meeting, in accordance with the appropriate rule ; and this is done.
2. Declaration Open. The chairman, standing, then declares the meeting open. giving the number of the meeting and stating if annual or quarterly and general or district, etc. He then sits and remains seated for the remainder of the proccedings.
3. Apologies for absence. Until the two formet items are over, the meeting is not, strictly, validly in being; but now, being so, if any apology for absence is tendered it must come at this juncture, before any business whatever is transacted.
4. Welcome. This item is not always included. but if it is it should come here. The welcome is addressed to all, of course, but particularly to any special guests and to those having come from considerable distances, etc.

\section*{Section (b), Past Business.}
5. Minutes of the previous meeting. These are read by the secretary, precisely as entered in the minute book unless, as is sometimes the case, they have been previously published, when they may be voted to be 'taken as read'; but they are still not 'adopted.' Curiously enough, this business of 'adoption' is rarely taken in the correct way. It should be proposed and seconded, and then amendments called for, to deal with any case of objection as to whether or not the actual record is considered a correct report. In any case those entitled to vote or speak on these propositions are only those who were actually present at that previous meeting and no one else. (For clearly, only those who were actually present can have first-hand knowledge of the correctness or otherwise of the record.) A meticulous chairman wil! often remind his audience of this all-important point. A majority vote as to correctness of record suffices to secure the chairman's signature to authenticity.
6. Matters arising out of the Minutes. It is of the utmost importance to agree that the record is correct. for subsequent business stands or falls by the actual record, and not by what may, in fact, have actually taken place. So also. therefore, is it important for matters arising, and these will be accepted by the chairman at this stage only if they are not set down to follow as subsequent items on the agenda; in which case they must, in any event. come within this section of 'past business.'
7. Other items relating to past matters. These will include such important items as 'reports' of various officers, especially such as the Master's report and the treasurer's (audited) statement of accounts.
8. Retirement of officers and election of new officers. This is always the last item of section (b) of the agenda, i.e.. past business. The secretary is called upon to recite the offices in turn, stating in each case whether or not the retiring officer is prepared to offer himself for re-election. The preferred way is to start with the junior offices, working up to (Continued next page) the senior ones, ending with the Master or chairman and finally the vice-presidents and president. In this way retiring officers in any grade may be invited to serve again in a senior grade. As each election is effected, if there is a change the newly-elected officer takes the vacated place at the table, receiving the appropriate books and papers as handed over to him. It is usual for a retiring secretary to remain at the elbow of the newlyelected secretary to facilitate despatch of business in the final sections of the agenda. The newly-elected officers now being in possession at the table. and in office, the future business if the agenda is next dealt with.

\section*{Section (c), Future Business.}
9. Compliments and thanks. Although it does not always appear on the agenda, the first item of this section is devoted to the passing of formal votes of thanks and the making of any presentations to officers who have retired from any given office. Those continuing in office normally receive an omnibus vote of thanks, and it is bad form to omit this item in practice, even though it be not actually included in the written agenda. (The new chairman being enseated, there can be no embarrassment or diffidence in regard to compliments to any retiring officers.)
10. Specific items of future business. Broadly speaking, any matter that is yet unsettled or that is to be effective at any time from then on. will be reserved for discussion in this section of the agenda. Future policy, active and financial. grants, new ideas, revision of rules, notices of motion for next meeting, dates and places of coming events, meetings, etc., are all properly inclusive in this section of the agenda, which usually ends with:-
11. Any other permissible business. The word 'permissible, is important in this connection because certain matters may be admitted only if due notice has been given, in which case they will have been itemised and dealt with. This is typical of the way in wheh an alert and knowledgeable secretary may guide his chairman (by reference to rules, if necessary) and so secure purely legitimate discharge of the Association's business.

\section*{Section (d), Closure.}
12. Courtesies. This means, generally, votes of thanks to all appropriately for participation in and arrangements for the meeting itself; that is, to those permitting use of places and/or equipment, to organisers, patrons, etc. Quite frequently an enormous amount of hard work has gone on behind the scenes to arrange everything for the function, and it is only right that this should be appreciated and duly acknowledged. (It is often overlooked !)
13. Closure-formal. The chairman rises and delivers the only other statement he makes while standing, that is. he formally declares this _- meeting closed.
(No official record may be entered of anything that occurs after such declaration.)

\section*{MIDSUMMER MADNESS OR TWO-IN-A-DAY}

On the postcard it said, ' Be at Flint 9 a.m. Tuesday.' It was a lovely morning and I made my way to Flint by bus, arriving a few minutes before the allotted time. The three from Chester made the journcy by train and arrived just as our good friend from Flint, the fifth member of the party, drove up in his Hillman van complete with five comfortable seats and a banana box (empty) suitably covered, dead on 9 a.m.
We were soon speeding away along the coast road via Rhyl to our first rendezvous at Bangor, where we arrived a little before \(11 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}\). to find waiting for us the remaining three of our band, one from Llandudno. one from Rhyl and the other stationed with the R.A.F. on the island of Anglesey who hails from Hornchurch, and a notice pinned on the door by the clergy on which was written a welcome to St. David's, Glanadda.
Also with us was the Llandudno secretary, John W. Roberts, who had come on ahead to see to the ropes, etc., so that no time would be lost, and as soon as we were started went on to Beaumaris to perform a similar service for us.
We lost no time in raising the bells and were soon away to Grandsire Triples. A good quick beat was struck from the start, but later this slowed down a little and a good peal was brought round in 2 hours 56 minutes.
Our good friend from Flint, who 'knows his way around ' in this area and being skilled in the art of gentle persuasion, prevailed upon an almost staftless manager of a local hotel to provide us with lunch. With the help of liquid refreshment (tea), this was soon disposed of and we all piled into the Hillman for the journey along the winding road to Beaumaris.
Everything at St. Mary's was in readiness and this lovely, light and, may I say, refreshing ring of bells was soon going to Bob Major, which came round in grand style in 3 hours.
As we were leaving the church we saw a group of people standing by one of the houses. We thought we were 'in for it ' when one of the ladies spoke up and said. 'That was very good ringing. The bells were lovely. Where do you come from?' and 'Can't you come and ring for us on Sunday?' The smiles of relief and pleasure that brightened up our faces showed our appreciation, and it was with regret that we had to tell them it was not possible for us to ring for them on Sundays.

After a lighţ tea we made our way back to Bangor in time for our R.A.F. member, Andrew J. Salisbury, to catch his train back to camp.

Before leaving Bangor we allowed ourselves the pleasure of calling on Mr. Albert J. Hughes, whose interest in ringing is undiminished although he has not been able to take an active part for some time due to ill-health. Nowadays he keeps in touch through the medium of "The Ringing World.'

We were delighted to find him up and dressed and apparently he and Mrs. Hughes were waiting for us. The 'Grape Vine' had been in action again. He informed us that after a recent stay in hospital he is a little better and would welcome visits from any ringer passing through Bangor.

After bidding them farewell it was with feelings of pleasure and satisfaction that we commenced our journey home. We arrived at Rhyl with only a few minutes to spare for our Chester friends to get their train, and I was taken almost to my doorstep by the Hillman.
There was only one casualty, myself, who collected a lovely bunch of blisters, one as big as a grape. but these were easier to bear than the 'sympathies' of my fellows. And so came the end of a perfect day.
We would like to convey our thanks and appreciation to the Vicars of Glanadda and Beaumaris for the use of the bells and the welcome given us. and to the Llandudno secretary for his services.

\section*{ARCHDEACONRY OF STAFFORD SOCIETY}

The summer meeting of the Society took place at Tettenhall on August 13th. It was in February, 1950, that the lovely old Parish Church of St. Michael and All Angels was, with the exception of the tower and bells, completely gutted by a disastrous fire. The new church, rebuilt on the original foundations, is a worthy successor to the building destroyed in the fire and the outside appearance is little changed.
Ringing during the afternoon and evening was under the direction of the new Ringing Master, Mr. George Hughes. The service was conducted and the address given by the Rev. C. W. Borrett, Vicar of Tettenhall, who had also arranged for his full choir to be in attendance. Under such circumstances it was to be regretted that only 45 members attended the meeting.
A picnic tea took place on the beautifullysituated lawn in the Vicarage garden, where amidst the wealth of green foliage it was difficult to realise that one was within two miles of the centre of Wolverhampton. After tea, the Rev. C. H. Barker, clerical secretary, thanked the Rev. C. W. Borrett for all he had done towards making the meeting so enjoyable.
A sad note on a sunny day was when Mr. F. Bennett called on all present to stand in silence for a few moments as a tribute of respect to the memory of a well-known member of the society, Mr. Jack Luck, of Willenhall, who had recently died.
The next meeting of the society will be at Alrewas in October.

\section*{NEWS FROM AUSTRALIA}

On July 2nd at St. Mary's Cathedral, Sydney, the marriage was solemnised between John Cummins, a member of the Cathedral band, and Miss Rosemary Beddoes. On the same day was born Phillip Roderick, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Goodyer, both ringers at the Cathedral. Bristol ringers will remember Mrs. Goodyer as Margaret Winter, who left England fo Australia in August, 1952,
To complete the coincidence, Jack and Rosemary announced their engagement on Tom and Margaret's wedding day, so it is fitting that the new Mrs. Cummins should have been Phillip's godmother when he was baptised at St. Mary's Cathedral by the Administrator, the Rev. Fr. Meaney. Edmund ('Chook') Fowell stood proxy for Robert Goodyer, Master Phillip's godfather. 'Chook' is also a Cathedral. ringer.

\section*{A JOINT MEETING}

Good use was made of the ten bells at St. Dunstan's, Stepney, on August 13th, when a joint meeting of the Middlesex County Association was held with the Essex Association. Several methods were rung, including Grandsire and Stedman Caters, Kent and Bob Royal and Cambridge Major

After tea, which was kindly provided by Mrs. Fox and her helpers, there was a short service at St. Dunstan's. An adjournment was then made to South Hackney Parish Church. where the bells had been rehung and fitted with new ropes. Touches of Bob Major. Double Norwich, Stedman and Grandsire Triples were thoroughly enjoyed.

Visitors were welcomed from Derby, Newcastle, Leatherhead, Reading, Watford and Beddington. Many thanks to all those who made this such a successful meeting.

The attendance was rather disappointing. These joint meetings are arranged to further good fellowship between associations. All are welcome. whether experts or beginners, and every endeavour should be made to make next year's meeting a 'full house.' T. N.

\section*{OBITUARY \\ MR. A. J. LUCK}

With regret we report the death of Mr. A. J. Luck on August 12th, after a painful illiness, aged 57 years. Jack, as he was known by his many friends in the Archdeaconry of Staffiord Society and Dudley and District, Guild, was a member of the band at St. Giles', Willenhall. where he started to learn to ring in 1935.
His first peal was Stedman Triples on January 20th, 1938, and was the first peal on the new bells. Altogether he rang 23 peals for the Society. He was at one time towerkceper at St. Gilies' and helped to do much useful work in the belfry after the new bells were installed, particularly in regard to reducing the noise in the ringing chamber.
The funeral took place on August 16th at St. Giles'. Willenhall, conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. S. B. Ashley). Among the many floral tributes was one from the local band. Ringers present were W. Bayliss, E. Stitch, C. Wallater and Mr. and Mrs. F. Colclough
A half-muffled peal of Grandsire Caters was attempted the same evening but was lost after 35 minutes through a rope breaking. Afterwards a quarter peal of Stedman Triples was rung by 1. A. Roden 1, Stella Hughes 2, C. Wallater 3. A. R. Wright (first quarter of Stedmanl 4. Dorothy T. Gardner \(5, P\), Barker firist quarter of Triples) 6, B. G. Key (conductor) 7, C. W. Hughes 8. H. Knight and G. Stitch stood down.

\section*{HALF-DAY IN SOMERSET}

A small company of ringers on August 20th much enjoyed an outing arranged by Mr. Claude Tarr. of Milverton. The first three towers visited were fives-West Quantockshead, Sampford Brett and Monksilver. The organiser very generously acted as host to the remainder of the party, when tea was partaken at the Wayside Cafe, Williton, and this was greatly appreciated by all the ringers.
After tea, ringing took place on the heavy six at St . Decumanis. The final tower of the rrip was Old Cleeve, where visitors from Glamorgan and Surrey ioined in ringing Glamorgan and Surrey ioined in ringing afternoon and evening were Grandsire, Plain Bob, Stedman. Union and Winchendon Place Bob Doubles, Plain Bob Minor and Grandsire and Sledman Triples.
E. T. P.F.

\section*{ErRata}

The handbell peal of Stedman Doubles at Porismouth on August 12th was rung nonconducted. Mr. R. G. Leale's name being given as conductor of the peal is incorrect. The footnote to this peal is open to misinterpretation, and was in fact Miss Kathleen Knight's first handbell peal and not her 25 th ' in hand.'

The peal of Plain Bob Doubles at Isham, Northants, on July 20th, was rung in 2 hours and 35 minutes, and not as sent in. It was also the first peal in the method by all.

\section*{VARIETY IN GRANDSIRE TRIPLES}

LISTENING outside many towers to touches of Grandsire or Stedman Triples, it has often occurred to me that wider scope could be forthcoming in the selection of touches, especially in the Grandsire method. Many conductors know that with struggling bands they hardly like to make things more difficult by calling touches which strike terror to some of the learners, but with experienced bands who can ring Grandsire well the conductor can have a large and varied selection of touches and quarter peals to suit all occasions, yet we hear some touches oft repeated while others are seldom heard.

How delighted the writer was a short time ago when he listened to one of his favourites, a 251 , being rung, and in case anyone would like to try it here it is: 6th in and out, before with double, then singles at 3.1.1. After the last call there are five plain leads before the bells come round at handstroke. At one time those 'call every lead ' touches became a novelty and on this plan it is possible to ring a touch of 336 , but why not try a 252 by calling SSB SBS SBB repeated by way of a change from the usual type of touch?

In the early days of this century John Carter, the Birmingham wizard, gave me several touches on the course end system, a plan seldom seen nowadays, and here is a 167 on these lines:-
\begin{tabular}{cccc}
234567 & 1 & 2 & 3 \\
\hline 354276 & & \(S\) & - \\
435276 & - & - & - \\
325476 & & - & -
\end{tabular}

One could go on producing many touches of varying length by pencil and paper, all of which have found their way into lots of pocket books and collections, but no matter if they have previously been arranged or discovered there is still a fascination in pricking out suitable lengths which might come in handy at a future date. Some might like to try their hand at a piece of Holt's Original; if so, it is possible to ring the first 33 leads, which produces 476532 , and then call a single at three, after which rounds at hand appear in three leads. The length of this touch is 545 and the calling by the bells before for the 33 leads is: 5.3.4.5.4.4.4.3D.3D.7, finishing as stated above.

Quarter peals are plentiful, and in many cases the calling is simple, such as the 4th in and out at five and in and out at four, five times repeated, single midway and end. Another six-part one is by bobs at 3.3.1.4.4 with single for bob halfway and end, a quarter with plenty of changes pleasing, to the ear. Years ago quarter peals from Holt's Original were popular, and there is a 1,259 commencing 18 leads before halfway. From rounds a bob at two produces 672453 and you proceed with the peal until the plain lead 425376 is reached, then call a single at one, and rounds will come at hand in three leads.

A quarter peal given above contains only 24 calls, but how about having a try for one with the maximum number just by way of a change? The following quarter contains 85 calls out of 90 leads and consists of 60 singles, 25 bobs and 5 plain leads. Experience has shown that care should be taken at the 5 plain leads on account of the sudden absence of a call. The calling of this unique quarter is S.S.S.B.S.S.S.S.B.S.S.S.B. plain lead. B.B.S.S. Four times repeated.
Another quarter with 56 singles, 24 bobs and 10 plain leads might appeal to some conductors as a simpler composition than the one given above, and is best explained by the calling and figures set out in original style:-

234567
\begin{tabular}{llll}
B & 752634 & 1 \\
B & 467352 & 1 \\
S & 324567 & 1 \\
S & 763452 & 2 \\
S & 427563 & 1 \\
S & 534627 & 1 \\
S & 675234 & 1 \\
S & 246375 & 1
\end{tabular}

Nine times repeated. Bobs to be substituted for singles at the 4th and 6th calls in the 5th and 10th parts.

Short touches and quarter peals form the main features of our work, and there are plenty of both available if some pricking out is done, preferably away from the tower. The autumn and winter evenings with pencil and paper can be the means of bringing fresh sets of figures, which will be helpful towards variety in ringing and also add to the conductor's repertoire.

\section*{A MISCELLANY OF OUTINGS}

\section*{SEVEN RINGERS IN THE SEVERN} valley
One car from Frome and another from Bath set forth towards Gloucestershire early on July 30th with a total of seven ringers on board. We hoped to meet the eighth ringer at Wotton-under-Edge (8), but he failed to appear. We rang various Minor methods, and one special touch at the request of a local inhabitant, for the wedding of his son, which was then taking place in Hong Kong.

Our next tower was Stroud (10), where, fortunately, we met several friends who joined us for much of the ringing on the tour. The bells had just struck nicely into Stedman Caters when the rope on the second bell broke, but we had some pleasant ringing on the back eight (although we didn't enjoy the 8-7's, David!). Next we paid a short visit to the light and odd-struck eight at Quedgeley.

Our last tower for the day was Hinton-on-the-Green, where Mr. and Mrs. John Thomas ioined the six male members of the band for a feal of Double Norwich. This was thoroughly enjoyed by the lady ringer who was sitting in a cool room near the church-the only cool spot we found that afternoon. After the peal we greatly appreciated the refreshments provided by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas before we left for our headquarters in Worcester.

On Sunday morning we joined the Worcester ringers at the Cathedral (12) and at All Saints' (10), where some stayed to the service while others spent a pleasant time by the River Severn.
After lunch we went to Claines, where most of us enjoyed ringing on the very light ten.

In the evening we paid a memorable visit to Pershore Abbey, where the ringing chamber resembles a bird cage, suspended high above the floor of this wonderful building. The nerve-racking surroundings (or lack of them!) probably made the bells seem more difficult to ring. The remainder of the evening was spent ringing handbells at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas, where we were again provided with refreshments before returning to Worcester for the night

On Monday our first stop was at the excellent ten at Leominster. From there we travelled through Hereford (ringing on the six at St. Nicholas') to Ledbury (8), where the bell tower is separated from the church. Ringing here included a good course of Bristol.

We enjoyed ringing on the nice eight at Up-ton-on-Severn, and after that the beautiful scenery of the Malvern Hills as we drove to Malvern Priory, a wonderful church with an cnjoyable ring of eight. Our last tower for the day was Malvern Link, another pleasing eight. Handbell ringing at our hotel brought the day to a close and almost heralded in the next.
We left our headquarters on Tuesday morning and were joined by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas at Eckington (6), and Bredons Norton, a very light six, before driving to Tewkesbury Abbey, with its light and pleasant 12.

The last tower of the tour was Cirencester, Watermoor (8), where a peal of Cambridge Major was rung. Here we said goodbye to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas, to whom we were all extremely grateful for their help and kindness.
We would like to say a big 'Thank you' to David Hoare for organsing the tour, and to the incumbents and ringers at all the towers.

Here's to the next time!
H. M. M.

\section*{NORFOLK YOUNG RINGERS}

On August 20th several young Norfolk ringers, helped by a few older friends, set out to visit some six-bell towers in West Norfolk and South Lincolnshire. Starting with Wiggenhall, St. Mary Magdalen's, a light ring which Taylors restered in 1952 after the bells had been only chimable for 40 years, and where we admired the capable handling of 11 -years-old Jane Bridges, we visited next Terrington St. John. where we had to climb on to the church roof to enter the ringing chamber.
At Tilney, All Saints', Mr. and Mrs. Tony Price. of Feltham, Middlesex, joined up with us, and after a picnic lunch, we rang on the light six at Lutton-the tenor is about \(4 \frac{1}{2}\) cwt., and not so long ago Taylors added the treble. Mr . Price rang in turn \(1-2,3-4\) and \(5-6\), the latter pair to London. We look forward to seeing three people ring a peal of Minor here !

A contrast awaited us at Moulton, where a heautiful tower houses a glorious ring with a 16 cwt . tenor. This must surely be the best six in the district. The metal of one bell dates from 1588, but recasting was necessary in 1923 On to St. Mary's, Whaplode, a fine churchsome of it Norman- and where, in the tower, the tenor rope has a black sally to remind the incumbent that it is the funeral bell. After tea in Gedney Mr. Price took a hand to ring on the six there before joining the rest of us at our last two towers of the day, St. Peter's and St. Andrew's, Walpole.

Ringing during the day was of fairly good quality and ranged from rounds to London Surprise Minor. We thank all who helped for a successful day, including David Heighton and George Sayer for driving, John Barnes for organising, and all incumbents and ringers who met us.

\section*{WATFORD AND DISTRICT}

That two coaches were necessary to convey ringers and friends on the annual outing on August 20th, this time into Essex, was in itself testimony to the Watford District of the Herts County Association arrangements. At the first tower, Loughton, ringing was restricted, due to a funeral. A mishap occurred here which resulted in the sixth rope breaking during Stedman Triples. On then to Brentwood, where a wedding was in progress. However, it had been agreed that we should commence ringing, and so Bob Major was accomplished, not without some experiencing difficulty with the 'go' of the bells during the actual wedding ceremony. The writer wondered whether a baptism would be encountered at the next church !
After a good lunch at Chelmsford, Great Tey was the venue for the afternoon. The Vicar and a local ringer welcomed the party and a very good course of London was achieved
Tea was taken at The Barn, Braintree, and the last call of the day was at Great Waltham, a fine ring of eight bells. Here Six Spliced Surprise Major was brought round, ably conducted by Harold Cashmore, and was considered the highlight of the day's ringing. Ringing continued until 7.30 , after which most of the male section spent a pleasant hour in the nearby 'house.'
During the journey home the usual batches of balloons were let loose inside both coaches and caused much amusement.
Watford was eventually reached about 10 p.m. and everybody seemed to be well satisfied with the day's outing. Grateful thanks are once again due to 'Steve' Hoare for so admirably arranging yet another successful day. Methods rung were Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Bob Major, Cambridge, Bristol, Lon-

\section*{WYCHBOLD, WORCS.}

On August 27th a happy coachload of Wychbold ringers and friends from various towers, their ages ranging from seven to 97 , spent a most enjoyable afternoon, in perfect weather, covering 116 miles in search of country towers.
Mickleton was the first stop, where Plain Bob Major. Grandsire and Stedman Triples were rung on a pleasing octave. After a brief ring on the six at Shipston-on-Stour the majestic eight at Stow-on-the-Wold were then visited and acclaimed by all to be the plum of the day
A grand tea at Bourton-on-the-Water made a welcome break and soon afterwards the eight there were in changes.

Off, then, to Great Rissington, where the six bells are pleasing though very noisy and are seldom rung. Local interest was aroused by our invasion. After several touches the coach set out for our last tower of the evening, Bour-ton-on-the-Hill (6).

Our thanks are due to all those whose efforts made the outing such a success, especially those waiting for us at each tower. After 'medicine' had been partaken by those in need of it, home was the target, Wychbold being reached at 11 p.m.
A.D.C.

\section*{MEREWORTH, KENT}

Mereworth ringers and friends from neighbouring churches had their annual outing on August 20th, when towers in North-East Kent were visited.
The first tower was Milton Regis, with a ring of six in a tower large enough to hold 16 bells. The local band should be complimented on the cleanness of the belfry. Two other towers were visited before lunch, Teynham (6) and Lynsted (5). In the latter village we had lunch in relays while the bells were kept going to various methods, including a spliced 360 of Bob Doubles. Grandsire and April Day.
At Ospringe (8) we were honoured to ring for a wedding. Whitstable provided both ringing and bathing for some of the party. The last tower was Selling (8).

Compliments and thanks are due to Mr . Harry Usborne, captain of Mereworth ringers, for organising the outing and to those who welcomed us.
P. J. B.

\section*{PINCHBECK, LINCS}

The Pinchbeck ringers, along with wives, friends and sweethearts, chose the NorfolkSuffolk border for their outing this year. Loddon was reached just as the rain decided to pour down, but, not dismayed, the journey was continued to Lowestoft. After lunch, during which the rain ceased. we enjoyed ringing at the Parish Church of St. Margaret. From these along the sea front to Pakefield, where we rang for a bride and bridegroom and were congratulated on falling the bells in peal, which is not often heard in the district.
The glorious ten in the detached campanile at Beccles were much enjoyed. An excellent tea followed, thanks to Mr. Goates for all his arrangements. Off then across country to find Saxlingham Nethergate, the driver trying to impress upon us the beauties of Norfolk. After a pleasant ring on this light eight we set of with a D.R. to guide us to Wymondham, where ringing for the day ended with a good course of Cambridge on this stately octave.
Thanks are due to all who met us, for their generous hospitality, to the incumbents and all who helped to organise such a good outing.
R.C. N.

Back at St. Margaret's, Wolstanton, is Mr. Ronald Barlow after completing his National Service, the bulk of which was spent in Korea and Japan. The congratulatory quarter of Kent Treble Bob Major on August 21st was rung entirely by service ringers and contained four 'firsts.' It is over 20 years since a similar feat was accomplished. The band are now waiting to hear Ronald call \(a\) bob in Japanese!

A courageous couple were those who spent a part of their honcymoon with ' Pipe's Pilgrims.'
The bells of Milton-next-Gravesend are temporarily out of action owing to repairs to the tower.

Who are the members of the Southampton University Society who are more at home with a peal than a Scottish reel?
In the peal of Kent Treble Bob Major rung at Witney during the recent Oxfordshire tour, reported in our last issue, Miss Daphne Castell rang her first peal on eight bells and Miss Monica E. Collins her first peal of Treble Bob ' inside.'
The peal of Minor rung at West Grinstead, Sussex, on August 27 th, was a wedding compliment to Mr. T. W. Jackson and Miss J. M. Barratt, who were married prior to the peal. It was also a birthday compliment to Miss A. Rawson. of Horsham, who, appropriately enough, was present during the whole of the ringing.
The peal of Plain Bob Major at St. Mary's. Wimbledon. on August 27th, is reputed to be the first on the eight bells. There was ample evidence in the tower that the removal of the present ring of bells for transformation into a heavier octave was imminent. Mr. E. G. Talbot comments: "Thus the peal wc rang could carry the unique distinction of being "the first and last peal on the bells."

Mr. James H. Musson, of Silk Willoughby, returned on August 20th to Folkingham to attempt his 100 th peal as conductor on the same bells and in the same seven methods as he called his first peal on February 7th, 1934. It was a very excited conductor who called 'That's all ' after an excellent peal had been rung, and he was warmly congratulated. Mr. Albert Scott rang in both peals and Mr. C. T. H. Bradley, the local captain, who was in the 1934 peal, entertained the band to tea at his home.
' Copper' Coward wishes to thank the West Country ringers for making him so welcome, and the ringing farmers for the refreshment supplied before and after handbell ringing.
